SERIES RECAP:

The Reading Fightin Phils handed Somerset their first series loss of the season. The team took four wins to start the second half leading the Eastern League. Three starters threw quality starts to help lead the team. Wendell Rijo lead the way with a .314 average in the past ten games. Johan Rojas made the jump to Double-A very successfully, notching a hit in every contest and recording four stolen bases.

GAINING GRIFF:

Right hander Griff McGarry joined the R-Phils earlier this week and will get his first start with the team this Wednesday. McGarry features a 3.86 ERA with three wins in twelve starts. In the month of June, he's dropped down to a 2.86 with 48 strikeouts in five outings. This is just his second season in professional season after being drafted in the fifth round out of the University of Virginia.

ON THE RUN:

The Reading Fightin Phils picked up speed on the base path recently. In the last 10 games, the Fightins swiped 13 bases. The addition of Johan Rojas on Wednesday helped the R-Phils' offensive attack, along with gaining Wendell Rijo back from the injured list. Through his first three Double-A games, Rojas totaled four stolen bases, three of which came in Friday's win against Somerset (Yankees). The last Fightins player to have three snags in a contest was Zach Coppola on May 10, 2018. Rijo has 10 stolen bases on the season, including two in Wednesday's win over Somerset. AJ Graffanino added one of his own last night, his fourth of the season in Double-A.

FIRST TIME'S THE CHARM:

The Fightins face the Flying Squirrels for the first time this season, one of just two teams they haven't seen this summer. Richmond clinched the first half of the division to secure a playoff spot. Reading has also not seen the Erie SeaWolves this summer, but will travel to upstate Pennsylvania at the end of July.

BIG LEAGUE CLUB WATCH:

The Phillies picked up a big 4-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals. Zack Wheeler shutout the opponents at Citizens Bank Park. Rhys Hoskins and JT Realmuto notched homers while Darick Hall recorded a hit that was finally not a home run.

ON THIS DAY IN BASEBALLTOWN HISTORY:

July 4, 1911: At Lauer's Park in Reading, the pavilion above the right field grandstand collapses half an hour before the second game of a home-and-home holiday double-header between Reading and Lancaster, injuring 33 spectators. Despite the mishap, the teams play a 7-inning contest at the urging of the fans and the Pretzels complete the Independence Day sweep, 2-0. Reading had already won the first game at Lancaster by beating future Hall of Famer Stanley Coveleski, 3-0.
