Dear Crustacean Nation,

I hope you feel the same excitement as both myself and our entire Jumbo Shrimp front office staff for the 2025 season of Affordable Family Fun. Every summer, I can't wait to witness all the memories and signature moments for families and fans of all ages at VyStar Ballpark. We are so grateful you chose to attend today's game, and I wish to express my gratitude and thanks to you, as well as the city of Jacksonville, Northeast Florida and Southeast Georgia, because without you, all these extraordinary moments, attendance records, awards and recognition across the country never would have happened. I can't wait for the wonderful memories we will make together again in 2025.

Like always, it is our pledge to offer our fans the same great Affordable Family Fun that has marked Jumbo Shrimp baseball over the years. Over the span of 75 fun-filled home dates this season, the Jumbo Shrimp have planned 25 fireworks dates, 21 giveaways, five free Military Appreciation Nights, five Forever Vets Animal Hospital Canines and Crustaceans Dog Days (plus one Cat Day) and a number of other fun and memorable theme nights that provide entertainment to fans of all ages and backgrounds. We have also continued our tribute to the military on "Red Shirt Fridays," plus seats every game for our service men and women starting at just $7. Coors Light Thirsty Thursdays are back, and again, kids will get to round the bases following each Sunday home game on Baptist Health Sunday Family FUNdays.

We are always striving to enhance our guest experience and safety at the ballpark. As you may have noticed, VyStar Ballpark has undergone some transformational renovations thanks to Project NEXT, our plan for the $31.8 million publicly-funded ballpark renovation. Project NEXT is the first major renovation to VyStar Ballpark since its opening in 2003. We consider these upgrades to be a generational moment for the Jacksonville Jumbo Shrimp, our city, fans and community partners.

In 2024, fans experienced the beginning phases of Project NEXT: a brand-new videoboard nearly 20 percent larger in size, new ribbon boards and new concourse fans. The 2025 season continues this extraordinary rejuvenation; Perhaps you entered VyStar Ballpark in our brand-new front porch, the Baptist Health Centerfield Plaza. Our new renovations also include premium hospitality experience unrivaled in the 22-year history of the ballpark in the brand-new PNC Home Plate Club. A multi-level building in right field provides ticket-buyers with an extraordinary view of the game and some delectable food options, makes the Jumbo Shrimp Souvenir Store accessible on the street level and also includes an incredible space that is Jacksonville's newest spot for banquets and meetings. Our food & beverage experience, as well, features wide-ranging, exquisite cuisine in every corner of our ballpark. Personally, I am so excited to try all of the new, delicious options we are providing for fans this season.

On the field, we look forward to again watching Triple-A baseball in Jacksonville. The 2024 season saw 57 different players with major league experience suit up for the Jumbo Shrimp, including 54 who played both in the big leagues and with Jacksonville at some point last year. This season, we also expect to see several talented prospects on their way to the Miami Marlins play in Jacksonville and are pleased to welcome an excellent coaching staff in manager David Carpenter, bench coach Jorge Hernandez, pitching coach Rob Marcello, hitting coach Mike Marjama, defensive coach Jose Ceballos, athletic trainer Tyler Lough and strength and conditioning coach Dan Donohue.

Thank you for attending today's game and for your support of the Jacksonville Jumbo Shrimp. Please don't hesitate to let me or any of our staff members know how your experience at VyStar Ballpark is going. Sit back, relax and enjoy Jumbo Shrimp baseball!

Warm wishes,

Harold Craw

In baseball, few rituals stand out more than a parent playing catch with their child, and in doing so, passing on the virtues of the game from one generation to the next.

Jacksonville infielder Jacob Berry played a lot of catch with his father, and picked up knowledge and appreciation for the game that went well beyond its virtues.

Berry was drafted in 2022 as the sixth overall selection in the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft by the Miami Marlins and that in itself is a remarkable feat.

But every Father's Day, Berry is mindful, reflective, and grateful for his father's support – and that of his remarkably tight and athletic family – for how it helped him find his place in the game.

Jacob's father, Perry, was a fourth-round pick by the Astros in 1990. When his four-year playing career leveled off, he turned to his family, where he became a coach, a mentor, and the earliest architect of a dream that would carry his son to play ball at LSU, a first rounder, and a top prospect in MLB.

Jacob's father has "been an influential person in my whole life," Berry said. "Helping me become the person I am today and really driving me to work hard. He's always supported my dreams."

Jacob and Perry both played collegiately in Louisiana; Jacob played for the Tigers in Baton Rouge and Perry for the University of Louisiana-Lafayette Ragin' Cajuns.

"There was a little bit of rivalry there," Jacob smirked.

In Jacob's time at LSU, they played the Ragin' Cajuns annually. Jacob always wondered if his father was "pulling for LSU a whole lot those nights."

The Berry residence in Arizona was an athletic household, one that spawned Jacob's professional baseball aspirations, but also that of his two younger sisters, both of whom play Division I softball: Jade at Stanford and Janae at Arizona. What's more, Jacob's younger brother, Jet, is committed to play ball at Oregon and will carry on the family business.

"The fun and guts of hitting. Even nowadays he at the Division II level, so the Berry family has plenty of shared experiences and built-in family rivalries to explore. Those family dinners are ripe with bragging rights.

"Our household is very competitive," Berry remarks. "I've been very, very lucky to come up in it."

So who has more power? Who would win a Berry family home run derby? In their primes?

"I think I would beat him (Perry), but I don't know," said Jacob, with appropriate reverence for his father's career and accomplishments.

But more than the power and the shared hitting philosophies, Jacob appreciates that his father offered a "shoulder to lean on. He's been there at every turn" of his journey.

Baseball is a funny game, where failure is much more prevalent than success. Berry appreciates that his father "comes from a spot where he understands it."

Berry added, "It's a game of failure, and he obviously realizes that."

Perry coached Jacob's little league teams all the way through travel ball, and it was at that time that Jacob's father built a foundation.

gives me a lot of hitting advice," said Jacob. "He taught me everything I know. There's a lot of lessons I learned from the guy, but nothing more than the value of hard work and dedication."

As the 24-year old switch hitter continues his climb, with an eye on Miami and the major leagues, he also maturely recognizes that nothing is accomplished in baseball without accountability, hard work and determination.

Being accountable – showing up and grinding to get better each day – is the mindset of success, which Jacob also applies to all aspects of his life, on and off the field.

Jacob appreciates his father's tough love and believes it made him a better ballplayer and person.

"He was hard on me, and now I'm more grateful to God now than ever. I can't thank the guy enough."

Bragan Field at VyStar Ballpark, which opened in 2003, is one of the premier Minor League ballparks in North America.

The ballpark was the first completed project of the Better Jacksonville Plan. Featuring an old-fashioned design, brick facade and a grass seating berm, VyStar Ballpark reminds fans of the days of yesteryear and preserves all of the wonderful tradition baseball has to offer. The vivid sight lines capture the action up-close while providing fans with comfortable seating and easy access to concessions and restrooms.

VyStar Ballpark features 12 luxury skyboxes, four skydecks, and a one-of-a-kind Tiki Terrace at the left field corner. It also has an HD videoboard and LED fence display in left field and two ribbon displays along the baselines of the suite level.

In 2016, owner Ken Babby invested $1.8 million into the ballpark to add a new groups area directly behind the home bullpen, a Tiki Terrace near the left-field foul pole, renovations to all 12 private suites and expansion of the suite-level, third-floor lounge to give all fans a climate-controlled space to overlook the playing field.

In conjunction with the City of Jacksonville and ASM Global, the Jumbo Shrimp announced in 2024 a $31.8 million publicly-funded renovation plan to VyStar Ballpark as part of Project NEXT. The project added a new office structure and seating experience in right field, a new fan-friendly main gate in center field and a new premium space area behind Homeplate. Project NEXT is the first major renovation to the ballpark since its opening in 2003.

The ballpark features nearly 6,000 stadium-style chairs and had accommodated more than 11,000 fans. Ballpark is also completely wheelchair accessible, including the dugouts, camera wells and playing field.

The ballpark has hosted three Major League Baseball exhibitions (2006, 2010, 2015), four ACC Baseball Tournaments (2006-09) and two Southern League All-Star games (2003, 2013). The 2013 Southern League All-Star game boasted a league-record 9,373 fans in attendance.

Since 2007, VyStar Ballpark has hosted a game in the annual college baseball series between in-state rivals, Florida State and Florida. The annual installment brings capacity crowds to VyStar Ballpark for their storied rivalry.

DIFFERENT FANS have different methods of keeping a scorecard, and many use their own notations. But here's a simple method:

If the batter gets a hit, write in the hit according to which base he reached. Each corner of the box represents a base, with the lower-right corner being first.

If he singles, put a “-” in the lower right. If he doubles, write a “=” in the upper right, and so on. For a walk, use “BB” in the lower right. As the runner advances, mark the

If a runner scores, put a circle at the bottom of the box, and inside the circle put the symbol of the play and/or the player that drove him in. For example, if the No. 5 hitter drives in two runs with a single, mark his single in the bottom right of his box and mark a circle with the number "5" in it in the boxes of the runners who score. (Some people like to use uniform numbers here, so you can tell who did what, even after lineup changes.)

At the end of each inning, total the hits and runs for that inning only. At the end of the game you'll be able to add the innings total to get the game score.

Joe Mack comes from a family of ballplayers.

Growing up in Western New York, he was a multi-sport athlete playing basketball, volleyball and, of course, baseball at Williamsville East High School. In the beginning, Joe was simply following in the footsteps of his siblings. His older brother, Charles, played shortstop at Williamsville East High School and was drafted in the sixth round of the 2018 Major League Baseball draft. His sister, Christy, played collegiate softball as a shortstop for the University of Hartford. Their shared love for sports was inspired by their dad, Allan. Even now, Joe described Allan as a versatile athlete who took part in various activities like hockey, football, basketball and baseball.

During Joe's sophomore year on the high school baseball team, Mack batted .462 with four home runs and was named All-Western New York. Growing up in Buffalo made it difficult to practice year-round due to the unfavorable weather conditions, but that didn't stop the Mack family. Allan built them a fully functional batting cage in their garage and basement. This home setup was particularly useful when COVID hit in 2020 because Joe was able to use his time at home productively, getting reps and working on his mechanics. His devotion to practice and training translated seamlessly into his senior season. Despite his junior season getting canceled, he did play in the Perfect Game All-American Classic. In his senior year, he was the top-ranked baseball player in the state of New York by MaxPreps. MaxPreps also labeled him one of the best catching prospects in the 2021 MLB draft. Mack signed a letter of intent to play baseball at Clemson University but soon his plans changed.

Mack was selected with the 31st overall pick in the 2021 draft by the Miami Marlins. In his first three seasons in the pros, he slashed .217/.324/.303. After adjusting his plate approach in the 2024 season, Mack doubled his career total by homering 24 times, the fifth-highest among minor league catchers. In the 2024 season, he also earned the Double-A Pensacola MVP and a Rawlings Golden Glove Award as the minors' top defensive catcher.

Family is a key factor in his life; when asked who his biggest cheerleaders are, Joe responded, "my parents." He went on to describe them as selfless supporters who got him where he needed to go for game days sacrificing their weekends to late nights at the ball fields.

Mack looks up to his big brother, Charles. He said that growing up, he would copy Charles' clothes and style and through the years that has not changed.

"Everything he is, I want to be," Mack said. "Not just in the sense of being an athlete but just the all-around good person he is."

During the offseason, Mack often returns to his hometown of Buffalo to be with family and root on the Buffalo Bills. He is a ride-or-die Bills Mafia fan, referring to them as "the best fan base of all-time." Another huge influence in Mack's life is his identity in Christ. One way he expresses his religious beliefs is through his walk-up song. He approaches the plate to "The Name" by KB featuring Koryn Hawthorne. KB is a Christian artist known for his pop and rap take on Christian music. Beyond his walk-up song, a pre-game prayer is also a big part of gameday routine.

"I'm more than just a ball player," Mack said. "I eat, sleep, and breathe just like everyone else and if there's one thing they should know, it's that my faith and trust is in Jesus Christ always."

So, who is Joe Mack? He is a 22-year-old baseball player who catches and bats left for the Jacksonville Jumbo Shrimp. But that doesn't nearly scrape the surface of who Mack is. He is a brother, son, Bills fan, teammate, friend, and a Christian. And according to his teammates, he is hard-working, kind, and a leader in the dugout. The 2025 Jumbo Shrimp are reaping the benefits of those intangibles he gathering following in the footsteps of his family in sports all those years ago.

THANK YOU, LINDA!

SENIOR VP OF SALES LINDA MCNABB TO WRAP 25 MILB YEAR CAREER IN 2025

McNabb set to leave baseball after 25 years, including 10 with Jacksonville

After 25 years of excellence in Minor League Baseball, the 2025 season will be the final baseball season for Jacksonville Jumbo Shrimp Senior Vice President of sales Linda McNabb. She will be returning to Southwest Florida to spend time with her family.

Since 2015, McNabb has led Jacksonville's sales department, helping guide the club from its final years as the Suns and into the Jumbo Shrimp era, which began in the winter of 2016. McNabb was the first hire for the Jacksonville club made by Ken Babby's Fast Forward Sports Group, which bought the team in 2015.

"The decision to leave the sport after 25 years is far from easy but there are now three grandchildren in Southwest Florida whose lives I can't wait to be a big part of, making the decision the right one," McNabb said. "The last 10 years have been amazing working alongside some of the BEST people in Minor League Baseball. I will always be thankful for Ken Babby, allowing me to be part of the Jumbo Shrimp creation and growth. I look forward to seeing what's next for the Jumbo Shrimp."

A Cleveland native, McNabb worked in sales for three different Southwest Florida radio stations before entering baseball. She began her career in baseball in 1994 with the Fort Myers Miracle (Class-A Advanced, Florida State League) and the Minnesota Twins' Spring Training. She began as Director of Sales and was later Vice President and President of Miracle Professional Baseball. In 2001, she became a senior officer of the Goldklang Group, and she was awarded the Rawlings Female Executive of the Year, given to an outstanding woman executive by the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which governed all affiliated minor league clubs.

"As our first hire in Jacksonville nearly a decade ago, I fondly remember sitting in the ballpark with Linda dreaming about what could be possible here," said Jumbo Shrimp owner/CEO Ken Babby. "Her passion, energy and perseverance have become hallmarks of the Jacksonville Jumbo Shrimp organization. Simply put, Linda's determination, character and quality for excellence have played an indescribable role in our success here in Jacksonville. She puts our fans, the community and our partners first — and recognizes that they fuel victory for our team and staff on and off the field. Her passion to deliver for her clients is truly unparalleled. We wouldn't be the organization we are today without Linda McNabb. After more than a two-decade journey throughout baseball — she has impacted the lives of everyone she has mentored along the way. We all wish her well in her next adventure — and look forward to cheering her on every step of the way."
