SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS MISSION STATEMENT

THE SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS ARE DEDICATED TO ENRICHING OUR COMMUNITY THROUGH INNOVATION AND EXCELLENCE ON AND OFF THE FIELD.

Laurence M. Baer

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

A fourth generation San Franciscan, Larry Baer has gained a national reputation as one of professional sports' leading visionaries. Baer joined the team in 1992 as the executive vice president after he and Peter Magowan led the effort to assemble a new ownership group and negotiate the sale that kept the Giants in San Francisco. A limited partner of the ownership group, Baer was named chief operating officer in May 1996, team president in October 2008 and CEO on January 1, 2012. In his first year as president and CEO, the Giants won their second World Series Championship in three years.

As president and CEO, Baer serves as the club's "control" person on all Giants, Major League Baseball and industry issues. Baer is responsible for the overall day-to-day functioning of the organization. Under his direction the Giants developed and constructed AT&T Park -- the first privately-financed Major League ballpark. Since opening in 2000, AT&T Park has been widely praised as one of the "best ballparks ever built." The club has received unprecedented fan support – becoming one of only four teams to exceed three million in attendance eight consecutive years (2000-2007). Currently, the Giants enjoy the longest active home sellout streak in Major League Baseball of 246 games. With the support of more than 29,000 full season ticket holders, the Giants sold out the 2011, 2012 and 2013 seasons and welcomed more than 3.3 million fans each year. The Giants have been the standard bearer in all of baseball for sponsorship revenue, and the ballpark continues to be one of the most popular venues in the country for special events. In 2008, AT&T Park was named Sports Business Journal's Sports Facility of the Year, and in 2011 the Giants received Sports Business Journal's Professional Sports Organization of the Year award.

Baer also serves as a key strategist and negotiator of the club's major business and baseball transactions. This includes the Barry Bonds signing in November 1992, the naming rights agreement with AT&T (then Pacific Bell) in 1996 and other strategic business partnerships. He led the effort to host the 2007 All-Star Game in San Francisco and was the driving force behind the Giants partnership with Comcast to create a regional sports network for the Bay Area.

In 2013, Baer ensured that the longest tenured general manager and the longest active and most winning manager remained with the Giants by extending the contracts of Brian Sabean and Bruce Bochy. Baer worked closely with Sabean on strategic signings that keep several key players in Giants uniforms for years to come, including Buster Posey, Matt Cain, Madison Bumgarner and Hunter Pence.

Baer also serves as President & CEO of Giants Development Services, which is currently developing Mission Rock – a new, mixed use urban neighborhood located on a 25-acre site across McCovey Cove from AT&T Park. Once completed, Mission Rock will include more than eight acres of parks and open space, an Anchor Steam Brewery, 650-1,500 residential units, 1.3 - 1.7 million square feet of office space, a parking structure to serve ballpark and Mission Rock patrons, and up to 250,000 square feet of retail, restaurants, and public amenities. The project is currently in the entitlement phase with groundbreaking projected for 2016.

After earning Phi Beta Kappa honors at the University of California in 1980, Baer joined the Giants as the club's marketing director. In 1983, he left the Giants to attend Harvard Business School, followed by a four-year tenure at Westinghouse Broadcasting in San Francisco and New York. He finally returned to the Giants in December 1992 from CBS, Inc. in New York, where he had served as a special assistant to the network's chairman, Laurence Tisch.

Baer has been the recipient of a number of prestigious awards throughout his career with the Giants. This includes the San Francisco Distinguished Leadership Award for civic leadership (1996), "Sports Torch of Learning Award" by the Scopus Society of the American Friends of The Hebrew University (1995), and the Anti-Defamation League's Torch of Liberty Award (2001). In 2010, Baer was the named the "Person of the Year" by San Francisco Boys and Girls Club, and in 2012 he was honored as the Harvard Business School's "Alumnus of the Year." In March, 2014 Baer will be honored by University of California Berkeley with its "Excellence in Achievement" award.

Baer serves on the Board of Major League Baseball Enterprises, which oversees national television and radio contract negotiations, national sponsorship and licensing programs as well as the overall marketing of the industry.

Baer is a member of the Board of Directors of KQED, Inc., the San Francisco Committee on Jobs, the Bay Area Council, Comcast Sports Net Bay Area and is a member of the Boys and Girls Clubs of America Pacific Region Board of Trustees.

For many years, Baer's wife, Pam, has spearheaded fundraising efforts for San Francisco General Hospital. Together, they are serving as Co-Chairs of the San Francisco General Foundation Campaign Committee, which raises capital to rebuild the hospital and trauma center.

Brian R. Sabean

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Brian Sabean, who is currently the longest-tenured General Manager in Major League Baseball, was named San Francisco's Senior Vice President and General Manager on Sept. 30, 1996. During his 17 years as GM, he has seen the Giants capture six post-season berths (including three World Series appearances and two Championships), with the club under his watch having earned more than half of its ten overall playoff appearances since moving West.

In 2012, Sabean was named Baseball America's Executive of the Year as he stewarded the Giants to their second World Series Championship in his tenure as General Manager. During the campaign, he acquired several key players and was strategic with call-ups down the stretch of the season.

In his 22nd year with the organization, and 29th season as a baseball front office executive, the 57 year-old Sabean was honored as 2010 Major League Baseball Executive of the Year by the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA. He was tabbed with the same honor by both The Sporting News and Baseball America in 2003.

Since Sabean assumed the GM reins following the 1996 season, the Giants have won two World Championships (2010 and 2012), three National League pennants (2002, 2010 and 2012), five NL West Division flags (1997, 2000, 2003, 2010 and 2012), been a Wild Card entry (2002) and forced a Wild Card tie-breaker game with Chicago in 1998, while posting a 1,468-1,284-1 (.533) mark during that 17-year span. This winning percentage is sixth overall in MLB, the third best in the National League and best in the NL West Division during Sabean's tenure. In addition, under Sabean, the Giants are one of only four teams in the Major Leagues that have been to the World Series three-or-more times since 1997 (also: Cardinals, four times, Red Sox, three times and Yankees, six times) and are third in the National League with six post-season appearances in that span.

Recently under Sabean's watch, the Giants' organization has received prestigious awards, being named the Topps Organization of the Year in both 2009 and 2011 and the Baseball America Organization of the Year in 2010. These awards are given to Major League teams that show outstanding performance, depth and talent throughout their Major and Minor league teams.

In his first year as the Giants' GM, the Concord, NH native finished second in The Sporting News' 1997 Executive of the Year balloting. He seized national headlines for his bold player moves that season, engineering some of baseball's most successful blockbuster trades, which catapulted San Francisco to its first divisional championship in eight years.

During his tenure as GM, Sabean has acquired some of the game's best players via trades. They have included Giants' All-Stars Jeff Kent, Jason Schmidt, Marco Scutaro and Robb Nen, as well as standout performers Ellis Burks, Joe Carter, Andres Galarraga, Kenny Lofton, Jose Mesa and J.T. Snow. The Giants' GM has been known to bring reinforcements during the July 31 trading deadline, acquiring the likes of Carlos Beltran, Javier Lopez, Hunter Pence, Freddy Sanchez and Randy Winn.

The team architect also brought future Hall of Famers Omar Vizquel to San Francisco in 2005 and Randy Johnson in 2008, while adding Giants' All-Star Benito Santiago in 2001, two-time Gold Glove catcher Bengie Molina, three-time All-Star Tim Hudson in 2013 and five-time National League All-Star (and eventual 2010 World Series MVP) Edgar Renteria in 2009.

Before his promotion to GM in 1996, Sabean served one season as the club's Senior Vice President, Player Personnel in 1995 and enjoyed a three-year stint as Assistant to the General Manager and Vice President of Scouting/Player Personnel. Prior to joining the Giants, Sabean played a vital role in developing the Yankees' farm system into one of baseball's finest. During his eight-year tenure with the Yankees, he held several positions of increasing responsibility, including Director of Scouting from 1986-90 and Vice President of Player Development/Scouting from 1990-92.

Sabean, who graduated from Concord (NH) High School in 1974 and Eckerd College (St. Petersburg, FL) in 1978, served as an assistant baseball coach at St. Leo (FL) College in 1979 and the University of Tampa from 1980-82. He was then promoted to head coach at Tampa in 1983, holding that post for two years, compiling a 61-36 record and making the school's first-ever appearance in an NCAA regional tournament in 1984.

Sabean and his wife, Amanda, have two sons, Aidan and Declan. They are also the proud dad and stepmom to Colin, Sean, Brendan and Darren.

Dick Tidrow

VICE PRESIDENT AND ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER, PLAYER PERSONNEL

A former American League Rookie Pitcher of the Year and 13-year Major League veteran, Dick Tidrow embarks on his 21st year overall with the club. Tidrow has had an integral role in helping the organization be named the Topps Organization of the Year in both 2009 and 2011 and the Baseball America Organization of the Year in 2010.

An invaluable aide to Brian Sabean, Tidrow came to the organization prior to the 1994 campaign, serving as the club's Major League scout for the American League. He was promoted to Special Assistant to the General Manager in 1996, and was elevated to Director of Player Personnel prior to the 1997 season. His current responsibilities include providing Major League player recommendations for trade and free agent signings, overseeing the Giants' minor league system and assisting in supervising the First-Year Player Draft. His judgment for talent, whether acquired or developed through the farm system, can be seen throughout the roster of the Major League club, as he had a major hand in the teams drafting and development of the 2012 Championship rotation of Tim Lincecum, Matt Cain, Ryan Vogelsong and Madison Bumgarner, as well as closer Sergio Romo. In addition, the Giants farm system owns the highest winning percentage in baseball over the past eight seasons with a .557 organizational mark, largely due to Tidrow's tutelage of the club's pitching prospects.

Prior to joining the Giants organization, Tidrow served as a special assignment scout with the New York Yankees from 1985 through 1993. The former right-handed pitcher, nicknamed "Dirt," enjoyed parts of 13 years in the Majors from 1972-84. He was honored as The Sporting News A.L. Rookie Pitcher of the Year as a starter with the Cleveland Indians in 1972, while also capturing pennant and World Series rings as a reliever with the Yankees in 1976 and '77, respectively. He later pitched for the Cubs, White Sox and Mets. His lifetime numbers show a 100-94 record with 55 saves and a 3.68 ERA.

The San Francisco native graduated from Mt. Eden High School in 1965 and Chabot Junior College in 1967, both located in Hayward. Dick and his wife, Mari Jo, have three children— Andy, Matt and Richelle—and make their home in Lee's Summit, MO.

Sabean's Top Trades

During his tenure as the Giants general manager, Brian Sabean has made 87 trades. Those transactions have brought 100 players to San Francisco, including 2003 NL Cy Young runner-up Jason Schmidt, 2000 NL MVP Jeff Kent, 100-game winner Kirk Rueter, Giants all-time saves leader Robb Nen, six-time Gold Glover J.T. Bobby Evans

VICE PRESIDENT AND ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Bobby Evans begins his 21st season in the Giants baseball operations department. As a valued member of the Giants' braintrust, Evans has had an integral role in helping the organization win two World Series titles in the past four seasons (2010 and 2012) and has helped the organization be named the Topps Organization of the Year in both 2009 and 2011 and the Baseball America Organization of the Year in 2010.

In his current role, Evans assists Senior Vice President and General Manager Brian Sabean in all Major League and amateur contract negotiations, player acquisitions via trade or free agency and all areas of Major League operations. He is also responsible for overseeing waiver and rule compliance and assisting Dick Tidrow in overseeing the organization's minor league system.

Recently, Evans has assisted Brian Sabean in contract negotiations for record setting deals with Matt Cain and Buster Posey. He has also helped the GM work out extensions with Madison Bumgarner, Hunter Pence, Sergio Romo and Pablo Sandoval; keeping the core of the club in a Giants' uniform. In addition, he oversees the signing of the organization's top picks in the annual First-Year Player Draft.

In 2012, Evans received the Bowie Kuhn Award, which is presented annually at the Baseball Winter Meetings (since 1984) to an individual, team or organization who demonstrates support of the chapel program in professional baseball.

Evans is a 1991 graduate of the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, where he was the recipient of the John Motley Morehead Scholarship Award. He first joined San Francisco in 1994 as Administrative Assistant, Minor Leagues. Prior to joining the Giants, Evans served as an administrator in the Commissioner's Office in New York. During his three-year tenure there, he worked in baseball operations and assisted with compliance to the PBA. While in college, Evans interned with the Boston Red Sox in the player development and scouting departments during the summer of 1989.

Evans and his wife, Gwen, reside in San Francisco and have a son, Jonathan, a daughter, Anjali and a baby on the way.

John Barr

VICE PRESIDENT & ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER, SCOUTING & INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS

John Barr will begin his 30th season as a baseball executive and his seventh season with the Giants, overseeing amateur and international scouting in 2013.

Under Barr's guidance, the Giants have drafted players such as 2010 Rookie of the Year and 2012 National League MVP Buster Posey, Brandon Crawford and Brandon Belt, all of whom helped the Giants win the World Series in 2012. Barr also drafted minor league standouts Clayton Blackburn, Gary Brown, Kyle Crick, Heath Hembree, Joe Panik, and Andrew Susac, who will all be in the Giants big league camp this spring.

The Audubon, NJ, native entered the front office ranks in 1984 with the New York Mets as Administrative Assistant to Minor Leagues and Scouting where he remained until becoming the East Coast Supervisor for the Minnesota Twins in 1988. As Scouting Director for the Baltimore Orioles,(1989-90), Barr was responsible for selecting first rounders Ben McDonald ('89) and Mike Mussina ('90). He served as Assistant General Manager for the San Diego Padres (1991-93) before returning to the New York Mets (1994-97) as Scouting Director, where they added players such as AJ Burnett, Paul Wilson, Jay Payton, and Terrence Long to their system. Barr then spent ten years (1998- 2007) with the Los Angeles Dodgers as East Coast Supervisor where he was instrumental in the selection of All-Star catcher Russell Martin, starting pitcher Edwin Jackson and reliever Jonathan Broxton.

Barr was inducted into the Mid Atlantic Scouts Hall of Fame in November of 2008 and then inducted into the Professional Scouting Hall of Fame during the summer of 2009.

Felipe Alou

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Felipe Alou, a man whose name is synonymous with the Giants, returns for his eighth season as a special assistant to the general manager after serving as the club's field manager from 2003-06. He works closely with Brian Sabean on special assignments, ranging from Major League scouting and player acquisition to minor league instruction. He provides evaluations and recommendations at both levels.

The Dominican icon continues a long and storied career with the franchise, beginning with his playing days as a member of the original San Francisco Giants club in 1958. He concluded his four-year tenure at the helm of the Giants ranking seventh on the wins list for San Francisco skippers with a 342-304 record.

The 2014 campaign will mark Alou's 59th season in professional baseball. Following a distinguished 17-year playing career that ended in 1974, he was appointed a minor league manager in 1976 and remained in uniform each year through the 2006 campaign.

In 13 seasons as a Major League manager, the 1994 National League Manager of the Year posted a 1,033-1,021-1 ledger and became just the 53rd skipper since 1900 to register 1,000 wins. The Haina, Dominican Republic native is the first manager of Latin descent to win 1,000 games in the big leagues, and is only the third foreign-born skipper to reach the milestone (current Giants skipper Bruce Bochy, France, 1,530-1,530; and Harry Wright, England, 1,000-825).

Alou became the first Dominican-born manager in Major League history when he assumed control of the Montreal Expos on May 22, 1992. He was the fourth Latin American head man born in the Caribbean Islands, following Mike Gonzalez (Cuba), Preston Gomez (Cuba) and Cookie Rojas (Cuba).

Primarily an outfielder during his playing days, the second Dominican-born player to reach the Majors (following Ozzie Virgil with the 1956 New York Giants) was a three-time All-Star during a 17-year career with the Giants (1958-63), Milwaukee and Atlanta Braves (1964-69), Oakland Athletics (1970-71), New York Yankees (1971-73), Montreal Expos (1973) and Milwaukee Brewers (1974).

Alou, and his wife Lucie, make their home in Boynton Beach, FL with their two children, Valerie and Felipe, Jr. He is also the father of daughters Maria, Christia, Cheri and Jennifer, along with sons Jose, Moises, Felipe Jose and Luis.

Jeremy Shelley

VICE PRESIDENT, PRO SCOUTING AND PLAYER EVALUATION

Jeremy Shelley begins his 21st season in San Francisco's baseball operations department, currently serving as the club's Vice President of Pro Scouting and Player Evaluation, a position he was promoted to in January of 2013. In his current role, Shelley oversees the organization's major league and minor league scouting operations and manages the flow of information between the scouts and baseball operations staff. Additionally, he assists in the areas of statistical analysis, contracts, arbitration preparation, as well as amateur and international scouting. He also oversees the information systems within the scouting department.

Shelley has had an integral role in helping the organization be named the Topps Organization of the Year in both 2009 and 2011 and the Baseball America Organization of the Year in 2010.

The Concord, CA native began his career for the Giants as a baseball operations intern in 1994. He was hired full-time as administrative assistant, baseball operations in 1996. He earned a BS in finance from Santa Clara University in 1995.

Tony Siegle

SENIOR ADVISOR, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Longtime front office executive Tony Siegle is in his third stint with the Giants after rejoining the club in 2007 as a senior advisor in the baseball operations department. He assists Brian Sabean, Bobby Evans and baseball operations in waiver and rules compliance, contract negotiations, arbitration and trade discussions.

Siegle, who has worked in Major League Baseball for the last five decades, was previously with San Francisco during a five-year run from 1990-94 and again for a brief stay during the 2001 season. Originally tabbed as San Francisco's director of minor league operations in August, 1990, he was elevated to the role of vice president, baseball administration and operations in December, 1992.

Prior to rejoining the Giants, Siegle spent five seasons (2002-06) as the assistant general manager of the Washington Nationals franchise, first under G.M. Omar Minaya and then Jim Bowden. Appointed to the position in February, 2002, when the club was still the Montreal Expos, he helped oversee a myriad of personnel moves while navigating the unique circumstances of a franchise in transition.

A former officer in the U.S. Navy, Siegle began his Major League Baseball career in 1965 as the scoreboard operator at the Astrodome in Houston, and spent the 1969 season as the Phillies' director of stadium operations. He moved to the baseball operations side with Milwaukee in 1970 and has since enjoyed a distinguished career in a variety of front office posts with the Brewers (1970-79), Astros (1979-82), Phillies (1982-88 and 2001), Padres (1989), Angels (1990), Giants (1990-94, 2001 and 2007-present), Rockies (1995-2000) and Expos/Nationals (2002-06). During his tenure, the University of Miami (FL) graduate has worked closely with or for 23 general managers and 22 managers - numbers believed to be unrivaled in baseball annals.

Tony and his wife, Cynthia, reside in San Francisco and have four children (Andrew, Amy Beth, Zachary and Gregory) and nine grandchildren.

Shane Turner

DIRECTOR, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Shane Turner begins his 19th season with the Giants, his first as the Director of Player Development. In his new role, he is chiefly responsible for the assignment, development and evaluation of players throughout the Giants farm system.

The last six seasons, Turner has served as the Giants Coordinator of Minor League Instruction (2008-13). In this role, Turner traveled to each of the Giants' minor league affiliates to work closely with SF's young players.

In his 18 years with the Giants, Turner has managed or coached at every level within the Giants' minor league system. He owns an overall record of 620-666 (.482) in 11 seasons as a minor league skipper, having posted a winning record in each of his initial four campaigns. The highlight of his managerial career came in 1998, when he led Class A Advanced San Jose to a league-best 83-57 record and the California League Championship, the first ever in San Jose's affiliation with San Francisco. For his efforts at San Jose, he earned honors as best Major League managerial prospect for Cal League by Baseball America.

Turner played professionally for 11 years as an infielder in the minor league systems of Chicago-AL, Baltimore, San Francisco, Seattle, Philadelphia and New York-AL. He saw action on the Major League level with the Phillies in 1988, Orioles in 1991 and Mariners in 1992, finishing with a lifetime .236 batting average in 56 games. He singled in his Major League debut off former Giants pitcher Scott Garrelts.

Turner was originally selected by the Yankees in the sixth round of the 1985 June draft. He attended Cal State-Fullerton, where he finished ninth in the nation with 108 hits in 1985. Turner now resides in Sinking Spring, PA.

Steve Decker

COORDINATOR OF MINOR LEAGUE INSTRUCTION AND HITTING

Former Giants catcher embarks on his third season as Coordinator of Minor League Instruction and Hitting after spending two years managing at triple-A Fresno. His 2014 campaign will be his 20th season within the Giants' organization as either a manager, coach or player. Decker returned to the San Francisco organization after retiring as a player following his 2000 campaign.

Along with managing the Fresno Grizzlies, Decker was at the helm of Class A Advanced San Jose in 2008 and double-A Connecticut in 2009. He earned Northwest League Manager of the Year honors in 2006 and 2007 as the skipper for the Salem-Keizer Volcanoes, where he made his managerial debut in 2005. His spent his initial four years in the coaching ranks under Fred Stanley from 2001-02 at Salem-Keizer and 2003-04 at triple-A Fresno.

Decker appeared in 263 games over his Major League career, seeing action over seven big league seasons with the Giants (1990-92, 1996), Florida Marlins (1993, '95), Colorado Rockies (1996) and Anaheim Angels (1999). Was originally a 21st round selection by the Giants in the June 1988 draft out of Lewis & Clark State College.

Yeshayah Goldfarb

DIRECTOR, MINOR LEAGUE OPERATIONS/QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

Yeshayah Goldfarb enters his 14th season in the Giants baseball operations department. He helps run the minor league operations on a day-to-day basis, including spring training camp, roster formation, player evaluation, budget management and affiliate team liaison. Additionally he provides statistical analysis on major league, minor league, and amateur players for purposes of roster construction, player acquisition and development. He is also responsible for seeking out and incorporating new technologies and data into baseball operations information systems.

Goldfarb graduated Cum Laude from the University of California, San Diego. A former pitcher and team captain, he played four seasons with the Tritons and was elected most inspirational Player by his teammates and also presented with the John Roth Memorial Award (Charlie Hustle) by the coaching staff in 2000.

The Berkeley, CA native began his career with the Giants as a scouting intern and video assistant in 2001 and was hired full time after the season as Assistant, Baseball Operations. In 2006 he was promoted to Coordinator of Baseball Operations and then promoted again in 2010 to his current position Director, Minor League Operations/Quantitative Analysis.

Goldfarb and his wife, Miranda, have a daughter, Eliana, and a son, Ezra, and reside in Oakland, CA.

Paul Turco

SENIOR ADVISOR, SCOUTING

Paul Turco enters his 27th year in professional baseball, his 18th with the Giants. During his tenure with the club, he has been a Florida area scout, east coast cross checker and Major League scout. His current role has him report directly to General Manager Brian Sabean on player personnel acquisitions.

Turco was previously a scout with the New York Yankees, working with the club from 1987-95. Some notable signings include Brad Ausmus and Carl Everett. Prior to joining the Yankees, he was the head baseball coach at Worcester (MA) State College from 1981-83, leading the team to their first ever appearance in the NCAA Regionals. He took over the Worcester State program after serving as a police officer with the Worcester Police Department from 1973-80, earning a promotion to the Detective Bureau in 1977.

A New England native, Turco was a pitcher in his playing days at Quinsigamond Community College (Worcester, MA), finishing with a perfect 15-0 record.

He and his wife, Joyce, have two sons who are both professional scouts. Paul Jr. is a Major League scout with the Giants, while Anthony is a pro scout with the Boston Red Sox.

Lee Elder

SENIOR ADVISOR, SCOUTING

Lee Elder enters his 15th year within the San Francisco Giants organization and his first as the Senior Advisor, Scouting. From 2000-2005, Elder worked as an amature scout, pro scout and an advance scout and in 2002 he signed three-time All-Star Matt Cain. He became a Major League scout from 2005-2010 and assumed the dual role of Major League Scout/Special Assignment Scout in 2011 until being promoted to his current position this offseason.

Prior to joining the Giants' organization, Elder worked as an amateur and pro scout for the New York Yankees for 10 years from 1990-2000, where he earned three World Series Championship rings (1996, 1998, 1999). Prior to getting into baseball, he worked in the business world, specializing in sales, finance and computers and formed his own advertising company, which led him to meet George Steinbrenner, who eventually brought him into baseball with the Yankees as an amateur scout under current Giants General Manager Brian Sabean in 1990.

Born and raised in Biloxi, Mississippi, Elder graduated from Biloxi High School, Mississippi Gulf Coast JC and the University of Southern Mississippi. He played baseball and basketball in High School and Jr. College before being drafted into the US Army and eventually serving in the Vietnam War. After returning from the service he enrolled in the University of Southern Mississippi and earned a BS degree in marketing in 1976. He was named Biloxian of the Year in 2004 by the State of Mississippi Legislature for outstanding accomplishments outside of the state and was inducted into the Biloxi Sports Hall of Fame in November of 2013.

He and his wife, Debra have been married for 35 years and they have one son named Blake, who is a corporate accountant in Atlanta, GA. They currently reside in Scottsdale, AZ.

Ed Creech

SENIOR ADVISOR, SCOUTING

Ed Creech, a widely respected figure throughout the game, is in his sixth year in San Francisco's organization after having served the last six years as Pittsburgh's Director of Scouting. Having spent over 36 years in professional baseball, he works closely with John Barr in both domestic and international amateur scouting.

The 62-year-old Creech has also been a scouting director with the Los Angeles Dodgers (1999-2001), St. Louis Cardinals (1998) and Montreal Expos (1994-97). During his tenure as a scouting director, he has ushered 54 of his draft picks to the Majors, including the likes of Javier Vazquez, Milton Bradley, Michael Barrett, Brian Schneider, J.D. Drew, Jack Wilson, Shane Victorino, Tom Gorzelanny and Paul Maholm.

The Columbia, SC native played six seasons in the Expos organization after being the club's second round selection in the 1973 draft. Following his playing career, he became a coach and manager for six years in the Montreal chain (1982-85, 1990-91). After serving as an area scout for the team from 1985-91, he was promoted to the Expos scouting supervisor from 1991-93.

Matt Nerland

SENIOR ADVISOR, SCOUTING

Matt Nerland, who begins his 26th season with the Giants, serves as a Senior Advisor in Scouting and reports directly to General Manager Brian Sabean. In his current role, Nerland is responsible for evaluating talent at both the major league and minor league levels and provides input regarding player acquisitions and roster moves.

During his long tenure with San Francisco, Nerland also served as scouting director and was instrumental in the First-Year player drafts from 1998-2006. During that span, 44 players have matriculated to the major leagues. The San Francisco State graduate began his career as an intern in the baseball operations department in 1989 prior to working in a variety of capacities that ranged from front office responsibilities to amateur and professional scouting.

Doug Mapson

SENIOR ADVISOR, SCOUTING

Doug Mapson, who enters his 34th year in professional baseball, reports to John Barr and assists in coordinating the Giants' amateur scouting staff in the field. During his storied career, he signed future Hall of Famer Greg Maddux.

In 2013, Mapson was named West Coast Scout of the Year, which is presented annually at the Baseball Winter Meetings by the Scout of the Year program.

The longtime scout, who is entering his 22nd season with the Giants, has served as San Francisco's national cross-checker for the past nine seasons after serving as a special assignment scout and western cross-checker for the first 10 years with the organization.

Prior to joining San Francisco, he was with the Chicago Cubs for 11 years as an area scout and a west coast supervisor. He started his professional career as a part time scout for the Philadelphia Phillies after being the head coach at Palmdale (CA) High School for 10 years.

The Carmel (CA) High School graduate played baseball at both Monterey Peninsula College and U.S. International University in San Diego. Mapson and his wife, Patricia, live in Chandler, AZ. He has three sons, Jeff, Jay and Dusty and three stepchildren, Vicki, Guy and Diane.

Pablo Peguero

DIRECTOR, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC OPERATIONS

Pablo Peguero begins his 11th year with the Giants, coordinating the club's scouting and player development operations in the Dominican Republic.

A Dominican native, Peguero has an extensive background in baseball in his island country. Prior to joining the Giants organization, he worked in the Dominican for the Los Angeles Dodgers as a scout from 1984-86, staff coordinator from 1987-89, scout and development coordinator from 1990-94. He has been the GM for different Dominican Winter League Clubs, working for Campo Las Palmas (Dodgers facility in D.R.) from 1995-2003 and now is currently the GM for the Gigantes del Cibao. Notable players he signed for the Dodgers include Tony Abreu, Adrian Beltre, Raul Mondesi, Felix Rodriguez, Angel Pena and Wilton Guerrero. He was also the general manager of the Dominican Olympic Team in the 1999 Pan Am Games in Winnipeg, Canada.

The former catcher played nine seasons (1972-1980) in the minors with the Los Angeles Dodgers, including the last four years at triple-A.

He and his wife, Xiomara, have a son, Felix, and a daughter, Patxi, and live in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. His son was a former minor league player and currently is the Assistant Director for Dominican Republic Operations with the Giants.

Felix Peguero

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC OPERATIONS

Felix Peguero begins his ninth year in the Giants organization, his second as the Assistant Director of Dominican Republic Operations. Peguero assists Pablo Peguero in the operations and scouting development in the Dominican Republic and he oversees the scouting department. He joined the Giants organization in 2006 as a player coach and then was elevated to an area scout in 2007.

The 29-year-old Santo Domingo, D.R. native was a former catcher in the Arizona Diamondbacks system from 2004-05.

He and his wife, Fabiola, reside in Santo Domingo, D.R.

John Cox

COORDINATOR, PACIFIC RIM SCOUTING

John Cox begins his ninth season with the Giants, serving as the coordinator of Pacific Rim scouting. He is responsible for the club's scouting efforts in Australia, Japan, Korea and Taiwan.

Cox previously worked in the scouting department of the New York Yankees from 1994-2006, having been a Western region supervisor, pro scout and Pacific Rim supervisor. During his time with the Yankees, he was involved in the signings of such notable players as Hideki Matsui, Chin-Ming Wang and Jose Contreras. He has also worked in the front office or scouting departments of the Chicago Cubs (1973-85), Cincinnati Reds (1986-88) and Baltimore Orioles (1989-2006), having served in a number of roles.

A former infielder, Cox played in the minors with the California Angels, Cubs and Oakland Athletics. He currently resides in Yucaipa, CA.

Jack Hiatt

SENIOR CONSULTANT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

Jack Hiatt, a former Giants player, is in his seventh season with the Giants in an advisory role after retiring from his longtime position as the club's Director of Player Development. He works closely with Brian Sabean on minor league evaluations and recommendations.

Hiatt also spent two seasons as the Roving Catching Instructor/Assistant Player Development Director and one campaign (1988) as the manager of the Giants' rookie league club in Pocatello, ID.

A catcher and first baseman during his playing days, Hiatt played for the Angels, Giants, Expos, Cubs and Astros during a career that included 483 games from 1964-72.

Prior to joining the Giants' player development staff, Hiatt worked as a coach and manager in the Cubs, Angels and Astros organizations, including a stint as a Major League coach with Chicago in 1981.

Hiatt and his wife, Sherlyn, reside in Roseburg, OR.

Fred Stanley

SPECIAL ASSISTANT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

Fred Stanley, a former big league infielder with 47 years of professional baseball experience, works as a special assistant, player personnel within the Giants' organization. He was previously the director of player development from 2008-2013, responsible for the assignment, development and evaluation of players throughout the Giants farm system.

Entering his 14th season in San Francisco's organization, Stanley served as the Giants coordinator of minor league instruction from 2006-08. He has held many different front office positions, including serving as the Milwaukee Brewers' assistant general manager. He has also worked as a big league coach, minor league manager and instructor, including a five season-stint as a manager in the Giants chain. During that time, he was named the Northwest League's Manager of the Year in 2000 and 2001.

Stanley spent nine seasons in the Milwaukee organization before matriculating to the Giants, including his final three years as the Brewers' assistant general manager. He also served as the Brew Crew's director of player development from 1992-96, with his charges earning the prestigious Topps Organization of the Year Award in 1992. Prior to his stint in the front office, he spent the 1991 season as the Brewers infield coach.

Before going to Milwaukee, he was the coordinator of minor league instruction with the Seattle Mariners from 1989-90, the director of baseball operations with the Houston Astros from 1986-88 and director of instruction with the Oakland Athletics from 1983-85.

A defensive specialist, Stanley played 14 seasons in the Majors with Seattle (1969), Milwaukee (1970), Cleveland (1972), San Diego (1972), New York Yankees (1972-80) and Oakland (1981-82).

The Farnhamville, IA native currently lives in Argyle, TX with his wife Rebecca. He has a daughter, Tracie, and a son, Brian.

Joe Amalfitano

SPECIAL ASSISTANT, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Joe Amalfitano, who enters his 60th year in professional baseball and 23rd in the Giants organization, serves as a roving instructor and a special assignment scout as directed by Brian Sabean. The former big league infielder is in his sixth different tour of duty with the Giants, returning to the organization in 2005.

Originally signed by the New York Giants as a bonus baby in 1954, he played for the New York club in 1954-55 and with San Francisco from 1960-61 and 1963. Amalfitano also served as a big league coach for the Giants from 1972-75, before returning as a special assistant, player development from 1999-2001.

Prior to rejoining the orange and black during his current stint, he spent the previous three years as a senior advisor to baseball operations for the Los Angeles Dodgers from 2002-04. Amalfitano ended his Major League coaching career with the Dodgers, manning the third base coaching box from 1983-98 under manager Tommy Lasorda. His other big league coaching assignments included: the Chicago Cubs (1967-71 and 1978-81), San Diego Padres (1976-77) and Cincinnati Reds (1982).

The San Pedro, CA native also managed parts of three seasons with the Cubs from 1979-81, compiling a 66-116 ledger. He was Chicago's interim manager at the end of the 1979 season, taking over for Herman Franks and finishing with a 2-5 mark. He also managed the last half of the 1980 season in Chicago after taking over for Preston Gomez and posted a 38-65 record as the skipper for the entire strike-shortened 1981 season.

Having appeared in two World Series — one as a player for the Giants in 1954 and one as a coach for the Dodgers in 1988 — he posted a .244 batting average during his 10-year big league career with the Giants (1954-55, '60-61 and '63), Astros (1962) and Cubs (1964-67).

A graduate of the University of Southern California, he and his wife, Kay, live in Sedona, AZ.

Jim Davenport

SPECIAL ASSISTANT, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Jim Davenport, who was a member of the original 1958 San Francisco Giants, enters his 50th campaign with the organization, having played, coached and managed at both the Major and minor league levels. He serves as a roving instructor and a special assignment scout as directed by Brian Sabean.

The All-Star third baseman has held his current position for 14 of the last 15 years. However, Davenport was asked to skipper triple-A Fresno in 1998 during the Grizzlies' inaugural campaign, piloting the squad to the Pacific Coast League Southern Division championship. He also served as the first base coach for San Francisco in 1996 after managing then triple-A Phoenix during the second half of the 1995 campaign.

The Siluria, AL native re-joined the Giants organization in 1993 and served as a coach for single-A San Jose until 1995. After serving as San Francisco's manager in 1985, he served as third base coach for Philadelphia in 1988 and Cleveland in 1989 before joining Detroit as an advanced scout from 1991-92. Davenport was also the Giants' third base coach from 1976-82 and the club's advance scout in 1983-84.

Following a 13-year big league career all with the Giants, he remained with the organization and managed Phoenix from 1971-73 before serving as a coach for the Padres from 1974-75.

Davenport, 77, posted a .258 lifetime batting average in 1,501 Major League contests. He earned All-Star status and a Gold Glove in 1962 and was voted by the fans as the third baseman on the Giants' 25th Anniversary Dream Team in 1982.

Davenport and his wife, Betty, reside in San Carlos, and have five children, Randy, Cathy, Ken, Don and Gary, who is the Manager for Short Season Salem-Keizer.

J.T. Snow

SPECIAL ASSISTANT, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Longtime Giant and fan favorite J.T. Snow joined the San Francisco Giants front office in December, 2006 after retiring from a 15-year big league career. The six-time Gold Glove first baseman has a wide variety of duties in his role, including personal appearances, broadcasting on the radio side, serving as an instructor during Spring Training, a roving instructor for the minor league clubs and advising general manager Brian Sabean on an as-needed basis.

Snow, who spent nine seasons in a Giants uniform from 1997-2005, helped San Francisco to four post-season appearances during his tenure before completing his career with the Boston Red Sox in 2006. He and Hall of Famer Willie McCovey are the only Giants first basemen to start nine consecutive Opening Days since the club moved to San Francisco in 1958.

The Long Beach, CA native owned a .268 lifetime average with 189 home runs and 877 RBI over 1,715 career games for the Yankees (1992), Angels (1993-96), Giants (1997-2005) and Red Sox (2006).

Snow, who is one of three players to win the coveted "Willie Mac Award" twice in his career (1997 and 2004) along with Mike Krukow and Bengie Molina, makes his home in Emerald Hills, CA…he has one child, 16-year-old son Shane (Dec. 16, 1997).

ADMINISTRATION

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Mario Alioto, a member of the Giants front office since 1983, is responsible for all revenue and marketing areas of the organization. This includes all ticket sales functions, sponsorship and media sales, promotions, specials events, ballpark entertainment, advertising and the Giants Dugout Store retail operation. He also oversees the relationships with the team's TV and radio partners (KNBR, Comcast SportsNet Bay Area, NBC Bay Area and KTRB 860 ESPN Deportes).

Since AT&T Park opened in 2000, Alioto has been responsible for overseeing a record breaking sales strategy that has consistently placed the Giants as one of the top sponsorship generating teams in all of Major League Baseball. Over the past three seasons, Alioto has led the effort that attracted more than 3.3 million fans through the turnstiles, with the club's all-time attendance record of 3,387,303 being reached in 2011.

Alioto served as Vice President, Sales & Marketing during the final years at Candlestick Park. He oversaw a promotional lineup in 1999 that included the first ever bobblehead promotion, which has since become one of the most popular premium items in professional sports. Alioto also played an integral role in developing the Charter Seat program and Winner's Circle sponsorship program as the Giants prepared to build AT&T Park.

Alioto currently serves on the Executive Committee of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and is a board member of the San Francisco Giants Community Fund, the Bay Area Sports Hall of Fame and the St. Mary's College Board of Regents. The St. Mary's graduate lived out every youngster's dream by starting with the organization as a batboy in 1973 and later served as Visiting Clubhouse Manager prior to moving to the front office in 1983.

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL COUNSEL

Jack Bair has served as a trusted counselor and key strategist to the San Francisco Giants baseball team since January of 1993. As he enters his twenty-second season with the Giants, Bair has broad experience assisting and advising every department within the organization. As Senior Vice President & General Counsel, he is responsible for all of the team's legal matters and for managing the team's many and complex relations with the City & County of San Francisco. Bair also serves as President of Giants Development Services, the wholly-owned subsidiary of the San Francisco Giants responsible for real estate matters, including the planned Mission Rock Project just south of AT&T Park. Bair is also leading the current effort to expand the club's Latin American Headquarters in the Dominican Republic.

Bair played a critical role in the Giants successful effort to develop a new ballpark in downtown San Francisco. Bair coordinated the effort to select the site for the new ballpark and contributed significantly to the ballpark's architectural design. Bair was the Giants liaison to the successful 1996 ballpark campaign for the Giants. He wrote and produced the award-winning campaign video and served as the principal spokesperson for the campaign, addressing hundreds of neighborhood, business and political organizations throughout the City. Bair also negotiated the business transaction with the City and coordinated the successful effort to gain all of the local, regional, state and federal governmental approvals necessary for the project to meet its timetable for Opening Day in April of 2000.

In addition to the ballpark architectural style itself, Bair's creative suggestions led to several of AT&T Park's unique features, such as the public promenade behind the Right Field fence, the perched arcade seating area in Right Field and the Ferry Terminal at Seals Plaza. His father's old-time glove served as the model for the world's largest baseball glove that sits above the Left Field bleachers. Bair also planned and developed China Basin Park and its historical elements at McCovey Point. Bair is also credited with launching the Giants Community Fund field renovation program and suggesting one of the more clever baseball advertising programs in the 1990's, placing signage for the "GAP" clothing retailer on outfield fences in what in baseball parlance is referred to as "the Gap."

Prior to joining the Giants, Bair worked as a Deputy City Attorney for the City & County of San Francisco. Bair was the attorney assigned to direct the legal effort to save the Giants in 1992 from being sold and relocated to Florida. Before working at the City Attorney's Office, Bair practiced law at the San Francisco law firm of Farella, Braun & Martel. The San Francisco Business Times & Silicon Valley Business Times honored Bair for his accomplishments in the legal community by awarding him its Lifetime Achievement Award in 2011. Bair was also named by the Daily Journal as one of the "25 Leading General Counsel in California" in June, 2011.

Bair serves as an officer of the Giants Community Fund and serves on the Board of Directors of the Bayview/Hunters Point YMCA and the Citizen's Advisory Committee for the proposed arena for the Golden State Warriors at Pier 30-32 in San Francisco. Bair co-founded the San Francisco Neighborhood Theater Foundation with a colleague at the Giants and continues to serve as an officer and member of the Board of Directors. Bair also serves as an Adjunct Professor at the University of San Francisco in the Sports & Fitness Management Program. Bair played and coached amateur baseball in San Francisco for several years.

Bair is a graduate of the University of California, Davis and Yale Law School.

Jorge Costa

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, BALLPARK OPERATIONS

Jorge Costa enters his 26th year with the Giants, supervising ballpark operations, security, maintenance and construction projects at AT&T Park. Costa oversees all operations staff and event personnel, which includes First Aid, security, groundskeepers, parking, janitorial and facility maintenance. He also serves as the team's liaison to local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies.

Under Costa's direction, the Giants became the first professional sports team to create a Traffic Safety Day in 1990 and were pioneers in the implementation of a responsible alcohol management program. He is the recipient of a Lifetime Achievement Award for alcohol management and traffic safety programs from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Costa was instrumental in earning AT&T Park LEED Certification, the nationally accepted benchmark for design, construction and operation of high performance green buildings. As a result the Giants in 2013 earned their 6th consecutive MLB Green Glove Award for Recycling Excellence as well other Greening awards and best practices recognition from industry experts.

Costa was in Beijing, China for the 2008 Olympics serving as an elite venue chief for operations and security. In addition, he has participated in jewel event operations for Major League Baseball, World Cup Soccer in 1994, the 2006, 2009, and 2013 World Baseball Classic and the first international regular season baseball game held in Monterrey, Mexico in 1996. At the 2007 Pan-American Games in Rio de Janeiro, he served as the operations and security consultant for the US Olympic Committee. Prior to his tenure with the Giants, the Saint Mary's College graduate served as Commissioner Peter Ueberroth's West Coast liaison for stadium operations and security, and was chief of operations at the Oakland Coliseum.

Alfonso Felder

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, ADMINISTRATION

Alfonso Felder, who enters his 19th year in the Giants front office, oversees the Giants facilities group including the Ballpark Operations, Guest Services, Giants Enterprises, and Human Resources departments. Felder also oversees the Giants Spring Training operations in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Felder was the Giants' point person for the 2007 All-Star Game at AT&T Park and coordinated the club's hosting of the inaugural World Baseball Classic at Scottsdale Stadium in 2006. He has also managed many of the recent capital improvements at AT&T Park as well as the renovation of Scottsdale Stadium and the Giants' minor league training facilities in Arizona. He was a key player in the planning and development of AT&T Park and continues to manage the Giants' relationship with the transit and parking operators that serve the ballpark.

Felder's first job was as a Giants usher at Candlestick Park while growing up in the City. He attended U.C. Berkeley and graduated from Harvard University. Felder resides in San Francisco with his wife, Tara, and sons, Leo and Max.

Leilani Gayles

CHIEF PEOPLE OFFICER

Leilani Gayles is the Chief People Officer for the SF Giants. She is responsible for setting the strategic direction for the San Francisco Giants People agenda and leads the organization in the areas of talent management, staffing, employee relations, compensation and performance management.

Prior to her position with the SF Giants, Gayles worked at Mercury Interactive Software as Global Senior Vice President of People and Places and served as Senior Vice President at Excite@Home. Gayles also served as worldwide Vice President at Silicon Graphics Inc. and held various human resources positions at Hewlett-Packard Company and related technology companies. Gayles holds a bachelors and a master's degree in human resources organizational development from the University of San Francisco. She is a senior fellow with the American Leadership Forum, a network of regional leaders committed to serving the common good in Silicon Valley. Her professional focus is helping organizations achieve scale and efficiency while creating a highly engaging and productive workplace where people have the opportunity to do the best work of their careers.

Tom McDonald

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, MARKETING

Tom McDonald enters his 19th season with the Giants organization and 16th season as Senior Vice President, Marketing. McDonald has oversight of the Giants brand development, imaging and projection into the market through the club's marketing channels, digital and social media, advertising and promotions and the Day of Game Entertainment experience inside the ballpark. He also leads the SFG Productions group that creates unique programming, content and specialized video production for extension of the Giants brand.

During the Giants tenure at AT&T Park, McDonald has overseen the setting of unprecedented club attendance records over a ten-year horizon. The Giants reached the three-million mark in attendance in the first eight seasons at AT&T Park, becoming just the fourth team in Major League Baseball history to reach that mark over eight consecutive years.

As vice president of marketing for the China Basin Ballpark company from 1996-99, McDonald spearheaded the most successful charter seat campaign in baseball history, selling 15,000 preferred, charter seats at the new ballpark.

Prior to his tenure with the Giants, McDonald spent eight seasons as vice president of sales and marketing for the Portland Trail Blazers and Oregon Arena Corporation.

Tom and his wife, Carla, reside in Mill Valley with their two children, Jackson and Marisa.

In addition, Jason oversees the organization's Hispanic marketing, broadcast and outreach efforts, Giants Marketing Group - which manages sponsorship development for third party events and properties and the business relationship with the team's flagship radio station, KNBR. The San Rafael, CA native played an integral role in the naming rights for AT&T Park and the creation of the Winner's Circle sponsorship model. A 1991 graduate of Cornell University, Jason lives in San Francisco with his wife, Nikki, daughter, Ella, and son, Ruben.

Bill Schlough

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER

Bill Schlough currently serves as CIO of the San Francisco Giants and Chairman of the San Jose Giants.

Since Schlough's arrival in 1999, the Giants have been recognized as one of the most innovative teams in sports, playing a pioneering role in the world of HD video, mobile content, ticketing and payment systems. Wireless connectivity has been a primary focus since 2004 when AT&T Park became the first sports facility to provide free Wi-Fi to all fans. Schlough's IT team has also implemented numerous proprietary analytic tools that helped secure two World Series titles in recent years.

An Olympic enthusiast, Schlough is a board member of the Bay Area Sports Organizing Committee (BASOC) and served as a technology lead for San Francisco's bids to host the 2012 and 2016 Olympic Games. His event experience includes the 1994 World Cup along with Olympics in Atlanta, Salt Lake and Torino. Previously, he worked as a consultant with Booz-Allen & Hamilton and EDS. More recently, Schlough served as Interim President of the Giants' Class A San Jose affiliate and was appointed to the team's board as chairman in 2012.

In addition to his Giants and Olympic activities, Schlough serves on boards for causes with a focus on education and athletics, including Junior Achievement and The Giant Race. He is also an avid supporter of the Giants Community Fund.

Schlough was honored as Information Week's 2012 IT Chief of the Year and is a member of Sports Business Journal's 2010 "Forty Under 40" class of promising sports executives. A San Francisco native and Ironman triathlete, Schlough holds a Mechanical Engineering degree from Duke University and an MBA from the Wharton School.

Willie Mays

ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT

Regarded by many as the best all-around player in baseball history, Willie Mays returned to San Francisco in 1986 and now enters his 28th season in the Giants' front office. In 1993, in one of his first public statements after assuming ownership of the team, former Giants President and Managing General Partner Peter Magowan announced that the franchise was signing Mays to a lifetime contract.

Magowan also announced in 1997 that the front entrance of the club's new ballpark would feature a world-class statue of Mays and the official address of the park would be 24 Willie Mays Plaza. The 82-year-old Mays serves as a Giant emissary. He visits the Giants' minor league teams, as well as Spring Training camp and attends nearly every single Giants home game during the season. The Westfield, AL native also makes appearances on behalf of the club at a variety of civic and charitable events throughout the Bay Area for the Giants Community Fund. He has also made generous contributions to needy children throughout the country through his own Say Hey Foundation charity.

During his 22-year Major League playing career, Mays was named Most Valuable Player twice, 11 years apart, first as a New York Giant and then as a San Francisco Giant. He holds the all-time record for putouts by an outfielder, with a career total of 7,095. He compiled 3,283 hits, won 12 Gold Gloves and appeared in 24 All-Star games. He was third on the all-time home run list with 660 until 2003 when his godson, Barry Bonds, passed him. His career batting average was .302 and for eight consecutive years, he drove in more than 100 runs a season. The "Say Hey Kid" was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1979, the first year of his eligibility (the ninth player to make it on his first try). Mays' uniform number, 24, has been retired by the Giants, as he remains the franchise leader in games played (2,857), at-bats (10,477), runs (2,011), hits (3,187), doubles (504), home runs (646), total bases (5,907) and extra base hits (1,289). He was named team captain of the Giants prior to the 1961 season by manager Alvin Dark.

More recently, Mays has received numerous honors as one of the premier athletes of the past 100 years. The Sporting News ranked him second only to Babe Ruth among the 100 greatest baseball players of the 20th century. ESPN listed him as eighth in their ranking of the top 50 athletes of the century. In 2003, former Governor Gray Davis appointed Willie Mays to the State Board of Directors of the California African American Museum.

He is the spokesperson for The Institute on Aging in San Francisco as well as the President and CEO of the Say Hey Foundation, supporting underprivileged youth. He is also a member of the Concordia Club and has recently re-signed with The Topps Company, Inc., an association that began in 1952, that publishes baseball cards. Mays has received honorary degrees from Dartmouth, Miles College, Ohio State University, San Francisco State and Yale University.

Willie McCovey

SENIOR ADVISOR

Willie McCovey, whose Hall of Fame playing career with the San Francisco Giants spanned four decades, enters his 14th season as senior advisor to the team.

McCovey, who had hit more home runs (521) than any other left-handed hitter in National League history before Barry Bonds passed him in 2001, began his first formal association with the Giants' current ownership group in 2000. He had previously made special public appearances on an ad hoc basis for the present and previous administrations over the past several years, but had not held a formal front office position with the team since 1986.

In honor of the Hall of Fame great, the portion of San Francisco Bay behind right field at AT&T Park has been named "McCovey Cove." In 2003, the Giants unveiled a statue of McCovey at China Basin Park, which is located across from AT&T Park on the southern shoreline of McCovey Cove. He was honored during the Home Run Derby during the 2007 All-Star Game festivities.

In his current position, McCovey offers his expertise to Giants players when possible, appearing at Spring Training and during the regular season. He also makes occasional speaking appearances, and performs other valuable functions for the team.

One of the most respected and feared hitters in baseball during his 22-year career in the Majors, McCovey was a six-time All-Star, ranks second to Lou Gehrig in career grand slams (18) and hit the most homers (231) ever at Candlestick Park. "Stretch" also established a Major League record for most seasons played (22) as a first baseman. In addition, he became the fifth player in MLB history to earn back-to-back home run and RBI titles, hitting 36 homers and driving in 105 runs in 1968 and then capturing NL Most Valuable Player honors with 45 home runs and 126 RBI in 1969.

McCovey, 76, has made an on-field appearance at the close of every season—with the exception of a few recent years due to his knee ailments—to present the Willie Mac Award. The only Giants award ever named after a former player, the Willie Mac Award was established in 1980 and is given to the Giants player who best exemplifies the spirit and leadership consistently shown by McCovey throughout his career.

Orlando Cepeda

COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR

Orlando Cepeda, who was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1999, is recognized nationally for his humanitarian efforts as an ambassador for baseball and the San Francisco Giants. He begins his 24th season as a community representative for the team and is a member of the Giants Community Fund Advisory Board.

In his current role, the "Baby Bull" visits inner-city schools in the Bay Area and throughout the United States, speaking to "at-risk" children about the dangers of drugs and alcohol. The 76-year-old Ponce, P.R. native also serves as the honorary spokesman for the Crohn's & Colitis Foundation of America.

A lifetime .297 hitter with 379 home runs and 1,365 RBI during his 17-year playing career with the Giants, Cardinals, Braves, A's, Red Sox and Royals, Cepeda hit a home run against the Dodgers in his very first Major League game April 15, 1958. He went on to win 1958 Rookie of the Year honors, the 1966 Comeback Player of the Year award, the 1967 NL Most Valuable Player trophy and 1973 Designated Hitter of the Year laurels. He appeared in three World Series, was a six-time All-Star and hit over .300 nine times in his career.

On July 25, 1999, Cepeda was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame during ceremonies in Cooperstown, NY. He became only the second Puerto Rico native to enter the Hall, joining the late Roberto Clemente. Two weeks earlier on July 11, 1999, Cepeda had his uniform No. 30 retired by the Giants during ceremonies at Candlestick Park.

In 1993, the Baby Bull was also inducted into the Puerto Rico Sports Hall of Fame, while in 1999, he was elected to the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame for his great years with the St. Louis Cardinals which followed his tenure with the Giants. In 2004, he was one of four men to receive the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association's Achievement Awards, the MLBPAA's highest alumni honor. He was joined by Jim Bunning, Al Kaline and the late Roger Maris.

Cepeda and his wife, Miriam, reside in Fairfield. They have four sons—Carlton, Orlando, Jr., Malcolm and Ali.

Lon Simmons

COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR

Hall of Fame broadcaster and local legend Lon Simmons rejoined the Giants in 2006, serving in a capacity as a community ambassador. In his current duties, Simmons visits San Francisco during selected homestands as well as during the off season.

One of the original voices of the San Francisco Giants, the 2004 Ford Frick Award winner originally teamed with fellow Hall of Famer Russ Hodges to form arguably the finest broadcast team in sports history in 1958 to kick off the first of three different stints in the Giants broadcast booth (1958-73, '76-78 and '96-2002) that spanned 23 seasons.

The man with the trademark "Tell It Goodbye" home run call retired after the 2002 season and was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY in the summer of 2004.

Will Clark

COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR

Longtime Giants icon Will Clark joined the Giants front office in January 2009 as a community ambassador. In his role, the six-time All-Star first baseman represents the organization at various in-season and off-season community events in San Francisco. He also attends the Giants Spring Training Camp in Scottsdale, Arizona and visits one of the Giants' minor league teams each year.

Clark, who brings the experience of a 15-year Major League playing career to the Giants, previously worked as an advisor to the Arizona Diamondbacks' coaching staff in spring training from 2004-2008.

Drafted by the Giants in the first round (second overall pick) of the 1985 June draft, Clark spent his first eight big league seasons in a San Francisco uniform, compiling a .299 batting average with 176 home runs and 709 RBI in 1,160 games.

One of the best clutch hitters of his time, Clark hit over .300 on 10 occasions. In 1988, he became the first Giants player to drive in 90 or more runs in consecutive seasons since Bobby Murcer in 1975-76. He had one of his finest seasons in 1989, when he batted .333 with 111 RBI, and finished second in the NL Most Valuable Player voting to Giants teammate Kevin Mitchell. He was however named MVP of the '89 NLCS, after batting .650 with a pair of homers and eight RBI, helping San Francisco defeat Chicago four-games-to-one.

One of the premier first basemen in the National League during his time with San Francisco, Clark was also an outstanding defensive player, winning a Rawlings Gold Glove in 1991.

The New Orleans, LA native owned a .303 lifetime average with 284 home runs and 1,205 RBI over 1,976 career games for the Giants (1986-1993), Rangers (1994-98), Orioles (1999-2000) and Cardinals (2000).

Clark, who was a two-time All American at Mississippi State University, was the winner of the Golden Spikes Award as the country's top collegiate player in 1985, hitting .420 with 25 home runs and 77 RBI in 65 games. He was inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame in 2006 and was inducted into the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame in 2008.

Dave Dravecky

COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR

Former San Francisco Giant pitcher Dave Dravecky currently serves as a community ambassador for the team. In his role, Dave represents the organization at a number of community and sponsor events in San Francisco and the Bay Area. He also attends Giants Spring Training Camp in Scottsdale, Arizona, and enjoys representing the organization all over Northern California at various speaking engagements and alumni appearances.

Dave was an All-Star with the San Diego Padres in 1983, and was traded to the Giants in 1987. Winner of the 1989 Willie Mac Award, Dave's story is both touching and inspiring. After discovering a cancerous tumor in his pitching arm in October of 1988, Dave battled back and returned to the majors in August of 1989. After winning his first start, his humerus bone snapped just five days later while throwing a pitch in the 6th inning. The doctors discovered another mass in his left arm, and Dravecky was forced to retire from baseball. After two more surgeries in the next two years, Dave's left arm and shoulder were amputated.

Dave is currently a Christian motivational speaker, author, and proud grandfather. Dave and his wife Jan recently moved back to California to be closer to their family and the two-time World Series Champion San Francisco Giants.

Giants Coach Since: Oct. 27, 2006

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

- Two-time National League Manager of the Year was named the 38th manager in Giants franchise history, and 16th in San Francisco annals, Oct. 27, 2006.
- His 1,530 victories are the highest total by an active manager and he ranks 21st on the all-time list.
- Has compiled a 1,530-1,530 (.500) career ledger in 19 seasons as a ML skipper.
- Leads active managers in consecutive years managed (19).
- Is the winningest foreign-born manager in ML history, having moved past former Giants skipper Felipe Alou in 2008.
- Has guided the Giants to two World Championships in the last four seasons (2010, 2012).
- Is the first National League manager to win the World Series in two out of three years since Sparky Anderson led the Cincinnati Reds to back-to-back titles in 1975-76.
- Is the 23rd manager in MLB history to win at least two World Series.
- His three World Series appearances as a manager (1998, 2010, 2012) are the most among all active managers in Major League Baseball.
- Under the current divisional affiliations, only Hall of Famers Walter Alston (1959, 1963, 1965-66, 1974 with Dodgers) and Tommy Lasorda (1977-78, 1981, 1988 with Dodgers) have more World Series appearances as managers of NL West clubs (Sparky Anderson led Cincinnati to four World Series when the Reds were in the NL West).
- Guided the 2010 Giants to first-ever World Series title in San Francisco history and first World Championship since 1954.
- Became the sixth manager in history to manage at least two different NL franchises to World Series appearance.
- Is the fourth skipper to win a World Series Championship at the helm of the Giants, joining John McGraw (1905, 21-22), Bill Terry (1933), and Leo Durocher (1954).
- Is the first foreign-born manager to reach the World Series (1998) and first European-born manager to win a World Series (2010).
- His six postseason appearances are tied for the most among current ML skippers (also: Terry Francona, Ron Gardenhire and Mike Scioscia).
- During his seven year tenure, the Giants have posted a 579-555 (.511) record.
- Was just the fourth manager in Giants history to bring more than 10 years of big league managing experience to job, following Cap Anson (21 seasons) in 1898, Hughie Jennings (14) in 1924 and Felipe Alou (10) in 2003.
- Is just the fourth Giants manager to be born outside of the United States, joining Jack Doyle (Ireland) in 1895, Arthur Irwin (Canada) in 1896 and Felipe Alou (Dominican Republic) in 2003.
- Is the sixth manager in Giants franchise annals who was primarily a catcher during their career, joining John Clapp (1883), Buck Ewing (1900), Herman Franks (1965-68), Charlie Fox (1970-74) and Wes Westrum (1974-75).
- Was named NL Manager of Year by BBWAA in 1996 and was honored as league's top skipper by The Sporting News in both 1996 and 1998.
- Is the winningest manager in Padres franchise history, having recorded 951 victories during 12 years in San Diego.
- Guided his Padres clubs to five winning campaigns, including 1996, '98, 2005 and '06 NL West titles.
- Logged a 24-year affiliation with Padres organization from 1983-2006.
- Former catcher was the only Friar manager to have played for club, spending parts of five seasons in San Diego as a player.

COACHING CAREER

- Lifelong baseball man and former Major League infielder will return for his eighth season as SF's third base coach.
- 2014 campaign will mark his 18th year of coaching, and 15th on big league level.
- 2007 season was first foray on field since 2002, as he was reunited with Giants manager Bruce Bochy.
- Manned third base coaching box for Bochy's San Diego clubs for seven-straight years (1996-2002), in fact, had spent each of first 23 years in professional baseball in Padres organization after being selected by the club in sixth round of 1978 draft.
- Spent his first 11 years of Friars tenure as a player (1978-89), then logged 10 seasons as a coach (1993-2002) and two campaigns as a broadcaster (2005-06).
- Is one of four people in Padres history to be in uniform for both of San Diego's World Series appearances (1984 as player and 1998 as coach).
- Was out of baseball from 1990-92 and 2003-04.
- Compiled 173-183 (.486) record over three years as minor league manager, while winning 1994 California League championship with Rancho Cucamonga.
- Served on Bochy's NL coaching staff for 2013 All-Star Game in New York, 2011 All-Star Game in Arizona and 1999 in Boston.

PLAYING CAREER

- Established himself as one of San Diego's all-time fan favorites with his hustle and all-out play, while spending his entire 10-year Major League career with the Padres (1979-89).
- Was honored in 2003 as one of top 35 players in Padres history…batted .255 over 972 big league games, fourth-most in Padres history…only Tony Gwynn, Garry Templeton and Dave Winfield have logged more games in Friars uniform.
- Made his ML debut Sept. 3, 1979 vs. San Francisco, going 1-for-3 with RBI as San Diego's leadoff hitter…delivered RBI-single off Giants' Ed Whitson for his first big league hit.
- Hit his first ML home run on April 26, 1983 at Wrigley Field, a solo clout off Cubs' Chuck Rainey.
- Played a major role off the bench for the Padres' pennant-winning club in 1984, hitting at .273 clip over 86 games…in Game 5 of NLCS at San Diego's Jack Murphy Stadium, hit a ground ball that skipped past Cubs first baseman Leon Durham and ignited four-run, 7th-inning rally that clinched the Padres' first-ever NL title.
- In his lone World Series at-bat, collected a pinch-hit single in Game 4 at Detroit.

Giants Gems

- Is an avid surfer and accomplished musician.
- Plays bluegrass ballads. On stage is accompanied by an orchestra of banjos, guitars and accordions.
- Made his mark in world of music, as singer-songwriter. Has released 11 albums in the past 15 years, most recenly "Outside Lands" (Nov. 8, 2013). Is pledging every penny of his new album sales to assist Bryan Stow, the Giants' fan who was brutally beaten in the Dodger Stadium parking lot after the 2011 season opener.
- The past two offseasons he has performed over 40 shows up and down the California coast, capped by a four-night benefit concert for the Bryan Stow Fund, where has raised nearly $100,000.
- Has performed with musical greats such as Bob Weir, Phil Lesh, Jimmy Buffet, Willie Nelson, Jackson Browne, Bruce Hornsby, Judy Collins, Linda Ronstadt and many others.
- Served as television features reporter for San Diego's CBS affiliate from 1990-92.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Donna)…son (Danny, April 28, 1985)… has two daughters (Virginia, Sept. 1, 1987; and Kelly, July 23, 1991).
- Attended Chapman (Orange, CA) College, where he played baseball.
- Has been active in both San Diego and San Francisco communities during his professional career.
- Has held several benefit concerts throughout Bay Area for injured Giants fan Bryan Stow.

Mark Gardner

BULLPEN COACH

Birthdate: March 1, 1962
2014 Opening Day Age: 52
Birthplace: Los Angeles, California
Resides: Friant, California
Giants Coach Since: 2003
Contract Status: Signed through 2014

COACHING CAREER

- Former Giants hurler embarks on his 12th season as part of the Giants' coaching staff in 2014, again filling role as the club's bullpen coach.
- Has assisted pitching coach Dave Righetti during his first 11 seasons as a big league coach.

PLAYING CAREER

- Enjoyed a successful 13-year career as a ML pitcher, culminating in six-year stay in San Francisco that saw him become one of club's most popular and inspirational players…right-hander posted lifetime 99-93 mark with one save and a 4.56 ERA in 345 games (275 starts) for Montreal (1989-92), Kansas City (1993), Florida (1994-95) and Giants (1996-2001).
- Notched double-digit victories in four of six SF campaigns (1996-98 and 2000), logging 58-45 mark with 4.71 ERA in 175 games (147 starts) in a Giants uniform…also reached 10-win plateau with Montreal in 1992.
- Made 112 starts for the Giants from 1996-99, with only John Burkett (157) making more starts for SF during the 1990's…was the first Giant pitcher to reach double digits in wins for three straight seasons (1996-98) since Burkett did it four-consecutive years (1990-93).
- Pitched a 9-inning no-hitter July 26, 1991 at Los Angeles while with Montreal, but gave up two hits in the 10th.
- Originally came to SF after signing as free agent at the end of 1996 Spring Training and emerged as the club's winningest pitcher that season.
- Was voted by his Giants teammates, coaches and training staff as co-winner (with Benito Santiago) of the 2001 "Willie Mac" Award, given to the most inspirational player on the team.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Kerry Steitz, Jan. 19, 2008)…has two sons (Nicholas, Sept. 24, 1992 and Daniel Dean, May 30, 1995).
- Graduated from Clovis (CA) High School.
- Attended Fresno (CA) City College and Fresno State University.
- Played for the U.S. team during tour of Cuba in fall of 1984.
- Has been very involved, along with late wife, Lori, with California Organ Donor Network, working with that organization and Stanford Medical Center in raising awareness of the need for organ and tissue donors.
- Lori and Mark also created Step to the Plate Foundation, which helps families of transplant recipients.
- Donates money to Garth Brooks' Teammates for Kids Foundation, supports California's Responsible Fatherhood Campaign with special visits and other work.

Giants Gems

- Shared the 2001 Willie Mac Award with Benito Santiago, which recognized both players for their spirit and leadership.
- The "family room" for Giants wives and children, located across from the clubhouse, is named after Mark's late wife Lori Gardner, who died in 2003 of liver cancer.

Lori Ann Gardner 1964-2003

Lori Gardner, the wife of former Giants pitcher and current coach Mark Gardner, passed away in November of 2003, after a courageous battle with liver cancer. In honor of Lori and her tremendous work within the community, the Giants have dedicated the family playroom across from the Giants Clubhouse as the Lori Gardner Family Room. Contributions in Lori's memory for the fight against cancer can be made to the Step to the Plate Foundation, 7797 North First Street, Suite 26, Fresno, California 93720.

COACHING CAREER

- One of baseball's premier pitching coaches returns for his 15th season in San Francisco.
- Is the longest tenured pitching coach in the big leagues.
- Is one of just five individuals since 1900 to serve as a Giants coach for at least 10 years, joining current bench coach Ron Wotus (16 years, 1998-present), Larry Jansen (12 years, 1954 and 1961-71), Bob Lillis (11 years, 1986-96) and Wes Westrum (10 years, 1958-63 and 1968-71).
- His 14-year run is the longest in San Francisco history among pitching coaches.
- 2000 marked his first year on a Major League staff.
- In 1999 he returned to the Giants organization, serving as a roving minor league pitching instructor.

PLAYING CAREER

- During his banner 16-year big league career, stylish left-hander made stops with the Yankees (1979, 1981-90), Giants (1991-93), A's (1994), Blue Jays (1994) and White Sox (1995)…posted a 82-79 record with 3.46 ERA and 1,112 strikeouts in 718 career games (89 starts).
- With 252 career saves, ranks 32nd on Major League Baseball's all-time save list…ranks second on Yankees' all-time charts for saves (224) and games pitched (522).
- Began his career as a starter, then converted to a reliever in 1984…earned American League Rookie of Year award in 1981 after going 8-4 with 2.06 ERA (second-best in AL)…played a major role in the Yankees' trip to the World Series in 1981…earned two victories in the Division Series vs. Milwaukee, winning Game 2 as starter and Game 5 in relief…was also the winning pitcher as a starter in Game 3 of ALCS vs. Oakland…had a no-decision in his only appearance vs. Dodgers in the World Series
- While wearing New York pinstripes, tossed a no-hitter against the Boston Red Sox, July 4, 1983…was the first Yankee no-hitter since Don Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series.
- In 1984, notched 31 saves in 40 chances during his first campaign as reliever.
- Was named to American League All-Star squads in 1986 and 1987 while with New York…established then-Major League record with 46 saves in 1986…finished fourth in Cy Young voting and 10th in AL MVP (BBWAA) balloting that year…was named to AP post season All-Star squad while also earning Rolaids Relief Man of Year and The Sporting News Fireman of Year awards.
- Won second-straight Rolaids AL Relief Man award and tied for Fireman of Year in 1987 with 31 saves.
- Signed with the Giants as a free agent, Dec. 5, 1990.
- Notched his 1,000th career strikeout April 29, 1991, fanning St. Louis' Felix Jose.

Mike Murphy

GIANTS EQUIPMENT/HOME CLUBHOUSE MANAGER

"Murph" has been a fixture with the Giants since the team moved west in 1958. In recognition of his lifelong commitment to the organization, the Giants clubhouse at AT&T Park is named the Mike Murphy Clubhouse. In his 56 years, Murphy has never missed a Giants' home game. The San Francisco native is in his 57th season with the Giants and 35th as equipment manager. Murphy began his career in professional baseball as bat boy for the San Francisco Seals (AAA) from 1954-57, before becoming the Giants' bat boy during the 1958-59 seasons. He became visiting clubhouse attendant in 1960 when the club moved to Candlestick, a job he held until his promotion in 1980. Murphy and his wife, Carole, live in San Bruno with their children, Andrea and Michele; grandchildren, Tori-Lynn and Jeremiah; and Abby, the clubhouse dog.

Harvey Hodgerney

VISITORS CLUBHOUSE MANAGER

Harvey Hodgerney has spent 30 years with the Giants as the visiting clubhouse manager. The Cleveland, Ohio native has lived in the Bay Area for the last 52 years. Hodgerney was also previously in charge of the visitors locker room for the San Francisco 49ers at Candlestick Park. Harvey and his wife, Penny, have two children, Tracy and Adam, and four grandchildren, Ashley and Tyler Jones, and Caitlyn and A.J. Hodgerney. The Hodgerneys reside in San Bruno.

Bret Alexander

DIRECTOR, TEAM TRAVEL

Bret Alexander enters his third season with the Giants as the Director of Team Travel. In his first year with the organization he coordinated all team travel throughout the playoffs for the World Champion Giants and also assisted with the 2012 All-Star Game in Kansas City. He is responsible for all facets of team travel logistics and oversees the organizational travel for the front office. Bret began his career in professional sports in the NBA with the now former Seattle Supersonics in 1983, working as an intern. He went on to work as an assistant in media relations and then game operations. After serious consideration to follow in his father's footsteps as an NBA referee, Bret instead was introduced to the music group U2 in 1989 through his wife, Theresa and went on to become their Tour Travel Manager and served in that capacity from 1991-2011. From 2009-2011 he managed the band's travel throughout the U2 360 World Tour campaign; playing to over 7 million fans, 110 shows, 78 cities, 30 countries and 5 continents. The tour is recognized as the highest grossing tour of all time. A native of Tacoma, Washington, he and his wife, Theresa are the proud parents of three children, Harley (22), Griffon (19) and Garret (14). Bret and Theresa currently reside in Roslyn, Washington.

Michael Scardino

COORDINATOR, ORGANIZATIONAL TRAVEL

Michael Scardino, who enters his 19th year with the Giants and 16th as the organizational travel coordinator, oversees all commercial travel for the organization. The New York, NY native handles the travel needs for the front office staff as well as both the major and minor league needs for the baseball operations department. The University of California, Berkeley graduate began his professional baseball career in marketing for the Oakland Athletics in 1982, before starting a travel service for broadcast crews, broadcasters and sportswriters in 1985. He has also worked as a statistician and television graphics coordinator over the years. Scardino and his wife, Katrinka, live in Richmond, and have one son, Patrick.

2013 SEASON

- Appeared in nine games (four starts) for the Giants and hit .222 (4-for-18).
- Made his Major League debut on Sept. 8 vs. Arizona by pinch running at first base in the 11th inning and then scoring the game-winning run...according to Elias, he became the first Giants player to make his debut and score the game-winning run in extras since John Davis on Sept. 9, 1941.
- Recorded his first big league hit on Sept. 14 off Los Angeles'-NL RHP Brandon League, hitting an RBI double to right field.
- Hit his first career home run on Sept. 22 off New York's-AL LHP Andy Pettitte.
- Hit .240 in 73 games with double-A Richmond and .310 in 45 games with triple-A Fresno.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- In 2012, he spent his seventh professional campaign with double-A Richmond, hitting .220 (99-for-451) with three HRs and 32 RBI in 127 games.
- Was placed on the Disabled List (left thumb) on June 16 and missed 11 games before being activated on June 28.
- In 2011, he did not make his season debut until May 14 due to a hand injury.
- Earned Class A Advanced San Jose's Defensive Player of the Year honor in 2010.
- Missed most of the 2008 campaign with a broken foot, but was not placed on the disabled list...began the season in San Francisco's extended spring training, however also saw playing time at three different levels within the Giants organization.

Rookies

Since 1947 there have been only nine unanimous winners of the BBWAA's N.L. Rookie of the Year Award. They include Cincinnati's Frank Robinson (1956), San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda (1958) and Willie McCovey (1959), St. Louis' Vince Coleman (1985), San Diego's Benito Santiago (1987), Los Angeles' Mike Piazza (1993) and Raul Mondesi (1994), Philadelphia's Scott Rolen (1997) and St. Louis' Albert Pujols (2001). The following players on the Giants' 40-man roster are eligible to be 2014 Rookie of the Year:

Ehire Adrianza
Gary Brown
Erik Cordier

- Named the Setup Man of Year for 2009 by This Year in Baseball Awards
- Led all NL relievers with a 1.73 ERA in 2009
- Was named the Giants' nominee for the Roberto Clemente Award in 2010 and 2011
- His 80 holds with SF are the fourth most among all Giants relievers in franchise history.

2013 SEASON

- Completed his fifth full season as a Giant, going 1-5 with a 3.74 ERA in 39 relief appearances, his fewest games played in a season since 2004 when he played in just 38 contests for Kansas City.
- Missed a total of 64 games due to a pair of DL stints… was placed on the 15-day DL on April 17 with a strained right oblique (missed 14 games) and on July 21 with a strained left groin (missed 50 games).
- Felt a twinge two pitches into his return from the DL during a brief appearance against the Dodgers on Sept. 12 and after meeting with a specialist it was decided that he needed to have sports hernia surgery which he underwent in Philadelphia on Sept. 26.
- His 33.2 innings pitched marked the fewest innings he has thrown in a single season in his career.
- Posted a 0-3 record with a 4.50 ERA (7er, 14.0ip) on the road.
- Held left-handed batters to a .196 average (11-for-56) with just two extra base hits.
- Matched his career-high with four blown saves.
- Did not fare well with RISP, allowing an opponents' average of .333 (9-for-27) with 15 RBI.
- Allowed eight of 15 inherited runners to score (53.3%).
- Pitched for team USA in the World Baseball Classic and appeared in three games (3.1ip, 0er).

- Completed his fourth full season in a Giants uniform, going 1-2 with a 2.70 ERA (19er, 63.1ip) in 67 relief appearances...went 3-for-4 in save opportunities.
- Allowed just one home run and was tied with Brandon League for the fewest homers allowed by a relief pitcher with a minimum of 60.0 innings.
- Fashioned a 2.08 ERA at home, however posted a 3.13 figure on the road.
- Struggled with runners in scoring position, allowing an opponents' avg. of .333 (22-for-66).
- Missed 14 games in late April/early May with a sprained right knee that he hurt when his son, Walker, a four year old, who stood at 4-6, 60-pounds, leaped off the sofa and ran into his arms.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Appeared in 10 games during the postseason, tossing 10.1-scoreless innings with 10 strikeouts.
- Appeared in three games in the Division Series against the Reds tossing 3.2-scoreless innings.
- Led the staff in the LCS appearing in five games as he hurled 4.2-scoreless frames.
- In Game 4 of the World Series at Detroit he struck out four consecutive batters (Miguel Cabrera, Prince Fielder, Delmon Young and Andy Dirks) in the 8th and 9th innings to help preserve a 3-3 tie in the Giants' 4-3 clinching victory.

- Completed his third full season with Giants, going 3-2 with a 2.63 ERA (18er, 61.2ip) in 67 relief appearances.
- His ERA on the road (1.72) was less than half of what it was at home (3.56)...his road ERA was the third lowest in the NL (min. of 30.0ip).
- Fashioned a 1.21 ERA (3er, 22.1ip) after All-Star break (beginning July 14), which was the seventh lowest among all NL relievers (min. of 20.0ip).
- Southpaw held opposing LH batters to a .144 clip (13-for-90), which ranked as a third lowest among ML relievers (min. of 75 BF) behind Atlanta's Jonny Venters (.127) and Baltimore-Texas' Koji Uehara (.130)...opposing lefties were just 3-for-51 (.059) off him after June 6.

- Had a 0.95 ERA (2er, 19.0ip) against NL West opponents, but 3.38 figure (16er, 42.2ip) vs. NL East, Central and Interleague foes.
- Inherited the most runners on the Giants' staff (11th-most in NL), inheriting 45 runners while allowing 11 to score.
- Matched his career-high in strikeouts as a reliever on June 26 vs. Cleveland, fanning five in 2.0 innings.
- Missed the final 19 games of the season after cutting his right hand on Sept. 8 (off day) while trying to separate frozen hamburger patties...sustained a deep gash in his right palm and underwent surgery to fix nerve damage.

- Went 4-3 with a 4.14 ERA (23er, 50.0ip), 44 strikeouts and four saves in 53 games in his second season with San Francisco, his ninth overall in the Majors.
- Struggled in his first 24 games, posting a 5.64 ERA (14er, 22.1ip) and allowing an opponents' avg. against of .314 (27-for-86).
- Recorded his 500th career strikeout on June 14 vs. Baltimore in the 9th inning as Melvin Mora struck out swinging to end the game.
- Suffered a strained left oblique on July 23 while warming up in the bullpen in Arizona...was placed on the disabled list and missed 23 games.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Appeared in five games during the postseason, going 0-0 with a 4.50 ERA (2er, 4.0ip) and four strikeouts.
- Appeared in three games in the LCS, going 0-0 with a 3.38 ERA (1er, 2.2ip).
- His biggest contribution to the Giants playoff run came in Game 6 of the League Championship Series vs. Philadelphia as he relieved Jonathan Sanchez in the 3rd inning with two men on and no outs and proceeded to toss 2.0-scoreless innings, while not allowing single base runner.

- Established himself as one of the best left-handed relief pitchers in the Majors, going 2-2 with a 1.73 ERA (12er, 62.1ip).
- Received one 10th place vote in the NL MVP balloting and was named the winner for Setup Man of the Year, presented by This Year in Baseball Awards.
- Tied Minnesota's Matt Guerrier for the Major League lead with 33 holds, which were also the second most in SF single-season history behind Mike Jackson, who posted 34 in 1993.
- Appeared in a team-high 74 games, just one shy of tying his career-high (75 in 2007)…his 74 contests were tied with Scott Eyre (2003) for fifth-most by a left-handed reliever in SF-era history.
- Posted a career-best 28.0-inning scoreless streak May 8-July 24, marking the longest streak by a Giants reliever in last 40 years and fifth longest by any pitcher in SF-era history, behind Gaylord Perry (40.0ip, '67, 39.0ip, '70), Juan Marichal (30.0ip, '66) and Tim Lincecum (29.0ip, '09)...was also the second longest streak in the NL behind Lincecum's 29.0-inning mark.
- Led SF relievers in games, ERA, opponents avg. against and holds, while ranking third in strikeouts (55) and fourth in innings…of his 74 appearances, 72 of those came from the 7th inning on.
- Had a 1.26 ERA (5er, 35.2ip) on road, which was the second lowest road ERA by a NL reliever behind Los Angeles'-NL Ramon Troncoso (0.84).

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Led Cincinnati bullpen with 74 appearances in 2008, which was one shy of his career high.
- His 1.77 ERA (7er, 35.2ip) in 33 road contests marked the lowest road ERA among all NL relievers (min. 35.0ip).
- Was just one of five NL relievers to pitch at least 75.0 innings and average one strikeout per inning…the other four pitchers were Carlos Marmol, Hong-Chih Kuo, Joel Hanrahan and Aaron Heilman.
- Made the 300th appearance of his career May 2 at Atlanta.
- His 75 games in 2007 were the second most on the Rockies behind only Manuel Corpas (78) and the fourth most by any left-handed reliever in NL.
- Held RH batters to .211 (27-for-128) avg. against, which was fourth best among all National League southpaw relievers.
- Appeared in all four games of the World Series against Boston, tossing 3.0-shutout frames with two strikeouts.
- Went 4-6 with a 5.91 ERA (46er, 70.0ip) in 27 games (nine starts) for Kansas City in 2006.
- Was traded on July 31 to Colorado for 1B Ryan Shealy to bolster the Rockies' bullpen…went 4-2 with a 6.91 ERA (21er, 27.1ip) with one save in 27 games for the Rockies.
- Recorded his first NL save Sept. 19 vs. San Francisco.
- Made a total of 58 relief appearances for the Royals (49) and triple-A Omaha (nine) throughout the 2005 season…those nine appearances for Omaha came during two stints while rehabbing his strained left groin…was on KC's disabled list twice with a groin injury, from April 16-June 3 and from June 19-July 6.
- Ranked among Royals leaders in games (49, fourth) and holds (12, second).
- Led the Royals with a career-high 13 saves and 26 games finished in 2004.
- Converted 13-of-17 save opportunities (76.5%).
- Was placed on the disabled list from June 27-Aug. 20 with a strained right oblique muscle…made four rehab appearances at triple-A Omaha.
- Threw a career-high 7.1 innings as a starter on May 7 at Boston, but received a no decision in a 7-6 walk-off loss.
- Began 2003 season in KC's starting rotation, but was converted to reliever in July, partly due to reoccurrence of blister on his left middle finger and for the second-straight season spent time on 15-day DL with that injury.

- Went 6-5 with a 4.39 ERA (46er, 94.1ip) in his 18 starts and 1-1 with a 2.56 mark (9er, 31.2ip) and four saves in his 18 relief appearances.
- Recorded his first career ML save on Aug. 3 vs. Tampa Bay.
- Made 2002 Opening Day roster and spent almost the entire season with the Royals.
- Went 0-4 with a 5.45 (20er, 33.0ip) as a starter and 3-0 with a 4.03 mark (20er, 44.2ip) in relief.
- Tossed 2.0 innings in his Major League debut on April 6 vs. Chicago-AL, allowing one run while striking out his first career batter faced (Kenny Lofton).
- Earned his first career win on April 24 vs. Detroit, tossing 3.2-hitless innings in relief.
- Made his first career start on May 3 at Baltimore, allowing one run in 4.0 innings.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- In 2001, was selected to participate in the Texas League All-Star Game and was also named to the postseason All-Star team.
- Following the 2001 season was named to the Arizona Fall League Top Prospect Team.
- In 2000, led both Royals' organization and Carolina League in losses with 15.

2013 SEASON

- In just his second full season in the big leagues, batted .289 with 39 doubles, 17 home runs and 67 RBI in 150 games.
- His 39 doubles, 17 home runs and 67 RBI were all career-highs.
- His 16 home runs as a first baseman were the most by a Giant since J.T. Snow slugged 19 in 2000.
- Started 132 games, all at first base and committed eight errors.
- His 13 game winning RBI were tied for the eighth-most in the National League.
- His 31 RBI in the 7th inning or later were the third-most in the NL.
- Hit .330 (77-for-233) with 20 doubles, eight home runs and 38 RBI in 67 games against the NL West.
- Finished second on the club with a .360 on-base pct. and .481 slugging pct...led the team with a .841 OPS.
- Had a fantastic spring, hitting .410 (32-for-78) with eight HRs and 19 RBI in 24 games...tied KC's Billy Butler for the most RBI in the Cactus League and ranked second in HRs (Michael Morse, 9).
- Made his third career Opening Day start for the Giants at first base.
- Started on Opening Day at Los Angeles, but then missed the next two games with a stomach virus...lost 11 1bs due to the virus and started off the season in a 0-for-13 skid.
- Recorded his first career game-ending hit on April 22 vs. Arizona, driving in Andres Torres with the winning run from second base with one out in the 9th inning in the Giants' 5-4 victory...had entered the game in the top of the 9th as part of a double-switch.
- A day after he collected his first career game-ending hit, he recorded his first career pinch-hit home run, hitting a game-tying two-run shot in the 9th inning off Arizona closer J.J. Putz.
- Went hitless in eight PAs on July 8, becoming the first Giants player to go hitless in that many plate appearances in a game since Jose Uribe went 0-for-8 on June 11, 1985 at Atlanta...also struck out five times, becoming the third player in SF-era history with five-plus K's in a game (also: Glenallen Hill, Aug. 20, 1995 at PHI and Steve Whitaker, April 14, 1970 at ATL).
- Hit .346 (66-for-191) with seven HRs and 28 RBI following Aug. 1...his .346 clip during this span was the third-highest mark in the NL.
- Was named NL Player of the Week for the period ending Aug. 11...collected hits in each of his seven games, compiling a .440 (11-for-25) batting average, which was the eighth-highest mark among National Leaguers...led the NL in total bases (20) and runs scored (eight), tied for second in home runs (two) and hits, and posted the eighth-best slugging percentage (.800).
- Matched a career high with an 11 game hit streak from Aug. 5-16, batting .432 (19-for-44) with four HRs and nine RBI during the stretch.
- Recorded his second-career game-ending hit on Sept. 9 vs. Colorado with a single in the 10th inning.
- Posted a career-high five hits and six RBI on Sept. 14 at Los Angeles-NL.
- Became the first Giants player in franchise history to have a five-hit, six-RBI and four runs scored game...accomplished this on Sept. 14 at Los Angeles in the Giants' 19-3 victory.

- Finished his first full season in the big leagues by batting .275 (113-for-411) with 27 2Bs, seven HRs, 56 RBI and going 12-for-14 in stolen bases attempts in 145 games for the Giants.
- His 12 stolen bases as a first baseman were the most by a Giant since Will Clark stole 12 in 1992.
- Hit .237 (57-for-241) with four home runs and 33 RBI in his first four months (April-July).
- However, combined to hit .329 (56-for-170) with three HRs and 23 RBI over the last two-plus months.
- Hit right-handed pitchers at a .290 clip (82-for-283).
- Was 31-for-128 (.242) vs. left-handers, but had 16 hits in his last 81 ABs (.198) against southpaws.
- Made 106 starts (102 at 1st, four in LF)...his .992 fielding pct. as a first baseman was the sixth-best in the NL.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Appeared in the postseason for the first time in his career and batted .184 (9-for-49) with one home run and three RBI in 15 games.

- At 24 years old, became the fourth youngest Giants player to start at first base in a postseason game since Will Clark in 1987 (23 years old).

- Belt was the Giants' top prospect entering the 2011 season and began the year on the club's Opening Day roster, but was transferred back and forth from the Major League level to the minors on six different occasions (optioned to minors three times, recalled three times).
- Batted .225 (42-for-187) with nine home runs and 18 RBI in 63 games with San Francisco.
- Started 50 games (30 in left field, 19 at 1st base, one in right field).
- Was named the Giants' Harry S. Jordan award winner for being the best player in his first spring camp.
- Was the Giants' Opening Day first baseman, becoming the first player to make his debut at first base for the defending World Series Champions since Ryan Jackson started at first for the 1998 Marlins (Elias).
- At 22 years and 345 days old, became the fifth youngest Giant to start at first base on Opening Day since Will Clark in 1986 (22 years, 26 days).
- Recorded his first big league hit (off Clayton Kershaw) in his first career at-bat with a single to first baseman James Loney on March 31 at Los Angeles.
- Hit his first big league home run in his fifth career AB and sixth career plate appearance on April 1 at Los Angeles, hitting a three-run home run to dead center field off of RHP Chad Billingsley in the 4th inning...became the seventh Giants rookie to hit his first career home run at Dodger Stadium, joining Jack Hiatt (1965), John Montefusco (1974), Mark Leonard (1990), Armando Rios (1998), Todd Linden (2003) and Jason Ellison (2004).
- Was optioned to triple-A Fresno on April 20 as Cody Ross was reinstated from the DL...hit .196 (10-for-51) in his first 16 games with SF.
- Was recalled from Fresno on May 26 when the Giants placed Buster Posey, Mike Fontenot and Darren Ford all on the DL.
- Sat out four games after getting hit by pitch on his left wrist from Cardinals' Trevor Miller on May 31 at Busch Stadium…X-rays originally came back negative, but it was later found that he had hairline fracture in his wrist… was placed on 15-day DL on June 4, activated July 7 and optioned to triple-A Fresno.
- Was recalled from Fresno for second time on July 19, taking place of Miguel Tejada (DL).
- Was optioned back to Fresno for a third time on Aug. 4.
- Was recalled to the big leagues for the third and final time on Aug. 13, taking the place of Andres Torres (DL).
- Started at first base on Aug. 14 at Florida and recorded his first career multi-HR game, hitting a solo shot to left-center off RHP Chris Volstad in the 6th inning, then hitting another solo shot to right field off LHP Michael Dunn in 8th…it was the first home run that Dunn had ever given up to a left-handed batter in his career (151 plate appearances).
- Set a career-high with four hits, including a three-run home run on Aug. 21 at Houston...Texas native was playing in front of several family and friends.
- Combined to hit .320 (57-for-178) with eight HRs and 36 RBI in 53 games with triple-A Fresno and Class A Advanced San Jose.
- Played winter ball in Dominican Republic, playing for Escogigo and batted .300 (30-for-100) with three HRs and 11 RBI in 28 games.

Giants Gems

- Born April 20, 1988, in Nacogdoches, Texas, in a house his father built.
- Parents are Darrell and Janice (pronounced Ja-neece). He has one younger brother, Cameron. Father is a geometry teacher at Brandon's high school, Hudson High in Lufkin. His mother is a hairdresser.
- Had a verbal agreement with Cubs coming out of high school to be drafted in high rounds and paid high-round money. But Cubs didn't come through and Red Sox drafted him in the 11th round. Disappointed, Belt went to college instead. "Everything I went through happened for a reason," he says. "I'm so happy I went to college. I matured so much as a baseball player and as a person and I made so many friends."
- Played one year for San Jacinto College in Houston before transferring to University of Texas (Same two colleges Roger Clemens attended.) Majored in education. Helped propel Texas to the College World Series in 2009, where the Longhorns lost in championship game to LSU.
- Injuries as a junior at University of Texas forced him to give up pitching altogether.
- Married Hudson High sweetheart Haylee Stephenson Dec. 3, 2010, at Providence Baptist Church in Lufkin. The groom's cake was three tiers of chocolate with a Giants cap on top and alternating Longhorns and Giants logos on the sides.

- Made quite an impact in his first professional season, batting .352 (173-for-492) with 43 2Bs, 23 HRs and 112 RBI in 136 games between three different levels in SF's system.
- Named by Baseball America as Minor League All-Star.
- Led the minor leagues with a 1.075 OPS, finished second in batting avg. (.352) and on-base pct. (.455) while ranking fourth in RBI (112) and seventh in slugging pct. (.620).
- Named California League mid-season All-Star.
- Had an MVP-caliber Fall League campaign, batting .372 (32-for-86) in 22 games to help lead the Scottsdale Scorpions to an AFL Championship title…played in the AFL Rising Stars Game (best of best).

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Haylee).
- Attended the University of Texas…led the Longhorns to the College World Series in 2009 after pacing the team in batting avg. (.319)…earned All-Big 12 Honorable Mention in 2008…overall, batted .321 (152-for-473) with 14 HRs and 108 RBI in 124 games in his two seasons at Texas.

- Before going to Texas, played one year for San Jacinto College in Houston and was a pitcher and designated hitter…batted .441 with 10 HRs to receive All-Conference designated hitter honors and 2007 Juco World Series Big Stick Award for third ranked Gators as a freshman.
- Was selected by the Atlanta Braves in 11th round of 2007 First-Year Player Draft, but did not sign.
- Graduated from Hudson High School in Lufkin, Texas…as a senior, garnered district MVP, All-State and All-America honors.
- Was selected by the Boston Red Sox in 11th round of the 2006 First-Year Player Draft, but did not sign.

How Obtained: Giants' 1st round selection (10th overall) in 2007 First-Year Player Draft
Contract Status: Signed through 2017 (signed 5-year extension in 2012 with club/vesting option for 2018 and club option for 2019)

- 2013 NL All-Star
- His 16 wins in 2012 were a career-high and most in a season by a Giants left-hander since Kirk Rueter won 16 games in 1998
- Reached the 200.0 inning plateau for the first time in his professional career in 2011
- Became the fourth youngest Giants pitcher to make his Major League debut (20 years, 38 days)
- Is the franchise's youngest pitcher to start game in his ML debut since 1958 (20 years and 38 days)
- At 20 years, 339 days, is second-youngest SF pitcher in last 25 years to win his first ML contest
- Is youngest Giants pitcher in franchise history to win postseason game at 21 years, 71 days old
- Is second youngest pitcher to win a series clincher in postseason history
- At 21 years, 91 days old became the fifth-youngest pitcher to start a World Series game and the fourth-youngest to win a World Series contest
- Posted a 34-6 record with 2.00 ERA in 63 games (62 starts) in the minors
- Won the South Atlantic League triple crown in 2008, going 15-3 with a 1.46 ERA and 164 strikeouts
- Named San Francisco's 2008 Minor League Pitcher of the Year

2013 SEASON

- 24-year-old completed his third full season, his fifth overall in the big leagues and produced one of his best seasons, going 13-9 with a 2.77 ERA (62er, 201.1ip) and 199 strikeouts in 31 starts.
- Was the Giants' most consistent starting pitcher the entire season, logging 22 quality starts, tied for the eighth-most in the NL.
- Was named by manager Bruce Bochy to the National League All-Star team, his first All-Star selection as a Major Leaguer, although he did not appear in the game... became the first Giants left-handed pitcher to make the ASG since Shawn Estes in 1997.
- Was just one strikeout shy of his first career 200 strikeout season...there have been just four Giants left-handed pitchers to post 200-strikeout seasons in their careers: Cy Seymour for the New York Giants in 1898 (239 strikeouts), Rube Marquard for the NY Giants in 1911 (237), Ray Sadecki for the SF Giants in 1968 (206) and most recently, Jonathan Sanchez in 2010 (205).
- Became the fourth Giants left-handed pitcher to reach 200-or-more innings in three straight seasons, joining Mike McCormick (1959-61), Bob Knepper (1978-80) and Vida Blue (1978-80).
- Among NL leaders ranked third in lowest opponents batting average against (.203), fifth in ERA (2.77) and tied for seventh in strikeouts (199).
- Led the Giants in wins, innings pitched, strikeouts, ERA and opponents avg. against.
- Held the opposition to a .205 clip (26-for-127) with runners in scoring position, which ranked as the fourth-lowest mark in the NL behind Clayton Kershaw (.180), Zack Greinke (.202) and Jeff Locke (.203).
- Ranked fifth in the NL in WHIP (1.03)...only Clayton Kershaw (0.92), Matt Harvey (0.93), Jose Fernandez (0.98) and Cliff Lee (1.01) had a lower WHIP than Bumgarner... it was the lowest WHIP in a single season by a Giants pitcher since Jason Schmidt in 2003 (0.95).
- Ended the season with a 19-consecutive start stretch of allowing three earned runs or fewer, the longest such streak by a Giants pitcher since Tim Lincecum went 19 straight from Aug. 16, 2007-June 11, 2008...the last Giants starter to do this in a single season was Ed Whitson - 19 straight starts from June 7-Sept. 25, 1980 (courtesy of Stats, Inc.).
- On his third-consecutive Opening Day roster for the Giants, Bumgarner opened up the 2013 season as the second-youngest player on the 25-man roster at 23 years old...pitching from the second slot in the rotation, he made his 2013 season debut on April 2 at Los Angeles and was superb, allowing just two hits over 8.0 innings to earn the win in the Giants' 3-0 victory, one day after Clayton Kershaw had shutout the Giants.
- Allowed a career-high nine runs (seven earned) in his start on May 16 at Colorado...allowed the first grand slam of his career, giving it up to Jordan Pacheco in the Rockies' five-run 5th inning.

- On June 14 at Atlanta he lost a no-hit bid in the 6th inning on a single by Chris Johnson that fell among three teammates...was perfect through 14 hitters until he walked B.J. Upton in the 5th...overall, blanked the Braves on two hits and 10 strikeouts in 7.0-scoreless innings.
- In nine consecutive starts from June 14-Aug. 2 he had a streak of at least 7.0 innings pitched while allowing three runs or fewer, the longest such streak by a Giants pitcher since Gaylord Perry did it in 10 straight starts in 1969.
- Had 10 straight starts of 7.0-or-more innings pitched from June 14-Aug. 7...the streak ended on August 13 at Washington due to a rain delay...tossed 4.0 innings in that start and endured a 1 hour and 17 minute delay, ending his streak, which was the longest by a Giants pitcher since Rick Reuschel strung together 11 such outings from Aug. 17-end of the 1988 season.
- Snapped a seven start winless drought with a victory against the Dodgers' Clayton Kershaw in his start at Dodger Stadium on Sept. 13 in the Giants' 4-2 victory...logged 6.0 innings, allowing just two runs on five hits.
- Earned his 13th and final win of the season in his last start of the year on Sept. 19 against the Mets at Citi Field, a 2-1 Giants victory...struck out 10 batters through 7.0 innings and allowed one run on four hits...the 10 Ks marked his 13th double-digit strikeout game of his career and the fifth in 2013.
- Following his start on Sept. 19, the Giants announced that he would be shut down for the remainder of the season (missing one start), allowing Barry Zito, who was in the final year of a seven-year contract, to make one final start at AT&T Park.

Giants Gems

- From Hudson, N.C., a town of 2,800 people, 90 minutes northwest of Charlotte.
- Married his high school sweetheart Ali Saunders on Valentine's Day 2010. He gave her a five day-old bull calf as a wedding present.
- His father's family goes back 100 years in Caldwell County. One area is called "Bumtown" for all the Bumgarners living on both sides of Deal Mill Road. It's four miles southeast of Hudson and 10 miles northwest of Hickory. Madison's father Kevin Bumgarner has lived most of his life along Deal Mill Road. "Typical of many BumTownians," the local Hickory Daily Record reports, "Kevin lives about 100 yards across the road from his mother Mary's house, which is where he grew up. Likewise, Madison bought a 38-acre farm about three miles down the road, with plans to build his dream home and to pursue his off-season passion of raising and riding horses."
- Lincecum already had the nicknames "The Freak" and "The Franchise," so Bumgarner's teammates in the minor leagues nicknamed him "The Future." But in the majors they call him MadBum.

- Posted his second-consecutive 200.0 inning season, going 16-11 with a 3.37 ERA (78er, 208.1ip) with 191 strikeouts in 32 starts.
- His 16 victories were a career-high and the most wins in a season by a Giants left-hander since Kirk Rueter won 16 games in 1998.
- His 16 wins were tied for the sixth-most in the NL and his .593 winning pct. was the eighth-highest in the league.
- Became the first Giants pitcher to have a 16+ win season at age 23-or-younger since Hal Schumacher won 23 games for the New York Giants in 1934 at the age of 23.
- Ranked eighth in the NL by holding opponents to a .234 clip (183-for-782)...left-handed batters hit only .208 (35-for-168) off him with four HRs.
- Finished ninth in the NL with 191 strikeouts...his 8.25 strikeouts per 9.0 innings were the second-highest on the club.
- Fashioned a 2.33 ERA (26er, 100.1ip) in 14 home starts, which was the fifth-lowest ERA in the NL...went 9-3 at home and dating back to 2011, has won 14 of his last 17 home decisions.
- Was 6-8 with a 4.40 ERA (50er, 102.1ip) in 17 road starts.
- Tied Tim Lincecum for the most home runs allowed on the team with 23...allowed 18 HRs on the road and five at home...had allowed only 25 home runs in his career entering 2012 (55 games).
- Recorded three games with 10-plus strikeouts and no walks, tied with the Mets' R.A. Dickey for the highest total in the Majors...according to Elias, no other Giants pitcher since 1900 has had three such games in one season.
- Went 5-0 with a 2.42 ERA (12er, 44.2ip) in the month of June...became the first Giants pitcher to win five games in a calendar month since Tim Lincecum did so in Sept. 2010.
- Allowed two-runs-or-fewer in 19 of 32 starts...recorded the third-most quality outings on the club with 19.

Youngest Starter to Win Series Clincher in Postseason History

Player	Year	Team	Series	Age-Days
Fernando Valenzuela	1981	Dodgers	NLCS	20.352
Madison Bumgarner	2010	Giants	NLDS	21.072
Bret Saberhagen	1985	Royals	WS	21.199
Jaret Wright	1997	Indians	ALDS	21.281
Whitey Ford	1950	Yankees	WS	21.351

- Tossed at least 6.0 innings in all but five starts...his 208.1 innings pitched were the eighth-most in the NL.
- Opposing teams hit .196 (32-for-163) off him with runners in scoring position...that ranked as the eighth-lowest figure in the NL.
- Struggled to hold runners on, allowing 27 stolen bases, tied for the third-most in the NL...however, his five pick-offs were tied for the third-most in the NL.
- On April 12, Bumgarner (22 years, 225 days old) and Jamie Moyer (49 years, 146 days old) faced one another in what was the third-largest age difference in a starting pitching matchup all-time.
- Took a no-hitter into the sixth inning on April 12 at Colorado, however allowed a one-out triple to Tyler Colvin…his 5.1 innings without allowing a hit was the longest of his career.
- Batted in the eighth spot in the order on May 16 vs. St. Louis against LHP Jaime Garcia…marked just the second time in Giants franchise history that their starting pitcher batted in that spot in the order (only other time was May 20, 2010 at Arizona; Lincecum batted eighth, Torres ninth).
- On June 12 vs. Houston, struck out 12 batters (one shy of his career-high) in 7.2 innings and launched the Giants' first home run in nearly a month in a 6-3 win…led off the third inning by hitting a solo home run off of RHP Bud Norris to left field for his first career home run.
- Became just the third Giants pitcher since 1900 to hit a home run and strike out at least a dozen batters…Juan Marichal accomplished the feat on Sept. 12, 1963 at New York-NL (HR, 13 Ks) and so did Mike Krukow on Aug. 13, 1985 vs. Houston (HR, 12 Ks).
- Took a no-hitter into the sixth inning of his start on June 28 vs. Cincinnati, but allowed a leadoff single to Ryan Hanigan to start the 6th, his only hit allowed in what was his first career complete game and his first shutout in SF's 5-0 win…extended the Giants' team scoreless streak to 36.0 innings and put the Giants in the record books as it was the team's fourth-consecutive shutout, a new franchise record.
- Hit his second career home run on Sept. 11 at Colorado, hitting a three-run shot off of Jhoulys Chacin in the 4th inning…became the first Giants pitcher to hit a home run while driving in at least three runs since Noah Lowry did so on Aug. 24, 2007.
- Won his 16th game of the season on Sept. 22 vs. San Diego making him and Hall of Famer Rube Marquard the only Giants pitchers with 16-or-more wins in a season at 23 or younger in Giants franchise history…Marquard did it three years in a row: 24-7 in 1911, 26-11 in 1912 and 23-10 in 1913.

Rare All-Rookie Battery

On Oct. 31, 2010 in Game 4 of the World Series at Texas, Madison Bumgarner and Buster Posey became the first all-rookie starting battery in a World Series game since Spec Shea and Yogi Berra started for the Yankees in Game 1 of the 1947 World Series.

- Signed a five-year extension through 2017 with a club/vesting option for 2018 and a club option for 2019 on April 6...the 5-year extension covers Bumgarner through his arbitration years and his first year of free agency (2017).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Went 1-2 with a 6.00 ERA (10er, 15.0ip) in three starts throughout the postseason.
- His best game came in Game 2 of the World Series vs. Detroit, logging 7.0-scoreless innings while allowing just two hits and eight strikeouts.
- Has now tossed consecutive World Series Games of at least 7.0-scoreless innings with at least six strikeouts… the only pitchers in MLB history to accomplish that were Christy Mathewson of the Giants in Games 1 and 3 of the 1905 World Series; Bill Hallahan of the Cardinals in Game 3 in 1930 and Game 2 in 1931; Don Larsen of the Yankees in Game 5 in 1956 and Game 3 in 1958; and Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers in Games 5 and 7 in 1965.
- According to Elias, his 15.0-inning scoreless streak to start his World Series career is tied with Boston's Bruce Hurst (1986) for the fourth-longest in history behind Cleveland's Duster Mails (15.2 innings in 1920), Boston's Jim Lonborg (17.0 innings in 1967) and Christy Mathewson of the Giants (28.0 innings from 1905-1911).

- Proved his resiliency after losing his first six decisions to end the year by going 13-13 with a 3.21 ERA (73er, 204.2ip) in 33 starts.
- Finished 11th in the National League in ERA.
- The Giants won 13 of his last 19 starts after losing 11 of his first 15.
- Reached the 200.0-inning mark for the first time in his professional career and was just nine strikeouts shy of reaching 200 for the season.

Chart courtesy of Bill Arnold/Sports Features Group

- Struck out 8.40 batters per 9.0 innings, which was third-best ratio among NL left-handed pitchers behind Los Angeles' (NL) Clayton Kershaw (9.57) and Philadelphia's Cliff Lee (9.21).
- Registered double-digit strikeouts in four starts, with a career-high 13 punchouts on Sept. 5 at San Diego.
- Went 8-6 with a 3.12 ERA (36er, 104.0ip) in 17 starts at AT&T Park...began the year by going 0-5 with a 5.82 ERA (22er, 34.0ip) in his first seven starts on the Shores of McCovey Cove, however turned things around and went 8-1 with a 1.80 figure (14er, 70.0ip) in his last 10 starts.
- Started the season by losing his first six decisions from April 5-May 13, logging a 4.25 ERA (20er, 42.1ip) during that span...received two runs-or-fewer of support in all but one of those games.
- Prior to Bumgarner, the last pitcher to go winless with at least two losses through his first eight starts with an ERA of 4.25-orlower was the Cubs' Juan Cruz in 2002...the last Giants pitcher to have such a start to the season was Terry Mulholland in 1986 (0-6, 3.89 ERA).
- Lost eight of his first 10 decisions despite posting a 3.23 ERA...no other starting pitcher in Giants history had lost eight of his first 10 decisions with an ERA as low as Bumgarner's.
- Endured his worst start of his career and one of worst in Giants history on June 21 vs. Minnesota...recorded just one out while allowing eight 1st inning runs...faced 10 batters and retired only pitcher Carl Pavano, becoming the first player in baseball's modern era to allow as many as nine hits while recording fewer than two outs.
- Became the first Giants starting pitcher since 1900 to allow eight-or-more runs without getting out of the 1st inning.
- Bounced back from a historically dreadful outing to record 11 strikeouts in his next start on June 26 vs. Cleveland in SF's 3-1 victory on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball...tossed 7.0 innings, allowing one run to earn the win.
- Following that start in Cleveland, was one of baseball's best pitchers for the final three months of the regular season, going 10-4 with a 2.62 ERA (35er, 120.1ip) over his final 18 starts...his 2.62 ERA beginning June 26 ranked as the ninth-lowest in the big leagues while his 10 victories were tied for the fourth-most.
- Issued two walks-or-fewer in 19-consecutive starts from April 17-July 24...became the first Giants pitcher to accomplish that feat since Juan Marichal went 21-straight starts between July 17, 1970-April 20, 1971, allowing two walks-or-fewer...Marichal is the only other SF Giant to do this in a single season as went 23-straight starts between April 10-July 18, 1968 (STATS, Inc.).
- Recorded back-to-back double-digit strikeout games Aug. 31 (11 Ks vs. CHC) and Sept. 5 (13 Ks at SD), becoming the first Giants left-hander in the modern era (1900 to date) with consecutive starts of more than 10 Ks.
- His 13 strikeout performance on Sept. 5 at San Diego not only was career-best, but he became one of only five left-handers in SF-era history (since 1958) to record 13-or-more strikeouts in a game...Atlee Hammaker owns the Giants record with 14 punchouts on Sept. 11, 1983.
- Finished the season by winning six of his last seven decisions while fashioning a 1.58 ERA (8er, 45.2ip) in seven starts.

- Went 7-6 with a 3.00 ERA (37er, 111.0ip) while posting 86 strikeouts and issuing only 26 walks in 18 starting assignments with the Giants.
- Was one of the most consistent Giants starters since being recalled towards the end of June, logging at least 6.0 innings in 12 of his 18 starts and 7.0 innings nine times…recorded 11 quality outings.
- Since his recall on June 26, posted the fourth-lowest ERA among National League left-handed starters, behind HOU's Wandy Rodriguez (2.14), PHI's Cole Hamels (2.57) and LAD's Clayton Kershaw (2.64).
- His 3.00 ERA was the third-lowest in SF-era history for a rookie pitcher behind Jim Barr (2.87 in 1972) and John Montefusco (2.88 in 1975) (min. of 15 starts).
- Between triple-A Fresno and Giants, combined to pitch 193.2 innings, which was a career-high in his brief three-year professional career...prior to 2010, his career-high in innings was 141.2 in 2008 with Augusta.
- Earned his first Major League victory July 6 in Milwaukee after tossing 8.0-scoreless innings and allowing only three hits in SF's 6-1 win...according to Elias, only two other Giants rookies pitched a game like that: Noah Lowry in 2004 when he tossed 9.0-shutout frames against the Reds on Aug. 3 and Matt Cain, who accomplished it twice in 2006, tossing 9.0-scoreless innings at Oakland on May 21 and blanking Colorado for 8.0 innings on Sept. 14.
- At 20 years, 339 days, became the second-youngest Giants pitcher in the last 25 years to win his first Major League game and first since Matt Cain in 2005…Cain was just one day younger than Bumgarner at 20 years, 338 days when he won his first big league contest on Sept. 4 at Arizona.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Had one of the most memorable postseasons of any 21-year-old, going 2-0 with a 2.18 ERA 5er, 20.2ip) in four games (three starts).
- Earned his first career postseason victory in Game 4 of the LDS vs. Atlanta on Oct. 11, contest that SF won 3-2 to advance to the LCS...tossed 6.0 innings and yielded two runs on six hits...became the youngest Giants pitcher in franchise history to win a postseason game at 21 years and 71 days old.
- Was the first rookie starting pitcher to win a clinching game on the road in the postseason since Dave Righetti (Yankees at A's, Game 3 of ALCS) and Fernando Valenzuela (Dodgers at Expos, Game 5 of NLCS) pitched their teams to World Series in 1981.
- In Game 4 of World Series on Oct. 31, Bumgarner joined teammate Buster Posey as the first all-rookie starting battery in a World Series game since Spec Shea and Yogi Berra started for the Yankees in Game 1 of the 1947 World Series (Elias).
- At 21 years, 91 days old, was the fifth-youngest pitcher to start a World Series game.
- Became the fourth-youngest starter to win a World Series game as the Giants took a 3-1 series lead over the Rangers on Oct. 31 with a 4-0 shutout victory…logged 8.0 innings and didn't allow an earned run becoming the youngest to ever accomplish that feat…Bumgarner's dominance gave the Giants their fourth shutout of the postseason, tying 1998 Yankees and 1905 New York Giants for the most in a single postseason in Major League history.
- Only three starting pitchers younger than Bumgarner (21 years, 91 days old) have ever won a game in World Series history – Bullet Joe Bush (20 years, 316 days) for 1913 Athletics, Jim Palmer (20 years, 356 days) for 1966 Orioles and Fernando Valenzuela (20 years, 356 days) for 1981 Dodgers.
- Only one starting pitcher younger than Bumgarner ever tossed at least 8.0-shutout innings in a World Series game – Jim Palmer, who was 100 days younger when he blanked Dodgers in Game 2 of 1966 World Series.

- Made his Major League debut for the Giants with a Sept. call-up, posting a 1.80 ERA (2er, 10.0ip) in four games (one start).
- Began the year at the Class A level, however by season's end was a Sept. call-up for San Francisco, appearing in four games.
- Made his Major League debut Sept. 8 vs. San Diego, taking the place of RHP Tim Lincecum, who was scratched from his scheduled start due to back spasms.
- At 20 years and 38 days old became the fourth-youngest Giants pitcher to make his Major League debut...only Mike McCormick (17 years and 342 days), Nestor Chavez (19 years and 65 days) and Ron Bryant (19 years and 321 days) were younger (Sports Features Group)…in fact, became franchise's youngest pitcher to start a game in his Major League debut since the Giants moved west in 1958...Mike McCormick started for San Francisco as a 19-year-old, however made his ML debut two years earlier as member of the New York Giants.
- Was summoned from double-A, where he was originally scheduled to start an Eastern League playoff opener on Sept. 9...learned that he was that night's starting pitcher roughly three hours prior to game time, and retired his first four batters faced before giving up a home run to Chase Headley in the 2nd inning...gave up another solo shot to Kevin Kouzmanoff in 4th frame...marked the first time in 2009 (minor leagues included) that he had surrendered a pair of HRs in a single contest...left with a 3-2 lead that was quickly erased as Will Venable hit a solo HR to center against Brandon Medders...the Giants ended up losing the contest, 4-3.
- Was moved to the bullpen after Lincecum recovered from his back spasms and logged 4.2-scoreless innings with six Ks.
- Prior to joining the big league club combined to go 12-1 with a 1.85 ERA (27er, 131.1ip) and .211 avg. against (100-for-475) in 25 games (24 starts) with Class-A Advanced San Jose and double-A Connecticut...began the year at Class-A Advanced San Jose, going 3-1 with a 1.48 ERA (4er, 24.1ip) and 23 strikeouts in five starts...was transferred to double-A Connecticut May 7 and helped Defenders win first division title as Giants' affiliate after going 9-1 with a 1.93 ERA (23er, 107.0ip) in 20 games (19 starts).
- Was named to the Eastern League All-Star team, but did not appear in the game.
- Hit a grand slam July 22 at Binghamton.
- Was named Eastern League Pitcher of the Week for the week ending Aug. 30, pitching 7.0-shutout innings in the Defenders' 3-0 victory over the Rock Cats on Aug. 26.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted perhaps the best season of any Giants farmhand in 2008, winning the South Atlantic League triple crown, going 15-3 with a 1.46 ERA and 164 strikeouts for SAL Champion Augusta GreenJackets.
- In his first professional season in 2008, ranked third overall among minor league pitchers in strikeouts and tied for fifth in wins.
- Named 2008 Minor League Baseball's Most Spectacular Pitcher for finishing the season with the lowest ERA… was also named to SAL in-season and postseason All-Star teams, along with earning SAL Pitcher of Week honors on five different occasions…was named MiLBY's best starting pitcher for all of Class A leagues.
- Reeled off 38.0-consecutive scoreless innings July 28-Aug. 27, 2008 (span of six starts), marking the longest scoreless stretch by a hurler in all of minor league baseball.
- Named San Francisco's 2008 Pitcher of the Year, joining Pablo Sandoval (Player of Year) as the first two recipients to earn the inaugural award.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Ali Saunders, Feb. 14, 2010).
- Graduated from South Caldwell (Hudson, NC) High School.
- Finished prep career by hitting a walk-off two-run inside-the-park home run to win state title…finished 2007 season hitting .424 (42-for-99) with 10 2Bs, 11 HRs and 38 RBI.
- Had dominating senior season being named Gatorade's North Carolina Player of the Year after going 11-2 with a 1.05 ERA and 143 strikeouts in 86.0 innings.

- Three-time NL All-Star (2009, 2011, 2012)
- Tossed the first perfect game in Giants franchise history on June 13, 2012 vs. Houston
- Is one of 23 players in Major League history to pitch a perfect game
- 2009 "Willie Mac Award" winner
- Became the sixth pitcher all-time with three starts in one postseason in which he didn't allow an earned run (2010)
- Tossed 23.1-innings without allowing an earned run to start his postseason career (2010-2012), the sixth-longest streak in ML history and the second-longest in Giants history
- Is one of eight Giants rookies to lead the team in wins since 1900 (13 in 2006)
- Has crested the 30-start barrier in each of his eight full seasons
- Was the Giants' 2004 and 2005 USA Today Organizational Player of the Year

2013 SEASON

- Completed his ninth season with San Francisco, going 8-10 with a 4.00 ERA (82er, 184.1ip) in 30 starts.
- His eight wins were his fewest in a season since 2008 (eight), his 184.1 innings were his fewest in a full season and his 4.00 ERA was his highest figure since his second season in 2006 (4.15).
- Reached the 30-start barrier for the eighth-straight season, becoming the first Giants pitcher to accomplish that since Carl Hubbell did it for nine-straight seasons for the New York Giants from 1929-1937 (STATS, LLC).
- Allowed a career-high 23 home runs (12 on the road, 11 at home), which also ranked as the eighth-most in the National League.
- Had 158 strikeouts on the season, marking the eighth consecutive season that he registered at least 150 strikeouts, which tied Juan Marichal (1962-1969) and Gaylord Perry (1964-1971) for the longest such streak in Giants' franchise history (Elias).
- Was placed on the disabled list for the first time in his career on Aug. 23 with a right forearm contusion (Aug. 23-Sept. 7)...in his nine years in a Giants uniform he had never missed a start due to injury and had been skipped in the rotation just once.
- Went 5-6 with a 5.06 ERA (63er, 112.0ip) in 19 starts prior to the All-Star break, but then 3-4 with a 2.36 figure (19er, 72.1ip) in 11 starts following the break...in fact, since the break, he allowed three runs or fewer in each outing while logging at least 7.0 innings in nine of 11 starts.
- Allowed six-or-more runs in a start on five different occasions: nine runs on April 7 vs. STL, seven runs on April 18 at MIL, six runs on May 16 at COL, seven runs on June 1 at STL and eight runs on July 5 vs. LAD.
- Took the hill for his first career Opening Day start on April 1 against the Dodgers in Los Angeles and tossed 6.0-scoreless innings, allowing just four hits while striking out eight batters...matched up with Clayton Kershaw, who tossed a shutout against the Giants while also hitting his first career home run off George Kontos in the 8th...the Giants lost 4-0.
- Matched his career-high by allowing nine runs (all of which came in the 4th inning) in his second start of the season on April 7 vs. St. Louis...the Cardinals sent 13 batters to the plate in the inning, collecting eight hits, two walks and a HBP.
- Cain became the first Giants pitcher to give up at least nine runs in an inning since Ernie Shore gave up 10 runs, three earned, in his Major League debut with the New York Giants in 1912...Cain was the first Giants starting pitcher to give up nine runs in an inning since Jack Cronin in 1902.
- Was charged with his third loss of the season on June 1 at St. Louis in the Giants' 8-0 defeat in game one of a split doubleheader...allowed seven runs in the 3rd inning on 40 pitches...however, outside that inning he was perfect, holding Cardinals batters hitless in 15 ABs with seven strikeouts.
- Nearly 20% of his runs allowed came against the Cardinals, as he allowed 16 runs to St. Louis in just 9.2 innings (14.90 ERA)...take away both those starts and he would've ended the season with a 3.40 ERA instead of 4.00.

- Had the shortest start of his career on July 10 vs. New York-NL, lasting just 0.2 innings...gave up three runs on two hits and three walks...was the shortest start by a Giants starter since Eric Surkamp went 0.2 innings on Sept. 24, 2011 at Arizona.
- Left his start on August 22 vs. Pittsburgh in the 4th inning after getting hit on his right forearm by a line drive off the bat of Gaby Sanchez that went for a 1-4-3 putout...ended up with a contusion on his right forearm and X-rays were negative, however was placed on the 15-day disabled list for the first time in his career the very next day...had made 261 starts before his first DL stint.
- Missed a total of two starts and was reinstated off the DL on Sept. 7...started that night against Arizona at AT&T Park and worked 6.1 innings while allowing two runs on eight hits, but suffered the loss in a 2-1 Giants defeat.
- Ended the season on a strong note, fashioning a 1.25 ERA (3er, 21.2ip) in his final three starts.

- Completed his eighth season with the Giants, going 16-5 with a 2.79 ERA (68er, 219.1ip) and two complete games in 32 starts.
- His 16 victories, 2.79 ERA and 193 strikeouts were all career-bests.
- Among the NL leaders, finished third in innings pitched (219.1) and in opponents avg. against (.222), fourth in ERA (2.79) and winning pct. (.762, 16-5), tied for sixth in wins and eighth in strikeouts (193).
- Tossed the 22nd perfect game in Major League Baseball history on June 13 vs. Houston...it was the first perfect game in the 130th-season history of the Giants franchise.
- His perfect game marked the 14th no-hitter in Giants franchise history and the sixth in SF-era history (since 1958).
- Was one of three pitchers to have a perfect game in 2012, joining Philip Humber of the Chicago White Sox on April 21 at Seattle and Felix Hernandez of the Mariners on Aug. 15 vs. Tampa Bay...marked the first time in Major League history that three perfect games have been recorded in the same season.
- Is one of three pitchers in SF-era history (since 1958) to log at least 200.0 innings in six-consecutive seasons, joining Gaylord Perry (six-straight from 1966-71) and Juan Marichal (10-straight from 1962-71).
- Held right-handed hitters to a .191 avg. against (79-for-414), which was the second-lowest figure in the NL behind Washington's Stephen Strasburg (.185).
- 21 of his 32 starts were quality outings, the second-most quality starts on SF's staff behind Ryan Vogelsong (22).
- Signed a five-year extension with a club/vesting player option for the 2018 season on April 2.
- Tossed a one-hit shutout, striking out 11 batters in the Giants' home opener vs. April 13 vs. Pittsburgh…the Pirates' lone baserunner was losing pitcher James McDonald, who singled with two out in the 6th.

Giants Gems

- Grew up on 50-acre farm riding horses, driving pickups and dove hunting with his bird dog.
- As a kid growing up in Alabama and Tennessee, never lived in town with more than 3,000 people.
- Enjoys fishing, skeet shooting and anything outdoors. Is also great golfer, oftentimes winning the long-ball contest.
- Childhood hero – granddad on his mother's side.
- His mother taught for 20 years; now she and her brother own and run a tuxedo rental store. His father has worked for a window and door wholesaler since he was 20 in sales and management. Both his parents grew up in Memphis. For his dad's job, they moved from South Carolina, to Alabama to Tennessee.

- Became the first pitcher in Giants franchise history to throw a one-hit shutout in the team's home opener.
- Fanned 14 batters and threw 125 (86 strikes) pitches in his perfect game, a 10-0 victory against the visiting Houston Astros…the 14 strikeouts were a career-high for Cain and tied the record for the most strikeouts in a perfect game, set by Hall of Famer Sandy Koufax in 1965….it was the highest strikeout total in a no-hitter since Hall of Famer Nolan Ryan fanned 16 Blue Jays on May 1, 1991.
- Cain earned his first career National League Player of the Week award for the period ending June 17th.
- Won eight-straight starts from May 12-June 18, the longest such streak in Giants history since Rick Reuschel won eight-straight in 1989.
- Had his winning streak snapped on June 29 vs. Cincinnati in SF's 5-0 loss…allowed a leadoff home run to Zack Cozart, ending the Giants' team scoreless inning streak at 36.0 innings, a new SF-era record…also gave up a solo homer to opposing pitcher Mike Leake, the first time in his career that he ever allowed a home run to a pitcher in 373 at-bats.
- Was selected to his third career NL All-Star team via the player ballot, receiving 234 votes (the second-most by an NL starting pitcher behind NYM's R.A. Dickey, 342).
- Was named the starting pitcher for the Mid-Summer Classic by manager Tony LaRussa…became the seventh pitcher in Giants history to start an All-Star Game (eighth time), joining joining Carl Hubbell (1934), Juan Marichal (1965, 1967), Vida Blue (1978), Rick Reuschel (1989), Jason Schmidt (2003) and Tim Lincecum (2009).
- Made his 31st start of the season on Sept. 26 vs. Arizona, giving him seven straight seasons with 30-or-more starts…the only player with a longer current streak is Bronson Arroyo, who has eighth-straight seasons of 30-or-more starts...before Cain, only two Giants pitchers started more than 30 games in seven-straight campaigns: Hall of Famers Christy Mathewson (14, 1901-1914) and Mickey Welch (8, 1883-1890).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Started five games throughout the 2012 postseason, going 2-2 with a 3.60 ERA (12er, 30.0ip).

- Started Game 1 of the Division Series vs. Cincinnati just a few months after pitching a perfect game…became the fifth pitcher to appear in a postseason game after throwing a perfect game earlier that season…the first three were Sandy Koufax in 1965, David Wells in 1998 and David Cone in 1999…the fourth, Roy Halladay, followed up his 2010 perfecto by no-hitting the Reds in Game 1 of the DS.
- Earned the loss in Game 1 of the DS after allowing three runs on five hits in 5.0 innings…his scoreless inning streak to begin his postseason career ended at 23.1 innings, the second-longest in Giants franchise history and the fifth-longest in Major League history.
- Earned the win in Game 5 of SF's clinching series win against the Reds.
- Was the winning pitcher in Game 7 of the LCS vs. St. Louis…became the second pitcher to record a win in two winner-take-all games in one postseason, joining Chris Carpenter, who did it in 2011 for St. Louis.

- Completed his seventh season in a Giants uniform, going 12-11 with a 2.88 ERA (71er, 221.2ip) in 33 starts.
- Was named to his second career All-Star team (also 2009).
- Led the National League and was tied for third in the Majors with 26 quality starts...only Detroit's Justin Verlander and Los Angeles' (AL) Jered Weaver had more (each with 28).
- Among NL leaders was third in fewest hits allowed per 9.0 innings (7.19), fifth in fewest baserunners per 9.0ip (10.11) and seventh in innings pitched.
- Missed nearly two weeks in Spring Training with right elbow inflammation...had a MRI exam after feeling soreness stemming from his outing on Feb. 27 at Arizona in which he threw 2.0-scoreless innings.
- Was named to his second career All-Star team by manager Bruce Bochy...did not pitch in the contest as he was ineligible to play due to making a start on July 10, the final game before the All-Star break.

- Enjoyed another outstanding campaign, going 13-11 with a 3.14 ERA (78er, 223.1ip), four complete games and 177 strikeouts against 61 walks in 33 starts.
- Was one of the most consistent Giants starters, with 25 of his 33 starts (75.7%) being quality outings, tied with Chris Carpenter, Roy Halladay, Tim Hudson and Adam Wainwright for the most by any pitcher in the National League...his 25 quality starts were a career-high.
- Cain's four complete games were tied for the third-most in the NL...threw three complete games in four-start span from May 22-June 8, allowing just two runs (1er) in 34.0 innings (0.26 ERA).
- Issued a career-low 61 walks, the fewest by a Giants starting pitcher since Noah Lowry allowed 56 in 2006 (min. of 150.0ip)... posted his best BB/9.0ip ratio (2.46) of his career.
- Tossed his ninth career complete game on May 22 at Oakland (his third against A's), however was charged with the loss after allowing one unearned run in SF's 1-0 defeat...marked the second-straight time that Cain had gone the distance and earned a losing decision (also Aug. 3, 2009 at Houston).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Was brilliant in the postseason, tossing 21.1 innings without allowing an earned run, which was the sixth-longest streak in Major League history, and second-longest in Giants history, trailing Christy Mathewson…overall, went 2-0 with a 0.00 ERA (0er, 21.1ip) in first three career postseason contests.
- Was denied victory in his first career postseason start in Game 2 of the Division Series vs. the Braves on Oct. 8 after the Giants bullpen blew a lead and the game after Cain had allowed only one unearned run over 6.2 innings (that run turned out to be only run allowed by Cain in 2010 postseason).
- Threw commanding 7.0-shutout innings in the Giants' Game 3 win over the Phillies in LCS on Oct. 19...became the first pitcher to not allow an earned run in either of his first two postseason starts since Steve Avery accomplished it in 1991.
- Pitched 7.0-shutout innings in the Giants' 9-0 Game 2 victory in the World Series vs. Texas on Oct. 28...marked the third postseason start of Cain's career in which he didn't allow an earned run…only three other pitchers began their postseason careers with three-straight games (all starts), in which they were not charged with an earned run: Christy Mathewson tossed three-straight shutouts for the Giants in the 1905 World Series; Waite Hoyt accomplished feat for Yankees in the 1921 World Series, allowing two unearned runs; and the Mets' Jon Matlack did not give up an earned run in his first three postseason starts in 1973 (three unearned runs).
- Joined Christy Mathewson as only Giants pitchers with three starts in the same postseason in which they allowed no earned runs.

- Named to his first career All-Star team, Cain was one of the Giants' anchors in the starting rotation having a breakout campaign by going 14-8 with a 2.89 ERA (70er, 217.2ip), four complete games and 171 strikeouts in 33 starts for San Francisco.
- Was the Giants' stopper in 2009, fashioning an 8-2 record with a 1.97 ERA (18er, 82.1ip) in 11 games following Giants losses.
- Was named to his first career All-Star team, along with Tim Lincecum, marking just the third time in SF-era history that SF had a pair of starting pitchers on the All-Star roster…did not pitch in ASG July 14 at St. Louis' Busch Stadium and was actually replaced on the roster by Pittsburgh's Zach Duke, after suffering a right elbow contusion in his start prior to break on July 11 vs. San Diego…had to leave that July 11 start in the second inning after being hit by a line drive off the bat of pitcher Tim Stauffer with two out in the second inning…that mishap prevented him from pitching in his first-ever All-Star Game.
- Was one of seven pitchers in SF-era history (eighth occurrence) to win 12 of his first 14 decisions, joining Gaylord

Perry (1966), Juan Marichal (1966, 1968), Rick Reuschel (1989), John Burkett (1993), Shawn Estes (1997) and Jason Schmidt (2004)…only Perry, Marichal (twice) and Burkett advanced to 13-2.
- Was awarded annual "Willie Mac Award" prior to game on Sept. 25.

- Made a team-high 34 starts while placing fourth on club in wins (eight) and second in innings (217.2ip), strikeouts (186) and in avg. against (.251)...overall went 8-14 with a 3.76 ERA (91er, 217.2ip) for San Francisco.
- His 186 strikeouts were tied for the eighth-most among NL leaders.
- Registered the ninth-most strikeouts by a Giants pitcher prior to the All-Star Break with 121 Ks...became the 27th Giant to surpass 100-K plateau prior to the break and is part of the first trio to surpass mark in West Coast annals, joining Tim Lincecum (135) and Jonathan Sanchez (115).
- On April 12, had a no-hitter broken up by St. Louis' Albert Pujols in beginning of 7th inning...effort marked fourth time he carried a no-hitter into the 7th frame.
- Became the first Giants pitcher to have two seasons with at least two home runs (April 12 off STL's Todd Wellemeyer and May 13 off HOU's Brandon Backe).

- Endured unlucky season, going 7-16 despite a 3.65 ERA (10th in NL) and 22 quality starts (tied for sixth in the NL) in his 32 opening assignments.
- Led Giants starters in ERA, innings, strikeouts (163), avg. against (.235) and quality starts, while he was second in starts…however, SF was just 9-23 in his assignments.
- Bullpen blew five leads, while SF plated two runs-or-fewer during his outing in 21 of 32 starts (65.6%)…became 13th pitcher in SF history to lose at least 16 games in a season, yet his 3.65 ERA was the fifth-lowest among that group…became the first Giants hurler to lose that many contests since Livan Hernandez went 12-16 in 2002.
- Was just 4-for-57 (.070) at plate, but hammered his first two career HRs to become the first SF pitcher to have two in a season since Brad Hennessey in 2005…clubbed his first clout Aug. 8 off Washington's Tim Redding, before launching a solo shot off Chicago's Carlos Zambrano on Aug. 23.

- In his first full season in the big leagues led all NL rookies with 13 wins, while pacing freshmen with 179 strikeouts and ranking eighth in ERA (4.15)…also led in innings (190.2), while tying for first in starts (31)…finished third among all NL pitchers with a .222 avg. against, while ranking ninth for strikeouts.
- Was the seventh Giant to lead NL rookies in victories during SF-era, joining Frank Linzy (1965), Elias Sosa (1973, tied with MON's Steve Rogers), John D'Acquisto (1974), John Montefusco (1975), Bill Laskey (1982) and John Burkett (1990).
- His 13 wins were tied for third on SF rookie list, equalling Laskey (1982) and Ryan Jensen (2002)…Montefusco set mark with 15 wins in 1975, while Burkett is second with 14 in 1990.
- Posted the second-highest single season strikeout total by a SF rookie with 179…only Mathewson (221 in 1901) and Montefusco (215 in 1975) struck out more batters during their rookie campaign in franchise history…joined Monefusco (1975) and D'Acquisto (167 in 1974) as only SF hurlers to lead NL rookies in strikeouts.
- Tossed a one-hit shutout on May 21 at Oakland…allowed only Jay Payton's double to lead off the third, and retired 19 of his final 20 batters as SF posted a 6-0 triumph…became the youngest SF Giant to toss a 9.0 inning one-hitter at 21 years, 232 days old…Mike McCormick tossed 5.0-inning no hitter in 1959 at 20 years, 256 days.

- Earned his second consecutive USA Today Organizational Player of the Year honors for excellent work at triple-A Fresno, before bursting onto ML scene as SF made a late season run for the NL West flag.
- Had his contract purchased from Fresno Aug. 26, making big league debut Aug. 29…fashioned a 2-1 record with a 2.33 ERA(12er, 46.1ip) in seven starts.
- Posted incredible numbers as second-youngest player in the Majors over final months, behind only SEA's Felix Hernandez (19 years old)…overall, was the sixth youngest player to make his debut in big leagues during season.
- At 20 years and 332 days old when he took the mound on Aug. 29 vs. Colorado, became the youngest Giants pitcher in his first big league start since Mark Grant April 27, 1984 at Cincinnati (20 years, 185 days).
- Since 1950, was the eighth youngest Giants hurler to make his debut, and fourth-youngest for first opening assignment.
- Earned his first big league victory on Sept. 4 at Arizona, allowing one run over 7.0 innings to post a 3-2 victory…at 20 years and 319 days Sept. 4, became the fourth-youngest SF Giant to win a game and youngest since Mark Grant was 20.318 in 1984.
- Became the youngest Giant to throw a complete game in SF annals with Sept. 9 performance vs. Cubs (20 years, 343 days), when he handcuffed Chicago on two hits (courtesy: Bill Arnold/Sports Features Group).
- Was the first SF rookie to throw a complete game two-hitter since Dennis Cook did so Sept. 25, 1988 vs. Los Angeles.
- Opened the season with first taste of triple-A action, going 10-5 with a 4.39 ERA (71er, 145.2ip) in 26 starts for Fresno.

- USA Today Organizational Player of Year combined for 13-5 record with a 2.67 ERA (47er, 158.2ip) in 28 starts during dominating campaign with Class A Advanced San Jose and double-A Norwich.
- Led all SF farmhands in wins and strikeouts (161 in 158.2 innings), while pacing organization's starters in ERA.
- Opened season in San Jose, earning club's Player of the Month accolades for April, May and June while going 7-1 with a 1.86 ERA in 13 starts.
- Was selected to participate in Futures Game as part of All-Star festivities in Houston.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Chelsea Williams, November 2009)…daughters: Hartley Mae, Dec. 12, 2010 and Everly Bre, Oct. 29, 2013.
- Graduated from Houston (Germantown, TN) High School in 2002.
- Was named Tennessee's Gatorade High School Player of the Year after dominating senior year in which he posted a 7-3 record with a 1.02 ERA in 13 games.
- Received a key to the city from Mayor Ed Lee in a special pre-game ceremony on June 26, 2012, following his perfect game…Lee also declared June 13 "Matt Cain Day."
- Prior to his start on June 18 at Los Angeles-AL (his next start following his perfect game), Japanese sporting goods maker Mizuno gave him one of the most unique gifts he has ever received for a baseball achievement – a samurai sword…a traditional Japanese honor, the sword was given to Cain for making history while wearing a Mizuno glove…the company gives the authentic gift to recognize the most significant athletic achievements of its ambassadors…Mizuno has given a samurai sword to only four other Major Leaguers to honor their accomplishments. They gave it to former Braves manager Bobby Cox upon his retirement in 2010, Athletics pitcher Dallas Braden for his perfect game in 2010, Zack Greinke for winning the American League Cy Young Award in 2009 and Chipper Jones for winning the National League batting title in 2008.
- Is extremely active member in Bay Area community…has lent voice and image for Project Open Hand, non-profit that provides meal services and nutrition counseling for individuals who are over 60 years of age, homebound and critically ill, and who have systematic HIV and AIDS.

2013 SEASON

- Completed his 10th Major League season, his fourth with the Giants, going 7-2 with a 2.16 ERA (12er, 50.0ip) in 57 games.
- His 2.16 ERA was tied for the ninth-lowest figure among NL relievers.
- His seven wins matched his career-high (also had seven wins in 2010 and 2012).
- Missed 47 games due to surgery to remove a bone cyst near his right knee (May 21-July 13).
- Stranded 27 of 32 inherited runners (15.6%), which ranked as the seventh-lowest percentage in the National League.
- Opponents hit just .155 (9-for-58) off him with runners in scoring position.
- Went 7-1 with a 1.78 ERA (5er, 25.1ip) in 28 games at AT&T Park.
- His 23 holds ranked as the ninth-most among NL relievers.
- The Giants were 40-17 in the 57 games Casilla appeared in.
- Helped the Dominican Republic win the 2013 WBC by throwing 5.0-scoreless innings from the bullpen.

- Had a career year, as he went 7-6 with a 2.84 ERA (20er, 63.1ip) and going 25-for-31 in save chances, the most saves on the team and tied for the 10th-most in the NL.
- Posted career highs in wins, saves, games (73) and innings pitched.
- His 73 relief appearances were the most on the team.
- Was 19-for-20 in SV chances in his first 30 games before blowing five of nine from June 24-July 21...dealt with a blister on his throwing middle finger that affected his command.
- Held right-handed hitters to a .197 avg. (29-for-147), which ranked tenth among NL relievers.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Appeared in 11 of 16 games during the playoffs, allowing two runs (one earned run) on eight hits in 7.0 innings.
- Led the club with 11 appearances in the postseason.
- Earned the deciding victory in Game 4 of the World Series, as he tossed 0.1 of an inning.

- Was one of the Giants' top relievers, posting a career-low 1.74 ERA (10er, 51.2ip) in 49 games.
- His 1.74 ERA ranked as the second lowest among NL relievers that qualified for ERA (Atlanta's Eric O'Flaherty, 0.98).
- Missed SF's first 48 games since April 1 with an inflamed right elbow...allowed one run on Opening Day (March 31), his only inning before being placed on the DL on April 6.
- Returned from his rehab assignment and was reinstated off the disabled list on May 28.
- Fashioned a 0.68 ERA (2er, 26.2ip) in 25 games at AT&T Park, the lowest home figure among NL relievers (min. of 25.0ip) and lowest mark by any Giants reliever in AT&T Park history (min. of 25.0ip).
- With Brian Wilson on the DL from mid-Aug. to mid-Sept., was used as SF's closer, going 6-for-6 in save chances.

- Was one of the Giants most reliable bullpen arms during the 2010 championship season as he established career-bests in wins (seven), ERA (1.95, 12er, 55.1ip), innings pitched (55.1ip), strikeouts (56), avg. against (.208), hits allowed (40) and home runs allowed (two).
- Missed the first month of spring training with visa problems in the Dominican Republic.
- His seven wins were tied for third most among NL relievers.
- Stranded 41 of 47 inherited runners, including 25 of his last 27...his inherited runners scored % of 12.8 was the 2nd lowest in the Majors, behind Houston's Wilton Lopez (3.0%)...that 12.8% was also lowest by any Giants reliever since at least 1970.
- Tossed a career-high 3.0 innings Aug. 10 vs. Chicago-NL.
- Began the season with triple-A Fresno and appeared in four games going 0-0 with two saves, 0.00 ERA (0er, 4.0ip) and seven strikeouts.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Appeared in four games during the postseason, going 0-0 with a 1.93 ERA (1er, 4.2ip).
- Made one appearance in the Division Series, tossing 1.2-scoreless innings with two strikeouts in Game 4 vs.

Atlanta.

- Appeared in two games in the LCS, going 0-0 with a 5.40 ERA (1er, 1.2ip) and two strikeouts…only hits allowed during LCS were run scoring doubles (three-run 2B by Jimmy Rollins in Game 2 and two run 2B to Placido Polanco in Game 6).

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Went 1-2 with a 5.96 ERA (32er, 48.1ip) in 46 games for the A's after making the Opening Day roster for the second-consecutive season in 2009.
- Was reinstated from the DL May 15 and compiled a 7.30 ERA and .356 opponents avg. against in 37 games following his return.
- Made the A's Opening Day roster for the first time in 2008 and was off to a strong start before going on the disabled list…had a 0.93 ERA (2er, 19.1ip) and .185 avg. against (12-for-65) in 21 games before he was placed on the 15-day DL May 16 with a right elbow soreness.
- Had six wild pitches, which was tied for the second most among AL relievers.
- Began the season with a 17.1-inning scoreless streak, which equaled the second-longest season opening scoreless streak by a reliever who started the season with A's in Oakland history.
- Allowed his first run of the season on May 10 at Texas as that snapped his career-high scoreless streak at 21.1 innings dating back to Sept. 18, 2007…at time, it was the longest scoreless streak by an A's reliever since Rick Honeycutt had 24.1-inning streak from July 1-Sept. 14, 1995.
- Saw his first significant playing time in the Majors in 2007 and went 3-1 with two saves, three blown saves and a 4.44 ERA (25er, 50.2ip) in 46 relief appearances.
- Recorded his first Major League win June 4 against Boston when he tossed a scoreless 11th inning in the A's 5-4 win.
- Picked up his first career save June 6 against the Red Sox, as he entered the game in the 8th inning with two outs and a runner on first with the A's leading 3-2 and retired four of the final five batters.
- Was ejected from the game Aug. 23 at Tampa Bay by home plate umpire John Hirschbeck for throwing at Brendan Harris.
- Appeared in just two games with the A's and had his season cut short by injury in 2006…was placed on the disabled list June 21 with a strained right shoulder and missed the remainder of the season.
- Had two stints with Oakland throughout the 2005 season, going 0-0 with a 3.00 ERA (1er, 3.0ip).
- Called up for first time June 17 and faced Philadelphia that night (1.0 ip, 1h)…was optioned to triple-A Sacramento June 21.
- Returned to Oakland Sept. 12 and appeared in two games during his second stint (2.0ip, 1h, 1r, 1er, 1bb, 1so).
- Made his Major League debut Aug. 9, 2004 at Minnesota, pitching final 2.0 innings of A's 8-2 win (0h, 0r, 2bb, 1so).

Giants Gems

- Santiago's first gloves were homemade: thick cardboard into which he cut three holes for his ring, middle and index fingers. He received his first real glove in a community giveaway by late Giants shortstop Jose Uribe.
- He is the seventh of 12 children to subsistence farmers. His younger brother Jose is a righthanded relief pitcher in the Giants farm system.
- Santiago is married and has a three-year-old daughter and one-year-old son.
- From the same Dominican town as former Giants' infielder Juan Uribe, who reached the pros three years before Santiago. Santiago remembers going to Uribe's house as a child and asking him for baseball socks.

- Was brought back to Oakland Sept. 14 and made just one appearance after his return on Sept. 15 against Texas…had 12.71 ERA (8er, 5.2ip) in four appearances overall with the A's.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- His 26 saves tied for the most in the A's farm system in 2005…20 of his saves came at Sacramento, which led the team and ranked fifth in the Pacific Coast League.
- His 19 saves ranked second in the A's farm system in 2004…struck out 102 for an average of 14.89 strikeouts per 9.0 innings which was the 2nd-best ratio among all minor league relievers.
- Was on the disabled list from July 12-29, 2003 with a pulled left hamstring.
- Ranked third in ARL in ERA (2.85) and fifth in strikeouts (66) in 2002.
- Appeared in three games in the outfield with Arizona and was 6-for-13 (.462) with two 2Bs, 3B and five RBI.
- Made his professional debut in 2000 in the Dominican League for the Athletics, going 6-2 with a 3.26 ERA (17er, 47.0ip) in 11 games (10 starts).

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Name is pronounced sahn-tee-AH-goh kuh-SEE-uh.
- Pitched under name of Jairo Garcia from 2000-05.
- Was originally signed by Bernardino Rosario and Raymond Abreu.

- Is one of six players in Major League history to hit a grand slam in his first big league game

2013 SEASON

- In his third big league season (his second full campaign), Crawford appeared in 149 games, making 139 starts (all at shortstop) and batted .248 (124-for-499) with 24 doubles, nine HRs and 43 RBI.
- His 15 errors at shortstop were tied for the third-most in the NL.
- Committed 10 errors in the first half of the season...however, following the break, made just five miscues.
- Established a career high with nine home runs (entered the year with seven career HRs in two seasons).
- Struggled against left-handed pitching, hitting .199 (29-for-146).
- Was just 21-for-122 (.172) with runners in scoring position, which ranked as the third-lowest mark in the Majors (min. 100 ABs).
- Made his second career Opening Day roster and start.
- Hit a three-run opposite field HR on April 9 vs. Colorado in SF's four-run 6th inning...marked just his second career home run at AT&T Park (came in his 363rd plate appearance at AT&T)...prior to this homer, the last time he hit an opposite field home run was when he was in single-A San Jose.
- Hit safely in a career-high 11 games from April 7-18, batting .432 (16-for-37) during the stretch.
- Recorded a career-best four hits on June 8 at Arizona, going 4-for-5 with a double, RBI and run scored.

- In his first full big league season Crawford batted .248(108-for-435) with 44 runs scored, 26 2Bs, three 3Bs, four HRs and 45 RBI in 143 games for San Francisco.
- Started 122 of the Giants' 162 games (all at shortstop).
- His 18 errors at shortstop were the second-most in the NL.
- Committed 12 errors in his first 59 games, which at that time ranked as the second-most among all big league shortstops (April 4-June 17)...however, since the break, committed just six miscues, tied with Zack Cozart for the second-fewest in the NL (Paul Janish, two).
- Became just the third player drafted by the Giants to start at shortstop on Opening Day since Royce Clayton in 1995 (other player was Brian Bocock in 2008).
- Finished second among NL shortstops in All-Star fan voting, receiving 3,666,897 votes…was just 306,024 votes behind St. Louis' Rafael Furcal (3,972,921).
- Was ejected for the first time in his career on July 23 vs. San Diego…was thrown out by first base umpire Jordan Baker in the eighth inning after he hit an apparent double in the sixth inning but was ruled out by Baker, who said he missed the bag.
- Recorded his first career game-winning hit on July 24 vs. San Diego, delivering a walk-off single in the bottom of the ninth inning off of LHP Joe Thatcher, giving the Giants a 3-2 win.

- Hit his first career pinch-hit home run on Aug. 13 vs. Washington, hitting a two-run shot off of LHP Gio Gonzalez in the seventh inning of SF's 14-2 loss.
- Batted .289 (37-for-128) with a .340 OBP in his last 47 games.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Started all 16 games at shortstop and batted .217 10-for-46) with seven RBI in his first career post season, helping the Giants win their second World Series championship in San Francisco history.
- At 25 years old he became the fifth-youngest Giants player to start at shortstop in a postseason game since Matt Williams in 1989 (23 years old).

- Reached the big leagues in his fourth professional season, playing in 66 games with San Francisco... batted .204 (40-for-196) with three HRs and 21 RBI… committed seven errors while starting 53 games at shortstop for SF.
- Had trouble with left-handed pitchers, batting only .133 (4-for-30), compared to .217 (36-for-166) against right-handers.
- Initially missed beginning of campaign with a broken finger sustained during spring training…was added to the Class A Advanced San Jose roster on May 11, where he hit .322 (19-for-59) with three HRs and 15 RBI in 14 games.
- Had his contract purchased from San Jose on May 26, as the Giants placed Mike Fontenot, Darren Ford and Buster Posey all on the DL.
- Made his Major League debut on May 27 at Milwaukee and hit a grand slam in the 7th inning that turned a 3-1 deficit into a 5-3 lead and helped the Giants to a 5-4 victory…became only the sixth player in Major League history to hit a grand slam in his first big league game... others: Bill Duggleby, Phillies (April 21, 1898); Bobby Bonds, Giants (June 25, 1968); Jeremy Hermida, Marlins (Aug. 31, 2005); Kevin Kouzmanoff, Indians (Sept. 2, 2006); and Daniel Nava, Red Sox (June 12, 2010)...Duggleby, Hermida, Kouzmanoff and Nava each accomplished feat in their first career at-bat (Elias).
- Became the first Giants player to have his first Major League hit be a grand slam since Brian Dallimore did it on April 30, 2004 vs. Florida...Dallimore homered in his third career plate appearance off LHP Dontrelle Willis... Crawford became one of 11 players in Giants franchise history (since 1919) to have his first Major League hit be a home run in his first Major League game.
- Was optioned to triple-A Fresno on July 31 when the Giants acquired IF Orlando Cabrera from Cleveland…had started 41 of SF's 60 games at shortstop during his first call-up, while hitting .190 (29-for-153) with two HRs and 17 RBI.
- Batted .234 (25-for-107) with a HR and nine RBI in 29 games with triple-A Fresno, before being recalled Sept. 2.
- Finished the season on a hot note, batting .313 (10-for-32) over his final 12 games, starting 11 of SF's final 17 contests.
- Following the season he played for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League.

Giants Gems

- Lived in Menlo Park until the age of seven, then moved to Pleasanton.
- Grew up a Giants fan because his father was a Giants fan and season-ticket holder at Candlestick (seats on the third-base side).
- His favorite player was Royce Clayton because he played shortstop. Also liked Will Clark, Barry Bonds and Kirt Manwaring. But his favorite player was Alex Rodriguez.
- Father Michael is a lawyer who works in the contracts department for Northrop Grumman, a global security company, in San Jose.
- His mother Lynn is a fifth-grade teacher at Vintage Hills Elementary in Pleasanton.
- Crawford starred at Foothill High in Pleasanton, where he batted .357 over a three-year varsity career. He also played quarterback and safety on the Foothill High football team.
- He has three younger sisters, Amy, Kaitlin and Jenna, who also are athletes.
- Brandon majored in physiological science during his three years at UCLA.
- Married former UCLA gymnast Jalynne Dantzscher November 26, 2011.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Missed nearly eight weeks of the 2010 season after breaking his right hand after being hit by a line drive while fielding a ground ball off a fungo bat…prior to the injury was named to the Eastern League mid-season All-Star team.
- Played for the Scottsdale Scorpions of the Arizona Fall League at the conclusion of the 2009 regular season.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

2013 SEASON

- Made nine appearances for the Giants, allowing four hits and two walks in 7.2-scoreless innings with 12 strikeouts.
- Had his contract purchased from triple-A Fresno on Sept. 3 and made his Major League debut that night at San Diego...tossed 1.0-perfect inning with two strikeouts.
- Allowed just one extra-base hit in 27 at-bats.
- Faced 19 right-handed batters and recorded 11 strikeouts.
- Set a Grizzlies franchise record with 31 saves this season and ranked second in the PCL, as he went 31-for-36 in save opportunities.
- Appeared in 54 games with Fresno, posting a 4.07 ERA (25er, 55.1ip) with 63 strikeouts.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- In 2012, he spent the majority of his third professional season with triple-A Fresno, going 1-1 with a 4.74 ERA (20er, 38.0ip) along with 15 saves in 17 chances in 39 relief appearances.
- Finished in a tie for sixth in the PCL in saves, which were also tied with Jean Machi for the most on the team…his 15 rescues were the seventh-most by a Grizzlies pitcher in a single season in team history.
- Was sidelined for a month of the season from July 5-Aug. 7 with a flexor tendon strain in his pitching elbow.
- Was named to the Pacific Coast League mid-season All-Star team, but did not participate due to his stint on the DL…it marked his second career All-Star nomination.
- Earned PCL Pitcher of the Week honors for the week ending April 30.
- Pitched in the Arizona Fall League following the season and was named to the AFL Rising Stars team after going 2-for-2 in save chances while posting a 3.00 ERA (3er, 9.0ip) in nine relief outings.
- Had one of the best seasons among all Giants minor league relievers in 2011, going 1-1 with 38 saves and a 1.86 ERA (11er, 53.1ip) between Class A Advanced San Jose (26 games) and double-A Richmond (28 games).
- His 38 saves led the minor leagues.
- Began season with San Jose and went 0-0 with a 0.73 ERA (2er, 24.2ip) with 44 strikeouts and only 12 walks in 26 games.
- Despite only playing for San Jose for half of the season, led CAL league with 21 saves.
- Was named to the California mid-season All-Star team.
- Was promoted to double-A Richmond on June 16 and proceeded to go 1-1 with a 2.83 ERA (9er, 28.2ip) with 17 saves and 34 punchouts in 28 games.
- Had stretch of 32-consecutive successful save opportunities combined between San Jose and Richmond dating from April 16 to Aug. 3…posted 2.00 ERA (8er, 36.0ip) during stretch with 63 strikeouts.
- Following the season was named a Topps Class A All-Star and MiLB Organziation All-Star.
- Made his professional debut with the ARL-Giants in 2010, appearing in only 12 games.

- Three-time All-Star (2000, 2004, 2010)
- 2010 NL Comeback Player of the Year
- 2010 Major League Hutch Award winner
- Finished second in AL Cy Young voting in 2000
- Led the AL in wins in 2000 (20)
- Underwent "Tommy John" surgery in August of 2008
- Has never had a losing season as a professional pitcher
- Enters 2014 season tied with CC Sabathia for the most wins among active pitchers (205)

2013 SEASON

- Went 8-7 with a 3.97 ERA (58er, 131.1ip) in a 21 start stretch for the Braves.
- Missed the last two-plus months of the season after the Mets' Eric Young Jr., who was trying to beat a throw to first base, accidentally stepped on Hudson's leg above the ankle, resulting in a fracture that ended his season.
- Underwent surgery July 26 to repair a fractured fubula and torn deltoid ligament.
- The procedure was performed by Dr. Marvin Royster in Atlanta, GA.
- Prior to the injury, he had gone 4-3 with a 2.73 ERA and a 50-to-19 strikeout/walk ratio over a span of his final 10 starts from June 1 through July 24.
- Snapped a 10-game winless streak-the longest of his career- on July 6 at Philadelphia.
- Was named NL Player of the Week for April 29-May 5… went 2-0 and notched his 200th, 201st career wins.
- On April 30th, earned his 200th career win to become the 110th pitcher in MLB history to reach 200 wins.

- Allowed only 12 home runs in 179.0 innings and ranked fourth in the Majors (second in NL) in fewest homers allowed per 9 IP, at 0.60…overall, the Braves won 20 of his 28 starts.
- Snapped his season-best seven-game winning streak with a 5-1 loss on Sept. 1 vs. PHI…before that, his last loss was July 1 vs. Washington, a span of 10 starts.
- In 16 starts after July 6 (at PHI), went 10-3 with a 3.42 ERA (38er, 100.0ip), as the Braves went 12-4 in that stretch.
- In games after missing his June 10 start with left ankle inflammation, went 12-4 with a 3.53 ERA over 20 starts.
- Was the Braves' nominee for the 2012 Roberto Clemente Award.
- Spent most of Spring Training and the first month of the season recovering from surgery to repair a herniated disc in his back (Nov. 28, 2011).

- In his seventh season with Atlanta, led the Braves pitching staff for the second consecutive season with 16 wins (2010, 17) and 215.0 innings pitched (2010, 228.2ip).
- Ranked second on the staff with 158 strikeouts and second among starting pitchers (minimum 20 GS) with a 3.22 ERA.
- Led the Braves staff and ranked seventh in the NL with 23 quality starts.
- On Sept. 17 vs. New York-NL, recorded his 12th career 10+ strikeout game, fanning 10 in a 1-0 win.
- Hit his second career home run, a two-run shot to left field, on June 20 vs. Toronto off Ricky Romero.
- Had his best game of the season, and one of the best of his career, on June 20 vs. Toronto...pitched 8.0 scoreless innings and hit a two-run homer in the Braves' 2-0 win over the Blue Jays...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, in the last 40 seasons, only four other individuals pitched in a game and hit a home run that accounted for all of that game's runs: Bob Welch (1983 Dodgers), Odalis Perez (2002 Dodgers), Brad Hennessey (2005 Giants) and Yovani Gallardo (2009 Brewers).
- On May 4 vs. Milwaukee (game two of a doubleheader), tossed his 24th career complete game and 12th career shutout...the Braves defeated the Brewers 8-0, as Hudson allowed only one hit, walked just one and faced two batters over the minimum...the outing was his third career one-hit shutout and his first complete-game win since May 2, 2008 vs. Cincinnati...he threw first pitch strikes to 27 of 29 batters faced.

- Missed his scheduled start on May 25 at Pittsburgh with lower back tightness... returned to the rotation on May 30 vs. San Diego.

- Completed his first full season since 2007 leading the Braves with 17 wins, 228.2 innings pitched and 25 quality starts…was named to his third career All-Star team and first as a National Leaguer.
- Named the 2010 National League Comeback Player of the Year.
- Underwent "Tommy John" surgery on Aug. 8, 2008 and made just seven starts in 2009.
- Was the recipient of the 2010 Hutch Award for his outstanding community service.
- Finished first in the Majors with a 75.2 ground ball percentage...ranked ninth in the Majors with a 2.83 ERA and tied for fourth in quality starts...his 17 wins tied for fourth in the NL, he was seventh in home ERA (2.48), and ninth in opponents' batting average (.229).
- His 17 wins were the most he recorded since winning 18 in 2001.
- Was named the National League Pitcher of the Month for August...over six starts, he went 4-0 with a 1.71 ERA... the Braves won five of his six starts, as he posted 35 strikeouts over 42.0 innings pitched.
- Eclipsed the 1,500 career strikeout mark in his outing on Aug. 28 vs. Florida by striking out the first two batters (Cameron Maybin and Logan Morrison) of the game.
- From July 22-Aug. 13, won each of his five starts (0.49 ERA) while posting at least 6.0 innings pitched and allowing no more than one run in any of his games...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Hudson became only the second pitcher in Braves history to have five straight starts of that nature...Al Javery last turned the trick back in 1942.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Started Game 3 of the Division Series at Turner Field... Held SF to one run (zero earned) on four hits through 7.0 IP...Hudson exited the game down 1-0 and did not receive a decision in the Braves 3-2 defeat to the Giants.

2009

- Made just seven starts all season as he was still recovering from "Tommy John" surgery.
- On Sept. 1 at Florida, started and won for the first time since July 23, 2008 (and since having "Tommy John" surgery on Aug. 8, 2008)…allowed six hits, three in the 1st inning, in the 4-3 win.
- Hit his first career home run on Sept. 12 at St. Louis off Kyle Lohse.
- Made six rehabilitation starts, four with triple-A Gwinnett and two with high-A Myrtle Beach, from July 19 to Aug. 23...went 1-0 with a 3.38 ERA (7er/18.2ip) in four starts with the Gwinnett Braves and in two starts for Myrtle Beach, was 0-1 with a 5.79 ERA.
- On November 11, agreed to terms on a three-year contract extension through 2012, with a club option for 2013.

- Posted his lowest ERA (3.17) since 2003, but his season was cut short due to injury, he still won 11 games, his 10th consecutive season of at least 10 wins (dating back to 1999).
- Went on the disabled list July 27 to the end of the season and had successful "Tommy John" surgery performed on his right elbow by Dr. James Andrews in Pensacola, FL on Aug. 8.
- His nine first-half victories tied for the second-most (10 in 2000) he's recorded pre-All-Star break in his career and his 21 starts were the most he made in the first half.
- Made his first career regular season relief appearance July 13 at San Diego (1.0 ip) after making 300 career starts.
- Fired his first complete game and shutout of the season on May 2 vs. Cincinnati, allowing just three hits and walking none... recorded 10 strikeouts in the first 6.0 innings, his 10th career 10+ strikeout game; it was his 22nd CG and 11th career shutout, both coming Sept. 16, 2007 at Washington…became the first Brave since John Smoltz on Sept. 6, 1998 vs. New York-NL to have 10+ strikeouts in a CG without issuing a walk.

- Went 16-10 with a 3.33 ERA, his best marks since going 16-7 with a 2.70 ERA for Oakland in 2003.
- Atlanta won 13 of his last 18 games and went 22-12 in his starts.
- Led the team with 34 starts.
- Allowed only 10 HRs and his ratio of 0.40 HRs allowed per 9 IP was second in the Majors to LAD's B. Penny (0.39).
- Had the most total chances fielding without making an error than any pitcher in baseball (70 TC).
- Ranked fourth in the NL with 25 quality starts.
- Had a nine-game winning streak (the longest in the NL in '07) snapped at St. Louis on Aug. 25...held a 3-0 lead in the 5th inning, but the Cards plated five runs on six hits, it marked just his second career loss (first since 2000) when holding a lead of three or more runs.
- Earned his fourth straight win Aug. 15 vs. San Francisco in a 6-3 win...Barry Bonds' HR in the 6th inning snapped a 66-inning homerless stretch for Tim, dating back to Boston's David Ortiz in the fourth inning on June 19 at Atlanta.
- Was forced to leave his start on June 9 vs. Chicago-NL after taking a Jacque Jones liner off his left shin; X-rays were negative...Took a line drive off his left wrist (off the bat of Josh Bard) to lead off the inning...finished the inning, and X-rays were taken after he came out of the game (negative).
- Pitched with a heavy heart on April 30 vs. Philadelphia, following the deaths the previous morning of his grandmother and his friend and former Auburn (1997) teammate Josh Hancock...went 8.0 innings and left with the score tied 2-2.
- Was named the Bank of America NL Player of the Week for the week ending April 15 (2-0, 0.64 ERA, in two starts).

- Went 13-12 with a career-high 4.86 ERA.
- He tied John Smoltz for the team lead in starts (35)
- Tossed his ninth career shutout - his first as a Brave - and his second career one-hitter in a 2-0 win over Colorado on May 5...allowed the game's only hit on a 3rd inning single by Rockies pitcher Jason Jennings.
- Threw his first CG of the season and 19th of his career on April 19 at New York-NL, outdueling Tom Glavine 2-1, and allowed just three hits and a 9th inning run.

- Had a successful first season with the Braves, despite missing 28 team games with a strained left oblique muscle...went 14-9 with a 3.52 ERA and managed to work 192.0 innings in his 29 starts.
- Came to Atlanta via trade from Oakland on Dec. 16, 2004.
- On March 1, 2005, he signed a four-year contract extension through 2009 with a club option for 2010.
- Matched up with Roger Clemens in a masterpiece at Houston on April 18, as the Braves won 1-0 in 12 innings (Ryan Langerhans HR)...pitched 9.0 scoreless innings, allowing just four hits and one walk while fanning nine.
- Suffered his fifth loss at Texas on June 13, as he struggled through 2.2 innings with a strained left oblique muscle... was placed on the disabled list on June 16, retroactive to June 14, with a strained left oblique muscle.
- Was activated from the DL on July 16 and made his first start since June 13...pitched 6.0 shutout innings, allowing just five hits and no walks in the 3-0 win...threw only 62 pitches and also collected his second career double, his first extra-base hit since June 14, 2002 at San Francisco.
- Recorded his 100th career win with an 8-1 decision at St. Louis on Aug. 6, allowing just one 1st inning run in 7.0 innings of work...his 100th win came in his 202nd career start...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, he became just the sixth pitcher since 1970 to notch his 100th win in 202 or fewer games; the last was Andy Pettitte, in his 196th game on Sept. 24, 2000…the others to do it since 1970: Tom Seaver (186th game) on May 11, 1972, Dwight Gooden (173rd) on June 19, 1989, Roger Clemens (182nd) on May 5, 1990 and Mike Mussina (178th) on June 30, 1997.
- His strikeout of Tom Glavine in the 6th inning was the 1,000th of his career on Sept. 7 vs. New York-NL.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Started Game 1 of the Division Series vs. Houston in Atlanta and gave up five runs on seven hits and five walks in 6.2 innings in a 10-5 loss.
- Started the finale in Game 4 in Houston and left with a 5-1 lead after allowing three runs in 7.0 innings (BB, 5 K) before the bullpen allowed four runs in the bottom of the 8th and one in the 9th in a 7-6 Astros' win in 18 innings.

- Went 12-6 with a 3.53 ERA in just 27 starts as he spent over a month of the season on the disabled list with a strained left oblique.
- Was named to his second AL All-Star team but did not pitch, as he was on the DL.
- His ERA was the second highest of his career (4.14 in 2000) but it was fifth lowest in the AL in 2004.
- His wins and starts were second fewest to his 11 wins in 21 starts during his rookie campaign of 1999.
- Ranked fifth in the AL in ERA...tied for the lead in shutouts (two), tied for fourth in winning percentage (.667) and tied for fifth in complete games (three).
- Tied with teammate Rich Harden for the second lowest opponents slugging percentage (.366) in the AL, tied for the third fewest pitches per inning (14.6) and had the sixth fewest walks per nine innings (2.10).
- Allowed just eight home runs in 188.2 innings, an average of 0.38 per nine innings which was the lowest in the Majors in 2004 and the third lowest ever by an Oakland pitcher...his eight home runs were the fewest ever by an Oakland pitcher with a minimum of 162.0 innings pitched.
- Was 7-3 with a 2.98 ERA (36 ER in 108.2 IP) over his first 15 starts of the year when he was placed on the 15-day disabled list retroactive to June 23 with a left oblique strain...was reinstated from the DL on Aug. 7 and went 5-3 with a 4.28 ERA (38 ER in 80.0 IP) in 12 starts following his return.

- Compiled a career-best 2.70 ERA and tossed a career-high 240.0 innings but was just 16-7 in 34 starting assignment.
- Tied for the AL lead in shutouts (two), ranked second in ERA, third in innings, tied for fifth in games started, tied for seventh in complete games (three), tied for eighth in wins, ninth in winning percentage (.696) and 10th in strikeouts (162).
- Led the A's in wins, ERA, innings and strikeouts and tied for the lead in shutouts…allowed a career-low .308 opponents slugging percentage, which was the lowest in the AL and second lowest in the Majors (Webb-ARI, .307).
- Ranked third in the AL in opponent batting average (.223) and fourth in opponents' on-base percentage (.280) and both of those figures were career low.
- Led Major League pitchers with 76 total chances.
- Ranked third in the AL in home ERA and ninth in home wins.
- Was second in the AL in ERA (2.69) after the break and tied for third in wins (nine).
- Had one of the best outings of his career on Aug. 11 in Oakland when he needed just 93 pitches to toss a two-hit, 2-0 complete game shutout against Boston and Pedro Martinez.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Made two starts vs. Boston in the Division Series and had two no-decisions and a 3.52 ERA...had a no decision in Game 1, a 5-4 A's win in 12 innings (6.2 IP, 10 H, 3 R, 3 ER, 1 BB, 5 SO).

- Compiled a then-career-best 2.98 ERA, which ranked sixth in the AL…went 15-9 with 10 no decisions in his 34 starting assignments.

- In addition to ranking sixth in the AL in ERA, he also tied for second in games started and shutouts, third in innings (238.1) and hits allowed, tied for fourth in complete games (four), fifth in home runs per nine innings (0.72), seventh in opponents average with runners in scoring position (.230) and ninth in strikeouts (152)…the 237 hits allowed were the most by an A's pitcher since Dave Stewart allowed 245 in 1991.
- Opponents grounded into 35 double plays, which was the most in the Majors and the most by an A's pitcher since Vida Blue also had 35 in 1974.
- Did not commit an error in 53 total chances, the most by an AL pitcher without an error and the second most chances in Oakland history by a pitcher without an error (Rick Langford, 62 in 1979).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Made two postseason starts against Minnesota in the Division Series and was 0-1 with a 6.23 ERA...had a no decision in the A's 7-5 loss in Game 1 and was the losing pitcher in the A's 11-2 loss in Game 4, allowing seven runs, two earned, in 3.1 innings.

2001

- Tied for fourth in the AL with 18 wins and made 35 starts which tied teammate Barry Zito for the AL lead…struck out 181 which ranked sixth in the AL...ranked second in the AL in innings (235.0), fifth in ERA (3.37) and tied for ninth in complete games (three).
- Won 11 games on the road which ranked second in the AL (Sabathia 13).
- Made his first Opening Day start, becoming the ninth different pitcher in nine years to start an opener for the A's.
- Extended his regular-season winning streak to eight games dating back to 2000 on April 7 against Anaheim… struck out a career-high-tying 11 against the Angels, a feat he later matched on June 22 against Texas.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Made two appearances against the Yankees in the Division Series, including his first career relief appearance, and was 1-0 with a 0.93 ERA...combined with Jason Isringhausen on a seven-hit shutout in the A's 2-0 win at NYY in Game 2 (8.0 IP, 6 H, 1 BB, 3 K).
- Relieved Mark Mulder in the 5th inning of Game 5 in NY with the A's trailing 4-3 and allowed a solo home run to David Justice in 1.2 innings (2 H, 1 R, 1 ER, 2 K).

- Became the seventh 20-game winner in Oakland history (15th time) by winning the A's final game of the season, the AL West Division clinching 3-0 win over TEX on Oct. 1.
- Tied Toronto's David Wells for the AL lead with 20 wins and was one of four 20-game winners in the Majors.
- Was named to his first AL All-Star team and finished second in the AL Cy Young balloting to Pedro Martinez.
- Became the first Oakland pitcher to win 20 games since Bob Welch (27-6) and Dave Stewart (22-11) in 1990...was the first Oakland 20-game winner that was drafted by the A's since Mike Norris went 22-9 in 1980.
- Led the Majors with a .769 winning percentage…had a 21-4 career record after his first 25 decisions...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, he was the fifth starting pitcher in history to post a 21-4 record over his first 25 decisions, joining King Cole (1909-10), Whitey Ford (1950, 53), Vida Blue (1969-71) and Juan Guzman (1991-92).
- Ranked second in the AL with a .227 opponents batting average, tied for second with two shutouts, eighth with 169 strikeouts and 7.5 strikeouts per nine innings and ninth with a 4.14 ERA.
- Had a career-best nine-game winning streak from April 25 to July 2 (3.40 ERA) which tied for the longest in the Majors in 2000.
- Took a no-hitter into the 7th inning on April 4 against Detroit before Tony Clark doubled with one out.
- Lasted just 2.1 innings on April 20 at Cleveland as he was removed after being hit in the chest by a Roberto Alomar line drive in the 3rd inning; suffered a right chest contusion but did not miss a turn.
- Became the first A's pitcher to have 10 wins by the All-Star Break since 1992 (Mike Moore, 10-7).
- Made his first All-Star Game appearance on July 11 at Atlanta and retired the side in order in the 8th inning.
- Had his nine-game winning streak snapped on July 21 in the A's 12-3 loss to Anaheim when he yielded a career-high-tying nine runs on a career-high 12 hits.
- Began his season-ending seven-game winning streak by tossing his first career shutout, a one-hitter in the A's 3-0 win over Chicago-AL on Aug. 28…posted a 1.16 ERA during the seven-game winning streak.
- Ended up going 5-0 with a 1.69 ERA in five September starts and was named American League Pitcher of the Month...finished the season with a seven-game winning streak.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Lost his only start of the Division Series vs. New York-AL, tossing a complete-game six-hitter in the A's 4-2 loss in Game 3 at Yankee Stadium.

1999

- Was named AL Rookie Pitcher of the Year by Sporting News and finished fifth in the BBWAA Rookie of the Year balloting.
- Selected from triple-A Vancouver on June 7 and led the team with 132 strikeouts in 21 starts with the A's.
- Was second on the club in wins and his .846 won-loss percentage was the best ever by an Oakland rookie.
- Led all AL rookies in ERA (min. 100 IP) and won-loss percentage (min. 10 decisions), ranked second in strikeouts and tied for second in wins...averaged 8.71 strikeouts per nine innings.
- Became Oakland's first 10-game winner that was drafted by the A's since Curt Young (4th round, 1981) went 11-8 in 1988.
- Made his Major League debut on June 8 at San Diego and had a no decision in the A's 5-3 loss...struck out an A's season-high 11 batters in just 5.0 innings, setting an Oakland record for strikeouts in a Major League debut; fell one short of the franchise record and AL record of 12 set by Elmer Myers of the Philadelphia A's on Oct. 6, 1915... the 11 strikeouts tied the Oakland rookie record set by

- Recorded his first Major League win in his second start, a 9-3 victory over LA on June 13 (7.0 IP, 7 H, 2 R, 1 ER, 2 BB, 8 K).
- Defeated Randy Johnson at Arizona on July 10 and would later defeat Pedro Martinez at Boston on Aug. 19...joined Montreal's Mike Thurman (1999) as the only two pitchers in history to defeat both Cy Young award winners in the season in which they won the award.
- Tossed his first career complete game on Sept. 4, a four-hitter in the A's 2-1 win over Detroit.

- Began the year at Modesto (A) but quickly earned a promotion to Huntsville (AA) on May 8.
- Led Huntsville in strikeouts (104) and complete games and finished second in wins, starts and innings pitched (134.2)...combined for a 14-9 record and a 3.92 ERA in 30 games, 27 starts.
- His win total tied for the most in the A's farm system and he also ranked second in strikeouts (152) and 10th in ERA.
- Earned California League Pitcher of the Week honors, April 13-19, tossing 10 scoreless innings with 16 strikeouts in two outings.

1997

- Assigned to Southern Oregon after signing and went 3-1 with a 2.51 ERA in eight games, four starts...struck out 37 in 28.2 innings and did not allow a home run...held opponents to a .128 average.

- Tossed his first career no-hitter on July 13, 2013 at San Diego
- Named The Sporting News' 2008 and 2009 NL Pitcher of the Year
- Is one of just four pitchers to win the NL Cy Young Award in back-to-back seasons
- Is the first player to win a Cy Young Award twice in his first two full seasons in the Majors
- Is the Giants franchise leader for wins in a single postseason with four, set in 2010
- Is the Giants franchise record holder for number of games pitched with 10+ strikeouts – 35
- Is the third Giant ever to have four-straight seasons with at least 200 strikeouts (2008-11)
- Ranks ninth and 10th on Giants franchise list in Ks for a single season (2008, 265; 2009, 261)
- His 265 strikeouts in 2008 are a SF-era single season record
- Is one of three SF Giants to lead NL rookies in strikeouts (150 in 2007)
- Is the fifth quickest Giant to reach the Majors following baseball's June draft (334 days)
- 2006 Golden Spikes Award winner as collegiate baseball's top player

2013 SEASON

- Completed his seventh season in a Giants uniform, going 10-14 with a 4.37 ERA (96er, 197.2ip) along with 193 strikeouts in 32 starts.
- Joined Juan Marichal, Gaylord Perry and Kirk Rueter as the only Giants pitchers in the SF-era (since 1958) to record at least 10 wins in six consecutive seasons.
- His 1,510 career strikeouts are the third-most since 1893 through a pitchers first seven seasons, behind Tom Seaver (1,655) and Bert Blyleven (1,546) (Elias).
- Among NL leaders ranked 10th with 193 strikeouts and 11th with 8.79 strikeouts per 9.0 innings...his 14 losses were tied for the third-most in the league, his 76 walks issued were tied for the fourth-highest and his 102 runs allowed were the seventh-most.
- Opponents went 21-for-23 (91.3%) in stolen base attempts against him for the fifth-highest percentage among NL pitchers...his 21 stolen bases against were the fourth-most in the league.
- Did not walk a batter in his start on May 1 at Arizona, snapping a string of 59-consecutive starts with a walk (had been the longest active streak in MLB).
- Matched his career-high by allowing eight runs (8 earned) on July 22 vs. Cincinnati, an 11-0 loss...logged just 3.2 innings and allowed three home runs for the third time in his career.
- Tossed his first career no-hitter on July 13 at San Diego...was the 15th in franchise history and marked the seventh no-hitter in San Francisco-era history...was the first no-hitter by a Giants pitcher on the road since RHP John Montefusco's no-no on Sept. 29, 1976 at Atlanta.
- Became the fifth multiple Cy Young Award winner at the time of his first no-hitter (also: Johan Santana, Bret Saberhagen, Tom Seaver and Bob Gibson).
- Needed 148 pitches for his first no-hitter, one shy of the most in any no-no in the last quarter century...Edwin Jackson threw 149 pitches in his no-hitter at Tampa Bay on June 25, 2010.
- Lincecum struck out six-straight Padres from the 2nd inning to the 4th, tying the most consecutive Ks in his career (also: June 23, 2011, against the Twins) (Stats, LLC).
- Was the losing pitcher in Homer Bailey's June 2nd no-hitter...the only pitcher who was the loser in a no-no and then threw the next one in baseball was Mal Eason in 1906 with Brooklyn (Elias).
- Was named NL Player of the Week for July 8-14 after tossing his first career no-hitter...marked the second time in his career that he won MLB's weekly award.

- Battled during his sixth season in the big leagues, going

10-15 with a 5.18 ERA (107er, 186.0ip) and 190 strikeouts in 33 starts.

- His 5.18 ERA was the highest among all qualifying pitchers in the National League and the fourth-highest in the Majors...entered the season with a career ERA of 2.98, but it now stands at 3.31, raising by more than 1/3.
- Not only were his 15 losses a career-high, but he also allowed a career-high in runs (111), earned runs (107), home runs (23) and walks (90) while tossing career-lows in innings pitched (186.0) and strikeouts (190).
- Led the NL in losses, runs allowed, earned runs, wild pitches (17) and ranked second in walks.
- Gave up a total of 66 earned runs in 2011...his 107 earned runs allowed were 26 more than his previous high (81 in 2010).
- Tied Madison Bumgarner for the most home runs allowed on the team with 23...allowed 16 HRs on the road and seven at home.
- Was the first Giants pitcher to start at least 30 games and have an ERA as high as 5.18 since Livan Hernandez in 2001 (5.24 ERA in 34 starts).
- Became the third pitcher since 1893 - after Tom Seaver (1,404) and Bert Blyleven (1,327) - to reach 1,300 strikeouts in six seasons...was 10 strikeouts shy of reaching the 200-strikeout plateau, snapping his streak of four consecutive seasons of 200+ strikeouts.
- His 28 runs allowed in the first inning were the most in the Majors...allowed a total of eight runs in the first inning in 2011.
- Was susceptible to allowing big innings, giving up three-or-more runs in a single frame eight times, four-or-more runs four times and five-or-more runs once.
- Failed to reach the 5.0 inning mark in seven of his outings...had recorded only 15 such starts in his career prior to 2012.
- Recorded only 13 quality starts in 33 outings, the second-fewest quality starts in the NL among pitchers with at least 30 starts (Tommy Hanson, 10).
- Struggled to hold runners on, allowing 25 stolen bases, the fifth-most in the NL.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Resurrected his regular season with a superb post season, going 1-1 with a 2.55 ERA (5er, 17.2ip) in six games (one start).
- Five of his six appearances came in relief where he went 1-0 with a 0.69 ERA (1er, 13.0ip) along with 17 strikeouts in just 13.0 relief innings.
- Struck out six batters in 4.1 relief innings in Game 4 of the Division Series vs. Cincinnati to earn the win.

- Completed his fifth season in a Giants uniform and suffered his first losing record of his career, going 13-14 with a 2.74 ERA (66er, 217.0ip) and 220 strikeouts in 33 starting assignments.
- Was named to his fourth-straight NL All-Star team.
- His 14 losses were a career-high, although posted an ERA under 3.00 for the third time in five campaigns.
- Finished fifth overall in the National League with a 2.74 ERA.

Giants Gems

- Tim's father, Chris, a retired Boeing employee, says he began teaching Tim his mechanics at the age of 4 —"built it from scratch," as he puts it. Chris used the same mechanics himself as a young player, and made it to semi-pros. He starred for Green River Community College in the early 1970s.
- Tim's delivery is the creation of his father, who emphasized three fundamentals: 1) "tilt" – the turn of Tim's shoulders toward the third base dugout, forcing him to pick up the target out of the corner of his left eye; 2) "dangle" – the downward thrust of his right arm as he turns toward home plate; and 3) "reach" – the violent forward propulsion that creates a stride that exceeds his height.
- The normal stride length for a pitcher is 77% to 87% of his height. Tim's stride is 129%, or roughly 7 ½ feet.
- He's a natural athlete who can do standing back flips and walk on his hands. He jumps onto the outfield wall when he's shagging flies during batting practice "as if he's trying to make the highlight reel for ESPN," says Giants manager Bruce Bochy.
- He is something of a human jukebox. He knows the lyrics to hundreds of songs, from Frank Sinatra to the Beatles to rap, country and techno. He once performed My Prerogative by Bobby Brown for a local Washington radio station when he was in college.

- Among NL leaders was tied for third in strikeouts, fourth in opponents avg. against (.222) and eighth in innings pitched.
- His 86 walks allowed were the second-most in the NL behind Colorado's Jhoulys Chacin (87).
- Reached the 200-strikeout plateau for fourth-consecutive season, joining Amos Rusie (1890-93) of the New York Giants and Juan Marichal (1963-66) of the SF Giants as the only pitchers in franchise history with 200+ strikeouts in four-straight seasons.
- Also reached 200.0 innings for the fourth-straight campaign, joining Jack Sanford (four-straight, 1960-63), Juan Marichal (10-straight, 1962-71), Gaylord Perry (six-straight, 1966-71), Jim Barr (five-straight, 1973-77) and Matt Cain (five-straight, 2007-11) as the only pitchers in SF-era history to log at least four-or-more consecutive seasons of 200+ innings.

- Struck out 10 batters on April 18 at Colorado for his 28th career double-digit strikeout game, tying Christy Mathewson for most in Giants franchise history (since 1900).
- Recorded his fifth career shutout and eighth career complete game in his start on May 21 vs. Oakland...retired a career-high 21-consecutive batters faced from 1st-8th innings...his 133 pitch effort was the second-most he'd thrown in his career and most by any pitcher in the Majors in 2011.
- Recorded his 1,000th career strikeout of his ML career on June 6 vs. Washington after striking out Jerry Hairston to end the top of the second inning.
- Became the eighth pitcher in the modern era (since 1900) with 1,000 strikeouts in his first five seasons...the seven pitchers who have reached this milestone are: Tom Seaver (1,155), Bert Blyleven (1,094), Dwight Gooden (1,067), Kerry Wood (1,065), Grover Cleveland Alexander (1,036), Hideo Nomo (1,031) and Mark Langston (1,018).
- Was named to his fourth-straight NL All-Star team, becoming the first Giant to be selected to four-straight Mid-Summer Classics since Barry Bonds was named to five-straight from 2000-04...also became the first Giants pitcher to be elected that many consecutive times since Juan Marichal appeared in eight-straight from 1962-69... Lincecum did not appear in the game.

- Went 16-10 with a 3.43 ERA (81er, 212.1ip), 231 strike outs and .242 opponents avg. against (194-for-802) in 33 starts in what was his third full season at the Major League level…was named to his third- straight All-Star team.
- Led the National League with 231 strikeouts for the third year in a row, joining Randy Johnson (1999-2002) and Warren Spahn (1949-52) as the only NL pitchers since World War II to pace the league in strikeouts for three consecutive seasons…Lincecum also joined Christy Mathewson (1903-05) as the only pitchers in Giants franchise history to lead the league in strikeouts for three-straight years.
- Was named to his third-straight All-Star team, becoming the first Giants pitcher to earn All-Star honors in three-consecutive years since Juan Marichal did so in eight-straight from 1962-69…did not appear in the ASG as he was slated to throw multiple innings in case game went into extra innings.
- Began second half of season on strong note by tossing his finest outing of year in SF's 2-0 shutout victory vs. the Mets on July 15 at AT&T Park…fired his first shutout of the year (fourth of his career), which was a six-hit gem that included five strikeouts en route to his 50th career victory…according to Elias, Lincecum became the second-fastest player in SF-era history to win his 50th career game, doing so in his 109th career contest (Juan Marichal earned his 50th career win in his 97th game).
- Made slight change to his delivery in his start on July 30 vs. Los Angeles, raising his arms over his head from windup, something he once did in college…he needed 62 pitches to get through first 3.0 innings, but was more efficient remainder of way, ending with 7.0 innings and limiting Dodgers to just two runs in SF's 6-5 victory.
- Had worst career stretch in month of August, losing each of his five starts (career-high), while logging a 7.82 ERA (22er, 25.1ip) and .311 avg. against (33-for-106)…his 7.82 ERA in August was the highest figure in any calendar month of his career.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Helped lead Giants' surge to their first ever World Series Championship in San Francisco in 2010, posting a 4-1 record with a 2.43 ERA (10er, 37.0ip) with 43 strikeouts in six games (five starts).
- Was named winner of the Babe Ruth Award as Most Valuable Player of the postseason by BBWAA's New York chapter.
- Passed Christy Mathewson (1905) for most wins by a Giants starter in a single postseason.
- Opened Division Series vs. Atlanta on Oct. 7 with two-hit, 14-strikeout effort in San Francisco's 1-0 victory, becoming the fifth-youngest pitcher to fan at least 14 batters in a postseason game and sixth pitcher in ML history to throw a 1-0 shutout in his postseason debut…joined Roger Clemens (2000 Yankees) as the only pitchers to strike out 14+ and allow two hits or fewer in a postseason shutout…Lincecum's 14 strikeouts in Game 1 of the LDS surpassed the record for most strikeouts by a Giants pitcher in a postseason game (Jesse Barnes, Oct. 11, 1921 vs. NY; Carl Hubbell, Oct. 3, 1933 vs. Washington; Hal Schumacher, Oct. 5, 1936 vs. NYY; and Jack Sanford, Oct. 10, 1962 vs. NYY each had 10 apiece).
- Tied the all-time record for most strikeouts in a World Series clinching game with 10 on Nov. 1 at Texas… became the fisrt pitcher to record that many Ks in such a game since Bob Gibson fanned 10 batters in Game 7 of the 1967 World Series against Boston.
- Defeated Rangers' ace Cliff Lee twice in the 2010 World Series…the only other Giants starters to win two games in a World Series are Mathewson (1905), Rube Marquard (1912), Carl Hubbell (1933) and Phil Douglas (1921).

- Named 2009 NL Cy Young Award winner for the second-consecutive year after finishing the season with a 15-7 record, 2.48 ERA (62er, 225.1ip), four complete games, 261 strikeouts, 68 walks and yielding a .206 avg. against (168-for-814) in 32 starts for San Francisco.
- Won the third-closest Cy Young race since current election format was created in 1970…edged St. Louis' Chris Carpenter and Adam Wainwright, receiving 11 of 32 first-place votes, 12 second-place votes and nine third-place votes to finish with 100 points.
- Lincecum's 15 wins in 2009 were the fewest for any starting pitcher to win a Cy Young in a season not shortened by work stoppage.
- Became the first player to win the award twice in his first two full seasons in the big leagues.
- Also named NL Pitcher of the Year by The Sporting News.
- Among the National League leaders ranked first in strikeouts and strikeouts per 9.0 innings (10.42), first in quality starts (26), tied for first in complete games, second in ERA and opponents avg. against, third in innings pitched and fewest HRs allowed per 9.0 innings (0.40), tied for fourth in wins and sixth in winning pct. (.682).
- Led the NL in strikeouts for the second-consecutive season, joining Christy Mathewson as the only Giants in franchise history to pace the league in Ks in consecutive years.
- Reached the 200-strikeout plateau for the second-consecutive season, joining Jason Schmidt (2003-04) as the only Giants in the last 39 seasons to record back-to-back years of 200 or more Ks and just one of four Giants to accomplish the feat: Juan Marichal (1963-66, 1968-69), Gaylord Perry (1966-67, 1969-70) and Schmidt.
- Was named the Opening Day starter by manager Bruce Bochy, becoming just one of five pitchers originally drafted by San Francisco to start an opener for the Giants (others were Terry Mulholland, John Burkett, Bob Knepper and Jim Barr).
- Was named NL Pitcher of the Month for June after going 4-1 with a 1.48 ERA (8er, 48.2ip), three complete games and 48 strikeouts in his six June assignments…was his first-ever Pitcher of Month Award…also for his efforts during month was named MLBs Clutch Performer.
- Had career-best 29.0-inning scoreless streak from June 23-July 9, marking the fourth-longest streak in SF-era history…only longer streaks were by Gaylord Perry (40.0 innings in 1967 and 39.0 innings in 1970) and Juan Marichal (30.0 innings in 1966).
- Was named to his second-straight NL All-Star team, along with teammate Matt Cain…was named starting pitcher for the NL team by manager Charlie Manuel, becoming the seventh Giant to start a Midsummer Classic…threw 35 pitches over 2.0 innings, in his first career All-Star outing July 14 at St. Louis' Busch Stadium.
- Became just the third Giants pitcher since 1958 to strike out 15-or-more batters in a single contest when he did so July 27 vs. Pittsburgh in what was his sixth career complete game…joined Jason Schmidt (16 Ks – June 6, 2006) and Gaylord Perry (15 Ks – July 22, 1966) as the only Giants to accomplish feat…also became the first Giants pitcher with 15-or-more strikeouts in a game in which he didn't allow an earned run since NL got idea to keep track of earned runs back in 1912 (Elias).
- Was named NL Co-Player of the Week with Florida's Josh Willingham for week of July 27-Aug. 2 after going 2-0 and allowing just two unearned runs in 17.0 innings.
- Missed a start for the first time as a Giant on Sept. 8 with lower-back spasms that forced him to miss game against Padres…he first reported pain in his back when the Giants landed in San Francisco when team flew home from Milwaukee on Sept. 6…Giants' top pitching prospect, Madison Bumgarner started in his place.

Longest Scoreless Streaks SF-Era History—Single Season

Player	IP (Year)
Gaylord Perry	40.0 (1967)
Gaylord Perry	39.0 (1970)
Juan Marichal	30.0 (1966)
Tim Lincecum	29.0 (2009)

- Became the first Giants Cy Young winner since 1967, and just the second ever, joining Mike McCormick, after posting a spectacular 18-5 record with a 2.62 ERA (66er, 227.0ip) and ML-leading 265 strikeouts in 34 games (33 starts) for San Francisco in his first full big league season.
- Of 32 ballots submitted by two writers in each league city, Lincecum was listed first on 23 ballots, second on seven and third on one to total 137 points, based on a 5-3-1 tabulation system…joined Dwight Gooden (Mets, 1985), Bret Saberhagen (Royals, 1985) and Fernando Valenzuela (Dodgers, 1981) as the only pitchers to win a Cy Young
- Was 24 years old when he won award, becoming the youngest Cy Young winner, in either league, since Roger Clemens was 24 in 1986…also became the 13th pitcher to win the honor with team having a sub .500 record.
- Established a SF-era single season strikeout record, surpassing Jason Schmidt's 2004 total of 251…became just the ninth Giant since 1900 to record at least 200 Ks in a single season (22nd occurrence) and became the only Giant to lead the Majors in the modern era in strikeouts, first to pace NL since Bill Voiselle recorded 161 Ks in 1944…his 265 punchouts were the most in the Majors since Randy Johnson had 290 and Johan Santana collected 265 in 2004.
- Since 1900, only three other pitchers had as many strikeouts in their sophomore season as Lincecum: Vida Blue (301 for 1971 A's), Frank Tanana (269 for 1975 Angels) and Dwight Gooden (268 for 1985 Mets) (Elias).
- Was named NL Pitcher of the Year by The Sporting News and was named Players Choice for Most Outstanding NL pitcher, announced by MLB Players Association…was also selected as Starter of the Year in MLB.com's annual This Year in Baseball Awards presented by State Farm, which was voted on by fans.
- Was selected to his first NL All-Star Game, becoming the 13th starting pitcher in SF annals to be selected, however, did not appear in Mid-Summer Classic at Yankee Stadium after suffering from flu-like symptoms.

- Besides leading all ML pitchers in strikeouts, ranked third overall in both ERA and winning percentage (.782)… finished second in the NL in ERA behind New York's Johan Santana (2.53) and ranked second in senior circuit in wins behind Arizona's Brandon Webb (22).
- Recorded his first career complete game and first shutout on Sept. 13 at San Diego, blanking the Padres on four hits (three walks) while striking out 12 in SF's 7-0 triumph.

- Emerged as one of stalwarts of Giants' staff, going 7-5 with a 4.00 ERA, 150 strikeouts and .226 avg. against (122-for-539) over 24 starts in his first season at the Major League level.
- Ranked among NL rookie leaders in strikeouts (first), wins (tied for fourth), ERA (fourth), avg. against (second), innings (third) and starts (third).
- His 150 strikeouts were the fourth-highest single-season total by a rookie in SF history (seventh in franchise annals).
- Contract was originally purchased from triple-A Fresno on May 6, taking rotation spot of disabled Russ Ortiz… made his Major League debut on May 6 vs. Philadelphia, taking no decision in SF's 8-5 setback…was ticketed with five runs over 4.1 innings, including two HRs (Shane Victorino and Ryan Howard)…struck out side in 1st inning to become the first Giants pitcher to accomplish feat as a starter in their debut since Mike Remlinger June 15, 1991.
- Earned his first Major League victory May 11 in Colorado, defeating Rockies 8-3.
- His 12 strikeouts on July 1 vs. Arizona marked the fourth-highest single-game total by a rookie in SF history.
- Was placed on the Bereavement List Aug. 17-20 following the death of his maternal grandfather.
- Collected a double off Toronto's Dustin McGowan on June 13 for first career hit.
- Posted a 4-0 mark with a 0.29 ERA (1er, 31.0ip) in five games for triple-A Fresno.
- Earned Harry S. Jordan Award at Giants big league Spring Training, as voted on by teammates and coaching staff.

2006

- Kicked off professional career in impressive fashion, combining to go 2-0 with 1.71 ERA (6er, 31.2ip) in eight starts between short-season Salem-Keizer and Class A Advanced San Jose.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Graduated from Liberty (Renton, WA) High School...led Patriots to 3A state championship in 2003, while being named Washington's Gatorade Player of Year.
- Attended University of Washington...was tabbed nation's second-best amateur prospect by Baseball America in 2006 after leading country in strikeouts during collegiate season...two-time Pacific-10 Conference Pitcher of Year is league's all-time leader with 491 career strikeouts... garnered first team All-America accolades in 2006, going 12-4 with three saves and a 1.94 ERA (27er, 125.1ip) in 22 games (17 starts) for Huskies.
- Put together brilliant summer in 2005 Cape Cod League and earned Baseball America Summer All-America honors...became first player ever to be named both Pac-10 Freshman of Year and Pac-10 Pitcher of Year in 2004.
- Has lent time to variety of community endeavors during his San Francisco tenure.

2013 SEASON

- Spent his second-consecutive season with triple-A Fresno, as he went 7-5 with a 4.72 ERA (65er, 124.0ip) in 30 games (20 starts).
- Had never started a game in his minor league career prior to this season (made 20 starts for Fresno).
- As a starter, he was 6-4 with a 3.75 ERA (45er, 108.0ip) and 84 strikeouts...in 10 relief appearances, he had an 11.25 ERA (20er, 16.0ip).
- His 124.0 innings thrown were a new career-high...his previous career-high was 78.1 innings pitched in 2012 with Fresno.
- Held opponents to two earned runs or less in seven of his last eight starts.
- Went 6-1 with a 1.46 ERA (9er, 55.1ip) and 39 strikeouts in nine starts for Navegantes del Magallanes in the Venezuelan Winter League.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted career-highs in nearly every statistical category, in 2012, including wins (eight), games (47), innings pitched (78.1) and strikeouts (69).
- Overall, went 8-4 with a 2.99 ERA (26er, 78.1ip) in 47 relief appearances for the Grizzlies.
- His eight victories matched Dusty Bergman (2005), Robbie Crabtree (2001) and Steve Connelly (2000) for the most wins by a Grizzlies reliever in a season in franchise history.
- Held opponents to a .220 batting avg. against, the fourth-lowest figure among Pacific Coast League relievers…also ranked third in the league for allowing 10.34 baserunners per 9.0 innings.
- Was in Giants' spring camp as a non-roster invitee for the first time in his career.
- Split time between Class A Advanced San Jose and double-A Richmond in 2011, going a combined 3-7 with a 2.14 ERA (17er, 71.1ip), nine saves and 71 strikeouts.
- Climbed from Class A Augusta to double-A Richmond in his third season with the Giants organization in 2010.
- Missed most of his first professional season in 2007 with a right elbow strain.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Graduated from Lassen (CA) High School.
- Attended Sacramento State, where he was the team's main closer in 2007, totaling eight saves in 25 appearances…at that time, his eight rescues were tied for the fourth-most in the Hornets single season record book…was also a punter on the football team.
- Was selected by Colorado in the 16th round of the 2007 draft.

2014 Opening Day Age: 36
Birthplace: San Juan, Puerto Rico
Resides: Golden, Colorado
M.L. Service: 8 years, 167 days
How Obtained: Acquired by San Francisco in exchange for RHP Joe Martinez and OF John Bowker, July 31, 2010
Contract Status: Signed through 2016 (signed 3-year contract prior to 2014 season)

- Throughout his career, has held lefties to a .212 batting avg. against
- Leads all active pitchers with 454 inherited runners
- Has allowed 20.3% of his inherited runners to score (92-of-454), the lowest figure in the Majors among active players
- Has given up just two home runs in a Giants uniform (605 batters faced)
- Has appeared in the postseason in four of the last eight seasons (2006, 2007, 2010 and 2012)

2013 SEASON

- Completed his third full season in a Giants uniform and had one of his best seasons of his career, going 4-2 with a career-best 1.83 ERA (8er, 39.1ip) in a team-high 69 games.
- Was unscored upon in 62 of 69 appearances.
- Struck out 8.5 batters per 9.0 innings and allowed just 2.7 walks per 9.0 frames, primarily working as a lefty specialist.
- Inherited the fourth-most runners (57) in the NL and allowed just 10.5% to score (6-of-57), which ranked as the lowest pct. in the league.
- Held left-handed batters to a .156 (14-for-90) batting average, which ranked as the seventh-lowest figure among NL pitchers (minimum of 80 batters faced).
- Blanked opponents in 33 of his last 35 games (19.1ip).
- Gave up a pinch-hit home run to the Padres' Logan Forsythe in his final appearance of the season on Sept. 27 at AT&T Park…that home run allowed marked his first all season and just his second in his three-plus years in a Giants uniform (605 batters faced).

- In his third season with the Giants, southpaw fashioned a 3-0 record with a 2.50 ERA (10er, 36.0ip) while logging a career-best seven saves in 70 relief appearances.
- Ranked second on the club for the most appearances (70).
- Held left-handed batters to a .191 avg. against (17-for-89).
- Recorded six of the Giants' last 16 saves and was 7-for-9 overall.
- Allowed just one home run in 36.0 innings and since wearing a Giants uniform, he's allowed a total of just one homer in 108.0 innings pitched, the fewest in the NL since July 31, 2010.
- Stranded 51 of 58 runners he inherited (87.9%), the third-best pct. in the NL.
- Fashioned the fourth-lowest ERA among NL relievers since the All-Star break, allowing just three runs (two earned runs) in 18.0 innings (1.00 ERA).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Made five postseason appearances tossing 3.0-scoreless innings.
- He and his wife Renee welcomed their second child, Chistian, prior to Game 3 of the World Series.

- Earned a career-best five wins and matched his career-high with 40 Ks in his second season with San Francisco.
- His 14.0% (6-of-43) inherited runner scored rate was tied for the third-lowest in the NL...stranded his last 26 inherited runners.
- Was one of two relievers in the big leagues that tossed at least 50.0 innings and did not allow a home run in 2011 (also Brad Ziegler)...in fact, has not allowed a homer in his last 74.1 innings pitched and has never allowed a home run in a Giants uniform.
- Finished eighth among NL pitchers with lowest avg. against vs. left-handed batters with .163 clip (15-for-92) (min. of 75 BF).
- Was touched for seven runs in his final 13.0 innings (covering last 19 games)...appeared in just eight of SF's final 27 games...with roster expanded in September, manager Bruce Bochy had a tough time finding matchups for the situational lefthander.

2010

- Was a welcome addition to the Giants' bullpen, being acquired by the club at the trade deadline and going 2-0 with a 1.42 ERA (3er, 19.0ip) in 27 games for San Francisco, his fifth different team in eight Major League seasons.

- Set career highs in games (77) and posted his lowest ERA (2.34) of his career.
- Ranked fifth among NL relievers with 57 inherited runners, most he's ever inherited over course of season.
- Was acquired by the Giants at the July 31st trade deadline in exchange for RHP Joe Martinez and OF John Bowker.
- His 1.42 ERA (3er, 19.0ip) beginning Aug. 1 ranked as the 14th-lowest among all NL relievers while his .164 opponents avg. against (11-for-67) was the 15th-best mark in league.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Was one of the best Giants relievers used in their run to a World Series championship, appearing in nine games and allowing just one run in 5.2 innings (1.59 ERA), while holding the opposition to a .059 avg. against (1-for-17).
- Left-handed batters went 1-for-13 with six strikeouts against Lopez.
- Was called upon twice in the Division Series vs. Atlanta, both times in situations to face Jason Heyward and answered the call by striking him out both times.
- Allowed his first hit to a lefty in Game 5 of the NLCS vs. Philadelphia (Ryan Howard 2B) as well as his first earned run in the postseason.
- Earned his first career playoff win in Game 6 of the NLCS against the Phillies.

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Made first career appearance in right field April 30, 2009 (was in RF for final two outs of 8th inning of Boston's 13-0, one hit loss that night).
- Was on disabled list with bicep tendonitis from June 6-20.
- Spent the entire 2008 season with Boston, finishing second on the staff and fifth among American League left-handers in appearances (53) and setting a career-high in innings pitched (59.1).

2013 SEASON

- Appeared in 88 games last season with the Mariners (76) and Orioles (12), batting .215 (67-for-312) with 13 doubles, 13 home runs and 27 RBI.
- Was traded to Seattle during the off-season as part of a three-team deal.
- Missed significant time in July with a strained right quad-ricep that placed him on the disabled list.
- Was claimed off waivers by Baltimore on Aug. 30, 2013 and was traded from Seattle in exchange for Xavier Avery.
- Played in just 12 games for Baltimore before being shut down because of a left wrist injury.

- Hit .291 (118-for-406) with 17 doubles, 18 home runs and 62 RBI in 102 games with the Nationals.
- Missed the first two months of the season on the disabled list with a right lateral strain…appeared in seven rehab games with Harrisburg, Potomac and Hagerstown.
- Made his season debut on June 2 vs. Atlanta.
- Hit just .217 (18-for-83) with one home run in first 21 games after coming off the disabled list...over his final 81 games hit .310 (100-for-323) with 17 home runs and 55 RBI.

- Had a career year, as he won the Nationals Triple Crown batting .303 (158-for-522) with 31 home runs and 95 RBI.
- Ranked among NL leaders in slugging percentage (fifth, .550), OPS (eighth, .910), extra base hits (T-eighth, 67), doubles (T-ninth, 36), home runs (T-ninth), batting average (ninth) and RBI (10th, 95).
- Became just the fourth qualified National to hit .300 or better in a season, joining Dmitri Young (.320, 2007), Cristian Guzman (.316, 2008) and Ryan Zimmerman (.307, 2010).
- Homered in four-straight games from May 23-27 to match a Nationals record (Ryan Zimmerman, 2009).
- Hit his first career grand slam off Chris Narveson on May 24 in Washington's 7-6 victory at Milwaukee.
- Produced his first career walk-off home run on May 27 vs. San Diego (off Mike Adams).

- Played in 98 games for Washington, as he hit .289 (77-for-266) with 15 home runs and 41 RBI.
- Posted an .870 OPS that would have ranked among the NL's top 15 with enough plate appearances to qualify.

2009

- Played in 32 games for Washington after being acquired from Seattle on June 28.
- Batted .250 (13-for-52) in 32 games for the Nationals.
- Hit .353 (6-for-19) with 1 HR and 8 RBI as a pinch-hitter.

- Made an Opening Day roster for the first time in career after hitting .492 (32-for-65) with three home runs and 10 RBI during Spring Training…set the Seattle club record for highest spring batting average.
- Played in only five games before suffering a season-ending injury to his left shoulder on April 13 vs. Los Angeles-AL.
- Underwent shoulder reconstruction surgery to repair damage to a torn labrum on April 22 by Dr. Edward Khalfayan.

- Spent the bulk of season at triple-A Tacoma prior to being recalled by Seattle on Sept. 1.
- Atlanta won 13 of his last 18 games and went 22-12 in his starts.
- Hit .309 (90-for-291) with 26 doubles, six homers and 39 RBI in 76 games with Tacoma.
- Had surgery to repair a fractured hook of the hamate bone on June 21.

- Had three separate stints with Seattle and batted .372 (16-for-43) in 21 games.
- Missed time during the season as he underwent right knee surgery on July 6 for a torn medial meniscus...his surgery was performed by Dr. Edward Khalfayan.

- Had a successful first season with Seattle hitting .278 (64-for-230) in 72 games.
- Made his Major League debut as a pinch-hitter on May 31 and played shortstop.
- Made his first big league start on June 1 and collected his first Major League hit off Doug Waechter on June 3 vs. Tampa Bay.
- Cracked his first Major League home run off Ryan Madson on June 15 vs. Philadelphia.
- Led all players in Interleague batting average (.472).
- Hit .357 (30-for-84) in June, which ranked second in the Majors that month...was the highest batting average ever by a Mariner rookie for the month.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Began 2004 with double-A Birmingham in the White Sox organization before being traded to Seattle on June 27 and assigned to double-A San Antonio.
- In 2003, he led Class A Winston-Salem in doubles (30) and extra base hits (42), finished 2nd in hits (106) and third in RBI (55).
- Earned Carolina League Batter of the Week honors for July 24-30.
- Led Class A Kannapolis in doubles (30) and ranked 2nd in hits (107), RBI (56), total bases (151) and extra-base hits (36) in 2002.
- Spent 2001 at Advanced Rookie Bristol, as he led team in triples (3) and hit by pitches (9) and T2nd in extra base hits (14).
- Made his pro debut in 2000 at Tucson (Rookie) in the Arizona League.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Graduated from Nova (Davie, FL) High School...was a first-team All-State selection.
- Was part of a MLB contingent that played five games in Taiwan prior to the 2012 season.

2013 SEASON

- Made his first career Opening Day roster with the Giants and hit .219 (23-for-105) in 62 games.
- During Spring Training was optioned to triple-A on March 15, but with the release of Wilson Valdez on March 22, he came back to camp and batted .400 (10-for-25) with a HR and five RBI...hit .186 (8-for-43) with two RBI before March 22.
- Made five different appearances with the Giants.
- Started 17 games (11 at second base and six at third base).
- Was just 4-for-31 (.129) as a pinch-hitter, with just one hit in his last 26 pinch-hit opportunities.
- Collected his first Major League hit on April 7 vs. St. Louis off RHP Joe Kelly.
- Made his first career start on April 11 at Chicago-NL on a day that was raining and 40 degrees...went 3-for-5 with one RBI to become the first Giant to get three-plus hits in his first major-league start since Travis Ishikawa on May 26, 2006 vs. Colorado.
- Hit .255 (42-for-164) in 48 games for triple-A Fresno.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- In 2012, his second season of triple-A, he hit .296 (145-for-490) with 26 doubles, nine home runs and 62 RBI in 129 games.
- Led the Grizzlies in games played, hits and multi-hit games (42)…his 145 hits and 129 games played were career-highs…finished second on the team in doubles (26) and runs scored (65) and was fourth on club in RBI (62) and walks (40).
- Played the majority of his games at shortstop, appearing in 97 games…also played 13 at third base and six at second…committed a team-high 24 errors.
- On May 20 at Round Rock, he hit two home runs, including his first career grand slam, and drove in eight runs in Fresno's 11-5 win…the eight RBI set a Grizzlies franchise record for RBI in a single game, passing the previous mark of seven last set by John Bowker on August 16, 2009 at Nashville...his first home run, a two-run shot, was in the 3rd inning off Martin Perez...in the 6th, he hit the grand slam off Sean Green...finished the game 4-for-5 with a single, double, two home runs, two runs scored and eight RBI.
- Matched the Grizzlies franchise record for hits in a single game with five hits on June 12 in Fresno's 8-7 13-inning win over Sacramento...his fifth and final hit of the game was a walk-off single, driving in Francisco Peguero.
- Split the 2011 campaign between three different levels within the Giants' farm system, playing for Class A Advanced San Jose, double-A Richmond and triple-A Fresno.
- Began season on the Disabled List with an oblique strain.
- Spent entire 2010 campaign with double-A Richmond and was placed on the disabled list twice: May 27-June 15 and June 21-July 4, suffering from a right hamstring strain.
- Was tabbed as the fifth-best Giants prospect by Baseball America entering the 2009 season and helped the San Jose Giants win the California League Championship.
- Helped the GreenJackets win the South Atlantic League Championship in 2008 after hitting .333.
- Was tabbed as a Baseball America Rookie All-Star and ARL postseason All-Star in 2007 after hitting .316 (65-for-206) with three HRs and 40 RBI in 52 games for the rookie level Giants.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Amanda Hathaway), Nov. 16, 2013.
- Graduated from Francis Parker (San Diego, CA) High School.
- Turned down a scholarship to Clemson and was signed by the Giants in the 2007 draft.

OUTFIELDER

HEIGHT	WEIGHT	BATS	THROWS
6-2	202	S	R

2014 Opening Day Age: 32
Birthplace: Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico
Resides: Vega Alta, Puerto Rico
M.L. Service: 7 years, 144 days
How Obtained: Acquired by the Giants from New York-NL along with cash considerations in exchange for RHP Ramon Ramirez and OF Andres Torres, Dec. 7, 2011
Contract Status: Signed through 2016 (signed four-year contract prior to the 2013 season)

- Owns San Francisco Giants record for most triples in a single season (15 in 2012)
- Holds the longest home hit streak in Giants franchise history (28 games in 2012)
- Became first Giant in modern era (since 1900) to hit safely in 47/50 games in single season (2012)
- Hit the first leadoff home run in Giants postseason history in Game 4 of the NLDS at CIN (2012)

2013 SEASON

- Missed a significant amount of time in his second season with San Francisco after injuring his left hamstring in late May…batted .282 (79-for-280) with 16 doubles, five HRs and 30 RBI in just 71 games with the Giants.
- Re-signed with the Giants in the 2012 offseason to a four-year contact.
- Played for Puerto Rico during the World Baseball Classic and was named to the 2013 MetLife All-World Baseball Classic Team after leading Puerto Rico with a .364 batting average (12-for-33), .485 slugging pct., and a .447 on-base pct. in nine games...his 12 hits set a Puerto Rican record for the Classic.
- Recorded the third game-ending hit of his career on April 19 vs. San Diego, driving in the game-winning run with a double in the 9th inning off RHP Luke Gregerson, giving the Giants a 3-2 walk-off win.
- Hit his sixth career leadoff home run on May 1 at Arizona.
- Hit a two-run, inside-the-park, walk-off home run off Colorado's Rafael Betancourt in the bottom of the 10th inning that gave the Giants a 6-5 comeback win on May 25...it marked Pagan's third career inside-the-park home run and the seventh inside-the-park homer in AT&T Park history (fifth by a Giants player)...it was also his second career walk-off homer.
- Prior to Pagan accomplishing the feat, the Majors' last walk-off homer that didn't leave the yard came June 11, 2004, when another Rockies pitcher, Shawn Chacon, was victimized by Tampa Bay's Rey Sanchez...however, it had been 24 years since the Majors' last walk-off inside-the-parker that erased a deficit...according to Elias, the last such blow had been hit by the Phillies' Bob Dernier, who wiped out a 2-0 Giants lead in the 12th inning with a three-run shot off Craig Lefferts on May 15, 1989.
- It had been 83 years since the last Giants' walk-off inside-the-park homer, hit by future Hall-of-Famer Bill Terry against the Cubs at the Polo Grounds on Aug. 24, 1931 in the New York Giants' 2-1 win.
- Prior to hitting the inside the park HR; had hurt his left hamstring in the 8th inning diving for a fly ball, but stayed in the game...he sat out the next 11 games before being placed on the 15-day disabled list on June 7 (retroactive to May 28) with a strained left hamstring.
- Suffered a setback in his first rehabilitation game on June 20...hit a ground ball to 2nd base in the 9th inning and pulled up lame three-quarters up the line...he started to jump up and down and couldn't make it any longer...never reached 1st base and was carted off the field.
- After having a second opinion it was determined that he needed surgery...underwent successful surgery on his left hamstring tendon (inside back of knee) on June 25 in Los Angeles by Dr. Neal El-Attrache at the Kerlan Jobe clinic.
- Missed a total of 82 games from May 26-Aug. 30.
- Was reinstated from the 60-day DL on Aug. 30 and went 30-for-93 (.323) in 25 games following his return.
- Recorded his third game-ending hit of the season on Sept. 8 vs. Arizona...his three games with a walkoff RBI were the most for any San Francisco player in one season since Andres Torres did it three times in 2010.

- Posted one of the best seasons of his career, logging career bests in runs (95), 2Bs (38) and 3Bs (15) while batting .288 (174-for-605) with eight HRs in 154 games in his first season with San Francisco.
- His 15 3Bs not only led all of Major League Baseball, but also set a San Francisco-era record (since 1958) for

Longest Home Hit Streak in Giants Franchise History (since 1900)

Player	Games	Start/End
Angel Pagan	28	April 14-June 4, 2012

a single season, surpassing Steve Finley (12 in 2006) and Willie Mays (12 in 1960).
- Led the club with 29 stolen bases and was successful in 29 of 36 overall.
- His 29 steals were the most by a Giants player since Dave Roberts swiped 31 bags in 2007.
- His 95 runs scored tied Chase Headley and Matt Holliday for the seventh-most in the NL.
- Ranked 10th in NL with 38 2Bs and his 24 2Bs since break were tied w/Norichika Aoki for most in the NL.
- Was the seventh hardest player to double up in the NL, averaging 100.8 at-bats per GIDP.
- Led all ML players with 32 runs scored in August and his .342 avg. ranked 11th-best in the NL.
- Had 18 extra base hits in August (11 2Bs, 4 3Bs, 3 HRs), the second-most in the Majors.
- Had three separate hit streaks of 11-or-more games (11 games, 15, 20).
- Posted the longest home hitting streak in franchise history (since 1900), hitting safely in 28 consecutive home games from April 14-June 4...it was the longest home hitting streak for any ML player since 2010, when Josh Hamilton hit safely in 29-straight home games at Rangers Ballpark.
- Hit safely in 20-straight games from April 14-May 6, tied for eighth-longest hit streak in SF-era history.
- Joined Pablo Sandoval and Marco Scutaro as the first trio of teammates to hit safely in 20+ games in the same season in Giants franchise history, dating all the way back to 1918.
- Became the first Giants player in the modern era (since 1900) to hit safely in 47 of 50 games in a single season (he accomplished this feat from April 14-June 9).
- Started 149 of SF's 162 games (148 in CF and one as DH).

Giants Gems

- Grew up in the drug- and gang-ridden projects on the north coast of Puerto Rico in a district of San Juan called Rio Piedras. Angel's parents – government workers -- were strict, and Angel's brother and sister – older by nine and six years, respectively -- kept Angel close, never allowing him to play outside by himself.
- When Pagan was thirteen, he frequented a batting cage near a building where the great Puerto Rican welterweight boxing champion Felix "Tito" Trinidad trained. Through the gym's open door, Pagan studied the brutal regimen that allowed Trinidad to outlast any opponent. Pagan decided that training like a boxer would make him a better baseball player. He is still a big boxing fan, naming Manny Pacquiao as his favorite fighter.
- Pagan is the unofficial translator for his Spanish-speaking teammates. Learning to speak English was always important to Angel. After being drafted by the Mets in the fourth round in 1999, he could have gone to Miami Dade College for a year, where he would have been surrounded by other Latinos and could continue in his home language. Instead he chose Indian River Community College in Fort Pierce, Fla., where he hung out with English speakers and honed his English skills.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- On his first career postseason roster, Pagan hit .188 (13-for-69) with two home runs and six RBI in 16 games.
- Led off Game 4 of the NLDS at Cincinnati with a home run, the first leadoff homer in Giants postseason history (including New York-era).
- Led off Game 2 of the NLCS with another home run, his second leadoff homer in the postseason.
- Joined Jimmy Rollins (two leadoff homers in 2008 postseason with Philadelphia) as the only two players in MLB history with a pair of leadoff home runs in the same postseason.

- Hit .262 (125-for-478) with 24 2Bs, four 3Bs, seven HRs and 56 RBI while going 32-for-39 in stolen base attempts in his fourth and final campaign with New York-NL.
- Stole 32 bases to combine with Jose Reyes (37) as the only pair of National League teammates with at least 30 steals each...Texas' Elvis Andrus (37) and Ian Kinsler (30) were only other pair in Majors to accomplish feat.
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list, April 22-May 27, with a strained left oblique that he hurt April 21 vs. Houston.
- Hit clean-up on June 8 at Milwaukee and then again on June 13 at Pittsburgh...they were his first two career games started in four slot of the line-up.
- Hit his first career walk-off home run on July 20 vs. St. Louis in the 10th inning off Fernando Salas...it was the second game-ending hit of his career (other was on April 10, 2008; single).
- Hit team's first leadoff HR of the season and third of his career on Aug. 8 vs. San Diego (off Tim Stauffer).
- Made 10 errors, the second-most of any outfielder in the Majors (Justin Upton had 13).

- Was one of two players in the Majors to have at least 30 2Bs, 10 HRs, 60 RBI and 30 stolen bases ...other player was Tampa Bay's Carl Crawford (30 2Bs, 19 HRs, 90 RBI, 47 stolen bases).
- Finished second in the National League with 37 stolen bases...became the first Mets' outfielder to steal 30 bases since 1999 season (Roger Cedeno-66 steals, Rickey Henderson-37 steals).
- Finished seventh in NL with a .339 batting average with men in scoring position, was tied for third with 10 outfield assists and tied for eighth with a .320 batting average at home.
- On May 19 at Washington he hit an inside-the-park home run (4th inning against Livan Hernandez) and started a triple play to become the first player to accomplish each of those feats in same game since Phillies shortstop Ted Kazinski did so against the Giants at the Polo Grounds on Sept. 25, 1955...Pagan caught Cristian Guzman's sinking line drive, threw to catcher Henry Blanco who threw to shortstop Jose Reyes to double off Hernandez at second base…Reyes then threw to

- On August 1, Carlos Beltran, Jesus Feliciano and Pagan, all natives of Puerto Rico, appeared in the outfield at the same time...according to the Baseball Hall of Fame, it marked only the seventh time an All Puerto Rican outfield played together in same game (previous time was June 6, 1981 when Cubs had Carlos Lezcano, Jerry Morales and Hector Cruz).
- Jose Reyes (30 steals) and Pagan became fourth set of teammates to steal 30-or-more bases in same year.

- Hit over .300 for the first time in his career, finishing campaign with a .306 avg. (105-for-343) in 88 games.
- Finished fourth in the Majors with 11 triples, all of which came after July 11.
- Had 19-game home hitting streak from Aug. 3-Sept. 18... hit .370 (30-for-81) over this stretch...19 games was longest home hitting streak in National League in 2009, and the second-longest in franchise history behind Edgardo Alfonzo's 22-game home streak from May 16-July 6, 1997.
- Underwent surgery at Hospital for Special Surgery March 11 to remove a bone spur from his right elbow.
- His contract was selected on May 16 from Buffalo (AAA) of International League.
- Left game May 31 vs. Florida with right groin discomfort... placed on 15-day disabled list June 1 with strain of his right groin…activated from disabled list July 10.
- Connected on his first home run of season with his first career grand slam Aug. 1 vs. Arizona...grand slam off of Clay Zavada gave Mets a 9-5 lead heading into 9th inning.
- Established career-high five RBI on Aug. 1 vs. Arizona... became only the third player in the Majors during 2009 season to drive in five-or-more while batting leadoff, joining Jimmy Rollins and Andrew McCutchen...only three other Mets players had a five-RBI game while batting leadoff, Jim Hickman (1963), Ron Hunt (1966) and Gregg Jefferies (1989).
- Connected on his first career inside-the-park home run, and second leadoff home run of his career, in bottom of 1st inning Aug. 23 vs. Philadelphia off Pedro Martinez... added another HR in the 3rd inning to give him his second multi-home run game of his career.

- Missed most of the season with a torn left labrum… appeared in just 31 games…injured his left shoulder while diving into stands for foul ball on May 7 at Los Angeles-NL.
- On July 29, had his torn left labrum repaired by Mets Medical Director Dr. David Altchek at Hospital for Special Surgery.

2007
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on August 8, with colitis and missed remainder of the year.

- Two-time NL All-Star (2009, 2011)
- 2013 Giants "Willie Mac" Award winner
- First Giants player in the SF-era (since 1958) to start every regular season game (162 - 2013)

2013 SEASON

- Posted one of the best seasons of his career in his first full season with San Francisco, hitting .283 (178-for-629) with 35 doubles, 27 HRs, 99 RBI and 22 stolen bases.
- Won the 2013 "Willie Mac" Award, given to the team's most inspirational player, as voted by players, coaches, trainers, fans and Willie McCovey.
- Became the seventh Giant to hit at least 20 HRs and steal 20 bases in a season and the first since Barry Bonds in 1998 (the others: Bobby Bonds, Willie Mays, Jeffrey Leonard, Glenallen Hill and Orlando Cepeda).
- Joined Los Angeles' (AL) Mike Trout as the only players in the Majors to hit 20-plus home runs, steal 20-plus bases and record 90-plus RBI.
- In fact, the only players in SF-era history to accomplish the feat of 20 HRs, 20 steals and 90 RBI are Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Bobby Bonds, Barry Bonds and now Pence.
- Started every one of the Giants' 162 games and became the first Giants player in the SF-era (since 1958) to start every regular season game in a season, and the first since Alvin Dark started all 154 games for the New York Giants in 1954.
- Also became the first Giants player since Bobby Thomson to start every game of a season in the outfield...Thomson started all 156 games in center field during the 1949 season for the New York Giants.
- Became the first NL player to start all 162 games in the field (not at DH) since Prince Fielder with the Milwaukee Brewers in 2009...was also the first major league outfielder to start 162 games since Jeff Francoeur with the Atlanta Braves in 2007.
- Has started 171-consecutive games, which is the longest streak in the National League and the second-longest in the Majors behind TEX's Prince Fielder, who has started 505 consecutive contests.
- His 27 home runs were a career high and the most in a single season by a Giant since Barry Bonds in 2007 (28).
- Was one of five players selected by Manager Bruce Bochy to be on the final ballot for the All-Star Game...joined the Dodgers Yasiel Puig and Adrian Gonzalez, Nationals' Ian Desmond and Atlanta's Freddie Freeman...however, lost out to Freeman.
- His 54 multi-hit games were the third-most in the National League.
- His 51 RBI following the break were the second-most in the Majors (Alfonso Soriano, 52).
- Recorded his 1,000th career hit on April 9 with a single in the 6th inning off RHP Matt Belisle.
- Hit a two-out, two-strike, solo home run off CHC's RHP Shawn Camp in the 9th inning that tied a game at 7-7 on April 14 at Wrigley Field in SF's 10-7, 10-inning win...that game-tying home run with two outs in the 9th was the latest into a game that he's hit a game-tying home run (ESPN Stats & Info).
- Became the first Giant since Barry Bonds to hit a game-tying, two-out home run in the 9th inning or later, when down to the last strike...Bonds accomplished this feat on May 24, 1998 at St. Louis, hitting a two-run, two-out homer.
- Made a sliding catch with two outs in the 8th inning on July 13 at San Diego to preserve RHP Tim Lincecum's no-hitter.
- Matched his career-high with five hits on July 24 against the Reds.
- Batted leadoff for the Giants on August 7 vs. Milwaukee… it marked the first time he started in the leadoff slot in the batting order since July 11, 2008 with Houston.
- Started the season a perfect 17-for-17 in stolen base attempts, the third-most consecutive stolen bases by a Giants player in a season without a caught stealing since 1974 ...only Stan Javier (22 steals in 1997) and Glenallen Hill (21 steals in 1995) had more...Pence's streak ended on August 8 vs. Milwaukee as he was caught trying to steal 2nd base on a botched hit and run play (Kieschnick at the plate).
- Hit the longest home run of his career on Aug. 27 at

- Recorded a career high seven RBI on Sept. 14 at Los Angeles in SF's 19-3 win...all of Pence's seven RBI were recorded in the first 5.0 innings and according to Elias, he is only the third Giants player since 1958 to drive in seven runs by the end of the 5th...Jeff Kent drove in seven in the first 4.0 innings against Cincinnati on July 24, 1998, and Jim Ray Hart had seven in the first 5.0 frames July 8, 1970 at Atlanta.
- During SF's four game series against the Dodgers from Sept. 12-15, he hit .471 (8-for-17) with five HRs and 12 RBI...became the first Giants player since Willie Mays in 1965 to homer in every game of a four-game series against the Dodgers...his 12 RBI tied Dick Dietz for the most in a single series by a Giants player in SF-era history (since 1958).
- Was named the NL Player of the Week for Sept. 9-15 after hitting .448 (13-for-29) with one double, six home runs and 19 RBI...marked the third time in his career that he won this award, also winning it in 2010 (Aug. 30-Sept. 5) and 2007 (May 14-20).
- Recorded his ninth career walk-off hit and first as a Giant on Sept. 29 vs. San Diego with a single off RHP Huston Street.
- Was named the NL Player of the Month for Sept. as his 11 homers were tied for the most in the league and his 32 RBI topped all NL players...also ranked second with a .667 slugging pct. and 23 runs scored...also won this monthly award once in his career, back in May 2007 when he played for Houston (named Rookie of the Month).
- Signed a five year contract extension through 2018 with the Giants on the final day of the season.

- Was a trade deadline acquisition for the Giants to help bolster the offense…hit .219 (48-for-219) with 28 runs, 11 2Bs, two 3Bs, seven HRs and 45 RBI in 59 games for SF.
- Was acquired by the Giants from the Phillies on July 31 in exchange for OF Nate Schierholtz, minor league C Tommy Joseph and minor league RHP Seth Rosin.
- Batted .271 with 17 HRs and 59 RBI in 101 games for Philadelphia.
- At the time of the trade was leading the Phillies in hits (108), HRs (17), RBI (59), runs (59) and BBs (37).
- Overall, between Philadelphia and San Francisco he hit .253 (156-for-617) with 87 runs, 26 2Bs, 24 HRs and 104 RBI in 160 games, tied for the third-most games played in the NL.
- Posted the first 100+ RBI season of his career and ranked fifth in the NL in runs batted in.
- His 45 RBI since joining SF were the most on the club and fourth-most in the NL (since Aug. 1).
- His 32 go-ahead RBI were the second-most in the NL.
- Since the All-Star break hit just .213 (59-for-277), the eighth-lowest clip among all big league players.
- Recorded his second multi-homer game of the season and his third career walk-off home run on May 15 vs. Houston, hitting the game-winner off of Bret Myers in the bottom of the 10th inning.

Giants Gems

- Hunter moved around a lot as a child, mostly in Texas with a stop in Colorado. He says he went to 12 different schools before landing in Arlington for high school. His father, Howard, started in the cattle business in Texas, mostly in advertising and sales. Then he switched to the oil business but when the industry crashed in the 80s, he became a self-employed entrepreneur who moved the family to wherever the work was.
- His mother Gail, now divorced from Hunter's father, was a stay-at-home mom.
- His unconventional throwing motion began when he was about 12 and had a sore shoulder. "I don't remember how it happened but I know I hurt my shoulder and I threw through it. I can't throw over the top even now. It hurts."
- At 15, he worked for a neighbor's water company during the summer digging trenches, repairing underground pipes and reading water meter. Those were the most miserable days ever in the Arlington heat. At 17, he worked for a year at Applebee's as a busboy then a server

- Hit his first home run in a Giants uniform on Aug. 12 vs. Colorado off of RHP Rafael Betancourt…with the game tied at 6-6 in the 8th inning and two men on base, Pence crushed a 0-1 pitch into left-center field to give the Giants a 9-6 lead.
- Hit his third career grand slam (first with Giants) on Sept. 14 at Arizona, hitting it off of LHP Tyler Skaggs to extend SF's lead to 5-0 in the 3rd inning.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- In his second career taste of the postseason he batted .210 (13-for-62) with one home run and four RBI in 16 games.
- Lit a fire under the Giants with a pre-game speech before Game 3 of the Division Series at Cincinnati that ignited a comeback that will go down as one of the best in baseball history.

- Split time between Houston and Philadelphia after being traded from the Astros on July 29.
- Was named to his second career NL All-Star team...went 1-for-2 and threw a runner out at home plate.
- Finished tied for first in the NL in multi-hit games (57), fourth in avg. (.314), hits (190), tied for fourth in doubles (38), tied for eighth in RBI (97) and 10th in OBP (.370).
- Led all NL right fielders in avg. (.315) and hits, tied for first in RBI, finished second in total bases and tied for second in doubles.
- Recorded a career-best 23-game hitting streak from May 19-June 13, going 39-for-96 (.406) with four HRs and 19 RBI.
- Slugged his 100th career home run on May 31 at Chicago-NL.

- After joining the Phillies he led the team in avg. (.324), OBP (.394), SLG (.560), hits (67), doubles (12) and walks (26).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Started all five of the Phillies' postseason games and batted .211 (4-for-19).

2010

- Set career-highs with 93 runs, 173 hits and 18 stolen bases for Houston.
- Led all National League right fielders in hits (173), runs (93) and stolen bases (18), ranked second in RBI (91) and total bases (283) and tied for second in HRs (25).
- Reached base safely in 31-straight home games from June 22-Sept. 10.
- Recorded a season-high 14-game hitting streak from July 23-Aug. 8, going 24-for-65 (.369) with two HRs and 14 RBI.
- Was named the NL Player of the Week for Aug. 30-Sept. 5, going 11-for-22 (.500) with two HRs and 9 RBI.

- Was selected to his first All-Star team as he set a career-high playing in 159 games for Houston.
- Led all ML outfielders in assists with 16...marked the second-consecutive season he led the NL.
- Hit safely in 22 of 27 games in May and raised his average from .282 to .341.

- Batted .269 (165-for-585) for Houston in his first full Major League season.
- Finished the season tied for first in the NL with 16 outfield assists.
- Recorded a 16-game hitting streak from April 30-May 18, going 23-for-64 (.359) with 14 RBI and 12 runs scored.
- Hit a two-run, walk-off HR on May 4 vs. Milwaukee in the 12th inning.

- Among NL rookies finished second in hits (147) and doubles (30), third in slugging pct. (.539) and multi-hit games (46), fourth in RBI (69), fifth in avg. (.322) and runs scored (57), sixth in OBP (.360) and tied for sixth in HRs (17).
- Led all Major League rookies with nine triples.
- Set Houston rookie records in slugging pct., avg. and doubles.

2013 SEASON

- Was called up to the big leagues twice, his first action in the Majors.
- Hit .258 (23-for-89) with one home run and eight RBI in 34 games for SF.
- Started 24 games (15 in center field and nine in left field).
- Recorded eight outfield assists, which was tied for the second-most among rookies in the NL...accumulated his eight outfield assists in just 218.0 defensive innings.
- Made his first Major League start on June 9 at Arizona, starting in center field...crashed into the wall making a spectacular catch, as he robbed Paul Goldschmidt of extra bases on a running, lunging catch near the wall in right-center field in the 1st inning...bruised his left rib cage on the play and was later removed for a pinch-hitter in the 7th.
- Recorded four outfield assists in his first seven games in a Giants' uniform...the last outfielder to record four outfield assists in his first seven career games was Ken Landreaux of the California Angels in 1977 (Stats Inc.).
- Recorded his first big league hit in his second career plate appearance on June 9 off LHP Tyler Skaggs.
- Went a combined 6-for-11 in three games playing in front of friends and family in New York (Sept. 19-22)...attended DeWitt Clinton High in the Bronx.
- Hit his first career home run on Sept. 27 off San Diego's RHP Burch Smith.
- Hit .291 (111-for-382) with 27 doubles, 10 HRs and 50 RBI in 101 games for triple-A Fresno.
- Had a two home run game on April 14 at Tucson with the Grizzlies.
- Was named the Pacific Coast League Player of the Week for May 13-20, as he hit .522 (12-for-23) with three doubles, two HRs and seven RBI.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Named the Flying Squirrels' Most Valuable Player in 2012 after hlting .302 (146-for-483) with 26 doubles, 11 HRs, 53 RBI and 18 stolen bases in 126 games.
- Narrowly edged Gary Brown (45) for tops on the team with 46 multiple-hit games.
- Hit safely in 18-consecutive games from July 25-Aug. 14, the second longest streak in the Eastern League.
- Finished eighth in the league batting race (.302) and became the first Flying Squirrel to ever hit over .300 while having enough plate appearances to qualify among league leaders.
- His 13 outfield assists ranked as the second most in the circuit.
- Led Richmond in total bases (213), while tying Brown for the most extra-base hits (41)…tied for the team lead in home runs with Johnny Monell (11).
- Was added to the Giants' 40-man roster in November.
- Spent the entire 2011 campaign with double-A Richmond, batting .256 (117-for-457) with 25 doubles, 10 triples and 22 stolen bases in 131 games.
- Led the Eastern League with 10 triples.
- Batted .214 (6-for-28) with a double and three RBI in the Eastern League playoffs…provided the game-winning hit for the Squirrels in the 11th inning of Game 2 of the Western Division Championship Series.
- Played in the Dominican Winter League after the season and ranked second in the league with 10 doubles and 13 stolen bases, while also placing ninth in batting average (.290).
- Hit .298 (164-for-551) and helped lead the San Jose Giants to their second-straight California League Championship in 2010.
- Recorded the fourth-most triples (10) and fifth-most doubles (37) in the California League.
- Was named to the California League mid-season All-Star team and was named MVP of the California-Carolina League All-Star Game played at BB&T Coastal Field in Myrtle Beach, SC, after going 2-for-4 with a home run, double and two RBI.
- Led San Jose in at-bats (551), runs scored (83), doubles (37), total bases (260) and strikeouts (116)…his 551 at-bats ranked as the fifth-most in the California League and his 37 doubles placed him fifth.
- Hit .162 (6-for-37) with two extra-base hits in the California League playoffs.
- Was named San Jose Giants Player of the Month for May after hitting .355 (44-for-124) with three HRs, 18 RBI and 10 stolen bases.
- Opened his professional career with Class A Augusta in 2009, hitting .244 (109-for-447) in 123 games.

> Was named to the South Atlantic League postseason All-Star team.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

> Attended DeWitt Clinton (Bronx, NY) High School… graduated in 2006 and went undrafted.
> Played for two seasons (2006, '07) in the amateur La Caribe Baseball League.
> Played for Western Oklahoma Junior College in 2008…had one of the best seasons in JC history, hitting .465 with 37 home runs and 102 RBI… scouts and members of the media called him "Mystery Guy" while he was at WOJC because no one had any reports on him.

Giants Gems

> Juan came to the U.S. from the Dominican Republic at age 14. Spoke little English, so he struggled in his Bronx high school and returned to the Dominican to play at a baseball academy in Santiago. He then moved to a similar academy in Florida, where he learned English. He returned to his high school in the Bronx, DeWitt Clinton. Scouts watched his games but didn't sign him.

> With few options, he accepted an invitation from a neighbor in his apartment building. The man owned La Caribe Baseball League, which has played at Crotona Park in New York since the 1950s. Manny Ramirez is an alum. "More than 90 percent of the players on the messy field are, like Perez, from the Dominican Republic, and many of them are long past their prime. Perez played as often as he could, worked on his swing at local batting cages and earned money in his father's plumbing business.

> He found a spot on the Western Oklahoma State College team, where the Giants noticed him. He set NCAA Division II records for homers and RBI and was named player of the year. Perez had a .530 on-base percentage and 62 extra-base hits in 64 games. Some scouts called him "Mystery Guy" because he seemed to have come out of nowhere.

2013 SEASON

- The two-time NL All-Star batted .294 (153-for-520) with 34 2Bs, 15 HRs and 72 RBI in 148 games.
- Made 140 starts (119 at catcher, 16 at 1st base and five as DH).
- Signed a nine-year contract (eight-year extension) through 2021 with an option for 2022 on March 29...marked the longest contract in Giants history.
- Was selected to his second-consecutive All-Star Game, via the player ballot.
- Finished 12th in the league with a .371 on-base pct.
- Owned the ninth-highest avg. against left-handed pitching in the NL, hitting at a .320 clip.
- His 63 stolen bases against were tied for the fourth-most by any National League catcher.
- Recorded his first career walk-off hit of any kind on May 3 vs. Los Angeles, hitting a game-winning solo home run off Ronald Belisario in the 9th inning to give the Giants a 2-1 win...Posey's last walk-off home run came in a minor league game on June 5, 2009 while playing for Class A Advanced San Jose...Posey homered off of LHP Zach Phillips of the Bakersfield Blaze in the 13th inning, giving the Giants a 4-3 victory.
- Hit .374 (37-for-99) in the month of June with 11 doubles, five HRs and 17 RBI.
- Hit three doubles on June 14 at Atlanta, with each one coming with two strikes on him...it marked the first time Posey has recorded three extra-base hits in a game.
- Named NL Player of the Week for the period ending June 30...hit .500 (11-for-22) with four home runs and six RBI...marked his second weekly award, also winning it in July 2010.
- Recorded a career-high five hits on July 8 vs. New York-NL in a 16.0-inning game, going 5-for-8 with a pair of doubles, a HR and two RBI...the last Giants catcher with five-or-more hits in a game was Doug Mirabelli (five hits) at Houston on June 24, 2000 (Elias).
- Recorded five RBI in a game for the third time in his career on July 12 at San Diego, but it marked the first time he accomplished it as a catcher (in the two other games he was playing 1st base)...the last Giants catcher to drive in at least five runs in a game was Pablo Sandoval on Sept. 7, 2008 against the Pirates (Elias).
- Became the 48th catcher to catch multiple no-hitters when he caught Tim Lincecum's no-hitter on July 13 at San Diego.
- Suffered a small fracture on the tip of his right finger and missed four games from Sept. 4-7...was struck on his bare hand Sept. 3 when a pitch from Bumgarner bounced off the plate...impact of pitch ripped half his fingernail.
- Struggled following the All Star Break batting just .244 (48-for-197) with seven doubles, two home runs and 16 RBI in 58 games.

> His 16 RBI after the break were tied for the seventh-fewest among NL players with at least 200 plate appearances.

> Was named the National League's Most Valuable player after batting .336 (178-for-530) with 78 runs scored, 39 doubles, 24 home runs and 103 RBI while posting a .408 on-base pct., .549 slugging pct. and a .957 OPS.

> Was listed first on 27 ballots, second on four and third on one of the 32 ballots submitted by two writers representing each league city to score 422 points, based on a tabulation system rewarding 14 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third and on down to one for 10th.

> Became the fifth catcher to win the MVP award, joining Johnny Bench (1970, 1972), Roy Campanella (1951, 1953, 1955) , Ernie Lombardi (1938) and Gabby Hartnett (1935).

> At 25 years old, was the youngest player to win an MVP award since Ryan Sandberg in 1984.

> Became the first player since Frank Robinson to win a league MVP award, batting title and World Series in the same season…Robinson accomplished the feat with the Orioles in 1966…five players registered that hat trick prior to Robinson: Dick Groat (1960 Pirates), Mickey Mantle (1956 Yankees), Willie Mays (1954 Giants), Stan Musial (1946 Cardinals) and Joe DiMaggio (1939 Yankees) (Elias).

> Posey, Yogi Berra (1951 Yankees) and Roy Campanella (1955 Dodgers) are the only catchers to win a World Series and MVP award in the same season (Elias).

> It's the 13th time a Giants player has been honored and the first since Barry Bonds in 2004.

> Joined Willie Mays and Willie McCovey as the only Giants to win Rookie of the Year and an MVP award in franchise history.

> Is one of only three catchers to win Rookie of the Year, MVP and a World Series in their careers, joining Johnny Bench and Thurman Munson…Posey, Willie Mays and Willie McCovey are the only Giants to accomplish that trio of feats.

> Won Rookie of Year Award in 2010 and became the 14th former winner to be elected MVP.

> Became the 18th player to win both the NL batting title and NL MVP in the same season.

> Joined Mays (1954) and Barry Bonds (2002, 2004) as the only Giants players to win a NL batting title and a MVP award.

> Won the NL batting title, leading the league with a .336 avg. (also led Majors)...became the first catcher to win the NL batting title in 70 years, since Ernie Lombardi did so with the Boston Braves in 1942.

> Joined Lombardi and Eugene Franklin "Bubbles" Hargrave as the only catchers in the league's history to win a batting title.

> Is the first Giant to win the batting crown since Barry Bonds in 2004 (.362) and became the seventh player in Giants franchise history to lead the league in batting average.

> The last catcher to win the batting title in either league was Joe Mauer with the Twins in 2009.

Giants Gems

> Buster's full name is Gerald Dempsey Posey III. His father, known as Demp, was nicknamed Buster as a kid and passed it on to his son.

> While at Florida State, Posey once played all nine positions in a game against Savannah State. He used four different gloves.

> The FSU fans sang a song when Buster came to bat: Hail to the Buster – he singles, he doubles, he triples, he homers – Hail to the Buster.

> He ranked fourth in his high school graduating class of 302 students. A finance major at FSU, he was named to the President's List in spring 2007 for his 4.0 GPA, and made the Dean's List in the fall of 2005 and 2007.

> Had briefly considered becoming a pediatrician if baseball didn't work out.

> Buster married his high school sweetheart, Kristen, in January 2010 in their hometown of Leesburg, Georgia. "I think everybody in Leesburg was there," FSU coach Mark Martin says. The recessional song? "Take Me Out to the Ballgame."

- Won the title after a recent rule change making the final sentence of Rule 10.22(a) inapplicable to Melky Cabrera, who finished one plate appearance shy of qualifying due to his suspension (the stricken sentence would have allowed Cabrera, because of the size of his lead over his nearest competitor, to win the title though finishing with fewer than the requisite 502 plate appearances).
- Among the National League leaders he finished first in batting average, second in OBP, fourth in slugging, sixth in RBI, tied for sixth in multi-hit games (52), tied for seventh in total bases (291), tied for eighth in hits, ninth in doubles and 10th in walks (69)...also tied for first for the most sacrifice flies (9).
- His 103 RBI were the most driven in by a Giant since Jeff Kent had 108 RBI in 2002.
- His 82 RBI as a catcher were the second-most in the NL (Miguel Montero, 88) and the second-most in SF-era history (Bengie Molina, 91 in 2008).
- The only players in Giants franchise history (since 1900) to drive in 100+ runs in a season with their primary position being catcher was Walker Cooper in 1947 (122 RBI) and Dick Dietz in 1970 (107).
- Joined Dick Dietz (22 HRs in 1970) and Tom Haller (26 in 1966) as the only Giants players with 20+ home runs "as a catcher" only since 1958.
- 17 of his 24 home runs came on the road, the highest rate for any ML player with at least 20 home runs.
- Led the Giants and ranked third in the NL with a .340 avg. (49-for-144) with RISP.
- His 18 game-winning RBI and 31 go-ahead RBI both ranked as the third-most in the NL.
- Led all big league players with a .433 batting avg. (71-for-164) against left-handed pitchers.
- Led the NL with a .330 batting avg. (94-for-285) on the road...his 62 RBI on the road were third-most.
- Was named an All-Star for the first time in his career, being named the starting catcher for the NL squad... registered 7,621,370 votes, setting the highest total by an NL player in ML history.
- Batted .385 (99-for-257) with 23 doubles, 14 homers and 60 RBI in 71 games since the All-Star break.
- His .385 avg. and .456 OBP led the Majors since the break, while his .646 slugging pct. ranked second and his 60 RBI were tied with Alfonso Soriano for the fourth-most.
- His 87 stolen bases allowed were the second-most in the Majors, but his 31 caught stealings were also the second-most.
- His two passed balls were tied for the fewest in MLB.
- The Giants were 25 games over .500 when he started (84-59).
- Appeared in 148 games overall, making 143 starts (111 at catcher, 29 at 1st base, three at DH).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Helped lead the Giants to their second World Series title in three seasons after batting .200 (12-for-60) with three home runs and nine RBI in 16 postseason games.
- His biggest contribution came in Game 5 of the Division Series at Cincinnati in which he hit the 54th grand slam in postseason history and the third in Giants history to help the Giants become the first team in Major League history to overcome a 2-0 deficit in the division series… his second career grand slam off Mat Latos put the Giants up 6-0 in the 5th inning and sparked the Giants dugout.
- Joined Will Clark (Game 1 of 1989 NLCS) and Chuck Hiller (Game 4 of 1962 WS) as only Giants with grand slams in the postseason.
- Became the fourth player in Major League history to hit a grand slam in a "winner-take-all" postseason game, joining Johnny Damon (2004 ALCS), Troy O'Leary (1999 ALDS) and Bill Skowron (1956 WS).

- In his second full big league season, Posey was limited to just 45 games after a devastating injury in May ended his season…batted .284 (46-for-162) with four HRs and 21 RBI.
- Was placed on the disabled list on May 26 with a fractured bone in his lower left leg…suffered the injury the night before in a collision at home plate with Florida's Scott Cousins, who crashed into Posey as he was trying to block the winning run in the 12th inning…Posey was receiving the throw from right fielder Nate Schierholtz on Emilio Bonifacio's sacrifice fly to medium right field when he had dropped the throw right before Cousins went shoulder-first into him and his left cleat appeared to stick in the infield dirt while the rest of his body was hurled sideways…Giants trainers Dave Groeschner and

> Underwent three MRI's – first on his ankle, second on his lower leg and the third on his knee…the results showed torn ligaments in his ankle, a fractured fibula in his lower left leg and nothing on his knee.

> Underwent successful surgery on May 29 to repair torn ligaments in his left ankle...had two screws inserted in his leg in a 90-minute procedure that was performed at a medical facility in Burlingame by team orthopedist Ken Akizuki and Giants podiatry specialist Larry Oloff, along with Michael Dillingham, a former 49ers physician who has extensive experience with traumatic injuries.

> Prior to his injury, had started 43 of Giants' first 48 games (41 at catcher, two at 1st base) and hit safely in 32 of 43 contests…leading up to the injury was among Giants leaders in avg. (second), hits (second), RBI (second) and homers (third).

> Made his first career Opening Day roster and became the youngest Giants starting catcher at 24 years and four days old since Tom Haller was 23 years and 292 days old when he started for SF in 1961.

> Named National League winner of Jackie Robinson Rookie of Year Award, becoming sixth player to earn honor in Giants franchise history.

> Won the Rookie of the Year Award with 129 points, receiving 20 first-place votes, nine second-place votes and two third-place votes.

> Became the sixth Giant and first in 35 years to win the award, which was established in 1947…joined Willie Mays (1951), Orlando Cepeda (1958), Willie McCovey (1959), Gary Matthews (1973) and John Montefusco (1975).

> Became the sixth NL catcher to be honored Rookie of Year, joining Johnny Bench (1968), Earl Williams (1971), Benito Santiago (1987), Mike Piazza (1993) and Geovanny Soto (2008).

> Became the first Rookie of the Year winner to also become World Series champion in same season since Boston's Dustin Pedroia in 2007…the last NL player to do it was Florida's Dontrelle Willis in 2003.

> With Posey winning ROY, it snapped a 35-year drought for the Giants organization, which had been the longest span without a rookie award for a National League team.

> Posey joined Texas' Neftali Feliz (AL Rookie of Year) as the third pair of players named ROY in their respective leagues after appearing in that year's World Series… previous pairs were Willie Mays and Gil McDougald in 1951 (Giants and Yankees) and Dave Righetti and Fernando Valenzuela in 1981 (Yankees and Dodgers).

> Was also named to Topps' ML Rookie All-Star team.

> Solidified his status as the Giants' most heralded position playing prospect since Matt Williams in 1987 after batting .305 (124-for-406) with 23 doubles, 18 home runs and 67 RBI in 108 games for San Francisco.

> His .305 batting avg. was third-highest for any player who started at least 50 games at catcher in his rookie season, behind Mike Piazza's .318 clip with LA-NL in 1993 and Ronny Paulino's .310 mark with PIT in 2006 (Elias).

> His 67 RBI were fifth-most by Giants rookie since 1958 and most since Chili Davis had 76 in 1982...his 18 home runs were tied for the fifth-most by a Giants rookie since '58 and most since Davis had 25 in '82.

> Led the Giants and ranked 17th in the NL with a .312 avg. (34-for-109) with RISP.

> His .305 avg. was the eighth-highest in the NL since his call-up (May 29), trailing only Carlos Gonzalez (.343), Joey Votto (.329), Matt Holliday (.322), Omar Infante

Select Company

Player	Year, Team
Joe DiMaggio	1939 Yankees
Stan Musial	1946 Cardinals

- Ranked among NL rookie leaders (min. 100 games played) in batting avg. (.305, first), slugging pct. (.505, second), on-base pct. (.357, third), RBI (67, fourth), multi-hit games (38, fifth), HRs (18, tied for fifth), hits (124, seventh) and 2Bs (23, seventh).
- Missed the first two months in the big leagues as he was playing for triple-A Fresno, and wasn't the number one catcher until July 1.
- Since his recall from triple-A May 29, started 105 of 115 games, making 30 starts at first base and 75 as backstop, catching pitching staff with a number of guys with violent stuff.
- Caught 12 shutouts overall in 2010 and fashioned a 3.18 catchers ERA, the second-lowest in the NL among players with at least 75 starts (Yorvit Torrealba, 3.14)...threw out 18-of-57 (31.6%) attempted baserunners.
- In his season debut on May 29 vs. Arizona, had three RBI singles in four at-bats to help the Giants earn a 12-1 victory.
- Earned NL Player of the Week honors from July 5-11, hitting .556 (15-for-27) with five HRs and 14 RBI.
- Posted a career-best 21-game hitting streak from July 4-28, batting .440 (37-for-84) with six HRs and 23 RBI... in his first 10 games of the streak, Posey had 19 hits, six HRs and 13 RBI - no rookie in NL history ever had those numbers for any 10-game stretch.
- His 21-game hit streak marked the second-longest hit streak by a rookie in SF-era history, behind Hall of Famer Willie McCovey's 22-game hit streak in 1959.
- Became the seventh player in SF-era history to have a hit streak of 20-or-more games and his 21-gamer tied Robby Thompson for the fifth-longest in SF history...also became just the 21st Major League catcher to post a hit streak of 20+ and only the second to accomplish the feat as a rookie, joining Benito Santiago (34-straight games in 1987).
- Was named NL Player of the Month, NL Rookie of the Month and was named winner of "Major League Baseball's Clutch Performer of the Month", all for July... finished with a NL-leading 43 hits and ranked third with a .417 avg., tied for third with 24 RBI, fourth with a .466 on-base pct. and fifth in the league with a .699 slugging mark.
- Became the first Giants player with at least 40-or-more hits in a single month since Randy Winn had 46 in August of 2008...his 43 hits in July were the most in one calendar month by a Giants rookie, surpassing Jim Ray Hart, who had 42 in July 1964...his seven HRs were also most in one calendar month by a Giants rookie since Jack Clark hit seven in 1977.
- Began the year at triple-A Fresno to catch more innings and get consistent at-bats...with injuries to Mark DeRosa and Edgar Renteria, a window of opportunity opened for Posey to get at-bats at the Major-League level and he was called up to the big leagues on May 29.
- Played the majority of his games at first base (23 starts at first in 26 games), pushing Aubrey Huff to outfield, however, the trade of Bengie Molina to Texas on July 1 cleared an everyday catching job...at time of trade, Molina was hitting just .257 with a .312 on-base pct. and had been battling a sore left elbow.
- The Giants were 40-38 at the time of the Molina trade; however went 52-32 after that.
- Hit his first big league homer off Reds pitcher Aaron Harang at Great American Ball Park on June 9.
- Hit his first career grand slam and posted his first multi-homer contest on July 7 at Milwaukee…hit a two-run home run off Chris Narveson in the first inning, capping frame that included three home runs by Giants (also Andres Torres and Aubrey Huff)…Posey's grand slam came in SF's seven-run 4th inning and came against LHP Chris Capuano…became the first Giants rookie to have at least four hits, two homers and six RBI in a game since Willard Marshall on May 15, 1942 vs. Cincinnati (4-for-5, two HRs, six RBI).
- Backstop did not falter in the heart of a postseason push with the Giants as he started 30 of SF's final 31 games of season...hit .233 (24-for-103) with eight home runs (tied for the third-most in NL in Sept./Oct.) and 15 RBI.
- Guided pitching staff that held opponents to three runs-or-fewer in 23 of their last 26 regular-season games, including an 18-game streak which was tied for third-longest all-time.
- Caught shutout and homered in his last trip to plate on Oct. 3 vs. San Diego to help the Giants clinch the NL West on the final day of the regular season.
- Batted .349 (60-for-172) with 13 doubles, two triples, six homers and 32 RBI in 47 games with triple-A Fresno prior to his call-up to the big leagues.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Posey became just the fifth NL Rookie of the Year to help his team win the World Series, batting .288 (17-for-59) in 15 games.
- Led the Giants in hits in the first round win over Atlanta in the Division Series, going 6-for-16 (.375), which marked the seventh-highest avg. by a rookie in the DS (min. 10 PAs).
- Became the first rookie catcher in Major League history to bat cleanup in a postseason game, batting fourth in Game 1 of the Division Series vs. Atlanta on Oct. 7 (Elias).
- Posey and Braves catcher Brian McCann became only the fourth pair of catchers to start and bat cleanup in the same postseason contest...others were Yogi Berra and Roy Campanella (1953 and 1955 World Series), Johnny Bench and Manny Sanguillen (1970 NLCS), and Bench and Carlton Fisk (Games 5 and 6 of 1975 World Series (Elias).
- Tied for second on the team with three RBI in the LCS against Philadelphia…went 4-for-5 with two doubles and two RBI in Game 4 to become just the second rookie catcher in ML history to collect four hits in a postseason game…on Oct. 10, 1946, Joe Garagiola had four hits and three RBI to lead the Cardinals to a 12-3 win over the Red Sox at Fenway Park in Game 4 of the World Series.
- Hit safely in all five games of the World Series vs. Texas, batting .300 (6-for-20) with a homer and two RBI...hit a solo home run off Darren O'Day in Game 4, becoming the fourth rookie catcher ever to hit a home run in a World Series game, joining Wally Schang (1913 Philadelphia Athletics), Bill DeLancey (1934 Cardinals) and Rod Barajas (2001 Diamondbacks).
- Became the youngest Giants player to hit a home run in a World Series contest at 23 years and 219 days… the previous youngest was Matt Williams (23 years, 333 days) in Game 3 of the 1989 WS against Oakland.
- On Oct. 31 at Texas, Posey joined teammate Madison Bumgarner as the first all-rookie starting battery in a World Series game since Spec Shea and Yogi Berra started for Yankees in Game 1 of 1947 World Series.

- One of San Francisco's prized young players, Posey made quick strides in just his two minor league seasons, finishing the year with San Francisco.
- Had his contract purchased from triple-A Fresno on Sept. 2 and appeared in seven games for the Giants, going 2-for-17 (.118)…made four starts, all at catcher and caught 40.0 innings overall.
- Upon hearing of his call-up to the Majors, caught an early flight at dawn out of Las Vegas with teammate Dan Runzler and landed in Philadelphia at 3 p.m. local time on Sept. 2…his call-up was somewhat of a surprise, however, with catcher Bengie Molina missing time with a strained upper right quad, the Giants had no choice but to add Posey to the big league roster as an insurance option.
- After hitting a combined .325 with 18 HRs and 80 RBI in his first full season between Class A Advanced San Jose and triple-A Fresno, Posey finally got his first Major League at-bat on Sept. 11 in a 10-3 loss to the Dodgers in Los Angeles, when he entered the game as a late defensive insertion and struck out in his lone plate appearance against Hiroki Kuroda.
- Collected his first Major League hit in his third career at-bat on Sept. 19 at Los Angeles-NL, with a bloop single to right field off Jeff Weaver.
- Caught Randy Johnson Sept. 25 vs. Chicago-NL, which was largest age difference between a pitcher and catcher since Jesse Orosco and Rob Bowen threw together Sept. 27, 2003 (23 years and 309 days)…the age difference between Posey and Johnson was 23 years and 198 days (Sports Features Group).

- Prior to his promotion to the big league club, spilt year between Class A Advanced San Jose and triple-A Fresno…began year at SJ, hitting .326 (95-for-291) with 23 doubles, 13 home runs and 58 RBI in 80 contests, helping the Giants win the first half title in the California League North Division with a 42-28 (.600) record…the Giants later went on to win the California League Championship.
- After earning California League mid-season All-Star honors, Posey skipped double-A and made the jump to triple-A, being promoted July 14.
- Was scheduled to be promoted earlier, however was hit in the head with a pitch by Stockton's Craig Italinao on June 26 and missed 5 games.
- Upon promotion to triple-A he immediately sparked Grizzlies, as team won first nine games he caught… struggled somewhat at plate in his first 14 games with Fresno, batting just .222, however, adjusted and recorded a .380 avg. in his final 21 games to finish at .321 (42-for-131) with eight doubles, five homers and 22 RBI in 35 contests.
- Was on fire in August, batting at .375 clip with 17 RBI and connecting on all five of his round trippers during his first full month at minor league baseball's top classification.
- Played in the Arizona Fall League in October, playing for the Scottsdale Scorpions.
- Tabbed by Baseball America as top prospect in Giants system entering 2010 season.

2008

- Spent his first professional campaign playing for rookie-level Arizona and short-season Salem-Keizer.
- Hit .385 (10-for-26) with five extra base hits in seven games for the ARL-Giants before being promoted to short-season Salem-Keizer where he played in only three games with the Volcanoes, hitting .273 (3-for-11).
- Following the season, played for the Waikiki Beach Boys, where he was named to the HWB postseason All-Star team…helped Beach Boys win their first Hawaii Winter League Baseball championship, batting .338 (25-for-74) with 15 RBI.

- 2013 NL All-Star
- Ranks ninth on the Giants' all-time franchise list with 55 saves
- Has the second-lowest ERA among all pitchers (min. 250.0ip) since 2008 (2.27 ERA)
- Has held RH batters to .188 clip, which is second-lowest mark in the Majors since 2008
- Has third-best strikeout-walk ratio (5.58) in the Majors since 2008 (minimum of 250.0ip)
- His strikeout to walk ratio of 14-to-1 in 2011 was the highest in SF-era history (min. 45.0ip)

2013 SEASON

- 2013 All-Star completed his sixth season in the big leagues, going 5-8 with a 2.54 ERA (17er, 60.1ip) and 38 saves in 43 chances.
- His 38 saves were a career-high and tied for the third-most in the NL.
- Became just the sixth pitcher in Giants history to record 30 saves in a season...joined Robb Nen (five), Rod Beck (four), Brian Wilson (four), Tim Worrell (one) and Greg Minton (one) in the exclusive club.
- His five wins matched his career-high (also five wins in 2009 and 2010)...also suffered a career-high eight losses.
- Held right-handed hitters to a .183 (24-for-131) average.
- Played for team Mexico in the 2013 WBC, going 0-1 with a 9.00 ERA (2er, 2.0ip) and one save.
- Recorded 10 saves in April, the second-most by a Giants pitcher in the season's opening month in SF-era history, behind Rod Beck's 11 rescues in 1997.
- Recorded his first career four strikeout outing on July 23 vs. Cincinnati.
- Was selected by manager Bruce Bochy to his first career All-Star team as an injury replacement for Pittsburgh's Jeff Locke.
- Had a career month in August, going 1-0 with a 0.87 ERA (1er, 10.1ip) and going 9-for-9 in save opportunities.
- Held opponents scoreless in 17 of his last 19 games and was 11-for-his-last-12 in save opportunities.

2012

- Continued his dominance on the mound, going 4-2 with a career-best 14 saves while fashioning a 1.79 ERA (11er, 55.1ip), the fourth-lowest figure among all NL relievers.
- Only Craig Kimbrel (1.01), Aroldis Chapman (1.51) and Eric O'Flaherty (1.73) had lower ERA's than Romo.
- Blanked opponents in 63 of 69 games, including 27 of his last 29.
- His 69 games marked a career-high.
- Went 14-for-15 in save chances...earned a save in nine of his last 20 outings, becoming the Giants' full-time closer in late August and throughout the playoffs.
- Allowed only nine hits in 51 at-bats with runners in scoring position (.176).
- Held opponents to a .185 avg. against (37-for-200), the fourth-lowest mark among NL relievers.
- Gave up just two extra base hits to left-handed batters all year (one double, one homer in 54 at-bats).
- Allowed nine of 43 inherited runners to score (20.9%), the 12th-lowest figure in the NL.
- Matched his career-high for runs allowed on July 30 vs. New York-NL after giving up four runs and four hits in just 0.2 innings…allowed a game-tying two-run home run to Scott Hairston in the eighth and then a pair of go-ahead runs…had allowed a total of just four runs all season prior to this outing.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Was the Giants' closer throughout the 2012 post season, going 1-0 with a 0.84 ERA (1er, 10.2ip) and 4-for-4 in save opportunities in 10 of 16 games…in 10.2 innings, he allowed just one run on four hits with one walk and nine strikeouts.
- Recorded the last out in nine of the Giants' 11 wins.
- Became the seventh player to record at least three saves in a single Fall Classic, joining John Wetteland of the Yankees (four in 1996), Pittsburgh's Roy Face (three in 1960), Boston's Jonathan Papelbon (three in 2007),

Anaheim's Troy Percival (three in 2002), Mariano Rivera of the Yankees (three in 1998) and Pittsburgh's Kent Tekulve (three in 1979).

- Produced one of the best seasons of any Giants reliever, fashioning the third-lowest ERA among NL relievers (1.50 ERA), who tossed at least 45.0 innings, and fashioning a 14-to-1 strikeout-walk ratio (70 Ks, 5 BBs), best in the Majors.
- His season WHIP of 0.71 in 48.0 innings was the best in the Majors with at least 30 innings pitched.
- His 71% strike percentage was second-best in the NL for any pitcher with more than 20.0 innings pitched (Atlanta's Kris Medlen, 78%).
- His 81.8% (27-of-33) inherited runners stranded rate was the fifth-best in the NL.
- Registered at least one strikeout in 48 of 65 games... his strikeout to walk ratio of 14-to-1 was the highest in SF-era history (min. 45.0ip) and the highest in the Majors since Dennis Eckersley posted a 18.25-to-1 mark in 1990.
- Ranked third in the NL with a .150 avg. against (18-for-120) vs. right-handed batters (min. 75 BF).
- Overall, his opponents avg. against of .173 (29-for-168) was the sixth-lowest among NL relievers with a min. of 45.0 innings.
- Became the fifth reliever in Major League history since 1919 to throw what amounted to a perfect game, retiring 31 consecutive batters faced over a 15 game stretch from July 4-Aug. 6...his streak ended on Aug. 9 as he allowed a leadoff double to PIT's Andrew McCutchen in the 8th inning...was 10 shy of matching the NL record, set by former Giant Jim Barr in 1972.
- Was on the 15-day disabled list from Aug. 16-28 with inflammation in his right elbow...missed a total of 16 games with the injury.
- Had the longest scoreless streak of his career and ninth longest in the National League from June 30-Sept. 23, logging 21.2-scoreless innings...his streak was snapped in his second-to-last appearance of the season vs. Colorado.
- His 0.48 ERA following the All-Star break was the second-lowest figure in the NL (min. of 15.0ip).
- Ended the season by allowing just one run in his final 30 games (23.1ip) while allowing only 11 hits in 78 at-bats (.141).

2010

- Was one of Bruce Bochy's most often used relievers, working career-high 68 games (2nd-most on Giants), 62.0 innings and logging impressive 5.00 strikeout-walk ratio, which ranked sixth-best among NL relievers.
- Inherited 46 runners (T12th-most in NL) and allowed just 14 to score.
- Led team and was tied for 11th in NL with 21 holds.
- Posted 10th-lowest ERA among NL relievers who threw at least 60.0 innings.
- Three of his six HRs allowed were game changing HRs: April 18 at LAD - two-run game-winning HR to Manny Ramirez in 8th; May 4 at Florida - three-run go-ahead HR to Dan Uggla in 8th; May 7 at NYM - allowed two-run walk-off HR to Rod Barajas.
- Following that HR to Barajas on May 7th, settled down and solidified himself as one of top relievers in NL, blanking opponents in 48 of his final 54 games, while posting 5-0 record and fashioning 1.50 ERA (8er, 48.0ip) with .202 opponents avg. against (35-for-173)...that 1.50 ERA beginning May 9th was fourth-lowest among NL relievers.
- Held right-handed hitters to .185 avg. against (27-for-146), 12th-lowest figure in NL (min. 100 ABs).
- Appeared in 8th inning or later in 47 of his 68 appearances.

Giants Gems

- Sergio's father, Francisco – or Frank – was born to a Mexican farm laborer who immigrated to the U.S. when Frank was a baby and followed the crops. (Frank's father loved baseball and almost signed with the Mexico City Diablos but he had to work the farms).
- Sergio attended Mesa State in Grand Junction, CO, and went 14-1, breaking six school records.
- Sergio's younger brother, Andrew, also pitched in the Giants organization. He wasn't drafted but he played in the Giants organization in 2009 and 2010.
- When Sergio was about to graduate from high school, his father urged him to join the Navy instead of pursuing baseball. Sergio took the entrance test and had the enlistment papers on the kitchen table in front of him, but he couldn't sign. He convinced his father to let him try a year at community college.
- Sergio has an elaborate tattoo on his right bicep of a monster with several faces, a reflection of the different sides of his personality: the competitor, the joker, the beast, the coward. Below that tattoo is a newer one: large praying hands and his son's name, Rilen. He says they represent his son praying for him to walk the straight and narrow, to be a good father. Sergio and his wife Chelsea had their second child in 2011, a boy named Rex Ryder.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- In six postseason appearances, surrendered three runs on sixs hits while going 0-for-2 in save opportunities.
- Made his postseason debut in Game 2 of LDS vs. Atlanta on Oct. 8 and threw just eight pitches while being tagged for two runs on two hits.
- Allowed two-run, go-ahead HR to Braves pinch-hitter Eric Hinske in Game 3 of LDS on Oct. 10.

- Went 5-2 with 3.97 ERA (15er, 34.0ip) in 45 relief appearances for San Francisco.
- His five wins were tied with Brandon Medders and Brian Wilson for most among Giants relievers, while his 11 holds were second-most on club behind Jeremy Affeldt (33).

Best Strikeout-to-Walk Ratio in Majors Since 2008 among active players

(minimum of 250.0 innings pitched)

Player	SO	BB	SO/BB
Koji Uehara	332	38	8.74
Cliff Lee	1,203	197	6.11
Sergio Romo	335	60	5.58

- Stranded 26-of-28 inherited runners (92.9%), for second-highest pct. among all relievers (min. 20 inherited runners), behind Colorado's Juan Rincon (19-of-20, 95.0%).
- Allowed just one home run (Oakland's Kurt Suzuki) in 34.0 innings, fewest round trippers allowed on SF's staff (min. 30ip)…in fact, was one of just eight NL relievers to allow one homer-or-less.
- Missed first two months of season with right elbow sprain, suffered in Spring Training…appeared in just one Spring contest before being placed on DL March 26.

- Found success at big league level, becoming one of Giants' best relievers in late innings…posted 3-1 record with 2.12 ERA (8er, 34.0ip) in 29 relief appearances for San Francisco in what was his first taste of big leagues.
- Struck out 33 batters in just 34.0 innings and held opposing hitters to .138 avg. against (16-for-116).
- Was especially tough on road, earning all three victories away from AT&T Park while fashioning 0.98 ERA (2er, 18.1ip) in those 14 games.
- Inherited 22 runners (tied for seventh-most on club) and allowed just three to score (86.3%).
- Was unscored upon in 24 of 29 games, including career-best 17.2-inning scoreless streak Aug. 18-end of season…that scoreless stretch was longest by SF hurler in 2008 and tied for 12th-longest streak by an NL pitcher.
- Was not even in Major League camp during Spring Training.
- Had his contract purchased June 24.
- Made ML debut June 26 at Cleveland, finishing game with 1.0-scoreless inning of relief...struck out two batters and ended inning on called strikeout to David Dellucci.
- Factored into his first decision after six outings and received his first ML career loss July 10 at NYM...tossed 1.2 innings, however, surrendered first ML HR to Fernando Tatis.
- Earned first ML win Aug. 1 in San Diego, tossing a scoreless 9th inning in tie the game.
- Was designated for assignment Aug. 6, but cleared waivers and was optioned to Fresno following day.
- Was recalled Aug. 16 and did not allow a run over his final 13 games, tossing 17.2-scoreless innings and allowing .073 avg. against (4-for-55).
- Went 1-3 with 11 saves and 3.27 ERA (12er, 33.0ip) with 37 Ks and nine BBs in 27 games between Connecticut and Fresno.

CAREER MINOR LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

- Capped a superb 2007 season with being named Class A Advanced Relief Pitcher of the Year by MiLB.com, finishing the campaign with a 6-2 record and a 1.36 ERA (10er, 66.1ip), nine saves and 106 strikeouts in 41 relief appearances.
- His 14.38 strikeouts per 9.0 innings ratio was the third-best mark among all minor league pitchers while his .155 (35-for-226) avg. against was the fourth-best in the minors.
- Was named to South Atlantic League mid-season All-Star team in just his second professional season in 2006.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Has two sons (Rilen Serge, Jan. 4, 2006 and Rex Ryder, Sept. 4, 2011).
- Is extremely active in Bay Area community, attending and participating in several community events, including challenger clinics and Make A Wish Nights.

2013 SEASON

- Spent the entire season with triple-A Fresno, going 3-7 with a 5.68 ERA (33er, 52.1).
- Was 1-0 with a 2.61 ERA (3er, 10.1ip) over 11 games in April.
- Struggled in June and July, going 2-4 with a 7.72 ERA (20er, 23.1ip) in 21 relief appearances.
- Right-handed opponents hit .299 (38-for-127) off him.
- Was 1-for-8 in save opportunities.

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Missed the first two months of the 2012 season due to injury and played the majority of his games in the minors, appearing in 32 games and going 0-4 with a 6.00 ERA.
- Missed almost all of spring training and did not appear in any Cactus League games after aggravating his latissimus dorsi muscle in a bullpen session during the first week of spring...tore his lat muscle in the final regular season game in 2011
- Was placed on the 15-day disabled list on March 26 and began the 2012 campaign in extended spring training to build up innings.
- Went on a rehabilitation assignment to Class A Advanced San Jose on June 8 and appeared in three games before being reinstated from the DL and transferred to triple-A Fresno on June 27.
- Was called up by the Giants in September and appeared in six games, logging 3.2-scoreless innings.
- Made SF's Opening Day roster in 2011 for the second-consecutive season and was one of three left-handers in the bullpen (also Affeldt, Lopez).
- Spent the first month and a half with the big league club, but struggled, allowing 14 runs in 19.2 innings (6.41 ERA)...was optioned to triple-A Fresno on May 28.
- Made his first career start on Aug. 21 at Houston, filling rotation spot of LHP Jonathan Sanchez, who sprained his left ankle in his start on Aug. 16 at Atlanta...manager Bruce Bochy was hoping to get at least 6.0 innings out of Runzler, but he got just 1.2 innings as the southpaw struggled with his command, allowing four runs on three hits and three walks...faced 10 total batters.
- Following that start was moved back to the bullpen where he ended the eason as one of the Giants' best relievers, working 5.1-scoreless innings over 11 relief appearances.
- Pitched in season finale against Colorado and exited during 7th inning with strained left lat muscle.
- Proved to be valuable out of the bullpen during the Giants run to the World Series championship in 2010 as he was 3-0 with a 3.03 ERA (11er, 32.2ip) in his first complete season at the Major League level.
- Rookie made his first Opening Day Roster as he entered 2010 ranked by Baseball America as the fifth-best prospect in the Giants' minor league system.
- Missed 47 games with an injury to his left patella, an injury that occurred while taking his first Major League at-bat on July 8 at Milwaukee.
- Was promoted to the big leagues on Sept. 2, 2009, having his contract purchased from triple-A Fresno...overall, appeared in 11 games for the Giants and allowing just one earned run in 8.2 innings with 11 strikeouts.
- In his Major League debut on Sept. 4 at Milwaukee took mound with two outs in the 6th inning of a 2-2 game in Major League pennant race to face veteran Jody Gerut, who struck out looking on three fastballs to end threat in the Giants 3-2 victory.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Combined to go 5-1 with an 0.76 ERA (5er, 59.0ip), 17 saves and 83 strikeouts against 24 walks in 47 relief appearances at all four of San Francisco's full season minor league affilates, and was called up to the Majors when rosters expanded in Sept., 2009.
- Entered season as a 24-year-old reliever who had never pitched above Class A.
- Was named by MLB.com as Minor League Reliever of the Year.
- Skipped from Class A Augusta to Class A Advanced San Jose to double-A Connecticut to triple-A Fresno and was considered to be the first Giants player to play on five different levels in one season.
- Was promoted to the big league club on Sept. 2, having his contract purchased from triple-A and became one of
- Was awarded "Overall Reliever of the Year" by This Year in Minor League Baseball Awards in 2009.

> In 2009 he was named to the South Atlantic League's mid-season All-Star team, however did not participate due to his promotion to San Jose.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

> Married (Michelle)…son (Ryan Thomas, Dec. 27, 2012).
> Graduated from Chaminade (West Hills, CA) High School.
> Attended UC Riverside…was acknowledged with a plaque on city of Riverside sport walk on Jan. 30, 2010...Wall of Distinction recognizes athletes who have played in Riverside in one of four major sports and have gone on to reach the top level.

Giants Gems

> All-Star Major League pitcher Mark Gubicza took over as varsity coach when Dan was a senior. He saw Runzler in right field -- a 6-4 lefty -- and said, "Let's put you on the mound." Midway through the season, colleges began calling.

> Steve Kline, the former Giants pitcher who was working in the minor leagues, was instrumental in Runzler's progress in the pros. He helped Dan smooth everything out. His velocity increased and his control improved so dramatically that he progressed four levels in one season, 2009, to reach the big leagues.

2013 SEASON

- Had three separate appearances with SF, batting .248 (32-for-129) with three HRs and 19 RBI in 63 games.
- Made 25 starts for the Giants (24 at catcher and one as a DH).
- Made his second Opening Day roster.
- Missed several weeks in spring with inflammation in his right shoulder and appeared in only nine Cactus League games.
- Threw out just 5-of-26 attempted basestealers and had five passed balls.
- Was just 5-for-30 (.167) with a home run and five RBI as a pinch-hitter.
- SF pitchers posted a 2.96 ERA (44er, 134.0ip) in his last 18 games catching.
- Recorded his third career game-ending hit on June 22 vs. Miami, hitting a bases loaded single in the 11th inning off RHP Ryan Webb to give the Giants a 2-1 win.
- Was placed on the disabled list with a strained right shoulder on July 9 and missed 12 games (was optioned to Fresno on July 24 when he was reinstated from D.L.).
- Hit a pinch-hit, three-run homer on Aug. 15 at Washington with two outs in the 9th inning to give SF a 4-3 win...it marked just the second time in the last 25 years a pinch-hitter delivered a game-winning HR with the Giants one out from defeat, as Armando Rios did so on July 18, 2000 vs. Texas (Elias).
- Hit .271 (23-for-85) with three HRs and 11 RBI in 32 games for triple-A Fresno.

- Made his first Opening Day roster and spent his first full season in the big leagues.
- Switch-hitter batted .280 (61-for-218) with three HRs and 34 RBI in 74 games.
- Started 49 games (48 at catcher and one as DH)...85.4% of his starts came with either Lincecum or Zito starting (started 25 of Zito's 32 starts and 16 of Lincecum's 33).
- The Giants were 30-18 in his starts behind the plate.
- Threw out 11 of 51 (21.6%) attempted base thieves.
- On April 9 at Colorado, caught Barry Zito's shutout in what was just his seventh career big league start behind the dish...the last catcher to be behind the plate for a shutout by a pitcher within his first seven starts of his career was Hank Conger (fourth start) for the Angels on Sept. 21, 2010 (pitcher was Ervin Santana).
- Hit his first Major League home run in Game 2 of a double-header on April 23 at New York-NL…his two-run shot off RHP Dillon Gee in the 7th inning extended the Giants lead to 7-1.
- Recorded his first career game-ending hit with a pinch-hit single in the bottom of the 11th inning which gave the Giants a 4-3 victory over the Brewers on May 6.
- Delivered a game-winning home run on May 21 at Milwaukee, hitting a solo shot in the top of the 14th inning at Miller Park off of right-handed pitcher Juan Perez… became the first Giants player to hit a go-ahead home run in the 14th inning or later in a road game since Kevin Mitchell in the 16th inning at St. Louis on May 11, 1988.

- Began the 2011 season with Class A Advanced San Jose and was later promoted to triple-A Fresno...combined to hit .285 (104-for-365) with 23 2Bs, 12 HRs and 84 RBI in 98 games between both affiliates.
- Became just the second player in San Jose Giants history to slug three home runs in a single-game at Stockton on May 23…finished night 3-for-6 with six RBI.
- Prior to being promoted to triple-A Fresno on June 9, batted .301 (53-for-176) with 13 2Bs, eight HRs and 42 RBI in 42 games with San Jose (25 as catcher and 17 as DH).
- Had his contract purchased from triple-A Fresno on July 15, as the Giants placed Pat Burrell on 15-day DL and made his Major League debut on July 15 in a pinch-hit situation, drawing a walk in his first at-bat.
- Appeared in three games, going 0-for-3, before being optioned to Fresno on July 19 to clear a roster spot for Brandon Belt.
- Was recalled by San Francisco on Aug. 19 taking the roster spot of Eli Whiteside who was placed on the seven-day DL with a concussion.
- Recorded his first Major League hit and RBI on Aug. 23 vs. San Diego with a pinch-hit RBI-single off RHP Luke Gregerson.
- Was optioned to Class A Advanced San Jose on Aug. 25 and recalled again by San Francisco on Sept. 4, marking the third time that he was promoted to the big league club.

- Owned a .258 clip (8-for-31) with two 2Bs and RBI in 13 games in a Giants uniform…finished the season with six-game hitting streak, batting .333 (6-for-18) with a 2B over his final six games.
- Appeared in six games (three starts) at catcher for SF… opponents were successful in 10 of 12 (83.3%) stolen base attempts off him.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted his best season of his young professional career in 2008 while hitting a DSL-best .348 (72-for-207).
- Was one of the top players in Dominican Summer League, leading league with a .348 batting avg. (72-for-207) and 63 RBI.
- Made his professional debut after signing with the Giants as a 16-year old non-drafted free agent in 2007 and proceeded to hit .286 (34-for-119) in 44 games.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Elizabeth).

- Two-time NL All-Star (2011, 2012)
- 2012 World Series MVP
- His 24 hits in the 2012 postseason is a Giants record for a single postseason
- One of four players to hit three HRs in World Series game (Oct. 24, 2012, GM 1 vs. DET)
- Owns fourth-longest hit streak by Venezuelan-born player in ML history (22 games – 2011)
- Hit for the cycle on Sept. 15, 2011 at Colorado
- .330 avg. in 2009 was fourth-highest among players in their first full ML season
- Became seventh Giant in club history to reach 40 doubles in single season (40 in 2009)
- Has most hits in a single season by a Giants switch-hitter in franchise history (189 in 2009)
- Giants' 2008 Minor League Player of the Year

2013 SEASON

- Appeared in 141 games, making 137 starts (all at third base) and batted .278 (146-for-525) with 27 doubles, 14 HRs and 79 RBI.
- Played for Team Venezuela in the World Baseball Classic and batted .308 (4-for-13) with one home run and four RBI in three games.
- His 18 errors at third base were for the third-most in the Majors.
- Hit .354 (51-for-144) with runners in scoring position, the seventh-highest clip in the NL.
- Missed 13 games in spring with ulnar neuritis, an inflammation of the nerve that runs through the elbow...an MRI exam also showed a bone spur in the back of his elbow.
- Made his fifth career Opening Day roster with the Giants.
- Slugged a game-winning two-run homer in the 9th inning on April 30 at Arizona off closer J.J. Putz...marked his 11th career HR in the 9th inning or later.
- Hit .333 in April and is a career .327 hitter in the month, his highest average of any month.
- Ended April with 35 hits, tied with the Pirate's Starling Marte for the most in the NL and it also set a Giants franchise record (since 1900) for the most hits in April (Elias).
- Recorded his second career game-ending home run on May 21 vs. Washington, hitting a two-run shot off RHP Yunesky Maya to give the Giants a 4-2 win in the 10th inning...according to ESPN Stats Info, Sandoval's homer was calculated at 464 feet, the longest of his career.
- Missed four games with a left foot strain, suffered in the 8th inning of the Giants-A's game on May 30...was removed from the game on June 8 at Arizona and eventually put on the 15-day disabled list on June 11 with the injury, which was described as a perineal tendon strain.
- Reached base safely in all six plate appearances on Aug. 16 at Miami, as he went 4-for-4 with two walks...the last Giants hitter to reach base in each PA (min 6 PA) was Nate Schierholtz, who achieved the feat on April 28, 2010, against the Phillies.
- Recorded his second career three HR game Sept. 4 at San Diego (also: Game 1 of WS vs. DET last season).
- Became just the sixth player in MLB history to have a three-homer performance in both the regular and postseason in his career...of the other five players, two are active (Albert Pujols, Adrian Beltre) and three are in the Hall of Fame (Babe Ruth, George Brett, Reggie Jackson).
- Became the first reigning World Series MVP in MLB History to hit three homers in a game the following season (WS MVP first awarded in 1955).

- The two-time NL All-Star completed his fifth season with the Giants, batting .283 (112-for-396) with 59 runs, 25 2Bs, 12 HRs and 63 RBI in 108 games.
- Missed a total of 53 games due to a left hamate fracture and strained left hamstring...therefore, he posted career lows in nearly every offensive category.
- Made 105 starts (101 at third base, two at first, two as DH).
- Began the year with a 20-game hit streak, tied for the 13th-longest hit streak to begin a season since 1876... he became just the third SF Giant with two separate 20+ game streaks, joining Mays and McCovey.
- Was named to his second-consecutive All-Star team being selected by the fans as the NL starting third baseman…

garnered 5,743,542 votes, displacing New York Mets third baseman David Wright (4,133,380) after surging in the final week to make up a deficit of nearly 465,000 votes.

- Became the second Giants third baseman to earn a fan-elected start, joining Matt Williams (1994-96).
- Hit the first bases-loaded triple in All-Star Game history on July 10 at Kansas City…became only the third player in ASG history to come to the plate with the bases loaded and drive in all three men on base…the other two were Fred Lynn (1983) and Brian McCann (2010).
- Left the game on July 24 vs. San Diego in the third inning after suffering a left hamstring strain after stretching at first base on a throw from shortstop Brandon Crawford to complete a double play…sat out the next two games before being placed on the disabled list on July 28.
- Homered from both sides of the plate for the first time in his career on Sept. 20 vs. Colorado…hit a solo HR off LHP Jorge De La Rosa in the 1st inning, then a three-run shot off RHP Edgmer Escalona in the Giants' six-run 4th inning…became the sixth Giants player in SF-era history to homer from both sides of the plate in a game, joining Chili Davis, Kevin Bass, Todd Benzinger, Ray Durham and Randy Winn.

Giants Gems

- A born lefty, learned how to throw with his right hand at the age of nine so he could play catcher — a position he wanted because it allowed him a leadership role. Two to three years later, he added switch-hitting to his switch-throwing, and in the minors he also learned how to play first base and third base.
- Learned to hit by chasing sharp-breaking wads of tape.
- Begins every plate appearance with a waltz in front of the batter's box, during which he taps his spikes with his bat to honor his grandparents and younger sister. Then he lightly conks himself on his head, which represents his faith in God.
- Acquired a tattoo on his left forearm that was evidence of his new commitment to fitness. The text he chose was the Serenity Prayer: "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Capped a spectacular postseason with earning the World Series MVP award…overall, hit .364 (24-for-66) with six HRs and 13 RBI in 16 games.
- Most of his postseason highlights came in the World Series, where he went 8-for-16 (.500) with three homers and four RBI to help the Giants to a four-game sweep of the Tigers.
- His .500 average tied for ninth all-time for a single Fall Classic (minimum 15 at-bats) behind only Babe Ruth (.625, 1928 Yankees), Chris Sabo (.563, 1990 Reds), Johnny Bench (.533, 1976 Reds), Deion Sanders (.533, 1992 Braves), Sean Casey (.529, 2006 Tigers), Lou Gehrig (.529, 1932 Yankees), Dane Iorg (.529, 1982 Cardinals) and Thurman Munson (.529, 1976 Yankees).
- Became the second player in Giants history to win a World Series MVP, joining Edgar Renteria (2010)…the award was first given out in 1955, the year after the Giants last World Championship prior to 2010.
- Also became the first-ever Venezuelan-born World Series Most Valuable Player.
- Became the 10th third baseman in history, and the second straight, to win World Series MVP, joining Baltimore's Brooks Robinson (1970), Cincinnati's Pete Rose (1975), Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt (1980), Ron Cey (1981) of the Dodgers, Ray Knight (1986) of the Mets, Scott Brosius (1998) of the Yankees, Anaheim's Troy Glaus (2002), Boston's Mike Lowell (2007) and David Freese (2011) of the Cardinals.
- With 24 hits in the postseason, he finished just one hit shy of the all-time single Postseason record of 25 set by Marquis Grissom (1995 Braves), Darin Erstad (2002 Angels) and David Freese (2011 Cardinals).
- Sandoval is the Giants all-time leader for hits in a single Postseason, eclipsing J.T. Snow, who had 22 hits for San Francisco in 2002.
- With six home runs in his postseason career, Sandoval tied with Rich Aurilia (2002) for the second-most in franchise history for a single postseason behind only Barry Bonds (eight in 2002).
- Made Major League history in Game 1 of the World Series after hitting home runs in each of his first three plate appearances…it was just the fifth three-homer game in World Series history, joining Babe Ruth (1926 Game 4 and 1928 Game 4), Reggie Jackson (1977 Game 6) and Albert Pujols (2011 Game 5).
- Overall, it was the ninth three-homer game in Postseason history.

Players to Hit Three Home Runs in a World Series Game in Major League History

- Sandoval became the third player in Giants history to record a multi-homer game in World Series history, joining Benny Kauff (Game 4, 1917) and Jeff Kent (Game 5, 2002).
- He was the second Giants player to homer in the first inning of an opening Fall Classic game, joining Hall of Famer Mel Ott, who did so in 1933 against the Washington Senators.
- Sandoval was just the fourth Venezuelan-born player to homer in World Series history, joining Dave Concepcion (1975 Game 3), Miguel Cabrera (2003 Game 4), and Alex Gonzalez (2003 Game 4).
- He collected at least one RBI in six straight postseason games becoming the ninth player in history to accomplish that, joining Alex Rodriguez (eight in 2007-09), Ryan Howard (eight in 2009), Lou Gehrig (eight from 1928-32), Bill Skowron (seven from 1958-60), Clyde Barnhart (seven from 1925-27), Ivan Rodriguez (six in 2003), Bernie Williams (six in 1996) and Tony Perez (six from 1975-76).

- Was by far San Francisco's best offensive player, hitting .315 (134-for-426) with 26 2Bs, 23 HRs and 70 RBI in 117 games in his fourth season with Giants.
- Was named by NL All-Star manager Bruce Bochy to his first career All-Star team, joining teammates Matt Cain, Tim Lincecum, Ryan Vogelsong and Brian Wilson on NL roster.
- Led the team in runs scored (55), hits (134), HRs (23), RBI (70) and multi-hit games (34), even after missing 40 games with a hand injury.
- Switch-hitter batted .324 (107-for-330) against right-handers, which was fourth-highest clip in NL among players with at least 330 plate appearances...only NYM's Jose Reyes (.341), MIL's Ryan Braun (.327) and NYM's Daniel Murphy (.326) had higher averages.
- His 27 go-ahead RBI was tied for eighth-most in NL and his 13 game-winning RBI was tied for 11th-best.
- Posted longest hitting streak of his career and sixth-longest hit streak in National League in 2011, hitting safely in 22-consecutive games from June 19-July 14...streak was longest by Giants player since Willie McCovey and Alvin Dark both hit safely in 22-straight in 1959 and 1952, respectively.
- Sandoval's 22-game hit streak was also fourth-longest by Venezuelan-born player in ML history...Victor Martinez holds record with 25-game streak in 2009 with Boston.
- Was diagnosed with fractured hamate bone in his right hand on April 30 and was placed on 15-day DL on May 1...injured hand while swinging bat in game on April 29 at Washington.
- Had successful surgery in Arizona on May 3 with Dr. Don Sheridan performing procedure.
- After missing nearly six weeks, began rehab assignment playing 1 game at Class A Advanced San Jose and then in five games with triple-A Fresno...was reinstated from disabled list on June 14.
- Had at least one extra-base hit in nine-straight contests from June 26-July 4, tying second-longest such streak in Majors in 2011 (Justin Upton had 10)...Sandoval's streak of consecutive games with an extra-base hit was longest for any Giants player since Willie Mays had nine-game streak in 1963...since 1900, only one Giants player had an extra base hit in 10-straight games: Willie Mays (10-straight from May 23-June 3, 1954) (Elias).
- Was named to his first career All-Star team by MGR Bruce Bochy, one week after teams were announced… replaced Mets' SS Jose Reyes, who was on DL... became first Giants position player to be chosen to Mid-Summer Classic since Barry Bonds in 2007.
- Replaced All-Star starter Scott Rolen at 3rd base in 6th inning and went 1-for-1 with an RBI-2B in his lone plate appearance.
- Faced left-handed pitcher Sergio Escalona while batting from left side of plate on Aug. 20 at Houston… marked first time he had ever faced lefty while batting left-handed…struck out with his bat flailing from his hands…swung this way due to inflammation in his left shoulder and could not swing right-handed…faced Escalona again next day and struck out with runners on first and second and two outs.

- Belted pair of solo HRs on Sept. 5 at San Diego...marked third time in his career to have multi-HR game.
- Hit for cycle on Sept. 15 at Colorado…with a 3B in 6th inning, he became 26th Giant - and 10th in club's San Francisco era - to hit for cycle...Sandoval hit a two-run home run in the 1st inning, singled in the 2nd, doubled in 5th and then hit drive off base of wall in right-center field, belly-flopping into third base well ahead of the throw to achieve the feat.
- Recorded his secnd multi-HR game of season and fourth of his career on Sept. 18 at Colorado...both of his HRs came in Giants' eight-run 4th inning...became the first Giants player to homer twice in one inning since Juan Uribe accomplished feat on Sept. 23, 2010 at Chicago-NL... Sandoval finished game with career-best 11 total bases as he also tripled.
- Was named NL Player of Week for first time in his career for week of Sept. 12-18...hit .440 (11-for-25) with 2B, two 3Bs, four HRs, 10 RBI.
- Battled with inflammation in his left shoulder over the final six weeks of season and felt pain when he swung right-handed...saw limited playing time against left-handed pitchers, starting just 4 of 10 games in Sept. in which SF faced LH starter.
- Traveled to Taiwan in Oct/Nov. for an exhibition series against Chinese Taipei national team in 2011 Taiwan All-Star Series...was one of several MLB All-Stars selected to participate in five-game series that they swept in Taipei City, Taichung and Kaohsiung.

- Struggled in his second full big league season, batting just .268 (151-for-563) with 34 2Bs, 13 HRs and 63 RBI in 152 games.
- His batting average on balls in play slid from .367 in 2008 to .353 in 2009 to .294 in 2010.
- Sandoval's year-by-year batting average with runners in scoring position: in 2008, .395 (in 38 at-bats); in 2009, .301 (in 143 ABs); in 2010, .208 (27-for-130).
- Had staggering home/road splits, hitting .330 (92-for-279) with nine HRs and 40 RBI in 76 games at AT&T Park, which ranked as the sixth-highest home average among NL players.
- Struggled on the road, batting 122 points lower at .208 clip (59-for-284) with four HRs and 23 RBI, which was the third-lowest road batting clip in the NL, ahead of only Arizona's Mark Reynolds (.181) and Chicago's Aramis Ramirez (.201)...had largest difference in batting average at home vs. road among all MLB qualifiers (STATS, LLC).
- Grounded into a NL-leading 26 double-plays (grounded into only 10 in 2009), one shy of A.J. Pierzynski's franchise record of 27 GIDP's in 2004.
- Made his second career Opening Day roster as well as his second consecutive Opening Day start.
- Left game on May 14 against the Astros in the 8th inning after getting hit on his left foot by a pitch from Jeff Fulchino...X-rays came back negative.
- Was dropped from the third spot in the order to eighth on June 5 at Pittsburgh, marking just the second time in his career to hit eighth.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- Batted .176 (3-for-17) with two RBI in six postseason contests.
- Started five of 15 games (four at third base, one as DH).
- Had his biggest at-bat of the postseason in Game 4 of the LCS vs. Philadelphia on Oct. 20, driving in a pair of go-ahead runs with a double in the 6th inning to help stake the Giants to a 5-4 lead in their 6-5 victory.

- Established himself as a fan favorite batting .330 (1 8 9 - for-572) with 79 runs, 44 2Bs, five 3Bs, 25 HRs and 90 RBI in 153 games in his sophomore season.
- His .330 avg. ranked as the second-highest in the NL among qualifying players behind Florida's Hanley Ramirez (.342), while his doubles ranked as the third-most in the league…also ranked second in multi-hit games (57), third in avg. against left-handed pitchers (.379), fourth in hits, sixth in total bases (318) and slugging pct. (.556), seventh in extra base hits (74), and ninth in intentional walks (13).
- His .330 avg. was the fourth-highest among players in their first full ML season since 1958…only Wade Boggs (.361 in 1983), Ichiro Suzuki (.350 in 2001) and Fred Lynn (.331 in 1975) had higher figures than Sandoval in their first full season (Sports Features Group).
- Was just the third player in franchise history to record a season of a .330 avg., 40+ 2Bs, 25+ HRs, and 90+ RBI, joining Bill Terry (1932) and Jeff Kent (2000).
- Became only the seventh Giant in club history to reach 40 doubles in a single season.
- His hit total was the most by a Giant in a single season since Jeff Kent in 2002 (195).
- Became the eighth Giant in franchise history to record 20-plus HRs and 40-plus 2Bs (Jeff Kent SF, 4 times; Jack

- Led the NL in home batting avg. (.361), which was the third-highest home mark in SF-era history (Barry Bonds, .412 in 2004 and .369 in 2003).
- Was one of five NL players to be on a list of Final Vote for the NL team in the Mid-Summer Classic, however finished second in voting behind Philadelphia's Shane Victorino.
- Made Opening Day roster for the first time in his career and became the Giants' youngest Opening Day starter at third base since Tom O'Malley (22 years and 101 days) in 1983 (Sports Features Group).
- Caught his first game April 22 vs. San Diego, catching all 10.0 innings of San Francisco's 1-0 win.
- Hit his first game-ending HR of his career May 12 vs. Washington off LHP Joe Beimel…became the youngest Giant (22 years, 274 days old) to hit a walkoff HR since Jack Clark (22 years, 218 days old) accomplished feat June 16,1978…finished the night going 3-for-5 with HR, 2B and three RBI.
- Had a streak of reaching base safely in 25-straight games from June 4-30.
- Belted his first career grand slam on a 1-0 pitch off Florida's Sean West in 5th inning July 6 at AT&T Park.

- Produced one of the best seasons of any Giants farmhand in 2008, being named SF's Minor League Player of the Year.
- Moved quickly through ranks, beginning season at Class A and finishing as one of the Giants' major run producers… made his big league debut in mid-August and batted .345 (50-for-145) with 24 runs, 10 2Bs, three HRs and 24 RBI in 41 games for San Francisco.
- Had his contract purchased from double-A Connecticut Aug. 13 and made his Major League debut Aug. 14 at Houston (start at C), going 0-for-3 with first RBI coming on a sacrifice fly.
- Recorded his first ML hit Aug. 16 at Atlanta with a single off LHP Mike Hampton.
- Hit his first career HR Aug. 27 vs. Colorado off RHP Livan Hernandez in the 7th inning, giving SF a 2-1 cushion… clout was part of back-to-back HRs with Bengie Molina.
- Led all ML rookies in batting avg. in Aug. with a .393 clip, 11 points higher than next closest player (Joey Votto of Cincinnati - .382)…also finished the month with a .554 slugging pct., third-highest among NL rookies.
- Recorded a career-high five RBI Sept. 7 vs. Pittsburgh, going 2-for-3 with a 2B and pair of sacrifice flies… became the first Giants rookie to collect five RBI in a game since Damon Minor in 2002.
- Prior to getting big league call, combined to hit .350 (157-for-448) with 90 runs, 38 2Bs, 20 HRs, 96 RBI and a .578 slugging mark over 112 games between Class A Advanced San Jose and double-A Connecticut.
- Was named the Giants' Minor League Player of the Year for his efforts, the first and only time that the club has handed out the award.

- 2013 NL All-Star
- 2012 National League Championship Series Most Valuable Player

2013 SEASON

- Named to the NL All-Star team for the first time in his career, Scutaro batted .297 (145-for-488) with 23 doubles, two HRs and 31 RBI in 127 games in his first full season with the Giants.
- Played for Team Venezuela in the World Baseball Classic and batted .286 (2-for-7) with one RBI in two games.
- Was the second hardest batter to strikeout in the Majors, averaging 16.09 PA/K.
- Hit safely in a 19-straight games from April 29-May 21, which was tied for the fourth-longest streak in the NL.
- Recorded a multi-hit game in seven-consecutive contests from May 7-14, establishing a new career-high...the last Giant with seven-plus consecutive multi-hit games was Bengie Molina, who had a seven-game multi-hit streak between May 20-28, 2008 (Stats, Inc.).
- Became only the third player since World War II ended in 1945 to hit .420 or better in a calendar month in which he had at least 100 at-bats and fewer than three strikeouts (hit .420 in May)...the other two are Hall-of-Famers Lou Boudreau (August 1948 for Indians) and Tony Gwynn (August 1993 and May 1997 for Padres).
- Was forced to leave the game on June 11 at Pittsburgh after LHP Tony Watson hit him in the left hand with a 94-mph fastball...X-rays on his left pinkie finger showed no fracture or dislocation, but after seeing a hand specialist the next day he was diagnosed with a mallet finger - a damaged tendon...had two options besides playing: long immobilization with a splint or a pin to keep his finger straight.
- Chose to play through his injured finger and hit just .266 (68-for-256) in his final 69 games.
- Was selected by manager Bruce Bochy to his first-ever All-Star team, being selected as an injury replacement to the Nationals' Jordan Zimmermann…however, he did not play.
- Struggled following the All Star Break batting just .262 (44-for-168) with seven extra base hits and nine RBI in 46 games.
- Drew a bases-loaded walk from Boston's Brayan Villareal to force home the winning run of the Giants' 3-2 win over the Red Sox on Aug. 20...according to Elias, it was San Francisco's first walk-off walk since Marquis Grissom was walked by the Diamondbacks Matt Mantei on Sept. 6, 2003.
- Was shut down for the final 12 games of the season as he had a pin inserted in his damaged left pinky finger in a bid to keep it from being permanently damaged.

- Was one of the best acquisitions in GM Brian Sabean's tenure as he batted .362 (88-for-243) with 40 runs scored, 16 doubles and 44 RBI in 61 games while in a Giants uniform.
- Was acquired by SF from Colorado on July 27 in exchange for minor league IF Charlie Culberson.
- Overall, between Colorado and San Francisco, hit .306 (190-for-620) with 87 runs, 32 2Bs, seven HRs and 74 RBI in 156 games.
- His 190 hits were tied for the third-most in the NL and established a personal best.
- His 74 RBI were also a career-high (previous was 60, twice).
- Tied Ryan Braun for the second-most multi-hit games in the NL with 56 (the most of his career).
- His 190 hits were the most by a player 36 years-or-older who spent the entire season in the NL since Andres Galarraga had 191 hits for Colorado in 1997 at the age of 36 (Tony Gwynn is next).
- Was the hardest batter to fan in the NL, with a 13.9 PA/K... swung and missed a total of just 15 times while in a SF uniform.
- Since being traded to SF, his 88 hits were the most on the team and tied with Derek Jeter for the most in the Majors, beginning July 28...his 44 RBI were also the second-most on the club (Pence, 45).
- Hit safely in 52 of 61 games in a Giants uniform.
- Batted .339 (100-for-295) since All-Star break, the third-highest clip among ML players.

- Established a career-high with seven RBI on Aug. 8 at St. Louis, going 3-for-6 with a double and grand slam (third of his career) in the Giants' 15-0 rout of the Cardinals…became the first Giants players with seven-plus RBI in a game since Jeff Kent had seven on May 1, 2001 at Pittsburgh.
- At 36 years and 283 days old, became the oldest player in Giants history with seven-plus RBI in a game…the previous oldest was Phil Weintraub, who had 11 RBI vs. the Dodgers on April 30, 1944 at a younger 36 years old.
- Ended the season with a career-best 20-game hit streak that began on Sept. 10...tied teammates Angel Pagan and Pablo Sandoval for the second-longest hitting streak in the NL (Jose Reyes, 26).
- Overall, started 149 games (109 at 2nd base, 25 at shortstop and 15 at 3rd base).

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- In his second postseason of his career he hit .328 (21-for-64) with eight RBI, helping lead the Giants to their second World Series title in SF-era history.
- Earned the NLCS MVP after batting .500 (14-for-28) with four RBI...became the fifth player in Giants history to take home NLCS MVP honors.
- Became one of just four players to record 14 hits in a postseason series, joining Hideki Matsui (2004 ALCS), Albert Pujols (2004 NLCS) and Kevin Youkilis (2007 ALCS).
- Became the first player in ML history to record six multi-hit games in a LCS and just the third ever to do so in a postseason series (Sam Rice for the 1925 Senators and Bill "Moose" Skowron for the 1960 Yankees).
- Became just the sixth player to win a postseason series MVP Award after playing for another team earlier that season...became the second Giants player to do so joining Cody Ross (2010 NLCS).
- Hit safely in 11-consecutive postseason games, tied for the longest streak in Giants franchise history.

- Hit .299 (118-for-395) in his second season with Boston.
- Missed 26 games on the 15-day DL with a left oblique strain from May 8 until his activation on June 7.
- Led AL shortstops with a .329 avg. (74-for-225) after the All-Star break.
- Collected his 1,000th career hit with a 7th inning double on Sept. 13 vs. Toronto.

- Batted .275 with 92 runs scored, 38 doubles, 11 home runs and 56 RBI in his first season with the Red Sox.
- Was the eighth-hardest AL batter to fan with 9.79 plate appearances per strikeout...only 6.2 percent of his swings missed a pitch, the second-lowest mark in the Majors behind Chicago's (AL) Juan Pierre (5.8).
- Tallied a career-high, 11 total bases, matching career marks with four hits and two homers, on Sept. 8 vs. Tampa Bay…became just the fourth player in club history with at least four hits and two homers in a game from the lead-off spot.

Giants Gems

- Father Donato was from Italy, and mother Nelida from Spain. Both immigrated to Venezuela with their families as teenagers because of poor economic conditions after World War II. Donato was a popular barber in their town of San Felipe, Venezuela. It was a skill he learned as a boy in Italy. Nelida was a stay-at-home mother.
- Marco is the youngest of four children: Mary, Kathy and Piero. All four understand Italian from listening to their father.
- He's a big star in Venezuela as one of the top players for Leones del Caracas, a popular winter-league team in a country that loves baseball. He also helped lead Venezuela to the Caribbean Series title in 2006.

- In his second season in a Blue Jays uniform, posted career highs in runs (100), home runs (12), walks (90) and stolen bases (14) in 144 games.
- Ranked seventh in the AL in walks and tied for 11th in runs scored.
- Set a Toronto single-season club record in runs scored and walks (90) as a shortstop, passing Tony Fernandez in both categories (91 runs in 1986; 71 walks in 1990).
- Led the Blue Jays with a .322 average (93-for-289) and .405 on-base pct. on the road, finishing eighth and fourth, respectively among AL leaders.

2013 SEASON

- Appeared in 31 games for triple-A Fresno, going 3-0 with a 5.24 ERA (20er, 34.1ip).
- Was placed on the disabled list from April 4- May 17 with a knee bruise and from July 18-25 with a concussion.
- Posted a 1.56 ERA (3er, 17.1ip) over his last 16 games.

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Missed the entire 2012 campaign after undergoing a second "Tommy John" surgery.
- Made an Opening Day roster for the first time in his career in 2011 with Texas, but spent the majority of the season on the disabled list.
- Made his Major League debut on April 2 vs. Boston, surrendering a two-run home run to Jacoby Ellsbury.
- Was removed from his appearance on April 19 vs. Los Angeles-AL and placed on the 60-day disabled list April 20.
- Missed the remainder of the season while undergoing right elbow ligament reconstruction surgery, which was performed by Dr. James Andrews on June 1 in Birmingham, Alabama.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Did not pitch the entire 2010 season as he continued to recover from right elbow surgery.
- Acquired by Texas from Chicago-NL on Dec. 9, 2010 in exchange for cash considerations…Cubs had selected Tobin from the triple-A Salt Lake roster of the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim with the eighth selection in the first round of that day's Major League Rule 5 Draft.
- Was on the disabled list from April 16-end of season of 2009…had "Tommy John" ligament transplant surgery on his right elbow in June and missed the rest of the season.
- Missed most of the 2008 season with two DL stints…was on the DL May 11-28 with a right triceps strain and June 11-end of season with a right shoulder strain.
- Combined to go 4-1 with a 2.08 ERA (13er, 56.1ip) for the Arizona Angels (Rookie) and Orem (Short-A) in 2007…had 14 walks against 55 strikeouts in his first professional action.
- Tossed 3.1 shutout innings over three appearances for Orem in the playoffs, recording two saves…Orem went 4-0 in the postseason en route to the league crown.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Played at both Western Nevada Community College and Everett (WA) CC after graduating from Kentridge High School in Kent, Wash.
- Was drafted by Atlanta twice previously: 15th round in 2005 and in the 45th round in 2006…was a draft-and-follow selection both times for the Braves, but was never signed.

> Was named to the 2008 and 2009 Futures Game as a member of the World Team.

2013 SEASON

- Split the 2013 campaign between Class A Advanced San Jose and double-A Richmond…combined to hit .231 (111-for-480) with 22 home runs and 70 RBI in 125 games.
- Began the season with San Jose and went just 2-for-41 over his first 10 games…however, over his next two contests (April 14 and 15), he went 4-for-7 with three home runs and seven RBI.
- On May 28, hit a pair of solo home runs to lead the Giants to a 2-1 victory over the Bakersfield Blaze…Villalona's 10th and 11th homers of the year accounted for San Jose's only offense as the Giants evened the series at a game apiece.
- Was one of seven San Jose Giants to be named to the California League All-Star team.
- Hit .229 with 14 home runs and 42 RBI in 73 games with SJ.
- Was promoted to double-A Richmond on July 1 and in 52 games he batted .235 with eight HRs and 28 RBI.
- Hit a grand slam on July 16 at Binghamton to help Richmond snap a seven game losing streak.
- Was placed on the disabled list on Aug. 6 with a hamstring issue and then activated Aug. 13.
- Hit .200 (13-for-65) with three doubles and seven RBI in 19 games for Scottsdale Scorpions in the Arizona Fall League.

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- 2011 NL All-Star
- 2011 Willie Mac Award Winner
- Named 2011 Giants Breakout Player of the Year by MLB.com

2013 SEASON

- In his third-straight season with San Francisco and his ninth season overall in the big leagues, went 4-6 with a 5.73 ERA (66er, 103.2ip) in 19 starts.
- Began the year by pitching for Team USA in the World Baseball Classic...went 1-1 with a 3.72 ERA (4er, 9.2ip) in two starts before the U.S. was eliminated in the second round.
- Earned his first career WBC victory in his first start on March 9 vs. Italy after tossing 4.0 innings and allowing two runs on six hits in a 6-2 win.
- Took the hill in an elimination game against Puerto Rico in round two on March 15 and suffered the defeat, logging 5.2 frames and allowing two runs on four hits.
- Really struggled in his first eight regular season starts, going 1-4 with an 8.06 ERA (37er, 41.1ip)...had just one quality start in that stretch and his 37 earned runs were the most among all qualifying pitchers in the Majors.
- After allowing a season-high eight runs in just 2.0 innings of work on May 15 at Toronto, he bounced back and was having one of his best starts of the season on May 20 vs. Washington, tossing 5.0-shutout innings...however, was hit by a pitch on his right hand while batting against Nationals' RHP Craig Stammen and X-rays later showed a dislocated joint in the pinky finger of his pitching hand and it was broken above and bleow the finger.
- Underwent surgery on his fractured right hand on May 21 at Stanford Hospital...the surgery was performed by Dr. Tim McAdams...had five pins inserted in the finger to stabilize the area.
- Began a minor league rehab assignment July 23 in Arizona and after making four rehab starts (one with rookie-level Arizona, one with single-A San Jose, two at double-A Richmond), he was reinstated off the 60-day disabled list on Aug. 9 after missing a total of 69 big league games.
- Prior to getting injured, was 2-4 with a 7.19 ERA (37er, 46.1ip) in nine starts...pitched better when he came back from his injury by going 2-2 with a 4.55 figure (29er, 57.1ip) in his final 10 outings.
- 28 of his 73 runs (38.4%) allowed came in the 5th inning.
- Right-handed batters hit .327 (73-for-223) off him, which was the second highest figure in the National League (min. of 200 batters faced) and he allowed a .364 (36-for-99) avg. against with runners in scoring position, which ranked as the second-highest mark in the NL (min. of 75 opponent at-bats).

- Posted a 14-9 record with a 3.37 ERA (71er, 189.2ip) and 158 strikeouts in 31 starts.
- Was the NL ERA leader as late as Aug. 12, fashioning a 2.27 figure, however over his last 10 starts, he posted a 6.75 ERA, raising his season figure from 2.27 to his final 3.37 mark, rising more than a full point...he finished the season ranked 11th in the NL in ERA.
- His 14 victories, 31 starts and 158 strikeouts in 2012 were all career-highs.
- His 3.37 ERA in 2012 trailed only Matt Cain among Giants' starting pitchers.
- Tossed 6.0-or-more innings in his first 21 outings to begin the season, tying Atlee Hammaker for the third-longest streak to begin a campaign in Giants history (since 1918).
- Missed the first four weeks of spring training and began the season on the 15-day disabled list with a strained lower back, which he injured while doing squats in the first week of February back home…appeared in just one Cactus League game and several minor league games before the Giants broke camp.
- Fashioned the lowest ERA in the Majors during the month of May (1.51 ERA), allowing just seven earned runs in 41.2 innings...allowed just one earned run-or-fewer in five of his last six contests in May.
- His 22 quality starts were tied for the eighth-most in the NL.
- Had a run of 16-straight quality starts from May 3-July 29...it ranked as the second-longest stretch in Giants' history, but is the longest for a single season.

POSTSEASON HIGHLIGHTS

- On his first career postseason roster, Vogelsong went 3-0 with a 1.09 ERA (3er, 24.2ip) in four starts.
- Became the second Giants pitcher in the last 100 years to have three straight starts of allowing one earned run or fewer in a single postseason…the only other Giant to accomplish this feat over that span was Matt Cain in 2010.
- Started Game 6 of the LCS vs. St. Louis and struck out a career-high nine batters through 7.0 innings of work in the Giants' 6-1 victory, forcing a decisive Game 7.

2011 SEASON

- Had storybook season after an odyssey that included stops in 10 minor league cities, plus San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Japan and Venezuela over 14 professional seasons.
- Named to his first-ever All-Star team in 2011, Vogelsong went 13-7 with a 2.71 ERA (54er, 179.2ip) in 30 games (28 starts) for San Francisco, by far his best season in his professional career.
- Was also named the 2011 Willie Mac Award winner.
- His 13 wins were career-high and the most he's ever had at any professional level in his career.
- Finished fourth in the National League with a 2.71 ERA.
- Owned the league's lowest ERA for a brief stretch, holding the lead for a total of 15 days in 2011.
- His 2.15 ERA (26er, 109.0ip) at home was the third-lowest figure in the NL behind Kershaw (1.69) and Lee (1.94)... among Giants starting pitchers, his home ERA was the second-lowest in AT&T Park history for a single season, trailing Tim Lincecum's 1.88 mark in 2009.
- Won nine of his first 10 decisions, going 9-1 with a 2.19 ERA through his first 20 games (18 starts), but then 4-6 with a 3.62 figure in his final 10 starts.
- Received the most run support among Giants' starters, averaging 4.26 runs per game.
- A non-roster invitee to Giants' spring camp, Vogelsong had his contract purchased from triple-A Fresno on April 17, taking the roster spot of LHP Barry Zito, who landed on the 15-day disabled list for the first time in his career.
- Had made just two starts for triple-A Fresno, going 2-0 with a 1.59 ERA (2er, 11.1ip).
- Made his first Major League appearance since 2006 and his first as a Giant since 2001 when he relieved Tim Lincecum on April 18 at Colorado.
- Worked 4.1-scoreless innings of relief before sliding into SF's starting rotation.
- Made his first start for the Giants on April 28 at Pittsburgh, the team that Vogelsong played for from 2001-06...marked his first start in the big leagues since Sept. 29, 2004 at Philadelphia...proceeded to toss 5.2 innings, allowing two runs on four hits to help SF earn a 5-2 victory...tied his career-high with eight Ks.
- Went 2,412 days between wins as a starter…prior to Vogelsong, the last pitcher to go as long as that between wins as a starter was Brian Tallett (2,412 days, Sept. 16, 2002-April 24, 2009).
- Took a perfect game into the 6th inning in his start on May 8 at Colorado...lost his no-hitter after giving up a clean leadoff single to Chris Iannetta, his only hit allowed through 6.1 innings of work...his 5.0 innings without allowing a hit was his longest he had taken a no-hitter in his career.
- Was credited with his first career Major League complete game on May 14 at Chicago-NL, tossing 6.0-shutout innings in a 6.0-inning rain-shortened game.
- Had nine-consecutive starts of allowing two runs-or-fewer from May 8-June 22...that streak tied Jason Schmidt (2006) and Bill Swift (1992) for the second-longest in SF-era history for a single season...Juan Marichal holds record with 10-straight games of allowing two runs-or-fewer in 1966.
- For the first time in his career was selected to the All-Star team by manager Bruce Bochy...according to Elias, the only other player to make an All-Star team in his first season after returning from a four-plus season absence was Mickey Harris of the Red Sox in 1946...Voglesong did not appear in the Mid-Summer Classic.
- On Aug. 3 vs. Arizona, he allowed one run in 6.0 innings to improve his record to 9-1 in the Giants' 8-1 victory...it was Vogelsong's 12th-consecutive undefeated start, allowing no more than three earned runs in any of them...only one other Giants pitcher compiled such a single-season streak that long during 99 seasons in which earned runs have been officially compiled: Al Demaree in 1913 (18 straight starts).
- Was named the Willie Mac Award winner prior to the game on Sept. 9 vs. Los Angeles...annual honor is bestowed upon most inspirational player on team, as voted upon by Giants players, coaches, training staff and fans.

Giants Gems

- Ryan graduated in 1995 from Octorara Area High school (1000 students) in Atglen, PA, where he played baseball, basketball and soccer.
- Went to Kutztown University in Kutztown, PA, in rural Berks County.
- He's just the second player from Pennsylvania's Kutztown University to reach the Majors. The other was Harry Hoch, who pitched for the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Browns from 1908 to 1915.
- A few starts into his first season with the Pirates, Ryan required Tommy John surgery. It kept him on the sidelines through the 2003 season.
- Moved to Japan in 2007 to play for the Hanshin Tigers. Played there 2007, 2008 and 2009. He'd watch MLB games every day before he went to the ballpark (they were broadcast in the middle of the day).
- Vogelsong has been a part owner of Marucci Bat Company since 2004. It's based in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He says when baseball is over, he'll likely go to work full time for the company.

MAJOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- In 2010, he signed a minor league deal with Philadelphia and was released on July 16, then signed a minor league deal with the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim July 27.

- Made his second-straight Opening Day roster in 2005, pitching exclusively from the Pirates' bullpen.
- Made his first career Opening Day roster with Pittsburgh in 2004 and pitched the entire season at the Major League level, going 6-13 with a 6.50 ERA (96er, 133.0ip) in 31 games (26 starts).
- Pitched 5.0-scoreless innings to earn his first big league win on Sept. 15, 2003 vs. Cincinnati.
- In 2001, played for both San Francisco and Pittsburgh after being traded in the middle of the season with OF Armando Rios in exchange for RHP Jason Schmidt and OF John Vander Wal.
- Was recalled by Pittsburgh July 1, 2001 and left his start Sept. 9 vs. Cincinnati with pain in his right elbow…had "Tommy John" surgery performed on his right elbow Sept. 20 by Dr. James Andrews.
- Made his Major League debut as Sept. call-up with San Francisco in 2000 after pitching the entire year at double-A Shreveport, going 6-10 with a 4.23 ERA (73er, 155.1ip) with 147 strikeouts in 27 starts.
- Had his contract selected by SF on Sept. 1, 2000 and made his ML debut in relief on Sept. 2 vs. Chicago-NL (2.0 IP, 0 R).

MINOR LEAGUE CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- From 2007-09 he played in the Japanese League, playing for the Orix Buffaloes in 2009 and the Hanshin Tigers from 2007-08.
- In 2003, finished tied for third in the Pacific Coast League in wins (12) and was second in strikeouts (146).
- Began the 2002 season recovering from Tommy John surgery and eventually pitched for Class A Advanced Lynchburg and double-A Altoona.
- Was traded to Pittsburgh July 30, 2001 and assigned to triple-A Nashville.
- Combined to go 4-6 with a 3.68 ERA (42er, 98.0ip) in 19 starts between Class A Advanced San Jose and double-A Shreveport in 1999.
- Made his pro debut in 1998 with short-season Salem-Keizer and also pitched for Class A Advanced San Jose, combining for 6-1 record with 3.24 ERA (27er, 75.0ip) in 14 starts with 92 strikeouts.

PERSONAL & MISCELLANEOUS

- Married (Nicole, Nov. 12, 2005)…son Ryder (Aug. 26, 2009).

National League Division Series

1997 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. FLORIDA MARLINS

(Marlins win series, 3 games to 0)

San Francisco won its first National League West title since 1989 to become only the fourth team during the 20th century to win its division after finishing in last place the previous season.

The Giants outdueled the Dodgers in a classic pennant race for the N.L. West flag. Perhaps the crowning moment of San Francisco's magical ride came Sept. 18 when catcher Brian Johnson led off the 12th inning with a game-winning clout off Los Angeles' Mark Guthrie to put the Giants in a first place tie with nine games remaining.

New General Manager Brian Sabean revamped the Giants roster, bringing in 15 players who were not in the organization at the end of the 1996 campaign. He shocked the baseball world by acquiring All-Star pitchers Wilson Alvarez and Roberto Hernandez and 18-year Major League veteran pitcher Danny Darwin from the Chicago White Sox in exchange for six minor leaguers at the July 31 trading deadline.

The renewed Giants made their first post season appearance in eight years when they faced National League wild card entry Florida Marlins in the Division Series. Despite losing all three games of the series, San Francisco gave Florida its toughest test en route to its first World Championship.

Both Games #1 and #2 came down to the last at-bat, with Florida taking advantage of being the home club and posting 2-1 and 7-6 victories, respectively.

Despite two solo home runs by Giants' second baseman Jeff Kent in Game #3, the Marlins finished off the sweep on the strength of Devon White's 6th inning grand slam off Alvarez.

2000 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. NEW YORK METS

(Mets win series, 3 games to 1)

San Francisco won its second National League West title in four years as the club posted a Major League-best 97-65 mark, only to see its October run stopped short by the Wild Card New York Mets, a club that would eventually win the NL flag.

The Giants enjoyed a truly magical regular season, its first in its new jewel of a home, AT&T Park. Playing in front of 81 straight sellouts that accounted for a franchise-record 3,244,320 fans, San Francisco rattled off a 55-26 ledger, matching the Mets for the best home mark in the majors.

Dusty Baker won his third NL Manager of the Year award after guiding his troops to a Major League-best 51-26 record after the All-Star Break, resulting in an 11-game cushion, the Giants' largest winning margin since 1913.

San Francisco produced its most prolific offensive attack in 70 years, led by National League Most Valuable Player Jeff Kent. Teammate Barry Bonds, who finished second in the MVP voting, clubbed 49 clouts.

The Giants jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the NLDS with a 5-1 victory in front of a raucous Game #1 crowd at AT&T Park. Livan Hernandez held New York to one run over 7.2 innings while Ellis Burks clubbed a three-run, third-inning homer off the left field foul pole.

J.T. Snow's dramatic three-run, pinch homer in the bottom of the ninth tied Game #2 4-4, but the Mets would rally to win 5-4 in 10 innings and even the series at a game apiece.

Unfortunately for San Francisco, its offense went south when the club went east, as the Giants could manage only two runs in 22 innings at Shea Stadium. New York's Benny Agbayani gave the Mets a 3-2 victory in Game #3 with a 13th inning solo home run, and Bobby Jones hurled a one-hit shutout for a 4-0 win in the Game #4 clincher.

2002 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ATLANTA BRAVES

(Giants win series, 3 games to 2)

Following a 3-0 loss at Florida on August 18th, a stagnant San Francisco club stood at 66-56, four games behind Los Angeles in the NL Wild Card chase. From then on, the Giants would play like champions, going 29-10 down the stretch to capture the league's fourth playoff spot by three and a half contests over the Dodgers.

Despite a 95-win campaign that tied for the fourth-most victories in San Francisco history, the Giants entered the NLDS as heavy underdogs to the Atlanta Braves, who captured their 11th-consecutive division crown by an astounding 19.0-game margin.

Undaunted by their opponents and buoyed by the right arm of starter Russ Ortiz, the Giants stormed into Turner Field and won the series opener by an 8-5 count as Rich Aurilia, Benito Santiago and J.T. Snow all collected two RBI apiece.

Yet, the hope of Game #1 quickly turned into despair, as Atlanta backed the stout pitching of Kevin Millwood and Greg Maddux, respectively, with 17 combined runs in a pair of routs to take a 2-1 series lead.

Facing the prospect of a long winter, San Francisco turned to past playoff hero Livan Hernandez to work his magic once again in Game #4 at AT&T Park. The big right-hander responded by hurling 8.1-strong innings, while Aurilia finished 3-for-4 with a homer and four RBI as the Giants won 8-3 to force a return trip to Atlanta.

In the decisive Game #5, Barry Bonds exorcised his demons of post season past, singling and scoring the Giants' first run in the second and clubbing an opposite-field, solo homer in the fourth that gave SF a 2-0 lead. Ortiz became the first Giants pitcher to win two games in the same post season series since Carl Hubbell went 2-0 in the 1933 World Series, yet San Francisco's 3-1 victory was in doubt until the end. With two men on and none out in the ninth, closer Robb Nen struck out Gary Sheffield then induced Chipper Jones to ground into a series-ending double play.

2003 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. FLORIDA MARLINS

(Marlins win series, 3 games to 1)

For the first time since 1936-37, the Giants earned consecutive appearances in post season play, as the club won its third National League West title in seven years and became only the second team in franchise history to go wire-to-wire with an overall finish of 100-61.

A flurry of offseason moves brought new faces to San Francisco as the team introduced first year manager Felipe Alou and four new starters to the lineup. The revamped club breezed by their opposition, ending their campaign 15.5 games ahead of the Dodgers for the Giants' largest advantage in 91 years.

General Manager Brian Sabean garnered Executive of the Year accolades for constructing the team with the third best record in baseball and Barry Bonds earned his unprecedented 6th National League Most Valuable Player Award.

Headed into Game #1 of the NLDS rested and primed for success, pitching ace Jason Schmidt thrived in the intense atmosphere at AT&T Park, tossing a complete-game three-hitter as the Giants blanked the visiting Marlins 2-0.

A sudden turn of events plagued the Giants in Game #2, as San Francisco saw their 4-1 lead quickly vanish as Gold Glovers made costly miscues and the Marlins escaped AT&T Park with a 9-5 win.

Knotted up at 1-1, both teams headed to South Florida, but the Giants' run of bad luck seemed to follow. After taking a 3-2 advantage in the 11th inning of Game #3, SF let the Marlins slip back into the contest after a dropped fly ball by Jose Cruz, Jr. allowed the tying run on base. With 2 out, the bases loaded and a 1-2 count on Ivan Rodriguez, Tim Worrell's next pitch was drilled into right field for a game-winning, 2-run single.

In Game #4, San Francisco's furious comeback in the 9th fell short as J.T. Snow was thrown out at the plate on Jeffrey Hammonds' 2-out single to left, giving the Marlins a 7-6 victory and ending the Giants' hopes for another playoff run.

2010 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ATLANTA BRAVES

(Giants win series, 3 games to 1)

After clinching the 2010 NL West Crown in the final game of the regular season, the Giants entered the NL Division Series at home vs. the Atlanta Braves. In order to get there, Giants' General Manager Brian Sabean had built a pitching staff that led the Majors in ERA with a 3.36 figure, while also revamping his offense throughout the season by acquiring difference making outfielders Pat Burrell and Cody Ross as well as bringing up eventual 2010 NL Rookie of the Year Buster Posey from the minor leagues in late May.

San Francisco made a push for the 2010 NL West Title on August 27. Entering that day, SF was 6.0 games back of the San Diego Padres, however the Giants were red hot in the season's final month, posting an 18-8 record, which was the second best winning percentage in baseball.

The Giants would win the NLDS over the Braves 3-games-to-1 behind their stalwart pitching as all four games in the series were decided by a one-run margin, which marked the first time in postseason history in which every game was decided by one run. The pitching staff posted a 1.66 ERA as Tim Lincecum was dominant in his postseason debut, tossing a two-hit, 14-strikeout shutout during the Giants' 1-0 win in Game #1.

San Francisco lost Game #2 as the Braves' Rick Ankiel hit a splash hit home run in the top of the 11th frame to help Atlanta pull ahead 5-4.

The next two games were won in dramatic fashion as SF rallied past the Braves 3-2 in Game #3, thanks in part to three fielding errors by Atlanta second baseman Brooks Conrad.

Madison Bumgarner came up aces in Game #4 as he held Atlanta to two runs in 6.0 innings in his postseason debut. However, it was Cody Ross who played hero in the clinching game as he homered in the 6th inning to break up Derek Lowe's no-hit bid, while also driving in the go-ahead run in the 7th inning as SF won 3-2 and clinched their first Division series since 2002.

2012 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. CINCINNATI REDS

(Giants win series, 3 games to 2)

The 2012 edition of the Giants won the division title despite crushing injuries and unexpected slumps. All-Star closer Brian Wilson was lost for the year after a second Tommy John surgery, Freddy Sanchez never returned after battling back and shoulder issues, Melky Cabrera, acquired in the offseason, was lost in mid-August after testing positive for testosterone and two-time Cy Young award winner Tim Lincecum was having the worst season of his career.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers, with an influx of cash, shook the baseball world with a nine player trade with the Red Sox, centered around slugger Adrian Gonzalez going back to the West Coast.

However, All-Star catcher and 2012 MVP Buster Posey, along with mid-season acquisitions Marco Scutaro and Hunter Pence, ignited the Giants and after trailing the Dodgers by 7.5 games as late as May 28, they slowly chipped away and ended up winning the West by a whopping 8.0 games, their second division title in the last three seasons.

Their first round opponent in the playoffs, the Cincinnati Reds, led by Joey Votto and Brandon Phillips, stormed into San Francisco and took the first two games from the Giants, winning by scores of 5-2 and 9-0. Facing the daunting task of being down 2-0 in the best-of-five division series, the Giants now had to win three consecutive games on the road, something that had never been accomplished in baseball postseason history.

With all the local and national media counting the Giants out, Hunter Pence stood up and fired up his teammates with a football-like huddle and rallying speech in the dugout prior to Game #3, a game in which SF won 2-1, avoiding a sweep.

In Game #4, Angel Pagan hit the first leadoff home run in Giants posteason history, and Gregor Blanco and Pablo Sandoval connected later for an 8-3 victory that evened the series at 2-2.

Not just any comeback would get SF back to playing for a pennant. It would take one of Giant proportions and Buster Posey helped make it happen as he hit the third grand slam in Giants' postseason history and San Francisco pulled off an unprecedented revival, moving to the LCS with a 6-4 victory over the Reds in the deciding Game #5.

1971 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. PITTSBURGH PIRATES

(Pirates win series, 3 games to 1)

After winning its first National League West crown, San Francisco entered the National League Championship Series as the favorite against Eastern Division titlists Pittsburgh. The Giants had posted nine wins in 12 contests vs. the Pirates during the regular season.

However, the Giants ran into the hot hitting of Pirates' first baseman Bob Robertson, who clubbed four home runs to lead Pittsburgh to a three games-to-one series victory.

Since staff ace Juan Marichal pitched San Francisco to the NL West flag in its season finale at San Diego, future Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry got the call in Game #1. The right-hander scattered four runs (three earned) and nine hits over his complete game effort as Willie McCovey and Tito Fuentes each delivered two-run home runs in the fourth inning to power SF to a 5-4 victory.

Then Robertson took over. He clubbed a NLCS record three home runs in Game #2 to lead the Pirates to a 9-4 triumph. The first baseman finished 4-for-4 with four runs scored and five RBI as Pittsburgh's victory ended a six-game losing streak at Candlestick Park.

Marichal pitched a four-hitter when the playoffs shifted to Three Rivers Stadium for Game #3, but home runs by Robertson and Richie Hebner gave the Pirates a 2-1 victory behind Bob Johnson and Dave Guisti.

The Bucs advanced to the World Series when they tattooed Perry for seven runs and 10 hits over 5.2 innings in the fourth and final game of the series.

1987 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

The Giants became only the fourth team in Major League history since 1900 to finish first within two years of a 100-loss disaster. SF rattled off a 90-72 mark to win the 1987 National League West crown after going 62-100 in 1985.

San Francisco battled back from a five-game deficit on Aug. 7 and went 37-17 the rest of the way to capture its first NL West title in 16 years.

Jeffrey Leonard, whose "one-flap-down" home run trot was the story of the series, became the first player on a losing team to capture the NLCS MVP honor when he hit .417 with four home runs and five RBI despite the Giants falling to the Cardinals in seven games.

San Francisco split the first two games of the series in St. Louis, with Dave Dravecky-who was acquired from the San Diego Padres in a seven-player deal on July 4-shutting out the Cardinals on two hits in Game #2.

When the series moved to Candlestick Park, the Giants took a 4-0, fifth inning advantage in Game #3 but the Cardinals roared back to post a 6-5 victory and take a 2-1 lead in the series.

Leonard responded by crushing a two-run clout in the fifth inning of the fourth game to push San Francisco to a series-evening 4-2 triumph. His four homers in four games tied the Championship Series record for a league playoff of any duration.

The Giants took a three games-to-two series advantage back to St. Louis after posting a 6-3 victory in the fifth contest. However, San Francisco didn't score a run in either of the last two games.

1989 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. CHICAGO CUBS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

Will Clark carried the Giants to their first NL pennant in 27 years when San Francisco defeated the Chicago Cubs in five games.

Clark provided offensive bookends in the series, starting with six RBI in the opener and ending with a two-out, bases-loaded, series-winning two-run single in the eighth inning of Game #5. "Will the Thrill" established new NLCS standards for average (.650), hits (13), runs (eight), total bases (24) and slugging percentage (1.200).

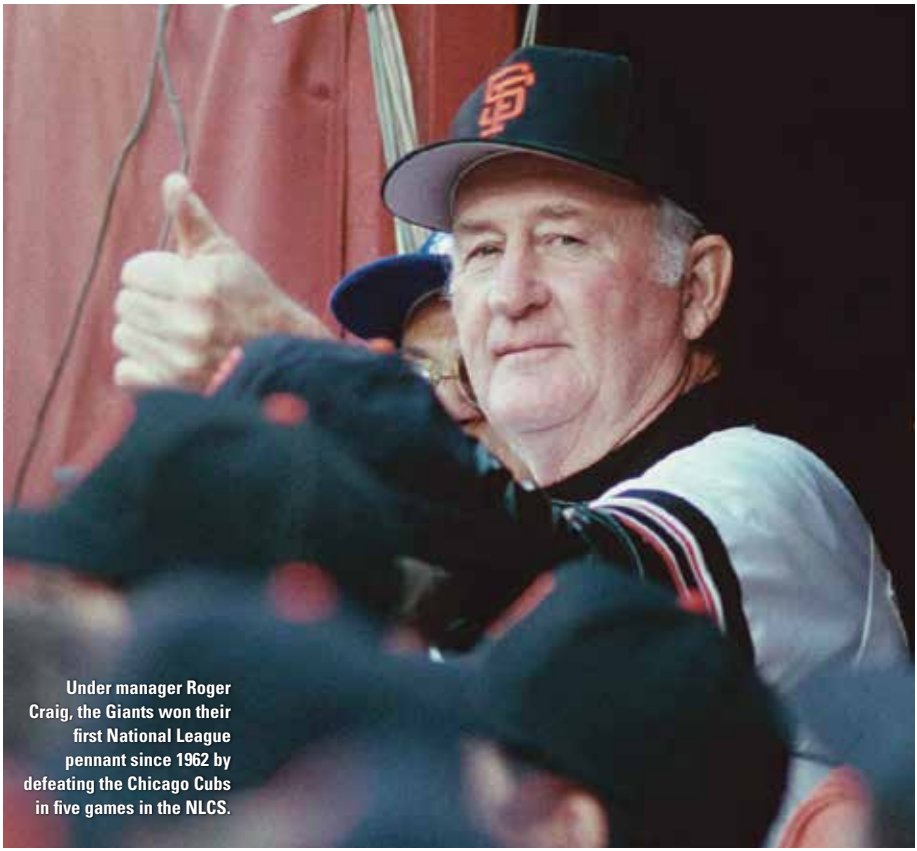

Included in those opening-game six RBI for Clark was his fourth-inning grand slam off Cubs' starter Greg Maddux, which gave San Francisco an 8-3 lead. The Giants' first baseman finished the contest 4-for-4 with four runs scored, a double and two home runs.

The Cubs claimed victory in Game #2, so the series headed to San Francisco tied a game apiece. However, Robby Thompson clubbed a two-run, seventh-inning homer off Les Lancaster to give the Giants a 5-4 victory in the third game.

In one of the most intense at-bats in Giants' post season history in Game #4, Matt Williams locked up with lefty Steve Wilson in a 12-pitch plate appearance that resulted in a two-run blast which propelled San Francisco to a 6-4 victory.

As broadcaster Hank Greenwald said, "27 years of waiting have come to an end" when the Giants posted a 3-2 come-from-behind victory in Game #5. Clark once again delivered the game-winner, a two-run single up the spine of the infield off Mitch "Wild Thing" Williams.

Under manager Roger Craig, the Giants won their first National League pennant since 1962 by defeating the Chicago Cubs in five games in the NLCS.

2002 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

Following a furious late-season run to capture the Wild Card berth and a stirring five-game NLDS victory over Atlanta, the Giants provided the only truly fitting encore—they won the club's first NL pennant in 13 years by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals in a scintillating and highly competitive five-contest NLCS.

San Francisco began its run to the Fall Classic by winning each of the first two contests in St. Louis. The Giants pounded Cardinals ace Matt Morris early and often en route to a 9-6 victory in Game #1, while Jason Schmidt turned in a dominating Game #2 performance. The right-hander struck out eight and carried a shutout into the eighth inning, while Rich Aurilia's two-homer, three-RBI effort spurred a 4-1 triumph.

Despite Barry Bonds' dramatic three-run, fifth-inning homer into McCovey Cove that briefly tied Game #3 at AT&T Park, a solo clout by St. Louis' Eli Marrero and stingy pitching by the Cardinal bullpen gave the visitors a 5-4 win and renewed hope.

St. Louis jumped out to a 2-0, first-inning lead in Game #4 and appeared on its way to evening the series until a pair of Giants veterans turned the tide. In the sixth, J.T. Snow delivered a two-out, two-run double that knotted the contest. Following a two-out intentional walk to Bonds in the eighth, Benito Santiago cemented his series MVP honors by clubbing a full-count offering from Rick White into the left field bleachers for a 4-2 lead. Robb Nen struck out the final two hitters in the ninth to strand the tying run at third and close out a 4-3 SF victory.

Giants' lefty Kirk Rueter and Morris engaged in a classic October pitchers' duel in a Game #5 that was scoreless until St. Louis broke through with a run in the seventh. Bonds tied the contest 1-1 with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly, thus setting the stage for one of the most dramatic moments in San Francisco history.

Morris retired the first two Giants hitters in the bottom of the ninth inning, but was chased by consecutive singles from David Bell and Shawon Dunston. St. Louis turned to reliever Steve Kline, and Kenny Lofton greeted the southpaw by lining his first pitch into right-center field for a single that scored a sliding Bell as the jubilant NL champion Giants poured onto the field.

The Giants capture Game 5 of the NLCS with a 2-1 victory over the Cardinals.

2010 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES

(Giants win series, 4 games to 2)

The Giants again relied upon the strength of their pitching in the League Championship Series as they went on to win the best-of-seven LCS from the Phillies to clinch their 18th National League Pennant and fourth while in San Francisco.

Tim Lincecum outdueled Roy Halladay in Game #1 as Cody Ross hit a pair of solo home runs off of the eventual 2010 NL Cy Young award winner to help the Giants defeat the Phillies 4-3 in the opener.

Game #2 did not go as scripted for San Francisco as the Phillies' Roy Oswalt allowed just one run in 8.0 innings and Jimmy Rollins drove in four runs as the Phillies won 6-1. Cody Ross was the lone bright spot for Giants' offense as he connected for his third home run of the series, which tied the game at one apiece in the 5th inning.

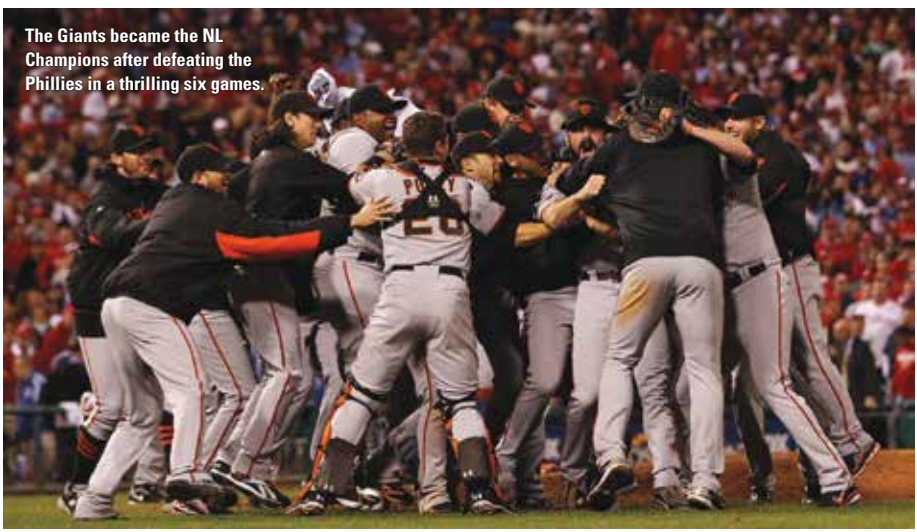

San Francisco grabbed a 2-1 edge in Game #3 with a 3-0 shutout behind Matt Cain, who stymied the Phillies in 7.0 innings, allowing just two hits. The Giants scored in the fourth as once again it was Ross who delivered a run-scoring single, which helped cement his status as the NLCS MVP.

Juan Uribe delivered a walk-off sacrifice fly off Roy Oswalt with one out in the 9th inning as SF took Game #4 by a 6-5 count. Buster Posey also contributed offensively going 4-for-4 and becoming the first rookie in the San Francisco era and second in club history to record four hits in a postseason game.

The Giants entered Game #5 just one win away from clinching their 18th NL Pennant and had their ace on the mound with Lincecum. However, the Phillies countered with Roy Halladay, who was pitching with an injured right groin. The injury did not deter him as the Phillies won 4-2, which sent the series back to Philadelphia.

Early during Game #6 it appeared as if the series would go to 7 games, as Giants' starter Jonathan Sanchez worked just 2.0 innings, allowing a pair of runs. However, the bullpen was stellar, combining for 7.0-scoreless innings to keep the Giants in the game. Juan Uribe hit an opposite-field home run that barely cleared the right-field wall in the eighth inning, sending the Giants' dugout into a frenzy. Brian Wilson was called upon after Tim Lincecum, pitching in relief for the first time in his career, allowed consecutive one-out singles in the 8th. Wilson got Carlos Ruiz to lineout into a double-play to escape the frame. The Giants' closer then made things interesting in the ninth, issuing walks to Jimmy Rollins and Chase Utley, before striking out Ryan Howard looking to end the game.

2012 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 3)

After a historic win over the Cincinnati Reds in the Division Series, the Giants faced the St. Louis Cardinals in the League Championship Series for the third time in postseason history. It marked the first time in LCS history that the previous two World Series winners had met.

The clubs split the first two games in San Francisco, with Carlos Beltran and David Freese each hitting two-run home runs to lift the Cardinals to a 6-4 victory in Game #1. In Game #2, Marco Scutaro hit a two-run single in San Francisco's four run fourth inning before leaving with a hip injury and the Giants received their first home win in the postseason, with a 7-1 victory to even the LCS at one game apiece.

The series shifted to St. Louis and the Cards took advantage of the home field as Matt Carpenter hit a two-run home run after subbing for Carlos Beltran, and the Cardinals chased Matt Cain before a three and a half hour rain delay in the seventh inning of a 3-1 Red Bird Game #3 win.

The Giants were routed 8-3 in Game #4. Adam Wainwright threw 7.0 innings of four-hit ball and St. Louis' offense roughed up Tim Lincecum and the Giants' bullpen.

Facing elimination for the fourth time in the 2012 postseason, the Giants' sent Barry Zito to the mound in Game #5 and the soft-tossing lefty was at his best, pitching San Francisco back into the series with a 5-0 win that narrowed SF's deficit to 3-2. Zito resembled the same guy who won the 2002 AL Cy Young Award with the A's, as he retired 11 consecutive batters in one stretch while striking out six in 7.2 innings.

Back in San Francisco for a Game #6, the Giants chased opposing starter Chris Carpenter to an early exit in their 6-1 victory that forced the series to a decisive Game #7. Ryan Vogelsong finished with nine strikeouts, a career-high for any game.

Hunter Pence got the Giants going with a weird double, Matt Cain pitched his second clincher of the postseason and the Giants closed out Game #7 of the LCS in a rainstorm, routing the Cardinals 9-0 to advance to the World Series for the 19th time in franchise history, the fifth time since moving to San Francisco and for the second time in the last three seasons.

San Francisco won its record-tying sixth elimination game of the postseason, completing a lopsided rally from a 3-1 deficit. Marco Scutaro recorded his sixth multi-hit game of the series and matched an LCS record with 14 hits and Pablo Sandoval drove in a run for his fifth straight game. After falling behind in the series 3-games-to-1, the Giants outscored the Cardinals 20-1 over the final three games behind stellar pitching performances from Barry Zito, Ryan Vogelsong and Matt Cain.

1905 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

The Fall Classic returned after a year's hiatus and Hall of Famer Christy Mathewson made it his showcase, leading the Giants to their first World Championship with three shutout victories.

The 25-year-old right-hander, who had 32 victories in 1905 to register his third straight 30-win season, shut down the Philadelphia Athletics in New York's five-game victory. In the space of six days, he pitched three shutouts and permitted just 14 hits overall.

Mathewson even played a part in the Giants' offense during a 3-0 Game #1 victory in Philadelphia. He ignited a two-run rally in the fifth inning to break open a scoreless contest, then went on to shut out the Athletics on four hits.

New York skipper John McGraw, who boycotted the 1904 World Series vs. the Boston Red Sox, didn't have to rely solely on Mathewson to get him the title. He also had Red Ames and Joe McGinnity, who won 22 and 21 games during the regular season, respectively, in his rotation.

Those two hurlers worked in Game #2, but McGinnity was ticketed with the defeat after surrendering three unearned runs in a 3-0 defeat.

Mathewson was staked to a 2-0, 1st inning lead in Game #3 and responded by blanking Philadelphia on four hits. First baseman Dan McGann was the Giants' big gun in the 9-0 romp, collecting two singles and a double while driving in four runs.

But it was Mathewson who got to finish off the job he started when he blanked the Athletics 2-0 in the fifth and deciding game.

1911 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

The "running" Giants, who established a league record with 347 stolen bases, perservered through the rebuilding of the Polo Grounds and posted 99 victories to capture the National League pennant. New York had to play its home games through early June at the park of the American League's New York Highlanders (later the Yankees) after the Polo Grounds burned to the ground in April.

However, New York's offense was limited to only four stolen bases in its six-game World Series defeat to the Philadelphia Athletics.

1905 Series hero Christy Mathewson still anchored John McGraw's pitching staff, going 26-13 during the regular season. The Hall of Famer got New York off to a great start vs. Philadelphia in Game #1 of the Fall Classic, tossing a six-hitter in the 2-1 triumph.

The Athletics rebounded to take Games #2 and #3 with Frank "Home Run" Baker clubbing dramatic home runs in both outings.

Then the rains came. The World Series was put on hold for six days due to Mother Nature.

When the Fall Classic resumed exactly a week after Game #3 had been played, Mathewson was outdueled by Chief Bender in a 4-2 decision that gave the Athletics a three-games-to-one advantage.

The Giants escaped the inevitable in Game #5 by scoring a 4-3 triumph in 10 innings before getting clobbered 13-2 in the series' sixth and final game.

1912 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. BOSTON RED SOX

(Red Sox win series, 4 games to 3 - 1 tie)

The Giants, bolstered by lefty Rube Marquard's modern Major League record 19-game winning streak, lived a storybook 1912 campaign. That's until the 10th inning of the final game of the World Series, when usually-reliable center fielder Fred Snodgrass dropped a fly ball that opened the door for a two-run Boston rally that gave the Red Sox the title.

New York, which featured two 20-game winners in Marquard (26) and Christy Mathewson (23), posted 103 victories during the regular season and coasted to the pennant with a ten-game cushion.

Newcomer Jeff Tesreau, who won 17 games for the Giants, got the nod in Game #1 but suffered a 4-3 defeat to the Red Sox.

Despite a see-saw contest that saw four lead changes, Game #2 was a wash as it was called due to darkness, thus making the 1912 World Series an eight-game affair.

The Giants evened the score in Game #3, posting a 2-1 victory behind Marquard before the Red Sox got the better of Tesreau again in the fourth contest, this time by a 3-1 count.

Trailing two-games-to-one, the Giants posted 5-2 and 11-4 wins, respectively, in Games #6 and #7.

The Series came down to the 10th inning of the eighth and final game, as the Giants and Red Sox were deadlocked at 1-1 after nine innings. New York took a 2-1 lead in the top half of the 10th before the wheels fell off in the bottom half. Boston pinch hitter Clyde Engle opened the frame with a routine fly ball that Snodgrass was camped under and then dropped.

Boston eventually won the game 3-2 on a sacrifice fly in the 10th and ruined New York's magical season.

1913 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS

(Athletics win series, 4 games to 1)

New York won its third straight National League flag, but couldn't get over the hump in the World Series for the third consecutive year, falling four-games-to-one to the Philadelphia Athletics.

After winning the pennant with a twelve-game cushion, the Giants were beset by injuries during the Fall Classic. First baseman Fred Merkle was limited to 13 at-bats due to a bad leg. Center fielder Fred Snodgrass played in only two games and made three trips to the plate after suffering from a severe charley horse. Chief Meyers, the Giants' catcher, was shelved for the Series after suffering a fractured finger in practice preceeding Game #2.

The Athletics jumped out to a 1-0 series advantage after shelling Rube Marquard for five runs and eight hits in five innings for a 6-4 victory in the opener.

Once again, Christy Mathewson provided New York with a fine post season performance when he tossed a 3-0, 10-inning shutout in Game #2. He even drove in the game-winning run with his single in the 10th.

That was last highlight for the Giants as the Athletics rolled to the World Championship by posting victories in each of the last three contests.

Mathewson, pitching in what would be his final World Series, wound up with a 5-5 lifetime mark in the Fall Classic—he was 4-0 at one point—after splitting two decisions in 1913.

Skipper John McGraw was determined to restore his club to World Series glory. However, it would be another four years until the Giants would take the field again in the championship series.

1917 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. CHICAGO WHITE SOX

In the sixth and deciding game, New York was in a scoreless deadlock with Chicago heading into the fourth inning. That's when the Giants' penchant for mistakes at inopportune times reared its ugly head once again. This time, Chicago second baseman Eddie Collins led off the frame with a grounder to New York third baseman Heinie Zimmerman, who made a two-base throwing error on the play. Joe Jackson's ensuing fly ball was dropped by right fielder Dave Robertson, positioning White Sox at the corners.

Chicago center fielder Happy Felsch then grounded back to the pitcher, Rube Benton, who saw Collins break from third and threw to Zimmerman in an attempt to get Collins hung up. Zimmerman ran Collins toward the plate, but the runner bounded past catcher Bill Rariden to make it a Zimmerman-Collins race to the plate. The White Sox second baseman won the footrace and distracted the Giants' defense enough to allow the baserunners to advance to second and third. Both Chicago runners would score on an ensuing base hit. That's all the White Sox would need to salt away the World Championship as they went on to win Game #6 by a 4-2 count.

1921 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Giants win series, 5 games to 3)

The Giants snapped a four-World Series losing streak when they outdueled the rival Yankees in a thrilling eight-game series. With both clubs playing their home contests at the Polo Grounds, it was the first Fall Classic to be played in its entirety at one stadium.

The National League champions were headlined by third baseman Frankie Frisch, right fielder Ross Youngs, first baseman George Kelly and left fielder Irish Meusel, while Babe Ruth and his 59 home runs was the sparkplug for the Yankees.

The American Leaguers jumped out to a two games-to-none lead after posting consecutive 3-0 victories. The Giants battled back from a 2-0, 2nd inning deficit in Game #3 to post a 13-5 victory. John McGraw's club knotted the Fall Classic at two games apiece when it logged a 4-2 triumph in the fourth game, despite Ruth's first World Series home run.

Ruth, hobbled by knee and arm aliments, spirited the Yankees to a 3-1 victory in Game #5 when he started the go-ahead rally with a bunt base hit.

However, the Bambino couldn't continue and the Giants took advantage of the situation to run off three straight victories and give the franchise its first World Championship since 1905. Art Nehf got the National Leaguers over the top with his four-hit, 1-0 victory in Game #8.

1922 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Giants win series, 4 games to 0 - 1 tie)

The Giants, playing the second of four consecutive World Series, earned their berth by taking the National League pennant with a seven-game cushion.

John McGraw's club brought home its second straight title after defeating its fellow Polo Grounds tenants, the Yankees, in a four-victory sweep that actually took five games to complete due to a tie.

Third baseman Heinie Groh, who was acquired from Cincinnati the previous winter, led the Giants to a 3-2 triumph in the opener after logging a 3-for-3 showing. The National League entrant had been shut out by Joe Bush through seven innings, before it stormed back from a two-run deficit on Irish Meusel's two-run single and Ross Youngs' sacrifice fly.

Meusel got back in the act quickly in Game #2, drilling a three-run home run off Bob Shawkey in the first inning. However, the Yankees battled back to tie the contest at 3-3 and it was inexplicably called because of "darkness" after the 10th inning by umpire George Hildebrand, despite at least a half-hour of daylight remaining.

Jack Scott, who went 8-2 in just 17 games for the Giants, tossed a four-hitter at the Yankees in Game #3 and led the National Leaguers to a 3-0 victory.

The Giants managed to post 4-3 and 5-3 victories in the fourth and fifth games, respectively, to advance to their second straight title. It also helped that the Giants' pitchers shut down Babe Ruth over the final three outings, holding him 0-for-9.

The 1922 World Championship would prove to be the third and final one in the illustrious career of the Giants' winningest skipper, John McGraw.

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 2)

It was an all-New York World Series for the third straight year, but there were a few changes. First, the Yankees moved into their own ballpark, Yankee Stadium. Second and most importantly, the American League entrant ended the Giants' two-year reign as World Champions.

The man who proved to be a thorn in the side of the Yankees was a Giants' outfielder who would later become synonymous with the club from the Bronx—Casey Stengel.

The 34-year-old outfielder christened World Series play in Yankee Stadium when he lined a ninth inning Joe Bush offering into left-center field that got between the outfielders for an inside-the-park home run, breaking a 4-4 draw and giving the Giants a 5-4 triumph in Game #1.

The Yankees, who had not defeated the Giants in their last nine World Series meetings (eight defeats, one tie), finally broke through in Game #2 when Babe Ruth clubbed two home runs in the 4-2 victory.

When the Series returned to Yankee Stadium for Game #3, Stengel shared the stage with pitcher Art Nehf. The outfielder broke open a scoreless duel with a home run into the right field stands. Nehf finished off the American Leaguers after allowing five singles and a double in the 1-0 win.

That was all she wrote for the Giants as the Yankees rattled off three consecutive victories to win their first World Championship. The American Leaguers coasted to 8-4 and 8-1 victories in Games #4 and #5, respectively.

In the sixth and final contest, Ruth got the Yanks off to a great start with his first inning, upper deck blast. But the A.L. entrant would need a five-run eighth inning to post the 6-4 decider.

1924 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. WASHINGTON SENATORS

(Senators win series, 4 games to 3)

The Giants made their fourth straight appearance in the Fall Classic, but they faced someone other than the Yankees for the first time during that span when they squared off with the Washington Senators.

New York was the National League representative in the World Series for the eighth time in 14 years, but it had to scramble to win the flag by one-and-a-half games over Brooklyn.

With the World Series tied at three games apiece, horrored leagacies of Merkle, Snodgrass and Zimmerman returned to longtime Giants' fans. Despite making three errors in the final contest, New York was done in twice by the infield at Washington's Griffith Stadium.

New York took a 3-1 advantage into the eighth inning of that final contest. With two outs and the bases-loaded, Senators' second baseman/manager Bucky Harris hit a grounder that skipped over the head of 18-year-old third baseman Freddie Lindstrom. Two runs scored on the bad-hop single to tie the game.

The contest remained deadlocked until the bottom of the 12th inning, when Giants' catcher Hank Gowdy tripped over his mask and dropped a Muddy Ruel pop. The Washington catcher responded with a double down the third base line. One batter later with runners on first and second, center fielder Earl McNeely grounded to third. But once again, the ball skipped over Lindstrom's head and Ruel came around to score the winning tally.

This would prove to be the final World Series appearance for Giants manager John McGraw. Although he owned a 3-6 lifetime mark in the Fall Classic, only one other manager appeared in more series—Casey Stengel with 10 trips.

1933 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. WASHINGTON SENATORS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

New York, in its first full season under new manager Bill Terry, won the National League pennant on the strong pitching of Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher.

The Giants entered the World Series as the underdog to the high-powered offense of the Washington Senators. However, the New Yorkers tacked up a 1.53 ERA (8er, 47.0ip) en route to their four games-to-one series victory.

Hubbell and Schumacher, who had combined for 17 shutouts during the regular season, were selected to start the first two contests vs. the Senators.

Hubbell, the second winningest pitcher in Giants history, struck out 10 and didn't allow an earned run in the 4-2 victory. Outfielder Mel Ott accounted for three of New York's four runs, with his two-run home run and RBI single. Schumacher followed Hubbell's lead and allowed only a solo home run in the Giants' 6-1 Game #2 victory.

The good pitching turned on the Giants in Game #3 as Washington's Earl Whitehill tossed a five-hit shutout to give the Senators a 4-0 triumph.

Hubbell, who led the National League with 23 wins, carried a 1-1 game into the 10th inning in Game #4 when the Giants edged ahead on third baseman Travis Jackson's bunt single, a sacrifice and shortstop Blondy Ryan's single. King Carl escaped a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the bottom half of the inning with a double play to preserve New York's 2-1 victory.

Schumacher helped himself offensively in the decisive Game #5 with his two-run single in the second inning. Then 43-year-old reliever Dolph Luque took over a 3-3 game and worked the final four-and-one-third innings to get the Giants in position to win. Ott took care of the offense when he drilled a solo blast into the center field stands at Griffith Stadium in the top of the 10th inning to give New York a 4-3 victory.

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 2)

The Giants locked horns with their cross-town rivals, the Yankees, in the Fall Classic for the fifth time after winning the National League flag by a five-game margin.

The Yankees, who were without Babe Ruth but had Joe DiMaggio, captured the Series in six games to start a run that saw them win 16 of the next 27 World Championships.

The National Leaguers rode the arm of Hall of Famer Carl Hubbell to their 11th World Series. The 33-year-old left-hander won his last 16 decisions of the regular season to finish with a 26-6 ledger that included a 2.31 ERA.

King Carl was on the mound for the Giants in Game #1 and got the National Leaguers a 6-1 victory after allowing just seven hits, including a third inning home run by George Selkirk. Trailing 1-0 in the fifth inning, shortstop Dick Bartell launched a solo blast of his own before the Giants added another run in the sixth and four more in the eighth.

The Yankees went on to win each of the next three games, outscoring the Giants by a cumulative 25-7 count.

Staving off elimination, the Giants scored a 5-4, 10-inning victory in Game #5. Manager Bill Terry, playing in the next-to-last game of his playing career, drove in the game-winner with a sacrifice fly.

The American Leaguers finished off the Polo Grounds tenants in Game #6 as they pounded out 17 hits en route to their series-clinching 13-5 victory.

1937 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 1)

The two New York teams squared off once again in the Fall Classic, but the Yankees' offensive firepower proved to be too much for the Giants as the American League entrants took home the title in a five-game series.

The Giants, who boasted two 20-game winners in Carl Hubbell and rookie Cliff Melton, only had one big bat to combat the Yankee arsenal. Mel Ott clubbed 31 home runs and drove in 95 runs.

However, that was no match for the Yankees' lineup that had five different 100-RBI men in Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey and George Selkirk.

Hubbell was once again the Giants' Game #1 starter and was coasting along with a 1-0 lead into the bottom of the sixth. Then the Yankees produced one of their vaunted big-run innings, posting a six-run frame. The American Leaguers went on to post the 8-1 victory.

It was much of the same in Games #2 and #3 as the Yankees posted 8-1 and 5-1 triumphs, respectively.

The Giants turned the tables in Game #4 as they plated six runs in the second inning, with the big blows coming from center fielder Hank Leiber. He opened the frame with a single and scored before capping off the rally with a two-run single. The National Leaguers had Hubbell on the hill and he shut down the Yankees on six hits for the 7-3 victory.

1951 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 2)

The 1951 World Series was overshadowed by an event that took place the day before it began — "The Shot Heard 'Round the World."

Bobby Thomson's three-run, ninth-inning homer off the Dodgers' Ralph Branca in the National League-deciding playoff game put an exclamation on one of the greatest stretch drives in the history of baseball.

Manager Leo Durocher's club trailed Brooklyn by 13-and-a-half games on Aug. 11. Then the Giants rattled off 16-straight victories and won 37 of their last 44 regular-season games to force a best-of-three playoff series with the Dodgers for the National League pennant.

The momentum seemed to carry over to the next day for the opener of the World Series as Monte Irvin stole home in the first inning to register the first swipe of home since the Yankees' Bob Meusel did it in 1928. The Giants' left fielder finished the contest 4-for-5 and spearheaded a 5-1 victory.

Irvin would once again lead the National Leaguers' offense in Game #2, but his three hits weren't enough to overcome the Yankees in a 3-1 defeat.

Shortstop Eddie Stanky inspired a five-run, fifth-inning rally in Game #3 when he kicked the ball out of Phil Rizzuto's glove on a failed stolen base attempt and scrambled to third. The Giants would move on to a 6-2 triumph at the Polo Grounds.

Despite holding a two-games-to-one series lead, the Giants couldn't finish off the Yankees as the American Leaguers ran off three straight victories to claim the title.

1954 — NEW YORK GIANTS vs. CLEVELAND INDIANS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 0)

Willie Mays got the National League champion Giants off to a great start in the 1954 World Series when he made perhaps the greatest defensive play in baseball history.

With New York and Cleveland tied 2-2 in the eighth inning of Game #1 at the Polo Grounds and two Indian runners on base, the Hall of Fame center fielder made an over-the-shoulder catch of a 460-foot smash off the bat of the Indians' Vic Wertz.

The Giants went on to win 5-2 when pinch-hitter Dusty Rhodes hit a three-run, 10th-inning home run off Indians' starter Bob Lemon. Ironically, the game-winning clout went only 260 feet.

The Giants would go on to sweep the Indians in four games to register their last World Championship in an upset over the highly-touted American League champs.

Rhodes, who hit .341 in part-time duty and as a pinch-hitter deluxe during the regular season, also delivered the game-winning hits in both Games #2 and #3. However, his services weren't needed in the fourth and final contest as New York jumped out to a 7-0 advantage and coasted to the 7-4 championship-clinching victory.

New York was the surprise National League champion. After finishing fifth in 1953, the Giants were led by Mays, who won the N.L. batting title with a .345 mark that included 41 home runs and 110 RBI. The center fielder had returned to the Giants after missing the 1953 campaign due to military service.

Johnny Antonelli, another newcomer who was acquired from Milwaukee in exchange for Bobby Thomson in the off-season, won 21 games to help New York to the N.L. flag.

1962 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. NEW YORK YANKEES

(Yankees win series, 4 games to 3)

A matter of inches was the difference between the Giants bringing a World Championship to San Francisco for the first time or losing to the New York Yankees in the Fall Classic for the fifth time.

With the Giants trailing 1-0 with two outs and runners on second and third in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game #7, San Francisco's clean-up hitter Willie McCovey stepped in to face Ralph Terry. The Giants' Hall of Famer lined a one-ball, one-strike pitch toward right field, but Yankees' second baseman Bobby Richardson moved slightly to his left and threw up his glove to register the final out and the Yankees' 20th World Series crown.

San Francisco captured the National League flag by posting a late-season rally to catch Los Angeles and force a three-game playoff, which the Giants won 2-1.

The Giants carried a 2-2 tie into the seventh inning of Game #1 at Candlestick Park until Clete Boyer drilled a solo home run to spur the Yankees onto a 6-2 triumph.

Jack Sanford fired a three-hit shutout to even the Series at one-game apiece in San Francisco's 2-0 Game #2 victory. In a see-saw World Series, the Yankees would log a 3-2 Game #3 win before Giants' second baseman Chuck Hiller drilled a grand slam in the seventh inning of the fourth game to propel San Francisco to a 7-3 victory. It was the first bases-loaded clout by a National League player in World Series history.

Despite Sanford's 10-strikeout effort in seven-and-a-third innings, the Yankees posted a 5-3 win in Game #5.

As the Series moved back to San Francisco, there was a five-day delay due to a travel day and three rainouts. Once play resumed, Billy Pierce pitched a three-hitter and Orlando Cepeda posted three hits and two RBI to force a seventh game with a 5-2 Game #6 win.

1989 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. OAKLAND ATHLETICS

(Athletics win series, 4 games to 0)

The Bay Bridge Series, which pitted the Giants against their local rival, the Oakland Athletics, will always be remembered more for the Loma Prieta earthquake than the four-game brooming by the American Leaguers.

That might be a good thing for the Giants, as they were outclassed in almost every phase of the game by the Athletics—as was evidenced by the 32-14 cumulative run total.

A's Game #1 starter Dave Stewart set the tone for this Fall Classic when he hurled a five-hit shuout at the Giants. He was backed by solo home runs from Dave Parker and Walt Weiss off San Francisco starter Scott Garrelts.

In much the same fashion, Oakland rolled to a 5-1 victory in Game #2 behind the pitching of Mike Moore.

Then it happened. Something that would make this four-game Series sweep stand out in history. At 5:04 p.m. on Oct. 17, an earthquake with a 7.1-Richter scale reading rocked the Bay Area and the 60,000 fans at Candlestick Park. With reports of damage throughout the Bay Area, the ballpark was evacuated and the game was cancelled.

Finally, 10 days later, the Athletics picked up where they had left off, as they drilled five home runs on their way to a 13-7 rout in the rescheduled Game #3. The five-homer effort, two by Dave Henderson along with single clouts from Jose Canseco, Carney Lansford and Tony Phillips, tied a Series record set by the 1928 Yankees.

The A's never trailed in the series as Rickey Henderson opened Game #4 with a home run off Giants' starter Don Robinson. The Giants would close it to 8-6 in the seventh, but that was as close they would get in the 9-6 finale.

2002 — SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. ANAHEIM ANGELS

(Angels win series, 4 games to 3)

In the first World Series between two Wild Card teams, the Giants and Anaheim Angels lived up to the moniker, combining to set numerous offensive records in a memorable seven-game Fall Classic.

Anaheim emerged from the fireworks with it's first World Championship in franchise history, while San Francisco was saddled with heartbreak after seeing a title slip away just five outs from the pinnacle.

The clubs split the first two contests in Anaheim, with Barry Bonds grabbing the spotlight in his first appearance on the World Series stage. San Francisco's left fielder clubbed a solo homer in his first at-bat to spark a 4-3 Giants win in Game #1, then connected for a mammoth ninth-inning shot in Game #2. Not to be outdone, the Angels' Tim Salmon homered twice as Anaheim won an 11-10 slugfest to even the series.

When the scene shifted north, the Angels seemed to take control with a convincing 10-4 win in Game #3. As they had all season, the Giants battled back in Game #4, rallying from a 3-0 deficit to earn a 4-3 victory on David Bell's two-out, RBI-single in the eighth inning.

Game #5 belonged to San Francisco, as the home club delighted the 42,713 fans at AT&T Park with a 16-4 rout. Jeff Kent tied Giants World Series records with four runs, two homers and four RBI, Rich Aurilia drove in three runs to establish a franchise playoff mark with 17 RBI overall, and J.T. Snow had two of his series-high 11 hits.

The Giants were eight outs from their first World Series title since 1954, as Shawon Dunston's two-run homer, Bonds' record eighth post season clout (fourth of Series), and Kent's RBI-single propelled SF to a 5-0 lead in Game #6. But the ultimate prize was wrested away as Scott Spezio's three-run, seventh-inning homer and series MVP Troy Glaus' two-run, eighth-inning double highlighted Anaheim's rally to a 6-5 victory.

San Francisco scored first in Game #7, but ultimately could not overcome the pitching of John Lackey and the bat of Garret Anderson, who delivered the deciding three-run, third-inning double in Anaheim's 4-1 triumph.

2010 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. TEXAS RANGERS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 1)

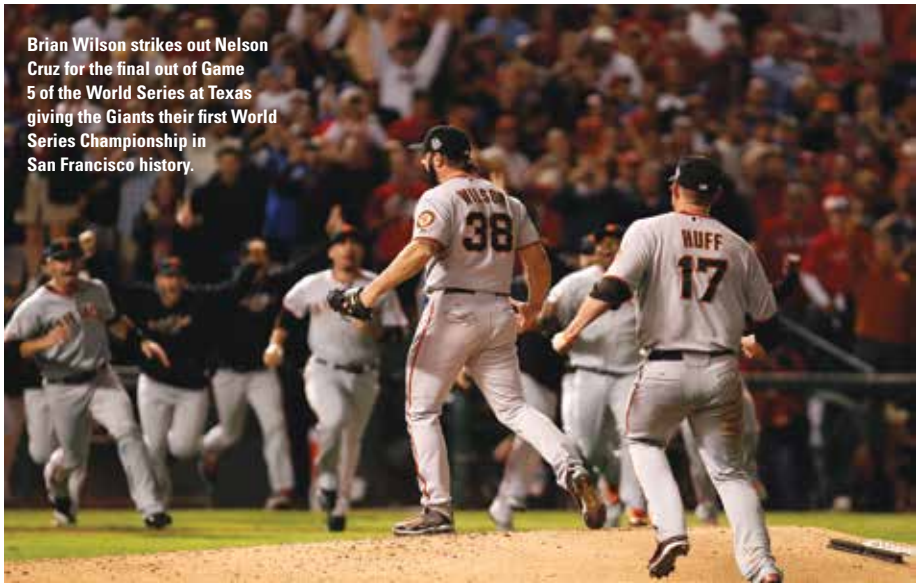

It was a different story for the San Francisco Giants during the World Series as the club was bolstered by their offense and pitching to win their 6th World Championship and 1st since they moved from New York to San Francisco in 1958 to capture the 106th Fall Classic, 4 games to 1 over the Texas Rangers. It marked the club's 1st World Series win since 1954, ending the Majors' 3rd-longest drought without a Championship at that time, behind the Cubs (102 years) and Indians (62 years) as the top 2 teams at the time.

The Giants' bats were on fire as they battered Cliff Lee and the Rangers' bullpen with an 11-7 victory in the opening game of the 2010 World Series. What was originally penned as a pitchers' duel between Lee and Tim Lincecum turned out to be an offensive outburst by both teams. Freddy Sanchez finished with 4 of the Giants' 14 hits as Aubrey Huff went 3-for-4 with an RBI and Juan Uribe capped a 6-run 5th inning with a 3-run home run, which set off the fog horn and blasts from water cannons out in right field. San Francisco took a commanding 2 game lead after Matt Cain held the Rangers' bats at bay in a 9-0 shutout in Game #2. Cain tossed 7.2-scoreless frames to extend his postseason scoreless innings total to 21.1 frames, while Edgar Renteria led the offense as he homered and drove in 3 runs.

The only mishap for the Giants was during Game #3 as they fell to the Rangers 2-4 at Texas. However, the team resorted back to their pitching heavy strategy in Game #4 as rookie Madison Bumgarner took to the mound and fired off 8.0-shutout innings as the Giants shut out the Rangers 4-0 on Halloween night. Aubrey Huff (2-run home run) and Buster Posey (solo home run) supplied the club with enough offense as the team was one game away from winning their 1st Championship in over 54 years.

Tim Lincecum and World Series MVP Edgar Renteria helped deliver the title in Game #5 as Lincecum outdueled Cliff Lee in a game that was scoreless until Renteria hit a 3-run home run with 2 outs in the 7th inning. Lincecum defeated Lee for the 2nd time in a week, allowing just 3 hits over 8.0 innings while recording 10 strikeouts. The game was scoreless until Cody Ross and Juan Uribe both singled to open the 7th inning before Aubrey Huff layed down the 1st sacrifice bunt of his career to move the runners. Renteria stepped to the plate and sent a 2-0 pitch over the left-center field wall silencing a sold out crowd of 52,045. Brian Wilson was summoned for the 9th and retired Josh Hamilton on a called 3rd strike, getting Vladimir Guerrero on a grounder to shortstop and then struck out Nelson Cruz to cap the best season in San Francisco Giants history.

2012 -- SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS vs. DETROIT TIGERS

(Giants win series, 4 games to 0)

Playing in the World Series for the 19th time in franchise history and the fifth time since moving to San Francisco in 1958, the Giants were set to face the Detroit Tigers, the first time these two storied franchises had ever met in a postseason series.

Pablo Sandoval and Barry Zito both shined for the Giants in Game #1 as Sandoval hit three home runs, and joined Reggie Jackson, Babe Ruth and Albert Pujols as the only players to accomplish that in the Fall Classic, and Zito outdueled Justin Verlander, the reigning Cy Young winner, as the Giants won 8-3. Sandoval homered in his first three at-bats, hitting a solo shot in the first inning, a two-run blast in the third that set off the fog horns and capped it with yet another solo shot to center that sent the festive AT&T Park crowd into a frenzy.

In Game #2, Madison Bumgarner tossed 7.0-scoreless innings, then the Giants took advantage of a bunt that stayed fair to scratch out the go-ahead run in a 2-0 win for a 2-0 advantage in the Series.

The Giants took a commanding 3-0 lead in the Fall Classic with a 2-0 win on a chilly night in Detroit in Game #3. SF won their franchise-record sixth straight postseason game as Ryan Vogelsong blanked the Tigers for 5.2 innings and Gregor Blanco hit an RBI triple and Brandon Crawford drove him home with a single in the second inning. The Giants became the eighth team to post consecutive World Series shutouts and the first to accomplish the feat since the 1966 Baltimore Orioles.

Nearly knocked out in the playoffs time and time again, the Giants completed a four game sweep of the Tigers to win their second title in three seasons. Marco Scutaro's go-ahead single with two outs in the 10th inning lifted the Giants to a 4-3, 10-inning victory. Sergio Romo got Triple Crown winner Miguel Cabrera to look at strike three for the final out and the Giants finished the month of October with seven straight wins and their seventh World Series championship.

30th Major League Baseball All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 11, 1961 at Candlestick Park (San Francisco, CA)

In just its second year of existence, Candlestick Park—the majors' first all-concrete stadium—played host to the first of two Major League Baseball All-Star Games played in 1961. Long before the days of the Home Run Derby and All-Star Gala, the game itself provided plenty of excitement, with a quartet of Hall of Famers leading the National League to a come-from-behind, 5-4 victory in 10 innings. Trailing the American League 4-3 entering the bottom of the 10th frame, the senior circuit received a single from Hank Aaron, a run-scoring double by Willie Mays, a walk by Orlando Cepeda and the game-winning single from Roberto Clemente—all off fellow Cooperstown resident Hoyt Wilhelm.

However, those last at-bat heroics were almost not needed, as they became necessitated by one of the more bizarre and memorable moments in All-Star Game history. With the National Leaguers clinging to a 3-2, ninth-inning lead and a runner on third, a gust of wind knocked Giants' pitcher Stu Miller from his set position on the mound, resulting in a balk that allowed the tying run to score.

A capacity crowd of 44,115 filled the 'Stick for a contest that featured four San Francisco Giants (Mays, Cepeda, Miller and Mike McCormick) and a combined 18 players who would later be enshrined in the Hall of Fame.

55th Major League Baseball All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 10, 1984 at Candlestick Park (San Francisco, CA)

After a 33-year absence, the Major League Baseball All-Star Game returned to the Bay Area with the 1984 Midsummer Classic at Candlestick Park. Proving well worth the wait, 57,756 fans were treated to fourteen future Hall of Famers and another who will be enshrined in Cooperstown (Rickey Henderson).

Pitching dominated this contest, with the National League batterymates for the fourth and fifth innings stealing the headlines in a 3-1 senior circuit victory. On the 50th anniversary of the Giants' Carl Hubbell striking out five consecutive batters, the duo of Fernando Valenzuela and Dwight Gooden did "King Carl" one better. Valenzuela fanned all three American League hitters he faced in the fourth inning; then, the youngest player in All-Star Game history—a 19-year-old Gooden—whiffed all three batters in the fifth. Gary Carter, who caught both frames, also broke a 1-1 tie with a solo homer in the second en route to MVP honors.

Oakland's Bill Caudill, making his only All-Star appearance, also posted a perfect inning via strikeout, doing so in his lone frame (seventh). Fittingly, in a game that featured a combined 21 strikeouts, the tight contest ended when Goose Gossage fanned Henderson with a runner on base in the ninth.

78th Major League Baseball All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 10, 2007 at AT&T Park (San Francisco, CA)

The first All-Star Game at AT&T Park lived up to its billing, with the best of baseball turning in a thrilling contest in front of 43,965 fans. Most importantly, the game was San Francisco in all of its essence — beginning with an emotional pre-game tribute to Hall of Famer Willie Mays, the greatest Giant of them all.

True to Mays' greatness, the Midsummer Classic featured a little bit of everything – including the first inside-the-park home run in All-Star Game history, hit by Ichiro Suzuki en route to Most Valuable Player honors. In the end, the American League captured a 5-4 victory after withstanding the National League's furious two-out, ninth-inning rally.

Flexing its muscle and speed, the junior circuit jumped out to a 5-2 lead on the strength of three home runs. The most memorable – and uniquely San Francisco – was Ichiro's two-run shot in the fifth that put the AL ahead 2-1. With a runner on first and one out, the Seattle star drove the first pitch he saw deep to right field – where it hit off the asymmetrical wall and caromed towards the 421-foot sign in right-center. By the time right fielder Ken Griffey, Jr. could relay the ball to the infield, Ichiro had scampered around the bases and set All-Star Game history.

Following Carl Crawford's solo home run in the sixth and Victor Martinez' two-run clout in the eighth, the AL gave a three-run lead to closer J.J. Putz in the ninth. After the first two National League hitters were retired, Dmitri Young singled and Alfonso Soriano hammered a two-run homer of his own to bring the senior circuit within 5-4. Three walks followed to load the bases – including two off new pitcher Francisco Rodriguez – but Rodriguez got Aaron Rowand to fly out and end the game.

Jon Miller, who has spent the last 17 years broadcasting games for the Giants, was selected as the 2010 recipient of the Ford C. Frick Award.

Retired Uniform Numbers

In the storied 131-year history of Giants baseball, 11 former players or managers have enjoyed careers worthy of their jersey numbers being retired by the club. Only the New York Yankees (17) have retired more numbers. The 11 Giant greats are honored at AT&T Park with their names and retired uniform numbers displayed atop the Giants dugout and along the left field suite level facade.

Christy Mathewson and John McGraw, who both predated the use of numbers on jerseys, are recognized along with fellow New York Giants Bill Terry (#3), Mel Ott (#4), Carl Hubbell (#11) and Monte Irvin (#20). Willie Mays (#24), who played for the club on both coasts, joins former San Francisco stars Juan Marichal (#27), Orlando Cepeda (#30), Gaylord Perry (#36) and Willie McCovey (#44) in this select group.

The Giants also honor Jackie Robinson, whose uniform number (42) was retired throughout Major League Baseball in 1997 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of his arrival in the big leagues.

The Giants recognize the following individuals, who have been honored by the National Baseball Hall of Fame for their contributions to the game: Lindsey Nelson (Ford C. Frick Award, 1988), Leonard Koppett (J.G. Taylor Spink Award, 1992), Bob Stevens (J.G. Taylor Spink Award, 1998), Nick Peters (J.G. Taylor Spink Award, 2009) and Jon Miller (Ford C Frick Award, 2010).

Special Recognition

Jackie Robinson 42

INFIELDER

HOF Induction: 1962

Courageously broke Major League Baseball's color barrier with Brooklyn in 1947...5-time All-Star was named NL Rookie of Year in 1947 and MVP in '49...to commemorate 50th anniversary of his arrival in big leagues, number 42 was retired by every Major League team in 1997...was named to MLB's All-Century Team...

Russ Hodges

BROADCASTER

HOF Honoree: 1980

"Voice of Giants" for 21-year run that spanned both coasts…began in New York Giants' radio booth in 1949, followed club west in 1958, and broadcast San Francisco Giants games through 1970…author of most famous call in franchise annals, and perhaps in baseball history, with his "Giants Win the Pennant!" description of Bobby Thomson's playoff-winning homer against Brooklyn Dodgers Oct. 3, 1951…his "Bye-Bye Baby" call became synonymous with Giants home runs…Ford C. Frick Award winner entered Hall of Fame in 1980…

Lon Simmons

BROADCASTER

HOF Honoree: 2004

One of original voices of San Francisco Giants, teaming with fellow Hall-of-Famer Russ Hodges to form arguably finest broadcast team in sports history…brought trademark "Tell It Goodbye" home run call to Giants broadcast booth for 23 years over 3 different stints (1958-'73, '76-'78 and '96-2002)… is only man to broadcast debuts for each of club's 3 San Francisco ballparks—Seals Stadium in 1958, Candlestick Park in 1960 and AT&T Park in 2000…beloved for his wit and charm, Bay Area legend was inducted into Hall of Fame in 2004 as 29th winner of Ford C. Frick Award…

Jon Miller

BROADCASTER

HOF Honoree: 2010

Miller, who has gained accolades for his attention to detail and his intellect, has spent four decades calling Major League Baseball games for the A's, Rangers, Red Sox, Orioles and his current team the Giants…was voice of ESPN's national Sunday Night Baseball telecasts for 20 years…has broadcasted 14 World Series, including the last 13 on ESPN Radio…his energy, preparation and thoroughness has helped bring game to life in homes and hearts of so many listeners… Miller was honored as 35th Ford C. Frick Award recipient during Hall of Fame Weekend 2010…

Giants Wall of Fame

On September 23, 2008, the San Francisco Giants unveiled the team's Wall of Fame, which serves as a living tribute to the organization's greatest players. It recognizes retired players whose records stand highest among their teammates on the basis of longevity and achievements. Those honored have played a minimum of nine seasons for the San Francisco Giants, or five seasons with at least one All-Star selection as a Giant.

46 Giants legends have qualified for this distinction. Bronze plaques honoring these players and their baseball contributions line the wall of AT&T Park along King Street for all baseball fans to enjoy. As present and future generations of Giants players meet the criteria, plaques celebrating their careers will join the Wall of Fame upon their retirement.

Arizona Giants

Arizona Rookie League

Nestor Rojas – Manager

Embarks on his second season as the Giants' Arizona Rookie League manager in 2014…guided team to ARL championship in 2013, following 41-14 regular season record…previously served two seasons as a hitting coach for single-A Augusta (2011-12)…Venezuelan native played in the Giants minor league system from 2003-2010, reaching as high as triple-A…during his career, the former catcher played in 256 games, hitting .222 (164-for-739) after signing with the organization in 2003…resides in Barrio Nuevo, Ciudad Ojeda, Zulia, VZ.

Larry McCall – Pitching Coach

Starts his third campaign with the Giants' organization as pitching coach at the Arizona Rookie League level in 2014…began his coaching career in 1990 as he served as a pitching coach at all levels in Baltimore's minor league chain for over 21 years, which culminated in a one year stint as bullpen coach with the big league club in 2006…from 2007-10, McCall was a roving pitching instructor within the Oriole's minor league organization…in 2010, the former pitcher was also a pitching coach with an independent club, the Southern Maryland Blue Crabs…the former big league pitcher was originally signed as a free agent by Baltimore in 1971…he played in the Majors from 1977-78 with the New York Yankees and was traded to the Texas Rangers in 1979 in a package deal that sent current Giants' pitching coach, Dave Righetti, to the Yankees…resides in Candler, NC.

Mario Rodriguez – Pitching Coach

Begins his second season as a pitching coach for the ARL Giants after spending seven seasons in the Giants minor league system as a left-handed pitcher…he originally signed as a non-drafted free agent in 2006 and spent two years pitching for the DSL Giants before coming to the States in 2008…he had his best year as a Giant in 2011, when he pitched for the Augusta GreenJackets finishing with an 8-5 record and a 4.28 ERA in 90.1 innings.

Billy Horton – Hitting Coach

Begins his third season as a hitting coach for the Arizona Rookie League Giants in 2014…he started coaching full time in 2000 with an emphasis in hitting and catching instruction…his former employers include Arizona Diamondbacks, Arizona State University and Chicago White Sox…also founded youth baseball organizations, Cactus Athletic Camps, and the Arizona Baseball League…was a minor league utility player with the White Sox, Angels and multiple Independent League teams…resides in Scottsdale, AZ with his wife Taleen and two sons, Connor and Bryce.

Saul Martinez – Strength and Conditioning Coach

Marks his first season with Giants' organization in 2014…prior to joining club, he worked at UCLA as an athletic performance intern for men's volleyball, men and woman's track, and woman's golf...was also a strength and conditioning intern at the University of Miami, in which he worked primarily with football, baseball and men and woman's track…graduated with his M.S. Ed in Strength and Conditioning from the University of Miami in 2013 and B.S. in Biology from University of California, Santa Barbara in 2011…is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist through the NSCA.

AT&T Park Facts & Figures

Opening Date: April 11, 2000

Design: Classic urban ballpark with an old-time feel and all the amenities of modern ballparks. Inspired by Wrigley Field and Fenway Park and modeled after Oriole Park at Camden Yards, Jacobs Field and Coors Field.

Construction: Commenced on December 11, 1997. Construction lasted 28 months, with Opening Day on April 11, 2000.

Name Change: Ballpark originally opened as Pacific Bell Park; name was changed to SBC Park on January 1, 2004 and to AT&T Park on March 1, 2006.

Financing: AT&T Park, the first privately financed Major League ballpark to be built in 38 years, cost $357 million. The financing plan included $172 million from naming rights, other sponsorships, pouring rights, concession rights and the selling of charter seats; a $170 million bank loan; and $15 million in tax increment financing from the City's Redevelopment Agency.

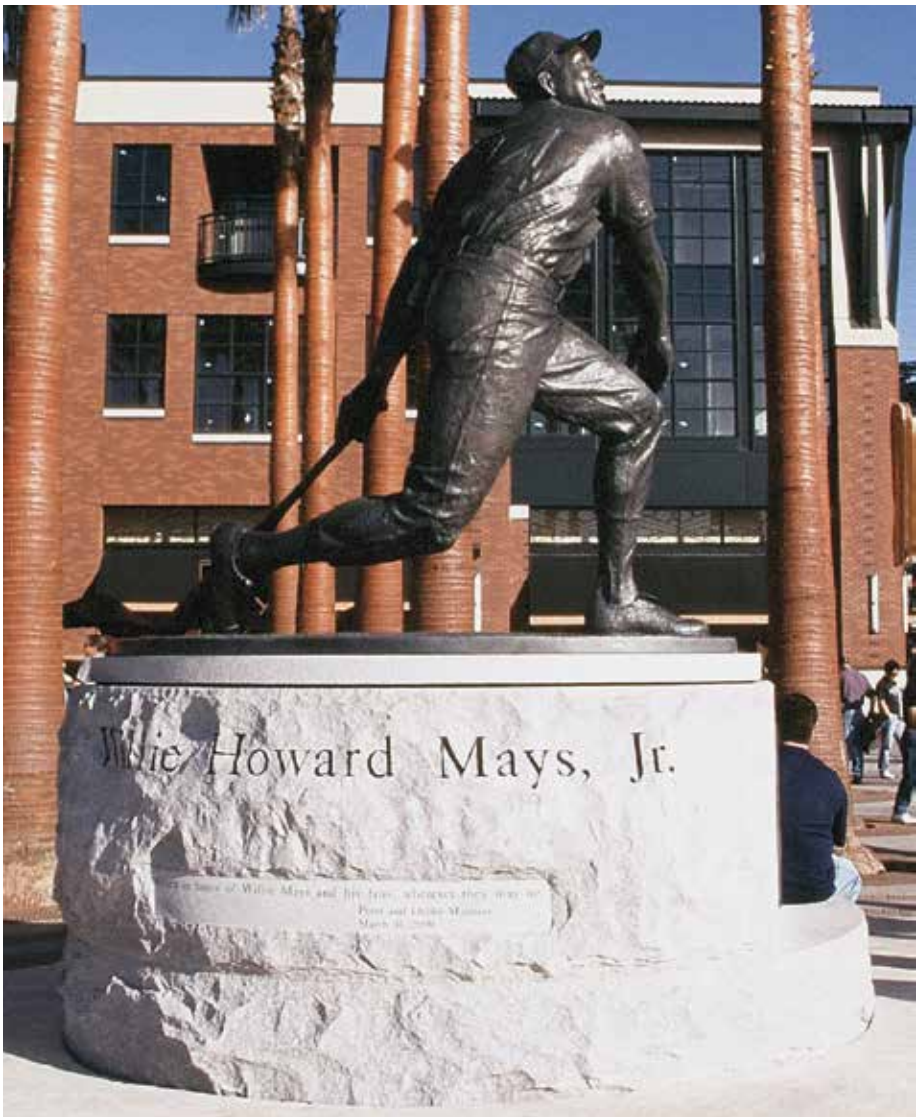

Green Glove: In 2013, the Giants were recognized by Major League Baseball for having the highest recycling rate among the other 29 Clubs and were awarded the MLB Green Glove Award.

Giants Statue Dedications

Since the opening of AT&T Park in the 2000 season, the San Francisco Giants have dedicated four statues of their greatest players donning a Giants uniform. Sculptures of Hall of Famers Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Juan Marichal and Orlando Cepeda have been created by well-known American sculptor William Behrends and have been placed outside of AT&T Park for everyone to enjoy.

Behrends' portrait sculptures have been widely praised for their likeness, quality of detail and sensitive evocation of character. Unlike many other sculptors, Mr. Behrends was personally involved in every phase of the creation of the four bronze sculptures, including research, molding and bronzing.

Behrends divides his time between home and studio in Tyron, North Carolina, bronze foundries in Colorado and New York and a marble studio in Pietrasanta, Italy. He studied architecture at North Carolina State University and fine arts and sculpture at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, including anatomy training at the medical school. He has subsequently studied and worked in Italy, principally with Swietlan Kraczyna and Enzo Pasquini. He is the twice recipient of the Richard Portrait Prize by the National Sculpture Society and is a fellow board member of the National Sculpture Society.

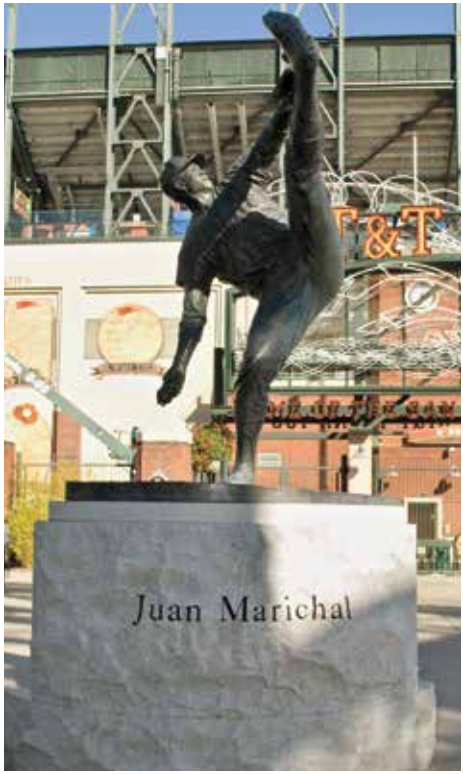

March 31, 2000 – The Giants unveiled a nine-foot bronze sculpture of Hall of Fame outfielder Willie Mays, located at the corner of Third and King Streets. The statue depicts Mays in the graceful conclusion of his powerful swing. The sculpture was developed over a 12-month period.

May 4, 2003 – A nine-foot tall bronze statue of Giants Hall of Fame first baseman Willie McCovey was unveiled. The statue is prominently featured at the northeast portion of AT&T Park, which was officially designated as McCovey Point by the San Francisco Port Commission. The statue of Willie McCovey pays tribute to a man who exemplifies the spirit and leadership shown by many of those who have worn the Giants uniform.

May 21, 2005 – Former Giants great and Hall of Fame pitcher Juan Marichal had his statue dedicated in 2005. The nine-foot bronze statue is located at AT&T Park's Lefty O'Doul Plaza and features Marichal's famous high-leg kick.

September 6, 2008 – The Giants dedicated a bronze statue in honor of Hall of Fame first baseman Orlando Cepeda. The statue, which stands at nine feet tall on a five foot base, is located at the Second Street entrance to AT&T Park. The sculpture portrays a youthful, smiling Cepeda.

AT&T Park Attendance Highlights

- The Giants currently have a sellout streak of 246 regular season dates, plus 15 dates in the post-season, for a total of 261. The National League sellout streak record is 257 regular season games, plus 16 in the post season, for a total of 273 by the Philadelphia Phillies from 2009 to August, 2012. The Boston Red Sox hold the Major League record of 820 straight sellouts (794 regular season, 26 post-season) from 2003 through Opening Day 2013.
- 693 of the 1,134 (61.1%) regular season dates at AT&T Park have been sellouts.
- 1,117 of the 1,134 (98.5%) dates have attracted at least 30,000 fans.
- In 14 years at AT&T Park, the Giants have averaged 39,442 per date, which is 94.1% of capacity.
- Of all teams that have moved into a new ballpark in the last 30 years, the Giants are the only team whose attendance has been higher every single year in their current park, than it ever was in their former park.
- Largest regular season crowd at AT&T Park was 43,503 vs. the Yankees on June 24, 2007. The biggest post-season crowd was 44,046 on October 8, 2010 for a National League Division Series game against Atlanta.
- The smallest crowd was 23,934 on May 11, 2009 vs. Washington. The only games that drew less than 30,000 at AT&T Park were in 2009 (12 dates) and in 2010 (5 dates).
- Highest season attendence at AT&T Park is 3,387,303 (41,819 per date) in 2011.
- Lowest AT&T Park attendance is 2,862,111 (35,335 per date) in 2009. That AT&T Park low is 255,757 higher than the best season attendance at Candlestick Park, which was 2,606,354 in 1993.
- Attendance has topped 3 million in 12 of the 14 years at AT&T Park, including eight straight years from 2000 through 2007. The only teams with an equal or longer streak of 3 million seasons are the Dodgers (1996-2010), Yankees (2000-2013), Angels (2003-2013), Cardinals (2004-2013), and Cubs (2004-2011).
- The Giants have topped 3 million in 12 seasons. The only teams to draw 3 million more often than the Giants are the Dodgers (27 times), the Cardinals (17), and the Yankees (15).
- In their first year at AT&T Park, the Giants drew 3,244,167 (40,051 per date – all sellouts). This was up 1,165,768 (56.1%) from what they drew at Candlestick Park in 1999. The increase in total attendance was the fifth best gain in Major League history.
- In 14 years (2000-2013) at AT&T Park, the Giants have drawn 44,727,579, an average of 3,194,827 per season, and 39,442 per date. In that same period, only the Yankees (51,978,297), Dodgers (48,062,840), and Cardinals (45,721,599) have outdrawn the Giants. In 40 years at Candlestick, the Giants drew 54,134,580, an average of 1,353,365 per season, and 17,961 per date.

San Francisco Giants Broadcast Information

ENGLISH BROADCASTERS

Jon Miller

Jon Miller, honored by the National Baseball Hall of Fame as the 2010 Ford C. Frick award winner for baseball broadcasting excellence, the "Voice of the Giants", enters his 18th season in the broadcast booth on KNBR Radio and NBC Bay Area. 2014 will mark the 40th anniversary of Miller's first Major League baseball broadcast. Miller was thrilled to broadcast his 15th World Series in 2012 as the Giants won it all for the second time in three years. An award-winning broadcast veteran of more than 40 years, Miller worked 21 seasons as the play-by-play commentator on the ESPN Sunday Night Baseball game of the week. Miller, noted for his eloquent game description, golden voice and marvelous sense of humor, spent 14 years with the Baltimore Orioles before coming to San Francisco. Prior to joining Baltimore in 1983, the talented broadcaster spent two seasons with the Texas Rangers (1978-79) and three seasons with the Boston Red Sox (1980-82). After a four-year stint at NBC-TV from 1986-89, where he announced an occasional NBC Game of the Week with either Tony Kubek or Joe Garagiola, Miller matriculated to ESPN. During his tenure at ESPN, he was nominated twice for a national Emmy Award in 1995 and 1996, and broadcast 13 consecutive World Series on ESPN Radio. He was also nominated six times for an "ACE" award, emblematic of cable television excellence, and won the award in 1991 and 1996 for his play-by-play work. Miller was named National Sportscaster of the Year by the Association Sportscasters Association in 1998 and was inducted into the Hall of Fame of the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association of America the same year. In 2013, Miller received a Northern California Area Emmy Award in the category of Sporting Event/Game-Live. The Bay Area native has also broadcast hockey, basketball and soccer in his distinguished career. Jon and his wife, Janine, currently reside in Moss Beach. They are parents to three daughters, Michelle, Holly and Emilie, and a son, Alexander.

Duane Kuiper

Duane Kuiper, a nine-time Emmy award-winning broadcaster, begins his 30th season as a Major League announcer. He embarks on his 21st consecutive year in the Comcast SportsNet Bay Area, NBC Bay Area and KNBR Radio broadcast booths in 2014. Kuiper was one of 10 finalists for the 2014 Ford C. Frick award for baseball broadcasting excellence. Kuiper emerged as one of the top three fan selections in online voting. The former 11-year big league infielder has received nine local Emmy awards for his distinguished broadcasting career: On-Camera talent (5); Sports Live Broadcast (2); and Sporting Event/Game-Live (2). He provided commentary for the Giants from 1987-92 and served a one-year stint with the expansion Colorado Rockies in 1993. The former infielder spent the last four years of his career with the Giants, following seven campaigns with the Cleveland Indians. In 2004 he was voted by Cleveland fans as one of the 100 greatest players in Tribe history. After retiring in 1985, Kuiper provided commentary on Giants radio and TV broadcasts through the end of that season, and had his own radio show on KNBR from 1982-85. Kuiper's scorecards from Barry Bonds' historic 756th home run game, Randy Johnson's 300th career victory and Matt Cain's perfect game in 2012 are displayed at the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown. The Wisconsin native serves as a board member of the Giants Community Fund. A graduate of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, IL, Kuiper and his wife, Michelle, reside in Danville. They are parents to two children, Cole and Dannon.

NBC Bay Area returns as the exclusive over the air tv rightsholder to broadcast Giants games.

NBC BAY AREA

KNBR-680 AM, the 50,000-watt Sports Leader, begins its 36th campaign with the orange and black. Giants fans can tune into 162 games during the baseball season.

KNBR 680 THE SPORTS LEADER

Mike Krukow

Mike Krukow enters his 24th season in the television booth, and his 20th full season on the radio side. An eight-time Emmy award winner, Krukow is the broadcast team's color analyst on Comcast SportsNet Bay Area and NBC Bay Area telecasts, and on KNBR Radio broadcasts. The former big league pitcher has received eight local Emmy awards: On-Camera talent (5); Sports Live Broadcast (2); and Sporting Event/Game-Live (1). Krukow's playing career in the Major Leagues spanned 14 years and three teams: the Chicago Cubs (1976-81), Philadelphia Phillies (1982) and San Francisco Giants (1983-89), where his enthusiasm both on and off the field made him a fan favorite. "Kruk", named as the starting right-handed pitcher to the 1980's Giants All-Decade Team in a vote by Bay Area media in 1999, is noted for his deep knowledge of the game and tremendous sense of humor. A 20-game winner for the Giants in 1986, Krukow retired after the 1989 season with a 124-117 career record and a 3.90 ERA. In 2008, Kruk was honored as a member of the inaugural class of Giants alumni with a plaque in the Giants Wall of Fame which lines the wall outside of AT&T Park. Krukow resides in San Luis Obispo with his wife, Jennifer. The couple has five children, Jarek, Baker, Tessa, Chase and Weston, one grandson, Coen, and one granddaughter, Reagan.

Dave Flemming

Dave Flemming begins his 11th year of broadcasting for the Giants. The 37-year-old will join Jon Miller and Duane Kuiper on the team's KNBR radio broadcasts and is involved in select games on television. In addition to his work with the Giants, he serves as a lead play-by-play voice for ESPN television, working college football and basketball, as well as MLB playoffs and NBA games for ESPN Radio. Flemming has previously called Major League Baseball on FOX, and for six years was the play-by-play voice of Stanford football and basketball. In 2008, Sports Business Journal named Flemming "the best of the new generation of baseball announcers". In 2013 Flemming won a Northern California Area Emmy Award in the category of Sporting Event/Game-Live. Flemming's prior baseball experience includes three seasons as the play-by-play announcer for the Pawtucket Red Sox, Boston's triple-A affiliate. Before moving to Pawtucket, Flemming broadcast play-by-play for the Visalia Oaks in 2000, and served a dual role as the team's assistant general manager. The Alexandria, VA native received a Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Stanford, and a Master's degree in Broadcast Journalism from Syracuse University. Flemming and his wife, Jessica, reside in San Francisco with their twin daughters, Katie and Carter, and son, David Henry.

Comcast SportsNet Bay Area

Comcast SportsNet Bay Area, part of NBC Sports Regional Networks, has been the club's cable television rightsholder since 1990. In 2008, CSN Bay Area was formed as a partnership between Comcast and the San Francisco Giants and the network signed a 25-year agreement to broadcast Giants games through the 2033 baseball season. In 2014, the network will continue to present all Giants regular season games in HDTV and will feature Giants related programming all year long. CSN Bay Area serves more than four million households in Northern California, Nevada, Southern Oregon and Hawaii. In addition to the Giants, CSN Bay Area serves as the television home of the Golden State Warriors and is the official regional sports network of the San Francisco 49ers. CSN Bay Area also features a robust lineup of Emmy Award-winning news, analysis and original programming, including SportsNet Central, Yahoo! SportsTalk Live, Pregame Live, Postgame Live and Press Conference Live.

Giants Pregame Live

Giants Pregame Live presents a preview of the upcoming game, exclusive pregame interviews, feature stories on Giants players and the latest team news. The show airs 30 minutes prior to first pitch.

Giants Postgame Live

Immediately following the final out, Giants Postgame Live features in-depth game analysis, highlights, clubhouse interviews and player reaction, and a preview of the next game.

G-Mag

G-Mag, a 30-minute monthly magazine show, provides Giants fans an inside look at the Orange and Black with exclusive interviews with players, coaches and members of the front office personnel. The show also presents feature stories, insider reports, and the best game highlights of the month.

SportsNet Central

SportsNet Central, a live 30-minute local sports news show, provides Northern California sports fans with nightly in-depth, comprehensive news coverage on the hometown teams, breaking local and national news, up-to-the-minute scores, the best local video highlights and daily insider reports on the Bay Area's teams.

Yahoo! SportsTalk Live

Yahoo! SportsTalk Live, an hour-long roundtable discussion show, features opinionated commentary, in-depth analysis and lively debate on the day's trending sports and entertainment stories in the Bay Area.

Greg Papa, Giants Pre and Postgame Live host, is a 27-year veteran of Bay Area sports broadcasting and three-time California Sportscaster of the Year. Papa is the current radio play-by-play announcer for the Oakland Raiders, and has been the play-by-play voice for the San Francisco Giants, Oakland A's and Golden State Warriors. A graduate of Syracuse University, Papa was also a member of the Indiana Pacers' television and radio broadcasting team (1984-86), and the lead announcer on the San Antonio Spurs telecasts (1997-2000).

Amy Gutierrez, a Bay Area native, is entering her 19th year in the broadcasting industry and is embarking upon her seventh season as the CSN Bay Area in-game reporter. She also serves as a contributing reporter for Giants Pregame Live, Giants Postgame Live and SportsNet Central. In 2013, Gutierrez was the recipient of two Northern California Area Emmy Awards: On-Camera Talent-Sports and Sporting Event/Game-Live. A graduate of UC Davis, Gutierrez has covered multiple teams and sports in the San Francisco Bay Area, including the Oakland A's, San Jose Sharks, Oakland Raiders, San Francisco 49ers, and the Pac-12 and West Coast Conference football and basketball.

Jim Kozimor Jim Kozimor, host of Yahoo! SportsTalk Live, is a veteran sports broadcaster with more than 20 years of experience. Kozimor was the play-by-play announcer for NBC Sports' coverage of badminton and shooting sports during the 2008 Beijing Summer Olympics and 2012 London Summer Olympics. The Chicago native was a long-time television/radio broadcaster for the Sacramento Kings and Sacramento Monarchs. Prior to his tenure in Sacramento, he was a broadcaster with the Houston Rockets, Houston Comets, Philadelphia 76ers, and a sideline reporter and fill-in play-by-play announcer with the Golden State Warriors.

Erwin R. Higueros

Erwin Higueros, a 26-year veteran of Bay Area sports broadcasting, begins his 16th full season, his 17th overall in the Giants' Spanish language radio booth. In addition to his broadcast responsibilities, Higueros is a member of the Giants front office, working in both the media relations and Hispanic marketing departments. A multi-talented announcer, Higueros hosts G-Cast En Español in season which features exclusive interviews with Giants uniformed personnel in Spanish; he also hosts a 30-minute radio show on ESPN Deportes every Friday during the baseball season; and four 30-minute television shows on Telemundo. Higueros began his broadcasting career with the Oakland A's (1988-97), and was the play-by-play announcer for games that were televised on Telemundo-Channel 48 from 1995-97. A versatile broadcaster, Higueros was the Spanish play-by-play voice for a number of Bay Area professional sports teams including the San Francisco 49ers in 2000 and 2012-2013 seasons, the San Jose Sharks in 1995, and the Oakland Raiders in 1995-96 and 2002-06. He has handled the radio play-by-play duties on Spanish radio for the Fresno State Bulldogs football team the past five seasons (2009-13). Higueros broadcast the League Division Series for FOX Sports International in 2004-06. In 2013, Higueros was the recipient of the Community Service Award from the Hispanic Heritage Baseball Museum. Born in Guatemala, he moved to the United States when he was 12 years old. A graduate of Fremont High School in Oakland, he attended Cal State Hayward and the Columbia School of Broadcasting. Higueros resides in Tracy with his wife, Maria. The couple has two grown children, Claudia and Erwin, Jr., and two grandchildren, Alison and Erwin, III.

Tito Fuentes

Tito Fuentes returns to the Giants' Spanish language broadcast booth for his 11th straight season. Fuentes previously served as a member of the Spanish language broadcast team from 1981-92, and in 1996-2004 he broadcast for FOX Sports International which is aired in Latin America. An active participant in the Giants' marketing efforts, he is a regular participant in the Giants Fantasy Camp and Giants Cruise. A former Major League second baseman who played for the Giants from 1965-74, Fuentes saw big league action with San Diego, Detroit and Oakland. The Havana, Cuba native was initially signed as an 18-year-old amateur before the start of the 1962 season and was the last baseball player signed directly out of Cuba before the United States embargo against Cuba. A .268 hitter over his 13-year career, he was voted the starting second baseman on the Dream Team for the Giants 25th Anniversary team by San Francisco fans in 1982. In 1997, "23" was inducted into the Cuban Baseball Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Maritza, reside in Reno, Nevada.

2013 Community Relations Highlights

The San Francisco Giants are dedicated to enriching OUR COMMUNITY through innovation and excellence on and off the field.

In a collaborative effort, the Giants Community Fund, the club's 501(c)(3) non-profit, and the team's Community Relations Department, work to identify, develop, support and raise awareness for people, issues and programs that are important to our fans and communities throughout the Bay Area and Northern California.

Giants fans are likely to be touched by a public awareness campaign, educational activity, fundraiser or grant giving program of either the Giants Community Fund or the Giants Community Relations Department. These activities and programs focus on the following areas:

- Youth Recreation & Fitness
- Health
- Violence Prevention
- Education/Literacy

Each season, the Giants hold more than 350 community outreach and awareness programs and events, either at AT&T Park or throughout the community, which define the work we do in the aforementioned focus areas. Programs include: Girls Day; Jefferson Awards Students In Action; Team Not For Sale; Salute to the Military; Until There's A Cure; Strike Out Cancer; Strike Out Violence; Family Safety; Giant Race benefitting Project Open Hand and BAWSI; ALS Awareness; Glove Drive; Stretch Drive; Education Day; Donate Life; Challenger Clinic; AAA High School Championship; Anti-Bullying Awareness; GiantSweep; Peanut/Nut Allergy Awareness; Step Up to the Plate for Homelessness; and many others.

The Giants Community Fund's flagship program, Junior Giants, serves over 20,000 boys and girls in 80 underserved regions. It is a free and non-competitive program serving as a model among MLB youth initiatives. Junior Giants is an excellent way for children to demonstrate confidence and leadership, link with mentors, and develop a strong understanding of the importance of literacy and healthy living, all through the game of baseball.

During the 2013 season, the San Francisco Giants World Championship Trophy Tour presented by Bank of America was conducted to share both the 2012 and 2010 Major League Baseball Commissioner's trophies with Giants fans in Junior Giants communities throughout Northern California. The four-month, public trophy tour visited 44 cities and towns between January and Opening Day. At each trophy tour stop, fans could have their photo taken with the trophies and support their local Junior Giants Baseball League. More than $30,000 was raised to benefit Junior Giants.

Working with Commissioner Selig and Major League Baseball on the anniversary of Jackie Robinson breaking baseball's color barrier, the Giants hosted hundreds of local underserved youth at viewings of the movie, "42."

Hunter Pence was the winner of the Heart & Hustle Award for the Giants. The Heart & Hustle Award is given to a current player who not only excels on the field, but also "best embodies the values, spirits and traditions of baseball

During the team's visit to the White House to celebrate our 2012 World Series Championship, many of our players participated in First Lady Michelle Obama's childhood obesity campaign, Let's Move! They taped public service announcements encouraging kids to eat healthy and exercise.

In partnership with the City and County of San Francisco and Mayor Ed Lee, our mascot Lou Seal played an important role in two local community programs – GiantSweep, a city wide anti-litter campaign, and the launch of the City's 311 application, which allows people to directly communicate with City government and Make San Francisco Better.

We continue to respond to and fulfill many special needs and requests in the community providing experiences to fans confronting illness, experiencing life's milestones and other special circumstances.

Giants employees, from the players to the front office staff are expected to give back to the community and their fans. Players do this through developing their own programs or supporting existing programs in the form of visits and appearances, financial contributions and relaying important messages through videos, press conferences and media interviews. Front office staff support many of our community initiatives and actively volunteer their time

In 2013, more than 45,000 game tickets were donated to more than 250 community groups through the Take Me Out to the Ballgame ticket donation program, which is funded by Giants players, the MLB's Commissioner's Community Initiative and MLBPA's Players Give Back. Additionally, more than 1,500 autographed items and special field experiences were donated to more than 1,200 groups who used them for fundraising purposes, raising more than $100,000.

THE GIANTS MEDIA RELATIONS OFFICE: Located on the second level at AT&T Park behind the press box, the Giants' media relations department can be reached via the media elevator or adjacent stairs from the Field Club (service) level walkway.

ENTRY TO AT&T PARK: Credentialed media must enter the ballpark through the Media Entrance near O'Doul Gate (next to the Giants Dugout Store) off Third Street, or at the Command Center at 2nd and King Streets.

CREDENTIALS: Credentials will be issued only to legitimate media. Season credentials will be issued only to those news agencies that cover the Giants on a daily basis. All agencies that wish to cover the Giants must submit a written request on official company letterhead by e-mail to Maria Jacinto (mjacinto@sfgiants.com). Media representatives who do not receive full-season Giants credentials may obtain single credentials for individual games, subject to availability, by contacting the media relations department at least 48 hours in advance, preferably by e-mail. All daily media credentials can be picked up at the Giants Administrative Building reception desk, (adjacent to the Giants Dugout Store) located off Third Street through the glass doors at 24 Willie Mays Plaza. Credentials must be visibly worn at all times.

BOB STEVENS PRESS BOX: The Bob Stevens Press Box is located on the Lower Box level of AT&T Park, directly above Sections 113-117 of the lower bowl seating in the ballpark. The entrance to the press box, situated one level above street level, can be accessed via the media elevator or adjacent stairwell from the Field Club (service) level walkway. The press box is a working area for the news media and no cheering or other distracting noise is permitted at any time. Anyone violating this policy will be asked to leave the premises. Persons without credentials will not be admitted.

HODGES-SIMMONS BROADCAST CENTER: All broadcast booths for live game coverage are located at the Hodges-Simmons Broadcast Center on the Club Level of AT&T Park (one level above the Press Box). From the Field (service) level walkway, take the media elevator or adjacent stairwell to the Club Level to access the broadcast booths. Persons without credentials will not be admitted.

CLUBHOUSES: Both clubhouses are located on the Field Club (service) level of AT&T Park. The Giants' clubhouse is on the third base side, while the visitor's clubhouse is on the first base side. Only credentialed media with clubhouse access will be admitted. TV and still photographers are not allowed in the clubhouse prior to the game, while only TV cameras are permitted in the clubhouse during post-game (no still photographers). Training and weight rooms, as well as the club dining areas, are closed to everyone except players and club officials. The Giants clubhouse is open beginning three-and-a-half hours prior to game time, and will re-open 10 minutes following the conclusion of the game. Media may NOT return to the home or visitors clubhouse once the Clubs have taken batting practice. Please do not lounge in the manager's office or clubhouse during the pre-game period. If you have specific interview requests for a player or coach, we encourage you to contact a member of the Giants' media relations staff, who will try to accommodate your needs.

FIELD ACCESS: Only credentialed media with field access will be allowed onto the field prior to the game. Due to AT&T Park having the smallest foul territory behind home plate in Major League Baseball, we kindly ask all video and still photographers to stay on the warning track when shooting. All media must clear the field 45 minutes prior to game time. Access to the field is available on the Field Club (service) level only by one of three tunnels: the Giants' dugout, the visitors' dugout, or the media tunnel directly behind home plate.

NICK PETERS MEDIA INTERVIEW ROOM: The Nick Peters Media Interview Room is located on the Field Club (service) level of the ballpark. The room will be used for media conferences and other special interviews.

POST-GAME PROCEDURES: Manager Bruce Bochy will be available to the media immediately after the game in the Nick Peters Media Interview Room. Please ask any questions of the manager related to the game during this post-game session. Post-game interviews with the manager and players are conducted by media with deadlines and should be limited to game comments. Please do not lounge in the manager's office or clubhouse, or attempt to conduct feature-length interviews after a game.

SOCIAL MEDIA: In accordance with Major League Baseball guidelines, media are not permitted to use cellular phones, laptops, texting devices or similar portable equipment for Tweeting or transmitting via other social media networks in group settings in clubhouses, dugouts or manager's office at any time. Digital photography, without the permission of the club media relations director, is prohibited in the clubhouse at all times.

MEDIA DRESS GUIDELINES: MLB and the BBWAA agreed to a set of dress guidelines for members of the media. The guidelines, which emphasize professionalism, will be in effect for the 2014 season. The guidelines will be posted in all media areas.

DARKROOMS, STILL PHOTO LOCATIONS: The photo darkrooms and the Giants' team photographers' office are located on the Field Club (service) level of the ballpark between both clubhouses. In addition, an auxiliary photographers' work room for photo transmissions via telephone lines is available in the area adjacent to the umpires room on the service level. Limited photo locations are available at various field level areas, as well as in the TV basket situated on the third base side of the Club Level. All still photo locations are reserved by contacting Giants photography department. The Giants' media relations department requests that all season credentialed photographers use discretion in using their season pass, and ask that you only utilize your credential on a legitimate assignment.

LIVE SHOTS: Due to our downtown location, we do not have any ENG truck parking. If your organization plans to transmit ANY live shots from inside AT&T Park, please contact MediaOne Services, which serves as the official broadcast services provider for the Giants and AT&T Park. Please direct your inquiry to Nelson Ferreira via e-mail at nelson@m1sf.com or via telephone at (415) 760-3930.

SAM SKINNER MEDIA LOUNGE: The Sam Skinner Media Lounge is located directly behind the broadcast booths on Club Level. Those media members located in the press box that wish to dine can access the Sam Skinner Media Lounge by taking one flight of stairs up one level. The lounge is open for pre-game meal service beginning two hours prior to game time to accredited media members. Meal service concludes one hour after first pitch. There will be a nominal charge for meals.

LIVE GAME-IN-PROGRESS BROADCASTS: Please be advised that no radio entity is allowed to file live in-game reports from AT&T Park when the Giants host a game in which MLB's national radio rightsholder, ESPN Radio, is broadcasting. The ESPN Radio window of exclusivity begins 15 minutes prior to first pitch and concludes 15 minutes after the game or when ESPN Radio completes its broadcast, whichever comes first. Live broadcasts by non-rights holders during a game are permitted for the purpose of non play-by-play reporting of scores and game highlights, under the following guidelines: Reports must be confined to between-innings only, limited to 60 seconds in length, and limited to six per game. Radio and TV stringers must notify the Giants media relations department of their plans for such reports. A violation of the above Major League Baseball guidelines may result in the revocation of media credentials.

TELEPHONES: Media wishing to order temporary telephone lines must contact Lena Boswell, Giants telecommunications manager at (415) 972-1711 or via e-mail at lboswell@sfgiants.com.

FREELANCE WRITERS AND PHOTOGRAPHERS: Freelance writers and photographers may not request their own credentials. The sports editor or managing editor of a publication employing the freelancer must provide a written credential request on official company letterhead for specific games at least 48 hours in advance of that game.

WEBSITES: Due to the growth of on-line services and our limited number of press box seats, the Giants will only issue daily credentials to those website personnel affiliated with a major news gathering organization.

MEDIA INFORMATION SITE: All Giants' game day information (lineups, game notes, stats, releases, etc.) audio/video interviews (English and Spanish) and press box information will be available on the Giants' press box information site. Please see a media relations staffer for website and login information.

NO AUTOGRAPHS: Media are not allowed to ask for autographs of uniformed personnel at AT&T Park. Anyone violating this policy will be asked to leave the premises and will have their credential revoked.

Información a los Medios

Oficina de Relaciones Públicas de los Gigantes: Está localizada en el segundo piso en AT&T Park detrás del Palco de Prensa. Usted puede llegar al Departamento de Relaciones Públicas de los Gigantes para los Medios de Comunicación por el elevador o las escaleras que están ubicados cerca del túnel de servicio en el nivel Field Club.

Acceso a AT&T Park: Todos los miembros de prensa con acreditación autorizada deben entrar a AT&T Park por la puerta designada para Medios que está ubicada cerca a la taquilla Lefty O'Doul (a un lado de la tienda Giants Dugout) en la calle Third o en el centro de comando entre las calles 2nd y King.

Acreditación: Las Credenciales de Temporada le serán otorgadas solamente a medios informativos o agencias de noticias que reportan sobre el equipo a diario. Todos los medios informativos o agencias de noticias que deseen obtener acreditación tienen que someter su solicitud por escrito en una carta membretada de su compañía por email a María Jacinto, Sr. Director Broadcast Services a mjacinto@sfgiants.com. Los Medios que no reciban acreditación de temporada pueden obtener una credencial para juegos individuales, sujetos a disponibilidad siempre y cuando sean pedidas con 48 horas de anticipación. Todas las credenciales se pueden obtener en la recepción del edificio administrativo de los Gigantes, (a un lado de la tienda Giants Dugout), que está en la calle Third en 24 Willie Mays Plaza. Las credenciales tienen que ser visibles todo el tiempo.

Palco de Prensa Bob Stevens: El Palco de Prensa Bob Stevens está localizado en el nivel Lower Box en AT&T Park, directamente arriba de las secciones 113 a 117. Se puede llegar al Palco de Prensa Bob Stevens por el ascensor o las escaleras que están por el túnel de servicio en el nivel Field Club. El Palco de Prensa es un área de trabajo para los periodistas y no se permiten las porras, vítores, aplausos o cualquier otro ruido que distraiga o impida a los periodistas ejercer su trabajo. Los individuos que no respeten esta regla serán expulsados de inmediato del palco. De hecho, las personas sin credenciales no serán admitidas al palco.

Centro de Transmisión Hodges-Simmons: Todas las cabinas de radio y televisión para transmisiones en vivo están localizadas en el Centro de Transmisión Hodges-Simmons en el nivel Club Level en AT&T Park (un piso arriba del Palco de Prensa). Se puede llegar al Centro de Transmisión Hodges-Simmons por el ascensor o las escaleras que están por el túnel de servicio en el nivel Field Club. Las personas sin credenciales no serán admitidas a esta área del estadio.

Acceso a los Vestidores: Ambos vestidores están localizados en el nivel Field Club de AT&T Park. El vestidor de los Gigantes se encuentra en el lado de la tercera base y el del equipo visitante está en el lado de la primera base. El acceso a los vestidores será permitido sólo a periodistas con la acreditación apropiada. Cámaras de televisión y fotógrafos no son permitidos en el clubhouse antes de los partidos. Se le permite acceso a los vestidores a cámaras de televisión después de los partidos, pero nunca a fotógrafos. El cuarto médico y de entrenamiento así como el comedor de los jugadores son áreas que están cerradas para todos, excepto a los jugadores y empleados del club. El vestidor de los Gigantes estará abierto tres horas y media antes de cada partido y reabrirá 10 minutos después del juego. Los periodistas no pueden regresar al vestidor de los Gigantes o al del equipo visitante una vez que los equipos hayan salido a tomar práctica de bateo. Si no está autorizado para hacerlo, por favor no se quede en la oficina del manager o en el vestidor. Si desea hacer una entrevista específica con un pelotero o instructor le pedimos que se ponga en contacto con miembros de Relaciones para los Medios de los Gigantes, quienes harán todo lo posible para facilitar su necesidad.

Acceso al Campo/Terreno de Juego: El acceso al terreno de juego será permitido sólo a periodistas con la acreditación oficial antes de los partidos. Debido a que AT&T Park tiene la área más pequeña detrás del home en las Grandes Ligas, se le pide a las cámaras de televisión y fotógrafos que permanezcan en la pista de advertencia o zona de seguridad cuando estén filmando. Todos los miembros de los medios necesitan desalojar el campo 45 minutos antes del comienzo del partido. Se puede llegar al campo por el nivel Field Club solamente por uno de tres túneles: por el dugout de los Gigantes o el del equipo visitante y por el túnel que está directamente detrás del home.

Sala de Entrevistas Nick Peters: La Sala de Entrevistas Nick Peters está localizada en el nivel Field Club del estadio. Esta Sala de Entrevistas será usada para Conferencias de Prensa y otras entrevistas especiales.

Procedimiento después del Partido: El piloto Bruce Bochy estará disponible inmediatamente después de cada partido en la Sala de Entrevistas Nick Peters. Esta es su oportunidad de hacer preguntas con respecto al juego de ese día o noche. Las entrevistas con el manager y los peloteros deben de ser llevadas a cabo por reporteros que tienen que respetar un plazo de tiempo para ejecutar sus funciones. Por favor no se quede en la oficina del manager o el vestidor y no trate de hacer entrevistas largas después del juego.

Medios Sociales: Conforme a las reglas de Major League Baseball, no se le permite el uso de teléfonos móviles, laptop, equipos para escribir texto o usar aparatos similares para enviar tweets o transmitir a otros medios sociales mientras esté en vestidor, clubhouse o en la oficina del manager. Las fotos digitales sin el permiso de un miembro de Relaciones para los Medios están completamente prohibidas en el Clubhouse o vestidor.

Código de Vestimenta: MLB y BBWAA se han puesto de acuerdo en un Código de Vestimenta para todos los miembros de prensa. La directriz, la cual enfatiza el profesionalismo, fue puesta en vigor desde la temporada 2014. Las reglas al respecto están delineadas y a la vista de todos en las áreas para los miembros de prensa.

Cuarto Oscuro, lugar para los Fotógrafos: El cuarto oscuro y la oficina del fotógrafo del equipo de los Gigantes está localizada en el Field Club en el nivel de servicio entre los vestidores de los equipos. Además, hay otro cuarto auxiliar de trabajo para enviar fotografías vía teléfono que se encuentra a un lado del cuarto de los árbitros en el nivel de servicio. Hay espacio para un número limitado de áreas para fotógrafos en el terreno de juego, así como en la caseta de televisión que se encuentra en el lado de la tercera base en el Club Level. Todas las ubicaciones para fotógrafos están reservadas y si desea una de estas áreas comuníquese con el Departamento de Fotografía de los Gigantes. El Departamento de Relaciones para Medios de los Gigantes le pide a todos los fotógrafos con acreditación de temporada que respeten las reglas propias de su profesión cuando hagan uso de las mismas y se les pide que sólo la usen cuando estén ejerciendo el trabajo para un medio debidamente acreditado.

Tomas en Vivo: Debido a que el estadio se encuentra en el centro de la ciudad, no tenemos estacionamiento para los camiones con satélite. Si su organización tiene planes de hacer una transmisión en directo adentro de AT&T Park, por favor comuníquese con MediaOne Services, proveedor oficial para transmisiones en vivo de los Gigantes en AT&T Park. Diríjase a Nelson Ferreria por email a Nelson@mlsf.com o por teléfono al (415) 760-3930.

Comedor de Prensa Sam Skinner: El comedor Sam Skinner está localizado directamente detrás de las cabinas de narración en el Club Level. Los periodistas que se encuentren en el Palco de Prensa y deseen ingerir alimentos pueden dirigirse al Comedor Sam Skinner por las escaleras al tercer piso. El comedor estará abierto dos horas antes de cada partido. El comedor cierra una hora después del primer lanzamiento. Hay un cobro mínimo especificado por la comida.

Transmisiones en Vivo: Se advierte que ninguna radio está permitida a hacer reportajes en vivo durante los juegos en AT&T Park cuando los Gigantes sean anfitriones y el partido sea transmitido nacionalmente por la cadena ESPN. La ventana de exclusividad para la cadena ESPN comienza 15 minutos antes del primer lanzamiento y concluye 15 minutos después que termine el juego o cuando ESPN concluya su transmisión. Reportes en vivo de estaciones de radio sin derechos de exclusividad están permitidos sólo para informar del marcador o jugadas relevantes y no para describir la acción bajo las siguientes reglas: los reportajes deben hacerse sólo entre innings, limitados a 60 segundos y seis por juego. Los reporteros de radio y televisión tienen que informarle de antemano al Departamento de Relaciones para Medios sobre sus planes para dichos reportes. La violación a esta regla de MLB puede resultar en la suspensión de la respectiva credencial.

Reporteros y Fotógrafos Independientes: Los reporteros y fotógrafos independientes no pueden solicitar su propia acreditación. El Director de Deportes o el gerente de la publicación a la cual representan tienen que hacer la solicitud por escrito en papel membretado de la compañía para los juegos específicos con por lo menos 48 horas de anticipación.

Sitio Web: Debido al gran número de sitios cibernéticos y el espacio limitado en el Palco de Prensa los Gigantes sólo le otorgarán credenciales a aquellos sitios que estén asociados con una organización informativa legítima.

Lugar con Información para los Medios: Toda la información del juego (notas, alineaciones, estadísticas, comunicados de prensa, etc.), video y audio de entrevistas en inglés y español están disponibles en el sitio de la web de los Gigantes. Un miembro del departamento de Relaciones para Medios le puede asistir para que pueda ingresar debidamente al sitio.

Prohibida Absolutamente la Petición de Autógrafos: Los miembros de la prensa tienen terminantemente prohibido pedir autógrafos en AT&T Park. Cualquiera que viole esta regla se le pedirá que desaloje el estadio y su credencial será suspendida.
