LAST GAME

Constantly teetering on the edge of pulling ahead, the Bowie Baysox needed ten innings to secure their fifth walk-off win on the season on Friday night, taking down the Somerset Patriots 3-2. Joey Ortiz stayed hot for Bowie, and he pounced on Matt Sauer with a solo home run in the first inning, his 15th of the season. Home runs were pivotal in the game, as Rodolfo Duran gave Somerset the lead with a two-run blast in the second inning. That homer would be the only run support for Somerset, as Cade Povich hurled five strong innings in his Double-A debut, striking out six batters. Maverick Handley smacked a game-tying home run in the fifth inning, tying the game at two into the tenth. Following a sacrifice bunt, Connor Norby laced a walk-off single to right field.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

Still putting up strong numbers after winning the first half in the Northeast Division, The Yankees Double-A affiliate has consistently had the best pitching staff in the league, sporting a 3.50 ERA, but it has not been buoyed by any other league-leading marks, such as strikeouts or walks, they've been lead by allowing the fewest hits. The addition of power to the lineup has always been a help for the Patriots, as they enter the series leading the league with 157 home runs, nearly 20 more than the next team. No individual player has carried the load in full for Somerset, as they have nine different players with at least ten home runs. Speed has been critical for their success as well, with two players among the top three for stolen bases in the EL, including Anthony Volpe's 39.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Right hander Randy Vasquez had a small taste of Double-A ball at the end of 2021, but has really matured into the level this season, constantly stringing together consistent starts for the Patriots in their rotation. His meeting with Bowie in July started a brief downturn, after Bowie plated four runs in a winning effort, including a Colton Cowser home run. Around his Bowie start, Vasquez went on a run where he allowed 19 runs in just 14.2 innings, and five home runs. Things have settled back into place, as he's only allowed one earned run in his last three starts. Since adding a two-seam fastball to his arsenal this year, he's seen an uptick in called strikes. His fastball can sit in the mid-90s while touching 98 at points, while he also sports a curveball and a changeup.

CHECK YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE

A walk-off win for Bowie on Friday was cathartic, and continues what had been one of the staples of the season. Bowie has been involved in 16 games this season that ended in a walk-off, winning five and losing 11. Bowie is tied for the most walk-off losses in all of Minor League Baseball (St. Paul) with over 1/3 of their road losses coming by walk-off. In six of the walk-off losses, Bowie had the lead within the final two innings of play, but still lost. In total, Bowie has suffered 11 losses where they had a lead within the final two innings of the game, but only two such wins this season where they trailed within the final two innings.

SOOTHING RELIEF

Bowie has had their ups and downs with work out of their bullpen, as they sported 4.78 ERA over the first half of the season. For much of the first half, Bowie relievers were among the top-three in the Eastern League for highest ERA. In the second half, however, Bowie relievers are sporting a 2.54 ERA, and have shrunk their overall ERA to 3.94, the third-lowest in the league.

NO NEED TO DASCH TO FIRST

First baseman Andrew Daschbach has had a curious relationship with full counts and walks this season. While already just one walk shy of matching his 42 walks from 2021, Daschbach is also on pace to strike out nearly 30 more times than in 2021, while he currently leads all Orioles minor leaguers in strikeouts. Most interesting of his approach to the plate has been Daschbach's ability to draw a full count. He has worked 66 plate appearances full this season, the tenth-most in the league. He does not have a single base hit on a full count. No other batter among the top 50 for most full counts in the league has gone hitless on full counts, and his 33 strikeouts with full counts leads the league.

FRESH RANKINGS

With mid-season updates to top prospect lists, Bowie has reloaded themselves with some of the best talent in the Orioles organization. Ranked as the best farm system in baseball by MLB Pipeline, Bowie sports nine players among the update top-30 Orioles prospects. Colton Cowser (#4/#43 OVR), Coby Mayo (#7), Connor Norby (#12), Chayce McDermott (#14), Cade Povich (#15), Joey Ortiz (#19), Cesar Prieto (#21), John Rhodes (#23), Hudson Haskin (#24)

QUICK HITS

TODAY'S STARTING PITCHER- Justin Armbruster carried a no-hitter into the sixth inning in his last start. See Page 2 for more.

Signed by Baltimore as a Minor League Free Agent in May of this season, and made one appearance with the FCL Orioles in late June before making nine appearances with Single-A Delmarva. // In nine appearances with Delmarva, only allowed runs in three of the starts, and struck out multiple batters in six outings. // Originally signed as an International Free Agent by the Houston Astros in 2015, and appeared in their organization until 2018, entirely as a starting pitcher. // Ranked as high as the Astros #7 prospect in 2018 by Baseball America // Was a piece of the Houston trade to Toronto in exchange for relief pitcher Roberto Osuna at the 2018 trade deadline, but did not appear in a game for a Toronto affiliate that season. // Spent all of 2019 in the Eastern League, pitching in the rotation for New Hampshire. // Made his Major League debut for Toronto on Sept. 16, 2020 in New York against the Yankees. Allowed a two-run home run to Kyle Higashioka in a 13-2 loss. Higashioka hit three home runs in the game. // Traded by Toronto to Cincinnati in 2021 for a Player to be Named Later (Darlin' Guzman), and split time with Triple-A Louisville (eight games) and Double-A Chattanooga (25 games).

Ranked as the Orioles #4 prospect and #54 overall prospect by MLB Pipeline at the time of his promotion, and the #6 prospect by Baseball America in its in-season rankings and the #98 overall prospect in the Baseball America preseason rankings. // Began the season in High-A Aberdeen, slashing .258/.385/.410 in 62 games with four home runs and 22 RBI. // Went undrafted out of high school and began playing for Sam Houston State, winning Southland Conference Hitter of the Year in his freshman campaign, hitting .361-7-54 with the Bearkats. Was also named Conference Player of the Year in 2021. // Fifth-overall draft selection is the highest in school history, and only the second-ever first round selection, following outfielder Glenn Wilson (1980, DET-18th Ovr) who played 10 MLB seasons with five teams.

Was a full-tim DH in June when an injury restricted him from playing in the field. Hit the Injured List ahead of July and appeared in nine rehab games in the FCL before returning to Bowie in Mid-August. // Delivered the Baysox first walk-off (and extra-inning) win of the season on 4/21 when he hit a sacrifice fly to shallow right field with the bases loaded in the bottom of the tenth inning. // Had 7 PA on 4/19 v AKR as Bowie won 20-6, collected two singles, drove in three runs, and scored twice. // Ranked as the Orioles #28 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #27 according to Baseball America. Also listed as the fastest baserunner in the organization by Baseball America. // Missed most of August in 2021 played with a quadriceps injury. // 26 stolen bases in 2021 tied for the top spot in the entire Orioles organization. 33 Steals in 2019 tied Cedric Mullins for the organization's lead. // With Aberdeen in 2021, he played 47 games at 2B, 13 in CF, and 12 at SS. // Has been listed among the Orioles Top-30 Prospects by Baseball America for five consecutive seasons. // Has twice been named an Orioles Organization All-Star by MiLB.com, in 2018 and 2019. // Was completely unable to work with Orioles staff and players in 2020, as the Canadian citizen was hampered by border restrictions. // Suffered an oblique injury that cut his debut season in the Gulf Coast League to only two games.

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routine, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

Ranked as the Orioles #15 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #16 according to Baseball America. // Only played 35 games in 2021 due to a torn labrum in his left shoulder in late June that required surgery. // Played 16 games with Bowie, 19 with Aberdeen. // Focused on building muscle during the lost 2020 season. Baysox Manager Kyle Moore in 2021: "He's way more just mature and physical....this guy here has a chance to be an everyday shortstop in big leagues." // Orioles Manager David Hyde: "He's a really good defender. I've watched him here for up until major league camp the last few weeks. Love the way he plays defense, got great feet, great arm. It's accurate. Super active defensively. He's got really good instincts."

COACHING STAFF

Manager: Kyle Moore

The 2022 season will be the 13th season for Moore in the Orioles organization. He played 29 games over two seasons (2010-11) before becoming a coach. He spent three seasons as a player/coach (2013 Frederick Keys, 2014 Bowie Baysox, 2015 Delmarva Shorebirds) before being named as the Shorebirds hitting coach in 2016 and the Keys hitting coach in 2017. Moore signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Orioles in 2010 after playing collegiately at the University of Alabama. As a high schooler, he starred at Edgewood Academy (AL), where he won three AISA state baseball championships. Kyle, his wife Whitney and their two daughters reside in Sarasota, FL. He is a Type-1 Diabetic.

Hitting Coach: Branden Becker

Becker was drafted by the Orioles in the 17th round of the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft in 2015 and played parts of four seasons in the organization before retiring in May, 2019. He rejoined the Orioles as the Fundamentals Coach for the IronBirds for the 2020 season before it was canceled. He served as the Hitting Coach for the Complex League Orioles in 2021.

Pitching Coach: Josh Conway

Conway was selected in the fourth round of the 2012 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft by the Chicago Cubs out of Coastal Carolina. He played three seasons with the Cubs organization, making it to Double-A in 2016. The Smithburg, Md native returned to the Chanticleers to complete his undergraduate degree and served as a student assistant and assistant pitching coach before joining the Orioles.
