A Week at Home

The Fightin Phils remain home and finish a six-game series against the Binghamton Rumble Ponies, Double-A affiliate of the New York Mets. It is the 12th-of-18 matchups between the teams and sixth-of-12 at FirstEnergy Stadium in Reading. Reading and Binghamton first met from June 2-7 at Mirabito Stadium in Binghamton and the Rumble Ponies took five-of-six games, holding a 6-5 edge in the season-series. Following this week, Binghamton returns to Reading from Aug. 25-30 for the final matchup of the season between the teams.

Doubleheader Split and a Series Win

The Reading Fightin Phils split Saturday's doubleheader with the Binghamton Rumble Ponies, dropping the opener 10-5 before bouncing back with a 5-4 victory in game two to clinch the six-game series and remain atop the Eastern League standings. Binghamton slugged five home runs in the opener, including two from Nick Lorusso, who drove in five runs, while D'Andre Smith also added a three-run blast. Bryan Rincon, Alex Binelas and Caleb Ricketts each homered for Reading, but the early deficit proved too much to overcome. The Fightins responded in game two with an outstanding all-around performance, scoring twice in the first before Pedro León and Aaron Escobar launched home runs in the third to build a 5-0 lead. Escobar reached base in all three plate appearances, while Braydon Tucker delivered one of his best starts of the season, carrying a perfect game into the fifth inning before finishing with one hit allowed over five scoreless innings and five strikeouts. Binghamton mounted a late comeback with four runs over the final two innings, highlighted by Billy Amick's two-run homer, but Jack Dallas limited the damage in the sixth and Christian McGowan closed out the seventh for the save. Tucker earned his seventh win of the season as Reading secured its fifth victory in six games against Binghamton and maintained first place in the Eastern League.

Putting the Fightin in Fightins

Entering play this week, the Fightin Phils had not won a game when trailing entering the ninth inning and they have now won twice this week when trailing after eight innings (Wednesday and Friday). Wednesday night's win marked the first time this season that the Fightin Phils have won a game when trailing entering the ninth inning, as they were previously 0-44, which included an 0-22 mark at home. Reading had also just one walk off win (Apr. 9 vs Hartford) entering this week and they have two walk-off victories on Wednesday and Friday this week.

First Place Fightins

Following Saturday night's win, the Fightin Phils now hold a two-game lead for first place in the Eastern League's Northeast Division and are tied for the second-best record in the Eastern League since the season flipped to the season half on June 23. Reading holds a two-game lead on second place Portland and the teams meet one more time from Aug. 18-23 in Portland. This marks the latest in the season that the Fightin Phils have been in first place since they finished the 2019 second half with a 41-31 record, which clinched the second half division title that season.

Hammering Homers

After hitting five home runs on Saturday, the Fightin Phils have hit 132 home runs this season, which is 14 clear of their total for all of 2025 (118). Reading is second in the Eastern League in home runs, trailing only Somerset (147). The Fightin Phils are currently on pace for 180 home runs this season, which would be their most since slugging 185 in 2016. Alex Binelas leads Reading with 22 home runs, while Bryan Rincon (18) and Raylin Heredia (17) are shortly behind him. Four different Fightins hitters have slugged at least 10 homers, with Bryson Ware (13) and being the other one. Before Binelas, the last time a Fightin Phil slugged 20 home runs in a season was Carlos De La Cruz (24) and Oliver Dunn (21) in 2023.

A Strong July

The Fightin Phils finished July with a winning record at 14-9, marking their first winning month of the 2026 season. Entering the 102nd game of the season, the R-Phils are 50-51, while they were 38-63 after 100 games last season. Reading won their 50th game on September 3 of 2025, so this year's team is over one month ahead of last year's team's pace.

Five-of-Six?

With a win on Sunday, the Fightin Phils would take five-of-six games in a series for the first time in 2026 and the first time since Aug. 5-10, 2025, at New Hampshire. It would mark the seventh time that the R-Phils have won five games in a six-game series since the current six-game series format began in 2021. The other instances are: June 8-13, 2021 (vs Hartford), Aug. 24-29, 2021 (at Portland), May 10-15, 2022 (vs Bowie), Aug. 1-6, 2023 (at Hartford) and May 7-12, 2024 (vs Hartford).

This Day in Baseballtown History

August 2, 2019: At Reading, prospect Spencer Howard makes his home debut, allowing two runs over 3.1 innings of work as Reading defeats Altoona 5-3. Josh Stephen had two hits, a double and triple, in the win.

Ponies Rumbling Into Baseballtown

Binghamton enters play today with an Eastern-League worst 37-64 record, along with a 10-22 mark in the second half, which is last in the Eastern League's Northeast Division. Binghamton, the reigning Eastern League Champions, split a series at home against Portland last week and return home following this week to welcome Hartford. The Rumble Ponies roster features five of the New York Mets top-30 prospects (MLB Pipeline): Mitch Voit (5), Will Watson (11), Eli Serrano III (12), Chris Suero (13) and R.J. Gordon (30).

Ponies Pitcher

Lefty Felipe De La Cruz makes his 25th appearance and first start of the season tonight for Binghamton. This season, De La Cruz is 1-2, with a 2.76 ERA (10 ER, 32.2 IP), along with 45 strikeouts (12.40 SO/9.0 IP). De La Cruz fired 1.2 innings on Wednesday, allowing two runs on two hits, along with three strikeouts. De La Cruz has also made three appearances with Syracuse (AAA) this season, and he split 2025 between Binghamton and Syracuse. The 25-year old signed with the Mets as an International Free Agent in 2021 out of the Dominican Republic.
