LAST GAME

The Bowie Baysox bounced back for a convincing win over the Reading Fightin Phils on Wednesday at FirstEnergy Stadium. After falling behind in the first inning, Bowie knotted the game up in the fifth inning before exploding for four runs in the eighth inning, closing the night with a 5-1 win. Andrew Daschbach highlighted the four-run frame with a three-run homer, his fourth of the season. While Ryan Watson did allow a solo home run to Aldrem Corredor in the first inning, the right-hander saw no issue cruising through five innings. Rico Garcia picked apart the Reading offense for three innings, retiring all nine batters faced, and throwing a four-pitch seventh inning along the way, and Morgan McSweeney spun a scoreless ninth to finish.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

One of the most tenured teams in the entire league, Reading is running into many of the same struggles that plagued them in 2021, as they have been at least five games back in the Northeast Division standings for 12-straight games. The Fightins are batting a league-worst .203 at the start of this series. Opponents have made the most against Reading pitching this season, as their 5.04 ERA is the third-highest in the league. Despite playing in a notably hitter-friendly stadium, Reading pitchers have allowed only 22 home runs, the fourth-fewest in the league, with 12 coming at home.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Left-hander Erik Miller is taking things slow on a return from injury that sidelined him for most of the 2021 season. A top-15 prospect in the Phillies organization, Miller has not thrown more than three innings in any outing this season, and has only made two starts. His outings have been strong, though, as he's struck out 18 batters against only four walks in 12 innings, and has only allowed two runs. He pitched well in the Arizona Fall League as well, where his fastball flashed 99 miles per hour at points, as well as a three-dimensional slider in the low-80s, and a changeup.

SHIFT HIM THE OTHER WAY

Baysox infielder Joey Ortiz slapped a double to the right-center field gap in the sixth inning of Wednesday's game, returning to a form he held at the start of the season. After the first nine games of the season, Ortiz was hitting the ball either up the middle or to the opposite field 85.7% of the time, the highest qualified mark in the league. After working on that number in the cage, Ortiz has shifted back to a much more traditional spray hitter, as his pull rate has jumped over 40%, and his opposite field rate still holds above 35%.

MAKING DO

As Bowie has dealt with fluidity in their starting rotation, needing to dip into bullpen arms for their recent turn through the rotation, their main starters have picked up the slack to compensate. Bowie's usual starters (Garrett Stallings, Drew Rom, and Ryan Watson) have been able to carry the load while Zach Peek, Antonio Velez, and Brandon Young have been on the IL. Since Zach Peek's last start on 4/30, Bowie's standard starters have gone on at least five innings in every start, holding an even 4.00 ERA in the outings, and logging 27 strikeouts in 27 innings.

PATIENCE, YOUNG GRASSHOPPER

Bowie has been frustrating opposing pitchers this season with their patience and discipline at the plate. Their 138 walks lead the Eastern League, despite playing two fewer games than most teams in the circuit. Bowie also sports three of the top 15 batters in the Eastern League for most pitches seen, as Andrew Daschbach, Gunnar Henderson and Jordan Westburg sit in the rankings.

TOP GUNNAR

Infielder Gunnar Henderson was named the Eastern League Player of the Week on Monday, after going 9-for-17 at the plate with a double, a home run, four RBI, and five runs scored. While he did go 0-for-2 on Wednesday, he extended his on-base streak to 27 consecutive games thanks to two walks. He's reached base in every game this season for the Baysox, the longest stretch in the league. Gunnar has increased his walk rate from just 12.1% across three levels played last season up to over 20% so far this season. Henderson is ranked as the Orioles #3 prospect and Minor League Baseball's #64 overall prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline. Listed as #4 for the Orioles and #57 in MiLB by Baseball America. He was named the Orioles Organization All-Star at third base by MiLB.com for his 2021 season.

QUICK HITS

TODAY'S STARTING PITCHER- Antonio Velez missed his last turn in the rotation with a shirt IL stint. First start since the 29th. See Page 2 for more.

NOT SO DASCH-ING - Bowie infielder Andrew Daschbach leads all qualified hitters in the League in average pitches seen per PA, at 4.7

WHAT'S OLD IS NEW AGAIN - After a one-year pause, Minor League Baseball has reinstated the well-known league names across the country, putting Bowie back in the Eastern League

NEW RULES FOR ALL - In 2022, Double-A features larger bases (15 in. > 18 in.), new limits on pick off attempts (Two step-offs per PA), and a faster pitch clock

Notes

- Full trade: Orioles trade RHP Cole Sulser and LHP Tanner Scott to Miami in exchange for OF Kevin Guerrero, LHP Antonio Velez, and a Competitive Balance Round B draft selection
- This is his second season of pro ball after catching on with Miami in 2020 as a reliever. Eight of his first nine appearances were out of the bullpen, but his following 14 appearances to close the season were starts.
- Began his career at Florida State in the bullpen, had begun the transition into a weekend starter for the Seminoles at the urging of his pitching coach when the coronavirus pandemic forced the season to be shut down.
- Earned his promotion to Double-A after silencing opponent for High-A Beloit. Fired 26 innings in four starts, allowing only one run, a solo home run, while striking out 20 batters and only walking two.

What They're Saying:

Mike Elias, Orioles EVP and GM: "[He's] had nothing but success in the minor leagues thus far, and we'll see where the dust settles exactly. [He] could be in Triple-A very quickly if continues what he did last year in Pensacola"

Notes by Outing

- Apr 10 v RIC Orioles organizational debut. Only hit allowed was a one-out single in the first inning. Struck out six of his first eight batters faced.
- Apr 17 @ BNG Struck out the side in the first inning (including an auto-strike three on the leadoff batter) When Bowie had jumped to a 4-0 lead, Velez allowed a solo home run in the second inning before tossing a perfect third. Was chased in the fifth inning after allowing five consecutive batters to reach base, as well as four runs, with a two-run home run mixed in by top Mets prospect Francisco Alvarez. All four runs were scored with two outs.
- Apr 23 v AKR Worked heavily on pitching to contact. Only struck out one batter over the first 4.2 innings. Only run over first five innings was due to a leadoff triple followed by a single in the fifth. Only used 38 total pitches over the first five innings. Was the first pitcher for Bowie this season to pitch into the sixth inning, but allowed a string of four hits and a sacrifice fly on the third trip through the order that knocked him out of the game. Spent the game going toe-to-toe with Akron's Daniel Espino while the top Guardians pitching prospect struck out the first 11 batters of the game, and 14 total.
- 4/29 @ RIC Third batter of the games was a two-run home run by Sean Roby, his eighth home run of the season. Velez did not allow another baserunner for the remainder of the outing, aside from one error. Bowie held Richmond to only two hits, but lost 2-1.

Player Notes

Joined Bowie on 5/4 after a brief outing overpowering hitters at High-A Aberdeen. // Fanned six and allowed only one hit in two scoreless innings in his only appearance for the IronBirds, 4/27 versus Jersey Shore. // Bowie is the third Eastern League team he has been rostered with, but only the second he has been active with, as he spent his entire time with the Richmond Flying Squirrels on the Injured List. // 14 career Major League appearances, two with Colorado in 2019, and 12 with San Francisco in 2020. // Major League debut was his lone start at the highest level, allowed six runs on seven hits in five innings at Coors in a 10-6 loss to Boston. Allowed three home runs in the game, including home runs by Jackie Bradley Jr. and Xander Bogaerts. // Used as a short-length reliever in San Francisco, making most of his appearances in a two-week span, allowed five earned runs in just six innings across nine total appearances to starts his time. // Originally drafted by Colorado out of the 30th round of the 2016 draft out of Hawaii Pacific University. // Key starter in the Hartford rotation in 2018 and 2019, going a combined 14-4 with a 2.07 ERA in 24 career starts. // Never appeared against Bowie in his Eastern League career.

Player Notes

Fired a perfect seventh inning to finish the 11th No-Hitter in Baysox history on 5/8 against Harrisburg to open a doubleheader. Worked two flyouts and a groundout in relief of Garrett Stallings. // Took a blown save, but earned the Baysox first win of the season in their third game, thanks in part to a six-run seventh inning for Bowie. // In 2021, appeared in eight games for Bowie, and 22 games for Aberdeen. // His 30 appearances in 2021 were the seventh-most in the Orioles organization. // Prime numbers came after his promotion to Bowie, as he only allowed runs in one of his eight outings, and collected 12 strikeouts against no walks over his last six appearances. // Spent his freshman year at Wake Forest in the bullpen, but transitioned to a starting role for his sophomore and junior seasons before being drafted.

Player Notes

Began the season with High-A Aberdeen, appearing in seven games. He allowed five earned runs in 7.1 innings (6.14 ERA), struck out eight and walked five. // Baltimore is the third Major League organization that he has been part of. Was originally signed as an undrafted free agent from Washington College by the Texas Rangers in 2017. Cincinnati claimed him off of waivers in December of 2020. Was released after the end of the 2021 season, and signed by Baltimore. // His first dance with Double-A batting was not memorable. Made five appearances for Double-A Chattanooga in 2021, but allowed 12 earned runs in just 2.2 innings pitched, and ERA of 40.50. // Was primarily a catcher in college, but after an injury midway through his junior season, had circumstance lead him to transition to pitching. // Led Washington College in hitting (.333) and stolen bases (5), was second on the team in slugging (.500), on-base percentage (.417), and RBI (19), and was third in doubles (7) while scoring 14 runs in 2017 // Following Tommy John surgery while in the Texas organization, main goal for 2022 has been to finish out a full season.

Player Notes

144 strikeouts in 2021 were the second-most in the Orioles system, behind only Kyle Stowers (171). // Played 30 games with Bowie, and 75 with Aberdeen. // Only hit .185 with a .612 OPS in the month of May to start the season with Aberdeen, but built back to a .256 average and an .814 OPS over the remaining four months of the season. // Was drafted by Tampa Bay in the 40th round of the 2016 draft, but elected not to sign. // Comes from a smart and athletic family. Andrew himself is a legacy graduate of Stanford, his sister was a four-year stater for Princeton Volleyball, and both parents played tennis.

Was critical in both of Bowie's walk-off wins against Akron in April, scoring the winning run on April 21 against Akron, avoiding a tag at home in the tenth inning, and collecting the game-winning hit on April 22 against Akron, allowing Zach Watson to score from first base on the hit and an error. // Made his Double-A debut against Akron on 4/19, and went 3-for-4 at the plate, including an RBI double in his first plate appearance, and a solo home run in his last PA in the eighth inning. Scored a career-high four runs and tied a career-high with three hits. Bowie won 20-6. // Added to the Bowie Roster from the FCL Orioles on April 16 to replace Toby Welk, who had colided with the left field wall while making the final out of Bowie's win over Binghamton the previous day. // In 2021, appeared in 49 game for Aberdeen, and 29 games for Delmarva. // Hit exactly .224 at both stops in 2021. // Played at least 15 games at all three outfield positions in 2021. // Was the starting center fielder for the Tar Heels in his two seasons at UNC.

Player Notes

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual route, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MiLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

Hit his first home run of the season on 4/22 against Akron after 11 games, measured at a 112 MPH exit velocity, which was as fast as any ball in play by Orioles Major Leaguers by that point in the season. Hit another 105+ MPH home run the following day, breaking a string of 11 consecutive strikeouts by Daniel Espino of Akron. // Ranked as the Orioles #3 prospect and Minor League Baseball's #64 overall prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline. Listed as #4 for the Orioles and #57 in MiLB by Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star at third base by MiLB.com for his 2021 season. // 105 games in 2021 was tied for tenth-most in the Orioles system, 28 doubles was good for the second-most behind Robert Neustrom's 31, 17 home runs was sixth-most, and 74 RBI was fifth-most. // Appeared in all three games of the Double-A Northeast Championship Series against Akron, going 3-for-10 overall with a solo home run in game two. // Originally committed to Auburn, but signed for an above-slot $2.3M to join Baltimore. // In 2021, played 62 games at shortstop, and 35 games at third base. // Was named the Low-A East Offensive Player of the month in May 2021, when he hit .313 in 20 games with six home runs. // Started only 1-for-31 at High-A Aberdeen, but followed with a .325 mark over his next 20 games. // Orioles Director of Player Development Matt Blood: "It was a great experience for him to have to navigate those struggles and once he came out of them, he took off. He's got well-above-average power. He's just really young and just learning how to play."

Ranked as the Orioles #15 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #16 according to Baseball America. // Only played 35 games in 2021 due to a torn labrum in his left shoulder in late June that required surgery. // Played 16 games with Bowie, 19 with Aberdeen. // Focused on building muscle during the last 2020 season. Baysox Manager Kyle Moore in 2021: "He's way more just mature and physical....this guy here has a chance to be an everyday shortstop in big leagues." // Orioles Manager David Hyde: "He's a really good defender. I've watched him here for up until major league camp the last few weeks. Love the way he plays defense, got great feet, great arm. It's accurate. Super active defensively. He's got really good instincts."

Player Notes

Ranked as the Orioles #33 prospect entering the 2022 season according to Baseball America. Also listed as the best defensive outfielder in the organization. // 21 home runs in 2021 ranked fourth in the Orioles system, behind only Kyle Stowers, Adley Rutschman, and Patrick Dorrian. Despite the high home run number, his .768 OPS was only good for 39th in the organization. // When combined with his 24 stolen bases, Watson was the only player in the system with a 20-20 season in 2021, and the first since DJ Stewart in 2017. // First selected by Boston in the 40th round of the 2018 draft, but elected not to sign. // Played 49 games in Bowie, 56 in Aberdeen. In 2019, played 16 games in Delmarva, 20 in Aberdeen.

Player Notes

Collected two doubles in the first inning of Bowie's 20-6 win over Akron on 4/19, also drew a career-high three walks during the 6 PA day. // Hit the Baysox first home run of the season in the second game of the year, a game-tying solo home run in the eighth inning against Richmond. Richmond scored seven runs in the following half inning. // Followed with a home run on the third day of the season, the third time in his career that he'd homered on consecutive days. He had homered on three consecutive days with High-A Aberdeen, and homered on consecutive days with Bowie against Somerset on 9/2 and 9/3/21. // Ranked as the Orioles #6 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline and Baseball America. Also listed as the best athlete and the best defensive infielder in the organization by Baseball America. // Played at least 20 games at Low-A, High-A, and Double-A in 2021, primarily with High-A Aberdeen, where he hit .286 with eight home runs in 62 games. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star at shortstop by MiLB.com for his 2021 season. // Finished second in the system with a .380 OBP and 74 runs scored, while his 79 RBIs, 121 hits, 27 doubles and five triples ranked third and his .479 slugging percentage and .868 OPS ranked fourth. // Highest drafted shortstop in the history of Mississippi State, and the 17th player to be drafted in the first round. // Along with Justin Foscoe (14th overall pick, Texas), became the second set of teammates chosen in the first round in program history, joining Will Clark and Rafael Palmeiro from the 1985 MLB Draft.

Coaching Staff

Manager: Kyle Moore

The 2022 season will be the 13th season for Moore in the Orioles organization. He played 29 games over two seasons (2010-11) before becoming a coach. He spent three seasons as a player/coach (2013 Frederick Keys, 2014 Bowie Baysox, 2015 Delmarva Shorebirds) before being named as the Shorebirds hitting coach in 2016 and the Keys hitting coach in 2017. Moore signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Orioles in 2010 after playing collegiately at the University of Alabama. As a high schooler, he starred at Edgewood Academy (AL), where he won three AISA state baseball championships. Kyle, his wife Whitney and their daughter Madilyn reside in Sarasota, FL.

Hitting Coach: Branden Becker

Becker was drafted by the Orioles in the 17th round of the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft in 2015 and played parts of four seasons in the organization before retiring in May, 2019. He rejoined the Orioles as the Fundamentals Coach for the IronBirds for the 2020 season before it was canceled. He served as the Hitting Coach for the Complex League Orioles in 2021.

Pitching Coach: Josh Conway

Conway was selected in the fourth round of the 2012 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft by the Chicago Cubs out of Coastal Carolina. He played three seasons with the Cubs organization, making it to Double-A in 2016. The Smithburg, Md native returned to the Chanticleers to complete his undergraduate degree and served as a student assistant and assistant pitching coach before joining the Orioles.
