MEET THE FUTURE

BY MITCHELL SPELTZ

The 2022 MLB Draft is officially in the books with the Atlanta Braves making 22 selections during the 20-round draft. Here are some of the prospects you'll want to know as you may see them as GreenJackets soon!

Round 1: RHP Owen Murphy (Riverside Brookfield High School)

- The first-round selection is an excellent athlete who sparks intrigue because of his two-way ability as a pitcher and hitter. Murphy projects long-term as a pitcher but the plan is for him to begin his career as a two-way player to see if there is long-term potential as a rare species in baseball.

Round 1 Competitive Balance: RHP JR Ritchie (Bainbridge High School) - The Braves acquired this pick from the Kansas City Royals for prospects Drew Waters, Andrew Hoffman, and CJ Alexander. Ritchie is the top prep prospect from the state of Washington who draws interest with a mid-90s fastball and a slider that projects well at the next level with development.

Round 2: RHP Cole Phillips (Boerne High School) - Phillips was the third consecutive prep, right-hander the Braves selected to begin the draft and he comes to the organization with a very high ceiling. Phillips has a fastball in the high-90s that could reach triple figures at some point with a sharp slider. He fell a bit in the draft and could've gone higher but he blew out his elbow in the spring and is recovering from Tommy John Surgery, but when he returns, he could pay significant dividends.

Round 2 Competitive Balance: RHP Blake Burkhalter (Auburn) - Burkhalter was the highest selected reliever in the draft and the Braves picked him after a season where he was one of the premier closers in college baseball. The Auburn, right-hander was second in the country in saves with 16 with a dominant run in the postseason to help the Tigers reach the College World Series in Omaha. Burkhalter was coached under former Braves pitcher, Tim Hudson.

Round 3: C Drake Baldwin (Missouri State) - The Braves selected one of the best offensive catchers in the draft with Baldwin who slugged 19 home runs and 70 RBIs with a .341 average in 2022 at Missouri State. The native of Madison, Wisconsin leaves college with the potential to become a strong defender as well as he posted a fielding percentage of .994, the best in program history.

Round 4: 1B/3B David McCabe (UC-Charlotte) - A tremendous power bat who had 16 home runs in his final season at Charlotte with 52 RBIs. The Canadian native also brings positional versatility in the infield as a third and first baseman and has a chance to make an immediate impact in affiliated baseball.

DRAKE BALDWIN

DAVID McCABE

Round 5: 3B Ignacio Alvarez (Riverside City College) - A junior college prospect who nearly moved on from baseball as a result of the pandemic. Instead, he continued his college baseball journey and put-up outstanding numbers in his final season with a .370 batting average, 44 RBIs, 26 extra-base hits, and an OPS of 1.076.

Round 6: RHP Seth Keller (Hanover High School) - A high school pitcher from Mechanicville, Virginia garnered attention from scouts in his senior year of high school as he was the Player of the Year in Virginia. He showcased a consistent, three-pitch mix that could lead to effectiveness as a starter at the next level after working mostly as a reliever to begin his high school career.

Round 7: RHP Adam Maier (Oregon) - A transfer from the University of British in Columbia in Canada who was the Friday night starter for the Ducks but lost the majority of his season due to injury after just three starts. Maier comes to the Braves organization with a pair of strong breaking balls that could project well to the pros once he recovers from his injury.

Round 8: RHP Jason Franks (Cal Poly) - Made a huge impact for Cal Poly as the team's closer in 2022 with 11 saves and 69 strikeouts. Appeared in just four games in 2021 and was a part of the club team at Cal Poly prior to that but the development of his fastball helped him dominate his final year with the Mustangs.

Round 9: IF Cory Acton (Georgia) - Began his career at the University of Florida before transferring to SEC Rival Georgia where he had his best college season. Was the everyday second baseman for the Bulldogs and batted .266 as he helped the team reach the NCAA Tournament where he performed well in the Chapel Hill Regional.

Round 10: C Andrew Keck (Southeast Missouri State) - Keck showed great power this past season for Southeast Missouri State with 17 home runs and 68 RBIs. Possess some athleticism also as he's showcased the ability to play the outfield.

MEET THE FUTURE CON'T

Round 11: RHP Ian Mejia (New Mexico State) - Originally drafted by the Mets out of high school in 2018, Mejia found himself at New Mexico State after starting his career at Arizona. Was the ace of the pitching staff for the Aggies and threw over 100 innings this past season as the team made a run to the NCAA Tournament.

Round 12: 1B Justin Janas (Illinois) - Janas was a top performer in the Big Ten at Illinois in his two seasons with the Fighting Illini as he was a First-Team All-Conference Selection as a Freshman and Second-Team as a Sophomore in 2022. Janas put together an unbelievable summer ball season in the Northwoods League in 2021 where he batted .402 in 47 games with 43 RBIs and an OPS of 1.031, leading him to be named a league All-Star.

Round 13: RHP Cedric De Grandpre (Chipola JC) - A dominant Junior College arm who fanned 48 batters in 37 innings with a 1.69 ERA in 18 appearances. A Canadian native stood out in the MLB Draft League with the West Virginia Black Bears who caught the attention of scouts with a dominant sinker that led him to be selected by Atlanta.

Round 14: RHP Landon Harper (Southern Mississippi) - Began his career at Pearl River Community College for two seasons before transferring to Southern Mississippi where he put together a great season. Harper struck 50 batters in just over 43 innings on the mound and led the team with 12 saves thanks to a high-velocity fastball and strong slider to get swings and misses.

Round 15: RHP William Silva (Miami-Dade College) - Had a breakout season at the Junior College Level by winning the Pitcher of the Year award in his conference in 2022. The development of his two-seam fastball along with his slider and change-up propelled him to a strong season, and ultimately a draft selection by the Braves.

Round 16: SS EJ Exposito (Long Island University) - Teammate of current GreenJackets pitcher, Rob Griswold in 2021. Finished 2022 as a Second-Team selection in the NEC. Stood-out at the MLB Draft League with the Trenton Thunder as he hit over .300 in his time there and was excellent defensively at shortstop and second base.

Round 17: OF Kevin Kilpatrick (College of Central Florida) - Kilpatrick has been a confident hitter no matter where he's been. At the College of Central Florida, Kilpatrick batted .347 in 2022 with 3 home runs and 22 RBIs but garnered attention after a terrific summer of 2021 in the Northwoods Leagues as he flashed with a wood bat, becoming a league All-Star with 6 HRs and 44 RBIs and an OPS of .889.

Round 18: OF Noah Williams (Redondo Union High School) - A switch-hitting outfielder who had not made a commitment to any college university. Another strong athlete who has raw tools to excel, but bring plenty of intrigue as he flashes in all aspects of his game.

Round 19: OF Christian Jackson (Dutchtown High School) - Jackson is a local product from Stockbridge, Georgia who had plans to attend Georgia State before signing with the Braves. A utility player who projects to be an outfielder in the Braves system as he comes to the organization as a tremendous athlete.

Round 20: SS Keshawn Ogans (California) - Started every game for the Golden Bears in 2022 and finished the season on the Brooks Wallace Watch List for the best shortstop in the country. Good all-around player who was an Honorable Mention in the Pac-12 and is a strong defender as he was fourth in the league in assists with 155.
