GREENJACKET PLAYERS MAKE AN APPEARANCE AT RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE OF AUGUSTA

While the GreenJackets have gotten into full swing and found comfort on the field in the first two months of the year, a handful of players have made it a mission to involve themselves in the community as well. Working in conjunction with the organization three players were able to make their way to the Ronald McDonald House of Augusta to get involved and give back a few weeks ago.

Pitchers Will Silva and Adel Dilone, as well as catcher Jose Marcano, spent a pregame morning in mid-May taking a tour of the RMHC facility in downtown Augusta, meeting both families and staff and learning about the mission and purpose of the organization and its vital role in providing comfort and housing for families of sick children.

Beyond a simple meeting and information session, the trio of players ensured no one in the house went wanting for food, as they made lunches for the residents and staff. In true Augusta fashion, the menu consisted of pimento cheese sandwiches made with Chicken Salad Chick pimento cheese. Keeping everything uniform, the ballplayers-turned-delivery men donned their new Augusta Pimento Cheese jerseys that will be worn in-game and subsequently raffled off on June 8th.

PLAYERS VISIT FAMILIES, PROVIDE LUNCH AS COMMITMENT TO SERVICE GROWS

The visit was far from the first piece of community involvement from the organization this year. Beyond the various charitable organizations that have partnered with the GreenJackets or SRP Park for drives, fundraisers, and auction beneficiaries, Augusta's players have had chances to engage themselves throughout the season. Arguably the most popular amongst the players has been the monthly visits to the Children's Hospital of Georgia, where a handful of players (including Silva and Dilone) were able to visit with some of the younger patients, take pictures, deliver gifts, and brighten up days for the youngsters receiving treatment.

The connection with RMHC was a powerful one, given the admirable mission of the organization, but also a natural next step in the lengthy relationship between the GreenJackets organization and Ronald McDonald House of Augusta. RMHC will be the beneficiaries of this week's Pimento Cheese jersey auction. The caddy-inspired jerseys will be worn in Saturday's game against the Myrtle Beach Pelicans, with a majority of the jersey's auctioned off in-house during the game itself. A few select jerseys will be available for bid online*, with all jerseys being game-worn and 100% authentic.
