of two of the three back-to-back instances for Nashville in which his solo home run to start the back-to-back with Anthony Seigler on April 26th vs. Durham was his last home run. Clarke continues to be a thorn in the side of Gwinnett pitching as the former South Carolina product has eight home runs in 25 games against the Stripers after his long ball on Friday night.

COVERING OUR EXTRA BASES: Anthony Seigler ended his multi-hit day 2-for-4 with a double and triple on Friday. It was his second game this season with a double and triple on the same night and he has five total multi-hit games on the campaign. His two triples are tied for the team lead along with Jared Oliva and the pair are two of 19 International League players with multiple triples so far this season. Seigler entered the year with only one previous triple in his professional career which came in the 2021 season while playing with High-A Hudson Valley in the Yankees organization.

SOUNDS LIKE SIX: With his scoreless appearance in Friday night's game, Tyler Jay has worked six straight games since allowing an earned run dating back to April 17th. During his current streak, the left-hander has worked 6.2 IP and allowed five hits with five strikeouts and worked around four walks. The lefty specialist lowered his season ERA to 0.87 in 11 total appearances and collected his fourth hold of the season on Friday. His 11 games leads the Nashville bullpen as do his four holds and he is tied for the team lead in saves, converting on both chances he has had so far.

HOW IT'S DUNN: Oliver Dunn ended doubleheader on Thursday night 4-for-6 with a pair of doubles, a walk, and a run scored between the two games. He was the only Nashville player who played in both games to record a multi-hit game in both. Dunn entered the day with five hits in his first 10 games with Nashville and had two combined extra base hits before lacing a pair of doubles in the twin bill.
