The Andre Dawson Classic, formerly the Urban Invitational, is the annual, round-robin collegiate baseball tournament designed by Major League Baseball to highlight Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) and their baseball programs.

Recognized by the Higher Education Act of 1965, Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) have offered quality educational and athletic programs for African-American youth for more than a century. HBCUs have a proud baseball tradition and have produced Hall of Famers such as Lou Brock (Southern University) and Andre Dawson (Florida A&M University).

The Urban Invitational was first launched in 2008 at the MLB Youth Academy in Compton, California and was hosted there until 2012 when the tournament relocated to Houston, Texas. The Houston Astros hosted the event at Minute Maid Park in 2012 and 2013. In 2014 and 2015 the tournament relocated to New Orleans and those two years included participation by Division-I NCAA programs LSU and University of New Orleans. It has remained in New Orleans ever since.

This year's tournament will feature seven HBCUs: Grambling State University (Grambling, Louisiana), University of Arkansas Pine Bluff (Pine Bluff, Arkansas), Alabama State University (Montgomery, Alabama), Prairie View A&M (Prairie View, Texas), Florida A&M University (Tallahassee, Florida), Jackson State University (Jackson, Mississippi) and Southern University (Baton Rouge, Louisiana). They will be joined by the University of New Orleans

Since 2008, the year of the inaugural Invitational, more than 25 HBCU athletes who have played in the tournament have been selected in the MLB Draft.

The New Orleans MLB Youth Academy at Wesley Barrow Stadium in historic Pontchartrain Park opened in 2012, replacing a 55-year-old facility that was devastated by Hurricane Katrina. The facility operates in coordination with the New Orleans Recreation Development Commission to offer a dynamic youth program that provides free, year-round baseball and softball instruction as well as educational and baseball vocation programming for more than 2,500 young people from underserved communities throughout southern Louisiana. The New Orleans MLB Youth Academy features a Turfed stadium, indoor and outdoor batting cages, extra bullpens, a youth field and a turfed softball field. Staff is available daily to provide free, year-round baseball and softball instruction. The Academy also focuses on educational and vocational programs, including after-school homework assistance, Broadcasting, Field Maintenance, Umpiring, Entrepreneurial and Sports Law programs, Graphic Design, Gaming Programs and Scouting Clinics. The Academy annually supports a variety of youth-focused events and clinics for existing members and non-members alike, including most recently with the first-ever baseball & softball combined clinic for young women in recognition of National Girls & Women In Sports Day.
