BACK EVEN: After getting back even in the series with a convincing 6-1 victory last night over the Salem Red Sox, the FredNats will go for their second straight series win on the weekend at Carilion Clinic Field in game five of the series. The FredNats have been shut out in both losses this week, but have scored 10 runs and allowed just three in the two wins to tie for the division lead at 4-3 in the second half. Five out of the six North Divisional teams are 4-3 in the 2nd half, including Salem. RHP Travis Sthele starts tonight for FXBG.

ABOUT LAST NIGHT: The FredNats got another five inning shutout start from Marc Davis, and the game was tied 1-1 going into the 7th. Davis has not allowed a run in his last two starts, and has an ERA of 1.57 in five starts this month. The FredNats got an RBI double from Murphy Stehly and then a two-run single from Elijah Green to take a 4-1 lead, and then Nick Peoples' two-run single in the 8th with two outs made it 6-1. Merrick Baldo and Anthony Arguelles closed out the game for FXBG.

STARTING PITCHING SUCCESS: After heavily relying on the bullpen for the first two months of the season, the FredNat starting rotation has majorly improved over the last three series. Since June 11, FredNat starters have logged 72 2/3 innings and allowed just 16 earned runs for a group ERA of 1.95. In the three weeks prior to that, the starting rotation's ERA was 5.70. In 21 innings in this series with Salem, the starters have allowed just four earned runs for an ERA of 1.71, and have 25 strikeouts to just five walks. Combine that with a bullpen that has the third-lowest ERA in the Carolina League for the season, and you get the great results the FredNats have seen on the mound in this late June resurgence.

THIRTY AND OH: The FredNats remain perfect when leading after seven innings this season, with last night's win getting them to 30-0 when leading after seven this year, and also a perfect 32-0 when leading after eight innings. The winning formula all season has been the offense taking a lead in the middle innings, and the bullpen holding onto that lead each time.

OH SUSANA: After another fantastic start Thursday night, Jarlin Susana is one of the hottest pitchers in all of Minor League Baseball. He pitched five innings of one-run ball (run was unearned), didn't walk anyone, and tied his career-high with nine strikeouts, a mark that he's reached now three times in his last five starts. In that time frame, he's pitched 25 innings, allowed three total runs (two earned) for an ERA of 0.72, and has 41 strikeouts against just eight walks. That 0.72 ERA is second in MiLB among qualified pitchers in that time frame.

OH SYKORA: After making his professional debut on May 1 with Fredericksburg, 2023 Nationals third round pick Travis Sykora has taken the Carolina League by storm in the first two months of his professional career. He's pitched five complete innings in each of his last three starts, and has allowed just three runs in that time frame with 24 strikeouts and only six walks in June.

FORMULA FOR SUCCESS: The FredNats are 27-5 this season when scoring first, including 23 out of the last 24 wins. FXBG did not score first in any of its losses the last two weeks, and had come from behind in its last three wins before yesterday.

RBI KING: Brandon Pimentel continues to lead the Carolina League in RBI with 52. This year, Pimentel is hitting .341 with runners in scoring position, and is 12-for-29 (.414) with runners in scoring position and two outs. He's also 5-for-10 with three doubles, two home runs and 18 RBI with the bases loaded this season, being at his very best with the stakes high.

THE SKIP IS BACK: The FredNats' leader from the last two seasons returns to the Managerial role for 2024. Jake Lowery is back for another year in the 'Burg. Lowery, 34, was selected by Cleveland in the fourth round of the 2011 Draft out of James Madison University, where he was given the Johnny Bench Award as the nation's top collegiate catcher. The Midlothian, Virginia native played in the Nationals organization from 2016 to 2019, including parts of two seasons with the Potomac Nationals. Lowery reached the Triple-A level in 2018 and transitioned to a managerial role in 2021 after nine seasons in the minor leagues. Lowery is the 28th manager in franchise history dating back to 1978. Lowery is 180-154 in his two-plus years as Manager in Fredericksburg, including the 2022 Carolina League playoffs.

THE STAFF: The majority of the 2023 coaching staff returns for 2024, with the lone exception being Hitting Coach Mike Habas. Pitching Coach Justin Lord, Development Coach Carmelo Jaime, Performance Analyst Josh Freligh, Strength & Conditioning Nathan Sier and Athletic Trainer Jake Meyer are all back from last year's staff. Lord, 44, will begin his fourth season coaching in the Washington organization. The Florida State alum pitched six seasons professionally before transitioning to coaching, spending time in the Baltimore organization prior to joining the Nationals.

Habas, 33, begins his first season in the Washington organization after spending the last four seasons coaching in the Milwaukee Brewers organization. He was the hitting coach for the ACL Brewers the last two seasons, and was an Assistant Coach for the independent Gary SouthShore RailCats and Head Coach at Prairie State Junior College prior to his time with Milwaukee. Jaime, 38, was Detroit's 24th round selection in the 2008 Draft out of Miami Dade College. The Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic native reached Double-A in his three-year minor league career, and has served as the first base coach and infield coach with the FredNats the past two seasons, roles he will continue in 2024. Meyer is in his seventh year with the Nationals overall and second with the FredNats, he spent his first five years at the facility in West Palm Beach, FL. Sier is in his second year with FXBG after previous stops with 2SP Sports and Macomb Community College (MI). Freligh begins his second year with the Nationals after previous stops with the Boston Red Sox and Los Angeles Dodgers.

TODAY'S START: Travis Sthele makes his 11th start of the year this evening, against the Salem Red Sox. A 12th round pick by the Nats in 2023, Sthele joined the FredNat rotation late in the 2023 campaign. Sthele has been mainly a starter, but has worked in the piggyback role twice in the last month.

A YEAR AGO: Sthele took his lumps after joining Fredericksburg last season. He posted a 7.36 ERA over four starts, to go along with a 1.82 WHIP. Travis struck out six hitters over 11.0 IP but showcased strong command, walking just three men.

HOOK 'EM: Travis spent two years at the University of Texas, working mainly as a relief pitcher. 23 of his 36 appearances came out of the Longhorns bullpen, where he worked to a 5.85 ERA across 95.1 innings of work. Sthele 98 batters in that span, while opponents hit just .265 against the righty.

LAST TIME OUT: Sthele got a bit unfortunate against Down East at home last week. He came out of the bullpen for three complete innings, and allowed three runs total but just one earned in a loss.
