WINTER OLYMPIAN, SUMMER OLYMPIAN, FLAG BEARER

Eddy Alvarez became the first athlete from the sport of baseball to carry the U.S. flag in the Opening Ceremony. Alvarez was selected by his fellow U.S. athletes based on his background of having competed–and won a silver medal in short track speedskating–in the Olympic Winter Games Sochi 2014. Alvarez said: "It is an honor and a privilege to be named as one of the flag bearers by my fellow Team USA athletes for the Opening Ceremony. Being a first-generation Cuban-American, my story represents the American Dream. My family has sacrificed so much for me to have the opportunity to wave this flag proudly. I am grateful for my time with U.S. Speedskating and USA Baseball, as well as for all of my teammates, and I am humbled to lead Team USA into the Tokyo Olympic Games."

THE EDDY ALVAREZ STORY

Eddy Alvarez grew up in Miami, Florida, a hot bed for speedskating. Check that: a hot bed for baseball. Growing up, Eddy played baseball and was a successful inline skater. Eventually, his parents began renting out ice rinks and a love of speedskating formed. He turned down a baseball scholarship to pursue speedskating and a run at the Winter Olympic Games as a member of Team USA. His pursuit proved fruitful as he made Team USA for the Sochi Olympic Games and won a silver medal in the 5,000 meter relay in short track speedskating. Following the Olympic Games he returned to baseball, signed with the Chicago White Sox as a free agent, and made his Major League Debut with the Miami Marlins in 2020.

FROM HIGH SCHOOL TEAMMATES TO U.S. OLYMPIANS

Joe Ryan is a top pitching prospect in the Minnesota Twins organization right now; however, growing up, he was a year-round water polo player in the State of California. While he eventually forged a different path to play professional baseball, he and his Sir Francis Drake High School (San Anselmo, Calif.) water polo teammate Dylan Woodhead both ended up as Team USA Olympians. Woodhead was named to the U.S. Men's Water Polo Team on July 2.

LIFELONG FRIENDS, FIRST-TIME TEAMMATES

Eddy Alvarez and Nick Martinez have been friends their entire lives. Growing up in southern Florida, they ended up playing baseball at rival high schools before moving on in their athletic careers – Alvarez to U.S. Speedskating and Martinez to professional baseball. But, now, for the first time, they are teammates. All it took was for Team USA to come calling.

FOLLOWING IN A MENTOR'S FOOTSTEPS

Mike Scioscia has won three MLB World Series rings. He won one as a manager for the Anaheim Angels in 2002 and then two as a player with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1981 and 1988. His two as a player were under the guidance of Hall of Famer Tommy Lasorda, who is the most recent manager to have led Team USA to an Olympic gold medal in baseball (2000). Lasorda was his mentor and Scioscia will now look to replicate Lasorda's success for Team USA in this year's Olympic Games.

WALK-ON, OLYMPIAN

In 2012, Patrick Kivlehan decided to try out for the Rutgers Baseball Team after not playing organized baseball in nearly four years. The reason? He was suiting up for the Scarlet Knights football team as a defensive back. In his lone season on the diamond in New Brunswick–and after a lengthy hiatus from

DID YOU KNOW:

Although the flag can be worn on either sleeve (or on either side of the cap), USA Baseball traditionally wears the flag on the right sleeve, and, per military uniform regulation, the star field always faces forward. This gives the effect of the flag flying in the breeze as the athlete moves forward.

baseball–Kivlehan pieced together a season to remember. He won the Big East triple crown after hitting .392/.480/.693 with 14 home runs, 50 RBIs, and 24 stolen bases in 51 games, earning him unanimous Big East Player of the Year honors and a fourth-round selection in the MLB Draft by the Seattle Mariners.

SCIOSCIA AND LOPEZ'S UNIQUE HISTORY

In 2002, ~~a rally monkey~~ Mike Scioscia was leading the Los Angeles Angels to its first World Series title in the organization's history. In the opposing dugout? A young Jack Lopez. Jack was the San Francisco Giants' bat boy during the 2002 World Series thanks to his father, Juan, being the team's bullpen coach.

A COACH'S OLYMPIC RETURN

U.S. Olympic Baseball Team Hitting Coach Ernie Young is no stranger to the Olympic Games. In the Sydney 2000 Games, Young and his fellow teammates won Team USA's second gold medal in Olympic history (its first as an official sport [Seoul 1988; demonstration sport]) under the leadership of Hall of Famer Tommy Lasorda. Young hit .385 with a team-leading eight RBIs in Sydney, including a two-run single against Cuba in the gold medal game.

THE JAPAN EXPERIENCE

Three members of the U.S. Olympic Team roster currently play professional baseball in Japan. Tyler Austin plays for the Yokahama DeNA Baybears, Nick Martinez plays for the Fukuoka SoftBank Haws, and Scott McGough plays for the Tokyo Yakult Swallows. Austin will be playing for Team USA in the Olympic Games on his home field at Yokohama Baseball Stadium.

PROSPECT WATCH

The U.S. roster features seven players who are in their respective organization's Top 30 Prospect List: Nick Allen (No. 3 Oakland), Shane Baz (No. 5, Tampa Bay Rays), Triston Casas (No. 1, Boston Red Sox), Mark Kolozsvary (No. 29, Cincinnati Reds), Joe Ryan (No. 6, Minnesota Twins), and Simeon Woods Richardson (No. 4, Toronto Blue Jays). Baz (No. 71), Casas (No. 30), and Woods Richardson (No. 68) are also recognized by MLB Pipeline as three of the top-100 prospects in all of baseball.

REPPIN' MANY STATES

Twelve different states and territories are represented on Team USA's 24-man roster. The most well-represented states are California and Florida, with four players born in the Golden State and Sunshine State each. Texas is next with three athletes born there, and Alabama, Georgia, and Pennsylvania each have two representatives on the roster. The following states or territories have one player on the U.S. roster: Arizona, Kansas, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, and Puerto Rico. Edwin Jackson grew up in Georgia, but was born in Germany where his father was stationed for the military.

BACK IN THE RED, WHITE, AND BLUE

Nineteen (19) members of the roster have previous playing experience with Team USA, including 12 members of the Olympic Qualifying Team in June. In total, seven athletes have won a gold medal in international competition. David Robertson is back in red, white, and blue after throwing the final pitch of Team USA's 2017 World Baseball Classic championship run. Todd Frazier and Tim Federowicz, who both played for the 2006 Collegiate National Team that won a gold medal at the FISU World University Championships in Havana, Cuba, are also on the roster. Nick Allen, Shane Baz, Triston Casas, and Bubba Starling all won a gold medal as members of the 18U National Team. Additionally, 20 of the 24 athletes have international baseball experience as Jack Lopez has represented Team Puerto Rico in previous international tournaments. Gold medalists:

Nick Allen	2013 15U National Team; 2016 18U National Team
Shane Baz	2017 18U National Team
Triston Casas	2015 15U National Team; 2016 & 2017 18U National Team
Tim Federowicz	2006 Collegiate National Team
Todd Frazier	2006 Collegiate National Team
David Robertson	2017 World Baseball Classic
Bubba Starling	2010 18U National Team

GOLD MEDAL EXPERIENCE

Seven members of the roster have won a gold medal while playing for Team USA, led by Triston Casas, who has won three. Casas and Nick Allen were teammates on the 2016 18U National Team that won a gold medal at the COPABE Pan Am "AAA" Championships in Monterrey, Mexico, and Casas followed with a WBSC U-18 Baseball World Cup in 2017 with teammate Shane Baz. Tim Federowicz and Todd Frazier both won a gold medal at the FISU World University Championships in Havana, Cuba. David Robertson also won a gold medal when Team USA won the World Baseball Classic in 2017.

MAJOR EXPERIENCE

Thirteen of the players on Team USA's roster have Major League experience: Eddy Alvarez, Tyler Austin, Brandon Dickson, Tim Federowicz, Todd Frazier, Anthony Gose, Edwin Jackson, Scott Kazmir, Patrick Kivlehan, Nick Martinez, Scott McGough, David Robertson, and Bubba Starling.

WORLD SERIES WINNERS

Two members of Team USA have won a World Series title in their careers. Edwin Jackson was a member of the 2011 St. Louis Cardinals and David Robertson won a ring with the Yanks in 2009. Robertson also picked up the final out of the 2017 World Baseball Classic, giving the U.S. its first win in the event.

ALL-STARS & STRIPES

Of the 14 players with major league experience on the roster, four of them have been named to MLB All-Star teams: Todd Frazier, Edwin Jackson, David Robertson, and Scott Kazmir. Kazmir leads the way with three All-Star selections, followed by Frazier with two all-time selections; Frazier also won the MLB Home Run Derby as part of the All-Star Game festivities in 2015.

EVERYONE ALWAYS REMEMBERS THEIR ROOMMATES

Jack Lopez and Bubba Starling reunited as members of the U.S. Olympic Baseball Team for the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020. In fact, Lopez and Starling were each other's first roommates after becoming professional baseball players with the Kansas City Royals. Both were drafted in the 2011 MLB First Year Player Draft; Starling as the first-round pick and Lopez the Royals' 16th rounder.

But they are not the only former roommates on the team. Shane Baz and Joe Ryan have a history, both being prospects in the Tampa Bay Rays farm system. Training in the alternate training site in 2020, Baz and Ryan were roommates throughout the season but went separate ways at the beginning of the 2021 Minor League Season: Baz to AA and Ryan to AAA. Baz, however, earned a call-up to AAA Durham to join Ryan on the diamond… and as roommates once again.

A CEREMONY LIKE NO OTHER

Major General Todd Hunt, the Adjutant General of the State of North Carolina, and the North Carolina National Guard hosted a patch ceremony with the U.S. Olympic Baseball Team during its training at the USA Baseball National Training Complex in Cary, North Carolina. Prior to its opening game, the soldiers removed their American flag patch from their uniforms and presented it to a member of the Team USA delegation as a symbol of good luck, hope for success, and a reminder of who and what they are representing as they travel to Tokyo to compete for our country at the Olympic Games

BACK AGAIN: USA BASEBALL ALUMNI ON THE ROSTER

Nineteen former USA Baseball national team alumni will wear the red, white, and blue once again in their career for the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020, including 12 members of the 2021 Baseball Americas Qualifier team. Of the 19, seven have won a gold medal in international competition, led by Triston Casas, who has won three gold medals (2015 15U, 2016 18U, 2017 18U).

USA BASEBALL COACHING STAFF

MIKE SCIOSCIA

MANAGER

//PRONUNCIATION: SOW-SHUH//

Scioscia makes his international coaching debut for the United States in 2021 after serving as the Angels' manager for 19 seasons. He spent his entire MLB managerial career in Anaheim, where he led the Halos to a 1650-1428 (.536) overall record from 1999-2018, ranking him 18th all-time in career managerial wins. After breaking a 15-year playoff drought in 2002, Scioscia led the Angels to the only World Series title in their history that postseason to become the 17th person to win a World Series title as both player and manager.

He was the first manager in MLB history to make the playoffs in six of his first ten seasons, including winning five AL West division titles in six years. Scioscia was twice named the AL Manager of the Year by the Baseball Writers' Association of America (2002 and 2009) and set the Angels' franchise single-season wins record twice with 99 victories in 2002 and then 100 victories in 2008. He is the current all-time leader in wins, games managed, and division titles won in Angels' history.

Drafted by the Los Angeles Dodgers with the 19th overall pick of the 1976 June Amateur Draft, Scioscia spent all 13 of his years in the Major Leagues as a catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers (1980-92) under USA Baseball Olympic gold medal-winning manager Tommy Lasorda. He won two World Series titles (1981 and 1988), was twice named a National League All-Star (1989 and 1990), and caught two no-hitters (Fernando Valenzuela and Kevin Gross) in his playing career. To this day, Scioscia ranks fourth all-time among Major League catchers with 136 shutouts caught.

ERIC CAMPBELL

FIRST BASE COACH

Currently serving USA Baseball as its General Manager of National Teams, Eric Campbell will make his Olympic coaching debut in 2020 as the First Base Coach. In his 21 years at USA Baseball, Campbell has served as the primary or assistant team administrator for 45 national teams. USA Baseball's Collegiate National Team won gold medals at the 2004, 2006, and 2008 FISU World Collegiate Championships, and he helped guide the 2008 U.S. Olympic Baseball Team to a bronze medal in Beijing. Campbell also served on the technical committee for the inaugural World Baseball Classic in 2006 and was the team leader for the 2009 squad. In 2007 and 2009, Campbell helped lead the U.S.A. to consecutive gold medals in the IBAF World Cup. Campbell has taken 3 national teams to the Pan American Games with silver medals in 2007, 2011, and 2015.

Campbell helped lead Omaha Burke High School to the 1979 Nebraska state high school championship. As a player at Creighton from 1981-84, Campbell played a variety of positions and even played all nine positions in a college baseball game. After being drafted by the Chicago White Sox as a pitcher and catcher, Campbell was released from professional baseball in 1985 and began his coaching/administrative career. After serving nine years in assistant-coach roles at Creighton, St. Thomas University (Fla.) and the United States Air Force Academy (AFA), Campbell served as the head baseball coach at the AFA from 1995-98.

ROLY DE ARMAS

BULLPEN COACH

//PRONUNCIATION: DEE-ARR-MUSS//

Returning as an assistant coach for the 11th time, de Armas will once again serve as the bullpen coach for Team USA. His first experience with Team USA came in 2006 as an assistant coach for the Olympic Qualifying Team that finished its tournament with a 6-1 overall record and secured Team USA a spot in the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games. de Armas would return as a coach with USA Baseball in 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2015, and 2019, winning two World Cup gold medals (2007, 2009), two Pan-American Games silver medals (2011, 2015), one Premier12TM silver medal (2015), and an Olympic bronze medal (2008).

de Armas also spent time as a coach in the Major Leagues with the Chicago White Sox (1995-96) and the Toronto Blue Jays (2000). In total, he has spent 33 seasons as a coach for several Major League Baseball organizations, including the Philadelphia Phillies, where he is currently the manager of the Gulf Coast League Phillies.

DARREN FENSTER

THIRD BASE COACH

Fenster will make his Team USA debut in 2021 as the third base coach for the Professional National Team. He is currently in his third season as the Minor League Outfield and Baserunning Coordinator for the Boston Red Sox and his tenth season overall with the organization, having started as the hitting coach for the Greenville Drive in 2012. He was named manager of Greenville in 2014 and guided the Drive to its first South Atlantic League championship in team history in 2017 before being named the Portland Sea Dogs manager in 2018. Prior to joining the Red Sox, Fenster spent six seasons at his alma mater, Rutgers University, as Director of Operations, Assistant Coach, and Recruiting Coordinator. Additionally, he helped lead the St. Cloud River Bats to the Northwoods League title in 2007 and helped guide the Cape Cod Baseball League's Orleans Cardinals to a league-best 25-17-2 regular season record in 2008.

As a player at Rutgers, Fenster was a two-time All-American and was named Big East Player of the Year in 2000 before being selected by the Kansas City Royals in the 2000 MLB Draft. He spent five seasons in the Royals minor league system, where he hit .267 with 63 doubles, 179 RBIs, and 215 walks in 438 games, and was named a Carolina League All-Star in 2002 and 2004. In 2008, Fenster was elected to the Rutgers Olympic Sports Hall of Fame. Drawing upon his baseball experiences as both a player and a coach, Fenster provides unique and insightful educational content as a contributor for the USA Baseball Develops Blog. He was named the first-ever USA Baseball Coach Educator of the Year in 2019 for his contributions that assist coaches, parents, and leagues in developing young players and improving their experience within the game of baseball.

DAVE WALLACE

PITCHING COACH

Wallace will make his Team USA debut as the pitching coach for the Professional National Team this summer. Wallace has spent 47 years in professional baseball, spanning nine professional franchises in various positions among the minor and major league levels. After a Hall of Fame career at the University of New Haven, he spent nine years as a pitcher in the professional ranks, playing for both the Philadelphia Phillies and the Toronto Blue Jays until 1978. Wallace began his coaching career in 1981 with the Vero Beach Dodgers and spent the next 14 years coaching in the minor leagues before being named the pitching coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1995.

Wallace went on to be the pitching coach for the New York Mets (1999-2000), Boston Red Sox (2003-2006), Houston Astros (2007), and the Baltimore Orioles (2014-2016), working with pitchers such as Pedro Martinez and Hideo Nomo, among others. He also held numerous executive positions within professional baseball throughout his career with the Atlanta Braves, Dodgers, Mets, and Seattle Mariners. Wallace most recently spent four years with the Braves as a special assistant to pitching (2016) and the director of pitching for Atlanta's farm system (2017-2020).

ERNIE YOUNG

HITTING COACH

Olympic gold medalist Young will serve as the hitting and first base coach for the 2021 Professional National Team following an accomplished playing and coaching career with Team USA spanning 22 years. A member of the gold medal-winning Sydney 2000 Olympic Games team, he also played on the Professional National Team again in 2003. Young spent eight years playing in the major leagues for the Arizona Diamondbacks, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, Kansas City Royals, and Oakland Athletics between 1994 and 2004. He remained involved with Team USA after the Sydney Olympic Games by joining its Board of Directors in 2003 and eventually serving as a hitting coach for three national teams and managing the 2010 and 2011 Professional National Teams. With Young on the staff, Team USA amassed an overall record of 47-15-2 and won a world championship in 2009.

Olympic Games Tokyo 2020:

General: Shane Baz was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates with the 12th overall pick of the 2017 MLB Draft out of Concordia Lutheran High School in Tomball, Texas. The righthander was traded to Tampa Bay in 2018, where he has climbed the farm system and currently pitches for Triple-A Durham.

MiLB: Baz is currently in his fourth season in the minor leagues, accumulating a career 10-14 record with a 3.23 ERA in 50 starts. He made his professional debut in 2017 in the Pittsburgh farm system, making ten starts and posting a 3.80 ERA. Olympic Games Tokyo 2020:

2021 Qualifier: Allen started all four games at shortstop for Team USA at the WBSC Baseball Americas Qualifier (AOQ), posting a perfect 1.000 fielding percentage and combining on a trio of double plays. He drove in the go-ahead run in the U.S.'s 8-6 win over the Dominican Republic that clinched a berth in the AOQ Super Round for Team USA.

General: Nick Allen was taken in the third round of the 2017 MLB Draft by the Oakland Athletics out of high school. The middle infielder is currently the No. 3 rated prospect in the A's organization.

MiLB: In 243 Minor League games, Allen has a .263 batting average with four home runs and 81 RBIs. He spent the 2019 season with the Stockton Ports (A+), hitting .292 with three home runs and 25 RBIs in 72 games. The San Diego, California, native started the 2021 season with the Midland RockHounds (AA) and hit .298 with eight RBIs early on. Allen, who is well known for his defensive prowess, has recorded a .986 fielding percentage in 264 innings at second base in the minor leagues and a .960 mark in 1,781 innings at shortstop.

USA Baseball: Allen is a three-time Team USA alum, having played in the WBSC Baseball Americas Qualifier and both the 2013 15U National Team and the 2016 18U National Team. With the 15U National Team, he played in eight games and hit .250 (3-for-12) at the plate with one double to help the team secure the program's first-ever gold medal at the 2013 COPABE Pan Am "AA" Championships. He earned another gold medal with Team USA three years later, this time as a member of the 18U National Team. En route to the program's second consecutive world championship at the International Baseball Federation (IBAF) "AAA" World Cup in 2013, Allen hit .346 (9-for-26) with two doubles and a triple while leading the team with 13 runs scored.

General: Jamie Westbrook was drafted by the Arizona Diamondbacks in the fifth round of the 2013 MLB Draft out of Basha High School in Chandler, Arizona. He has played eight seasons in the minor leagues and is currently a member of the Milwaukee Brewers' Triple-A affiliate Nashville Sounds.

MiLB: Westbrook has over 3,100 minor-league at-bats, batting .283 with 84 home runs and 432 RBIs. He made his professional debut in 2013 with the AZL D-backs before finishing the 2013 season with the Single-A Missoula Osprey. In 2015, Westbrook batted .319 in 480 at-bats for the Single-A Visalia Rawhide, hitting 17 homers and driving in 72 runs. Following that season, he was named the Diamondbacks' 2015 MiLB.com Organizational All-Star. The Arizona native hit a career-high 19 homers in 2018, spending time in both Double-A and Triple-A and earning his first of two consecutive spots on the Double-A South All-Star Team. Westbrook signed a minor-league deal with the San Francisco Giants in January 2020, and later signed with the Milwaukee Brewers after the 2020 season. He is currently batting .328 with eight home runs and 35 RBIs at Triple-A Nashville.

UNITED STATES 7, NICARAGUA 1

Monday, May 31 - Clover Park, Port St. Lucie, Fla.

Team USA began its quest for one of the final two berths in the upcoming Olympic Games in Tokyo with a convincing 7-1 victory over Nicaragua at the 2021 World Baseball Softball Confederation (WBSC) Baseball Americas Qualification Event at Clover Park.

Luke Williams and Jarren Duran powered Team USA's 14-hit attack with three-hit performances, while Matthew Liberatore and three relievers combined to shut down the Nicaragua offense.

Liberatore (1-0) held Nicaragua to just one run on five hits over the first 5.0 innings, before Brandon Dickson, Anthony Gose and Marc Rzepczynski combined to toss four perfect innings of relief to close out the victory.

UNITED STATES 8, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC 6

Tuesday, June 1 - The Ballpark of the Palm Beaches, West Palm Beach, Fla.

The USA Baseball Professional National Team punched its ticket to the Super Round of the 2021 World Baseball Softball Confederation (WBSC) Baseball Americas Qualification Event with its second-straight win--an 8-6 victory over the Dominican Republic at The Ballpark of the Palm Beaches.

After turning in a complete domination of Nicaragua to lead from start to finish in their opening game of the tournament Monday, Team USA had to battle back from a fifth-inning deficit this time. Luke Williams tripled home a pair of key runs as part of a four-run, sixth-inning rally and finished with his second multi-hit effort in as many games, while Eddy Alvarez delivered a pair of doubles to help pace the U.S. attack.

Trailing by a run after the Dominican Republic rallied to wipe out a 4-1 deficit, Team USA scored four times in the sixth to turn the tide for good. Logan Forsythe's pinch-single plated the tying run, and Nick Allen put the U.S. in front to stay with a fielder's choice grounder to third.

UNITED STATES VS. PUERTO RICO (CANCELED)

Team USA faced-off against Puerto Rico in a game that would eventually be called-off due to rain. The U.S. got out to an early, big lead courtesy of a Nick Allen grand slam.

UNITED STATES 10, CANADA 1

Friday, June 4 - The Ballpark of the Palm Beaches, West Palm Beach, Fla.

Using yet another shutdown pitching effort and a seven-run, eighth-inning rally, the USA Baseball Professional National Team moved to within one victory of securing a berth in the Tokyo Olympic Games with a 10-1 victory over Canada Friday evening at the Ballpark of the Palm Beaches.

With the victory, the U.S. remained perfect in the 2021 World Baseball Softball Confederation (WBSC) Baseball Americas Qualification Event. As the tournament's lone 2-0 team in the decisive Super Round, Team USA can qualify for one of the two remaining spots in the Tokyo Olympics with a victory over Venezuela in its AOQ finale Saturday evening at Clover Park.

Luke Williams belted the go-ahead home run in the fifth inning, then doubled home two more U.S. runs as part of Team USA's back-breaking seven-run explosion in the eighth that turned a two-run lead into a 10-1 bulge for the stars and stripes.

UNITED STATES 4, VENEZUELA 2

Saturday, June 5 - Clover Park, Port St. Lucie, Fla.

The USA Baseball Professional National Team put the finishing touches on a perfect week at the 2021 World Baseball Softball Confederation Baseball Americas Qualifying Event with 4-2 victory over Venezuela Saturday evening at Clover Park, claiming one of the two remaining berths in the upcoming Tokyo Olympic Games.

Todd Frazier led the U.S. attack with a 4-for-4 effort at the plate, while Team USA's pitching staff logged another strong performance in limiting Venezuela to a pair of runs.
