LAST GAME

While Friday night was looking every bit like a shutout win for the Bowie Baysox, they were instead dealt their eighth walk-off loss of the season. The Somerset Patriots scored three runs in the bottom of the ninth, closing a 3-2 loss for Bowie. Bowie plated both of their runs against Patriots starter Luis Medina, a sacrifice fly by J.D. Mundy in the second inning, and a two-out RBI single by Cesar Prieto in the fifth. Antonio Velez fired two perfect innings in a brief start, his first appearance in nearly a month, while Garrett Stallings tossed six strong scoreless innings of relief to back him up. In the ninth, Shelton Perkins allowed a one-out double to drive in one run while putting the tying and winning runs into scoring position, and a throwing error by Joey Ortiz on a ground ball to his shortstop position allowed both runs to score.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

Going from one first half winner to the other, the Baysox are on their only trip to New Jersey this season. The Yankees Double-A affiliate has consistently had the best pitching staff in the league, sporting a 3.46 ERA, but it has not been buoyed by any other league-leading marks, such as strikeouts, walks, or hits allowed. The addition of power to the lineup has always been a help for the Patriots, as they enter the series as the only team in the league with over 100 home runs. No individual player has carried the load in full for Somerset, as they have four different players with at least ten home runs. Speed has been critical for their success as well, with two players among the top three for stolen bases in the EL, including Anthony Volpe's league-leading 32.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Right-hander Mitch Spence rejoins the Somerset rotation following a brief two game stint of long-relief work. While his season started strong, allowing only four earned runs in his first 13 innings, across May and June spence was sporting an ERA just north of 6.00. The 10th round pick out of Division 2 USC-Aiken has had some nagging issues with fly balls and a few home runs this season, including four separate outings with multiple home runs allowed.

GO GO GARRETT

Newly-minted bullpen arm Garrett Stallings has bounced back incredibly following a rough June. Stallings allowed a total of 43 ER and 53 hits in just 17.0 IP across six games from 5/27-6/28. Bowie lost every game he started during the span, while Stallings was the losing pitcher in five of the six. Since shifting into the bullpen, Stallings has fired 10 total innings, and allowed only one run while striking out 17 batters, including a new career-high 10 Ks in his first relief outing on 7/2. Stallings started the 11th no-hitter in Baysox history when he threw six innings against Harrisburg on May 8th in a seven-inning game. He was ranked as the Orioles #30 prospect in the 2021 Midseason rankings by Baseball America, did not make a prospect list in 2022.

MIGHT AS WELL JUST START ON BASE

Bowie's offensive woes this season have not been from a lack of effort. In fact, the Baysox are the team most likely to start an inning with a runner on base in the Eastern League. Bowie leads the league in all three slash lines (.282/.368/.481) from the first batter of an inning this season. They also lead the league in lead off home runs and doubles, while sporting the third-fewest strikeouts from the first batter of an inning. All of those numbers combine to Bowie leaving 599 runners on base this season, the most in the league by 50, and an average of 7.5 per game. Inversely, Bowie has the most strikeouts in the league when batting with runners on base.

NO NEED TO DASCH TO FIRST

First baseman Andrew Daschbach has had a curious relationship with full counts and walks this season. While currently on pace to eclipse his 42 walks from 2021, Daschbach is also on pace to strike out 160 times, nearly 30 more times than 2021, while he currently leads all Orioles minor leaguers in strikeouts. Most interesting of his approach to the plate has been Daschbach's ability to draw a full count. He has worked 50 plate appearances full this season, the tenth-most in the league. He does not have a single base hit on a full count. No other batter among the top 50 for most full counts in the league has gone hitless on full counts.

HIGH-CONTACT SURFACE

While the Baysox had led the Eastern League in walks drawn for much of the season, they've relinquished it while transitioning into more contact at the plate. Since the start of June, Bowie has only drawn 114 walks at the plate, the third-fewest in the league. However, their 293 hits are the most in the league over the same span, while their 289 strikeouts are the fourth-fewest in the league.

Player Notes

Shifts to the bullpen after spending the first three months of the season in the Bowie rotation, but hit a snag in June, allowing a total of 43 ER and 53 hits in just 17.0 IP across six games from 5/27-6/28. Bowie lost every game he started during the span, while Stallings was the losing pitcher in five of the six. // Started the 11th no-hitter in Baysox history. Threw six innings against Harrisburg on May 8th in a seven-inning game. // Ranked as the Orioles #30 prospect in the 2021 Midseason rankings by Baseball America, did not make a prospect list in 2022. // Friday starter at Tennessee in his Junior season, went 8-5 / 3.33 ERA / 106 K / 16 BB / 102.2 IP // Rotated piggyback roles in six appearances with Bowie in 2021, making three starts and three long relief outings. // Acquired by Baltimore in 2020 in a trade with the Los Angeles Angels. Full Trade: Angels receive SS Jose Iglesias. Orioles receive RHP Garrett Stallings and RHP Jean Pinto. // Spent his time following the 2020 draft at the Angels alternate site at Long Beach State before being dealt to Baltimore the same December. // Initially drafted by the Angels in the 5th round of 2020 out of the University of Tennessee, but did not appear in a game for the organization. // Orioles EVP/GM Mike Elias has targeted Stallings in the 2020 draft, but was taken earlier by the Angels.

Player Notes

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routine, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

Player Notes

Ranked as the Orioles #15 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #16 according to Baseball America. // Only played 35 games in 2021 due to a torn labrum in his left shoulder in late June that required surgery. // Played 16 games with Bowie, 19 with Aberdeen. // Focused on building muscle during the lost 2020 season. Baysox Manager Kyle Moore in 2021: "He's way more just mature and physical....this guy here has a chance to be an everyday shortstop in big leagues." // Orioles Manager David Hyde: "He's a really good defender. I've watched him here for up until major league camp the last few weeks. Love the way he plays defense, got great feet, great arm. It's accurate. Super active defensively. He's got really good instincts."
