During the Inaugural Season at SRP Park, the GreenJackets welcomed 255,155 fans, which was up 48 percent in attendance from the previous years at their old home, Lake Olmstead Stadium (Augusta, GA). This was also the highest attendance growth in all of professional baseball (MLB & MiLB). The team set a franchise record in single-season attendance as well as single-game stadium attendance. The GreenJackets were awarded the South Atlantic League's (SAL) nomination for the Charles K. Murphy Award during the Inaugural Season as well.

2019 RECAP

HISTORY

LEAGUE

Start with a scenic riverfront location in the midst of a new mixed-use development. Add in a ballpark design encompassing the best of Southern hospitality. Throw in the potential to generate more economic activity. You'd then have a pretty good vision of what SRP Park is and what it can become, making the new home of the Augusta GreenJackets the 2018 Ballpark of the Year, as awarded by Ballpark Digest.

"We expect a lot of things from today's modern ballparks," said Kevin Reichard, Ballpark Digest publisher. "We expect them to provide a great fan experience, we expect them to take good care of players, and we expect them to provide tangible benefits for their communities. SRP Park succeeds at fulfilling these expectations."

"We are incredibly honored to receive the Ballpark Digest 2018 Ballpark of the Year Award," said Jeff Eiseman, President & Partner, Augusta GreenJackets. "I have personally visited many of the past years' recipients and to be listed alongside them is truly remarkable. To have a vision that was years in the making not only come to fruition but become a source of pride for not only North Augusta but the entire metro region is all any operator can hope for. This award belongs to the City of North Augusta. Their leadership and vision made this all possible. The best is yet to come as the Riverside Village district fills out. 2018 was merely just the beginning and this ballpark and district will evolve annually and be the premier place to live, work, play and smile."

"Receiving this award for beautiful city-owned SRP Park validates the benefits a public-private partnership can provide," said North Augusta Mayor Bob Pettit. "SRP Park is the perfect ballpark in the right location is the jewel of our new Riverside Village development. I enjoy nothing more than watching the GreenJackets play in this stadium."

Located across the Savannah River from the edge of downtown Augusta in North Augusta, South Carolina, SRP Park is the centerpiece of the Riverside Village development (known formerly as Project Jackson). A modern mixed-use development with hotels, residential, office and retail, Riverside Village is an ambitious project undertaken by the city and investors, including Greenstone, the Atlanta-based investment firm that includes Chris Schoen, part of the GreenJackets ownership via Agon Sports & Entertainment.

"We selected SRP Park as our Ballpark of the Year both because of how it works as a modern ballpark, as well as how it works as the cornerstone of additional economic activity," Reichard added. "If you look at past winners of our Ballpark of the Year Award—SunTrust Park, Spirit Communications Park, CHS Field—there's a common theme in that the ballparks are doing more for a community than just selling a ballgame. They're all centerpieces of greater community impacts."

SRP Park joins a distinguished list of ballparks honored by Ballpark Digest as Ballpark of the Year, including Atlanta's SunTrust Park (2017), Minnesota's Target Field (2010), Columbia's Spirit Communications Park (2016), St.

Paul's CHS Field (2015), El Paso's Southwest University Park (2014) and Arizona's Salt River Fields at Talking Stick (2011).

Kevin Reichard with Ballpark Digest will be at SRP Park on Friday, August 24th to award SRP Park and the city of North Augusta for being named the 2018 Ballpark of the Year. There will be a pre-game award ceremony before the 7:05PM first pitch against the Kannapolis Intimidation

LEAGUE

Written by Rylan Kobre

When the GreenJackets roster was announced in mid March, it was clear where the strength of the 2019 team was going to be: On the mound.

The Jackets welcomed seven Top 30 prospects in the Giants Minor League system, and six of them were pitchers. Sean Hjelle (#6 Preseason Giants Prospect), Jake Wong (#7 Preseason Giants Prospect), Gregory Santos (#8 Preseason Giants Prospect), Blake Rivera (#17 Preseason Giants Prospect), Juan De Paula (#19 Preseason Giants Prospect), and Seth Corry (#25 Preseason Giants Prospect) all began the season with the GreenJackets.

It didn't take long before one of those prospects would leave unexpectedly. Juan De Paula arrived in Augusta, and after the teams first practice in late March, the hard-throwing right-hander was traded to the Toronto Blue Jays in a deal that sent outfielder Kevin Pillar to the Giants.

The season began with an 11-game road trip, and it was GreenJackets right-hander Matthew Frisbee who was the first promotion of the 2019 season. Frisbee was sent to San Jose after just four appearances with the Jackets and a 2.81 ERA. The slider happy starter struggled initially with San Jose, but ended up putting together an incredible campaign. He posted a 3.17 ERA in 20 starts with San Jose, and he was one of the best pitchers in the California League.

More moves were on the way after the Jackets hung around with a 12-11 month of April as they continued to grind through a road-heavy schedule in the first two months of the season.

Jake Wong and Sean Hjelle were dazzling on the mound and both earned promotions on May 20th while the team was playing in Charleston, South Carolina.

In back-to-back starts on April 30th and May 5th for Wong, he did not allow a hit. He tossed six-innings of no-hit baseball in both outings, and in his May 5th start, he only needed 52 pitches in his six innings of work. Wong ended his time in Augusta after eight starts and a 1.99 ERA.

Hjelle utilized his 6'11" ½ frame to be one of the most consistent strike throwers on the team. The 2nd round pick in 2018 from the University of Kentucky made nine starts with the GreenJackets and had an ERA of 2.66. After he posted an ERA of 2.78 with the San Jose Giants, he was rewarded with another promotion in the final month of the year to Double-A Richmond.

While the promotions continued to pile-up, the GreenJackets stubbed their toe with a 14-17 month of May. It would prove to be their only losing month of the 2019 season, as the Jackets ended May with their offense in a bind, things slowly began to turnaround.

Frankie Tostado continued to be a pleasant surprise as he had a breakout 2019. From May 27th-June 2nd, Tostado was named the South Atlantic League Player of the week. During the stretch, he hit .360 with four home runs and nine RBI's.

Tostado finished as the team leader in home runs (18) and he was 2nd in the SAL with 85 RBI's. Alongside Tostado in the lineup everyday was outfielder Ismael Munguia, and Diego Rincones. The two 20-year olds were able to keep the Jackets in plenty of games because of their consistency.

Munguia ended the season on the Injured list. But he was the leadoff man all year while playing in 100 games along with a .286 average. He was also named a Mid-season

SUMMARY

All-Star. Rincones was due for a call-up and it finally came on August 12th. He went to San Jose to end the season after posting a .295 average with the Jackets.

The GreenJackets inched closer towards a playoff spot in the 1st half, but two cancelled games with the Kannapolis Intimidators to start the month of June proved to be costly.

The Jackets lost out on a 1st half title to the Lexington Legends (Kansas City Royals) by a ½ game as Augusta went 36-32. In order to get into the Playoffs, the Jackets would need to win the 2nd half title. esus Tona was named a Mid-season SAL All-Star, his 16 saves led the team before his promotion to San Jose on July 17th. Tona made a big impact on what was an incredible bullpen all year for Augusta, and he was named Reliever of the Year in the South Atlantic League.

While the bullpen shined, Seth Corry emerged to have one of the greatest seasons in GreenJackets history. After he finished with a solid 1st half of the season, where he was a Mid-season All-Star and he flashed a 2.74 ERA, Corry was trying to cut down on his walks to become more effective.

He did just that. In the 2nd half of the season, he had a 1.10 ERA. Corry made the same number of starts as he did in the first half, but pitched 24 more innings in the 2nd Half. He'd finish with 172 strikeouts to pass Elvin Hernandez and become the All-Time Strikeouts leader in GreenJackets history. His final ERA for the season: 1.76.

Corry would take home South Atlantic League Pitcher of the Year honors as he led the Augusta rotation and bolted to #9 in the San Francisco Giants Top 30 Prospects List.

Right behind him the entire way was Keaton Winn. The 5th round pick by the San Francisco Giants in 2018 out of Iowa Western Community College quietly motored through the 2019 season to the tune of a 3.32 ERA. He led the GreenJackets with 127.1 innings on the mound. Of his 20 starts, he lasted less than five-innings only five times.

While the GreenJackets were fending off the Asheville Tourists to start the month of August at the top of the standings, an influx of talent made its way to SRP Park via Salem, Oregon. After a healthy number of promotions throughout the Giants pipeline, the Jackets picked up some weapons for the final 30 games of the season. Infielders Simon Whiteman (9th Round, 2019), Tyler Fitzgerald (4th round, 2019), Sean Roby (12th Round, 2018) and Logan Wyatt (2nd Round, 2019) quickly moved up from Short Season Salem-Keizer where they had just won a 1st half title with the Volcanoes. Catcher Ricardo Genoves also joined Augusta along with outfielder Franklin Labour. Wyatt, Fitzgerald, Genoves and Labour all finished the season as Top 30 Prospects in the Giants system

A deal at the trade deadline also brought pitcher Kai-Wei Teng into the mix. The Giants traded for Teng and two other prospects when they sent reliever Sam Dyson to the Minnesota Twins. Teng started five games with Augusta and had a 1.55 ERA.

The GreenJackets leaned on their leaders for the final stretch. Jacob Gonzalez ended the 2019 season by hitting .351 in his last 10 games, and on September 1st, the Jackets clinched a South 2nd Half Title with their 3-2 win over the Columbia Fireflies. The win put the Jackets into the playoffs for the first time since 2013. The Jackets went 8-2 in their last 10 games and they won their final six-games of the regular season.

The GreenJackets 77-61 overall record was also the best in the SAL South Division. The Augusta pitching staff ended the year with a 3.23 ERA, the 2nd best in the South Atlantic League.

GreenJackets Awarded Charles K. Murphy Patriot Award

Published Sept. 12, 2019

The Augusta GreenJackets, South Atlantic League affiliate of the San Francisco Giants, are excited to receive the Charles K. Murphy Patriot Award for the South Atlantic League two years in a row. With a vibrant and growing military community in the CSRA, the GreenJackets have consistently expressed their gratitude to the servicemen, women and veterans who call the CSRA home. Because of these efforts, the GreenJackets have been awarded the Charles K. Murphy Patriot Award, given to an individual or club for its outstanding support of the military branches and engagement with veterans, as announced by the Minor League Baseball office.

As the South Atlantic League's nominee for the Patriot Award, the GreenJackets continued to go above and beyond in paying their respects to the CSRA's strong military ties during the 2019 Season at SRP Park. The club hosted eight Military Mondays in partnership with local businesses, when servicemen, women and veterans received 120 free tickets, recognized one service member or veteran nightly with the E-Z-GO Salute to Soldier of the game, hosted the 13th Annual Military Appreciation night, and many more military initiatives throughout the season.

"It is our goal at the GreenJackets to be integrated within the fabric of our community, and one of our focuses has been the strong military presence here in the CSRA both active and retired and we look forward to continuing to grow those efforts," stated GreenJackets Vice President Tom Denlinger "We are truly honored to receive this award but truthfully this extends well beyond the GreenJackets with the partnerships we have in the community to continue to honor those who serve or have served."

"I would like to congratulate our friends at SRP Park on their recognition for a second year in a row for their exceptional support to our military!" Said Colonel James Clifford, Commander, U.S. Army Garrison. "From the military appreciation day, to the home game recognition of our service members, the welcoming environment at SRP Park is felt by all members of the Fort Gordon community. We are grateful for the strong partnership with the Augusta GreenJackets, and for the leadership of the ball club. On behalf of the Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, and Marines of Fort Gordon, I want to thank every member of their club for the world class support and partnership."

The Patriot Award is named in honor of the longtime Florida State League president and U.S. Army veteran who passed away Feb. 21, 2015 at the age of 83. Murphy retired as a Lieutenant Colonel after 21 years in the U.S. Army, broke into professional baseball in 1975 and led the Florida State League from 1990 until his passing. He received the Warren Giles Award for outstanding service as a league president in both 2011 and 1991, and the Friends of Baseball Chapel Award in 1994.

AUGUSTA GREENJACKETS BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

2013 - TIM WAKEFIELD

Wakefield was voted into the inaugural class of the GreenJackets Baseball Hall of Fame. He was a member of the Augusta Pirates in 1989 and played both first and third base that season. After being told, "He would never make it past double-A as a first baseman," Wakefield began to work on becoming a pitcher by mastering the knuckleball.

2013 - PABLO SANDOVAL

Sandoval was voted into the inaugural class of the GreenJackets Baseball Hall of Fame. Signed by the San Francisco Giants as an undrafted free agent in 2004, Sandoval was a member of the GreenJackets in the 2006 season. He played in 117 games as a first and third baseman, notching 116 hits, 49 RBIs and a .265 batting average.

2014 - BILL HEATON

In 1988, longtime baseball fan and U.S. Army Lieutenant Colonel (retired) Bill Heaton put together a partnership to bring baseball back to Augusta after it left in 1963 for 25 years. It was a huge undertaking, but he succeeded in securing a franchise in the reorganized South Atlantic League. He then got an agreement with the Pittsburgh Pirates to provide players and coaches and hastily built a no-frills ballpark named Heaton Stadium. The Augusta Pirates, in their second year, won the SAL title.

2014 - STAN SWANN

For as long as GreenJackets baseball has been in Augusta, Stan has been a fixture at the Ballpark. Stan is a season ticket holder and a member of the GreenJackets Diamond Club. Since 1995, Stan has been an active member of the Special Olympics GA – Augusta Stars. He enjoys bowling and his skills have won him countless gold medals. He is a true fan.

2015 - MADISON BUMGARNER

Drafted by the San Francisco Giants in the first round of the 2007 MLB Draft, Bumgarner was a member of the GreenJackets for the 2008 season. He started 24 games, finishing with a 15-3 record, 164 strikeouts, and a 1.46 ERA. He obtained the South Atlantic League pitcher's "Triple Crown." Behind his efforts, the GreenJackets went on to win the Southern Division second-half title, the Southern Division Championship, and the SAL Championship.

2016 - ROBERTO KELLY

The former all-star outfielder managed the GreenJackets from 2005-2007. He guided them to a 285-157 record and two playoff appearances. During his tenure, he was known and beloved by his players as a great teacher of the game. In 2006, Kelly won the SAL Manager of the Year Award. He guided the GreenJackets to the best record in all of MiLB in 2006 (92-47) and 2007 (89-51)

2018 - KEVIN YOUKILIS

Youkilis was drafted by the Boston Red Sox in the eighth round of the 2001 MLB Draft. Youkilis played for the GreenJackets from 2001-2002. In 20 games in a GreenJackets uniform, he batted 262 with 6 RBIs. In 2002, Youkilis would be named the Boston Red Sox Minor League Player of the Year.

2019 - SERGIO ROMO
