Tonight's Pitcher - #30 Tyler Mahle, RHP

RED HOTS

- Last name rhymes with rally.
- Has established single-season career highs in starts, wins, innings pitched, strikeouts and quality starts (9).
- In Sun's 2-1 loss at Mia threw a career-high 7.0 innings for the eighth time, the fifth time this season...in the first inning retired the first 2 batters but then allowed a single to Jesús Aguilar followed by a 2-run HR to Jesús Sánchez...the rest of his outing allowed just 2 singles and 2 walks.
- Is 3-3, 6.00 in 12 starts at Great American Ball Park (.275baa) and 7-2, 1.90 in 15 starts on the road (.19baa).
- In his last 21 starts on the road is 8-4, 2.18 (.193baa) and didn't allow more than 3 runs in any of those apps...is the longest active such streak in the Major Leagues, not counting Rays "opener" Ryne Stanek's streak of 66 such starts over the 2018 and 2019 seasons, and the longest ever by a Reds pitcher since 1900...the Reds' previous record for consecutive road starts without allowing more than 3 runs was 16, shared by Fred Toney (1915-1916) and Bruce Berenyi (1982-1983)...courtesy @EliasSports.
- Has been the victim of a blown save 7 times...2 other starts, both 4.0-inning stints, also included blown saves...his 9 starts that included at least 1 blown save are the most in the Major Leagues.
- Leads the staff and ranks among the National League leaders in strikeouts (9th) and strikeouts per 9 innings (7th, 10.56).
- From 8/3-8/17 faced 57 consecutive batters over 15.2 innings without issuing a walk.
- Started 6 of the Reds' 14 extra-inning games.
- In his 2-1 win on 6/16 at Mil tied his career high with 12 strikeouts, the most by a Reds pitcher in a game this season...retired his last 12 batters.
- Doesn't turn 27 years old until 9/29 but already has completed 4 Major League seasons...made his fourth consecutive Opening Day roster.
