SATURDAY IN SALEM: After dropping back-to-back-to-back close games that were up for grabs in the 9th inning, the FredNats aim to salvage a split with Salem with two wins on the weekend to close out the second full series of the year with the Sox. Southpaw Angel Roman gets the Saturday start looking to build on his first win of the season last week against Charleston. Roman pitched five innings of two-run ball, and will try to pitch better against Salem this time around. The first time he faced the Sox back in Fredericksburg early in the year, he posted two zeros in the first two innings and then allowed four runs in the 3rd inning. He faces Sox righty Griffin Kilander, who faces FXBG for the second time as well. He allowed a single earned run in a 2.1 inning start in the second game of a doubleheader.

ABOUT LAST NIGHT: Nataneal Yuten walked off the FredNats for the third time in the last two seasons with a base hit in the 10th inning to push the Sox to a 3-2 victory. Jackson Ross drove in both FredNat runs, including a go-ahead home run in the 9th that gave the FredNats a 2-1 lead at the time. Freili Encarnacion tied the game with a line drive home run in the bottom of the 9th. Yoel Tejada Jr. pitched five innings of one-run ball with a career-high seven strikeouts.

THIS SERIES IS WILD: The FredNats have lost three games in a row in which they had great chances to tie or take the lead in the 9th. In Wednesday's game, Fredericksburg had the tying runs in scoring position in the 9th inning when Moises Gallardo was called out on a pitch clock violation to end the game. On Thursday, the FredNats scored four runs in the 9th inning to cut a 5-0 deficit to 5-4, and then with the tying run at third base and one out, the Freddie's weren't able to get the tying run in. Then in last night's game, Fredericksburg had a 2-1 lead in the 9th disappear after a solo homer and then a walk-off single in the 10th.

RISP STRUGGLES: After going 0-for-6 with runners in scoring position in last night's loss, Fredericksburg's recent offensive struggles with RISP continues. Overall, the Freddie's are hitting .228 with a .666 OPS with runners in scoring position this year, which is middle of the pack in the Carolina League. In the last 10 games, however, the team is hitting just .169 with a .512 OPS with runners in scoring position, and just hasn't been able to get the big hit when it's really needed to these last three nights in Salem.

DON'T EVEN TRY IT: The FredNat catching duo of Kevin Bazzell and Nate Rombach have been prolific at throwing out potential base stealers to start the season. Bazzell is throwing out 39.6% of base runners this year and ranks second in Single-A with 11 caught stealings, and Rombach is 12th in Single-A with eight caught stealings. He is throwing out 28% of potential base stealers. Fredericksburg's 19 total caught stealings from the catchers ranks second in Single-A behind Charleston.

THIS BULLPEN, MAN: The FredNat bullpen continues to be a dominant unit for Fredericksburg. After four more innings last night, the bullpen ERA stands at 3.19, which is not only the best in the Carolina League, it's the second best in all of Single-A baseball and the 9th best in all of Minor League baseball. The FredNats currently have five relievers that have an ERA under three heading into this game with the RiverDogs. The bullpen has logged 124 innings this year compared to the starting rotation's 95.1, and the group has 152 strikeouts and only 62 walks.

2024 CHAMPIONS: The 2024 Fredericksburg Nationals won the franchise's sixth total Carolina League championship last September, defeating the Kannapolis Cannon Ballers two games to one to capture the crown. It was the franchise's first since moving to Fredericksburg in 2020, and the first since the Potomac Nationals won the Carolina League in 2014. The FredNats broke the Charleston RiverDogs' run of three titles in a row, and became the first non-Charleston team to win the league since MiLB realigned to its current leagues in 2021.

NEW SKIPPER IN TOWN: After Jake Lowery's third season as Manager of the FredNats ended in a Carolina League championship in 2024, the FredNats welcome Billy McMillon as the third Manager in Fredericksburg franchise history. McMillon, 53, has spent the last three seasons in the Nationals organization as the Development Coach for Triple-A Rochester. Prior to joining the Nationals, he coached for over a decade in the Boston organization, managing at all four full-season levels and also spending three seasons (2016-18) as the organization's base running and outfield coordinator. He also played parts of six seasons in the Major Leagues with Oakland, Detroit, Philadelphia and Florida. He's joined on the staff by returning Pitching Coach Justin Lord, returning Hitting Coach Mike Habas, Development Coach Luis Ordaz, returning Athletic Trainer Jacob Meyer, Strength & Conditioning Coach Mike Reiskind, and Performance Analyst Samantha Unger.

A LASTING LEGACY: The Fredericksburg Nationals adopt the franchise history of their predecessors in the Carolina League dating back to 1978...the Alexandria Dukes (1978, 1980-83) and Alexandria Mariners (1979) played at Four Mile Run Park in Alexandria, Virginia...the Prince William Pirates (1984-1986), Prince William Yankees (1987-1988), Prince William Cannons (1989-1998), Potomac Cannons (1999-2004) and Potomac Nationals (2005-2019) played at G. Richard Pfitzner Stadium in Woodbridge, Virginia...the franchise has won six Carolina League championships, as the Dukes in 1982, as the Yankees in 1989, and as the Nationals in 2008, 2010 and 2014. The franchise won its first league title as the Fredericksburg Nationals in 2024.
