JOE TORRE

Special Assistant to the Commissioner

Hall of Famer Joe Torre was named a Special Assistant to Commissioner Robert D. Manfred, Jr. in February 2020. Torre serves as a liaison to the general managers and field managers of the 30 Major League Clubs and the Major League Umpires. From 2011-2014, Torre was MLB's Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations. In 2014, he became MLB's Chief Baseball Officer under Commissioner Manfred.

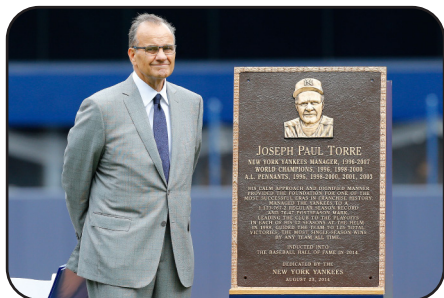

Torre, a manager for 29 seasons, ranks fifth all-time with 2,326 managerial wins. He led the New York Yankees to four World Series Championships, six American League pennants and 12 Postseason appearances in his 12 years (1996-2007) as manager. The two-time AL Manager of the Year also led the New York Mets (1977-81), the Atlanta Braves (1982-84), the St. Louis Cardinals (1990-95) and the Los Angeles Dodgers (2008-10). Torre made his managerial debut with the Mets on May 31, 1977, becoming the first player-manager in the Majors since 1959. In 2013, he managed Team USA in the World Baseball Classic. In 2017, he served as the general manager for WBC Champion Team USA.

During his 18-year playing career with the Milwaukee/Atlanta Braves (1960-68), the Cardinals (1969-74) and the Mets (1975-77), the nine-time All-Star compiled a .297 batting average, 2,342 hits and 252 home runs. He was the National League's 1971 Most Valuable Player, batting .363 with 24 home runs and a league-leading 137 RBI.

On December 9, 2013, the National Baseball Hall of Fame announced that its Expansion Era Committee had unanimously elected Torre to its Class of 2014. Torre was inducted into the Hall of Fame on July 27, 2014 in Cooperstown. On August 23, 2014, Torre's number six was retired by the Yankees, making him the 17th individual to receive such an honor. In 2023, Torre earned Baseball Digest's Lifetime Achievement Award, following in the footsteps of his friends Willie Mays and Vin Scully, the only two previous recipients.

Torre is the Chairman of the Joe Torre Safe At Home Foundation (joetorre.org), which he and his wife, Ali, launched in 2002. The Safe At Home Foundation's mission is to develop educational programs that will end the cycle of domestic violence and save lives. Since its inception, the Foundation has educated thousands of students, parents, teachers and school faculty about the devastating effects of domestic violence.

Torre is the co-author of three books: The Yankee Years (Doubleday 2009); Joe Torre's Ground Rules for Winners (Hyperion 1999); and Chasing the Dream (Bantam 1997, 1998). Torre was born on July 18, 1940 in Brooklyn, New York. He, Ali and their daughter, Andrea, live in New York. His three adult children are Michael, Cristina and Lauren.

MICHAEL HILL

Senior Vice President, On-Field Operations

Michael Hill was hired in February 2021 as Major League Baseball's Senior Vice President, On-Field Operations. In his role, he oversees MLB's umpiring and on-field discipline at both the Major and Minor League levels.

Hill's 27-year front office career includes 18 years with the Miami Marlins, including seven seasons (2014-2020) as President of Baseball Operations following six seasons (2008-13) as General Manager. In 2020, the Marlins reached the Postseason for the first time since 2003 and won their Wild Card Series against the Chicago Cubs. In 2014, in his first season as President of Baseball Operations, Miami made a 15-win improvement and became one of only three teams in Major League history to win 77-or-more games following a 100-loss season.

Following his retirement as a Minor League player, Hill worked as an assistant for the Tampa Bay Devil Rays from 1995-99 in the scouting and player development departments before joining the Colorado Rockies in 1999. Hill spent three seasons in Colorado, serving as the Club's Director of Player Development before making his way to Miami. Hill was a 31st round draft pick by the Texas Rangers in the June 1993 Draft. He played two seasons (1993-94) in the Rangers' system and one year (1995) in the Reds' organization before joining the Devil Rays' front office.

A 1993 graduate of Harvard University, Hill was elected senior class marshal (the equivalent of class president) while starring as the Crimson football team's top rusher and the baseball team's captain. Michael was born and raised in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he played football, baseball and basketball at the city's Country Day School.

During his time in Miami, Michael was active in the South Florida community, volunteering his time at several elementary and high schools, and serving as a mentor for the 5000 Role Models of Excellence Project. In February 2016, the Hill Family Scholarship was launched as part of his commitment to philanthropy and education in South Florida. The scholarship is inspired by the core values of Michael's family and looking to support a deserving student in the pursuit of a college career.

In addition, Hill has completed over 20 marathons and half marathons, the most recent being the World Marathon Challenge in 2018, in which he ran seven marathons in seven days on seven continents.

JUSTIN KLEMM

*Vice President,
Instant Replay Operations*

Justin Klemm is Major League Baseball's Vice President, Replay. Justin was hired shortly after the approval of the system's expansion for the 2014 season and was promoted to his current position before the 2020 season.

In his role, Klemm is responsible for the management of umpire involvement at MLB's Replay Operations Center. Among his duties, Justin handles supervisor staffing at the facility, and along with technical personnel, helps to coordinate the procedural configuration with the 30 Clubs.

In 2008, he became Executive Director of Minor League Baseball's Professional Baseball Umpire Corporation (PBUC). Klemm joined PBUC in 2004 as a Field Evaluator/Instructor before being named Executive Director, a capacity in which he worked closely with MLB's Umpiring Department on a variety of issues, including mechanics, rule interpretations, Arizona Fall League assignments and new hires. In addition to being responsible for all personnel moves for 220 Minor League Umpires, Justin guided a staff of six field evaluators and a medical coordinator while ensuring that qualified officials were in place for all 16 domestic minor leagues.

Prior to his administrative experience with PBUC, Klemm spent nine seasons as an umpire in the minor leagues, including four years in the Triple-A International League. As a call-up umpire, the native of Cataumet, Massachusetts worked numerous regular season games at the Major League level, and he was invited to work the Arizona Fall League on two occasions. He spent two off-seasons umpiring in China and Australia in an effort to develop officials there. Klemm graduated from Indiana Wesleyan University with a degree in Management.

MATT MCKENDRY

*Vice President,
Umpire Operations*

Matt McKendry, who has been with Major League Baseball since 2000, was first named MLB's Director of Umpire Administration in 2012. In his current role as Vice President, Umpire Operations, Matt is responsible for administering day-to-day umpire operations and facilitating communication between MLB's Umpiring Department, the Major League Umpires and Minor League Baseball. McKendry also assists in the scheduling of umpire assignments and maintaining records of information related to the Department's programs and initiatives.

McKendry served in MLB's On-Field Operations Department from 2002 through 2011, working first under the direction of Bob Watson and then Joe Garagiola, Jr. His duties included investigating all on-field incidents and situations, assisting with disciplinary action decisions, monitoring pace of game issues, supporting the Uniform and Protective Equipment Regulations programs and administering his department's Stadium Operations and Groundskeeping projects. In that capacity McKendry assisted the Umpiring Department throughout the year with a number of administrative and research issues.

Matt's began with MLB in November 2000 in the Club Relations Department under Phyllis Merhige after being a part of the New York Yankees' Media Relations Department during the 2000 season.

RICH RIEKER

Senior Director, Umpire Development

Rich Rieker became Director of Umpire Development in Major League Baseball's Umpiring Department prior to the 2011 season. In this capacity, Rieker coordinates a wide variety of training and educational initiatives and works closely with the Major League Umpires. Rieker joined MLB in 2002 as an Umpire Supervisor after spending nine seasons as a Major League Umpire.

Since 2006, Rich has been responsible for administering Major League Baseball Umpire Camps (MLBUC.com), based at MLB's Urban Youth Academy in California. He continues to serve as the coordinator of the Camps, which resulted from a joint effort by MLB, the World Umpires Association, the Professional Baseball Umpire Corporation, the Jim Evans Academy of Professional Umpiring and the Wendelstedt Umpire School. In recent years, a series of free, one-day Camps have been held in various locations throughout the country, as well as Puerto Rico. More than 100 scholarship recipients from the Camps have gone on to attend umpire school, allowing professional prospects to get exposure, and over 150 professional umpiring careers have been launched as a result of the Camps. In 2017, 22 attendees of the eight free, one-day Camps attended pro mini camp in Fort Myers, Florida in December and 10 advanced into pro ball this year on MLB scholarship. In addition, the Camps have trained more than 800 military members and 5,000 attendees overall. Rieker has served as MLB's liaison to the United States Marine Corps and Columbia College of Missouri as the organizations collectively developed the U.S. Marine Corps Officiating Certification Program, which allowed Marines to take courses that culminate in an internship at the MLB Umpire Camp.

Rieker developed and managed the production of the "Virtual Umpire Camp" CD-ROM, a first-of-its-kind product that illustrates the proper mechanics for two-umpire, three-umpire and four-umpire crews with umpiring signals in 3-D. The disk, produced in conjunction with the Professional Baseball Umpire Corporation and Immersion Media, was utilized by all professional umpires and is currently in distribution worldwide. The "Virtual Umpire Camp" CD-ROM version 3.0 was produced for release in 2015. Rieker also was responsible for the coordination of the training and assignments of both Major League and international umpires for the World Baseball Classic.

Rieker worked in the Midwest (1983-85), Eastern (1985-86), American Association (1986-95) and Dominican Winter (1987-88) Leagues prior to joining the National League staff in 1996. During his tenure as a Major League Umpire, Rieker worked one All-Star Game (1998) and two Division Series (1999-2000). He also was an instructor at the Harry Wendelstedt Umpire School for 16 years.

A native of St. Louis, Rieker graduated from the University of Missouri-St. Louis in 1984 with a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration & Marketing. Rieker, who was born in St. Louis in 1961, resides in Orlando. He has two children, Jacob and Michael.

UMPIRE SUPERVISORS

MIKE EVERITT

Mike Everitt was named an MLB Umpire Supervisor in February 2020 following 21 years as a Major League Umpire, including his final three seasons as a crew chief. Everitt worked three World Series (2007, 2009 and 2015) and six League Championship Series in his career. Mike was the home plate umpire for Kevin Millwood's no-hitter on April 27, 2003.

Everitt played in the 1982 Connie Mack World Series and was a two-time All-State Music trumpet player in 1981-82. JERRY MEALS (CLEVELAND/PITTSBURGH)

Jerry became an Umpire Observer in 2023 following a 25-year career as a Major League Umpire. Meals joined the Major League staff in 1998 and was promoted to Crew Chief in 2015. During his career, Jerry worked two All-Star Games, two Wild Card Series and one Wild Card Game, nine Division Series, three League Championship Series and two World Series.

ED MONTAGUE (OAKLAND/SAN FRANCISCO)

Ed became an Umpire Supervisor for Major League Baseball in 2011 after retiring from the field in 2009 after working 4,369 career games in addition to 99 career Postseason contests. Montague became a member of the Major League staff in 1976 and worked four All-Star Games, seven Division Series, eight League Championship Series and six World Series. Ed served in the U.S. Navy from 1963-1973 and worked for the Disabled American Veterans for 10 years.

JEFF NELSON (MINNEAPOLIS/ST. PAUL)

Jeff became an Umpire Observer in 2024 following more than 25 years on the field as a Major League Umpire before his retirement following the 2023 season. Nelson became a member of the Major League staff in 1999 and was appointed a crew chief ahead of the 2014 season. During his career, Nelson worked two All-Star Games, two Wild Card Series and four Wild Card Games, eight Division Series, nine League Championship Series and four World Series.

KEVIN O'CONNOR (BOSTON)

Kevin umpired professionally for 10 years, including in the International League (1992). Currently, Kevin is an operations manager for Alpine Industrial Inc. and is a licensed Real Estate Salesperson for ERA Realty Services, Inc. Kevin is a graduate of Joe Brinkman Umpire School. He also coaches youth soccer and baseball and officiates high school and college basketball.

STEVE RIPPLEY (SOUTH FLORIDA)

Steve, who was a Major League umpire from 1984 through 2003, joined MLB as an observer in 2009. The former National League umpire worked the 1990 All-Star Game, four Division Series, three League Championship Series and three World Series (1996, 99 and 2001). Rippley, who also served as a crew chief, counts his experiences working the Fall Classic as the proudest moments of his career. Steve worked at various levels of the minor leagues from 1974 through 1982 before joining the National League staff.

BILL RUSSELL (LOS ANGELES/ANAHEIM)

Bill has nearly four decades of professional baseball experience, as a player, coach, and manager. He appeared in more games than any other Los Angeles Dodger (2,181) in his 18-year Major League career. He played in three All-Star Games and four World Series. Bill was a coach in the Dodgers organization for 10 years and managed Los Angeles from June 1996 to June 1998. He has also coached in the Tampa Bay organization and managed Shreveport, the Double-A affiliate of the San Francisco Giants, in 2001.

MIKE WINTERS (SAN DIEGO)

Mike served as a Major League Umpire from 1990-2020 after beginning his professional career in 1982. He worked three All-Star Games, 11 Division Series, six League Championship Series and four World Series. He was umpiring when Hall of Famers Tony Gwynn and Cal Ripken Jr. recorded their 3,000th hits, and was part of the crew for Mark McGwire's 62nd home run in 1998.

MLB UMPIRE CAMPS TEACH THE PROFESSION AROUND THE COUNTRY

The MLB Umpire Camps assist those interested in the field of umpiring in furthering the advancement of their college, high school and little league umpiring careers and also serves as a preparatory course to those considering a career as a Major League or Minor League umpire. The Camp provides world-class umpire training, going beyond classroom instruction and field work to also focus on rules interpretations, positioning, conditioning, nutrition, safety and equipment.

Free one-day camps have been held across the country, spanning many MLB markets and other cities. Throughout their history, the MLB Umpire Camps have had a special focus on providing experiences for members of the military. Information on the MLB Umpire Camps is available by visiting MLBUC.com.

2024 MLB UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT STAFF

JORGE BAUZA, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT SUPERVISOR

After attending the Brinkman Umpire School, Jorge spent nine seasons as an umpire in the International, Eastern, Florida State, South Atlantic and Gulf Coast Leagues. He also umpired in Puerto Rico and in the Caribbean World Series. He graduated from University of Sagrado Corazon; Puerto Rico with a Bachelor's Degree in Communications.

FIELDIN CULBRETH, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT EVALUATOR

Fieldin is in his second year working as an Umpire Evaluator. Prior to becoming an Umpire Evaluator, he umpired for 27 years in Major League Baseball, working over 3,000 games, three World Series, seven League Championship Series, eight Division Series and two All-Star Games.

DUSTY DELLINGER, SENIOR MANAGER, UMPIRE ADMINISTRATION

Dusty became the Senior Manager of Umpire Development in Major League Baseball's Umpiring Department prior to the 2022 season. In this capacity, Dellinger oversees the day-to-day operations of the Minor League Umpires, a role he has served in since 2014 while the Director of Umpire Development for Minor League Baseball. Before his current role, he served as Umpire Supervisor following his on-field career. After graduating from umpire school, Dellinger spent 11 seasons as an umpire in the International, Southern, Carolina, South Atlantic, and New York-Penn Leagues. During his five years at the Triple-A level, he was awarded two Arizona Fall League invites and worked part-time at the Major League level for three seasons. Dellinger spent two offseasons umpiring in the Puerto Rico Winter League and was selected to umpire the Inaugural World Baseball Classic. Dellinger is a native of Charlotte, North Carolina, and resides in China Grove, North Carolina. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in business management from Catawba College.

SHAWN FCASNI, MANAGER, SPORTS MEDICINE & PERFORMANCE

Shawn enters his second season as Manager, Sports Medicine & Performance for Major League Baseball, where he oversees the health and safety of nearly 200 Minor League umpires. Prior to his current role, Shawn spent 20 years in multiple roles with the Philadelphia Phillies, including 10 years as Assistant Athletic Trainer at the Major League Level.

TYLER FUNNEMAN, MANAGER, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT

Tyler is in his second season as an Umpire Development Supervisor and Umpire Outreach with Major League Baseball following 10 years as an Umpire Development Supervisor for Minor League Baseball. Funneman plays a vital role in the administration of the MLB Umpire Camps nationwide and manages all social media for the camps. During his on-field career, Funneman spent 10 years as a professional umpire. He made his Major League debut in 2011 at Dodger Stadium. He also earned invitations from Major League Baseball to work in the Arizona Fall League and multiple Major League Spring Trainings.

THOMAS HONEC, MANAGER, UMPIRE OPERATIONS

Tom joined the Umpiring Department in 2021 after working as an Umpire Supervisor and Technology Manager for Minor League Baseball. Tom has 15 years of experience as a professional umpire, including nine seasons in the Minor Leagues reaching the Triple-A classification. A native of Virginia, Tom attended James Madison University, where he received his master's of business administration. He currently resides in Loudoun County, Virginia.

BRIAN SINCLAIR, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT SUPERVISOR

Brian joined Major League Baseball Umpire Development in 2021. Prior to joining MLB, he was a part of Minor League Baseball Umpire Development. He has trained and help developed Minor League Baseball umpires since 2013. Brian started his professional umpiring career in 2004 and umpired in the Pacific Coast, Texas, Florida State, South Atlantic, Northwest and Arizona Leagues. In addition, he also worked in the Venezuelan Winter Leagues, Arizona and Florida Instructional Leagues and also earned an invitation to Major League Baseball Spring Training.

DARREN SPAGNARDI, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT SUPERVISOR

Darren begins his 14th season as an Umpire Development Supervisor following nine years of professional umpiring, including three at the Major League level filling in from 2002-2004. During his career, Darren worked in the Gulf Coast, NY-Penn, South Atlantic, Carolina, Southern, International, Arizona Fall and the Venezuelan Winter Leagues. In addition, Darren has been a lead instructor at Umpire School for more than a decade and was instrumental in updating the Two and Three Umpire System Manuals currently used for training and development in professional baseball.

JASON STARKOVICH, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT SUPERVISOR

Jason is entering his second season as an Observer with Umpire Development. He umpired professionally from 2011-2021, working in the Gulf Coast League, Pioneer League, Midwest League, California League, Southern League, Pacific Coast League, and Triple-A West. He was selected to work the 2017 SiriusXM Futures Game in Miami. He earned both his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Northern Colorado and played baseball at Trinidad State Junior College. Jason and his wife, Jessica, reside in San Tan Valley, Arizona.

BILL WELKE, UMPIRE DEVELOPMENT EVALUATOR

Prior to joining MLB's Umpiring Department, Bill was a Crew Chief and Major League Umpire for 24 seasons (1999-2022) including the 2015 World Series, four League Championship Series (2014, 2016, 2017, 2019), seven Division Series, and three Wild Card Games. A native of Coldwater, Michigan, Bill is married with four children, received a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration (Management) from Western Michigan University in 1990 and spends time volunteering at schools in the offseason, hunting and golfing.

IN MEMORY OF JAY PIERCE

MLB remembers Umpire Development Supervisor Jay Pierce, who passed away 2023. Pierce attended the Harry Wendelstedt Umpire School in 2005 and was an instructor there from 2010 to 2017, and from 2018 to 2002, he was an instructor at the Umpire Training Academy. In addition, he was on the inaugural Major League Baseball Umpire Development Camp staff. From 2005 to 2012, Jay umpired in the Southern, Eastern, Carolina, South Atlantic, Appalachian, Gulf Coast, and North Woods League. He also worked in the Arizona and Florida Instructional Leagues. In 2014, Jay joined the Umpire Development Staff in a part-time role and was promoted to full-time in 2018.

UMPS CARE CHARITIES

Helping People is an Easy Call

MISSION

UMPS CARE Charities, founded in 2006 through the compassion of Major League Baseball (MLB) umpires, provides financial, in-kind and emotional support for kids, young adults in the foster care system and adopted later in life, military families and the umpire and baseball family. The UMPS CARE vision is embodied in our established creed, "Helping People is an Easy Call." Whether it is supporting umpires who lost their homes in the Eastern Kentucky floods, saluting the service of wounded veterans or bringing smiles to the faces of children in hospitals, UMPS CARE is here to show that the Major League Baseball Umpires do, indeed, care for the community.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Since 2006, MLB Umpires have now delivered more than 21,000 Build-A-Bear® furry friends to children undergoing medical treatments in hospitals across the country and in Canada. What started with one hospital visit with umpires handing out 35 stuffed toys has become an annual tradition of giving and smile making for kids who need it most.
- UMPS CARE has welcomed close to 9,000 guests to enjoy VIP experiences at baseball parks, complete with goody bags with snacks, baseball hats, meal money, ticket, and an opportunity to meet MLB Umpires on the field!
- Our organization has distributed more than $350,000 in scholarships to kids who were adopted later in life. This program provides $10,000 annually over four years to these young adults, in addition to ongoing mentorship from the MLB Umpires and their families. Since 2015, we are proud to share that we have had a 100% graduation rate!
- Created in 2021, our Official Leadership Program has been training teens from under-resourced communities to learn umpiring mechanics and leadership skills. This has become a great way to provide a direct line of employment for kids who enjoy baseball and softball and addresses the nationwide shortage of umpires. MLB Umpires participate in clinics and in our 6-week course, in addition to local instructors.

ABOUT BLUE FOR KIDS HOSPITAL PROGRAM

MLB Umpires and lovable team mascots host Build-A-Bear® Workshop experiences for children with cancer and other serious illnesses. Each event includes a supply of pre-stuffed Build-A-Bears®, bear-sized outfits, cub condos, birth certificates, and baseball-themed stress balls. UMPS CARE also provides activity books, crayons and crafts to keep kids busy. Team photographers capture memories for the children at each event. In 2023, UMPS CARE Charities will make our 200th hospital visit and the delivery of our 20,000th Build-A-Bear®. [At right: MLB Umpires Laz Diaz and Cory Blaser with a family at the Cleveland Clinic - photo by Ken Blaze.]

ABOUT BLUE CREW TICKETS PROGRAM

Our Blue Crew Tickets offers memorable baseball experiences for youth-based organizations and military families. Major League Baseball umpires and caring corporate partners provide kids with a VIP experience that includes great seats to the game, a goody bag of all things baseball, and the unique opportunity to step onto the field for a souvenir baseball and photo. In addition to teaming up with organizations such as Big Brothers and Big Sisters, Boys & Girls Clubs and Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI), UMPS CARE is thrilled to partner with the Wounded Warriors Umpire Academy, a non-profit organization which trains wounded veterans to become umpires. This program is one way we salute the service of veterans. [At left: Major League Baseball umpires (L-R) Nate Tomlinson, David Rackley, Chris Segal and Edwin Moscoso host children at Petco Park.]

ABOUT ALL-STAR SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Education is an important part of life. In baseball terms, it gives you a healthy lead as you round the bases. But not everyone gets the same opportunity for higher education. The UMPS CARE Charities All-Star Scholarship was created for children adopted from foster care in order to help provide a college education for promising students with financial need. Each recipient receives $10,000 annually. In addition, MLB Umpires and family members act as mentors to the scholarship recipients, meeting for lunch on campus, sending care packages and lending an ear to ensure lifelong success. To date, UMPS CARE has distributed more than $300,000 to children adopted later in life. Starting in 2022, UMPS CARE expanded the program to fund an additional student each year, awarding close to $50,000 to students seeking their dream of a college degree.

ABOUT OFFICIAL LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

UMPS CARE Charities launched the Official Leadership Program in 2021 to encourage, train and mentor teens to become working umpires. The course includes Social Emotional Learning in the classroom with a focus on leadership, financial literacy and mentorship, as well as umpiring skills and mechanics taught on the field. This year we will host our program in the following cities: Atlanta, Chicago, Cincinnati, Compton, Dallas, Des Moines, Houston, Philadelphia and Phoenix in addition to clinics in other markets.

ABOUT FAMILY CARE PROGRAM

The UMPS CARE Charities Family Care Program was established to aid former professional baseball umpires who had fallen on hard times and were in need. The program has since expanded to include other members of the “baseball family.” Through charitable contributions, the Family Care program is there to assist with short-term financial needs and helps bridge the gap until a permanent, long lasting solution is in place. In addition, UMPS CARE has created community grants to expand our reach and support umpires at all levels of the game.

UMPIRES IN THE NATIONAL BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

ALBERT JOSEPH (AL) BARLICK

Inducted: 1989
Birthdate: 4/2/1915
Birthplace: Springfield, IL
Died: 12/27/1995, Springfield, IL

Barlick was a professional umpire for five decades, including 27 seasons working in the National League. He reached the Majors at the age of 25 in 1940 and retired in 1971.

On Al Barlick: "He was a great umpire who controlled the game. He was very well respected. They broke the mold when they made Al." - Longtime Major Leaguer Jim Piersall

NESTOR L. CHYLAK JR.

Inducted: 1999
Birthdate: 5/11/1922
Birthplace: Olyphant, PA
Died: 2/17/1982, Dunmore, PA

Chylak, who received both the Silver Star and Purple Heart after being seriously wounded in the Battle of the Bulge, joined the American League in 1954 and umpired for 25 seasons until a mild stroke forced him to retire in 1978. He was at first base for Bill Mazerowski's home run that ended the 1960 World Series.

On Nestor Chylak: "Nestor is one of the ultra, ultra good umpires. And the players respond to him. He's a good hustler. He always seems to be at the right place at the right time." - Boston Red Sox legend Johnny Pesky

JOHN BERTRAND (JOCKO) CONLAN

Inducted: 1974
Birthdate: 12/6/1899
Birthplace: Chicago, IL
Died: 4/1/1989, Scottsdale, AZ

Conlan became a professional umpire by accident. During a 1935 White Sox-Browns game, Conlan, a White Sox outfielder, was asked to fill in for Red Ormsby, who was overcome by heat. The next year he began his career in umpiring. Conlan joined the National League in 1941 and retired in 1964.

On Jocko Conlan: "I know of no one who has been more dedicated to his profession, more loyal to the game in which he has been such a big party, and I hate to see him hang up his spikes." - Former National League President Warren Giles

THOMAS HENRY (TOM) CONNOLLY

Inducted: 1953
Birthdate: 12/31/1870
Birthplace: Manchester, England
Died: 4/28/1961, Natick, MA

Connolly, one of the first two umpires to be enshrined in the Hall of Fame, originally worked in the National League from 1898-1900, before moving over to the American League in 1901. He worked the AL's first game on April 24, 1901 in Chicago, and upon his retirement in 1931 Connolly was appointed the league's first umpire-in-chief by William Harridge. He served in that capacity until 1954.

On Tom Connolly: "Soft-spoken, a master of the rules, he was a firm disciplinarian who managed nevertheless to go ten consecutive years of rambunctious games and arguments without ejecting a single player." - J. Astor, Hall of Fame 50th Anniversary Book

WILLIAM GEORGE (BILLY) EVANS

Inducted: 1973
Birthdate: 2/10/1884
Birthplace: Chicago, IL
Died: 1/23/1956, Miami, FL

Evans became the youngest umpire in Major League history when he worked for the American League in 1906 at the age of 22. He umpired through 1927 and then went on to be an executive for various clubs.

On Bill Evans: "If I was pitching a world's championship game and Billy Evans gave ten rank decisions and it cost me the pennant I wouldn't open my mouth. He is the best, fairest and squarest umpire in the league." - Hall of Famer Waite Hoyt

HAROLD DOUGLAS (DOUG) HARVEY

Inducted: 2010

Birthdate: 3/13/1930

Birthplace: South Gate, CA

Died: 1/13/2018, Visalia, CA

Harvey, a National League crew chief in 18 of his 31 seasons who worked 4,673 games, stressed the importance of timing and mentored a generation of younger umpires. Known for his firm control over the games he worked, Doug was behind the plate for Kirk Gibson's pinch-hit home run in Game 1 of the 1988 World Series.

On Doug Harvey: "Doug's a real class guy. You feel good when he's working your game." - Longtime Atlanta Braves manager Bobby Cox to USA Today in 1992

ROBERT CALVIN (CAL) HUBBARD

Inducted: 1976

Birthdate: 10/31/1900

Birthplace: Keytesville, MO

Died: 12/17/1977, St. Petersburg, FL

A decorated member of the three-time champion Green Bay Packers, Hubbard went on to umpire in the minor leagues for eight seasons before reaching the American League in 1936. He worked until a hunting accident forced him to an early retirement in 1951. He would become the first person ever inducted into three national sports shrines, having been previously honored by the College and Professional Football Halls of Fame.

On Cal Hubbard: "He has been an outstanding umpire in American League baseball, being an authority on the rules." - Bo McMillin, Hubbard's football coach at Centenary College

WILLIAM J. (BILL) KLEM

Inducted: 1953

Birthdate: 2/22/1874

Birthplace: Rochester, NY

Died: 9/1/1951, Miami, FL

Known as "The Old Arbitrator," Klem umpired in the National League for 37 years before retiring in 1941. He spent his first 16 seasons as an umpire working exclusively behind the plate because of his superior ability to call balls and strikes. He also was the first umpire to wear the inside chest protector, now standard for all umpires. Upon his retirement, Klem became the NL's first modern chief of umpires.

On Bill Klem: "The foundation stone of our national pastime is its umpires. And the foundation stone on which that foundation stone rests is William J. Klem. He brought a dignity to the job that it never had before." - Sportswriter Arthur Daley

WILLIAM ALOYSIUS (BILL) MCGOWAN

Inducted: 1992

Birthdate: 1/18/1896

Birthplace: Wilmington, DE

Died: 12/9/54, Silver Springs, MD

McGowan reached the American League in 1925, and his colorful style of umpiring never waned over his 30-year career. An iron man among umpires, McGowan once went 16 years without missing an inning (2,541 consecutive games).

On Bill McGowan: "I liked Bill to work the plate on games I pitched on the road. I'd always get a fair shake." - Former Major League pitcher John Ogden

HENRY M. (HANK) O'DAY

Inducted: 2013

Birthdate: 7/8/1862

Birthplace: Chicago, IL

Died: 7/2/1935, Chicago, IL

The most recent umpire to be elected to the Hall of Fame was Hank O'Day, who had a multifaceted career in the National League. He played as an accomplished pitcher and a part-time outfielder before managing (the Reds in 1912 and the Cubs in 1914), umpiring (1901-11, 1913, 1915-27) and scouting. He umpired the first modern World Series (1903) and went on to call nine other Fall Classics. In 1908, he was the home plate umpire for the play involving Fred Merkle in an infamous Giants-Cubs game.

On Hank O'Day: "O'Day was the greatest in his line, bar none. O'Day was the best umpire the game has ever known." - Hall of Famer Johnny Evers

RULES FOR ELECTION TO THE HALL OF FAME

RULES FOR ELECTION FOR UMPIRES FROM THE CONTEMPORARY BASEBALL ERA (1980-PRESENT)

The Contemporary Baseball/Non-Players Committee shall refer to the electorate that considers managers, umpires and executives whose greatest contributions to the game have come since 1980. The Contemporary Baseball/Non-Players Committee shall consist of 16 members, and an election from a ballot of eight candidates shall be held every three years with the next vote taking place in December 2023. Eligible umpire candidates include umpires with 10 or more years in baseball and retired for at least five years. Candidates who are 65 years or older are eligible six months following retirement. Any person designated by the Office of the Commissioner of Major League Baseball as ineligible shall not be an eligible candidate. Committee members may vote for up to three candidates, and all candidates receiving votes on at least 75% of ballots cast will earn election.

RULES FOR ELECTION FOR UMPIRES FROM THE CLASSIC BASEBALL ERA (PRE- 1980)

The Classic Baseball Era Committee shall refer to the electorate that considers retired Major League Baseball players no longer eligible for election by the Baseball Writers' Association of America, along with managers, umpires and executives whose greatest contributions to the game were realized prior to 1980. The Classic Baseball Era Committee shall consist of 16 members, and an election from a ballot of eight candidates shall be held every three years with the next vote taking place in December 2024. Eligible umpire candidates include umpires with 10 or more years in baseball and retired for at least five years. Candidates who are 65 years or older are eligible six months following retirement. Any person designated by the Office of the Commissioner of Major League Baseball as ineligible shall not be an eligible candidate. Committee members may vote for up to three candidates, and all candidates receiving votes on at least 75% of ballots cast will earn election.

RETIRED UNIFORM NUMBERS

In observance of the 50th anniversary of Jackie Robinson's historic triumph over the color barrier, Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig declared on April 15, 1997 that his No. 42 would be permanently retired throughout Major League Baseball. Since that announcement, the No. 42 has not been issued to any on-field personnel in commemoration of Robinson's stature as a symbol of grace, perseverance and justice. In 2007 and 2008, several umpires took part in the recent Jackie Robinson Day tradition of wearing number 42 in tribute to his lasting memory. Since 2009, all umpires have worn number 42 on Jackie Robinson Day.

The following umpires had their numbers retired by the American and National Leagues. Even though their numbers are currently active on the Major League staff, MLB recognizes their lasting contributions to the game of baseball.

1 — BILL KLEM

Nicknamed "The Old Arbitrator." Umpired from 1905 to 1940 and then served as chief of National League umpires. Holds the record for World Series appearances with 18 and consecutive appearances with five. Originated arm signals to coincide with verbal calls. In a rare tribute to an umpire, he was honored with gifts on "Bill Klem Night," September 2, 1949 at the Polo Grounds. He is a member of the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

3 — AL BARLICK

Umpired at the Major League level for 33 years (1940-72). Worked a record seven All-Star Games. At age 25, he became one of the youngest umpires to reach the Major Leagues. Known for his booming calls and distinctive hand signals. Started umpiring sandlot games after a coal mining strike forced him to earn extra money. Was a World War II Coast Guard veteran. Became the sixth umpire inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989.

2 — NICK BREMIGAN

Umpired in the American League from 1974 to 1989. He tragically died of a heart attack on March 28, 1989 at the age of 43. He was a member of the AL umpire staff when he passed away. Worked the Florida State, Eastern, International, Florida Winter Instructional and Puerto Rican Winter Leagues before joining the AL. Called the 1980 World Series, four AL Playoffs and two Midsummer Classics.

9 — BILL KUNKEL

Became an American League umpire in 1968 and served for a time as referee for the National Basketball Association. Also a pitcher for the New York Yankees and Kansas City Athletics, where he compiled a lifetime record of 6-6. Died in 1988 at the age of 48, after a long battle with cancer. His son Jeff was an infielder with the Texas Rangers (1984-92).

2 — JOCKO CONLAN

Umpired in the National League for 24 years (1941-64). Umpired four World Series and six All-Star Games. Played in 128 Major League games as a member of the Chicago White Sox (1934-35). Became the fifth umpire elected into the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Conlan on umpiring: "You've got to have thick skin and a strong heart. You've got to have and command respect. Without them, you're nothing."

16 — LOU DIMURO

Umpired in the American League from 1963-82. Worked two World Series, three League Championship Series and four All-Star Games. His son Mike is currently a Major League Baseball Umpire. Died tragically on June 8, 1982, at the age of 51, when he was struck by a car as he was crossing a street in Arlington, Texas.

2024 MLB UMPIRE CREWS

APPOINTMENT OF CREW CHIEFS

On or before January 15th of each year, the Office of the Commissioner shall appoint an umpire to act as the Crew Chief for each of the crews formed for the championship season. While the Office of the Commissioner may consider seniority along with other factors that it may deem appropriate when exercising its appointment discretion, seniority shall not control in the Office of the Commissioner's choice of Crew Chiefs.

The Crew Chief shall coordinate and direct his crew's compliance with the Office of the Commissioner's rules and policies. Other Crew Chief responsibilities include: leading periodic discussions and reviews of situations, plays and rules with his crew; generally directing the work of the other umpires on the crew, with particular emphasis on uniformity in dealing with unique situations; assigning responsibilities for maintaining time limits during the game; ensuring the timely filing of all required crew reports for incidents such as ejections, brawls and protested games; and reporting to the Office of Commissioner any irregularity in field conditions at any ballpark.

Below are the crews for the 2023 championship season as of 2023 Spring Training (crews are subject to change). (Bold indicates Crew Chief; ['XX'] indicates first year appointed as a Crew Chief; uniform numbers appear below to the left of the umpire's name; the number of years of Major League experience an umpire has appears below to the right of his name.)

SPECIAL EVENTS SELECTION

ASSIGNMENT

All Major League umpires are eligible to work any Special Event. The Office of the Commissioner shall have absolute and exclusive discretion in the assignment of umpires to work Special Events.

There shall be no restriction on the number of Special Events to which an umpire may be assigned to work in any given year, provided however that an umpire shall not work back-to-back Special Event series (excluding the All-Star Game) and an umpire shall not work consecutive World Series.

NOTIFICATION

Umpires assigned to work the All-Star Game shall be notified of their assignment not less than thirty (30) days prior to the game. Umpires assigned to work the Wild Card Series or a Division Series shall be notified of their assignment at least one (1) week prior to the last day of the regular season. Umpires assigned to work the League Championship Series shall be notified of their assignment on the day after all Wild Card Series are completed. Umpires assigned to work the World Series shall be notified of their assignment on the second day after the last Division Series game is played.

ROTATION

Six umpires shall be assigned to work each Special Event (seven umpires for LCS and World Series). Rotation of umpiring positions on the field will be followed in any Special Event that is a series. The Office of the Commissioner shall determine the initial position of each umpire in such series.

Impact of 2023 Changes

The Pitch Clock, Shift Restrictions, and Bigger Bases positively impacted gameplay in 2023

The average MLB game lasted 2:40 in 2023, the shortest since 1985 and 30 minutes shorter than games played in 2021

After the All-Star Break, there were 0.30 Pitch Clock Violations per game and 75% of games contained no violations

Scoring increased to 9.2 runs per game in 2023 vs. 8.6 runs per game in 2022

Among left-handed hitters, batting average on pulled balls in play rose 35 points on groundballs and 27 points on line drives

Players recorded the most stolen bases in a season since 1987 while the stolen base success rate was the highest in baseball history (80.2%)

Modifications for 2024

Timing Between Pitches

Reduce time with runners on base from 20 seconds to 18 seconds

The 20-second timer offers the best opportunity to further reduce dead time:

Violations were infrequent
(1 every 16 games)

On average, pitchers began their deliveries with 7.3 seconds remaining on the 20-second timer in 2023

Triple-A testing showed no increase in violations when using a 17-second timer with runners on base

Mound Visits

Reduce mound visits from 5 to 4 (maintain extra visit in 9th inning if team is out)

Mound visits rank among fans' least favorite events

2.3

Mound visits used, on average, per team game in 2023

98

% of team games in 2023 that would not have exceeded this limit

Additional Modification: Catchers can signal for a mound visit without actually visiting the mound to further help improve pace of game

Former Major League pitcher Joe Martinez, who currently serves as MLB's Vice President of On-Field Strategy, demonstrates the new rules for media members ahead of the 2023 season at Spring Training Media Day in Dunedin, Florida.

Pitching Change Timing

Timer resets to 2:00 rather than 2:15 when new pitcher steps onto the warning track (timer does not reset if more than 2:00 remain)

Inning breaks with a pitching change averaged 2 minutes and 35 seconds in 2023

35 SECONDS Length of dead time after 2 minutes of commercial time

A reset to 2:00, rather than 2:15, saves time while maintaining equity between home and visiting clubs with different paths from bullpen to field that would be lost with the pure removal of the reset

Pitcher Substitutions

The pitcher who warms up on the field at the start of an inning must face at least one batter (in addition to any requirements under the Three-Batter Minimum Rule)

In 2023, there were 23 instances where the pitcher that warms up between innings is replaced before throwing a pitch

This happened twice in the World Series, creating an average of 6 minutes and 5 seconds of dead time between pitches

Circumvention

There is no longer a requirement for the pitcher to be on the mound for the clock to start following a dead ball

The FTC will now restart the timer after a dead ball when the pitcher has the ball and play is ready to resume

Pitcher is no longer able to delay the start of the timer by walking around the edge of the mound with possession of the ball following a dead ball

Emphasizing Existing Obstruction Rule

Umpires will enforce existing playing rule that prohibits fielders from impeding or hindering a runner's path to the base while not in possession of or in the act of fielding the ball

Runner's Lane

The Runner's Lane will be widened to include the dirt area between the foul line and the infield grass

An additional 18-24" in fair territory will be added to the width of the runner's lane

Widening the runner's lane allows batters to take a more direct path to first base while retaining protection from interference

Spurred by players, the goal is to reduce egregious base blocking (i.e., knee or lower leg in front of the bag, foot in front of and parallel to the base)

Led by the pitch clock, the new rules implemented in 2023 resulted in MLB games lasting 2:40, the shortest since 1985 and 30 minutes shorter than games played in 2021.

PACE OF GAME INITIATIVES

In March 2019, Major League Baseball announced rule changes designed to improve the pace of play. These changes build upon previous efforts put in place for the 2015 and 2016 seasons, as well as changes introduced in 2018. The rules for the 2024 championship season include:

MOUND VISITS

Number of Mound Visits

- Mound visits without a pitching change will be five (4) per team, per nine innings. For any extra-innings played, each Club shall be entitled to one additional non-pitching change mound visit per inning.
- Official Baseball Rule 5.10(I), which governs mound visits by a manager or coach, remains in effect (i.e., a pitcher must be removed on the second visit by a manager/coach in an inning).

Definition of Mound Visit

- A manager or coach trip to the mound to meet with the pitcher shall constitute a visit. A player leaving his position to confer with the pitcher, including a pitcher leaving the mound to confer with another player, shall also constitute a mound visit, regardless of where the visit occurs or the length of the visit, except that the following shall not constitute mound visits:
 - a. Discussions between pitchers and position player(s) that (i) occur between batters in the normal course of play and do not require either the position player(s) or the pitcher to relocate;
 - b. Visits by position players to the mound to clean spikes in rainy conditions;
 - c. Visits to the mound due to an injury or potential injury of the pitcher; and
 - d. Visits to the mound after the announcement of an offensive substitution.

Cross-Up in Signs

- In the event a team has exhausted its allotment of mound visits in a game (or extra inning) and the home plate umpire determines that the catcher and pitcher did not have a shared understanding of the location or type of pitch that had been signaled by the catcher (otherwise referred to as a “cross-up”), the home plate umpire may, upon request of the catcher, allow the catcher to make a brief mound visit. Any mound visit resulting from a cross-up prior to a team exhausting its allotted number of visits shall count against a team’s total number of allotted mound visits.

INNING BREAKS AND PITCHING CHANGES

Time of Break

- The timer will count down from 2:00 for breaks in both locally and nationally televised championship season games.

TIME REMAINING	REQUIRED ACTION
25 seconds	Umpire signals pitcher to complete last warm-up pitch
20 seconds	Batter is announced and must leave on-deck circle, batter walk-up music shall begin, and pitcher shall complete last warm-up pitch
0 seconds	Pitcher must begin motion to deliver first pitch

- a. The pitcher may take as many warm-up pitches as he desires, but regardless of how many warm-up pitches he has thrown, he must deliver his final warm-up pitch at least 20 seconds prior to the end of an inning break or pitching change. OBR 5:07 will be revised to reflect that pitcher is not guaranteed eight warm-up pitches.
- b. The umpire shall signal for the last warm-up pitch at 25 seconds, unless a special circumstance (as described below) applies.
- c. The batter must leave the on-deck circle and proceed directly to the batter's box when the pitcher throws his final warm-up pitch.
- d. The batter must leave the on-deck circle and proceed directly to the batter's box when the pitcher throws his final warm-up pitch.

Special Circumstances

- A Player will be excused from following the time limits set forth above if the umpire determines that any of the following special circumstances are present:
 - a. There is a delay in normal warm-up activities during the inning break due to no fault of the Players (e.g., injury or other medical emergency, equipment issues, playing field or grounds crew issues);
 - b. The umpire believes the pitcher is at a legitimate risk of injury if he does not receive additional time to throw warm-up pitches;
 - c. The umpire believes the batter is at a legitimate risk of injury if he does not receive additional time to enter the batter's box;
 - d. Any other special circumstances which, in the umpire's judgment, warrant allowing the pitcher to throw after the deadline.

Start of Timer for Inning Breaks

- Last Out of Inning: The timer shall start on the last out of an inning for an inning break.
- Close Plays/Replay Review: The Field Timing Coordinator shall delay the start of the timer if the final out of the inning is a close play that may be reviewed by instant replay. If the final out of the inning is determined in instant replay, the timer shall start as soon as the out is signaled by the umpire.
- Pitcher or Catcher On Base/On Deck: If a pitcher ends an inning on base, on deck, or at bat, the timer shall reset when the pitcher leaves the dugout for the mound. If a catcher ends the inning on base, on deck, or at bat, the timer will reset when the catcher enters the dugout (and another catcher must begin warming up the pitcher).

Start of Timer for Pitching Changes

- Pitcher Crosses Warning Track: The pitching change timer shall begin as soon as the relief pitcher crosses the warning track (or foul line for on-field bullpens) to enter the game. In the case of a pitching change that occurs during an inning break, the timer shall reset if previously started as soon as the relief pitcher crosses the warning track (or foul line for on-field bullpens).
- Relief Pitchers Must Promptly Leave Bullpen: Relief pitchers shall leave the bullpen promptly following an appropriate signal by their manager or coach. During the playing of God Bless America, or any other extended inning event previously approved by the Office of the Commissioner, the timer will begin at the conclusion of the song or event.

Enforcement

- Umpires shall direct players and enforce the inning break and pitching change time limits on the field. Players who consistently or flagrantly violate the time limits will be subject to progressive discipline for just cause by the Office of the Commissioner pursuant to Article XI(C) of the Basic Agreement.

BATTER’S BOX RULE

- The batter’s box rule that was in effect during the 2017-2018 seasons will remain in effect during the 2024 season.

BATTER’S BOX RULE

Batters must keep one foot in the batter’s box throughout the at-bat, unless one of the following occurs:

- Batter swings at pitch or attempts bunt
- Pitcher attempts a pick off
- Umpire calls time out
- Wild pitch or passed ball
- Pitch forces batter out of batter’s box
- Check swing is appealed to base umpire
- Pitcher leaves the mound or catcher leaves the catcher’s box

In addition, the batter may not ever leave the dirt circle unless an offensive or defensive conference is called.

VIDEO REPLAY REVIEW

- The following adjustments were made to the video replay technology prior to the 2018 season and remain in place for the 2024 season:
 - a. Capability for all Club video review rooms to receive direct slow motion camera angles;
 - b. Phone lines connecting the video review rooms and the dugout, and monitor the communications over those lines to prevent their use for sign-stealing.

HISTORICAL TIMELINE OF MAJOR LEAGUE UMPIRING

1876 – William McLean, from Philadelphia, became the first professional umpire when he umpired the first game in National League history between Boston and Philadelphia on April 22.

1878 – The National League instructed home teams to pay umpires $5 per game.

1879 – National League president William A. Hulbert appointed a group of 20 men from which teams could choose an umpire, therefore becoming baseball's first umpiring staff.

1879 – Umpires were given the authority to impose fines for illegal acts.

1882 – The American Association is the majors' first league to hire a full-time staff of permanent umpires. They would begin work the next year.

1882 – National League umpire Richard Higham, the first to wear a mask, became the only Major League umpire ever expelled from the game after the League judged him guilty of collusion with gamblers.

1885 – Umpires began wearing chest protectors for the first time.

1888 – The American Association's John Gaffney alters the way umpires work games. Previously, an umpire worked behind either the pitcher or catcher. Gaffney moved behind the plate for all calls except with runners on base, when he moves behind the pitcher.

1901 – Thomas Connolly umpired the first game in the American League between Cleveland and Chicago on April 24.

1903 – Hank O'Day and Thomas Connolly worked the first modern World Series between the Boston Pilgrims and Pittsburgh Pirates.

1906 – William Evans, at 22 years old, became the youngest umpire in Major League history.

1909 – The four-umpire system was employed for the first time in the World Series.

1910 – The umpire organizational chart was established. The plate umpire was appointed the umpire-in-chief and the others were field umpires.

1910 – Chicago Cubs manager Frank Chance became the first person ejected from a World Series game when umpire Thomas Connolly threw him out for protesting a home run call.

1911 – Bill Dinneen worked as an umpire in the World Series and became the first person to play and umpire in the Fall Classic. Dinneen played for the Boston Pilgrims in the 1903 Series.

1912 – Both the American and National Leagues had 10 person umpiring staffs with two umpires being used in games and two reserves.

1921 – Umpires in both leagues began the practice of rubbing mud into the balls prior to each game in order to remove the gloss.

1933 – Bill Dinneen, Bill Klem, Bill McGowan and Cy Rigler umpired the first All-Star Game at Comiskey Park in Chicago.

1935 – George Barr of the National League opened the first umpire training school in Hot Springs, Arkansas.

1939 – The Bill McGowan School for Umpires opened.

1941 – Bill Klem, the oldest umpire in Major League history at 68, retired from umpiring after working a record 37 seasons and became the National League's first modern chief of umpires.

1946 – Bill McKinley became the first graduate of an umpiring training school to reach the Major Leagues.

1947 – In the 1947 World Series, featuring the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, the current six-man crew was established as an alternate umpire was stationed along each foul line.

1950 – Umpires were no longer allowed to levy fines for illegal acts, as they were instead to be handled by each League president.

1951 – Emmett Ashford became an umpire in the Southwestern International League and became the first black professional umpire.

1952 – The four-man umpiring crew was instituted for all regular season games.

1953 – Thomas Connolly and Bill Klem became the first umpires inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

1956 – Ed Rommel and Frank Umont broke a long-standing taboo by becoming the first umpires to wear eyeglasses on the field.

1961 – Emmett Ashford became the first black umpire in the Major Leagues when he was hired by the American League to call games. At 46, Ashford worked the Pacific Coast, Southwest International, Arizona-Texas and Western International Leagues. He became a full-time AL umpire in 1966.

1970 – The first strike by umpires in Major League history lasted one day during the League Championship Series, an action prompting both the American League and National League Presidents to recognize the newly formed Major League Umpires Association and negotiate a labor contract with them.

1972 – Bernice Gera became the first woman to umpire a professional baseball game when she worked a Class A New York-Penn League game.

1973 – Art Williams became the first black umpire to reach the National League staff.

1974 – Armando Rodriguez became the first Hispanic umpire to work in the Major Leagues as he joined the American League staff.

1978 – Major League umpires strike for better benefits. Amateur crews call 13 games before a judge issues a restraining order and sends the regular umpires back to work.

1979 – Major League umpires went on strike for the third time in history from Opening Day until May 18. Replacement umpires were used during this strike.

1984 – Because of a strike, Game 1 of the NLCS is called by college umpires.

1991 – Steve Palermo, an AL umpire, suffered a gunshot wound while attempting to prevent the robbery of two women. (Palermo continues to serve as an MLB umpire supervisor.)

1996 – National League umpire John McSherry collapsed during an Opening Day game in Cincinnati and, tragically, passed away after being rushed to a nearby hospital.

1997 – Mike DiMuro became the first American umpire to work a regular season game in Japan's Central League.

1998 – Harry and Hunter Wendelstedt became the first father-son umpire combination to work a Major League game together.

1999 – Alfonso Marquez became the first-ever Mexican-born, full-time Major League Baseball umpire.

2000 – On February 24, the World Umpires Association ("WUA") was certified as the exclusive collective bargaining agent for all regular full-time Major League umpires.

2005 – Major League Baseball and the World Umpires Association ratified a new collective bargaining agreement extending through December 31, 2009.

2006 – Bruce Froemming worked his 5,000th career game on August 16 at Fenway Park.

2008 – On August 26, Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig announced that Major League Baseball would implement a system of limited instant replay, applying only to home run calls – whether they are fair or foul, whether they have left the playing field, or whether they have been subject to fan interference. Instant replay was available for the first time in the three new series that began on Thursday, August 28 and in all ensuing games.

2008 – On September 3, a home run by Alex Rodriguez of the New York Yankees at Tropicana Field in St. Petersburg was upheld in the first use of instant replay in Major League Baseball history.

2009 – On October 31, in the first use of instant replay in MLB postseason history, a ball hit in play by New York's Alex Rodriguez during Game 3 of the World Series was reviewed at Philadelphia's Citizens Bank Park. The subsequent reversal results in a home run for Rodriguez, who also hit the ball that led to the first regular season use of instant replay on September 3, 2008.

2009– On December 23, Major League Baseball and the World Umpires Association announced a tentative five-year collective bargaining agreement through December 31, 2014. The Major League Clubs and the membership of the World Umpires Association ratified the agreement in January 2010.

2013 – Manny Gonzalez became the first-ever Venezuelan-born, full-time Major League Baseball umpire.

2014 – On January 16, Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig announced that Major League Baseball would expand instant replay for the 2014 regular season, with the consent of the MLB Players Association and the World Umpires Association.

2015 – On January 21, Major League Baseball and the World Umpires Association officially ratified a five-year labor agreement, covering the 2015-2019 seasons.

2020 – On January 20, Major League Baseball and the World Umpires Association officially ratified a five-year labor agreement, covering the 2020-2024 seasons.

Framber Valdez became the first left-hander to toss a no-hitter in Houston Astros history with his performance on August 1, 2023 against the visiting Cleveland Guardians. Umpire Quinn Wolcott called balls and strikes for the historic outing, marking his first home plate assignment to result in a no-hitter.

FACTS ABOUT UMPIRES AND NO-HITTERS

(Special thanks for the contributions of the late David Vincent)

* Frank O'Loughlin, an American League umpire from 1902-1918, was behind the plate for six no-hitters throughout his career. His first and second no-hit games were both in 1905, within 45 days of each other. He followed up with no-hitters in 1908, 1911, 1912 and 1917 for six total, the most no-hitters called by an umpire since 1901.

* Bruce Froemming was on the field for the most no-hitters ever - 11. Frank O'Loughlin, Paul Pryor and Jim McKean are next with 10 apiece.

* Ted Barrett is the only umpire ever to have been behind the plate for two perfect games (David Cone's in 1999 and Matt Cain's in 2012).

* Bill Dinneen, Bill Klem and Harry Wendelstedt called five no-hitters apiece behind the plate.

Dinneen was an American League umpire from 1909-1937. His first no-hitter was in 1910 followed by one game in 1912, one game in 1918 and two in 1923.

Klem, a National League umpire from 1905-1941, called his first on September 20, 1907. Twenty-seven years and one day later, on September 21, 1934, "The Old Arbitrator" called his last, making him the umpire with the longest gap between his first no-hitter behind the plate and his last.

Wendelstedt, a NL Umpire from 1966-1998, called two in the 1968 season.

* Many umpires have called no-hitters or perfect games on more than one occasion. Since 1901, eight umpires have called four no-hit games throughout their career and 12 umpires have called three such games.

Eight active umpires have called multiple no-hit games:

- * Phil Cuzzi (2): Bud Smith's 2001 no-hitter and Cole Hamels' 2015 no-hitter.
- * Rob Drake (2): Felix Hernandez's perfect game in 2012 and Chris Heston's 2015 no-hitter.
- * Adrian Johnson (2): Edwin Jackson's 2010 no-hitter and the second of Homer Bailey's two no-hitters.
- * Brian Knight (2): Jon Lester's 2008 no-hitter and Josh Beckett's no-hit effort in 2014.
- * Ron Kulpa (2): Justin Verlander's first no-hitter in 2007 and Henderson Alvarez's gem in 2013.
- * Rob Drake (2): Felix Hernández's 2012 perfect game and Chris Heston's 2015 no-hitter.
- * John Tumpane (2): Mike Fiers' 2015 no-hitter and the combined Dodger no-hitter in 2018.
- * Jim Wolf (2): Dallas Braden's 2010 perfect game and the combined Astros no-hitter in 2019.

When Michael Lorenzen of the Phillies (left) tossed his no-hitter in 2023, Brennan Miller was behind the plate for his first no-hitter. Erich Bacchus and Quinn Wolcott also called no-hitters behind the plate in 2023, while Edwin Moscoso was behind the plate for Domingo Germán's perfect game, marking the first in the Majors since 2012..

- * Joe Brinkman umpired two no-hitters in his career. His first was on June 19, 1974, with the latter being on May 12, 2001. This gap of nearly 27 years is the second longest break between two no-hitters by the same home plate umpires.
- * Bill Dinneen is the only Major League umpire who pitched a no-hitter. Dinneen was behind the plate for five no-hitters between 1910 and 1923. He threw his for the Boston Red Sox on September 27, 1905.
- * Ed Runge was the home plate umpire on September 16, 1965 for Dave Morehead's gem. His grandson, Brian Runge, worked the plate for three no-hitters. The younger Runge called Jonathan Sanchez's game on July 10, 2009 in which an error separated the hurler from a perfect game. Runge also called Philip Humber's perfect game on April 21, 2012 and Seattle's six-pitcher no-hitter on June 8, 2012. Brian's dad, Paul, was on the field for a whopping six no-hitters, but was never behind the dish in any of them.
- * Ed Vargo, a National League umpire from 1960-1983, was the first Major League umpire to call one no-hitter and one perfect game for the same pitcher. Vargo was behind home plate for Sandy Koufax's no-hitter on June 4, 1964 and his perfect game on September 9, 1965. Eric Cooper then joined this list by working Mark Buehrle's 2007 no-hitter and his 2009 perfect game.
- * Six umpires since 1901 have been the plate umpire for two no-hitters in the same season. Thomas Connolly was behind home plate for the perfect game by Addie Joss and the no-hitter by Bob Rhoads in 1908. Harry Schwartz called two no-hitters in 1962, as did Johnny Stevens in 1967, Larry Napp in 1970, Drew Coble in 1990 and Brian Runge in 2012.
- * Frank Dwyer called the first American League perfect game, by Cy Young, in 1904.
- * Richard Nallin was the first umpire of the 20th Century to call two no-hitters back to back. First, on May 5, 1917, he called Ernie Koob's game, and then on May 6, 1917, he was behind the plate for Bob Groom's no-hit game. Bill Dinneen called two no-hitters within three days. He umpired the blankings by Sam Jones on September 4, 1923 and Howard Ehmke on September 7, 1923. Bill Deegan called two games within 16 days of each other in 1977.
- * Mike Fichter was the home plate umpire on June 11, 2003, when a record six Houston Astros pitchers combined to no-hit the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. Fichter called balls and strikes as Roy Oswalt, Peter Munro, Kirk Saarloos, Brad Lidge, Octavio Dotel and Billy Wagner held New York hitless in an 8-0 victory. This feat was matched by the Seattle Mariners on June 8, 2012, when Kevin Millwood, Charlie Furbush, Stephen Pryor, Lucas Luetge, Brandon League and Tom Wilhelmssen combined on a no-hitter with Brian Runge behind the plate. Runge had called Philip Humber's perfect game earlier in 2012.
- * Jeff Kellogg was the home plate umpire for Florida pitcher Anibal Sanchez's September 6, 2006 gem, the first no-hitter since Randy Johnson's perfect game on May 18, 2004.
- * Joe West was behind the plate for Red Sox righty Clay Buchholz's September 1, 2007 no-hitter, in which he became just the third pitcher since 1900 to throw a no-hitter in his first or second career Major League start.
- * Just three active umpires have been the plate umpire for a perfect game, including Jim Wolf (Dallas Braden, 2010), Rob Drake (Felix Hernandez, 2012) and Edwin Moscoso (Domingo Germán, 2023).

INSTANT REPLAY PROTOCOLS

Major League Baseball announced expanded instant replay for the 2014 Championship Season following approval from the 30 Clubs of MLB in January 2014.

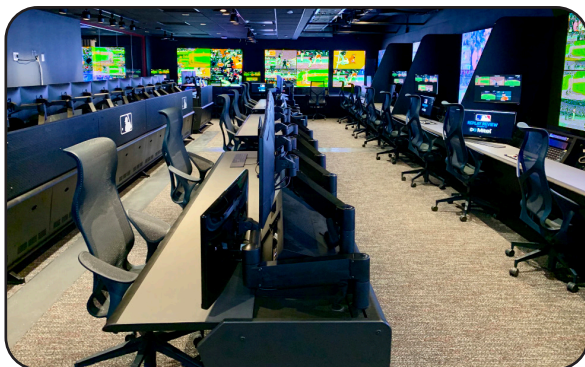

MLB's new system of instant replay dictates which plays are subject to review, how instant replay will be initiated by field managers and how the review process will be conducted. As part of the expansion of instant replay, Clubs are now allowed to show all replays on the ballpark scoreboard, regardless of whether the play was reviewed.

Managers will have at least one challenge to use in each game. If any portion of a challenged play is overturned, then the manager who challenged the play will retain the ability to challenge during the game. Once the manager has exhausted his ability to challenge plays during the game and after the beginning of the eighth inning, the Crew Chief may choose to invoke instant replay on any reviewable call.

A designated communication location near home has been established at all 30 MLB ballparks. There, the Crew Chief and at least one other Major League Umpire has access to a hard-wired headset connected to the Replay Operations Center at MLB headquarters in New York. Major League Umpires are staffed as Replay Officials at the Replay Operations Center. After viewing the video feeds, the Replay Official will inform the Crew Chief of his decision either to overturn, confirm, or stand the original call on the field based on the clear and convincing standard. In 2022, the Crew Chiefs began to make in-stadium announcements with both the details of the play(s) under review and the results of the reviewed play(s).

Once instant replay review is invoked, whether or not the call has been reversed, neither club is permitted to further argue the decision. A player, manager or coach who continues to argue is to be treated in the same manner as one who argues balls and strikes.

All decisions regarding the placement of base runners resulting from a call that is overturned shall be made by the Replay Official in accordance with the standard set forth in the Official Baseball Rules.

The following play types that are subject to review can be challenged by a manager at any time during a game provided that he has an available challenge. The Crew Chief can also invoke a review on these play types after the beginning of the eighth inning:

- Force play
- Tag play
- Home plate collision rule
- Hit by pitch
- Catch/no catch (outfield)
- Fair/foul (outfield)
- Spectator interference
- Touching a base
- Stadium boundary call (e.g., lodged ball, fielder into stands, etc.)
- Time play
- Ground-rule double
- Passing runners
- Tag-ups
- Slide rule (double play attempt)
 - On-field crew determines double play attempt on a non-throw
- Placement of runners
 - Following non-home run boundary calls, spectator interference, or intentional interference by authorized on-field personnel
 - Must review the call prompting the placement of runners on non-home run boundary calls only
- Catcher's Interference
 - Except for squeeze play or steal of home

The following play types that are subject to review only at the discretion of the umpire. Managers may request that umpires review these plays, but they cannot challenge:

- Potential home run
- Rules check (e.g., protest, official baseball rules, replay regulations, ground rules, etc.)
- Record keeping (e.g., ball-strike count, outs, score, lineup, illegal substitutions, etc.)
- Crew Chief Review allowed beginning in the 8th inning if the affected team is out of challenges

NON-REVIEWABLE PLAY TYPES

The following play types are not subject to review:

- Placement of runners
- Interference/Obstruction
- Check swing
- Balk, illegal pitch, etc.
- Infield fly rule
- Balls and strikes
- Batter-runner attempt to advance to 2B
- Catch/no catch (infield)
- Fair/foul (infield)
- Foul tip
- In/out of batter's box
- Batter interference
- Batted ball hitting runner
- Bat hitting ball multiple times
- Runner out of base path
- Runner pushed off base
- 45-foot lane violation
- Mound visit count
- Ball lodged in umpire/player uniform, equipment, etc.

TIMING OF INSTANT REPLAY

- Duration of Replay Review (2:00)
 - Clock begins after Replay Official establishes what is being challenged
 - Exceptions – Placement of Runners, Multiple Challenges, Technology Issue, Rules Application, Director Discretion
- Request for Crew Chief Review beginning in the 8th inning
- Time limit to invoke Manger Challenge/Crew Chief Review
 - 10 seconds to hold
 - 20 seconds to challenge
 - Clock begins after call of safe/out or call of “Time”
 - Final determination lies with Crew Chief
 - 20-second time limit applies to all plays (end of inning/game)

REVIEW OUTCOMES

- CONFIRMED: Clear and convincing evidence that the call on the field was correct
 - STANDS: No clear and convincing evidence to confirm or overturn the call
- OVERTURNED: Clear and convincing evidence that the call on the field was incorrect

INSTANT REPLAY SUMMARY

The system for instant replay included home runs and boundary calls from 2008-2013:

Note: instant replay began August 28, 2008.

OFFICIAL PLAYING RULES

RULE 8.00 – THE UMPIRE

8.01 Umpire Qualifications and Authority

- a. The Office of the Commissioner shall appoint one or more umpires to officiate at each league championship game. The umpires shall be responsible for the conduct of the game in accordance with these official rules and for maintaining discipline and order on the playing field during the game.
- b. Each umpire is the representative of the league and of professional baseball, and is authorized and required to enforce all of these rules. Each umpire has authority to order a player, coach, manager or Club officer or employee to do or refrain from doing anything which affects the administering of these rules, and to enforce the prescribed penalties.
- c. Each umpire has authority to rule on any point not specifically covered in these rules.
- d. Each umpire has authority to disqualify any player, coach, manager or substitute for objecting to decisions or for unsportsmanlike conduct or language, and to eject such disqualified person from the playing field. If an umpire disqualifies a player while a play is in progress, the disqualification shall not take effect until no further action is possible in that play.
- e. Each umpire has authority at his discretion to eject from the playing field (1) any person whose duties permit his presence on the field, such as ground crew members, ushers, photographers, newsmen, broadcasting crew members, etc., and (2) any spectator or other person not authorized to be on the playing field.

8.02 Appeal of Umpire Decisions

- a. Any umpire's decision which involves judgment, such as, but not limited to, whether a batted ball is fair or foul, whether a pitch is a strike or a ball, or whether a runner is safe or out, is final. No player, manager, coach or substitute shall object to any such judgment decisions.
- a. Comment: Players leaving their position in the field or on base, or managers or coaches leaving the bench or 99 Rule 8.02(a) to 8.02(c) coaches box, to argue on BALLS AND STRIKES will not be permitted. They should be warned if they start for the plate to protest the call. If they continue, they will be ejected from the game.
- b. If there is reasonable doubt that any umpire's decision may be in conflict with the rules, the manager may appeal the decision and ask that a correct ruling be made. Such appeal shall be made only to the umpire who made the protested decision.
- c. If a decision is appealed, the umpire making the decision may ask another umpire for information before making a final decision. No umpire shall criticize, seek to reverse or interfere with another umpire's decision unless asked to do so by the umpire making it. If the umpires consult after a play and change a call that had been made, then they have the authority to take all steps that they may deem necessary, in their discretion, to eliminate the results and consequences of the earlier call that they are reversing, including placing runners where they think those runners would have been after the play, had the ultimate call been made as the initial call, disregarding interference or obstruction that may have occurred on the play; failures of runners to tag up based upon the initial call on the field; runners passing other runners or missing bases; etc., all in the discretion of the umpires. No player, manager or coach shall be permitted to argue the exercise of the umpires' discretion in resolving the play and any person so arguing shall be subject to ejection. Notwithstanding the foregoing, correction of a missed ball-strike count shall not be permitted after a pitch is thrown to a subsequent batter, or in the case of the final batter of an inning or game, after all infielders of the defensive team leave fair territory.
- c. Comment: A manager is permitted to ask the umpires for an explanation of the play and how the umpires have exercised their discretion to eliminate the results and consequences of the earlier call that the umpires are reversing. Once the umpires explain the result of the play, however, no one is permitted to argue that the umpires should have exercised their discretion in a different manner. The manager or the catcher may request the plate umpire to ask his partner for help on a half swing when the plate umpire calls the pitch a ball, but not when the pitch is called a strike. The manager may not complain that the umpire made an improper call, but only that he did not ask his partner for help. Field umpires must be alerted to the request from the plate umpire and quickly respond. Managers may not protest the call of a ball or strike on the pretense they are asking for information about a half swing. Appeals on a half swing may be made only on the call of ball and when asked to appeal, the home plate umpire must refer to a base umpire for his judgment on the half swing. Should the base umpire call the pitch a strike, the strike call shall prevail. Appeals on a half swing must be made before the next pitch, or any play or attempted play. If the half swing occurs during a play which ends a half-inning, the appeal must be made before all infielders of the defensive team leave fair territory. Baserunners must be alert to the possibility that the base umpire on appeal from the plate umpire may reverse the call of a ball to the call of a strike, in which event the runner is in jeopardy of being out by the catcher's throw. Also, a catcher must be alert in a base stealing situation if a ball call is reversed to a strike by the base umpire upon appeal from the plate umpire. The ball is in play on appeal on a half swing. On a half swing, if the manager comes out to argue with first or third base umpire and if after being warned he persists in arguing, he can be ejected as he is now arguing over a called ball or strike.

- d. No umpire may be replaced during a game unless he is injured or becomes ill. If there is only one umpire, he shall have complete jurisdiction in administering the rules. He may take any position on the playing field which will enable him to discharge his duties (usually behind the catcher, but sometimes behind the pitcher if there are runners). He shall be considered umpire-in-chief.
- e. If there are two or more umpires, one shall be designated umpire-in-chief and the others field umpires.

8.03 Umpire Position

- a. The umpire-in-chief shall stand behind the catcher. (He usually is called the plate umpire.) His duties shall be to:
 - 1. Take full charge of, and be responsible for, the proper conduct of the game;
 - 2. Call and count balls and strikes;
 - 3. Call and declare fair balls and fouls except those commonly called by field umpires;
 - 4. Make all decisions on the batter;
 - 5. Make all decisions except those commonly reserved for the field umpires;
 - 6. Decide when a game shall be forfeited;
 - 7. If a time limit has been set, announce the fact and the time set before the game starts;
 - 8. Inform the Official Scorer of the official batting order, and any changes in the lineups and batting order, on request;
 - 9. Announce any special ground rules, at his discretion.
- b. A field umpire may take any position on the playing field he thinks best suited to make impending decisions on the bases. His duties shall be to:
 - 1. Make all decisions on the bases except those specifically reserved to the umpire-in-chief;
 - 2. Take concurrent jurisdiction with the umpire-in-chief in calling "Time," balks, illegal pitches, or defacement or discoloration of the ball by any player.
 - 3. Aid the umpire-in-chief in every manner in enforcing the rules, and excepting the power to forfeit the game, shall have equal authority with the umpire-in-chief in administering and enforcing the rules and maintaining discipline.
- c. If different decisions should be made on one play by different umpires, the umpire-in-chief shall call all the umpires into consultation, with no manager or player present. After consultation, the umpire-in-chief (unless another umpire may have been designated by the Office of the Commissioner) shall determine which decision shall prevail, based on which umpire was in best position and which decision was most likely correct. Play shall proceed as if only the final decision had been made.

8.04 Reporting

- a. The umpire shall report to the Office of the Commissioner after the end of a game all violations of rules and other incidents worthy of comment, including the disqualification of any trainer, manager, coach or player, and the reasons therefor.
- b. When any trainer, manager, coach or player is disqualified for a flagrant offense such as the use of obscene or indecent language, or an assault upon an umpire, trainer, manager, coach or player, the umpire shall forward full particulars to the Office of the Commissioner after the end of the game.
- c. After receiving the umpire's report that a trainer, manager, coach or player has been disqualified, the Office of the Commissioner shall impose such penalty as it deems justified, and shall notify the person penalized and the Club of which the penalized person is a member. If the penalty includes a fine, the penalized person shall pay the amount of the fine to the league as directed in the notice of discipline. Failure to pay such fine as directed shall result in the offender being debarred from participation in any game and from sitting on the players' bench during any game, until the fine is paid.

RULES REGARDING WEATHER CONDITIONS

4.04 Weather and Field Conditions

- a. The home team shall be the sole judge as to whether a game shall not be started because of unsuitable weather conditions or the unfit condition of the playing field, except for the second game of a conventional or split doubleheader. Nothing in this Rule is intended to affect a Club's ability to suspend or resume any game pursuant to a policy governing severe weather, significant weather threats, and lightning safety that has been filed with the league office prior to the championship season. EXCEPTION: The Office of the Commissioner may suspend the application of this rule as to a League or Leagues during the closing weeks of the championship season in order to assure that the championship is decided each year on its merits. When the postponement of, and possible failure to play, a game in the final series of a championship season between any two teams might affect the final standing of any Club in the league, the Office of the Commissioner, on appeal from any league Club, may assume the authority granted the home team by this rule.
- b. The umpire-in-chief of the first game shall be the sole judge as to whether the second game of a conventional or split doubleheader shall not be started because of unsuitable weather conditions or the unfit condition of the playing field.
- c. A postponed game shall be a "No Game" and shall be treated in the same manner as a game called before it has become a regulation game within the meaning of Rule 7.01(e).

RULES REGARDING PLAYER SUBSTITUTIONS

Official Baseball Rule 5.10, regarding substitutions during the games, reads as follows:

"The manager shall immediately notify the umpire-in-chief of any substitution and shall state to the umpire-in-chief the substitute's place in the batting order."

The manager should give the name of his substitute, his position in the batting order and his position on the field.

When two or more substitute players of the defensive team enter the game at the same time, the manager shall, immediately before they take their positions as fielders, designate to the umpire-in-chief such players' positions in the team's batting order, and the umpire-in-chief shall so notify the official scorer. If this information is not immediately given to the umpire-in-chief, the umpire-in-chief shall have authority to designate the substitutes' places in the batting order.

It is not permissible for the manager to go to the mound, call for a new pitcher, and then inform the umpire of multiple substitutions with the intention of interchanging the batting order. The umpire-in-chief must be informed of the multiple substitutions before the manager calls for a new pitcher (if the manager wishes to interchange the batting order).

RULES REGARDING COLLISIONS AT HOME PLATE

6.01 (i)

1. A runner attempting to score may not deviate from his direct pathway to the plate in order to initiate contact with the catcher or otherwise initiate an avoidable collision. If, in the judgment of the umpire, a runner attempting to score initiates contact with the catcher in such a manner, the umpire shall declare the runner out (regardless of whether the catcher maintains possession of the ball). In such circumstances, the umpire shall call the ball dead, and all other base runners shall return to the last base touched at the time of the collision. If the runner slides into the plate in an appropriate manner, he shall not be adjudged to have violated Rule 6.01(i).

Rule 6.01(i) (1) Comment: The failure by the runner to make an effort to touch the plate, the runner's lowering of the shoulder, or the runner's pushing through with his hands, elbows or arms, would support a determination that the runner deviated from the pathway in order to initiate contact with the catcher in violation of Rule 6.01(i), or otherwise initiated a collision that could have been avoided. A slide shall be deemed appropriate, in the case of a feet first slide, if the runner's buttocks and legs should hit the ground before contact with the catcher. In the case of a head first slide, a runner shall be deemed to have slid appropriately if his body should hit the ground before contact with the catcher. If a catcher blocks the pathway of the runner, the umpire shall not find that the runner initiated an avoidable collision in violation of this Rule 6.01 (i).

2. Unless the catcher is in possession of the ball, the catcher cannot block the pathway of the runner as he is attempting to score. If, in the judgment of the umpire, the catcher without possession of the ball blocks the pathway of the runner, the umpire shall call or signal the runner safe. Notwithstanding the above, it shall be considered a violation of this Rule 6.01(i)(2) if the catcher blocks the pathway of the runner in a legitimate attempt to field the throw (e.g., in reaction to the direction, trajectory or the hop of the incoming throw, or in reaction to a throw that originates from a pitcher or drawn-in infielder). In addition, a catcher without possession of the ball shall not be adjudged to violate this Rule 6.01(i)(2) if the runner could have avoided the collision with the catcher (or other player covering home plate) by sliding.

Rule 6.01(i)(2) Comment: A catcher shall not be deemed to have violated Rule 6.01(i)(2) unless he has both blocked the plate without possession of the ball (or when not in a legitimate attempt to field the throw), and also hindered or impeded the progress of the runner attempting to score. A catcher shall not be deemed to have hindered or impeded the progress of the runner if, in the judgment of the umpire, the runner would have been called out notwithstanding the catcher having blocked the plate. In addition, a catcher should use best efforts to avoid unnecessary and forcible contact while tagging a runner attempting to slide. Catchers who routinely make unnecessary and forcible contact with a runner attempting to slide (e.g., by initiating contact using a knee, shin guard, elbow or forearm) may be subject to discipline by the Office of the Commissioner.

This Rule 6.01(i)(2) shall not apply to force plays at home plate.

RULES REGARDING SLIDING TO BASES ON DOUBLE PLAY ATTEMPTS

Official Baseball Rule 6.01(j), regarding slides into bases on double play attempts, reads as follows:

If a runner does not engage in a bona fide slide, and initiates (or attempts to make) contact with the fielder for the purpose of breaking up a double play, he should be called for interference under this Rule 6.01(j). A “bona fide slide” for purposes of Rule 6.01(j) occurs when the runner:

1. begins his slide (i.e., makes contact with the ground) before reaching the base;
2. is able and attempts to reach the base with his hand or foot;
3. is able and attempts to remain on the base (except home plate) after completion of the slide; and
4. slides within reach of the base without changing his pathway for the purpose of initiating contact with a fielder.

A runner who engages in a “bona fide slide” shall not be called for interference under this Rule 6.01(j), even in cases where the runner makes contact with the fielder as a consequence of a permissible slide. In addition, interference shall not be called where a runner’s contact with the fielder was caused by the fielder being positioned in (or moving into) the runner’s legal pathway to the base.

Notwithstanding the above, a slide shall not be a “bona fide slide” if a runner engages in a “roll block,” or intentionally initiates (or attempts to initiate) contact with the fielder by elevating and kicking his leg above the fielder’s knee or throwing his arm or his upper body.

If the umpire determines that the runner violated this Rule 6.01(j), the umpire shall declare both the runner and batter-runner out. Note, however, that if the runner has already been put out then the runner on whom the defense was attempting to make a play shall be declared out.

OTHER PERTINENT PLAYING RULES

Rule 4.01 – Before the game begins the umpire shall:

- a. Require strict observance of all rules governing implements of play and equipment of players;
- b. Be sure that all playing lines are marked with lime, chalk or other white material easily distinguishable from the ground or grass;
- c. Receive from the home club a supply of regulation baseballs, the number and make to be certified to the home club by the Office of the Commissioner. The umpire shall inspect the baseballs and ensure they are regulation baseballs and that they are properly rubbed so that the gloss is removed. The umpire shall be the sole judge of the fitness of the balls to be used in the game;
- d. Be assured by the home club that at least one dozen regulation reserve balls are immediately available for use if required;
- e. Have in his possession at least two alternate balls and shall require replenishment of such supply of alternate balls as needed throughout the game. Such alternate balls shall be put in play when –
 1. A ball has been batted out of the playing field or into the spectator area;
 2. A ball has become discolored or unfit for further use;
 3. The pitcher requests such alternate ball.

Rule 4.01(e) Comment: The umpire shall not give an alternate ball to the pitcher until play has ended and the previously used ball is dead. After a thrown or batted ball goes out of the playing field, play shall not be resumed with an alternate ball until the runners have reached the bases to which they are entitled. After a home run is hit out of the playing grounds, the umpire shall not deliver a new ball to the pitcher or the catcher until the batter hitting the home run has crossed the plate.

- f. Ensure that an official rosin bag is placed on the ground behind the pitcher's plate prior to the start of each game.
- g. The umpire-in-chief shall order the playing field lights turned on whenever in his opinion darkness makes further play in daylight hazardous.

Rule 6.02(c)(9) states as follows:

The pitcher shall not intentionally pitch at the batter. If, in the umpire's judgment, such a violation occurs, the umpire may elect either to:

- a. Expel the pitcher, or the manager and the pitcher, from the game, or
- b. may warn the pitcher and the manager of both teams that another such pitch will result in the immediate expulsion of that pitcher (or a replacement) and the manager.

If, in the umpire's judgment, circumstances warrant, both teams may be officially "warned" prior to the game or at any time during the game.

To pitch at a batter's head is unsportsmanlike and highly dangerous. It should be and is – condemned by everybody. Umpires should act without hesitation in enforcement of this rule.

As the Rule itself implies, the first question is whether a pitch was intentionally thrown at a batter. Rule 6.02(c)(9) does not apply in the absence of such intent. Whether the pitch was intentional or not is up to the umpire's judgement. In exercising their judgement, umpires have been instructed to be mindful that, given the skill level of most Major League pitchers, a pitch that is thrown at the head of a hitter more likely than not was thrown there intentionally. Umpires have been instructed to bear this presumption in mind in deciding whether a pitch was intentional.

Once Rule 6.02(c)(9) is found to be applicable (because an umpire has determined in his judgement that a pitch was intentionally thrown at a batter) an umpire has two options: expel or warn the appropriate persons (the pitcher or the manager and the pitcher).

Rule 6.02(c)(9) does not give the umpire the discretion to allow the opposing pitcher an opportunity to retaliate in kind before the warning or ejection. Nor does the Rule mandate, even in an instance where a pitcher has intentionally thrown at the head of a hitter, that the pitcher must be ejected.

Which of the two options is elected by the umpire under Rule 6.02(c)(9) is at the discretion of the umpire, but the elected option will be based on all the surrounding circumstances. In assessing those circumstances, the umpire will take into account the note to Rule 6.02(c)(9), which states that pitching at a batter's head is unsportsmanlike, highly dangerous and condemned within the sport.

Rule 5.07(b) states as follows:

When a pitcher takes his position at the beginning of each inning, or when he relieves another pitcher, he shall be permitted to pitch not to exceed eight preparatory pitches to his catcher during which play shall be suspended. A league by its own action may limit the number of preparatory pitches and/or may limit the amount of time such preparatory pitches may consume. If a sudden emergency causes a pitcher to be summoned into the game without any opportunity to warm up, the umpire-in-chief shall allow him as many pitches as the umpire deems necessary.

STANDARDS FOR PROTECTIVE ELBOW PADS

The Office of the Commissioner of Baseball and the Major League Baseball Players Association agreed to standardize the elbow protective equipment a player may use for all Major League games, including Spring Training games. The following regulations apply to elbow protection:

1. No player is permitted to wear an elbow protection pad that exceeds 10 inches in length, as measured when the pad is lying flat.
2. A nylon pad shall surround the shell of any elbow protection equipment.
3. A manufacturer's logo on the protection pad may appear in one location and shall not exceed one square inch.
4. No player may wear a non-standard elbow protection pad, or any pad designed to protect the upper or lower arm, unless the player has an existing elbow or other arm injury and the Club had obtained the prior approval of the Commissioner's Office to wear that particular non-standard equipment. To obtain such prior approval, the Club will be requested to provide the following:
 - A letter identifying the player and describing the nature of the injury and describing the proposed elbow protection pad;
 - A physician's report diagnosing the injury; and
 - A physician's estimate of length of time the protective pad will be necessary.

If, during the course of a Major League game, a Club has a complaint regarding the use of protective elbow pads, that Club should alert the home plate umpire working that night's game. Following the game, the Crew Chief will file an Umpire's Report regarding the complaint to the Commissioner's Office, which will immediately begin an investigation. The Club's General Manager should also report the violation to Bob Watson, Vice President for On-Field Operations at the Office of the Commissioner. A Club will be subject to discipline if any of its players are found to have used a non-standard elbow pad without the prior approval of the Office of the Commissioner. The umpires will not be enforcing these guidelines on the playing field, either before or during a game. If a Club has a complaint about a violation of this policy, it must follow the complaint procedures described above and should not expect enforcement by the umpires on the spot.

2024 MLB BALLPARK GROUND RULES (SUBJECT TO CHANGE)

UNIVERSAL GROUND RULES

The following Ground Rules are to be uniform across all 30 Major League ballparks. The Ground Rules listed below will not be listed on the individual ballparks Ground Rules, but will be in effect at all ballparks:

- Ball on the top step (lip) of the dugout is in play.
 - No equipment is permitted to be left on the top step (lip) of the dugout. If a ball hits equipment left on the top step it is dead.
- A player is not permitted to step or go into a dugout to make a catch.
 - A player is permitted to reach into a dugout to make a catch. If a player makes a catch outside the dugout and the player's momentum carries him into the dugout, then the catch is allowed and the ball is dead.
See Rule 5.09(a)(1) Comment.
- A batted ball in flight can be caught between or under railings and around screens.
- A catch may be made on the field tarpaulin.
- A batted or thrown ball lodging in the rotating signage behind home plate or along first base or third base stands is out of play.
 - A batted or thrown ball resting on the rotating signage behind home plate or along first base or third base stands is in play.
- The facings of railings surrounding the dugout and photographers areas are in play.
 - Any cameras or microphones permanently attached on railings or along outfield walls are treated as part of the railings or outfield walls and are in play.
 - Any recessed railings or poles that are in the dugout and photographers areas are out of play and should be marked with red to mark them out of play.
- Robotic cameras or audio equipment attached to the facing of the backstop screen are considered part of the screen.
 - A batted ball striking the backstop camera is considered a dead ball.
 - A thrown ball striking the backstop camera is considered in play.
- A ball striking the guy-wires that support the backstop is a dead ball.
- A ball lodging behind or under canvas on field tarpaulin is out of play.
- A ball striking the field tarpaulin and rebounding onto the playing field is in play.
- No chairs can be brought out of the dugout or bullpen and onto the playing field.
- All yellow lines are in play.

MLB GUIDELINES FOR MOVEMENT OF RETRACTABLE ROOFS

CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

The decision to open or close the roof prior to the start of the game resides with the home Club. Each Club with a retractable roof shall file with the MLB On-Field Operations Department a list of the criteria it intends to use during the championship season to decide whether to begin a game with its ballpark's roof open or closed. The home Club should inform the umpire crew chief and visiting Club if it intends to move the roof during the game.

CLOSING AN OPENED ROOF

If the game begins with the roof open, it may be closed only in the event of impending rain or other adverse weather conditions that may affect play or spectator comfort. If the home Club believes such conditions exist, the home Club shall confer with the umpire crew chief, who shall in turn inform the visiting Club. The visiting Club may object, if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. In that event, the umpire crew chief shall make the final decision. If there is no objection, the decision to close the roof rests solely with the home Club.

OPENING A CLOSED ROOF

If the game begins with the roof closed, it may be opened if, in the opinion of the home Club, the climatic environment is such that fan comfort and enjoyment will be best served by opening the roof. A closed roof may not be opened on the grounds that weather conditions may affect spectator comfort after the conclusion of the sixth inning. Prior to opening the roof, the home Club shall confer with the umpire crew chief, who shall in turn inform the visiting Club. The visiting Club may object, if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. In that event, the umpire crew chief shall make the final decision.

ROOF MOVEMENT

The roof may be moved only once during the game (i.e., once closed, it may not be re-opened, and once opened, may not be re-closed) unless inclement weather or other adverse weather conditions indicate otherwise. Clubs should be very cautious of opening a closed roof if the possibility of inclement weather exists.

The movement of the roof must commence at the conclusion of an inning, unless weather conditions are such that the umpire crew chief deems it necessary to close the roof immediately so that play is not interrupted. The movement of the roof shall be continuous and play will not be stopped.

WALL PANELS (MILWAUKEE AND ARIZONA)

The home Club shall decide whether to open or close the wall panels prior to the start of the game. Once the game begins, the panels shall be treated like the roof, in that they may not be moved without first notifying the umpire crew chief, who shall afford the visiting Club the right to object. The panels may be moved only once during the game, and may be moved only at the conclusion of an inning.

POSTSEASON

For all games in the Postseason (Division Series, League Championship Series, World Series), the Commissioner or his designee shall make all decisions regarding roof/wall panel movement, in consultation with the home Club and the umpire crew chief. The home Club shall provide to the Baseball Operations department the name of the individual responsible for the movement of the roof/wall panels. The Commissioner or his designee shall take into account the criteria that the home Club uses during the championship season, as reflected on the Club's filing with the MLB On-Field Operations Department.

IN MEMORY OF DAVID VINCENT

David Vincent, the noted baseball historian, passed away at the age of 67 on July 2, 2017. The decorated SABR member and MLB official scorer in Washington, DC was one of the sport's most preeminent researchers and an expert on umpiring, home runs and other unique facets of the National Pastime. David's contributions to the umpiring community, the archives at Retrosheet.org and the game as a whole will never be forgotten.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL'S STRIKE ZONE

Rule 2.00

“The Strike Zone is defined as that area over home plate the upper limit of which is a horizontal line at the midpoint between the top of the shoulders and the top of the uniform pants, and the lower level is a line at the hollow beneath the kneecap. The Strike Zone shall be determined from the batter's stance as the batter is prepared to swing at a pitched ball.”

HISTORICAL TIMELINE OF THE STRIKE ZONE

1996 – “The Strike Zone is expanded on the lower end, moving from the top of the knees to the bottom of the knees.”

1988 – “The Strike Zone is that area over home plate the upper limit of which is a horizontal line at the midpoint between the top of the shoulders and the top of the uniform pants, and the lower level is a line at the top of the knees. The Strike Zone shall be determined from the batter’s stance as the batter is prepared to swing at a pitched ball.”

1969 – “The Strike Zone is that space over home plate which is between the batter’s armpits and the top of his knees when he assumes a natural stance. The umpire shall determine the Strike Zone according to the batter’s usual stance when he swings at a pitch.”

1963 – “The Strike Zone is that space over home plate which is between the top of the batter’s shoulders and his knees when he assumes his natural stance. The umpire shall determine the Strike Zone according to the batter’s usual stance when he swings at a pitch.”

1957 – “A strike is a legal pitch when so called by the umpire which (a) is struck at by the batter and is missed; (b) enters the Strike Zone in flight and is not struck at; (c) is fouled by the batter when he has less than two strikes at it; (d) is bunted foul; (e) touches the batter as he strikes at it; (f) touches the batter in flight in the Strike Zone; or (g) becomes a foul tip. Note: (f) was added to the former rule and definition.”

1950 – “The Strike Zone is that space over home plate which is between the batter’s armpits and the top of his knees when he assumes his natural stance.”

1910 – “With the bases unoccupied, any ball delivered by the pitcher while either foot is not in contact with the pitcher’s plate shall be called a ball by the umpire.”

1907 – “A fairly delivered ball is a ball pitched or thrown to the bat by the pitcher while standing in his position and facing the batsman that passes over any portion of the home base, before touching the ground, not lower than the batsman’s knee, nor higher than his shoulder. For every such fairly delivered ball, the umpire shall call one strike.

“An unfairly delivered ball is a ball delivered to the bat by the pitcher while standing in his position and facing the batsman that does not pass over any portion of the home base between the batsman’s shoulder and knees, or that touches the ground before passing home base, unless struck at by the batsman. For every unfairly delivered ball the umpire shall call one ball.”

1901 – “A foul hit ball not caught on the fly is a strike unless two strikes have already been called.” (Note: Adopted by National League in 1901; American League in 1903)

1899 – “A foul tip by the batter, caught by the catcher while standing within the lines of his position is a strike.”

1894 – “A strike is called when the batter makes a foul hit, other than a foul tip, while attempting a bunt hit that falls or rolls upon foul ground between home base and first or third bases.”

1887 – “The batter can no longer call for a ‘high’ or ‘low’ pitch. A (strike) is defined as a pitch that ‘passes over home plate not lower than the batsman’s knee, nor higher than his shoulders.’”

1876 – “The batsman, on taking his position, must call for a ‘high,’ ‘low,’ or ‘fair’ pitch, and the umpire shall notify the pitcher to deliver the ball as required; such a call cannot be changed after the first pitch is delivered.”

- High – pitches over the plate between the batter’s waist and shoulders.
- Low – pitches over the plate between the batter’s waist and at least one foot from the ground.
- Fair – pitches over the plate between the batter’s shoulders and at least one foot from the ground.
