FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS

On Wednesday, January 12, 2011, Trevor Hoffman announced his retirement, following an 18-year Major League career that included parts of 16 seasons with the San Diego Padres.

Major League Baseball's all-time saves leader with 601 in 677 opportunities, Hoffman completed his career with a 61-75 record, 2.87 ERA (347 ER/1089.1 IP), .211 opponent batting average and 1,133 strikeouts in 1,035 relief appearances. The seven-time all-star (1998, 99, 2000, 02, 06, 07, 09) also finished in the top 10 in Cy Young voting (1996, 98, 99, 2006) and in the top 25 in Most Valuable Player voting (1996, 98, 2005, 06) on four occasions each.

Originally signed as a shortstop by the Cincinnati Reds out of the 1989 First-Year Player Draft, Hoffman was then selected by the Marlins in the 1992 Expansion Draft and made his Big League debut with Florida in 1993. He was acquired by the San Diego Padres along with right-handed pitchers Jose Martinez and Andres Berumen in exchange for infielder Gary Sheffield and left-handed pitcher Rich Rodriguez on June 24, 1993 and made his Padres debut the next day.

Over his 16 seasons with San Diego, Hoffman compiled a 54-64 record with 552 saves in 618 opportunities (.893 save percentage), a 2.76 ERA (292 ER/952.1 IP), .211 opponent batting average and 1,029 strikeouts in 902 relief appearances.

A California native and San Diego resident, Hoffman has been heavily involved in the local community since first joining the Padres in 1993. He has worked extensively with the National Kidney Foundation and Rady Children's Hospital, while also donating his time and resources to the Padres Scholars program, the San Diego Family Justice Center and numerous military outreach programs. Hoffman was named the local recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award on six occasions and was honored with both the Lou Gehrig Award and Teammates for Kids Award in 2006. In addition, he received the Hutch Award in 2005 and was named the 1999 recipient of the Padres Chairman's Award.

TEAMWORK IN THE COMMUNITY

PADRES FOUNDATION COMMUNITY VISION

The San Diego Padres and the Padres Foundation are community assets, committed to making a meaningful and enduring impact on youth in the areas of health, education, and baseball/softball.

We are guided in this mission to inspire youth to LIVE a healthy life, LEARN, and PLAY by:

- INVESTING in efforts that support youth in the San Diego and Baja regions.
- BUILDING community pride through positive connections with fans, players and Padres staff.
- LEADING the community through relevant and visible programs and partnerships.

PADRES FOUNDATION
LIVE * LEARN * PLAY

Established in 1995, the Padres Foundation for Children operates as a fund of The San Diego Foundation, a nonprofit public charity. The foundation is the primary source of funding for FriarFit, Cindy Matters Fund, Padres Scholars and the Little Padres Parks program. Fans may contribute through a number of foundation fundraising activities, including the annual Awards Dinner, Scoreboard Surprises (in-ballpark scoreboard messages), an online memorabilia auction, the annual Garage Sale, and the annual “Shirts Off Their Backs” fundraiser.

CONNECTING WITH OUR COMMUNITY

The Padres remain committed to reaching out and serving the many diverse communities in the San Diego region. Additionally, the club has established and maintains outreach programs in each of its minor league affiliate cities around the country. The Padres were the first MLB team to implement a community affairs program in the town of Najayo, home to the organization’s world-class baseball training facility in the Dominican Republic.

MILITARY: The Padres are proud to be the “Team of the Military” and celebrate San Diego’s rich military history by hosting an annual “Military Opening Day” (Sunday, April 10 vs. Los Angeles), arranging player appearances at military bases, providing complimentary tickets to Marine recruits and those service members returning home from deployment, wearing Marine digital camouflage jerseys at every Sunday home game, offering military appreciation pricing on tickets, and by conducting on-field re-enlistment ceremonies, in addition to many other outreach programs.

PADRES IN THE COMMUNITY

Continuing in 2011, the Padres will honor each branch of the Armed Forces with special Branch Appreciation games.

- US NAVY CELEBRATION - Sunday, May 22 vs. Seattle
- US ARMY BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION - Sunday, June 12 vs. Washington
- US MARINE CORPS CELEBRATION - Sunday, June 26 vs. Atlanta
- US COAST GUARD CELEBRATION - Sunday, July 31 vs. Colorado
- CALIFORNIA NATIONAL GUARD CELEBRATION - Sunday, August 21 vs. Florida
- US AIR FORCE CELEBRATION - Sunday, September 18 vs. Arizona

For the past two years, the Padres have supported the San Diego community while honoring our military through a partnership with the Century Club of San Diego and sponsorship of the Farmers Insurance Open at Torrey Pines Golf Course. The Padres' involvement centered on the tournament's military events, including participation in the annual Military Appreciation Luncheon and sponsorship of the Military Appreciation Pavilion, located on the 14th green. The pavilion, open only to active duty military and their families, serves as a popular vantage point for the tournament, with hosted food and beverages.

A portion of the proceeds from military logo merchandise sold throughout the year will be donated to the San Diego Armed Services YMCA (ASYMCA), an organization that provides free programs to specifically address the stresses and needs of San Diego troops and their families. In 2010, the ASYMCA offered more than 40 free programs and served more than 8,000 military and their families each month.

MULTICULTURAL: San Diego is a culturally and ethnically diverse region. The Padres continue to reach out to fans south of the border through the Hispanic Community Leadership Council, broadcasting 162 games on Spanish-language radio, hosting a Spanish-language website (padresbeisbol.com), hosting player appearances throughout the county, and hosting special events at the ballpark, including Fiesta Mexicana (Friday, April 8 vs. Los Angeles). Additionally, the Padres will continue to host inner-city youth baseball clinics through our partnerships with STAR/PAL and the San Diego Hall of Champions, and will continue to celebrate Jackie Robinson Day and Salute to the Negro Leagues Day (Saturday, June 11 vs. Washington).

Fans living south of the border can also take advantage of "Ve a los Padres con los Padres", a program that provides fans with a game ticket and transportation to PETCO Park for Padres home games. In 2010, the Padres hosted 18 "Ve a los Padres con los Padres" bus trips, and in response to popular demand, 29 trips are planned for 2011. The Padres Store in Tijuana, Tienda de los Padres, serves as program host.

EMPLOYEE INVOLVEMENT: The Padres' pride and involvement in the community is demonstrated by ownership, uniformed personnel and the front office staff. From providing and distributing toys to enlisted families over the holidays to serving Thanksgiving meals, collecting pajamas for deserving charities and sitting on charitable boards, the Padres family is committed to being involved.

PAD SQUAD/SWINGING FRIAR: Established in 1996, the Pad Squad serves as the organization's "front-line ambassadors." Best known for interacting with fans at games, this group also serves a vital role in representing the club at various civic functions and community events. Together with the Swinging Friar mascot, Pad Squad members make more than 100 community appearances annually, in addition to their presence at 81 regular-season home games.

OUTREACH TEAM: Padres executives, current players and coaches, alumni, broadcasters and employees make hundreds of appearances annually, speaking to local groups and organizations.

LIVE

ENCOURAGING KIDS TO MAKE HEALTHY DECISIONS AND REACHING OUT TO CHILDREN BATTLING LIFE-THREATENING CONDITIONS

FRIARFIT: The Padres continue to work with the California Endowment, the San Diego Childhood Obesity Initiative, Sportservice and other partners to promote FriarFit, a comprehensive initiative promoting a healthy lifestyle for San Diego's youth. Efforts include offering healthy food options at the ballpark, conducting FriarFit "Instant Recess" breaks before every Sunday home game at PETCO Park, and hosting FriarFit teacher trainings at PETCO Park.

STAND UP TO CANCER (SU2C): In 2010, the Padres led the way by becoming the first team in Major League Baseball to partner with SU2C in a season-long fundraising and awareness campaign. Support of this ground-breaking organization culminated on September 25, when the outfield wall banners at PETCO Park were replaced with signed "Up 2" banners featuring more than 10,000 fan signatures and messages for those battling cancer. On November 15, 2010 the Padres donated more than $317,000 to SU2C, 100 percent of which was designated to collaborative cancer research.

CINDY MATTERS FUND/VIP PROGRAM: In memory of Cindy Matters, a special fan who lost her battle with cancer in 1997, the club and players continue to reach out to children facing life-threatening conditions, whether it's by inviting them for a "VIP" (Very Important Padre) experience at the ballpark or by visiting them in the hospital. Our VIPs are patients who need the opportunity to "just be kids" for an evening. These VIPs and their families visit with players on the field before the game, get autographs, receive a special gift from a Padres player and watch the game from a hosted suite. The Padres work through local organizations such as Rady Children's Hospital, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, and other healthcare providers to identify these special kids. Through the Padres Foundation's Cindy Matters Fund, the Padres hosted more than 90 VIPs in 2010 and since 1997, have donated more than $1.1 million to pediatric cancer research and care programs.

When the Rady Children's Hospital Acute Care Pavilion opened in October 2010, so did the San Diego Padres Blood Draw Room. The Padres sponsored the room, which, with the support and guidance of the hospital's medical staff, was designed to serve the medical needs of the young patients while taking their minds off the necessary medical procedure at hand. The room received full support from Padres Manager Bud Black and his wife, Nan, an infectious disease research nurse at Rady Children's Hospital.

MLB "GO BEYOND" HEALTH INITIATIVES: The club works in conjunction with and in support of Major League Baseball on league-wide events such as Mother's Day Breast Cancer Awareness, Father's Day Prostate Cancer Awareness, Stand Up To Cancer, PLAY (Promoting a Lifetime of Activity for Youth) and Play Smart in the Sun.

LEARN

PROMOTING EDUCATION AND RECOGNIZING THE REGION'S OUTSTANDING TEACHERS

PADRES SCHOLARS: Padres players and ownership invest annually in education and since 1995, the Padres Scholars program has raised more than $2.2 million in scholarship funds in support of 393 economically challenged and academically talented students. Padres Scholars must be enrolled in AVID (Advancement Via Individual Determination), an international college-preparatory program established in San Diego. Last year, the Padres modified the focus of the Padres Scholars program, honoring outstanding AVID high school seniors instead of awarding scholarships to eighth graders, as the program had done in the past. Three 2010 Padres Scholars are the first in their families to attend college and each received a $30,000 college scholarship. The 2011 program will continue rewarding standout high school seniors.

TEACHER APPRECIATION NIGHT: Each year the Padres host Teacher Appreciation Night at PETCO Park, when the club extends a discounted ticket offer to area teachers and salutes the newly-named District Teachers of the Year and reigning County Teachers of the Year. The Padres will host two Teacher Appreciation Nights in 2011 (Friday, May 6 vs. Arizona and Saturday, September 24 vs. LA Dodgers).

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC: As an extension of the club's $8.3 million investment in a state-of-the-art baseball facility in the Dominican Republic, the Padres are helping to improve the schools in the community surrounding the facility by providing advanced educational opportunities and health and fitness curriculum for children and families in and around the town of Najayo. In partnership with the baseball facility contractors and vendors, the Padres significantly improved one of the community's schools to ensure that students were receiving the highest quality education possible. The Padres are the only MLB team to employ a full-time community relations coordinator in the Dominican.

PLAY

GROWING THE GAMES OF BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL AND ENCOURAGING YOUTH PARTICIPATION IN SPORTS

LITTLE PADRES PARKS: Established in 1996, the Little Padres Parks program has built or refurbished Little League fields on both sides of the international border, providing a clean, safe place where youngsters can play baseball or softball. All of the LPP fields have Big League landscaping, scoreboards, and the club's signature palm trees placed beyond the outfield fence. There are currently 42 Little Padres Parks featured throughout San Diego and Imperial Counties and Tijuana, made possible by the support of the Padres Foundation and its landscape partner, The Brickman Group.

PADRES IN THE COMMUNITY

ORGANIZED YOUTH BASEBALL/SOFTBALL: The club highlights youth baseball and softball leagues through special days at PETCO Park, including PONY League Day (Sunday, April 10 vs. Los Angeles), ASA Softball Day (Saturday, April 23 vs. Philadelphia) and Little League Day (Sunday, May 22 vs. Seattle). The Padres also host annual coaches clinics at PETCO Park each January and February. In addition, for the past several years, the Padres have hosted a Youth Baseball/Softball Recognition Night, honoring all youth teams on both sides of the border that reached the highest possible level of competition in their league's age division.

The San Diego Madres, devoted adult fans who raise funds through monthly luncheons and auctions, also continue to support youth baseball and softball teams.

INNER-CITY YOUTH BASEBALL: The Padres encourage grass-roots interest and participation in baseball and softball through skill development clinics, sponsorship of inner-city sports programs like STAR/PAL (Sports, Training, Academics & Recreation/Police Athletic League) and the San Diego Hall of Champions' RBI Rookie League as well as by participating in the MLB Players Association Players Trust "Buses for Baseball" initiative and hosting Major League Baseball's "Pitch, Hit & Run" local competition.

GIVE

GIVING BACK TO OUR COMMUNITIES

In 2011 the Padres continue to make certain that local organizations benefit from meaningful and creative in-ballpark exposure, access to Padres players and unprecedented support. The 2011 charities all have missions that support the Padres Foundation's vision (LIVE, LEARN AND PLAY) and are proven active members of the San Diego community.

PLAYER PROGRAMS: Interaction between players and fans plays a vital role in the magic of baseball. Padres players remain active and involved in the community individually and also in support of the club's philanthropic initiatives. Player outreach ranges from individual volunteerism to participating in club-organized events like the Annual Awards Dinner, FanFest, Player Photo Day, Junior Padres Sunday Signings and other autograph sessions held throughout the community.

For more information on the Padres' community programs and outreach, visit www.padres.com/Community

PADRES GO GREEN: The San Diego Padres and its contracted partners, in collaboration and cooperation with Major League Baseball and Federal, State and local governmental agencies, are committed to the development, implementation and execution of the Green Initiative for PETCO Park. The Green Initiative is a comprehensive, proactive plan to save energy, encourage fans to recycle, and manage waste, including the recycling of landscape and food waste.

During his tenure, the Padres have won the National League West Championship four times (1996, 1998, 2005 and 2006). San Diego won the franchise's second NL Pennant in 1998. The team also reached the postseason in back-to-back years for the first time in club history in 2005 and 2006.
- In 1980, after working as an independent software consultant, Moores founded BMC Software, Inc., serving as its sole shareholder and first programmer. He wrote the initial, highly successful software products at BMC that improved mainframe computer operating system performances. Over time, he added to those programs and built BMC into a significant player in the computer software industry. He served as CEO of BMC until 1987 and chairman until 1992. Moores continues to be active in providing his creative talents for the development of computer software for many new start-up software companies.
- Moores' professional life has been complemented by his extensive humanitarian efforts, donating much of his personal wealth to a wide variety of causes globally. He has also been a major contributor to San Diego's sports, civic, cultural and educational communities.

JEFF MOORAD

VICE CHAIRMAN AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

- One of the most recognizable names in professional sports, Jeff Moorad brings more than 25 years of sports industry experience to San Diego. In February 2009, Moorad and a California-based group reached an agreement to purchase 100 percent ownership of the Padres over several years. Moorad was named Vice-Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, roles which he fills today.

- When Moorad was named a member of the executive team of the Arizona Diamondbacks in 2004, he brought a wealth of experience in Major League Baseball on the player side of the table. While with Arizona, Moorad was a general partner, chief executive officer, the spokesman for the D-backs' ownership group, and oversaw, along with Ken Kendrick, the day-to-day operations of the franchise.

- The founder of Moorad Sports Management, he began specializing in athlete representation in 1983, with his main focus on Major League Baseball. Moorad's client base took off in 1984 when he was retained by Will Clark and four other members of the U.S. Olympic baseball team, each of whom were Top 10 draft choices. He then joined forces with Leigh Steinberg in 1985 to form one of the most dynamic twosomes in the history of sports representation, covering both Major League Baseball and the National Football League. The successful duo negotiated more than $3 billion in athlete contracts throughout their 18 years together, including representing Pro Football Hall of Famers Steve Young, Troy Aikman, Warren Moon and Thurman Thomas. Moorad was the negotiator on a number of landmark contracts for a baseball client base that included Manny Ramirez, Eric Karros, Ivan Rodriguez, Mo Vaughn, Shawn Green and Raul Mondesi.

- Moorad's reputation as a knowledgeable and respected negotiator has earned him a spot on The Sporting News' 100 Most Powerful People in Sports on eight occasions, as he helped revolutionize player representation. He represented more than 40 first-round selections from baseball's annual First Year Player Draft in his practice, highlighted by breakthrough deals for No. 1 overall selections Darin Erstad (1995) and Pat Burrell (1998), as well as No. 2 overall selection Travis Lee (1996), all draft records at the time.

- While sports representation occupied the majority of Moorad's professional time, it also led to work in the entertainment field as he has consulted and appeared in major motion picture projects involving sports. He and former partner Steinberg both served as technical consultants to director Cameron Crowe and appeared in his 1996 Oscar-winning picture "Jerry Maguire." Additionally, Moorad was the baseball technical consultant for the Universal motion picture "For Love of the Game" and had a cameo appearance in the movie.

- The former president and CEO of Moorad Sports Management, his firm did not stop at athlete representation as Moorad guided it into a variety of sports technology ventures, publishing projects and community charitable projects. Consistent with his civic commitment, Moorad helped his clients understand the responsibility of serving as role models in the community, encouraging them to contribute millions of dollars to community programs, including their own non-profit foundations and alma maters. Leading by example, Moorad endowed a $100,000 baseball scholarship to his alma mater, UCLA.

- He and his wife, Jan, were the honorary chairpersons for Childhelp USA's Childhelp Drive the Dream Gala. He has also been very active in the California Coast and Arizona Chapters of the Young Presidents' Organization (YPO), a worldwide peer network that creates better Presidents and CEOs through education and idea exchange.

- Moorad is also active in helping to raise funds to find a cure for amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), more commonly known as Lou Gehrig's disease, through Augie's Quest. The foundation is named after his good friend Augie Nieto, who was diagnosed with ALS in 2005 after he became one of the most successful innovators in the U.S. fitness industry as the founder, chairman and CEO of Life Fitness. Moorad helped link Augie's Quest to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, as well as assist in fast-track research funding at Phoenix-based Translational Genomics Research Institute (TGen), where scientists have already made significant research breakthroughs in less than four years.

- Moorad currently serves on the board of directors at TGen and is a vice president for the MDA. He formerly served on the board of Oakley until the sale of the company to Italian manufacturer, Luxottica, and Citizen Sports Network until its sale to Yahoo!

- Moorad ventured into the sport of NASCAR, purchasing controlling interest in Hall of Fame Racing from Roger Staubach and Troy Aikman.

- A native of Modesto, Calif., Moorad earned an Associate in Arts degree from Modesto Junior College in 1976, where he served as student body president, a degree in political science (B.A.) in 1978 from UCLA, then received his law degree from Villanova University School of Law (J.D.) in 1981. Moorad and his wife have three sons.

TOM GARFINKEL
PRESIDENT AND CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

- Tom Garfinkel was named to the post of president and chief operating officer of the San Diego Padres at 39 years of age on April 8, 2009.

- Since his arrival, the club has achieved the highest season ticket renewal rate in the history of PETCO Park for two years in a row (2010, 2011), and has reversed a perennial downward trend by growing the season ticket base in both years, as well. In 2010, the Padres had the fourth highest attendance growth in Major League Baseball, up 11 percent over the prior year, and saw TV ratings grow by 41 percent and radio ratings grow by 76 percent. Garfinkel has led the team's expansion of its longstanding military programming, as well as the development of a partnership with Stand Up to Cancer (SU2C), resulting in a donation of more than $317,000 to SU2C in 2010. Additionally, Garfinkel was instrumental in bringing legendary sports broadcaster Dick Enberg to San Diego as the Padres' television play-by-play announcer.

- Prior to joining the Padres, Garfinkel was the executive vice president and chief operating officer of the Arizona Diamondbacks, where he led a team that produced the highest controllable revenues in the franchise's history in 2008. The team set franchise records that year in season ticket renewal rate, new season ticket sales, group sales and suite sales, growing these categories by a combined 143 percent over 2006 totals. The club also shifted its philosophy under Garfinkel's direction to reduce marketing clutter around the ballpark and created new value for its corporate partners, while at the same time shifting to a rights fee broadcasting model. That move strategically secured a substantial piece of future revenues ahead of the economic downturn, resulting in a combined sponsorship and broadcast revenue increase of 34 percent from 2006 to 2008.

- Prior to joining the Diamondbacks, Garfinkel spent five years with Chip Ganassi Racing Teams as executive vice president, overseeing all business operations of the 400-employee company. He negotiated more than $500 million in sponsorship and driver contracts that resulted in a 280 percent increase of annual company revenue during his tenure. While Garfinkel was at Chip Ganassi Racing Teams, the organization won two championships and grew to include three NASCAR Nextel Cup teams, one Busch Series team, two IndyCar teams and one Grand-Am team.

- Garfinkel's background also includes time at Texaco, Inc., where he managed sponsorship and corporate branding, and at Miller Brewing Company in strategic marketing and sales. He sits on the board of directors of the Economic Development Corporation of San Diego, the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce, the San Diego Sports Commission and the Athletic Committee for the University of San Diego Board of Trustees.

- Garfinkel earned a B.A. from the University of Colorado, Boulder, and an M.B.A. from the Ross School of Business at the University of Michigan. He and his wife, Allison, have three sons, Harrison, Jackson and Miller.

He first joined Boston prior to the 2002 campaign and was actively involved in player development, Major League scouting, quantitative analysis and advance scouting, helping to guide the Red Sox to two world championships in 2004 and 2007 during his eight years with the club.
- Hoyer's previous experience as a general manager came in 2005 when he served as co-General Manager for Boston over a 44-day stint while Epstein briefly left the organization. During that span, Hoyer helped to complete the trade for Josh Beckett and Mike Lowell that sent Hanley Ramirez, Anibal Sanchez and two other minor leaguers to the Marlins in a seven-player deal. Beckett and Lowell were named ALCS MVP and World Series MVP respectively in 2007, with Beckett also finishing second in the AL Cy Young award voting that season.

2011 SAN DIEGO PADRES
SEASON IN REVIEW

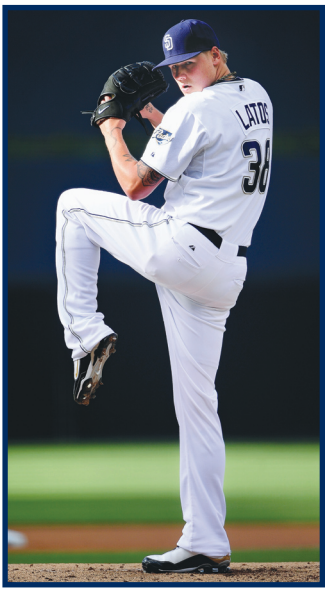

2010 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

A YEAR TO REMEMBER: At 90-72, the 2010 Padres finished 18 games over .500 and 2.0 games back of the Giants in the NL West standings... the club joins just the 1984, 1996 and 1998 teams as the only Padres squads to reach the 90-win mark in franchise history...following a 75-87 record in 2009, the Padres 15-win improvement was the highest in the Majors...Bud Black was named BBWAA NL Manager of the Year.

ROAD WARRIORS: The Padres posted a 45-36 record both at home and on the road in 2010, leading all National League clubs with 45 road wins...their road record also ties the 2004 and 2006 Padres for the second-best mark in franchise history, one win shy of the 1996 team's record 46 road wins.

MONTH BY MONTH: With a 12-16 record in September, the Padres had their streak of consecutive winning months snapped at seven, dating back to August of 2009...at the end of August, the Padres were the only National League team to finish over .500 in each of the previous seven full months of play (August and September of 2009; April, May, June, July and August of 2010)...the Yankees were the only other ML team to have had a winning record in each of those months.

KINGS OF THE HILL: The Padres pitching staff ranked among the top NL clubs in nearly every pitching category this season, leading the league in home ERA (2.90) and relief ERA (2.78)...the club ranked second in the NL in team ERA (3.39), opponent batting average (.240), strikeouts (1,295), strikeouts per 9.0 IP (8.00) and strikeout/walk ratio (2.50)...the Padres 3.39 ERA in 2010 ranks as the fifth-best in franchise history and the lowest since 1989 (3.38), while the .240 opponent average was the best in team history.

Mat Latos set a Major League record with 15 straight starts allowing two or fewer runs

WHAT A RELIEF: The Padres bullpen led the Majors with a 2.78 ERA that also ranks as the second best in franchise history (2.74 in 1988)...San Diego relievers also led the Majors in opponent batting average (1st, .220), strikeouts (1st, 544), holds (1st, 111) and strikeout/walk ratio (1st, 3.32)...the 111 holds by the 2010 Padres are the most ever recorded by a team in a single-season, surpassing the previous mark of 106 set by the 2007 Marlins and 2008 Cardinals.

Following the Padres fourth 90-win season, Bud Black was named BBWAA NL manager of the Year

SAVED BY THE BELL: Heath Bell recorded a career-high 47 saves, ranking second in the Majors en route to being named MLB Delivery Man of the Year and Sporting News NL Reliever of the Year...his 47 saves in 2010 are second only to Trevor Hoffman's 53 in 1998 in franchise history, while his 94.0 save percentage (47 of 50) led all Major League closers...Bell also ranked among the top National League relievers in ERA (5th, 1.93) while working scoreless ball in 52 of his 67 games...he converted each of his final 34 save opportunities, the longest such streak ever by a Padre not named Trevor Hoffman.

SPEED KILLS: The Padres stole 126 bases in 2010, ranking second in the National League (NYM - 130)...the 126 steals rank tied for 14th on the franchise single-season list and are the most since the 2001 club swiped 129 bags...in the 71 games the Padres successfully stole a base in 2010, the club went 55-16 (.775)...the club's 71.3 stolen base percentage in 2010 ranks eighth on the club's single-season list.

Acquired on July 29, Miguel Tejada made 57 starts at shortstop for San Diego

GONE-ZO: Adrian Gonzalez once again led the Padres offensive charge, finishing the year with his fourth consecutive 30-home run season (31 in 2010) and third career 100-RBI campaign (101 in 2010)...his four 30-home run seasons are a franchise record while his third 100-RBI season tied Phil Nevin for the most in club history...in recognition of his accomplishments on the field, Gonzalez was also named to his third consecutive All-Star Game, helping the National League to a 3-1 victory at Angel Stadium.

DEALIN': In addition to his 14 wins and 2.92 ERA (60 ER/184.2 IP), Mat Latos set a Major League record by allowing two-or-fewer runs in 15 straight starts (5.0 or more IP) from 6/10-9/7 (ELIAS Sports Bureau)... Greg Maddux (8/11/93-4/14/94) and Mike Scott (5/9-7/7/86) each had a streak of 14 straight starts with two-or-fewer runs allowed...Josh Johnson (FLA) had a streak of 13 straight in 2010 (5/13-7/22).

BLANKED: San Diego tossed 20 shutouts in 2010, tying the 2007 franchise record while ranking second in the National League (PHI - 21)...despite tying the club record for shutouts, the Padres only recorded two individual shutouts on the season...Mat Latos tossed a complete-game one-hit shutout on 5/13 at SF and Clayton Richard tossed his first career shutout at LAD on 9/21.

HOLD ON: With 40 holds in 2010, Luke Gregerson led the Majors while setting a new Major League record for holds in a season...in setting the record, Gregerson passed both Scott Linebrink (2006 with the Padres) and Tom Gordon (2004 with the Yankees), who each held the previous record with 36...in addition, Mike Adams recorded 38 holds in 2010, also passing the previous single-season mark...the effort of Gregerson and Adams led the Padres to a Major League record 111 holds in 2010.

ALL YOU NEED IS GLOVE: The Padres posted a .988 fielding percentage in 2010 that ranked as the best in the National League and second to the Yankees among all Major League clubs...with just 72 errors, the Padres were also tied with the Reds for the fewest in the National League...the .988 fielding percentage is the best in franchise history, topping the .996 mark by the 2008 club...in fact, each of the five highest fielding percentages in Padres history has come in the last five seasons...eight of the nine highest fielding percentages in franchise history have come in the last eight years.

LIKE A ROCK: David Eckstein appeared in 113 games at second base and did not commit a single error...he was the only infielder to appear in at least 80 games in the field without committing an error...his 113 games are the second most by a second baseman in an errorless season (141 by Placido Polanco in 2007).

HISTORY & RECORDS

SAN DIEGO PADRES HALL OF FAME

The San Diego Padres Hall of Fame honors players, coaches and executives who have contributed to the organization's growth and success since San Diego entered the Major Leagues in 1969. Voting among a 35-member committee is based on similar rules to be elected in the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY.

Eight individuals have been inducted into the San Diego Padres Hall of Fame since it was created to honor the club's 30th anniversary in 1999. The inaugural class of '99 included Randy Jones, Nate Colbert and Ray Kroc. In 2000, outfielder Dave Winfield was the lone inductee, Buzzie Bavasi and Jerry Coleman were inducted in 2001, Tony Gwynn took his place in the Padres Hall of Fame in 2002 and Dick Williams was inducted in 2009.

BUZZIE BAVASI — INDUCTED 2001

Already a veteran of nearly 30 years in the game, Bavasi joined C. Arnholt Smith's effort to attract a National League franchise to San Diego in 1967 and, after securing a team, served as the Padres first president from the birth of the franchise until 1977.

Bavasi was one of baseball's most respected executives. He began his career with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1939, serving the organization in a variety of roles. Following a stint in the military as an infantry machine gunner from 1943-46, Bavasi served as general manager of the Dodgers Triple-A club in Montreal. In 1951, he was appointed vice president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, a post he held through the club's move to Los Angeles until he resigned to join the effort to bring the Major Leagues to San Diego. Bavasi passed away on May 1, 2008 in San Diego at the age of 93.

NATE COLBERT — INDUCTED 1999

Nate Colbert emerged as the first bona fide star to wear a Padres uniform, becoming one of the game's premier power hitters of the early 1970s. The first baseman made three All-Star appearances (1971-73) as a Padres player and led the team in home runs the first five years of its existence.

Colbert's greatest achievement stands as one of the all-time best days a player has experienced in the Major Leagues. On August 1, 1972, Colbert hit five home runs and drove in 13 runs in a doubleheader in Atlanta. The RBI total established a record that has since been tied by St. Louis' Mark Whiten (September 7, 1993 at Cincinnati), and the five home runs tied Stan Musial's 1954 Major League mark. Colbert's 163 home runs stand to this day as the most in Padres history, while his .469 slugging percentage places him fifth on the club's all-time list.

JERRY COLEMAN — INDUCTED 2001

In his 39th season as the voice of the Padres, Coleman, 86, still stirs loyal fans across the region with his patented "Oh Doctor!" and "Hang a Star" calls, trademarks of Padres broadcasts since 1972. In 1999 while celebrating 50 years in baseball, Coleman was recognized by the Padres with a jersey retired in honor of his contributions not only to the club but also to the San Diego community. The Padres unveiled a star under the press box at PETCO Park during the 2004 season and in 2005 he was inducted into the US Marine Corps Sports Hall of Fame while also receiving the prestigious Ford C. Frick Award from the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown. He was inducted into the National Radio Hall of Fame in Chicago as a member of the 2007 class. In January of 2010 he received a Lifetime Achievement award at the 60th annual Golden Mike Awards.

Coleman's distinguished broadcasting career includes stops with the Yankees, as well as 22 seasons calling the CBS Radio Network's "Game of the Week." A former Major Leaguer, who left the broadcast booth in 1980 to become the Padres manager for one season, played on six World Series clubs in nine seasons (1949-57) with the New York Yankees, a key member of the greatest dynasty in baseball history. The second baseman made his Big League debut in 1949, earning Associated Press Rookie of the Year honors. The following season, Coleman was an American League All-Star and the World Series Most Valuable Player, as the Yankees swept the Phillies in four games.

Coleman, whose playing career was interrupted twice when he was called upon to serve the United States as a Marine pilot in World War II and in Korea, retired with a lifetime .263 average, 16 homers and 217 RBI in 723 games. The only Major League player to see active combat in two wars, Coleman's distinguished military service record includes 120 missions and two Distinguished Flying Crosses, 13 Air Medals and three Navy Citations.

SAN DIEGO PADRES HALL OF FAME

TONY GWYNN — INDUCTED 2002

The greatest Padres player of them all, and one of the greatest hitters in the history of Major League Baseball, Tony Gwynn was the first-ever unanimous selection to the Padres Hall of Fame upon his retirement at the conclusion of the 2001 season.

In 20 seasons (1982-2001), the man who will forever be known as "Mr. Padre" won a National League-record tying eight batting championships and was selected to 16 All-Star teams.

He retired with a .338 career batting average and 3,141 hits in 2,440 games. Gwynn's hit count includes 543 doubles, 85 triples and 135 home runs. He finished with 1,138 RBI and 319 stolen bases.

The Padres career leader in virtually every offensive category, Gwynn retired 17th on the all-time Major League hit list, 17th on the doubles list and eighth on the all-time singles list. His .338 career average, the highest by any Major Leaguer since Ted Williams, is 18th-best all-time.

Gwynn played on each of the first three Padres Division Championship clubs (1984, 1996, 1998) and batted .371 in the club's two World Series appearances in 1984 against the Tigers and in 1998 against the Yankees.

Only the 17th player in history to spend his entire career of 20 or more seasons with one club, Gwynn's unwavering loyalty to the Padres and his undying devotion to the San Diego community further cemented his standing as Mr. Padre and one of the great ambassadors the game of baseball has ever known.

Gwynn was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in July of 2007. Currently the head baseball coach at his alma mater, San Diego State University, Gwynn also serves as an analyst for Channel 4 San Diego.

RANDY JONES — INDUCTED 1999

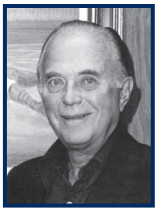

Randy Jones was the first Padres pitcher to win the Cy Young award and earned tremendous popularity among Padres fans, a relationship that remains strong to this day. Jones, a left-hander who won the Cy Young in 1976 after going 22-14 with a 2.74 ERA and 25 complete games, remains the club leader in innings pitched (1766.0), starts (253), complete games (71) and shutouts (18).

Jones was an All-Star in 1975 and 1976, establishing a unique rapport with Padres fans, who gave him a standing ovation as he approached the mound for every start. Jones remains an active ambassador for the Padres in the community, making dozens of appearances annually and running his popular Randy Jones Barbecue at PETCO Park.

RAY KROC — INDUCTED 1999

Ray Kroc bought the Padres franchise on January 25, 1974, when the club literally had packed and was prepared to move to Washington, D.C. An entrepreneur who created the McDonald's fast-food empire, Kroc ensured that the Padres would remain in San Diego.

He oversaw the club's rise from a perennial loser in the standings and at the gate to a viable franchise that would win the National League pennant in 1984. After attendance only reaching a season-high of at 644,272 before he purchased the club, the Padres drew more than one million fans every year except the strike-shortened 1981 season, and the team on the field grew to respectability, earning its first winning record in 1978. Kroc died in January 1984 and would not see his team reach the World Series that year — with the club carrying an "RAK" emblem on its uniform that season. Kroc's wife, Joan, assumed the role of owner after his death, until her sale of the club in 1990.

DICK WILLIAMS — INDUCTED 2009

The Padres' manager from 1982-85, Williams led the Friars to a 337-311 record and .520 winning percentage over four years, finishing at .500 or better each season. In the club's 13 seasons prior to his arrival, the team had posted just one winning season (1978). Under Williams' guidance, the Padres went 92-70 in 1984, reaching the playoffs for the first time in franchise history and advancing to the World Series.

DAVE WINFIELD — INDUCTED 2000

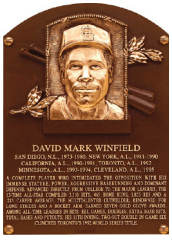

Dave Winfield jumped directly into the Padres lineup off the University of Minnesota campus in 1973. In eight Padres seasons, he was named to four NL All-Star teams (1977-80), led the club in home runs five times (1976-80) and paced the team in RBI six times (1974-75, 1977-80). The team MVP in 1978 and 1979, Winfield batted .284 with 154 homers, 626 RBI and 133 stolen bases for San Diego, the start of a 22-year Major League career which culminated in his election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in January 2001. Winfield was inducted into the Hall of Fame August 5, 2001, the first player to enter the Cooperstown shrine as a Padres player.

LATE NIGHT IN PHILADELPHIA

The Padres made Major League history on July 2, 1993 in Philadelphia with a twi-night doubleheader that concluded at 4:40 a.m. the following morning. The start of the first game, scheduled for 4:35 p.m., was delayed by one hour and 10 minutes by rain. During the game, there were two more delays that totaled four hours and 44 minutes before play was resumed just before midnight. After five hours and 54 minutes of rain delays and a game time of 2:34, Game 1, a 5-2 Padres win, concluded at 1:03 a.m. Game 2 started at 1:28 a.m. and went 10 innings before the Phillies won 6-5. The game-winning run crossed the plate at 4:40 a.m. It is the latest a Major League game has ever ended. The previous mark was 3:55 a.m. when the Mets and Braves played into the wee hours on July 4-5, 1985.

BIG INNING IN THE BEGINNING

The Padres exploded for 11 runs on seven hits in the sixth inning of their 1997 season opener vs. the Mets at Qualcomm Stadium. Trailing 4-0 at the start of the frame, the Padres rode the big inning to a 12-5 victory. The 11 runs established a 20th Century National League record for most runs plated in a single inning on Opening Day. The highlight of the inning was back-to-back-to-back home runs off the bats of Chris Gomez, Rickey Henderson and Quilvio Veras to start the frame.

1984 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The Padres rewrote National League history in 1984, becoming the first team in NLCS play and only the second team in Championship Series history to come back from an 2-0 deficit to win the series. The 1982 Milwaukee Brewers had also accomplished the feat in the ALCS.

The Chicago Cubs were not friendly hosts in the opening two games at Wrigley Field, knocking a total of six home runs, including five in the first game to take the contests, 13-0 and 4-2. But the Padres returned home following Game 2 to a throng of thousands at San Diego/Jack Murphy Stadium, where they would play the final three games of the set. Consecutive record crowds filled the stadium as the Padres swept the trio of home games to move into San Diego's first-ever World Series.

There were plenty of heroes during the NLCS, but no star shined brighter than veteran first baseman Steve Garvey, who batted .400 (8-for-20) in the five games. It was his 4-for-5 performance in Game 4, which included a dramatic two-run home run off Cubs ace reliever Lee Smith in the bottom of the ninth that paved the way to his second career NLCS Most Valuable Player Award. Craig Lefferts earned the win in each of the final two games of the series to lead the mound corps.

The Padres rallied from a three-run deficit in the fifth game to take a 6-3 decision and earn the right to face the American League Champion Detroit Tigers.

1984 WORLD SERIES

In San Diego's first-ever trip to the World Series, the Padres ran head-on into the team with baseball's best overall record in 1984, the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers went wire-to-wire in first place to win the American League East. After a 31-5 start, Sparky Anderson's club finished the regular season with a 104-58 record, and then disposed of the Kansas City Royals in three consecutive games in the ALCS, while the Padres and Cubs went to the limit for the National League flag.

Both contests at San Diego's Jack Murphy Stadium were close, with the Tigers taking the opener, 3-2 and the Padres tying the series with a 5-3 win in Game 2. Kurt Bevacqua was the hero in the lone San Diego victory, going 3-for-4 with a fifth-inning, three-run home run off Dan Petry. Bevacqua, given the opportunity to play because the American League's designated hitter rule was in effect for the '84 Fall Classic, took full advantage, hitting at a .412 (7-for-17) clip with two doubles, two homers and four RBI in the series. Andy Hawkins, who allowed only one run in 12.0 innings of work in three World Series relief appearances, earned the Game 2 victory, working 5.1 shutout innings of one-hit relief as the Padres overcame a 3-0 first-inning deficit.

Following the Padres Game 2 victory, the scene shifted to Detroit for what turned out to be the final three games of the series. The hometown Tigers did not disappoint their faithful, riding the red-hot bat of Kirk Gibson to sweep the final three contests and win the fourth World Championship in club history.

Tigers shortstop Alan Trammell, a San Diego-native, earned MVP honors, hitting .450 (9-for-20) with a double, two home runs and six RBI.

1996 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

After winning the West on the last day of the regular season, the Padres faced the National League Central Champion Cardinals in the Division Series. St. Louis swept San Diego, outscoring the Padres by only five runs (15-10) in three close contests.

In the opener at Busch Stadium, Gary Gaetti knocked a three-run home run off Joey Hamilton with two outs in the first inning. Cardinals hurlers Todd Stottlemyre, Rick Honeycutt and Dennis Eckersley made the lead stand up for the 3-1 victory. Rickey Henderson led off the sixth inning with a homer for the only Padres run. San Diego could not convert on opportunities to tie the score in the seventh and ninth innings en route to the series-opening setback.

Game 2 in St. Louis was decided during a dramatic eighth inning. The Padres, who had earlier trailed 1-0 and 4-1, entered the eighth trailing by a score of 4-3. After Scott Livingstone and Henderson reached to open the inning, Tony Gwynn, batting against Honeycutt, sacrificed the runners over. A Steve Finley groundout tied the score, but the go-ahead run was stranded at third base. In the bottom of the inning, the Cardinals scored the winning run without managing a base hit. Tom Pagnozzi's slow liner off Trevor Hoffman's glove plated Brian Jordan to make the score 5-4. Eckersley saved his second consecutive game, and the Padres returned to San Diego in a 2-0 hole—the identical situation they faced a dozen years earlier before taking three in a row from the Chicago Cubs in the franchise's only National League Championship Series appearance to date.

Until the very end, Game 3 resembled 1984. A sellout crowd of 53,899 fans at Jack Murphy Stadium cheered wildly as the Padres climbed back from 1-0 and 5-4 deficits.

St. Louis pushed across a run in the first inning and was threatening for more when Archi Cianfrocco gunned down Ron Gant at home plate for an inning-ending double play. The Padres took a 2-1 lead in the second inning before Ken Caminiti added an opposite-field solo home run in the third. With the Cardinals holding a 5-4 advantage after 7 1/2 innings, the San Diego third baseman put the final touch on his spectacular MVP season, drilling a Rick Honeycutt delivery over the right-centerfield wall for his third homer of the series, a game-tying shot.

Just as visions of San Diego's stirring 1984 playoff comeback were rekindled in the hearts and minds of the capacity crowd, the Cardinals' Brian Jordan took control of the game with his glove and bat, ending the Padres magical season. With two outs in the eighth and pinch-runner Luis Lopez on second base, Jody Reed lined what appeared to be a go-ahead single to right-center. But Jordan raced over and dove head-first to spear the ball and end the inning.

In the top of the 9th, Jordan broke a 5-5 tie with a crushing two-run homer to left. Eckersley came on one final time and, as Caminiti waited in the on-deck circle, retired Finley for the final out. Despite the heartbreaking loss, San Diego fans stood and cheered the Padres, who returned to the field from the clubhouse and in turn recognized the fans for keeping the faith during an unforgettable 1996 season.

1998 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

After winning the National League West by 9.5 games with a franchise-best 98-64 record, the Padres faced the Central Division Champion Houston Astros, winners of 102 regular-season games in the Division Series. The order was tall, and the prospect of facing 6-foot-10 Astros ace Randy Johnson twice in the best-of-five series made it all the more daunting. But as they had many times throughout their 98-win season, the Padres met the challenge.

The tone was set in the series opener in Houston, an epic pitcher's duel between Padres ace Kevin Brown and Johnson. As good as Johnson was, Brown was better, fanning a Division Series-record 16 batters and allowing only two hits in 8.0 shutout innings. The game was scoreless into the sixth, when Tony Gwynn doubled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jim Leyritz. With Brown rolling, the Padres padded their lead in the eighth on a Greg Vaughn solo home run. Houston broke through with an unearned run off Trevor Hoffman in the ninth, but when the San Diego closer induced Carl Everett to fly out to center to end the game, the Padres had their first playoff win since 1984.

Game 2 was another nail biter at the Astrodome, and Houston carried a 4-2 lead into the 9th. However, with hard-throwing closer Billy Wagner on the mound and two outs, Jim Leyritz launched a long fly ball down the right-field line that somehow remained fair for an improbable game-tying two-run homer. The Astros came right back, pushing across the winning run on a Bill Spiers single in the bottom of the inning. The Padres left Houston with a split and returned home looking to close out the series.

More than 3,000 fans awaited the Padres when they returned to "The Q" (Qualcomm Stadium) from Houston near midnight after Game 2. Their enthusiasm offered a lift as well as an early indication of the support to come throughout the postseason. A crowd of 65,235 packed The Q for critical Game 3. Bruce Bochy's gamble to send Brown back to the mound on only three days rest paid off, as the right-hander limited the Astros to one run on three hits over 6.2 innings. Jim Leyritz continued his October heroics with a tie-breaking solo home run in the seventh, and after Trevor Hoffman struck out the side in the ninth inning to preserve the 2-1 win, the Padres were one win away from the National League Championship Series.

With their backs against the wall, the Astros came back with ace Johnson in Game 4. Although he pitched another gem, again Johnson would be outpitched. This time, Sterling Hitchcock did the honors, allowing just one run on three hits over 6.0 innings, walking none and striking out 11. The Padres got on the board first on another Leyritz homer, a solo shot to lead off the second. Leading 2-1 in the eighth, San Diego iced the series with a two-run triple by John Vander Wal and a two-run homer by Wally Joyner. Hoffman worked a 1-2-3 ninth, setting off the celebration for 64,898 fans. The Padres would move on to face the Braves in the NLCS with the 6-1 victory.

1998 NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The Braves had been the "Team of the '90s" in the National League, and after 106 regular season wins and a sweep of the Cubs in the Division Series they looked stronger than ever in 1998. With a starting rotation full of Cy Young Award winners and the home-field advantage, Atlanta was given a considerable edge heading into the National League Championship Series.

The Padres had not played in the NLCS in 14 years, and their return was delayed even longer by Mother Nature as the start of the series opener at Turner Field was delayed 2:01 by rain. The game finally got started at 10:16 p.m. Not only did Game 1 start late, it also went long as the Padres needed a 10th-inning solo home run from Ken Caminiti to pull out a 3-2 series-opening victory. Starter Andy Ashby limited Atlanta to one run on five hits over 7.0 innings. Tony Gwynn went 2-for-5 with an RBI and Carlos Hernandez added a pair of hits.

With Kevin Brown taking the ball in Game 2, the underdog Padres were suddenly primed to take the first two games from the Braves in their home ballpark. Brown did not disappoint, continuing his postseason mastery with a complete game, three-hit shutout, fanning 11 batters. Quilvio Veras had three hits and an RBI in the victory. The Friars headed home up two games to none.

After out-pitching John Smoltz and Tom Glavine in Games 1 and 2, the Padres matched Sterling Hitchcock against four-time Cy Young winner Greg Maddux in Game 3. Hitchcock and four relievers combined to allow just one run on eight hits and struck out 12. Trailing, 2-1, the Braves had one last chance in the eighth with the bases loaded and two outs, but Trevor Hoffman came in from the pen to fan Javy Lopez. The Padres won again, 4-1, this time in front of 62,779 crazed fans at "The Q" (Qualcomm Stadium). San Diego moved to within one win of a trip to the World Series

The Braves, however, refused to go down without a fight. An Andres Galaragga grand slam capped a six-run seventh, as Atlanta rallied for an 8-3 win in Game 4. The Braves then sent the series back to Atlanta with a stirring 7-6 win in Game 5. The key blow came on a three-run, eighth-inning homer by Michael Tucker off Kevin Brown. Brown had come out of the bullpen to try to protect a 4-2 lead. The long ball capped a five-run eighth, and the Braves hung on for a 7-6 win.

Back at Turner Field, Sterling Hitchcock took it upon himself to assure that the Braves would not become the first team in postseason history to overcome a three-games-to-none deficit. The eventual NLCS MVP struck out eight in 5.0 innings of two-hit, shutout ball. Locked in a scoreless duel with Tom Glavine, the Padres exploded for five runs in the sixth. Brian Boehringer, Mark Langston, Joey Hamilton and Trevor Hoffman then combined for 4.0 innings of no-hit, no-run relief, as the Padres advanced to their second World Series with a 5-0 win.

1998 WORLD SERIES

As they did in their first World Series appearance 14 years earlier, the Padres ran into a club coming off of one of the greatest seasons in Major League history when they faced the New York Yankees in the Fall Classic. In 1984, the Detroit Tigers had raced out to a 31-5 start en route to 104 regular season wins and an eventual Series victory over San Diego. This time around, the Yankees had tied an American League record with 114 regular season wins before edging out the Rangers and Indians in the AL playoffs. Although the Padres would go down in four consecutive games, they would not go down without a fight.

After falling behind 2-0 after two innings in the series opener at Yankee Stadium, the Friars stormed to a 5-2 lead on a two-run homer off the bat of Greg Vaughn in the third and back-to-back long balls by Tony Gwynn and Vaughn in the fifth. Gwynn's two-run shot, which bounced off the facade of the upper deck in right field, would be among the most memorable moments of his Hall-of-Fame career. The lead held up until the seventh inning, when New York exploded for seven runs on two swings of the bat. Chuck Knoblauch tied the game with a three-run homer. Five batters later, Tino Martinez slugged a game-winning grand slam as the Yanks went on to a 9-6 Series-opening victory.

The late-inning momentum carried into Game 2 for the Bronx Bombers, who kept the Padres off the board in the top of the first when Paul O'Neill robbed Wally Joyner of extra-bases with a circus catch against the wall with two on and two out. New York then scored nine runs on 14 hits in the first five innings on the way to a 9-3 win and a commanding two games to none lead before the series shifted to the West Coast.

Although the odds were against their team, Padres fans kept the faith as they turned out in record numbers for Games 3 and 4 at Qualcomm Stadium. Sterling Hitchcock and David Cone matched each other pitch-for-pitch in Game 3 until the sixth, when San Diego busted through in a scoreless game. An RBI single by Tony Gwynn followed by a throwing error gave the Padres a 2-0 lead. Ken Caminiti lifted a sacrifice fly two batters later, and the Padres led 3-0. But the Yankees came back again, with two in the seventh and three in the eighth on a back-breaking three-run homer off the bat of eventual World Series MVP Scott Brosius. The Padres closed to within 5-4 in the eighth and had the tying and winning runs on in the ninth before Mariano Rivera put out the fire and left the Yankees on the brink of the world championship.

In front of the largest crowd to ever see a baseball game in San Diego — 65,427— the Padres and Yankees were locked in a scoreless tie in Game 4 until the sixth, when New York broke through against Kevin Brown on an RBI groundout by Bernie Williams. Then in the eighth, the Yanks extended the lead on an RBI single by Brosius and a sac fly off the bat of Ricky Ledee. Rivera worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth and shut down the Padres in the ninth as the Yankees closed out their 24th World Series Championship.

2005 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

The Padres, crowned National League West Champions with an 82-80 record, traveled to St. Louis to face the NL Central Champion Cardinals in the second postseason meeting between the two clubs, having met in the 1996 NLDS.

San Diego sent National League strikeout leader Jake Peavy to the mound in Game 1 while the Cardinals, owners of the best regular season record in baseball with a mark of 100-62, countered with ace Chris Carpenter. Peavy was tagged for eight runs on eight hits over 4.1 innings and was forced from the game by a fractured rib suffered earlier that would sideline him for the rest of the playoffs. The Padres rallied late, scoring three runs in the ninth to cut the lead to 8-5 before Ramon Hernandez struck out with the bases loaded to end the game.

Pedro Astacio, the starting pitcher against the San Francisco Giants when the Padres clinched the NL West title on September 28, started for the Friars in Game 2 at Busch Stadium. Despite allowing just three hits, Astacio was done in by three walks, including one to Albert Pujols that plated the Cardinals second run of the contest. The Padres scored two late runs and out-hit St. Louis for a second consecutive game, but fell by a score of 6-2. Mark Mulder earned the win, while Astacio was saddled with the loss.

The Padres returned to San Diego two days later, trailing two games to none, to host the first-ever postseason game at PETCO Park. St. Louis shortstop David Eckstein led off the game with a single off Woody Williams, who had spent parts of four seasons from 2001-04 with the Cardinals. Two batters later, Eckstein would score on a double by Albert Pujols. In the second inning, Eckstein added a two-run home run while Reggie Sanders connected for a two-run double to give him a NLDS-record 10 RBI for the Series and the Cardinals a 5-0 lead after two frames. To their credit, the Bruce Bochy led Friars mounted another comeback after trailing 7-0 after five innings, but Jason Isringhausen retired Ryan Klesko with two on in the ninth inning to preserve a 7-4 victory and finish the three-game sweep.

2006 NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES

San Diego won its second straight National League West Division title in 2006 and made back-to-back trips to the postseason for the first time in franchise history. The Padres finished with an identical 88-74 record as the Los Angeles Dodgers, but claimed the crown after winning the season series, 13-5.

The Friars drew the St. Louis Cardinals in the first-round of the playoffs for the second consecutive year, marking the third playoff meeting between the two clubs since 1996.

After taking two of three from the Cardinals in the final week of the regular season, the Padres sent ace Jake Peavy to the mound for Game 1 at PETCO Park. Peavy blanked the Cards for 3.0 innings before giving up five runs over the next 2.1 frames. 2005 National League Cy Young Award winner Chris Carpenter limited San Diego to only one run as the Cardinals beat the Padres 5-1.

Following an off day, the Padres sent veteran David Wells to the mound for Game 2. Wells held St. Louis to only two runs over 5.0 innings, but was opposed by Jeff Weaver who combined with four relievers to blank San Diego 2-0 in front of a hometown crowd of 43,463.

Facing elimination, the Padres traveled to St. Louis for Game 3. Eleven-game winner Chris Young took the ball for San Diego and shut out the Cardinals for 6.2 innings at the new Busch Stadium. Russell Branyan gave the club its first lead in the series with a two-run double in the fourth inning, and all-time saves leader Trevor Hoffman pitched a perfect ninth for his first postseason save since the 1998 NLCS. The 3-1 win marked the first postseason victory for the Padres since clinching the National League Pennant in 1998.

St. Louis returned Carpenter to the mound for Game 4 and he was countered by veteran Woody Williams. Both starters surrendered two runs in the first inning but Carpenter settled in to throw 6.0 scoreless frames. The Cardinals struck for four runs in the sixth as the eventual World Series Champions sent the Padres home after a 6-2 defeat.

SAN DIEGO RAINOUTS

When the Padres and Giants were rained out on April 4, 2006, it marked only the 16th postponement due to rain in San Diego's 38 seasons and the first since May 20, 1998, a span of 630 home games. Prior to the 1998 rainout, San Diego enjoyed a stretch of 1,172 home dates and 1,184 games without a postponement due to rain, dating back to April 20, 1983, against Atlanta. At the time, that rainout streak was the longest active streak in all of baseball and currently stands as the longest in Padres history. Prior to the washout vs. New York, each of the previous three rainouts in San Diego had occurred with the Braves in town, including back-to-back postponements April 28-29, 1980. The only other consecutive rainouts came when the home opener vs. San Francisco was rained out on both April 8 and 9, 1975, and again on June 5 and 6, 1972, against Pittsburgh.

PADRES DOMINICAN REPUBLIC BASEBALL PARK

The San Diego Padres are setting new standards for Major League Baseball training facilities with their state-of-the-art Dominican Republic Baseball Park in Najayo, San Cristobal.

Officially opened on April 30, 2008, the complex serves as the hub of the Padres Latin American operations where international players live and train year-round. The complex is also the home of the Dominican Summer League Padres.

The facility boasts two regulation-size playing fields and a half field, batting tunnels, covered pitching mounds, and a clubhouse containing Major League-caliber weight and training rooms. In addition, the complex has housing for over 60 players as well as managers and coaches and includes a kitchen and dining facilities. In an effort to create the ultimate facility, the Padres have incorporated on-site classrooms, a library and computer learning centers and have established a first-rate player education program.

In conjunction with the construction of its Dominican Republic Baseball Park, the Padres have pioneered a new community outreach program aimed at improving the quality of basic public education in the Dominican Republic. The Padres have partnered with ENTRENA, USAID and the American Chamber of Commerce Dominican Republic to renovate the local community school La Playa Escuela and to provide teaching and learning seminars for the schools' teachers and students.

GOING DEEP

The audio and video graphics to celebrate Padres players' home runs at PETCO Park have a distinct military and nautical flavor. The sound of a ship's horn is an actual recording of the horn of the Navy's USS Ronald Reagan (CVN-76) nuclear aircraft carrier, which is home ported in San Diego. To accompany the horn, a fireworks spectacular blasts from the batter's eye porch on night games.

MORE THAN PADRES

In addition to serving as the home of the Padres, PETCO Park also hosts concerts, special events and sporting events. The inaugural World Baseball Classic semi-finals and final were played at PETCO Park in 2006 with the site playing host to second-round games in 2009. PETCO Park has hosted The USA SEVENS Rugby tournament as well as several concerts.

- PETCO Park is the first Major League ballpark since Forbes Field in Pittsburgh (closed in 1970) to have a park adjacent to the outfield...The Park at the Park is a ticketed area and vital part of the baseball experience on game days, including admission to conveniences and amenities of the seating bowl with a Park Pass during ticketed events...it functions as a special events venue when there is no game and as a neighborhood park daily.
- On July 21, 2007, a statue honoring Tony Gwynn was unveiled in the northeast corner of the Park at the Park, surrounded by a plaza of bricks with personalized inscriptions and messages from fans to "Mr. Padre.".

WESTERN METAL SUPPLY CO. BUILDING: The historic brick warehouse that housed the Western Metal Supply Company, which dates to 1909 and has ties to the Old West, was renovated and incorporated into the ballpark, with the left-field foul pole attached to its southeastern corner...the building holds the Padres Majestic Team Store on the first floor, 12 Party Suites (available on an individual game basis) on the second and third floors, a public restaurant (Padres Hall of Fame Bar & Grill) with terrace dining on the fourth floor, and bleacher seating and a standing room area on the roof, 80 feet above field level.

OTHER UNIQUE FEATURES

- A Home Run Porch in the right field extends out into the playing field, creating quirky angles.
- Standing room areas for 1,500 in locations around the ballpark, including the roof of the Western Metal Supply Co. Building, outside the Padres Team Store in left field, on special terraces on the Main Concourse and the Western Metal Building, on the East Ramp, in the Rotary Flag Court in right field, in the right field stands and behind seating areas.
- PETCO Park is wired for high definition television, with Sony HDTV monitors in all suites, clubs and restaurants at several concourse locations.
- Palm Court Plaza, with 13 palm trees and 13,588 bricks, of which 10,842 are personalized, commemorative bricks.
- Omni San Diego Hotel and The Metropolitan (36 luxury condominiums on the top 11 floors of the hotel) connected to the main concourse by a pedestrian skybridge.

ARCHITECTURAL FEATURES

- Seating bowl "fractured" by first base and third base Towers housing vertical light standards and other elements to create distinctive "seating neighborhoods."
- First base and third base Garden Buildings house concession areas, premium seating club membership lounges, offices, restrooms and other programming elements usually housed inside a ballpark.
- Spacious concourses and terraces afford outstanding views of San Diego Bay, Coronado Bay Bridge, downtown skyline, Pacific sunsets, glimpses of Balboa Park and mountains to the east.

LANDSCAPE

- Entire ballpark is designed and landscaped to "be a garden."
- Landscape includes plants inside as well as outside, vines and flowering vegetation spilling over bridges, walkways and trellises.
- Garden Buildings feature bougainvillea and colorful planters. Jacaranda trees line the main entrance, Home Plate Plaza features coral trees at the top of the staircase and palms, and Palm Court Plaza features signature palm trees.
- Park at the Park features landscaped lawn, flowering trees, shrubs, gardens with perennials and annuals selected to bloom in sequence throughout the year, and plantings that evoke the gardens of Balboa Park and the flower fields of Carlsbad.
- Landscape and vegetation selected to be "water-wise," low allergenic, and environmentally responsible, requiring minimal use of pesticides and toxic chemicals.

ENVIRONMENTAL FEATURES: An agreement with the Environmental Health Coalition comprehensively addressed issues of air and water quality, urban runoff, removal of hazardous materials, and use of pesticides and toxic chemicals in the construction and operation of the ballpark...progressive recycling and waste management programs also will help make PETCO Park, in environmental terms, "the greenest ballpark in Major League Baseball."

Named Sportscaster of the Year by the Sportswriters Association of Tijuana in 1997 and Sports Ambassador of Tijuana by the city's mayor in November 1998.

In 2004, Ortega was honored by the Tijuana Sports Media with a Career Achievement Award. Additionally, the Mexican Federation of Sportscasters celebrated his 25th anniversary in broadcasting and his multiple contributions to the industry.

Ortega writes a weekly Major League Baseball column, "La Voz de los Padres," which is published in several newspapers in Mexico and San Diego County. He is a Tijuana native and a long-time San Diego resident.

JUAN ANGEL AVILA

Juan Angel Avila is returning for his 14th season in the Padres' Spanish-language broadcast booth. Avila handles the color and play-by-play duties alongside longtime partner Eduardo Ortega. Avila has been in the booth for the Padres' playoff and World Series games in 1998, as well as the team's Division Series appearances in 2005 and 2006.

In addition to his game broadcasts, Avila co-hosts "Mas Cerca del Juego," a weekly Padres television magazine show and writes a weekly Major League Baseball column that appears in several newspapers in Mexico.

Avila began his broadcasting career as the play-by-play voice of the Venados de Mazatlan of the Mexican Pacific League from 1992-95 in his native Mazatlan, Sinaloa. For the last 13 off-seasons, he has returned to Mazatlan to broadcast winter league games on television.

Avila was the lead television announcer for the 2011 Caribbean Series in Puerto Rico, representing Mexico. He previously announced the Caribbean Series from 1993-95 and 2005-09, and in 2000, he also called games for the Mexicali Aguilas.

He was presented with the 2001 Sports Award in Mazatlan by the city council and was inducted into the Mazatlan Baseball Hall of Fame in 2008. Additionally, in 1998 the mayor of Tijuana honored him in 1998 with the Sports Ambassador award.

Avila is a graduate of Universidad Autónoma de Sinaloa. In the winter of 2009, he returned to his alma mater to teach a broadcasting and communications course. Avila resides in Chula Vista with his wife, Erica, and daughters, Airam and Tiffany.

The Padres will spend their 18th Spring Training in Peoria, AZ in 2010. The $32-million Peoria Sports Complex, located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, serves as the spring home for both the Padres and Seattle Mariners.

This state-of-the-art complex has separate practice facilities for both the Padres and Mariners. Each facility has six full fields with four diamonds laid out in a cloverleaf formation, as well as a half-field for infield and baserunning drills and a covered area that houses four batting cages. Each organization has their own building for administrative offices, Major League and minor league clubhouses, weight and training rooms and media workrooms.

The stadium, located between the two camps has permanent seating for 7,000 fans and grass seating in the outfield for an additional 3,000. On March 19, 2010, the Padres and Dodgers attracted a crowd of 10,497, the largest attendance for a Padres home spring training game in Arizona.

The working press box at Peoria Stadium has space for 35 writers and five separate broadcast booths. To reserve broadcast booth space, please contact the Padres Media Relations Department at (623) 412-4000.
