Baseball Terms Of Interest

Assists: An assist shall be credited to each fielder who throws or deflects a batted or thrown ball in such a way that a putout results, or would have resulted except for a subsequent error by any fielder. Only one assist and no more shall be credited to each fielder who throws or deflects the ball in a run-down play which results in a putout, or would have resulted in a putout, except for a subsequent error.

Batting Average: Divide the numbers of hits by the number of official at-bats.

Batting Title Qualifications: To qualify for the Carolina League batting or slugging title, a player must have a minimum of 378 plate appearances (the equivalent of 2.7 plate appearances for each of the 140 scheduled games). However, a player with fewer than the required number of plate appearances whose average would be the high if he were charged with the required number of official at-bats shall be awarded the batting championship.

Consecutive-Game Hitting Streak: A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all of a player's plate appearances result in a walk, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

Consecutive-Game Playing Streak: A consecutive-game playing streak shall extend if the player plays one half-inning on defense, or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from a game by an umpire before he complies with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

Day or Night Game: Any game scheduled to start after 5:00 p.m. is considered a night game. A game scheduled to begin before 5:00 p.m., which is delayed by rain or any other reason, is still considered a day game. However, both games of a two-night doubleheader will be considered night games.

Designated for Assignment: When a player is taken off a Major League roster and is designated for assignment, such player must be released, traded, or his contract assigned within 10 days of the notice given.

Earned Run Average: Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take the resulting number and divide it by the number of innings-pitched.

Earned Run Average Title Qualifications: To qualify for the Carolina League ERA crown, a pitcher must have the lowest earned run average after at least 115 innings-pitched (the equivalent of 0.8 multiplied by the number of scheduled games- 140).

Fielding Average: Divide the total putouts and assists by total putouts, assists and errors.

Free Agency: If a player has six years of Major League service, he is eligible for free agency. A player has 15 days from the first day following the World Series to file for free agency. A player is also eligible for free agency if he has played seven seasons or more in the Major or Minor Leagues and is not on a Major League team's 40-man roster as of October 15.

Injured List: In the Minor Leagues, players placed on the injured list must remain there a minimum of ten consecutive days. There is no limit to how many players can be on the injured list at one time and those on the injured list do not count toward the team's roster limit.

Magic Number: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

Major League Rehabilitation: A Major League player may be assigned to a minor league affiliate for the purpose of injury rehabilitation for a maximum of 20 days for non-pitchers, and 30 days for pitchers. The player continues to receive his Major League salary. Any service with the minor league club shall be deemed Major League service. Rehabilitation assignments do not count as optional assignments. Players on rehabilitation assignment do not count against a team's roster limit.

On-Base Percentage: Take the total number of hits, walks, and hit-by-pitches and divide by the total number of at-bats, walks, hit-by-pitches, and sacrifice flies. Times awarded first base on interference or obstruction are not figured into on base percentage.

Options: An optional assignment of a player contract shall be permitted for not more than three seasons between Major League and Minor League clubs. Players optioned for less than a total of 20 days in one season, shall not be charged with an optional transfer. Players who, prior to the start of the season, have been credited with less than five seasons in professional baseball, shall be eligible for a fourth optional assignment, without waivers, during that season.

Pitch Clock: A pitch clock is used in college baseball and Minor League Baseball to limit the amount of time a pitcher uses before he throws the ball to the hitter. This is one measure that has accelerated the pace of play. Major League Baseball (MLB) began using a pitch clock in the 2023 season

Player Limits: In Low-A, rosters are limited to 30 active players for the duration of the entire season and the playoffs. Players on the disabled list or on rehabilitation assignment do not count against the 30-man active roster. In the Major Leagues, rosters are 40 until Opening Day, at which time they decrease to 26 players. On September 1, Major League rosters increase to 28 active players.

Recalled: When a player is on a Major League team's 40-man roster and added to the team's 25-man active roster during the season from the Minor Leagues, he has been recalled. If a player is not on the Major League 40-man roster, the Major League club must purchase his contract from the Minor League team and add him to its 40-man roster.

Rookie Qualifications: A player shall be considered a rookie unless; he has exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings-pitched in the Major Leagues or accumulated more than 45 days on the 25-man active roster of a Major League club or clubs. Time in military service and time on the disabled list is excluded.

Rule 5 Draft: A player not on a Major League 40-man roster as of November 20 is eligible for the Rule 5 Draft if the player was 18 years of age or younger when he first signed a professional contract and this is the fourth Rule 5 Draft held since he signed. Or if the player was 19 years of age or older when he first signed a professional contract and this is the third Rule 5 Draft held since he signed.

Save Rule: Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:
- He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
- He is not the winning pitcher; and
- He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  1. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or
  2. He enters the game, regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either already on base, at bat, or on deck, or
  3. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

Slugging Percentage: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total number of at-bats.

Suspended Game: In the Carolina League, any regular season game that is called before it is completed or is called at any point with the score tied shall become a suspended game. In accordance with Official Rule 4.12 (c), a suspended game must be resumed and completed from the exact point of suspension and must be played the number of innings it was originally scheduled to include. If the suspended game is called before becoming a regulation game (before the fifth inning), the regular game following the suspended game shall be a seven-inning game. If the suspended game is called after becoming a regulation game (from the fifth on), the regular game following the suspended game shall be a nine-inning game. Attendance reporting from suspended game shall reflect the number of fans present when the contest started, not when it was completed and does not qualify as a lost opening.

Waivers: If a player placed on Major League waivers is not claimed by another team after two (2) business days after waivers have been requested, the player has "cleared waivers" and the team has secured waivers for the remainder of the waiver period. The team then can send him to the Minor Leagues, trade him to another team (even if the trade deadline has passed), or do nothing at all. Any trades involving a 40-man roster player from July 31 (the trade deadline) to the end of the season may only involve players who have cleared Major League waivers. If a player does not clear waivers- he is claimed by another team or teams- the club requesting waivers may withdraw the waiver request. If the club does not withdraw the waiver request, the player's contract is assigned as follows: If only one claim is entered, the player's contract is assigned to the claiming club; if more than one club in the same league makes a claim, the club currently lower in the standings gets the player; if clubs in both leagues claim the player, preference shall always go the club in the same league as the club requesting waivers.

Winning Pitcher: The starting pitcher will be credited with the win only if he has pitched at least five complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. When the starting pitcher does not meet the preceding criteria and more than one relief pitcher is used, the victory shall be awarded on the following basis:
- When, during the tenure of the starting pitcher, the winning team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game, credit the victory to the relief pitcher judged by the scorer to have been the most effective.
- Whenever the score is tied, the game becomes a new contest insofar as the winning and losing pitcher is concerned.
- Once the opposing team assumes the lead, all pitchers who have pitched up to that point are excluded from being credited with the victory except the current pitcher.
- The winning relief pitcher shall be the one who is the pitcher of record when his team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game.

Anti-inflammatory: Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.
Arthrogram: X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the effected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Won best-of-five series over Down East, 3-2

The Fayetteville Woodpeckers carried their inagural season into the 2019 postseason with a 3-2 series victory over the Down East Wood Ducks, earning the Carolina League South championship. In a double-header at Segra Stadium on September 4th, the Woodpeckers recovered from a 3-0 shutout loss in Game One with a 3-0 victory in the night cap. Austin Hansen and Humberto Castellanos combined for the 7-inning shutout while Jeremy Pena provided a big two-run home run in the bottom of the third inning to even the series. Another double-header split followed on September 7th, as Down East walked off Game Three in the bottom of the eighth inning on a Yohel Pozo RBI single off Riley Cabral. With the season on the line, Fayetteville took the second game behind a 6-inning 10-strikeout performace from Luis Garcia, forcing a Game Five in Kinston. In the only nine-inning game of the series, Fayetteville trailed 1-0 until Chandler Taylor evened the game with a solo HR in the sixth inning. Marty Costes jumped Fayetteville ahead with a two-run double in the 7th, and David Hensley helped ice the series with a two-run single en route to the 6-3 victory and a trip to the Carolina League Championship Series.

Lost best-of-five series to Wilmington, 3-2

Fayetteville's inaugural campaign came one win shy of capping off a miracle season as the Woodpeckers fell in five games to the Wilmington Blue Rocks in the 2019 Carolina League Championship...David Hensley (3-for-5) and Michael Reed (2-for-5) paced the top of the lineup in Game One, helping the Woodpeckers to a 3-1 victory. Wilmington evened the series with a come-from-behind three-run 7th inning in Game Two as the series traveled to Segra Stadium. Hensely again left his mark on the series with a go-ahead two-run double in the sixth inning to take Game Three by a 2-1 score. Nivaldo Rodriguez delivered one of the shining pitching performances of the series, a quality start with seven strikeouts over six innings of work. Only one win shy of a league crown, the Woodpeckers offense ran a ground, getting shutout on consecitive nights. MJ Melendez homered in Game 4 to help lock up a 2-0 victory for the Blue Rocks and force an all-deciding Game Five. In the winner-take-all game at Segra Stadium Dennicher Carrasco broke up a scoreless tie in the fourth inning with a solo HR off Luis Garcia and Nick Pratto's RBI double in the ninth capped another 2-0 victory and a come-from-behind effort from Wilmington to take the Carolina League Championship.

2024 SEASON

FAYETTEVILLE PRO BASEBALL HISTORY

The 2019 inagural season for the Fayetteville Woodpeckers and the grand opening of Segra Stadium marked the arrival of the first minor leafue affiliated team in the area in over 20 years since the days of the Fayetteville Generals and Cape Fear Crocs. Prior to the Generals era, the history of professional baseball in Fayetteville dates back much further to the early 1900's. Local historians have been able to piece together the story of Fayetteville baseball through newspaper archives and eyewitness accounts.

The history of minor league baseball in the Fayetteville area dates back to at least 1909, when the Class D Fayetteville Highlanders joined the Eastern Carolina League, playing at Cape Fear Fairgrounds Park in 1909 and 1911. The ballpark was located on Gillespie Street in Fayetteville. The site has a marker for a Babe Ruth home run believed to be his first professional home-run hit in a March 1914 Spring Training game for the Baltimore Orioles, then a minor league franchise. During the 1910 season, the Highlanders captured the Eastern Carolina League championship with Olympic Champion and Pro Football Hall of Famer Jim Thorpe as a member of the roster and Charles C.A. Clancy as the reported manager of the team.

With the rise of World War I, the Highlanders ended operations until 1928. North Carolina Governor Bickett pronounced himself against professional baseball at the time saying, "The man who is able to play professional baseball ought to be either in a trench or in a furrow." In 1928-29 the Fayetteville Highlanders returned to the Class D Eastern Carolina League and featured future Pittsburgh Pirates infielder Pep Young during the 1928 season and Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher Van Mugo in 1929.

After another minor league hiatus in the 30's, the Fayetteville Cubs in 1946-48 took shape as an affiliate all three seasons for the major league Chicago Cubs. The Cubs competed in the Class D Coastal Plain League in its inaugural year and shifted to the Class B Tri-State League for the 1947-48 campaigns. In 1950, Fayetteville joined the Class B Carolina Baseball League and operated as a farm team of the Philadelphia Athletics, playing in its fourth league since 1946. The Fayetteville Hilanders (correct spelling for the 1953 to 1956 team) returned from 1953-56 as part of the Class B Carolina League. Fayetteville became a Baltimore affiliate in 1955 and a Cleveland affiliate in 1956, defeating Danville in a best-of-seven championship series to win the title. The 1956 championship to this day is the last one won by a professional baseball team in Fayetteville. After the championship the Hilanders folded the following season.

Fayetteville had a 31 year absence from minor league baseball which ended in 1987 when the Fayetteville Generals, a Detroit Tigers affiliate, joined the Class A South Atlantic League. Charles Padgett, Don Koonce, and Jimmy Bunce paid $500,000 for the franchise that struggled financially until the 1989 season but then posted several positive years financially and with attendance in the early 90's. The Fayetteville Generals' uniformes were featured in the movie "Bull Durham." They also helped develop a number of major league players to include Travis Fryman, Juan Encarnacion, Frank Caralanotto, Gabe Kapler and others, before the end of their 10-year association in 1996. During the first season of the Generals, Fayetteville also opened the gates of newly constructed J.P. Riddle Stadium. Still standing today, it has a seating capacity of about 2,500 and was the home of all professional baseball in Fayetteville until the construction of Segra Stadium.

The next team to play in Fayetteville was the Cape Fear Crocs who arrived in 1997, an affiliate of the Montreal Expos. Some of the young Crocs' players who went on to the major leagues included Milton Bradley, Brandon Phillips, Cliff Lee and Brian Schneider. The Cape Fear Crocs won the 1999 second-half Northern Division title, but were unable to claim a South Atlantic League Championship during their history. The downfall of the Crocs was facility deficiencies and sagging attendance, resulting in the franchise being sold and moved to Lakewood, New Jersey.

The Fayetteville Swamp Dogs kept baseball alive in the years that followed. Founded in 2001, the independent franchise competed in the wooden-bat Coastal Plain League. Big league alumi include pitcher David Aardsma, slugger Mark Reynolds, pitcher Carter Capps and outfielder Andy Dirks. The team announced on October 3, 2019 that they would sit out the 2020 Coastal Plain League season and relocate afterwards, having failed to reach a new lease agreement at J. P. Riddle Stadium

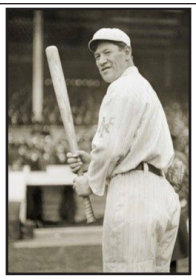

In August of 2016, a two-team expansion of the Carolina League was approved and the Fayetteville City Counsil approved plans to build a new stadium by 2019. The startup franchise played as the Buies Creek Astros in 2017-18 and played its home games at Jim Perry Stadium on the campus of Campbell University, winning a Carolina League Championship in 2018. The Woodpeckers then took over the newest era of baseball in 2019.
