TONIGHT'S GAME

The Howlers have their backs against the wall for potential post-season contention. They're seven games back in a tight division and need all the series wins they can get. Hill City can still salvage a series tie with wins today and tomorrow, and that all starts with starter Ryan DeSanto tonight. He's tasked with stopping a Delmarva offense that's scored 32 runs over its last three games.

LAST GAME

Last night was another game of struggle for the Howlers' pitching staff. It let up nine walks and hits apiece, leading to nine total runs. The runs came in bunches too, with the scoring split into two frames of Delmarva damage. Four of the Shorebirds' runs came across in a rain-filled fourth inning. Mist and drizzle was consistent through the game but it turned up a notch in that frame, leading to trouble for starter Ryan Prager. The other five scored in the seventh, all off singles. Hill City put up a fight in the ninth to scratch three runs across to make the final 9-4.

RILEY RAKES

Howlers first baseman Riley Nelson has had a much improved second half, sporting a .287 batting avg to go with a .397 on-base-percentage in the second stanza. He's also in the midst of a nine-game on-base streak as of 7/25.

RING EM UP

After losing their lead, the Howlers retained the Carolina League strikeout crown in Saturday's doubleheader. Hill City has 947 now after DeSanto, Prager and Perez struck out 20 combined in last week's series.

THEY GROW UP SO FAST

Juneiker Caceres and Harrison Bodendorf are the latest callups for Hill City, as they join the likes of Tyler Howard, Anthony Martinez, Will McCausland, Jervis Alfaro and Jacob Zibin up north in Lake County.

THE ARMS

The 2026 Howlers pitching staff is strong, featuring 16 pitchers including 12 donning a championship ring from last year's run. The staff ranks first in the Carolina League in strikeouts with 947 and has held that lead for the duration of 2026.

STAR-STUDDED SQUAD

Hill City has four top-30 prospects on Cleveland's MLB Pipeline list. Joey Oakie tops the list for the Howlers at #12 while Gabriel Rodriguez, Robert Arias and Dauri Fernandez all come in a row #19-21. The recently promoted Juneiker Caceres is there as well, up to #6.

BROADCAST INFORMATION

All 66 Howlers home games can be heard on the home of the Howlers, the Hill City Howlers Radio Network. Fans can also watch all Howlers games with a valid MiLB.tv login. Jason Prill and Connor Schuh handle play-by-play and color

MEET THE STAFF

HILLCATS MANAGER ERLIN CERDA

Erlin Cerda steps in as manager after serving as the bench coach for each of the last two seasons, including the Carolina League Championship season. He replaced Jordan Smith who spent the last three years at the helm.

Cerda, a former Hillcat himself, is a native of the Dominican Republic and was with the Cleveland organization as a player from 2013 until 2018. He stepped into coaching in 2023 as a bench coach with the Guardians Arizona Complex League team.

ERLIN CERDA'S MANAGERIAL CAREER

YEAR	CLUB	LEAGUE	CLASS	W-L	FINISH
2026	Hill City	Carolina	A	40-54
TOTAL

BENCH COACH CHASE BARBARY

Barbary spent last season, his first season in the Guardians organization, as the development coach for the Columbus Clippers, where he helped players navigate the ever-changing landscape of AAA baseball.

HITTING COACH AMANDA KAMEKONA

Returns to Lynchburg as the teams hitting coach, where she served last season as well. Her time with the organization assisted in bringing the city's first championship since 2017. A former softball star at UCLA, "AK" was one of the most elite hitters in program history.

PITCHING COACH KEVIN ERMINIO

Entering his seventh season in the Guardians organization, including a stop in the Hill City for the 2022 season where he helped guide the Hillcats pitching staff to an impressive 4.26 team-ERA with over 1300-strikeouts.

HITTING COACH IL HOR

in his second season with the Guardians organization. Hor spent last season with the Arizona Complex League, assisting in the development of some of the young, highly touted prospects in the organization. Hor spent four seasons playing in the KBO before retiring in 2020.

- Activated and assigned to HC on 7/3/26
- 5-0, 5.28 ERA with 47K's for Florida State in 2024
- Was one of the top freshman relievers in the country in 2022 with a 2-2 record and 2.48 ERA
- Signed for $150,000
- Suffered an arm injury in his final season at FSU that caused him to miss a month before moving to the bullpen for the College World Series run
- Closed out the game to send Florida State to the College World Series
- Has been playing baseball since he was 5 years old
- Once bowled a 260
- Nickname: Whitty
- He claims that no one ever spells his name right (even FSU and MiLB), but has yet to tell anyone how to spell it... maybe you can get that information from him
- The definition of a workhorse. He doesn't get a lot of the attention, but he was quietly the most consistent arm out of the bullpen all season. It was never flashy and he never stood out, but he always got the job done, even working multiple innings at a time as of late. He's got an interesting motion which almost looks like he's bobbing up and down as he goes throughout.
- Loves John Deere, has been actively seeking a professional sponsorship with them
- Began 2025 with Lynchburg before being called up and getting hurt
- 8-2 with a 2.66 ERA across two levels in 2025, 55 K's, 19 BB's in 84.2 innings
