LAST GAME

Things were looking so nice for Bowie on Tuesday, as they angled toward their ninth-consecutive win. As the night closed in their series opener with the Akron RubberDucks, Bowie was instead left heartbroken, as the Baysox suffered their ninth walk-off loss of the season, 6-5. Bowie lead 5-3 in the ninth inning. After an early 2-0 lead from Akron, Bowie jumped ahead to a 4-2 edge in the third inning against Akron starter Jaime Arias, as Hudson Haskin lined an RBI single, and Cesar Prieto belted a three-run home run, his third of the season. Drew Rom spun five innings for Bowie, and Griffin McLarty tossed two scoreless in relief, but after striking out the side in the eighth, Clayton McGinness was two strikes away from logging the save twice in the ninth inning before the tying and winning runs eventually came home to score on a string of three-consecutive singles.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

Bowie has already had a good season against Akron, winning eight of the 11 games played between the pair by an average of over four runs in each win. When Akron missed a berth to the playoffs in the first half by just one game, their 4-11 start to the second half did not help their chances at making a run for the second half berth. Since that start, however, Akron has gone 11-5, the second best record in the league over that span behind Bowie's 13-3. Their late game work has kept them competitive on this current stretch. Out of their 11 wins on this current stretch, four wins are by one run, and four more wins by two runs.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Right-hander Gavin Williams is one of the best pitching prospects in the Guardians organization, and was well-deserving of his promotion from High-A toward the end of the first half, despite still being in his first professional season. With the High-A squad, Williams had only allowed multiple runs in just one of his nine starts, while striking out five batters in every start. Williams has had a handful of shorter outings since joining Akron, but has still struck out at least five in half of his outings, including in a win against Bowie where he tossed five innings of one-hit ball. At the Double-A level, 62% of the balls put in play against Williams have been fly balls, while he has already allowed four home runs. Featuring a mid-90s fastball that can draw whiffs at the top of the zone, Williams has hit triple digits at points, a two-plane curveball, as well as a slider and a changeup.

MIGHT AS WELL JUST START ON BASE

Some of Bowie's offensive woes this season have not been from a lack of effort. In fact, the Baysox are the team most likely to start an inning with a runner on base in the Eastern League. Bowie leads the league in all three slash lines (.278/.374/.488) from the first batter of an inning this season. They also lead the league in lead off home runs and doubles, while sporting the third-fewest strikeouts from the first batter of an inning. All of those numbers combine to Bowie leaving 752 runners on base this season, the most in the league, and an average of 7.4 per game. Inversely, Bowie has the second-most strikeouts in the league when batting with runners on base.

SLIM MARGINS

Bowie had an early handle on one-run games this season, as they opened the season at an even 3-3 in games decided by one run, but finished the first half just 9-16 in one run games. While Bowie has turned their luck around mostly, going 7-4 in one run games in the second half, but the one run games are still the biggest factor in Bowie's record, as Bowie's 36 one-run games are the most in the league.

JOLTIN' JOEY

Baysox infielder Joey Ortiz had an incredible stretch from July into August. In 30 games, Ortiz has gone 47-for-116 (.405) at the plate with hits in 28 games, 15 multi-hit games, 10 doubles, a triple, his first career multi-home run game on July 15, and has led the team with 32 runs scored. Ortiz was ranked as the Orioles #15 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #16 according to Baseball America. He has already played more games this season than in 2021, due to a torn labrum in his left shoulder in late June that season.

QUICK HITS

Career Notes

- Shifted to the bullpen in July after spending the first three months of the season in the Bowie rotation, but hit a snag in June, allowing a total of 43 ER and 53 hits in just 17.0 IP across six games from 5/27-6/28. Bowie lost every game he started during the span, while Stallings was the losing pitcher in five of the six.
- Second batter he faced as a reliever hit a solo home run, but Stallings went on to strike out a career-high ten batters in that same outing, while starting a 16-inning scoreless streak, the longest of the season for a Baysox pitcher.
- Spent his time following the 2020 draft at the Angels alternate site at Long Beach State before being dealt to Baltimore the same December
- Initially drafted by the Angels in the 5th round of 2020 out of the University of Tennessee, but did not appear in a game for the organization.
- Orioles EVP/GM Mike Elias had targeted Stallings in the 2020 draft, but was taken earlier by the Angels.
- Threw two complete game shutouts in his junior season at Tennessee. He earned two SEC Pitcher of the Week awards, and was also named to the 2019 SEC All-Defensive team

What They're Saying:

Baseball America (2021): "Stallings is a polished righthander who mixes his pitches, limits his walks and lasts deep into his starts. His fastball sits 90-92 mph and his short, sharp mid-80s slider is his best secondary offering. Stallings mixes in an average low-80s changeup he commands well and a big, upper-70s curveball he is trying to throw for more strikes early in the count. He has a smooth, up-tempo delivery that is easy to repeat and allows him to command and sequence his four-pitch repertoire effectively. Stallings has a chance to move fast because of his command, advanced feel for pitching and business-like approach. His lack of a plus pitch limits his ceiling to a back-of-the-rotation starter."

Baysox Pitching Coach Josh Conway - Working with Stallings at Aberdeen in 2021: ""He's a gamer. As far as the stuff goes, he's not going to blow up the radar gun, but he knows how to use what he's got....He's always in the zone.....a very efficient guy pounding the zone, coming right after you and basically daring you to hit him, which is nice. And he takes his strikeouts as needed. He found himself in a ton of 0-2, 1-2 counts this year, just being ahead of hitters, attacking guys in four pitches or less. Really had that mentality of, 'I'm just going to go right after you.' It was intriguing to see. He did a great job."

Notes by Start^

4/13 @ BNG Allowed three baserunners in the first inning, but no runs across thanks to a double play. Struck out two batters in a perfect second inning, but allowed two runs across in the third on consecutive two-out doubles. Followed with a perfect fourth on a pop out and two ground outs. Bowie had an early three-run home run, Binghamton would tie the game, and Bowie would sneak a run across in the seventh to win.

4/20 v AKR Allowed a two-out single to Brayan Rocchio in the first inning, the only hit in the game for Akron. Logged two strikeouts looking in the second inning, part of a string of nine consecutive outs after the single. Allowed a two-out walk in the fourth inning, then again in the fifth inning. Ryan Watson piggybacked with four perfect innings. Tied for the longest scoreless outing of his career.

4/26 @ RIC Struck out the first two batters of the game, but allowed a solo home run to Sean Roby. Loaded the bases to start the second inning on a walk, a hit-by-pitch, and an error, but retired the next eight batters and worked a double play to avoid more runs. Bowie was shutout.

5/1 @ RIC All four hits given up to Richmond went for extra-bases, and all scored. Double and home run by Frankie Tostado, double by Rob Emery, and 2R HR by Shane Matheny.

5/8 v HBG 11th No-Hitter in Bowie Baysox history. First game of a doubleheader against Harrisburg after rainouts the previous two days. Walked the third batter of the game, and eventually one more walk with one out in the third inning. Retired the last 11 batters faced. Worked eight ground outs, two fly outs, one pop out, and a line out. Morgan McSweeney closed the game with a perfect seventh inning.

5/15 @ REA Allowed two early extra-base hits, a one-out triple and two-run home run. Later allowed three singles in the second inning for another run to score. Walked a batter and let up a single in the third inning, but stranded both runners. Used 23 pitches in the first inning, and 30 in the second inning.

5/21 v HFD Faced the minimum in the first inning after an error and a double play. Allowed two solo home runs in the third inning, one to Daniel Cope, and one to Ezequiel Tovar. After two more scoreless innings, allowed another solo home run to Tovar in the sixth inning before finishing the sixth.

5/27 v ERI Allowed a solo home run to Kerry Carpenter in the first inning, and another to Gage Workman in the second inning. After three scoreless innings, allowed five-consecutive base hits to start the sixth inning, including a three-run home run by Carpenter. Was about to be relieved, but the game entered a rain delay, and was eventually called after just five full innings. First career complete game.

6/2 @ ALT Worked around an error and single in the first inning for a scoreless frame with two pop outs and a flyout. Second inning was disatorous, as the first six batters all reached safely. Stallings allowed eight-of-nine batters to reach base, along with seven base hits, and eight runs. Career-worst eight runs, and a career-short 1.1 IP. Bowie trailed 9-2 at the end of the second inning, scored nine-consecutive runs to take the lead, but allowed four runs in the eighth inning to lose.

6/8 @ HBG Second game of a doubleheader. Allowed a two-run home run to Wilson Garcia, the third batter of the game. After a perfect second inning, saw the bases loaded with two singles and a walk before striking out the next two batters, but had to be lifted after allowing three-consecutive singles to plate four runs.

6/15 v BNG Struck out three batters in the first inning, but allowed a two-run home run, then another two-run homer in the third. Allowed a third two-run home run in the fourth, and could not complete the inning. Career-high 11 hits, six were XBH

6/21 @ ERI Tied career-short 1.1 IP. Allowed one run in first inning, and two home runs in the second inning.

6/26 @ ERI Allowed a career-high 10 runs. After two fast outs in the first inning, allowed five-consecutive batters to reach safely, and three runs. Allowed two home runs in the second inning, and another in the fourth that knocked him from the game.

7/30 v ALT Did not face more than four batters in any inning, was lifted in the sixth inning after his fourth batter.

8/4 @ HBG Allowed at least one base hit in every inning except the third.

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routie, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MiLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters.// Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

PLAYER

Missed 85 games on the Injured List after appearing in just four games for Bowie at the start of the season. Crashed into the left field wall at Binghamton while making a game-ending catch. // Appeared in 106 games in 2021, good for ninth-most in the Orioles system, while his 13 home runs ranked 15th. 70 games in Bowie, 36 in Aberdeen. // Split his defensive time evenly on both corners of the infield, with 41 games at both bases. Also played 13 games in the outfield. // A native of western Pennsylvania, Welk did not fully anticipate to play baseball at a high professional level, choosing Penn State-Berks for their engineering program, but was drafted after hitting 34 career home runs, collecting a .433 batting average, and only striking out only 31 times. // Named the D3baseball.com National Player of the Year in 2019. // Was the first player ever drafted out of Penn State-Berks. // Just after his call-up to Bowie, he stopped sitting on pitch types, and started looking for pitches in specific locations to swing at. The change in approach helped him hit 11 home runs in 70 games.
