LAST GAME

The Bowie Baysox dropped their fourth-consecutive game on Sunday afternoon, as the Richmond Flying Squirrels launched four home runs towards a 9-1 final at The Diamond in Richmond. Bowie's offensive struggles continued, as the Baysox went 0-for-6 at the plate with runners in scoring position. Over their four-game losing streak, Bowie has only collected one hit with runners at second or third base. Garret Stallings made his second start of the series, and took the loss again behind home runs. Frankie Tostado and Shane Matheny each collected long balls against Stallings, while Franklin Labour lifted one against Griffin McLarty making his Double-A debut, and Shane Matheny followed with his second of the game later in the same inning.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

The Senators had held the top spot in the Eastern League's Southwest Division for most of April, but enter the first series in May tied for second place behind Richmond. A team mostly lead by its pitching staff, Harrisburg has the third best team ERA in the league at the start of this series, at 3.59, as well as the fewest home runs allowed in the league, at just 16. They also sport one of the best closers in the league, as Matt Brill has already collected seven saves and a win in his nine appearances. The Senators sport one of the oldest rosters in the league with an average age around 25.5 years old.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Right-handed pitcher Ronald Herrera is slated to make his fifth start of the season for the Senators after being signed as a minor league free agent over the offseason. Last season, Herrera pitched for the New Jersey Jackals of the Frontier League. Before playing independent ball, Herrera had pitched in the minor leagues since 2012 with stints in the A's, Padres, Yankees and Rangers organizations, making the big league squad and pitching two appearances for the Yankees in 2017 (3 IP, 2 ER, 3 K). He has opened this season with a 5.48 ERA, picking up the loss in his last appearance against Hartford, with five innings of four run ball. Herrera last pitched against an Oriole affiliate on July 6th of 2016 while with Trenton, getting the loss in four innings of six run ball at Prince George's Stadium against Bowie.

WELCOME BACK, FRIENDS

Prior to Tuesday's game, the Baysox added two very familiar faces to their roster. Baseball's top overall prospect Adley Rutschman, and Orioles top left-handed pitching prospect DL Hall. Rutschman, rated as the top overall prospect in baseball by Baseball America, began the 2021 season with the Baysox, and appeared in 80 games for Bowie, before being promoted to Triple-A near the end of the season. With Bowie, he hit .271 at the plate, while smashing 18 home runs and driving in 55 runs. Well known for his discipline at the plate, Rutschman only struck out 57 times in 357 plate appearances, while also drawing 55 walks. DL Hall is rated as the fifth-best prospect in the Orioles organization, the sixth-best left-handed pitcher, and number 88 in all of baseball by MLB Pipeline. Hall spent his 2021 season with Bowie, overpowering opposing batters with his well-graded fastball. After striking out a league-leading 56 batters in just 31.2 innings through mid-June, Hall was diagnosed with a stress fracture in his elbow, ending his season.

TOP GUNNAR

Infielder Gunnar Henderson singled on just the fourth pitch of Sunday's game in Richmond, extending his on-base streak to 20-consecutive games, the best mark in the Eastern League this season. Henderson also has 21 walks on the year, second-most in the League. Gunnar has increased his walk rate from just 12.1% across three levels played last season up to 24.7% so far this season. Henderson is ranked as the Orioles #3 prospect and Minor League Baseball's #64 overall prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline. Listed as #4 for the Orioles and #57 in MiLB by Baseball America. He was named the Orioles Organization All-Star at third base by MiLB.com for his 2021 season.

OUT OF GAS

Bowie's constant struggle with leaving runners on base over the last four games has made an impact on some of their numbers. Bowie has slipped out of the top spot for batting with runners in scoring position, thanks to a 1-for-30 mark at the plate over their last four games. Bowie has also stranded a total of 34 runners on base in the four-game stretch, bumping them up to 150 runners left on base this season, an average of 7.5 per game. Bowie was second in the Double-A Northeast in 2021, when they stranded just over 800 total runners across the season, a little over 6.7 per game.

A RARE DROUGHT

During their current four-game losing skid, the Baysox have been held to exactly one run in each of their last three games. It is the first time that Bowie has been held to three or fewer total runs in a three-game span since 7/25-7/27 2019, when they dropped the first three games in a series at Binghamton. Bowie lost the first game 3-2 in 11 innings, the second game 6-0, and the third game 2-1.

QUICK HITS

TODAY'S STARTING PITCHER- Ryan Watson has begun his Double-A career with 13 consecutive scoreless innings.. See Page 2 for more.

GROUND BALL HALL - Bowie outfielder Adam Hall has a higher rate of ground balls than any qualified batter in the League, hitting it on the ground 3.5x as often

WHAT'S OLD IS NEW AGAIN - After a one-year pause, Minor League Baseball has reinstated the well-known league names across the country, putting Bowie back in the Eastern League

NEW RULES FOR ALL - In 2022, Double-A features larger bases (15 in. > 18 in.), new limits on pick off attempts (Two step-offs per PA), and a faster pitch clock

Was critical in both of Bowie's walk-off wins against Akron in April, scoring the winning run on April 21 against Akron, avoiding a tag at home in the tenth inning, and collecting the game-winning hit on April 22 against Akron, allowing Zach Watson to score from first base on the hit and an error. // Made his Double-A debut against Akron on 4/19, and went 3-for-4 at the plate, including an RBI double in his first plate appearance, and a solo home run in his last PA in the eighth inning. Scored a career-high four runs and tied a career-high with three hits. Bowie won 20-6. // Added to the Bowie Roster from the FCL Orioles on April 16 to replace Toby Welk, who had collided with the left field wall while making the final out of Bowie's win over Binghamton the previous day. // In 2021, appeared in 49 game for Aberdeen, and 29 games for Delmarva. // Hit exactly .224 at both stops in 2021. // Played at least 15 games at all three outfield positions in 2021. // Was the starting center fielder for the Tar Heels in his two seasons at UNC.

Missed three games after being hit by a pitch early in Bowie's 4-3 win at Binghamton on 4/13. Returned on 4/19 to go 3-for-5 at the plate against Akron with a career-high six RBI and a grand slam, his fourth home run, and the first grand slam of the season for the Baysox. // After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to a career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routine, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

He spent three seasons as a player/coach (2013 Frederick Keys, 2014 Bowie Baysox, 2015 Delmarva Shorebirds) before being named as the Shorebirds hitting coach in 2016 and the Keys hitting coach in 2017. Moore signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Orioles in 2010 after playing collegiately at the University of Alabama. As a high schooler, he starred at Edgewood Academy (AL), where he won three AISA state baseball championships. Kyle, his wife Whitney and their daughter Madilyn reside in Sarasota, FL.
