LAST APPEARANCE: Made his 12th start of the year in game one of a doubleheader Thursday LAST APPEARANCE: Made his 12th start of the year in game one of a doubleheader I hursday in Indianapolis. Gave up a leadoff double to Ronny Simon, walked Joey Bart, and got Nick Solak to bounce into a fielder's choice groundout before allowing a three-run homer to Jack Suwinski to start the day. Settled in to retire 11 of the next 12 hitters before allowing a run on two hits in the fifth. Had a chance to finish the 7-inning game, but allowed three straight two-out hitters in the sixth before Jacob Bosiokovic issued back-to-back walks and allowed the inherted runners to score. Threw 40 four-seamers (41%), 25 sinkers (26%), 11 sweepers (11%), 10 outbor (10%). (11%), 10 cutters (10%), 8 curveballs (8%), and 3 changeups (3%). Induced 11 swiegers and-misses while recorded two punchouts apiece on the sweeper, sinker, and four-seamer (one K came on the curveball).

ON THE FAST TRACK: In just his second full-season in the minors last year, Morris ascended through three levels of the minor league ladder to finish the year making his first seven starts at the Triple-A level. It's not the first time that Morris has accelerated at a faster pace than his peers. He graduated high school at just 16 years old, starting his freshman season of college at just 17. He was born on the cutoff date of September 1 for starting school and his mother chose to start him in kindergarten a year ahead. Not only that, he also skipped second grade as he was being homeschooled in Alaska.

BUILDING UP TRAVEL POINTS: Although he was born in New York City, Morris claims Boulder, Colorado as his hometown. He moved from NYC as a child to Oregon, then to Alaska, and then to Colorado, where he attended Monarch High School in Boulder. He tells people Boulder is where he's from as that's where he lived the longest

LET'S GET FUNKY: Lacking the prototypical build of a frontline starter, Morris' unusual delivery has been noted as a reason why hitters have such a hard time picking up his pitches. Fangraphs prospect writer Eric Longenhagen noted in last year's mid-season report that "Morris' delivery is weird. He has a high front side throughout his delivery and creates a slight crossfire angle with stride direction before throwing out of a high arm slot. It's rare for cross-bodied pitchers to also have a north/south arm slot this extreme and it seems to disorient hitters."

CLIMBING THE LADDER: Before transferring to Texas Tech for his senior year, Morris pitched for three years at Division 2 Colorado Mesa University, helping his team reach the DII National Championship Game in 2019 as a freshman (Mesa finished as Runner-up to Tampa that year). Morris was named the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Freshman of the Year for his efforts that season and was a Division 2 2nd-Team All-American in 2021 before transferring to Texas Tech as a redshirt junior.

MAD MORRIS: Morris' mound routine can involve arguing with himself or talking to himself on the mound. "I'm really just analyzing the last pitch, moving on to the next pitch and what it should be," Morris remarked. "Sometimes there are not-so-nice words involved, but reall it's 'Trust it. Throw it to the mask' Other times, 'it's good left side, how can we work off of that? What's next, and then next?' There's lots of things going through my head."
