NEWS AND NOTES

BIG Z-HAB: Left-hander Rob Zastryzny will begin his second rehab assignment as Nashville's starter on Thursday night against the I-Cubs. It'll be his second rehab appearance with Nashville this season after pitching on March 31 vs. Charlotte before landing back on the IL with a left shoulder strain on April 14. He was a member of the Cubs organization from 2015-2018, including 62 games (22 GS) with Iowa from 2016-18. He made his Major League debut with the Cubs on August 19, 2016. He's made 275 career appearances in the minors (incl. postseason).

THREE, PLEASE: Brewers no. 11-rated prospect Luis Lara made it back-to-back three-hit games to begin the series against Iowa after going 3-for-4 with an RBI and run on Wednesday night. His eight three-hit games are tied with Louisville's Edwin Arroyo for the most 3+ hit games by any Triple-A player this season. Lara has accounted for eight of the 20 total 3+ hit games for a Nashville player this year. Lara is now hitting .340 through 39 games and ranks fifth in the International League and is 10th in Triple-A for AVG. He is second in the league, fifth in Triple-A, and tied for fifth among full-season minor leaguers with 50 hits. He leads the league with 36 runs which also ranks tied for third in Triple-A and tied for third in the minors. He also ranks top 10 in the International League in OBP (5th, .436), is eighth in total bases (77), and 10th in OPS (.960).

DOUBLE DIGITS: Back from a nine-game stint with the Milwaukee Brewers, Tyler Black picked up right where he left off with Nashville. Black extended his hitting streak with the Sounds to 10 straight games dating back to March 28 and has a hit in 10 of the 11 games he has played with Nashville this season. It's the first 10+ game hitting streak for a Nashville player since outfielder Drew Avans rattled off a hit in 12 straight from August 1-22, 2025. This is the second-longest hitting streak of Black's professional career behind the 16-game streak he posted with Nashville between September 7, 2023, and March 30, 2024. During his current run, Black is hitting .316 (12-for-38) with a homer, two doubles, six RBI, seven walks, and seven runs scored.

ANOTHER ONE: Brock Wilken extended his on-base streak to 29 straight games with a multi-hit effort, going 2-for-4 with a triple and RBI in Wednesday's win. Since beginning his streak on April 10, the Brewers no. 21-rated prospect is hitting .250 (24-for-96) with nine doubles, two triples, two home runs, and has 22 RBI while also drawing 22 walks. During the span, Wilken ranks tied for first in the Brewers farm system in RBI, is first in doubles, tied for the lead in triples, ranks second in walks, and tied for second in XBH (13). He's also ninth in OBP (.388), and is 10th in total bases (43). He is tied with Jaycob Brugman (2016) and Scooter Gennett (2013) for the eighth-longest on-base streak for a Nashville player since 2005.

BYE, BALL: Ramon Rodriguez clubbed his second home run of the season and first since April 26th on the road in Charlotte to help extend his current hitting streak to five straight games and has reached base in each of his last six. Rodriguez evened the score at 1-1 with his solo shot in the bottom of the third inning, Nashville's fourth game-tying home run of the season. He has crushed right-handed pitchers this season, hitting .393 (24-for-61) with both of his home runs, two doubles, and eight RBI. He is tied for the eighth-most hits on the team this season despite playing in just 23 of 41 games. His 25 hits on the year are tied for the fourth-most by a Triple-A player this season with 23 or fewer games played.

BROKEN-UP: Eddy Leonard's double-streak was broken in Wednesday night's win at five consecutive games. The five straight games with a double was a new career-high for Leonard and he was just one of two Triple-A players with a double in at least five consecutive games this season and one of six total across all levels of the minors. He was tied for the third-longest doubles streak by a Sounds batter since 2005. Since the start of the 2021 season, he is tied for the fourth-most doubles across all full-season minor leaguers with 138. He ranks second in the International League with his 1.009 OPS on the year and also ranks in the top 10 in doubles (T-3rd, 11), AVG (6th, .339), SLG (7th, .589), and XBH (T-7th, 18).
