

MAD LIBS #3

Create your own ballpark tale by having someone fill in the blanks without looking. Then read the story back together!

Patty tied her brand new running shoes. Today was the _____ day of the season, and Patty was looking for her _____ win in the Julia's Pepperoni Roll
(NUMBER)
Race. She trained all winter with Coach _____ on her technique. She spent hours _____ as she tried to perfect her run. Patty knew Hank had (VERB)
(YOUR NAME)
also been _____ working with the goal of winning his _____ season
(ADVERB) (NUMBER)
title. She was ready. She lined up in her _____ new shoes. The announcer
(ADJECTIVE)
called everyone's attention. "All right, here we go!" He said. Patty began to run _____ than she had ever run! She was in the lead but knew Hank was not far behind her. "They're coming around the turn to the home stretch!" The announcer said _____. Patty focused on the finish line. Just a few more (ADVERB)
(ADVERB)
steps... "AND THE WINNER IS PEPPERONI AND CHEESE PATTY!" Patty threw her arms up in _____. She did it!
