Charleston RiverDogs (11-6) at Fredericksburg Nationals (12-5)

LHP Patrick Wicklander (2-0, 1.74) vs. RHP Rodney Theophile (1-0, 1.20)

Today's Game: The Charleston RiverDogs (affiliate of the Tampa Bay Rays) continue a 12-game road trip with the third of six against the Fredericksburg National (affiliate of the Washington Nationals). Despite playing in the same league last season, the teams have not met prior to this week. RiverDogs-Nationals Season Series in 2022: Overall: RiverDogs 1, Nationals 1. Virginia Credit Union Stadium: RiverDogs 1, Nationals 1.

Last Time Out: The RiverDogs evened the series on Wednesday night with a dominating pitching performance in a 5-1 victory. The RiverDogs started out on a great note with two runs scored in the top of the first. Shane Sasaki singled to lead off the game, went to second on a wild pitch, and stole third base. He then scored on Willy Vasquez's RBI double off the glove of the right fielder Andry Arias. Vasquez stole third base and scored a run of his own when the throw from catcher Gerald Diaz sailed into left field. Fredericksburg's only run of the game was of the unearned variety in the bottom of the same frame. The RiverDogs built the lead to 4-1 in the fifth inning with a Bobby Seymour sacrifice fly and Oneill Manzueta RBI single in the fifth inning. Sasaki's RBI single in the sixth provided the final offense of the night and gave the RiverDogs a 5-1 lead.

Yeoman's Workman: Logan Workman was dominant on the mound in Wednesday's win, striking out 11 Nationals in 5.0 innings while allowing just two hits. He was the first starting pitcher to earn a win this season and his five innings of work was the longest outing of any RiverDogs pitcher this year. The 11 strikeouts are the most in a single-game for a Charleston pitcher since Shawn Semple struck out the same amount in 2019.

Big-Time Battle: The RiverDogs and FredNats rank first and second in nearly every offensive category in the Carolina League entering this showdown. The RiverDogs sit atop the league with a .276 batting average and 39 stolen bases, but Fredericksburg has scored 144 runs, 42 more than every other team in the circuit. The Nationals also lead the league in home runs and on-base percentage. The teams are tied for the most hits in the league.

Triple Threat: The RiverDogs roster has plenty of speed throughout the lineup. That has been most evident as balls in the gap routinely turn into triples early in the campaign. The team legged out three triples in the same inning on April 15 including back-to-back triples in consecutive games. Following Willy Vasquez's three-bagger on Sunday, the RiverDogs lead Minor League Baseball with 15 triples. The next closest team, the Oklahoma City Dodgers, has 11 and has played three more games.

Marte Party: Jelfry Marte was a switch-hitter struggling at the plate last season in a year that was split between the FCL and Charleston. In 39 games last season, Marte combined to hit .171 with 10 runs batted in. Shortly after the season, Marte made the decision to become a left-handed hitter only. The early returns have been extremely positive. Through 12 games this season, the infielder is batting .378 with seven RBI and currently owns a nine-game hitting streak.

Walk on the Wild Side: In a 15-4 defeat on Tuesday night, the RiverDogs pitching staff issued 15 walks, a franchise single-game record. In the first two innings of the game, the RiverDogs threw 99 pitches and had already walked nine batters. The previous high for walks in one game was 13, set in 2012.

Blue Chip Bat: Shortstop Carson Williams was selected 29th overall by the Rays in the 2021 MLB Draft. The 18-year-old won't celebrate his birthday until late June. His youth has not been a problem at the plate early in the campaign. The Torrey Pines High School product leads the Carolina League in extra-base hits and is second in slugging percentage and total bases, 3rd in OPS, tied for fifth in hits and ninth in batting average.

Gionti on TV: In the fifth inning on Saturday, Gionti Turner made a leaping grab of Omar Hernandez's deep fly ball to left field, robbing the Columbia catcher of a sure home run. The impressive grab earned him recognition as the #4 play of the night on Sportscenter's Top 10.

Prized Pups: The RiverDogs opening night roster contains four members of MLB Pipeline's Top 30 Rays prospects. The highest ranked of that group is infielder Carson Williams who came in at #9. Infielder Willy Vasquez is also part of the top 10 on that list, slotting in at #10. The highest rated hurler in the group is Cuban right-hander Sandy Gaston who is ranked #13. The list is rounded out by fellow pitcher JJ Goss at #19.

RIVERDOGS FIELD STAFF

Manager: Blake Butera

Butera returns for his second season as the manager of the RiverDogs after leading the team to the franchise's first championship in 2021. Prior to his arrival in Charleston, he led the Hudson Valley Renegades to a postseason berth in his two seasons guiding the short-season club. Butera coached with the Leones del Escogido in the Dominican Winter League following the cancellation of the 2020 minor league season. At the time he received the managerial job in Hudson Valley, Butera was the youngest manager (25) in all of Minor League Baseball. The native of Metairie, Louisiana was drafted by the Rays in the 35th round of the 2015 Amateur Draft out of Boston College and appeared in 80 minor league games over two seasons. At Boston College, he was voted team captain his senior year and finished his career as the Eagles' all-time leader in walks (112) and at-bats (774). His father, Barry, reached Triple-A with the Red Sox and his brother, Barry, spent two seasons in the Astros minor league system after being selected out of Boston College in the 2009 Amateur Draft.

Pitching Coach: R.C. Lichtenstein

Lichtenstein returns for his second year as the pitching coach for the RiverDogs and his 18th year in the Rays organization. He guided the 2021 pitching staff to the lowest earned run average and most shutouts of any Low-A team. The pitching staff also led the Low-A East in strikeouts and allowed the fewest hits of any team in the circuit. Lichtenstein has served as pitching coach at several stops in the Rays farm system including Southwest Michigan (2005-06), Vero Beach (2007-08), Bowling Green (2009-11) and Double-A Montgomery (2012-19). Throughout his career in baseball, the 53-year-old has also coached in the Milwaukee Brewers organization and managed two independent squads.

Hitting Coach: Perry Roth

Roth takes on his first assignment with the Rays in Charleston after coaching at the college level since 1996. He served as interim head coach at UAB in 2021 and spent 15 years with UAB's baseball program, also serving as recruiting coordinator, hitting coach and assistant head coach. Roth previously served as an assistant for two separate stints at Birmingham Southern and also coached at Bradley, Illinois State and Greenville College.

Coach: Frank Jagoda

Jagoda joins the RiverDogs for his first season in the Holy City. He initially joined the Rays organization in 2020 when he was slated to be a member of the Princeton Rays staff until the MiLB season was canceled. Jagoda was part of the 2021 FCL Rays staff that helped lead the team to the best record in the circuit and one of the top winning percentages in MiLB. He previously spent two seasons with the Minnesota Twins, serving as rehabilitation pitching coach in 2018 and a coach for the Fort Myers Miracle in 2019. Jagoda has also coached with USA Baseball and at the collegiate level for Patrick Henry Community College, Wingate University, Canisius College and Jamestown Community College.

Athletic Trainer: Ruben Santiago

The 2022 season will be Santiago's seventh as an athletic trainer with the Rays. In 2021, he worked with the FCL Rays after spending the previous three seasons on the Princeton coaching staff. Santiago joined the organization from the Toros del Este in the Dominican Winter League in 2016 and spent his first two seasons with the Gulf Coast League Rays.

Strength Coach: Mia Salvemini

Salvemini began the 2021 season with the FCL Rays and completed the campaign as the RiverDogs Strength and Conditioning coach. She is also a CrossFit Level One Trainer and spent time working with athletes at Cressey Sports Performance. Salvemini was originally hired by the Rays in 2020 after graduating from the University of Tampa in 2019 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Human Performance with a concentration in Exercise Recreation and Leadership.
