LAST GAME

Yet another ninth-inning heartbreak, the Bowie Baysox lost another contest to the Richmond Flying Squirrels on Friday, falling 5-2. Bowie hit back-to-back home runs in the eighth inning to tie the game, but Griffin McLarty allowed a three-run home run in the top of the ninth inning to dash Bowie's hopes. Both starting pitchers, Chayce McDermott for Bowie and Kyle Harrison for Richmond, worked strong over their starts, allowing only one hit over four innings, but Richmond used their one hit to take the lead in the third inning. After Richmond pushed further with a run in the eighth, Maverick Handley and Chris Givin blasted back-to-back home runs to tie the games. Just as soon as Bowie had tied the game, McLarty walked two batters in the ninth and allowed a three-run home run.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

In a series that (Bowie hopes) should preview the first round of the Eastern League playoffs, Bowie will try to make one more charge against the team that they have battled tightly with this season. While Richmond went 7-2 against Bowie in the first half of the season, Bowie flipped the record around against Richmond in the second half, bringing the season series to an even 9-9. While they were able to win the first half of the season in a tiebreak with Akron, the second half has been much more difficult for the Squirrels, as they have the league's worst record in the half. Richmond has relied constantly on power this season, as they have the third-most home runs in the league, despite sporting the lowest batting average.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Taiwan native Kai-Wei Teng was originally signed by the Minnesota Twins in 2017, but was sent to San Francisco at the trade deadline as part of the Sam Dyson deal in 2019. While Teng did run into some contact and walks in his 2021 campaign with High-A Eugene, he still found the time to strike out 142 batters in just 95.2 innings, and his 153 strikeouts this year are the second-most in the league. Bowie has met Teng already four times this season, as he fired five shutout frames in his first start of the season, but Bowie got him back for six runs in four innings at the end of April, Bowie's only win of their six-game series in Richmond. At the start of July, Bowie had a series of timely hits, as well as a home run by Hudson Haskin during a 4-2 win, but Teng still struck out seven in the outing. In his last start against the Baysox, Teng was chased in the second inning as Bowie built a 6-0 lead, but Bowie still lost the game. On the mound, Teng features a low-90s fastball, but will often use a slider and a changeup all throughout at bats.

NOT THEIR FAVORITE INNING

Bowie would be a much better team this season if baseball games ended after eight innings. Bowie has a -23 run differential in the ninth inning this season the worst in the entire league, and their worst differential in any inning this season. Their 33 runs scored in the ninth inning is the fewest in the Eastern League this season. Bowie's walk-off losses have hurt them this season, as they have been dealt 12 walk-offs, tied for the most in Minor League Baseball. Bowie has lost five games this season where they had a lead in the ninth inning.

NORBY KNOWS HOW TO HIT

Connor Norby is taking on all pitches lately, after leading off for most of his Bowie tenure, Norby shifted to the second and third roles in the lineup starting on 8/18, and has gone 28-for-71 (.394) since, with two multi-home run games, and seven home runs total. Combined with his time spent at High-A, Norby has 23 home runs this season, tied for the most in the Orioles minor league system. Norby is already has six home runs in the first inning of games, tied for the most in the Eastern League this season.

LATE ARRIVALS

Bowie has not been able to get their offense going against opposing starting pitchers lately. So far in September, opposing starting pitchers have fired 42.2 innings, and allowed only 14 runs, a 2.95 ERA. The strong opposition has not been fully able to seal the deal, however, as opposing starters have only won two games out of Bowie's last seven losses.

MEAT LEFT ON THE BONE

Some of Bowie's offensive woes this season have not been from a lack of effort. In fact, the Baysox are the team most likely to start an inning with a runner on base in the Eastern League. Bowie leads the league in all three slash lines (.272/.370/.469) from the first batter of an inning this season. They also lead the league in lead off doubles. All of those numbers combine to Bowie leaving 947 runners on base this season, the most in the league, and an average of 7.4 per game. Bowie has also stranded the most runners in scoring position in the league (701). Inversely, Bowie has the second-most strikeouts in the league when batting with runners on base (561). In this series, Bowie is only 3-for-31 (.097) with runners in scoring position.

QUICK HITS

TODAY'S STARTING PITCHER- Brennan Haniffee fired four scoreless innings in his last start, but Bowie was walked-off See Page 2 for more.

PLAYER
Signed by Baltimore as a Minor League Free Agent in May of this season, and made one appearance with the FCL Orioles in late June before making nine appearances with Single-A Delmarva. // In nine appearances with Delmarva, only allowed runs in three of the starts, and struck out multiple batters in six outings. // Originally signed as an International Free Agent by the Houston Astros in 2015, and appeared in their organization until 2018, entirely as a starting pitcher. // Ranked as high as the Astros #7 prospect in 2018 by Baseball America. // Was a piece of the Houston trade to Toronto in exchange for relief pitcher Roberto Osuna at the 2018 trade deadline, but did not appear in a game for a Toronto affiliate that season. // Spent all of 2019 in the Eastern League, pitching in the rotation for New Hampshire. // Made his Major League debut for Toronto on Sept. 16, 2020 in New York against the Yankees. Allowed a two-run home run to Kyle Higashioka in a 13-2 loss. Higashioka hit three home runs in the game. // Traded by Toronto to Cincinnati in 2021 for a Player to be Named Later (Darlin' Guzman), and split time with Triple-A Louisville (eight games) and Double-A Chattanooga (25 games).

144 strikeouts in 2021 were the second-most in the Orioles system, behind only Kyle Stowers (171). // Played 30 games with Bowie, and 75 with Aberdeen. // Only hit .185 with a .612 OPS in the month of May to start the season with Aberdeen, but built back to a .256 average and an .814 OPS over the remaining four months of the season. // Was drafted by Tampa Bay in the 40th round of the 2016 draft, but elected not to sign. // Comes from a smart and athletic family. Andrew himself is a legacy graduate of Stanford, his sister was a four-year stater for Princeton Volleyball, and both parents played tennis.

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routine, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

Went on a 0-for-21 skid from 5/3 to 5/13, broke out of it on 5/13 when he began a stretch of five at bats where he hit for the cycle. Went 3-for-5 on 5/13 with the first three legs, including an RBI triple in the tenth inning of a Bowie loss, and hit a solo home run of his first at bat of the following game on 5/15. // Ranked as the Orioles #33 prospect entering the 2022 season according to Baseball America. Also listed as the best defensive outfielder in the organization. // 21 home runs in 2021 ranked fourth in the Orioles system, behind only Kyle Stowers, Adley Rutschman, and Patrick Dorrian. Despite the high home run number, his .768 OPS was only good for 39th in the organization. // When combined with his 24 stolen bases, Watson was the only player in the system with a 20-20 season in 2021, and the first since DJ Stewart in 2017. // First selected by Boston in the 40th round of the 2018 draft, but elected not to sign. // Played 49 games in Bowie, 56 in Aberdeen. In 2019, played 16 games in Delmarva, 20 in Aberdeen.

Missed 85 games on the Injured List after appearing in just four games for Bowie at the start of the season. Crashed into the left field wall at Binghamton while making a game-ending catch. // Appeared in 106 games in 2021, good for ninth-most in the Orioles system, while his 13 home runs ranked 15th. 70 games in Bowie, 36 in Aberdeen. // Split his defensive time evenly on both corners of the infield, with 41 games at both bases. Also played 13 games in the outfield. // A native of western Pennsylvania, Welk did not fully anticipate to play baseball at a high professional level, choosing Penn State-Berks for their engineering program, but was drafted after hitting 34 career home runs, collecting a .433 batting average, and only striking out only 31 times. // Named the D3baseball.com National Player of the Year in 2019. // Was the first player ever drafted out of Penn State-Berks. // Just after his call-up to Bowie, he stopped sitting on pitch types, and started looking for pitches in specific locations to swing at. The change in approach helped him hit 11 home runs in 70 games.

COACHING STAFF

Manager: Kyle Moore

The 2022 season will be the 13th season for Moore in the Orioles organization. He played 29 games over two seasons (2010-11) before becoming a coach. He spent three seasons as a player/coach (2013 Frederick Keys, 2014 Bowie Baysox, 2015 Delmarva Shorebirds) before being named as the Shorebirds hitting coach in 2016 and the Keys hitting coach in 2017. Moore signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Orioles in 2010 after playing collegiately at the University of Alabama. As a high schooler, he starred at Edgewood Academy (AL), where he won three AISA state baseball championships. Kyle, his wife Whitney and their two daughters reside in Sarasota, FL. He is a Type-1 Diabetic.

Hitting Coach: Branden Becker

Becker was drafted by the Orioles in the 17th round of the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft in 2015 and played parts of four seasons in the organization before retiring in May, 2019. He rejoined the Orioles as the Fundamentals Coach for the IronBirds for the 2020 season before it was canceled. He served as the Hitting Coach for the Complex League Orioles in 2021.

Pitching Coach: Josh Conway

Conway was selected in the fourth round of the 2012 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft by the Chicago Cubs out of Coastal Carolina. He played three seasons with the Cubs organization, making it to Double-A in 2016. The Smithburg, Md native returned to the Chanticleers to complete his undergraduate degree and served as a student assistant and assistant pitching coach before joining the Orioles.
