FAMILIAR GROUND

BY NATHAN STRAUSS

ACTON, 2022, SRP PARK, UGA VS. GSU

Cory Acton got his GreenJackets career started off with a bang. After being added to the roster in the first week of June, Acton reached in 11 of his first 12 games, mashed a three-run homer, had back-to-back multi-RBI games a week later, and made countless highlight reel defensive plays. Even more impressive, though, is the fact that he had experience at SRP Park before his arrival to the Braves organization!

Acton grew up in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, playing his high school baseball at American Heritage, one of the preeminent high school athletic programs in the country. He shared a field with first-round pick Triston Casas (BOS), multiple division one athletes, and wound up committing to a school not too far from home - the University of Florida. "Playing with and against that kind of talent really focuses you and forces you to raise your game," notes Acton. "It prepared me well for what SEC baseball is like."

After three years in Gainesville, he found a second home in Athens. Acton arrived at UGA and immediately excelled. He started 50 games in UGA's best season of the decade, helping power the Bulldogs to an NCAA regional, and in the regional itself he hit .357. This helped catch the eye of some scouts, and when the MLB Draft rolled around, the Atlanta Braves called his name in the ninth round.

“It’s a perfect fit for me, honestly,” says Acton. “Being able to play close to where I was last year is really nice, and it’s cool to be back at SRP Park.” Indeed, it is a return of sorts to SRP Park for the Floridian. In his senior year at UGA, the Bulldogs took on Georgia Southern in North Augusta, with Acton lacing a base hit in his first at bat. Acton joins former GreenJackets reliever Hayden Harris as having made their SRP Park debuts before their first GreenJackets appearance.

In his first at-bat as a GreenJacket at SRP Park, Acton drew a walk, something that was commonplace for him. He only failed to reach base once in his first two weeks with Augusta, playing 12 straight games at second base. Two days later, on College Night: Red and Black, with hundreds of UGA alumni in the crowd, Acton put on a show, notching his first career three-hit game and driving in two while wearing red - a familiar sight for many.

Since he joined the team, he leads all GreenJackets in batting average and on-base percentage, while making a number of diving plays at his familiar second base. Safe to say that having a Bulldog on the team is good for the GreenJackets!
