Dragons Baseball Returns in 2021

After the COVID-19 pandemic forced the cancellation of the entire 2020 Minor League Baseball season, the Dragons welcomed baseball and their fans back to Day Air Ballpark in 2021. The start of the season was delayed until May 4, and the Dragons home opener took place on May 11.

The return of professional baseball in Dayton brought many changes to the league and the industry in general. Major League Baseball completed a restructuring of the Minor Leagues prior to the 2021 season, including the contraction of 42 affiliated teams. Here were some of the most significant changes:

- The league was now known as the High-A Central League after previously being referred to as the Midwest League.
- The league was reclassified to the “High-A” level of Minor League Baseball after being a “Low-A” league since the Dragons inception in 2000.
- The league was reduced from 16 teams to 12 (Burlington, Clinton, and Kane County were contracted; Bowling Green moved to new league).
- Each team in the High-A Central League was scheduled to play 120-games (60 home games), down from 140 games in previous years.
- All series in 2021 were scheduled for six games, Tuesday through Sunday. All teams had Mondays off throughout the season.
- Roster limits in 2021 were set at 30 players compared to 25-player limits in recent years.

After beginning the season with uncertainty related to the potential of playoffs to determine the league champions throughout the Minors, Major League Baseball announced on July 1 that the High-A Central League would conduct post-season play in September. The top two teams, regardless of division, would meet in a best-of-five series. Unlike past years, there was no “split season” in 2021, with no first half and second half champions. The Quad Cities River Bandits emerged as league champions in September, topping the Cedar Rapids Kernels, three games to two, in the championship series.

The Dragons were the winners of the “Mythical First Half” East Division title. Following the 60th scheduled game date, the Dragons were in first place with a record of 34-25 (with one rain-out), two and one-half games ahead of the second place club. Had there been a split season in 2021, the Dragons record would have guaranteed them a spot in the playoffs. The Midwest League had split its season into two equal halves for every season from 1956-1981, and again from 1988-2019. The league did not play a split season from 1982-87.

East Division Co-Champs, and the Best Record in a Decade

The Dragons finished their 120-game season with a final record of 65-55, tied for first place with the Lake County Captains in the High-A Central League’s East Division. Their final winning percentage of 2021 of .542 was their highest in a season since the 2011 season, when the Dragons went 83-57 (.593) with a team that featured Billy Hamilton, Tucker Barnhart, and Donald Lutz.

Two teams from the West Division, Quad Cities and Cedar Rapids, finished with the two best overall records in the league, earning slots in the post-season championship series. The Dragons playoff hopes ended on the next-to-last day of the season.

First Round Fever: Shortstop Matt McLain, the Cincinnati Reds first round draft pick in 2021 out of UCLA, became the latest first rounder pick to play for the Dragons. Recent first round picks to play for the Dragons, with their draft year, have included Nick Lodolo (2019), Jonathan India (2018), Hunter Greene (2017), Nick Senzel (2016), Tyler Stephenson (2015), Nick Howard and Alex Blandino (2014), Phillip Ervin (2013), Nick Travieso (2012), and Robert Stephenson (2011). Every Reds “true” first round pick (selected within the first 30 picks of the draft) over the last 11 drafts has played for the Dragons except 2020 first rounder Austin Hendrick, who spent the 2021 season at Low-A Daytona and would be a projected Dragons player in 2022.

Catcher Mat Nelson, the Reds 2021 supplemental first round pick (Competitive Balance-A; 35th overall pick) out of Florida State, also played for the Dragons. Players taken recently by the Reds in the supplemental first round (extra picks added between the first and second round for compensatory purposes) have included Todd Frazier (2007), Jesse Winker (2012), Michael Lorenzen (2013), Taylor Trammell (2016), and Jeter Downs (2017).

Prospects Aplenty: The Dragons 2021 roster included a huge number of top prospects within the Cincinnati Reds organization. Nine members of the 2021 Dragons were ranked in the end-of-season listing by MLB.com among the top-20 prospects in the Reds organization, including Matt McLain (#3, pictured below), Graham Ashcraft (#6), Mat Nelson (#9), Michael Siani (#11), Lyon Richardson (#13), Christian Roa (#14), Bryce Bonnin (#15), Ivan Johnson (#16), and Allan Cerda (#17). In the mid-season update of Reds top-10 prospects by Baseball America, McLain was #4, Nelson was #11, Bonnin was #13, Roa was #14, and Johnson was #15. Siani was listed by Baseball America as the “Best Athlete” and “Best Defensive Outfielder” in the Reds organization entering the season.

High School and College Baseball: The Dragons "High School Baseball Showcase" presented by Orthopedic Associates completed its 16th year in 2021, allowing high schools the opportunity to play at a world-class facility. The Dragons and Day Air Ballpark hosted high 32 school baseball games as 61 area high schools moved their regular-season game from their home field to the downtown Dayton ballpark. Additionally, the Ohio High School Athletic Association (OHSAA) Division I regional baseball tournament games were played at Day Air Ballpark in June.

Seven college games were played at Day Air Ballpark in 2021, including three University of Dayton games and a pair of doubleheaders featuring Wilmington College and Otterbein University.

Anthem Game Changers

Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield recognized essential workers who changed the game for the community during the pandemic at Day Air Ballpark in 2021. Katherine Stewart, a Kroger grocery store employee (June 16); Nathan Heaton, a paramedic, and Jennifer Domenick, an EMT, both from Kettering Health (July 14); the Curriculum Team from Dayton Public Schools (September 1); and Dayton Foodbank (September 15) were all honored this season.

Community All-Stars

The Dragons partnered with Flying Ace Express Car Wash, CenterPoint Energy, Great Clips, and Synchrony on the Community All-Stars Program, honoring Dayton's best individuals and organizations that have gone above and beyond to improve the quality of life in the Miami Valley. The honorees were highlighted during a game with a special inning break award. The Dragons recognized Bogg Ministries on May 27, the CareSource Foundation on July 9, Detective Del Rio on July 27, A Special Wish Foundation—Dayton Chapter on September 1, and the Hope Center for Families on September 3.

Rebuilding the Arts

The Dragons teamed up with Day Air Credit Union to bring a new program to Dayton this summer. Rebuilding The Arts was a season long initiative during the 2021 season that shined a spotlight on the plight of our community's arts programs who have been decimated by the COVID pandemic. It gave fans a chance to learn more about the vibrant arts scene in Dayton (and how they could support it) with three "Rebuilding the Arts" weekends at the ballpark. This summer, the Dragons featured the Muse Machine, Dayton Live, and The Dayton Art Institute. Each organization took over a weekend at the ballpark where they were able to share their story with video and live features on the video board, interactive information booths along the concourse, and a heavy social media presence. Additionally, the Dragons Foundation did fundraising for each of the organizations with a rolling 50-50 raffle in the ballpark, with all charity proceeds going to support their organization.

Hometown Heroes Celebration Nights

Five times during the 2021 baseball season, the Dragons partnered with the Dayton Development Coalition along with Reynolds and Reynolds to shine the spotlight on the military, past and present, through the Hometown Heroes program. The Dragons recognized Dayton Blue Star Mothers on May 26; Operation Cherrybend on June 17; St. Vincent Supportive Services on July 7, and Missed Milestones and Holidays for servicemen and women on August 1. On August 21, the Dragons hosted American Celebration Night at Day Air Ballpark as 17 members of the Air Force Delayed Enlistment Program took the oath of enlistment during an inning break of the Dragons game. Also on that night, the members of the military presented the colors, sang the national anthem, and threw out the ceremonial first pitch as part of the pregame ceremonies.

Lexus of Dayton Home Run Challenge

For every Dragons home run hit at Day Air Ballpark during the 2021 season, the Dayton Dragons Foundation and Lexus of Dayton donated $200.00 to the Dayton Foodbank, for a season-long total of $8,400. Dragons fans added donations as well, bringing the total to more than $17,000. On October 25, the Dragons and Lexus of Dayton General Manager Aaron Forland presented The Foodbank with a check for $17,798. The Foodbank's Chief Development Officer, Lee Truesdale, graciously accepted the donation.

Dragons 50/50 Raffle

The 50/50 raffle during Dragons games at Day Air Ballpark raised thousands of dollars for local charities and the Dragons Foundation in 2021. The Hope Center for Families, the Dayton Art Institute, Dayton Live, and Muse Machine received money from the raffle, along with the Dragons Foundation, which provides necessary funding and resources to support the countless donations, charitable giving requests, in-kind donations, unique game experiences, and community wide Dragons programs.

On November 29, the Dayton Dragons Foundation launched a special online 50/50 raffle presented by Day Air Credit Union, with proceeds benefitting Hannah's Treasure Chest, a local non-profit organization that enriches the lives of children in need by creating care packages of clothes, toys, books, cribs, car seats, diapers, and more. When the raffle concluded on December 9, the jackpot stood at $28,607. Half of that amount, $14,303.50, went to Hannah's Treasure Chest, with the other half presented to the lucky winner, a woman from Springboro.

New Dragons Mobile App

The Dragons introduced a new Mobile App, available to download for free through the Apple App Store (iPhone) and Google Play Store (Android). It provides easy access to fan amenities, information on your favorite Dragons events, team Roster, in-game entertainment, ticket options, ballpark health and safety protocols, and links to the Dragons PlayBall Game Program, on-line store, and radio broadcasts. The publication included player bios, feature stories, game and series previews, schedule/standings/scores/stats, ballpark events and promotions, video clips and interviews, and a new team podcast, The Dirt.

Safety First with Kettering Health

The Dragons partnered with Kettering Health to introduce new safety protocols at Day Air Ballpark in 2021. These included cashless purchases around the ballpark, the addition of higher grade air filters and increased air flow with iWave technology, utilization of GERMSTOP antimicrobial technology to treat surfaces and protect guests for 30 days, plexiglass at every customer service interface location, updated mask policies, and over 100 hand sanitizer stations in the ballpark.

In addition to the Day Air Ballpark in-stadium signage, Day Air Ballpark is seen outside the stadium via directional signage throughout the city. A total of 23 logo and text signs can be seen, so no matter how fans get to a Dragons game, they can locate Day Air Ballpark.

The Dragons finished the year ranked in the top 10 for all classifications of Minor League Baseball for the 21st straight year.

Notable Dragons Performances

Comeback Kids: On June 8 and 9, the Dragons won two games in two nights despite trailing by five or more runs in each game. For reference, they posted a total of six comeback wins in the previous five years combined (697 games) in games in which they had trailed by at least five runs, averaging 1.2 “big” comeback wins per season. The June 8 win after trailing 7-0 matched the largest comeback for the Dragons over at least the last 15 seasons. The Dragons battled back to win six times after trailing by at least four runs in 2021. Over the last five years, they averaged 2.2 wins per season when trailing by at least four runs.

The Dragons most dramatic wins of the season came exactly one month apart, on May 15 and June 15, both at Day Air Ballpark. On May 15, the Dragons trailed Lansing 2-0 before Brian Rey hit a solo home run in the sixth inning, and Bren Spillane hit a two-run homer in the eighth to give the team a 3-2 lead. Dragons reliever Jake Gilbert then pitched out of a bases loaded, no out jam in the ninth to close out the victory. On June 15, the Dragons trailed Fort Wayne 4-1 going to the bottom of the ninth inning before rallying for four runs to win. The game-ender was a bases loaded, two-run double by Reniel Ozuna that brought in the tying and winning runs.

Key of Hope: Dayton’s Brian Rey won the High-A Central League Batter of the Week for the first week of the season, then duplicated the feat by winning the same honor in the season’s second week. At the end of the second week, Rey had played in 10 games and was batting .450 with six home runs, 16 RBI, 10 extra base hits, and an OPS of 1.467. Before the end of the third week of the season, Rey was promoted to Double-A Chattanooga. Rey was also named Cincinnati Reds Minor League Batter of the Month for the month of May.

Rockin’ Cotton: Dragons outfielder Quin Cotton enjoyed the biggest single game of the year for the Dragons. In a Dragons 15-4 win on June 5 at Lake County, Cotton went 4 for 6 with two home runs and six runs batted in. His 10 total bases in the game, and the six RBI, were season highs for a Dragons player in 2021.

Slamming: The Dragons connected on four grand slam home runs in 2021, including one in the first game of the year by Quincy McAfee on May 4 at Great Lakes. Alex McGarry (June 10 vs. Great Lakes), Michael Siani (August 12 at Lansing), and Jonathan Willems (Sept. 12 at Lake County) also hit home runs with the bases loaded for the Dragons in 2021.

Firing Missiles: With a fastball that reached 99 mph, Dragons starting pitcher Graham Ashcraft put together an amazing stretch of four straight starts starting May 30 in which he did not allow an earned run. The streak totaled 23 innings and including 30 strikeouts and only six walks. Following the fourth start on June 17, Ashcraft was promoted to Double-A Chattanooga. He was named the Reds Minor League Pitcher of the Month for June.

Stirring Up Trouble: Dragons outfielder Jacob Hurtubise ignited the team’s offense in his first professional season after graduating from West Point. Hurtubise led the league in on-base percentage while also finishing in the top five in batting average, stolen bases, runs scored, and walks. The blazing fast Hurtubise played all three outfield positions and frequently served as the Dragons lead-off hitter. When the Dragons were playing their best, Hurtubise was usually creating havoc for the opposition.

Closing Strong: The Dragons finished the season by sweeping the Fort Wayne TinCaps in a six-game series. The six-game winning streak was the Dragons longest of the season. They outscored their opponent during the streak, 46-23.
