LAST GAME

For the 27th time this season, and the second-consecutive night, the Bowie Baysox lost a one-run game. Bowie fought back from a three-run deficit to tie their game with the Erie SeaWolves in the seventh inning, but ultimately lost 4-3. Bowie loaded the bases with no outs in the ninth inning, and they did not score. Despite slight hiccups, Garrett Stallings turned in another quality start for Bowie. Quincy Nieporte opened the scoring for Erie by taking Stallings deep to open the second inning. Stallings allowed two more runs in the fourth inning, but Bowie chipped away at Ty Madden in the sixth inning with a Darell Hernaiz sacrifice fly, Toby Welk tied the game in the seventh with a two-RBI double, but Dane Myers launched Erie ahead with a solo home run in the eighth inning.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

Every series is important, but in terms of potential impact, this week of games between Bowie and Erie is the most instantly impactful. Erie has had the best full season in the Southwest Division this season, led mostly by a high-ranking pitching staff. Their 3.78 ERA as a staff is the second-best in the league, but the numbers from their starting rotation have been even better, with a league-leading 3.29 ERA, the best in the league. Despite playing in a park that favors more pitchers, Erie's offense has still been able to display power, with the second-most home runs in the league, despite only scoring the fourth-fewest overall runs in the league.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

In just his second Minor League season, right-hander Wilmer Flores has turned some heads following a stellar start to the season with High-A West Michigan. While he does share a name with his older brother, San Francisco Giants infielder Wilmer Flores, the younger Flores dominates on the mound rather than in the field. In his Double-A debut, Flores fired five one-hit innings against New Hampshire while striking out seven batters and only walking one. In the outing, Flores retired the final 12 batters he faced in order. Bowie nicked him for four runs and seven hits in May, but he took down the Baysox in June with five innings of one-run ball. Flores has not allowed more than four runs in any of his outings this season, while finishing the fifth inning in seven of his 16 starts. While his fastball has had its issues with location, it can get up to 98 miles per hour. He also features a tight curveball, and a budding changeup and a cutter.

MEAT LEFT ON THE BONE

Some of Bowie's offensive woes this season have not been from a lack of effort. In fact, the Baysox are the team most likely to start an inning with a runner on base in the Eastern League. Bowie leads the league in all three slash lines (.272/.369/.468) from the first batter of an inning this season. They also lead the league in lead off doubles. All of those numbers combine to Bowie leaving 892 runners on base this season, the most in the league, and an average of 7.4 per game. Bowie has also stranded the most runners in scoring position in the league. Inversely, Bowie has the second-most strikeouts in the league when batting with runners on base (542).

NORBY KNOWS HOW TO HIT

Connor Norby is taking on all pitches lately, after leading off for most of his Bowie tenure, Norby shifted to the second and third roles in the lineup starting on 8/18, and has gone 23-for-58 (.397) since, with two multi-home run games, and seven home runs total. Combined with his time spent at High-A, Norby has 23 home runs this season, tied for the most in the Orioles minor league system. Norby is already has six home runs in the first inning of games, tied for the most in the Eastern League this season.

SLIM MARGINS

Bowie has had a love-hate relationship with one-run games this season eight of Bowie's last 12 losses have been by only one-run. One-run games have been one of the most common outcomes for Bowie this season, as their 46 one-run games leads the Eastern League. Their .413 winning percentage in one-run games (19-27) is the second-lowest in the Eastern League, trailing only Binghamton.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING

BASEBALL AMERICA: "McDermott has a solid set of four pitches. He misses bats with an aboveaverage fastball that sits 92-96 mph and can get up to 98 on occasion. He pairs his heater with two potentially above-average breaking pitches in his 12-to-6 curveball in the mid 70s and a titling slider that gets chase swings out of the strike zone. McDermott's changeup is still a major work in progress, as is his control of both breaking pitches. Even during his excellent pro debut, he walked 10 batters in 18 innings at Fayetteville."

McDermott - On Being Traded for Trey Mancini: "I know how important Trey was to the organization as a person and a player, and firstly, it does mean plenty to have been part of this trade for someone that meant so much to his team. I want to try and contribute to this team too and show what I'm capable of. I can't compare myself to Trey, though. He's an outfielder. I'm a pitcher. He's his own player, and I'm my own player. All I can really say is how much I want to help this organization succeed."

NOTES BY OUTING ^

- 8/17 v SOM Double-A Debut. Career-highs in runs, home runs, and walks. Hit two snags in the second inning where he walked a batter and allowed a two-run home run. Walked three more batters and allowed a grand slam before being lifted in the fourth.
- 8/23 v ALT Allowed another three-run home run in the first inning, and a two-run home run in the third inning.
- 8/28 v ALT Retired the first nine batters, allowed a walk and a double for one run in the fourth.

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routine, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MiLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

He spent three seasons as a player/coach (2013 Frederick Keys, 2014 Bowie Baysox, 2015 Delmarva Shorebirds) before being named as the Shorebirds hitting coach in 2016 and the Keys hitting coach in 2017. Moore signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Orioles in 2010 after playing collegiately at the University of Alabama. As a high schooler, he starred at Edgewood Academy (AL), where he won three AISA state baseball championships. Kyle, his wife Whitney and their two daughters reside in Sarasota, FL.
