Q8A WITH BRAVES PROSPECTS GURU DAVID LEE

By: Rylan Kobre

Nobody is more plugged into Braves prospects than David Lee. His website. BravesProspects.com is the go-to source for all things happening in the Braves Minor League system. We sat down with him to get his thoughts on a couple of different GreenJackets this year.

Q: Vaughn Grissom has been so impressive. What have you seen from him?

"He was definitely one that was circled to really focus on coming into the year. The Braves obviously like him a lot. You can tell by the over slot bonus they gave him in the 11th round a couple years ago, and by having him participate in the summer camp a year ago. The inward evaluation is pretty high for them. What really stands out is, for his age, it's a very advanced eye. He makes a lot of contact.

It's a good simple balanced swing. He knows the zone very well...As the season has gone on, I've said, it's just a matter of time before his power will come around."

Q: Joey Estes is another young guy. What do you think about the strides he has made?

"He was another guy I circled early to keep track of... First and foremost, great athlete, great frame, he already has the size and strength for his age. Fastball is in the mid-90s and has some good riding action up in the zone. He combines that with a good breaking ball. He also will mix in an occasional changeup...Put that all together and you have a very interesting arm there as well."

Q: Who has been a sleeper for you on this Augusta roster that has surprised you?

"I'll go back to Roddery Munoz, and I've already graded him pretty high. It really was on the first outing he had this season when he came up, he came on to the scene pretty loudly. With hitting mid-to-upper 90s with pretty good ease, coming from a long, whippy, arm action. Great arm speed. He'll flash a pretty good breaking ball. A decent, firm changeup...definitely one to keep an eye on there."

FIVE NUMBERS TO WATCH

By: Rylan Kobre

As the GreenJackets head into the final 36 games of the year, they'll look to finish off the season with a bang. Here's are five stats that have stuck out so far in 2021.

The month of July featured plenty of homers. The Jackets hit 28 of them for the month. Landon Stephens led the power surge for the GreenJackets hitting five. Victor De Hoyos and Stephen Paolini each hit four home runs.

That was the average for Vaughn Grissom in the month of July. The right-handed bat could not be stopped. He went 18-for-42 at the plate and only struck out six times. Grissom also hit three home runs and had six RBIs.

Joey Estes has been the GreenJackets ace, and his 67.1 innings are in the top five of the Low-A East League. Pitching at only 19-years-old, Estes has been terrific so far this season with a 2.81 ERA through the month of July.

A 4.28 ERA among starting pitchers has been one reason why the GreenJackets have been in so many close games this year. While Darius Vines and Spencer Strider were called up, it's been right-handers such as Estes and Tanner Gordon that has paced the staff through the first three months of the year.

That's the number of walks Cade Bunnell has racked up through August 1st. He leads the Low-A East league with that number. Bunnell has been a walk machine all year, grinding through at-bats in the leadoff spot for the GreenJackets. He's also been hitting for power. He has led Augusta in home runs for nearly the whole season.
