OVERVIEW: Drafted by the New York Yankees in the 25th round of the 2018 MLB Draft out of Dallas Baptist University. Originally from Selden, NY.

- Signed by the San Diego Padres as a free agent in November 2025 after spending the last seven years in the Yankees' organization.
- Earned the win in his last start on July 5 against Sacramento. Boyle allowed two runs on seven hits with seven strikeouts over five innings.
- From May 14 to June 24, Sean Boyle went 4-0 with a 1.95 ERA in 12 appearances (1 start). He struck out 22 batters in 27.2 innings, and help opposing hitters to a .216 batting average.
- He has pitched 3.0 innings or more in nine of 16 relief outings this season.
- Made his 150th career appearance on June 12, 2026, at Round Rock. Pitched a scoreless 8th inning with a strikeout.
- Boyle exclusively spent the 2025 season in Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, where he made 28 appearances (23 starts). Boyle went 9-9 with a 4.61 ERA and 120 strikeouts in a team-leading 134.2 innings pitched. Had the second-most wins (9) and starts (23) among the RailRiders' rotation.
- His 2023 season was cut short due to a UCL injury requiring Tommy John surgery. Before the injury, Boyle started nine games for Scranton/Wilkes-Barre.
- Boyle was part of two no-hitters in the 2022 season, including one for the Hudson Valley Renegades and the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre RailRiders. Earned the nickname "Mr. Quality Start" after leading the Yankees' farm system with 13 quality starts. Boyle recorded 7+ strikeouts in four consecutive starts from Apr. 27 to May 19. Led the Yankees' affiliate teams in games started (27), innings pitched (155.2), and strikeouts (160).
- In the 2021 season, Boyle pitched in four Yankee affiliates, including Low-A Tampa, High-A Hudson Valley, Double-A Somerset, and Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre. Combined, he posted a 1.99 ERA across 47.1 IP.
- Reminisces on the time he was throwing live BP at Yankee spring training, and Aaron Judge came up to him and gave him words of encouragement. In an interview with Fireside Yankees, Boyle said, "I've seen him the past couple of years at the facility; he's always gone out of his way to say hi to me. I've never made the roster, never made the big leagues, but the captain of the New York Yankees is going out of his way to make a guy like me comfortable and make that relationship."
- In an interview with Fireside Yankees, Boyle said, "I've worked hard to increase [my velocity], but I'm a guy who is going to keep hitters off balance and make them swing at my best pitch." He continued, "I understand who I am. I'm gonna go out there, change speeds [and] keep these guys off balance."

- Attended a boarding high school in Charlottesville, Virginia, called Miller School of Albemarle, where his dad coached him for baseball. He told The Herd Chronicles, "I loved it. He wasn't one of the dad-coaches where he was always on me... He was always just about the effort level of the game."
- Ahead of his MLB debut, Will was so busy speaking with the media and preparing for the game. In a postgame interview, he said, "My fiancée, my dad (Billy Wagner) texted me, 'hey, we still can't get in.' I was like, oh gosh, I forgot to get the tickets." The issue was resolved and his family was able to be in attendance for his debut in 2024.
