HOW SWEEP IT IS!: The Royals overcame a 2-0 deficit in the 7th inning yesterday to clinch a 6-2, sweep-clinching victory over the White Sox at Kauffman Stadium...the Royals didn't record their 1st hit until the 6th inning and trailed 2-0 with 2 outs and nobody on in the 7th, when Adam Frazier doubled and Jonathan India tied the game with a 451-ft. home run...with the score still tied at 2-2 with 2 outs in the bottom of the 8th, the Royals strung together 3 straight run-scoring hits, including the go-ahead RBI single by Maikel Garcia, an RBI single by Salvador Perez and a 2-run blast by Frazier to cap a 6-run outburst over the 7th and 8th innings, all of which scored with 2 outs.

STAY SUMMARY: The Royals are 5-1 through the 1st 6 games of this season-long, 10-game homestand that began a week ago vs. Washington...the Royals took 2 of 3 from the Nationals before sweeping the Chicago White Sox in 3 games over the weekend...the Royals outscored the Nationals and White Sox by a combined score of 37-22 (+15) while batting .283 (15-for-53) with an .889 OPS (7 XBH) in scoring situations and pitching to a 3.33 ERA (20 ER in 54.0 IP).

- The Royals continue this season-long homestand tonight with the 1st of 4 games vs. the Rangers, who have lost 8 of their last 10 but scored a 10-4 win in Toronto yesterday vs. the American League-leading Blue Jays.
- With 1 win in this series, they would clinch their third straight winning homestand, following a pair of 4-2 stays from July 7-13 vs. the Pirates and Mets and July 25-30 vs. the Guardians and Braves...their 5 wins already match their most for any homestand in 2025, previously done on three straight stays from April 4-10 vs. the Orioles and Twins (5-2), April 22-27 vs. the Rockies and Astros (5-1) and May 5-11 vs. the White Sox and Red Sox (5-2).
- They are 33-29 at Kauffman Stadium this season but are 13-5 in their last 18 home games...they're 5-1-0 in six home series since the start of July, during which they've hit 27 HR in 18 games while averaging 5.06 runs/game.
- The Royals are in a stretch in which they're playing 19 of 25 games at Kauffman Stadium through Sept. 7.

ROYAL RUNDOWN: The Royals are 16-11 (.593) since the All-Star break and 24-15 (.615) since July 1 with the 4th-best record in the Majors behind the Brewers (31-8), Red Sox (26-13) and Blue Jays (27-14)...with a win tonight, the Royals would improve to 25-15 in their last 40 games since July 1, which would mark their best 40-game span this season... they did have a few 25-15 runs last season, but their last 40-game stretch with a record better than 25-15 spanned June, July and August in 2017, eight years ago...this recent surge has the Royals 4.0 games behind the Yankees (67-57) for the final Wild Card spot, with only the 63-60 Guardians in between, and 38 games remaining in the regular season.

- The Royals are playing 13 straight and 22 of 28 games vs. teams currently under .500 through Sept. 7.

DINGER PARTY: The Royals rank 28th in the Majors with 113 HR in 124 games, but they've hit 55 HR in their last 36 games since July 4, which rank T-5th in the Majors during that time...the Royals rank 29th in the Majors with just 42 HR in 62 home games, including 15 HR in their 1st 44 home games...but since the start of their series vs. the Pirates on July 7, the Royals have hit 27 HR in their last 18 games at Kauffman Stadium, including 10 HR in 6 games on this stay.

- The Royals have homered in 7 straight games, 1 shy of their season-long, 8-game homer streak from June 3-11.
- The Royals are 22-5 (.815) when hitting multiple HR, 2nd best in the American League and 4th best in the Majors.
- They've won 22 games with 0 HR, most in the American League and 1 behind Milwaukee (23) for the Majors lead.

PITCHING IN: Despite suffering a rash of injuries to the pitching staff this season, Royals starting pitchers rank 4th in the Majors and 2nd in the American League with a 3.53 ERA...pitching has remained a strength for this team, which is missing two of the five pitchers from their Opening Day starting rotation, including Cole Ragans (their Opening Day starter who finished 4th in the Cy Young voting last season), and All-Star Kris Bubic (who recorded a 2.55 ERA (33 ER in 116.1 IP) in 20 starts before suffering a season-ending injury)...the current staff includes Seth Lugo, Michael Wacha and Michael Lorenzen, who were in the Opening Day rotation, plus two rookies in Noah Cameron and Ryan Bergert, who rank No. 1 and 2 among Major League rookies this season (min. 10 starts) in ERA, WHIP and opponents' average.

- The starters have been tested of late and are currently in a season-long drought of 9 consecutive games without a quality start, since Wacha (tonight's starter) allowed just 2 runs in 6.0 innings on Aug. 6 at Fenway Park.
- Wacha, Lugo and Bubic are tied for the team lead with 11 quality starts, and the Royals rank 9th with 49 QS.

VS. RANGERS: The Royals are hosting the Rangers tonight in the 1st of 4 games between two teams fighting for a Wild Card spot...the Royals swept a 3-game series in Arlington from June 17-19, in which they outscored the Rangers 16-5... it marked their first series win over the Rangers since the 2021 season-opening series at Kauffman Stadium, snapping a streak of seven straight series losses to Texas, and it was their first series win in Arlington since Aug. 22-24, 2014.

- With 1 win in this series, the Royals would clinch the season series vs. Texas for the first time since 2014 (5-1)... they've lost the last nine season series since (2015-24, excluding 2020), during which they went 15-44 (.254).
- The Royals have not won a series vs. the Rangers at Kauffman Stadium since the season-opening set in 2021.

THE QUAD: The Royals are playing their fifth of six 4-game series this season, the last of which will come in Cleveland from Sept. 8-11...the Royals are 2-1-1 in their previous 4-game series, including a sweep of the White Sox, 3 wins vs. the Twins, a split in Seattle and a 1-3 set in Detroit...since the start of last season, the Royals are 8-4-1 in 13 series of 4 games, the most such series wins in the Majors and the 3rd-best win pct. behind the Dodgers (6-0-4) and O's (6-1-7).

- The Royals are 5-1-0 in six 4-game series at home since the start of last season, also the most such wins in MLB.
- Despite their recent success in 4-game series, the Royals haven't won a 4-game set vs. the Rangers in 26 years, since Sept. 10-13, 1999...in nine 4-game series vs. the Rangers since, the Royals have lost seven and split two.

POST-BREAK BREAKOUT: The Royals have scored at least 5 runs in 16 of 27 games (59.3%) since the All-Star break, tied for the 2nd most such games in the Majors behind only the Brewers (18)...this is a big turn from before the All-Star break, when the Royals scored 5 runs or more in just 21 of 97 games (21.6%), which were the fewest in the Majors...in these 27 games since the break, the Royals rank 12th in the Majors in batting average with runners in scoring position (.264), T-6th in HR per game (1.48) and 4th in runs per game (5.30)...although a small sample, these are drastic improvements from the 1st half, when the Royals ranked 28th in average with runners in scoring position and 29th in HR/G and R/G.

- Maikel Garcia leads the team with 32 hits since the All-Star break and is batting .311 (32-for-103) with an .891 OPS, as 12 of his 32 hits since the break have gone for extra bases, and he has as many walks as strikeouts (14).
- Vinnie Pasquantino has 7 HR and 24 RBI in 26 games since the break, and his 24 RBI are tied for 8th most in MLB.
- Salvador Perez has 9 HR in 27 games since the All-Star break, tied for 5th most in the AL and tied for 7th in MLB.
- Since being acquired during the All-Star break, Adam Frazier is batting .329 (25-for-76) with 13 RBI in 23 games.
- In 25 games since the All-Star break, Kyle Isbel is slashing .324/.392/.437 (23-for-71) with 10 RBI & an .829 OPS.
- In 8 games since being moved out of the leadoff spot, Jonathan India is slashing .267/.353/.600 (8-for-30).

WHAT A RELIEF!: Royals All-Star closer Carlos Estévez Friday night recorded his American League-most 31st save of the season, matching his career high done during his 2023 All-Star season with the Angels...the 31 saves are the most by a Royal since Greg Holland had 32 saves in 2015...he's attempting to become the third pitcher in Royals history to lead the AL in saves, and would join Dan Quisenberry, who did it five times, and Jeff Montgomery, who did it in 1993.

- The Royals have won their last 76 games when leading after the 8th inning, which is the 2nd-longest active streak in the Majors to the Tigers (91)...the Royals last loss when leading after the 8th was more than one year ago, on Aug. 3, 2024 at Detroit...the franchise record is 151 consecutive wins from Aug. 26, 1991-April 20, 1994.

MICHAEL WACHA is making his 25th start of the season and 282nd of his career (303rd outing) tonight vs. Texas, his 6th career appearance vs. the Rangers...this is his 13th season in the Majors and second with Kansas City, after spending parts of 11 seasons with the Cardinals (2013-19), Mets (2020), Rays (2021), Red Sox (2022) and Padres (2023)...he was selected 19th overall in the 2012 First-Year Player Draft by St. Louis.

+ Wacha joined Kansas City in December 2023 on a one-year contract that included a player option for 2025...after a successful first season with the Royals, the two sides agreed to a new deal last November which guarantees him three more years in Kansas City through 2027, in addition to a club option for the 2028 season.

LAST START: In his start last Tuesday vs. Washington, Wacha earned his 7th win and 3rd in as many starts, after yielding 2 runs on 5 hits and 2 walks over 5.2 innings...he cruised through the 1st 4.0 innings, facing one over the minimum on just 43 pitches, but ran into some trouble in the 5th, surrendering a 2-out RBI triple to Luis García Jr....he allowed another run to score in the 6th, and he exited with 2 outs and runners on first and second in favor of Sam Long, who stranded both inherited runners, keeping him in line for the win.

+ He has allowed 2 earned runs or fewer in each of his last 6 starts since July 11, posting a 2.00 ERA (8 ER in 36.0 IP) in that stretch, which is the 2nd-lowest mark in the Majors, trailing only left hander Trevor Rogers of the Baltimore Orioles (1.33).

POST ALL-STAR BREAK: Since the start of the 2022 season, Wacha has gone 21-5 with a 3.28 ERA (78 ER in 214.0 IP) across 37 outings after the break...his .808 winning percentage in that stretch is the 2nd best in the Major Leagues among qualified starters, trailing only Detroit's Tarik Skubal (.810), while his 21 wins in that stretch rank 5th.

+ He is 10-2 with a 2.58 ERA (31 ER in 108.1 IP) in 18 such starts since joining the Royals.

TOUGH LUCK: After receiving just 29 runs of support across his 1st 20 starts, the Royals offense has since provided Wacha with 19 runs over his last 3 outings, each of which he has been the winning pitcher in...his 8.69 run support average in this stretch is in stark contrast to his previous 12 starts during which he received just 13 runs of support combined (1.78)...despite the recent help, the Royals have still only given him a total of 48 runs in his 137.0 innings pitched, which is the 3rd fewest among pitchers who have made at least 24 starts, ahead of Cal Quantrill (38) and Miles Mikolas (45)...his 3.15 run support average is the 2nd-lowest among all qualified starters, ahead of only Yoshinobu Yamamoto (2.98).

+ Wacha has left with the lead in 9 of 24 starts, but he has done so in his last 4 outings.
+ Wacha's 2.29 run support average at the All-Star break was the lowest among Royals qualified starters before an All-Star Game since Zach Greinke's 2.03 RSA in 2005.
+ This is in stark contrast to last season, when Wacha's 5.13 RSA was the 12th highest among 30 qualified starters in the AL, and led the team, ahead of Seth Lugo (4.75).

GREATEST HITS: Wacha has limited loud contact this season, ranking in the 92nd percentile among qualified pitchers with a 32.9% hard-hit rate, per Baseball Savant...among all pitchers with at least 2,000 pitches thrown this season, his 32.9% hard-hit rate ranks 3rd, trailing Houston's Hunter Brown (32.2%) and Cincinnati's Andrew Abbott (32.4%)...his 32.9% hard-hit rate this season trails only reliever Steven Cruz (32.2%) for the lowest rate on the team.

THREE BALL: Since the beginning of last season, Wacha has allowed 3 earned runs or fewer in 44 of 53 starts (83.0%), which is tied for 3rd in the AL with Houston's Hunter Brown, trailing Boston's Garrett Crochet (48) and Detroit's Tarik Skubal (45)...he has allowed 3 earned runs or fewer in 19 of 24 starts this year, including 6 straight outings.

+ Last season, Wacha allowed 3 earned runs or fewer in 16 straight starts from May 9-Aug. 23, tying the longest streak of such starts within a season in franchise history, joining Royals Hall of Famer Bret Saberhagen, who had a 16-start stretch in 1989.

CHANGE OF PACE: Wacha's changeup has held opponents to a .150 average (24-for-160) with 39 K's this season...his changeup has generated a 17 run value, per Baseball Savant, which is tied for the 5th-most valuable pitch in baseball, trailing Joe Ryan's 4-seam fastball (21), Nick Pivetta's 4-seam fastball (20), Tarik Skubal's changeup (19) and Bryan Woo's 4-seam fastball (19)...last year, his changeup had a 14 RV, which also led all Royals pitching.

+ His changeup has induced a 21.2% hard-hit rate, 3rd-best among any pitch in MLB this year (min. 500 pitches), trailing Landen Roupp's curveball (19.0%).

WINNING PEDIGREE: Wacha earned his 100th career win on Sept. 8, 2024 vs. the Twins at Kauffman Stadium with 7.0 shutout innings, and is one of 20 pitchers active in 2025 with 100 career wins, trailing leader Justin Verlander (263)...his .603 career winning percentage (108-71) ranks 6th among that group of 20 behind Clayton Kershaw (.695), Max Scherzer (.658), Gerrit Cole (.657), Verlander (.628) and Chris Sale (.622)...Wacha is 45-23 in 100 starts since 2022 and his .662 winning percentage ranks 6th best in the Majors during that time (min. 50 decisions), trailing leader Tarik Skubal (.705).

+ Wacha is 7-9 in 24 starts this year, but is one of eight pitchers with at least 11 wins in every season from 2022-24, and his 45 wins since 2022 rank T-9th in the Majors.

VS. RANGERS: Wacha has made 5 career starts vs. Texas, going 1-3 with a 3.96 ERA (11 ER in 25.0 IP)...he faced the team earlier this year on June 19 at Globe Life Field, and he earned the win in the Royals sweep-clinching victory, tossing 6.0 innings of 1-run ball with 5 strikeouts...he has allowed 1 run in 4 of his 5 starts vs. Texas, the lone exception being his start on May 4, 2024 at The K, where he allowed 7 runs over 3.2 innings.

HOME SWEET HOME: In 138 lifetime starts in his home ballpark, Wacha is 58-29 with a 3.30 ERA (283 ER in 771.1 IP)...tonight's start will mark his 13th outing of the season at Kauffman Stadium, where since 2024, he owns a 2.79 ERA (46 ER in 148.1 IP) in 26 starts and has held opponents to 2 earned runs or fewer in 21 of those appearances...his 2.79 home ERA since the start of last season is the 6th-best mark in the AL, trailing leaders Framber Valdez and Tarik Skubal (2.23 each).

+ Seth is scheduled to make his 24th start of the season and 121st of his career (358th appearance) tomorrow night vs. the Rangers at Kauffman Stadium.
+ In his start last Wednesday vs. the Nationals, Lugo did not factor in the decision of the Royals 8-7 loss, despite allowing 7 runs (6 ER) on 6 hits and 4 walks over 4.0 innings...six of the first seven batters he faced to begin the game reached base, plating 5 runs, including a grand slam by Nathaniel Lowe, the 3rd career grand slam he has surrendered in his career...yielded a leadoff home run to CJ Abrams to open the 4th, and was pulled after the inning, marking his 3rd consecutive start in which he has failed to complete 5.0 innings...in 6 starts following the All-Star Break, he owns a 7.42 ERA (25 ER in 30.1 IP) with 16 walks.
+ Seth has pitched in just 2 career games (1 GS) vs. the Rangers in his 10-year career, 1 of which came earlier this season on June 17 at Globe Life Field, where he earned the win, allowing 1 run on 3 hits with a season-high 9 strikeouts...in 3 starts vs. the AL West this year, he owns a 0.89 ERA (2 ER in 20.1 IP).
+ In 56 lifetime home starts, Lugo has gone 23-15 with a 3.07 ERA (112 ER in 328.2 IP)...tomorrow's outing will mark his 13th start of the season at Kauffman Stadium, where since 2024, he's posted a 3.35 ERA (65 ER in 174.2 IP) in 29 starts, and he has held opponents to 3 ER or fewer in 21 of those outings.
