#48 JACOB deGROM (14-8, 2.54) RHP

Height: 6-4 Weight: 180 pounds Age: 27 (6/19/1988)
Born: Deland, FL Resides: Deland, FL Signed Through: 2015

FIRST TWO SEASONS: Since his major league debut on May 15, 2014, deGrom's 2.61 ERA (96 earned runs/331.1 innings) is the fourth-best mark in the majors (min. 250.0 IP), behind Clayton Kershaw (1.97), Jake Arrieta (2.05) and Zack Greinke (2.13)... Among major league pitchers since 1916 with at least 50 starts in their first two career seasons, deGrom has the fourth-lowest ERA...Only Dwight Gooden (2.00), Tom Seaver (2.47) and Gary Nolan (2.51) had better marks through two major league seasons.

deGROM ERA: Finished the season with a 2.54 ERA, the 16th-lowest single-season mark for a qualified pitcher in franchise history...Since 1999, only Matt Harvey (2.27 in 2013) and Johan Santana (2.53 in 2008) had seasons with better marks.

SOPHOMORE SUCCESS: DeGrom went into the All-Star Break win nine wins and a 2.14 ERA ...The only other pitcher in major league history who went into the All-Star Break with as many wins and as low an ERA as deGrom after winning a Rookie of the Year Award the previous year was Dwight Gooden, who was 13-3 with a 1.68 ERA in 1985...Research courtesy of Elias.

ALL-STAR: DeGrom appeared for the National League in the sixth inning of the 2015 All-Star Game on July 14 in Cincinnati...He struck out Oakland's Stephen Vogt, Cleveland's Jason Kipnis, and Detroit's Jose Iglesias...DeGrom became the first player in All-Star history to strike out three batters in an inning with 10 pitches or fewer... DeGrom became the eighth pitcher and only Met to strike out all three batters he faced in an All-Star Game and the first since Jose Valverde did so as a Tiger in 2010... Cincinnati's Aroldis Chapman became the ninth pitcher to strike out all three he faced in the ninth inning...DeGrom's three strikeouts in an All-Star Game tied a franchise record...Also done by Matt Harvey (2013), Sid Fernandez (1986) and Dwight Gooden (1984)...Fernandez was the only other Met to record the three strikeouts in an outing of 1.0 inning, while Gooden struck out all three batters he faced in the fifth inning of a 2.0-inning appearance that spanned the fifth and sixth innings...Of the Mets' previous five NL Rookie of the Year winners, four have made the All-Star team the following year, including Tom Seaver, Darryl Strawberry, Dwight Gooden and deGrom...DeGrom is the 10th Mets starting righthanded pitcher to make an All-Star team, joining Seaver, Pat Zachry, Gooden, Ron Darling, David Cone, Bret Saberhagen, Pedro Martinez, R.A. Dickey and Matt Harvey.

CONTINUED deGROMINANCE: From June 21, 2014 to the 2015 All-Star Break (July 13-16), deGrom's 2.07 ERA (49 earned runs/213.0 innings) was the best mark in the majors among qualifying starters...He was 18-8 with 222 strikeouts and 46 walks over that stretch.

STRONG STRETCH: Jacob deGrom was 9-2 with a 1.44 ERA (18 earned runs/112.2 innings) with 17 walks and 121 strikeouts over 16 starts from May 16 to August 18...He had the lowest ERA in the majors over that span (minimum 50.0 innings)...He allowed only 16 extra-base hits (six home runs, 10 doubles) to the 415 batters he faced during this stretch...The Mets went 13-3 in those 16 games...He allowed no more than two earned runs and six hits in 15 of those 16 games (allowed three earned runs and seven hits on July 2 vs. the Cubs).

ERA: DeGrom's 2.32 career ERA was the best mark for any Mets pitcher after his first 45 career games...Dwight Gooden ranked second with a 2.33 ERA through his first 45 career outings...According to Elias, deGrom became the first Mets pitcher with an ERA under 2.00 at least 20 starts into a season since Gooden finished the 1985 season with a 1.53 ERA.

deGROM IN deCITI: DeGrom went 6-4 with a 1.99 ERA (21 earned runs/95.0 innings) in 15 home starts this season...Went 6-2 with a 1.46 ERA (13 earned runs/80.0 innings pitched) in his first 12 home outings...deGrom's home ERA this season ranked seventh in the majors...deGrom has a 1.87 ERA (34 earned runs/163.2 innings) over 25 career home starts, the third-lowest home ERA in the major leagues over the last two seasons behind Kershaw (1.71) and Arrieta (1.75) (min. 20 home starts)...His 1.87 home ERA is the third-lowest home ERA in the last 100 years for any starter in his first two major league seasons (min. 25 home starts)...Trails Dwight Gooden (1.68 ERA, 1984-85) and Mickey Haefner (1.70, 1943-44)...DeGrom went 23 straight home starts allowing three earned runs or fewer before allowing six earned runs to the Marlins on September 15... It was the second-longest such streak in franchise history...Niese had 26 such home starts in a row from May 21, 2013-May 2, 2015...It was tied for the third-longest streak to begin a career for any pitcher since 1920.

STRIKEOUTS: DeGrom struck out Washington's Trea Turner in his final start of the season on October 4 for his 200th strikeout of the season...He is the 11th pitcher in franchise history with 200 strikeouts...He joins Dwight Gooden (1984, 1985) and Tom Seaver (1968) as the only Mets to reach 200 strikeouts in one of their first two major league seasons...DeGrom finished the season with 205 strikeouts, tied for the 18th-most in a single-season in team history...The last Met to record at least 200 strikeouts in a single season for the Mets was R.A. Dickey, who notched 230 strikeouts during his 2012 season...The only Mets pitcher to record at least 200 strikeouts while starting 30 or fewer games was David Cone, who did so three times in 1988, 1990 and 1992.

BASERUNNERS: DeGrom faced 25 batters in an outing of 8.0 innings twice this season (May 21 vs. St. Louis and June 1 at San Diego)...There have only been two other outings of at least 8.0 innings and no more than 25 batters faced in Mets history: Tom Glavine (July 14, 2007 against Cincinnati) and Eric Hillman (July, 19, 1993 at San Diego)...DeGrom is the fourth player in the last 100 years with two such outings...He is the fourth pitcher in franchise history to allow two baserunners or fewer in multiple career outings of at least 8.0 innings pitched...Also Tom Seaver (three such outings), Tom Glavine (two) and R.A. Dickey (two)...DeGrom is the first player in Mets history with two such starts in a single season...DeGrom and Seaver are the only two Mets to ever record two such scoreless outings in their career.

EXTRA-BASE HITS: DeGrom was the only qualified NL starter this year who did not allow a triple...DeGrom had 10 starts without surrendering an extra-base hit, tied for the most such starts in the majors this season and tied with Jon Matlack the third-most in a season in club history...Trails Dwight Gooden (13 in 1984) and Tom Seaver (11 in 1983)...DeGrom tossed at least 6.0 innings in nine of those 10 outings...DeGrom did not allow an extra-base hit in four straight starts from May 16-June 1, tied with four other Mets for the second-longest such streak in franchise history.

NL CO-PLAYER OF THE WEEK: MLB named deGrom co-NL Player of the Week with Clayton Kershaw for the week of June 1-7...DeGrom went 2-0 with a 1.20 ERA (two earned runs/15.0 innings) over two starts...He allowed seven hits, issued three walks and struck out 18.

SEVEN STRONG: DeGrom recorded seven straight outings of 7.0 or more innings, while allowing two earned runs or fewer from May 21-June 25, becoming the fourth pitcher in franchise history to have such a streak...Joins Tom Seaver (had such a streak four times), Jerry Koosman (twice) and Dwight Gooden (once)...The last Mets pitcher to throw 7.0 or more innings in seven straight starts was Mike Hampton (July 9-August 12, 2000).

23 STRAIGHT: Retired 23 straight batters after giving up a one-out single to Matt Carpenter in the first inning on May 21 vs. St. Louis...Pitched 8.0 scoreless innings, allowing one hit in that start...Only two other pitchers in team history retired 23 or more consecutive batters in a single game... Tom Seaver retired 25 consecutive batters twice (April 15, 1968 vs. Houston and July 9, 1969 vs. Chicago-NL) and Anthony Young set down 23 straight batters on July 7, 1993 vs. San Diego...The overall club record for consecutive batters retired belongs to Rick Reed, who retired 28 straight over two starts, June 3 and 8, 1998...Info courtesy of the Elias Sports Bureau...DeGrom also struck out a season-high 11 and walked none in that start, becoming the fourth pitcher in franchise history to allow one or fewer hits, strike out at least 10 and walk none in a game...He joined Tom Seaver (July 9, 1969 vs. Chicago-NL), R.A. Dickey (June 13, 2012 at Tampa Bay) and Matt Harvey (May 7, 2013 vs. Chicago-AL)...DeGrom, Harvey and Seaver did not allow a run in their outings...It was the seventh such start ever made in a pitcher's first 31 career games...Last done by St. Louis' Shelby Miller on May 10, 2013 against Colorado...DeGrom also allowed one baserunner against the Cardinals, becoming the fourth pitcher in Mets history to allow one baserunner in at least 8.0 innings of work...Joined Tom Seaver (July 9, 1969 vs. Chicago-NL), Jonathon Niese (June 10, 2010 vs. San Diego), and Matt Harvey (May 7, 2013 vs. Chicago-AL)...In the last century, only 22 pitchers have had such an outing among their first 31 career games...DeGrom, Harvey and Niese represent three of the 22 pitchers...DeGrom's start was the 25th outing in the last 100 years with 11 strikeouts and no more than one baserunner allowed.

DAY GAMES: DeGrom is 10-2 with a 1.29 ERA (62 earned runs/118.2 innings) in 18 career daytime starts...That is the best daytime ERA among qualified major league pitchers since last season...Next-best is Zack Greinke's 2.09 mark...That is also the best daytime ERA for any pitcher in his first two major league seasons in the last 100 years (min. 100 daytime IP)...The next-best mark, 1.85, belongs to Jerry Koosman...DeGrom has allowed a .177 opponent batting average (74-417) in those games...This season deGrom went 6-2 with a 1.10 ERA (nine earned runs/73.1 innings), the best daytime ERA in the majors (min. 50 innings)...He is 13-12 with a 3.34 ERA (79 earned runs/212.2 innings) in 34 career night outings.

COOLING OFF: In his final seven games of the season dating to August 24, deGrom went 2-2 with a 4.91 ERA (20 earned runs/36.2 innings)... DeGrom went 12-6 with a 1.98 ERA (34 earned runs/154.1 innings) in his first 23 games, which trailed only Zack Greinke for the best ERA over the first three-quarters of the season.

DOUBLE-DIGIT K: Had five double-digit strikeout performances, tied for the eighth-most this season and has nine in his career, tied for the ninth-most in the majors since the start of last year...Among NL pitchers in that time, trails Kershaw (20), Madison Bumgarner (12), Max Scherzer (11) and Stephen Strasburg (10)...He is one of 15 pitchers in the last 100 years with nine such starts among his first 52 career games...The nine such starts are tied with Matt Harvey for the second-most in club history...Dwight Gooden struck out at least 10 in 21 of his first 52 career games.

STRIKEOUT STREAK: DeGrom had five straight games with eight or more strikeouts from May 21-June 13...He became the sixth pitcher in franchise history to have eight or more strikeouts in five consecutive contests, last done by R.A. Dickey (May 17-June 18, 2012), who did it in seven straight...Tom Seaver did it four times, Dwight Gooden and Pedro Martinez did it twice and David Cone did it once in a franchise-record 10 straight games...DeGrom's streak was tied with Clayton Kershaw for the second-longest in the majors this season...Chris Sale had eight straight games with eight or more strikeouts...DeGrom struck out at least eight in 14 of his 30 starts this season, tied for the fifth-most in the majors.

K/BB: DeGrom's 5.39 K/BB ratio this season (205 K/38 BB) is the fourth-best single-season mark in franchise history for a qualified starting pitcher... Trails Brett Saberhagen (11.00 in 1994), Matt Harvey (6.16 in 2013) and Bartolo Colon (5.67 in 2015).

8.0 SHUTOUT INNINGS: Tossed 8.0 shutout innings in four separate outings this season, tied for the third-most scoreless performances of at least 8.0 innings in the majors...DeGrom's four such starts are tied with R.A. Dickey (2012) for the most in a season by a Met since 2002...DeGrom allowed no more than two hits in three of those starts...The three games featuring at least 8.0 shutout innings and two or fewer hits allowed is a new franchise record for a single season...DeGrom has also struck out at least seven batters in all three of those outings...The three such performances are tied with Pedro Martinez (who did it in 2002, 2000 and 1996), Kershaw and Scherzer for the most such outings in a single season since 1985... DeGrom is the 14th pitcher with three such starts in a season in the last 100 years...There have only been five performances in Mets history featuring at least 8.0 shutout innings, two or fewer hits allowed, at least eight strikeouts and no walks: Jacob deGrom's two outings this season (May 21 vs. St. Louis and June 1 at San Diego), Matt Harvey (May 7, 2013 vs. Chicago-AL), Chris Capuano (August 26, 2011 vs. Atlanta) and Tom Seaver (July 9, 1969 vs. Chicago-NL).

SCORELESS STREAK: Recorded a career-high 18.1-inning scoreless streak from April 8-April 24...DeGrom's scoreless streak is the longest by a Mets pitcher since R.A. Dickey tossed a franchise-record 32.2 scoreless innings in 2012.

AT THE PLATE: DeGrom's .200 (21-105) career batting average ranks fourth among major league pitchers with at least 75 at-bats since 2014... Collected a career-high and tied a franchise-record for a pitcher with three hits on May 16 against Milwaukee, including two hits in the Mets' 10-run fourth inning...It was the 26th time a Mets pitcher recorded three hits in a game and first since Chris Young on April 5, 2011...According to Elias, Young (in that game) was also the only other Met pitcher to record two hits in an inning...DeGrom hit in three straight games from May 6-May 16, going 5-8 (.625)...Also hit in three straight from June 25-July 8 (.375, 3-8).

ROAD deGROMINANCE: DeGrom went 6-1 with a 1.39 ERA (nine earned runs/58.1 innings pitched) over eight road starts from June 1-August 18...According to Elias, the last Mets pitcher to win six games with an ERA that low over an eight-start span on the road within one season was Bob Ojeda in 1986 (6-1, 1.16 ERA)...Opponents batted .156 (31-199) against deGrom over that span and the Mets went 7-1...DeGrom allowed no more than two earned runs in any of those outings, becoming the seventh pitcher in team history to allow two earned runs or less in eight straight road starts and the first since John Maine did so from August 17, 2006-May 4, 2007...Overall, DeGrom went 8-4 with a 3.09 ERA (33 earned runs/96.0 innings pitched) over 15 starts on the road this season.

VELOCITY: DeGrom's average fastball velocity of 94.6 miles per hour ranked seventh in the majors among qualified starting pitchers...His average slider velocity of 89.6 MPH trailed only Arrieta (90.3) for the fastest among qualified major league starters.

#33 MATT HARVEY (13-8, 2.71) RHP

Height: 6-4	Weight: 217 pounds	Age: 26 (3/27/1989)
Born: New London, CT	Resides: Mystic, CT	Signed Through: 2015

2015 TRENDS: Harvey went 1-1 with a 1.02 ERA (two earned runs/17.2 innings) in his final three starts of the season after he was given 11 days of rest following his September 8 start...In his first two September starts, he went 1-0 with a 8.49 ERA (11 earned runs/11.2 innings)...In four August starts, he went 2-0 with a major league-leading 0.33 ERA (one earned run/27.0 innings)...In 12 starts from June 16-August 28, he went 5-3 with a 1.34 ERA (12 earned runs/80.1 innings), trailing only Clayton Kershaw's 1.28 ERA for the best mark in the majors during his run...In his four starts prior to that stretch from May 23-June 10, he went 1-3 with a 7.20 ERA (20 earned runs/25.0 innings), allowing a home run in a career-high four straight games, totaling eight home runs during the stretch...He allowed eight homers over his previous 26 starts combined (176.2 innings), dating to May 17, 2013...In Harvey's first eight games of the season, he went 5-1 with a 1.98 ERA (12 earned runs/54.2 innings).

SINCE 2012: Since 2012, his career 2.53 ERA and 1.000 WHIP both rank second among major league pitchers with at least 50 starts in that span, trailing Clayton Kershaw (2.07 ERA, 0.921 WHIP).

THROUGH 65 GAMES: Harvey has 15 career scoreless starts, tied with Vida Blue for the second-most such starts in a pitcher's first 65 career games in the last 100 years... DwightGooden leads with 16 scoreless starts...Harvey is also one of two starters over that span to allow one run or fewer in at least half (33) of his first 65 career games... Gooden had 35 such games...Harvey has at least six strikeouts and no walks in 16 of his first 65 career starts…No other pitcher in the last century had more than 11 such outings among his first 65 career games...He is the sixth pitcher in that time with 48 games of six or more strikeouts among his first 65 career outings and tied for sixth with 20 games of at least nine strikeouts...According to Elias, Harvey is the only pitcher in history to strike out more than 350 batters but allow fewer than 350 baserunners in his first 50 career starts.

RETURN FROM TOMMY JOHN: Matt Harvey made his first major league start since undergoing Tommy John surgery on April 9 at Nationals Park...Harvey earned the win in the Mets' 6-3 victory, pitching 6.0 shutout innings, allowing four hits, striking out nine and walking one...Harvey underwent Tommy John surgery on October 22, 2013... Dr. James Andrews performed the procedure in Gulf Breeze, FL.

FAST START: Harvey won his first five games of the season...He was the fifth pitcher in franchise history to win his first five outings of the season and first since Pedro Martinez in 2006... Harvey is the third pitcher in franchise history to get off to a 5-0 start in multiple seasons (also 2013)…Dwight Gooden (1986 and 1989) and Armando Reynoso (1997 and 1998) are the others...According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Harvey is only the second veteran (non-rookie) pitcher since 1950 to win his first five starts of a season after not playing in the major leagues the previous year...Jim Abbott won all five of his starts for the White Sox in September 1998 after missing the 1997 (and most of the 1998) season...Harvey went 10-0 with a 2.01 ERA in his first 16 career starts in April and May...Received his first such loss on May 8 at Philadelphia.

STRONG FINISH: Harvey posted a 2.15 ERA (17 earned runs/71.0 innings) with 76 strikeouts and seven walks over his final 11 outings of the season...Prior to taking the loss in his final start, he went 5-0 in the first 10 starts over that stretch from July 25 to September 26, the most consecutive starts without a loss for a Met since Zack Wheeler went unbeaten in 10 straight starts from June 30-August 20, 2014...Harvey struck out at least six batters in each of his final seven regular-season games, which tied Jacob deGrom for the longest streak of at least seven strikeouts for the Mets this season... The only longer streaks by a Met since 2010 were done by Harvey himself (an 11-game stretch in 2013 and a nine-game run from 2012-2013)...He went 7-4 with a 2.05 ERA (25 earned runs/109.2 innings) in his last 17 starts dating to June 16, the fourth-best ERA in the majors over that span (min. 100.0 IP)...Trailed Arrieta (1.07), Greinke (1.47) and Clayton Kershaw (1.48)...Opponents batted .213 against Harvey over this stretch.

TOUGH LUCK: He has a 2.04 ERA (33 earned runs/145.2 innings) in 22 career no-decisions, the lowest ERA in no-decisions for any pitcher (both for a career and through three seasons) in the last century (min. 20 no-decisions)...Harvey has failed to win 19 career starts in which he has allowed one or no runs, the most such starts for a pitcher in his first 65 career games in the last century...No other pitcher has had more than 15 such outings...In the 32 career starts in which Harvey has allowed no more than one run, he is 12-5...He is 20-1 when the Mets score at least four runs and 25-5 with at least three runs of support (in 38 such career starts)...In 24 career starts when the Mets have scored two runs or less, Harvey is 0-14 with a 2.01 ERA (39 earned runs/174.2 innings)... Harvey has won only one of his four career starts in which he has allowed one hit.

2015 RANKS: Harvey's 2.71 ERA, 1.02 WHIP, 1.76 BB/9 and 5.08 K/BB ratio all ranked eighth in the majors among qualified starters.

HOME RUNS: Had a 61.0-inning homerless streak (238 batters) from July 8, 2013 to April 14, 2015...It was the longest active streak among major league starters...His two home runs allowed on April 14 also snapped a streak of 34 straight starts without allowing multiple home runs...It was tied for the ninth-longest streak in Mets history... Harvey allowed 16 home runs in 125.1 innings over his first 19 starts of this season after allowing 12 home runs in his previous 36 career starts (237.2 innings) dating to his debut on July 26, 2012...He allowed two home runs in his final 10 starts of the season (64.0 innings)...Allowed multiple home runs in five starts this season after having only one such start in his first 36 career games...Allowed 15 of his 18 home runs to lefthanded batters this season...He allowed two home runs to lefties in all of 2013 (178.1 innings, 321 at-bats)...Harvey did not allow a home run to a righthanded hitter in is final 16 starts of the season (June 16-October 3).

AT HOME: Harvey went 5-1 with a 1.25 ERA (10 earned runs/72.0 innings) in his last 11 home starts dating to June 16...He allowed a .195 opponent batting average over this stretch...He had pitched at least 6.0 innings in 30 consecutive home starts until he went 5.0 innings in his last home start on September 20 vs. the Yankees...Only Clayton Kershaw has had a longer such streak (31 games) since 2012...Since 1950, Harvey has the third-best home ERA (2.05; 54 earned runs/237.0 innings) of any starter in his first three major league seasons (min. home 30 starts)...Trails Dwight Gooden (1.85) and Jerry Koosman (2.01)...Overall, Harvey went 8-3 with a 2.23 ERA (28 earned runs/113.0 innings) in 17 starts at Citi Field this season.

THE COUNT: Opponents are hitting .337 (61-181) against him on the first pitch of an at-bat in his career, but they have gone 7-for-42 (.167) against Harvey in the second half of this season (112 starts), the third-best mark in the majors among qualified starters...The eight total bases he has allowed on 0-0 counts over that span is the best mark among qualified starters...Opposing batters are hitting .129 (111-860) against Harvey in his career when they have two strikes, the third-best mark since 2012 among pitchers with at least 50 starts in that time...Trails Yu Darvish (.122), and Jake Arrieta (.129)... Opponents have struck out 449 times in 925 such plate appearances (48.5%) against Harvey in his career.

VS. LEFT/RIGHT: Lefthanded batters are hitting .204 (160-784) against him in his career, the second-best mark for a righthanded starter vs. lefties in his first three major league seasons in the last century (min. 40 starts)...Andy Messersmith held lefties to a .187 batting average in the first three seasons of his career (1968-1970)...In Harvey's final 16 starts of the season, held righthanded hitters to a .203 batting average, 53 strikeouts, six walks and 10 extra-base hits (eight doubles and two triples)...Righties had a .464 OPS against him in the second-half of the season, the sixth-lowest mark among qualified starters.

STRIKEOUTS: In the last 100 years, Harvey's 449 strikeouts are the eighth-most for any pitcher through his first 65 career starts...The two strikeouts in his start on June 10 snapped a streak of 47 straight games with three or more strikeouts to begin his career, the third-longest such streak in the last century.

WALKS: Aside from a three-start stretch from July 4-20, Harvey walked no more than two batters in each of his other 26 starts this season...From July 31-August 28, he allowed no more than one run and no more than one walk in five straight starts, tying Tom Seaver (Sept 26, 1971-April 26, 1972) for the longest such streak in franchise history...From July 31-August 11, he became the first pitcher in Mets history to toss at least 7.0 innings, while allowing no walks and five hits or less in three straight starts, which was also tied for the longest such streak in the majors in the last 100 years (the ninth such occurrence).

STRONG STRETCH: Allowed two runs in his 34.2 innings (0.52 ERA) from July 31-August 28.

CONSECUTIVE GEMS: Harvey did not allow a run and recorded nine strikeouts in back-to-back starts on May 13 and May 18, becoming the fifth pitcher in franchise history to do so…Tom Seaver did it three times (twice in 1971, once in 1975); Dwight Gooden did it twice (both in 1984); also Sid Fernandez (once in 1992) and R.A. Dickey (once in 2012).

ROUGH START: Allowed a seven runs (which set a career-high that was later matched) on May 23 at Pittsburgh and pitched fewer than 5.0 innings for the first time in his career...Threw at least 5.0 innings in each of his first 44 career starts, the longest such stretch to begin a career in the last 100 years...Harvey allowed no more than five runs in each of his first 44 career starts, the fifth-longest such streak to start a career since 1990...Prior to that start, Harvey had tossed at least 6.0 innings in a career-high 12 straight outings, dating to August 7, 2013...It was the fourth-longest such active streak in the majors...That start marked a career high-tying third straight loss for Harvey dating to May 8...The only other time he lost three straight decisions was July 31-August 10, 2012, the second, third, and fourth starts of his career...Harvey went 0-3 with a 3.82 ERA (14 earned runs/33.0 innings) during the five-game stretch, matching Harvey's career-long stretch without a win...Went 0-1 over five straight starts from May 22-June 13, 2013...Harvey lost consecutive starts for the first time since September 4-12, 2012...He allowed at four runs in his following start on May 29 vs. Miami, the first time in his career that he allowed four or more runs in consecutive starts.

AT THE PLATE: Harvey recorded two RBI in three straight games from July 11-25, including his first career home run on July 11, becoming the first pitcher in team history to do so...The last pitcher to have at least two RBI in three straight games in a single season was Andy Messersmith from June 23-July 2, 1976...Harvey's seven RBI this season were tied for third-most for any pitcher in the majors... Harvey hit his first major league home run on July 11 at Citi Field against Arizona's Patrick Corbin to give the Mets the lead in the fifth inning...Became the sixth pitcher in club history to erase a deficit with a home run and the first since Rick Reed erased a two-run deficit on July 19, 1997 against the Reds at Shea...Became the second Mets pitcher to turn a deficit into a lead with a homer, joining Carl Willey who hit a grand slam to give New York a 5-2 lead on July 15, 1963 against Houston at the Polo Grounds.

INTERLEAGUE: In his eight career Interleague starts, Harvey owns a 0.93 ERA (six earned runs/58.1 innings pitched)…The 0.93 ERA is the best mark in Interleague history (min. 30.0 innings).

VS. NATIONALS: Did not allow more than one run in any start vs. the Nationals before he surrendered four runs over 7.0 innings on July 20 at Nationals Park...Harvey went 23.0 consecutive innings (June 28, 2013-May 1, 2015) without allowing an earned run to the Nationals and 16.0 consecutive scoreless innings from July 26, 2013 to July 20, 2015...Allowed no more than one run and no more than five hits in six straight games against Washington from September 12, 2012-May 1, 2015, becoming the second pitcher in the last century to record six straight such starts against any single opponent...Carlos Zambrano recorded seven straight such starts against Houston from September 30, 2005-July 13, 2007...Harvey became the eighth pitcher in the last 100 years to allow one run or fewer in his first six career starts against one opponent...It was done by one other Met (Bob Ojeda in his first six career starts against Pittsburgh)...Harvey is 3-3 with a 1.77 ERA (13 earned runs/66.0 innings) in 10 career starts vs. the Nationals, allowing one run or less in eight of the outings.

EXTRA REST: Is 2-4 with a 1.88 ERA (10 earned runs/48.0 innings) in seven starts on six or more days rest this season...Is 6-5 with a 1.33 ERA (14 earned runs/94.2 innings) in 14 such career starts.

STRIKEOUTS: Notched 166 strikeouts in 24 starts this season...That total is the third-most in Mets history for a pitcher in his first 24 career games behind Dwight Gooden (193) and Matt Harvey (172)...The 166 strikeouts led major league rookies this season...He struck out five or more in 20 of his first 24 starts, tied for the sixth-most such games for a pitcher in his first 24 games in the last 100 years...Recorded at least five strikeouts in all five of his first career starts, becoming the 21st pitcher in the last 100 years to have five or more strikeouts in each of his first five major league games...Became the first pitcher in team history to have at least five or more strikeouts in each of his first four games...He struck out eight or more in 10 of his first 23 starts, tied for fifth for any pitcher in the last century and the second-most for a Met behind Dwight Gooden (13).

DOUBLE-DIGIT STRIKEOUTS: Syndergaard became the 14th pitcher in the last century to record five double-digit-strikeout performances among his first 24 career games...Dwight Gooden (10 such games) and Matt Harvey (also five) are the other Mets to pull off the feat... Recorded double-digit strikeouts in each of his final two starts of the season (September 25-October 2)...Syndergaard is the first Met to record consecutive double-digit strikeout outings since Jacob deGrom did so from September 15-21, 2014...Syndergaard joins deGrom, Dwight Gooden (1984) and Jerry Koosman (1968) as the only Met rookies to strike out at least 10 in back-to-back starts...Syndergaard's five double-digit-strikeout games this season tied deGrom for the team lead and are the second-most in a season for a Mets rookie...Gooden had 15 such games in 1984.

SYN CITI: Syndergaard finished the season 7-2 with a 2.46 ERA (23 earned runs/84.0 innings) in 12 starts at Citi Field...His home ERA ranked 10th in the majors (min. 80 innings)...Seven of his starts at Citi Field lasted at least 7.0 innings, including four straight starts of 8.0 innings from June 26-August 2... The last Met to pitch 8.0 or more innings in four straight home starts was Mark Clark from June 12-July 16, 1996...According to Elias, Syndergaard was the first rookie to have three straight home starts of 8.0 or more innings and one or fewer runs since Hideo Nomo in 1995 with the Dodgers...Went 5-1 with a 1.46 ERA (eight earned runs/49.1 innings) through his first seven starts at Citi Field, the lowest ERA in franchise history for a pitcher's first seven career home starts...Received the win in five straight home starts from June 26-August 13, becoming the third Mets rookie to ever accomplish the feat...Jacob deGrom won five straight home starts last season, while Dwight Gooden won nine in a row in 1984...The Mets won seven straight home starts by Syndergaard from June 26-August 30, tied for New York's third-longest such winning streak (in one pitcher's home starts) since 2002.

NL CO-PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Syndergaard was named the NL co-Player of the Week for the week of July 27-August 2 alongside teammate Lucas Duda...Syndergaard went 2-0 with a 1.13 ERA (two earned runs/16.0 innings)in two starts over that span and pitched an NL-best 16.0 innings.

METS ROOKIE RANKINGS: Syndergaard finished his rookie season with 166 strikeouts, the fifth-most for a Mets rookie...Trails Dwight Gooden (276), Jerry Koosman (178), Tom Seaver (170) and Jon Matlack (169)...Syndergaard's 9.96 K/9 is the second-best mark for a rookie in franchise history...Dwight Gooden had a 11.39 K/9 in 1984...Syndergaard's 1.05 WHIP is a new club-record for a rookie...His strikeouts, K/9 and WHIP all led major league rookies this season... All rankings are among qualified starters.

K/BB: Syndergaard's 5.35 K/BB ratio ranks seventh in the NL and 11th in the majors this season (min. 100 IP)...It is the third-highest ratio for any rookie since 1900 and the highest among rookies who have pitched at least 150 innings...Trails Masahiro Tanaka (6.71, 136.1 IP in 2014) and Roy Oswalt (6.00, 141.2 IP in 2001)...Syndergaard became the ninth pitcher in the last 100 years to record a pair of double-digit-strikeout, no-walk performances among his first 24 career games...The only other Met to pull off the feat was Matt Harvey...Syndergaard is the only pitcher in that time to strike out at least eight and walk none in at least five of his first 24 career games.

ON THE ROAD: Did not receive a win on the road until his 10th road start on August 25 at Philadelphia...In his first nine road starts, he went 0-5 with a 5.05 ERA (26 earned runs/46.1 innings), while the Mets went 1-8 in those games... Finished the season 2-5 with a 4.23 ERA (31 earned runs/66.0 innings) in 12 road starts, but 2-0 with a 2.29 ERA (five earned runs/19.2 innings) in his final three...Pitched fewer than 6.0 innings in seven of those 12 starts.

STRONG STRETCH: In seven starts from June 26-August 2, Syndergaard went 4-1 with a 1.44 ERA (eight earned runs/50.0 innings pitched)...His ERA ranked fifth in the majors over that span and trailed only Clayton Kershaw (0.38) and Zack Greinke (0.79) for the NL lead...Allowed two runs or fewer in all seven of those starts and allowed one earned run or less in five of those seven... Struck out 52 batters in the 50.0 innings, while walking 10...Opposing hitters had a .176 batting average over this span... Prior to that stretch, Syndergaard went 0-2 with a 6.75 ERA (15 earned runs/20.0 innings) while allowing a .333 (28-84) opponent batting average over four starts from June 2 to June 20.

NEARLY PERFECT: Retired the first 18 Padres in his start on July 28 at Citi Field before Will Venable's single led off the seventh inning...That was the farthest a Mets rookie has taken a perfect-game bid in team history...The previous record belonged to Gary Gentry who retired the first 15 batters against the Phillies on June 17, 1969.

ONE RUN OR LESS: Allowed one run or less in 10 of his 24 starts this season, becoming the 23rd pitcher in the last century to do so...Eight of these came in his first 14 starts, becoming one of eight pitchers in the last century to have eight outings of one run or less among their first 14 starts...Only Jarrod Parker (10), Matt Harvey (9), Dwight Gooden (9) and Zach Duke (9) had more such starts in their first 14 games.

RUNNERS ON BASE: Batters were 0-for-30 with runners on base against Syndergaard from June 20-July 22, the longest such streak for a rookie in franchise history...The previous record was held by Dwight Gooden, who held batters to an 0-for-29 stretch with runners on base in 1984...Syndergaard became only the third rookie starting pitcher in the expansion era (since 1961) whose opponents went 30 at-bats with runners on base without a hit...The others were Darryl Kile, 37 (1991); and Kyle Hendricks, 32 (2014)...Only starts were considered, not relief appearances...Info courtesy of Elias...Syndergaard finished the season with a .226 opponent's batting average with RISP, including a .204 mark in those situations with two outs...At Citi Field, opposing batters had a .130 average with RISP, compared to a .300 average with RISP on the road.

CONSECUTIVE GEMS: Syndergaard pitched 8.0 innings while striking out nine and walking none in back-to-back starts on July 28 vs. San Diego and August 2 vs. Washington, becoming the 22nd player in the last 100 years to record back-to-back starts of at least 8.0 innings, nine or more strikeouts and no walks...He was the third Met to accomplish the feat, joining Pedro Martinez (May 27-June 2, 2005) and Dwight Gooden (September 12-17, 1984).

STRONG FINISH: In his final four starts, Syndergaard posted a 2.60 ERA (nine earned runs/27.2 innings)...Five of those eight earned runs were accrued in one outing (September 19 against the Yankees)...Struck out 37 while walking two...Batters posted a .163 (16-98) batting average against over that span.

HOME RUNS: Allowed 13 home runs in his final 63.1 innings pitched (10 starts)...Five of the 13 home runs Syndergaard allowed during that stretch came in the first inning...Allowed six home runs through his first 14 starts (86.2 innings).

BY INNING: Seven of the 19 home runs Syndergaard allowed came in the sixth inning...In the sixth inning, he posted a 7.79 ERA (15 earned runs/17.1 innings).. Six of the 19 home runs have come in the first inning, where Syndergaard posted a 5.25 ERA (14 earned runs/24.0 innings).

PITCH COUNT: Syndergaard averaged 3.96 pitches per plate appearance, which is the fifth-highest mark in the National League (min. 140 innings)...In his final three starts, Syndergaard has averaged 3.71 pitches per plate appearance.

HEAT: Threw 1,421 pitches at 95 mph or faster, the second-most among all major league pitchers behind Pittsburgh's Gerrit Cole (1,484)...Syndergaard had the highest percentage of pitches of at least that speed (59.7%) among major league starters.

MAJOR LEAGUE DEBUT: Was recalled from Las Vegas (AAA) on May 9 and made his major league debut on May 12 at Wrigley Field...Jason Isringhausen was the last Mets starting pitcher to make his major league debut at Wrigley Field on July 17, 1995...Syndergaard suffered the loss in the Mets' 6-1 defeat against the Cubs...Pitched 5.1 innings, allowing three runs, earned, and six hits while striking out six and walking four...Did not allow a run until the sixth inning.

FIRST CAREER WIN: Won his first major league game in his second start on May 17 against Milwaukee at Citi Field...Allowed one run on three hits over 6.0 innings of work...Syndergaard was the first Mets pitcher to win his first career home game since Jonathon Niese on September 13, 2008 against Atlanta.

AT THE PLATE: Finished the season batting .209 (9-43) with four RBI, including a home run...His .209 batting average was the seventh-highest mark in the majors (min. 40 at-bats)...Went 3-for-3 with a home run on May 27 against Philadelphia, tying the franchise record for most hits by a pitcher in a game, doing it for the 27th time in franchise history...He also tossed 7.1 shutout innings in that start...The only other rookies to hurl at least 7.0 shutout innings while collecting three or more hits including a home run are Colorado's Jason Jennings on August 23, 2011 against the Mets at Shea and the Dodgers' Larry Sherry against the Cardinals on August 15, 1959...Syndergaard's home run was his first major league hit.

JUNE 15: Syndergaard struck out 11 while allowing one run, earned, on two hits on June 15 vs. Toronto at Citi Field, becoming the 14th pitcher in the last century, the second since 2003, and the first in club history to strike out 11 and allow no more than two hits in one of his first seven career outings...Became the sixth Met to record at least 11 strikeouts in one of his first seven career outings…Joined Jacob deGrom, Matt Harvey, Dwight Gooden, Nolan Ryan and Dick Selma...Syndergaard became the fourth pitcher in franchise history to record a pair of double-digit strikeout games in his first seven career starts and the first since Dwight Gooden had three such outings in 1984...Also joins Dick Selma and Nolan Ryan.

13 STRIKEOUTS: Struck out a career-high 13 batters on July 10 against Arizona, becoming the first Mets pitcher to strike out 13 batters in one of his first 11 career games since Dwight Gooden struck out 14 batters on May 25, 1984 vs. Los Angeles-NL and the fourth overall Met pitcher to have at least 13 strikeouts in one of his first 11 career games...His three double-digit-strikeout performances tied him for the second-most such outings in a Mets pitcher's first 11 career games with Nolan Ryan (1968) and Matt Harvey (2012-13)...Dwight Gooden had four such starts...Syndergaard became the 16th player in the last 100 years to have three double-digit strikeout games in his first 11 career games.

HIGHLY TOUTED: Syndergaard entered the 2015 season as the Mets' No. 1 overall prospect according to MLB.com (10th overall), Baseball America (11th overall) and Baseball Prospectus (ninth overall).

2015 AAA REVIEW: Began the season with Las Vegas (AAA) of the Pacific Coast League...Went 3-0 with a 1.82 ERA (six earned runs/29.2 innings) in five starts... He ranked fourth in the PCL in ERA (1.82) and fifth with 34 strikeouts at the time of his promotion...Opponents were hitting .192 against him, the third-lowest mark in the PCL and his 0.94 WHIP was the fourth-lowest in the league...He went 3-0 with a 0.81 ERA (two earned runs/22.0 innings) with 27 strikeouts and two walks over his final three starts in Triple-A...Syndergaard also went 3-for-4 at the plate with a double, a two-run home run, two runs scored and had two RBI in his last start in AAA at Albuquerque.

#49 JONATHON NIESE (9-10, 4.13) LHP

Height: 6-3	Weight: 218 pounds	Age: 28 (10/27/1986)
Born: Lima, OH	Resides: Defiance, OH	Signed Through: 2017

HIGH QUALITY: Tossed a quality start in 12 of 13 starts from June 5-August 15...Went 4-4 with a 2.88 ERA (27 earned runs/84.1 innings) over that stretch…Niese has tossed 76 quality starts since 2012 (102 total starts), the seventh-most in the National League...He has allowed three earned runs or less in 46 starts since the start of 2014, tied for the 12th-most such starts in the NL… Since entering the majors in 2008, Niese has tossed 108 quality starts, the most of any Mets' pitcher...His 108 quality starts rank 10th all-time in franchise history).

ON THE ROAD: In Niese's final seven road starts of the season from July 6-September 13, he went 3-0 with a 4.15 ERA (20 earned runs/43.1 innings pitched) and the Mets won all seven games, tied for the fifth-longest such streak in franchise history...Niese tossed a career-high 15.2-straight scoreless innings on the road, spanning in two starts at San Francisco on July 6 and at St. Louis on July 19... Niese joined Jacob deGrom from earlier this year (June 25-July 8) as the only Mets since 2002 to throw at least 7.2 shutout innings in consecutive road starts.

FAST START: In Niese's first six starts of the season through May 9, he went 3-2 with a 1.95 ERA (eight earned runs/37.0 innings)...The 1.95 ERA ranked eighth in the majors over that stretch (min. 30 IP)...Picked up his third win of the season in his sixth start, the fastest he reached that mark in his career...Nine starts was his previous best.

EARLY STREAKS: Niese allowed no more than two earned runs in seven straight starts, from September 8, 2014-April 21, 2015, the longest such streak of his career...He also allowed no more than one earned run in four consecutive starts from September 26, 2014-April 21, 2015, tied for the longest such streak of his career...The only other Mets starter in the last six seasons to begin a season allowing no more than one earned run in three straight starts was Matt Harvey in 2013 (who did so in four straight starts).

STARTS & INNINGS: Niese has made 177 starts with the Mets, the 10th-most in franchise history...Craig Swan ranks ninth in franchise history with 184 starts...Currently ranks 11th in innings pitched in franchise history (1068.1)...David Cone is 10th in club history with 1209.1 innings...His 1068.1 innings are the fifth-most by a lefthanded pitcher in Mets history...Al Leiter, Jon Matlack, Sid Fernandez and Jerry Koosman have tossed more innings...Has made at least 24 starts each season since joining the Mets rotation in 2010...He has made 169 starts since 2010...No other Met has made more than 110 starts in that time.

GROUND BALL/FLY BALL: Opponents had a flyball percentage of 24.7% against Niese, the sixth-lowest mark in the majors...Lefthanded batters have a flyball percentage of 17.2% against him this season, the fourth-lowest mark among qualified major league starters… Niese had a groundball percentage of 54.5%, which was tied for the seventh-best mark in the majors.

BIG INNINGS: Niese allowed a five-run inning in three straight starts from August 27-September 7...That was tied for the most of its kind for any major league pitcher since Niese himself had a three-game streak from September 17-29, 2010...Niese has been charged with five or more runs in an inning 15 times during his major-league career...As of September 8, the only pitchers who had allowed more innings of five or more runs since 2008 (Niese's first year in the majors) are A.J. Burnett (17) and Rick Porcello (16)...Research courtesy of Elias.

WINLESS: Set a career high by failing to receive the win in nine straight outings from May 14-June 30... Previously did not pick up a win in eight consecutive starts from September 12, 2010- April 19, 2011...It was the longest a Mets' starter went without a win since Dillon Gee also had nine consecutive winless starts from September 17, 2014- June 14, 2015...Niese also became the fifth Mets pitcher in history to make five straight quality starts without receiving a win (all in June)...Niese took the loss in a career high-tying six straight decisions during this winless stretch.

5.0 INNINGS: Recorded 21 straight starts of at least 5.0 innings pitched from July 21, 2014-May 19, 2015...Was the second-longest such streak of his career...Recorded 26 consecutive starts of at least 5.0 innings pitched from May 23, 2012-April 18, 2013.

LEFTY HOME RUNS: In 29 outings between August 11, 2014 and August 4, 2015, he allowed only one home run to a lefthanded batter...Niese then allowed a home run to a lefty in three straight starts from August 10-22, but he did not allow such a home run in his final eight appearances of the season.

BATTING NOTES: Niese had a career-high four-game hitting streak from September 20, 2014-April 15, 2015, tied for the ninth-longest hitting streak by a pitcher in franchise history... Last done by R.A. Dickey from June 18-July 5, 2012... Niese and Madison Bumgarner are the only two pitchers with at least four RBI in each of the last three seasons...They are two of nine active pitchers with at least four career seasons of four or more RBI...Niese's 12 RBI since 2013 are tied for the fifth-most among all pitchers...His 22 runs scored since 2012 are tied for the third-most among all pitchers...His five runs this season tied for eighth among all pitchers...His .246 on-base percentage is the third-best mark among pitchers (minimum 50 PA).

#40 BARTOLO COLON (14-13, 4.16) RHP

Height: 5-11	Weight: 283 pounds	Age: 42 (5/24/73)
Born: Altamira, Puerto Plata, DR	Resides: Clifton, NJ	Signed Through: 2015

WINS: Since Colon turned 40, this was his third season with at least 14 wins, tied for the second-most seasons for any pitcher age 40 or older in modern major league history...Phil Niekro had five such seasons (1979-1985)...Colon was one of six major league pitchers to receive a win in four straight starts on at least two separate occasions this season (April 6-23 and August 26-September 10)...Also done by Jake Arrieta, Gerrit Cole, Clayton Kershaw, Zack Greinke and Cole Hamels...Colon's 14 wins were tied for the seventh-most in the NL.

WALKS: Colon has recorded a major league-leading 15 starts without a walk this season, passing Brett Saberhagen's 13 such starts in 1994 to set a new franchise record...The last NL pitcher with at least 15 no-walk starts was Greg Maddux in 2008 (also 15 starts)...Colon set a franchise record by tossing 48.2 consecutive innings without allowing a walk from April 12-May 20...He became the first Mets pitcher to ever go seven straight starts without allowing a walk (April 12-May 15) and only the fourth major leaguer to do it since 1990...The last was Greg Maddux (nine straight outings in 2007)...He walked 24 of the 815 batters (2.9%) he faced this year, the second-best mark in the majors, and his 1.11 BB/9 rate led all qualified major league starters...His 5.67 K/BB ratio is the third best single-season mark for a qualified starter in Mets history...Trails Brett Saberhagen (11.00 in 1994) and Matt Harvey (6.16 in 2013).

SCORELESS STREAK: Tossed a career-high scoreless streak of 31.0 innings this season from August 26-September 10...The streak was tied for the third-longest in franchise history and it was the longest by a Mets pitcher since R.A. Dickey tossed a franchise-record 32.2 scoreless innings in 2012... According to Elias, Colon's scoreless innings streak was the longest within one season in major-league history by a pitcher age 42 or older, breaking the mark of 27.0 innings which had been shared by Hall of Famers Cy Young (1909) and Warren Spahn (1963)...Colon's previous career-high was a 22.1-inning scoreless streak with Oakland, from July 22-August 7, 2012...Colon became the seventh Met to make three straight scoreless starts...In five games, four starts, from August 26-September 10, he went 4-0 with a 0.57 ERA (two earned runs/31.2 innings pitched), the best ERA in the majors over that span (min. 20.0 IP).

VS. NL EAST: In 17 starts against the National League East this season, Colon went 13-3 with a 2.86 ERA (36 earned runs/113.1 innings)...Struck out 74 and walked 11...13 of the 17 outings were quality starts...Had a nine-game winning streak vs. the NL East snapped on September 16 against Miami...Colon had four wins against each of the Braves, Marlins and Phillies this season...No other pitcher had at least four wins against any of the NL East teams this year...The 13 intradivision wins led the majors, while no other NL pitcher has more than eight wins against his own division this year...Colon is the first pitcher to win more than 10 games against the NL East since Roy Halladay beat NL East opponents 14 times in 2010...Since the formation of the six divisions in 1994, Colon is one of four pitchers who have won 13 games or more in a season against one division... In addition to Halladay's 14 wins in 2010, Justin Verlander beat the AL Central 14 times in 2011, Andy Pettitte had 13 wins against the AL East in 2003 and Matt Morris beat the NL Central 13 times in 2001...Colon went 0-2 with a 4.76 ERA in his final three starts vs. the NL East, after going 13-1 with a 2.52 ERA in his first 14 starts this season against the division.

NL PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Colon was named National League Player of the Week for the week of August 31-September 6...He went 2-0 in two starts and didn't allow a run in 17.0 innings during the week...Struck out 11 and walked none...His fourth career Player of the Week honor and first since 2003.

RANKINGS: Is second among active pitchers in wins (218)...Trails Tim Hudson (221)...Ranks second in complete games (36), tied for first in shutouts (13) and third in strikeouts (2,237)...Is one of seven active pitchers with 2,000 career strikeouts...His eight 200-inning seasons are tied for third among active pitchers, trailing Toronto's Mark Buehrle's total of 14.

31 STARTS: Colon made 31 starts this season after making 30 starts in 2013 and 31 starts in 2014... This is Colon's 11th season of at least 30 starts in his career, tied for the second-most among active pitchers...Mark Buehrle has 15 such seasons...Colon is the 15th pitcher since 1901 to have at least three seasons of 30 or more starts at 40 years or older...Colon is the third Mets pitcher since 2007 to make at least 30 starts in consecutive seasons...Also R.A. Dickey from 2011-2012 and Mike Pelfrey from 2008- 2011....Colon tossed 194.2 innings this season after pitching 202.1 innings last season...Only Tom Glavine has tossed more innings in a single season in Mets history at 40 years or older (198.0 innings at age 40 in 2006 and 200.1 innings at 41 in 2007).

LAST 1.5 SEASONS: Colon is tied for 10th in the majors in wins (21) since the 2014 All-Star Break… He has struck out 198 and walked 37 batters over this span...No other pitcher with at least 250 innings pitched over that stretch has walked fewer than 47 batters...Colon went 21-18 with a 4.18 ERA (128 earned runs/275.1 innings pitched) in that time.

DECISIONS: Received a no-decision in his July 1 start against Chicago-NL for the first time in 28 outings, dating to July 23, 2014 (posting a 16-11 record over those 27 straight starts with a decision)...Set a franchise record for the longest such streak of games in Mets' history...Colon fell short of Jerry Koosman's stretch of 29 straight starts with a decision from May 2-October 1, 1976 for that Mets record...It was the longest streak in the majors since Colon had 30 straight outings with a decision from June 6, 2004-May 7, 2005... His 30-game stretch is the longest such streak in the majors since 1987...Colon had received a decision in each of his first 23 home starts as a Met, setting the record for the longest such streak in franchise history.

COMPLETE-GAME SHUTOUT: Tossed his 13th career complete-game shutout on September 5 at Miami and his first since July 21, 2013 at Los Angeles-AL as a member of the Athletics...It was the only complete-game shutout for a Mets pitcher in 2015 and the first since Zack Wheeler tossed a three-hit shutout against Miami at Marlins Park on June 19, 2014...Colon allowed nine hits, tied for the most allowed by a pitcher in a shutout in Mets history...It was the 36th complete game of Colon's career...Has 26 complete games since 2001, the sixth-most in the majors…At age 42, Colon became the oldest pitcher in Mets history to pitch a shutout... Joined Jamie Moyer as the only pitchers older than 42 to throw a shutout since 1999...Colon is the second-oldest pitcher in franchise history to pitch a complete game...Warren Spahn had five complete games at age 43 and 44 in 1965

DOMINICAN-BORN: Ranks first among active Dominican-born pitchers with 218 wins, and third all-time, trailing Juan Marichal (243) and Pedro Martinez (219).

LOSING STREAK: Lost six straight decisions from June 18-July 29, tied for the longest losing streak of his career...In his six losses, he recorded a 7.55 ERA (26 earned runs/31.0 innings) and allowed a .369 (52-141) batting average.

RELIEF APPEARANCES: Tossed a scoreless inning in each of his two relief appearances: August 29 vs. Boston and October 4 vs. Washington...They were his first relief appearances since April 14, 2011, vs. Baltimore while pitching with the Yankees...In his eight career relief appearances, Colon is 1-1 with a 3.26 ERA (seven earned runs/19.1 innings).

APRIL & MAY: Colon went 4-1 in April and 4-2 in May…According to the Elias Sports Bureau, only two other pitchers in team history won at least four games in both April and May in the same year…Jerry Koosman in 1968 (4-0 in April and 4-2 in May) and Bobby Jones in 1997 (4-2 in April and 5-0 in May).

FAST START: Won his first four starts of the season for the first time in his career...He became the ninth Met to begin a season 4-0 after his first four games (done twice by Matt Harvey, 2013 and 2015, and Jerry Koosman, 1968 and 1973)...This was the first time in team history that the club has had two pitchers go 4-0 in their first four starts in the same season...According to Elias, Colon became the third forty-something pitcher in major-league history to win at least six of his first seven starts of a season...The others to do so are Houston's Roger Clemens in 2004 (7-0) and Pittsburgh's Babe Adams in 1923 (6-1).

OPENING DAY VETERAN: Made his seventh career Opening Day start on April 6 at Washington...His last came with Los Angeles (AL) on April 3, 2006 at Seattle… Became the 24th and oldest pitcher to make an Opening Day Start for the Mets... The last Opening Day starter older than Colon was in 2006 when Jamie Moyer (43, 136 days) started for Seattle on April 3 and Randy Johnson (42, 205 days) started for the Yankees on the same day.

FANNING THE SIDE: Colon struck out the side on August 26 against Philadelphia...According to Elias, the 42-year old was the oldest starting pitcher to strike out all three batters he faced in an inning in the seventh inning or later since Nolan Ryan did that in his final start of the 1990 season, at 43 years old.

BATTING NOTES: Set career highs for hits in a season (eight) and RBI (four)....His eight hits are the most by a pitcher age 40 or older since five pitchers in their 40s collected at least eight hits in 2007.

#32 STEVEN MATZ (4-0, 2.27)

Height: 6-2	Weight: 200 pounds	Age: 24 (5/29/1991)

RUNS: Matz became the first pitcher in Mets history to allow two runs or fewer in each of his first five major league starts...His 1.80 ERA after five games was the lowest for any pitcher in team history after five career outings with at least 30.0 total innings pitched...After six games, his 2.27 ERA trails Dillon Gee (2.09) and Tom Seaver (2.21) for the lowest mark in franchise history after six major league outings.

WINS: Matz joined Jacob Jacome as the only pitchers in Mets history to win four of their first five career games...Matz became the first Mets pitcher to begin his career 4-0 after five career games or starts...He became the third pitcher in team history to remain undefeated after his first six career starts...Joined Eric Hillman (1992) and Mike Scott (1979)...Matz became the third Met to win his first four career decisions (also Vic Black and Grant Roberts) and he is the first Mets starter to do so...Matz was the first starting pitcher to win his first four decisions as a Met since R.A. Dickey began the 2010 season 6-0...Matz is the third pitcher since 1901 to finish his first season 4-0 or better after making at least six starts...Also done by Kirk Reuter (8-0, 1993, MON) and Pat Combs (4-0, 1983, PHI).

STRIKEOUTS: Recorded 20 strikeouts in his first three starts, the second-most in Mets history in a pitcher's first three major league games...Matt Harvey had 23 strikeouts in 2012...Matz became the first pitcher in team history to record at least six strikeouts in each of his first three career starts...He became the third pitcher to strikeout six or more in each of his first three games with the Mets...Also Pedro Astacio (2002) and Pedro Martinez (2005).

FIRST THREE: He became the second pitcher in franchise history to toss more than 5.0 innings and allow five hits or fewer in each of his first three career starts...Joined Jacob deGrom who did it in his first five career starts in 2014.

MAJOR LEAGUE DEBUT: Was recalled from Las Vegas (AAA) on June 27 and made his major league debut on June 28 at Citi Field...Earned the win in the Mets 7-2 victory against the Reds...Pitched 7.2 innings, allowing two runs, earned, on five hits, striking out six and walking three...Matz became the sixth pitcher in club history to throw at least 7.2 innings in his big league debut and the first since Brent Gaff also pitched 7.2 innings on July 7, 1982…He is the first Met to win such a start since Gary Gentry tossed 8.2 innings to beat Montreal on April 10, 1969…Matz is the first Met to throw 7.2 innings and allow five or fewer hits in his debut since Randy Tate allowed five hits in 8.0 innings in his first career game on April 14, 1975 at Philadelphia.

STEVEN BATZ: Went 3-for-3 with four RBI in his major league debut, including a two-run double in his first at-bat…His four RBI set a franchise record for any player's major league debut…He is the only pitcher and the 26th player in the last century to collect at least four RBI in his big league debut…He is the sixth pitcher in Mets history to record four RBI in a game…Last done by Dwight Gooden on May 11, 1990… His three hits tied a Mets record for any player's major league debut and tied a club record for a pitcher in any game...He is the sevenh pitcher in the last century and just the second in the last 70 years with at least three hits in his major league debut…Last done by Colorado's Jason Jennings against the Mets at Shea Stadium on August 23, 2001…Jennings' performance is the only other debut by a pitcher since 1936 which featured a multi-hit, multi-RBI performance... Matz also became the first Mets pitcher with a multi-hit, multi-RBI game since Jonathon Niese had two hits and two RBI against the Cubs at Wrigley Field on September 5, 2010.

THREE HITS, FOUR RBI: Matz became the 11th player and first pitcher in the last century to record at least three hits and four RBI in his major league debut…He is the first player to go 3-for-3 or better with at least four RBIs in his first major-league game since at least 1920 (when RBI were first tracked)...He is the second pitcher in franchise history to have three hits and four RBI in one game…Also done by Dwight Gooden against the Pirates on September 21, 1985 at Shea…The only other major league pitcher to have such a game since 2008 was Cliff Lee against Miami on September 16, 2013.

FIRST ROAD START: Earned the win in the Mets' 8-0 victory against Dodgers on July 5 at Dodger Stadium...Pitched 6.0 shutout innings, on two hits, striking out eight and walking two... Became only the second Mets starter to pitch at least 6.0 scoreless innings while allowing two hits or less in one of his first two career games...Collin McHugh pitched 7.0 scoreless innings while allowing two hits in his major league debut on August 23, 2012.

IN THE ZONE: Matz threw 54.9% of his pitches inside the strike zone...That mark would have ranked first among major league starters if Matz qualified.

THE COUNT: After a first-pitch strike, batters hit .185 (12-for-65) against Matz with two walks and 26 strikeouts...Following a first-pitch ball, batters hit .271 (13-for-48) against him.

RUNNERS ON: With runners on base, batters hit .188 (12-for-64) against Matz, including .156 (5-for-32) with runners in scoring position...With no one on base, batters hit .306 (22-for-72) against Matz...All four of the home runs he allowed were solo shots.

MINOR LEAGUE REHAB: Was placed on the Disabled List on July 10, retroactive to July 6, with a partial tear of the lat muscle on his left side... Matz was reinstated from the DL on September 1...In four minor-league rehab starts, two each with Single-A St. Lucie and Double-A Binghamton, Matz went 1-0 with a 1.20 ERA (two earned runs/15.0 innings)...Struck out 13 and walked three...In his two starts with Binghamton, opposing batters hit .059 (2-34) against him...In his start vs. Erie on August 26, Matz retired the final 16 batters he faced.

AAA RANKINGS: Ranked first in the Pacific Coast League with a 2.19 ERA and 94 strikeouts at the time of his promotion...His seven wins were tied for the most in the PCL, while his .213 opponent batting average was third-best...Matz recorded a career-high 12 strikeouts on April 30 against Reno, his third double-digit strikeout game in the minors...Had a 10-strikeout game with both Savannah (A) and Binghamton (AA).

2014: Went 10-9 with a 2.24 ERA (35 earned runs/140.2 innings pitched) in 24 games, all starts, for St Lucie (A) and Binghamton (AA)...Stuck out 131 and walked 35...Named the Sterling Organizational Pitcher of the Year...In 12 starts for St. Lucie, went 4-4 with a 2.21 ERA (17 earned runs/69.1 innings) and earned a selection to the Florida State League mid-season All-Star team...In 12 starts for Binghamton, went 6-5 with a 2.27 ERA (18 earned runs/71.1 innings), allowing two earned runs or less in nine of those outings...Finished the year with the second-best ERA among all Mets minor leaguers and had the second-highest strikeout total.

MATZERPIECE: Matz pitched 7.1 no-hit innings in Binghamton 's (AA) Eastern League-clinching victory over the Richmond Squirrels in on September 12, 2014...Received a no-decision in the B-Mets' 2-1 win that earned them their first EL title since 1994...Overall, tossed 7.2 innings, allowed one run, earned, and four hits...Struck out 11 and walked two.

LONG ISLAND NATIVE: Matz became the 15th player and the 12th pitcher to appear with the Mets who played high school baseball on Long Island.

NUMBER 999: Matz became the 999th player in Mets history.
