LAST GAME

The Bowie Baysox won their first game of the season in a slugfest with the Richmond Flying Squirrels on Saturday, fighting through three lead changes to an 11-6 final. Bowie plated six runs in the seventh inning, but the key performance belonged to Hudson Haskin. The Bowie outfielder matched a Baysox record by smacking three home runs, becoming just the sixth player in team history to do so. Making his debut in the Orioles organization, left-handed pitcher Antonio Velez made an excellent first impression. After being traded over from the Marlins less than one week ago, Velez spun four scoreless innings while striking out seven batters. Bowie was able to lean on Ryan Conroy to highlight the game out of the pen, getting two scoreless innings from the right-hander to close the day.

TODAY'S OPPONENT

In the early goings of 2022, Binghamton has been hot on one end of the field, but not so hot on the other, leading to a 1-2 start. The Rumble Ponies .301 batting average is good for the second highest in the league, (Richmond hit .303 against Bowie in their Opening Weekend series) while their five home runs are tied for the most in the league. It was a slugfest for Binghamton against Hartford in their season-opening series, as the two teams exited the weekend ranked second and first in both slugging percentage and OPS, respectively. On the mound, Binghamton's 25 runs allowed is already the most in the league, but Bowie is not too far behind at 22. The two sides are having opposite issues with their pitching staffs, however, as Binghamton's starters have a 14.00 ERA, highest in the league, against Bowie's 3.18. From relievers, Bowie's 10.34 ERA is the highest in the league, nearly double Binghamton's 5.63.

TODAY'S OPPOSING STARTER

Right-hander Alec Kisena is a former Tigers farmhand and indy ball arm that has been in the Mets organization since 2019. The Seattle native only made nine career appearances in the Tigers system, the team that drafted him in 2015, before missing all of 2016 with an injury, and eventually spending two seasons with the Gateway Grizzlies in the independent Frontier League. After spending 2019 primarily as a reliever at the Single-A levels, some of his numbers ticked up in 2021 when he shifted into starting roles, including a rise of 2.1 in his K/9. Kisena made two appearances with Binghamton at the end of 2021, allowing five earned runs and a home run in six innings.

HASKIN LEADS THE CHARGE

Bowie outfielder Hudson Haskin has already made a big impact at the plate for Bowie, smacking a career-high three doubles at the plate on Opening Day, and going yard three times on Sunday for his first career multi-home run game. In the early portions of the season, Haskin already leads Minor League Baseball in slugging percentage (1.583) and his three home runs is tied for the lead with seven others. Haskin is ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. He was named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MiLB.com for his 2021 season, but did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August.

GET IT OUT OF THE WAY EARLY

Bowie has taken the early lead in the Eastern League for most walks allowed in a game, as they gave Richmond 10 free passes Saturday, including five walks after the seventh inning. Bowie only recorded double-digit walks in a game twice in 2021, walking 10 against Reading on 5/15, and walking 13, the highest single game total in the league, against New Hampshire on 6/22. Currently, Bowie's 14 walks allowed is the second-most in the league, trailing Somerset's 16. Bowie rebounded with precision on Sunday, only allowing one walk in their first win of the season.

THE TOP STORY

For the first time, the Orioles have been selected as the best farm system in baseball by MLB Pipeline, including five players among the Top-100 Overall Prospects list. The publication cited how EVP Mike Elias, "revamped their Minor League operations, invested heavily in the Draft and began making splashes in the international market for the first time." during his current tenure to bring Baltimore on the cusp of contention again. In slight contrast to the top marks from MLB Pipeline, Baseball America has listed Baltimore as the fourth-best organization in baseball, trailing Seattle, Tampa Bay, and Pittsburgh. Baseball America lists a slightly lighter amount of depth in the Orioles system compared to its higher rankings, but still notes Baltimore as holding both the top pitching prospect in the game (Grayson Rodriguez) and the top overall prospect in the game. (Adley Rutschman) In 2017, prior to Mike Elias' tenure, Baseball America listed Baltimore as having the 27th-ranked organization in baseball.

Career Notes

- Initially drafted by the Angels in the sixth round of the 2019 draft out of Winthrop, but did not appear in a game for the organization before being dealt to Baltimore
- Full Trade: (Dec. 4, 2019) Orioles receive: RHP Isaac Mattson, RHP Kyle Bradish, RHP Kyle Brnovich and RHP Zach Peek. Angels receive: RHP Dylan Bundy
- Friday starter at Winthrop for his junior campaign, leading both Winthrop and the Big South Conference with 91 strikeouts. Also logged eight quality starts.
- Earned a four-inning save in his High-A debut in 2021, despite allowing four runs. Had an 8-1 lead, to still win 8-5. Also struck out seven batters in his four innings.

What They're Saying:

Peek, on offseason improvements: "Before last spring training my offseason goal was to move better with the lower half...move better with the hips. This offseason my goal was to be more rotational into arm path. Last year my arm was climbing a little bit with the elbow so I'd get to a point so then my elbow would come up and then down, so we just worked on smoothing that out to have more of a rotational movement." (Baltimore Sports and Life)

Player Notes

After the first weekend of the season, Haskin led all of Minor League Baseball with a slugging percentage of 1.583, thanks to an career-high three doubles on Opening Day, and a historic three home run day on the third day of the season. // Haskin's three home runs were just the sixth time in franchise history that a Baysox player collected three home runs in a game, and the first since Tucker Nathans on 5/13/17. // Haskin joked that the meal he had with infielder Gunnar Henderson at Olive Garden the night before was the lone difference in his usual routine, mentioning they shared a cheesecake. // Ranked as the Orioles #16 prospect entering the 2022 season according to MLB Pipeline, #22 according to Baseball America. // Named the Orioles Organization All-Star in the outfield by MiLB.com for his 2021 season. // Did not get to see the full season due to a thumb fracture in late August. // Played 26 games at Aberdeen, 57 at Delmarva. // Despite only playing 83 games, his 22 steals were good for fifth-most in the organization while his .381 OBP was fourth-best among qualified hitters. // Split his power over the two halves of his season. He hit all five of his home runs in his first 41 games of the season, and none in the remaining 42 games, including his entire stint with Aberdeen. // Previously drafted by Oakland in the 2018 draft out of high school, but elected not to sign. // Graduated from Avon Old Farms School, a notable all-male boarding school in Connecticut with many notable alumni, including 2017 World Series MVP George Springer, World Series-winning pitching coach Juan Nieves, and Hockey Hall of Famer and Stanley Cup Champion Brian Leetch. // Broke Springer's school record for stolen bases at Avon Old Farms. // Swing draws comparisons to Hunter Pence, but eliminated a leg kick from his swing that was used throughout his time at Tulane.

Coaching Staff

Manager: Kyle Moore

The 2022 season will be the 13th season for Moore in the Orioles organization. He played 29 games over two seasons (2010-11) before becoming a coach. He spent three seasons as a player/coach (2013 Frederick Keys, 2014 Bowie Baysox, 2015 Delmarva Shorebirds) before being named as the Shorebirds hitting coach in 2016 and the Keys hitting coach in 2017. Moore signed as a non-drafted free agent with the Orioles in 2010 after playing collegiately at the University of Alabama. As a high schooler, he starred at Edgewood Academy (AL), where he won three AISA state baseball championships. Kyle, his wife Whitney and their daughter Madilyn reside in Sarasota, FL.

Hitting Coach: Branden Becker

Becker was drafted by the Orioles in the 17th round of the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft in 2015 and played parts of four seasons in the organization before retiring in May, 2019. He rejoined the Orioles as the Fundamentals Coach for the IronBirds for the 2020 season before it was canceled. He served as the Hitting Coach for the Complex League Orioles in 2021.

Pitching Coach: Josh Conway

Conway was selected in the fourth round of the 2012 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft by the Chicago Cubs out of Coastal Carolina. He played three seasons with the Cubs organization, making it to Double-A in 2016. The Smithburg, Md native returned to the Chanticleers to complete his undergraduate degree and served as a student assistant and assistant pitching coach before joining the Orioles.
