TIGERS RALLY LATE TO COMPLETE WILD CARD SERIES SWEEP:

The Tigers scored four runs in the top of the eighth inning to rally for a 5-2 win and complete a series sweep over the Astros. Andy Ibáñez had the big hit of the game with a go-ahead, pinch-hit, three-run double in the eighth inning. Parker Meadows added a solo homer, his first career postseason round-tripper. Tyler Holton started Wednesday's game, striking out one in a scoreless inning. Brennan Hanifee, Brant Hurter, Beau Brieske and Sean Guenther each worked 1.2 scoreless innings in relief with Guenther picking up the win. Will Vest struck out one in a perfect ninth inning for his first postseason save.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Detroit is in the postseason for the 17th time in franchise history and for the first time since 2014. The Tigers earned a Wild Card berth for the second time in franchise history (other, 2006) and are the No. 6 seed in the American League. Detroit is 59-62-1 all-time in the postseason, including a 29-34-1 record on the road. In the Division Series, the Tigers have an all-time record of 12-10, including a 6-7 mark on the road.

SWEEPIN' THE 'STROS: The Tigers completed a sweep of the Astros in the Wild Card Series. It marked the fourth postseason series sweep by Detroit in franchise history. The previous three all occurred in the ALCS (2012, 2006, 1984).

GAME 1 NOTES: The Tigers are 9-14-1 all-time in the first game of postseason series, but has won five of its last seven series openers in the playoffs. On the road, Detroit is 8-9-1 in the first game of playoff series.

ABOUT THE DIVISION SERIES ROSTER: The Tigers announced their 26-man roster for the American League Division Series earlier today. The roster includes 12 pitchers and 14 position players. Of the 26 players on the ALDS roster, 14 of them were on Detroit's Opening Day roster. Prior to the Wild Card series, Matt Vierling was the only player on the 26-man roster who had previous postseason experience. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the last playoff team to have one-or-fewer players with previous playoff experience was the Angels in 2002.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT: The Tigers overcame a one-run deficit in the eighth inning on Wednesday. It marked the first time that Detroit has won a postseason game when trailing after the seventh inning since Game 3 of the 1987 American League Championship Series vs. Minnesota. During the regular season, the Tigers won 13 games when trailing after the seventh inning.

COMING THROUGH IN A PINCH: Andy Ibáñez gave Detroit the lead with a go-ahead, pinch-hit, three-run double in the eighth inning on Wednesday. It marked the first go-ahead pinch-hit base hit in Tigers postseason history, while it marked the seventh bases loaded go-ahead double in the eighth inning-or-later in postseason history (last, Marcell Ozuna, Game 1 of 2019 NLDS). Ibáñez finished the regular season with 10 hits as a pinch hitter, which was tied for the American League lead and ranked tied for second in the Majors.

OUT OF THE PARKER: Parker Meadows hit a solo homer in the sixth inning on Wednesday for his first career postseason round-tripper. It was Detroit's first homer in the playoffs since Nick Castellanos in Game 3 of the 2014 ALDS at Baltimore. Additionally, it was the sixth go-ahead homer in the sixth inning-or-later in Tigers postseason history (last, Delmon Young, Game 3 of the 2011 ALDS vs. New York (AL)).

SECOND-HALF SURGE: The Tigers posted a Major League best 31-13 record from August 11 until the end of the season. It was the team's best record over the final 44 games of a season since 2011, when Detroit went 32-12. The Tigers led the Majors with a 2.72 ERA (401.0IP/121ER) from August 11 until the end of the season, while also ranking first with a +62 run differential.

ON THE MOUND: The Tigers pitching staff ranked among the best in the Majors throughout the season. Detroit finished the season with a 3.61 team ERA (1447.0IP/581ER), which ranked third in the American League and fourth in the Majors. It marked Detroit's lowest season ERA since also having a 3.61 ERA in 2013. The Tigers finished second in the big leagues with a 1.16 WHIP, 3.72 FIP, .292 opponent on-base percentage, .372 opponent slugging percentage, .664 opponent OPS and 2.59 walks per 9.0 innings and fourth with a 3.25 strikeout-to-walk ratio and 0.99 home runs per 9.0 innings.

TIGERS AND GUARDIANS: After playing more than 2,300 regular season games, the Tigers and Guardians will meet in the postseason for the first time today. Detroit went 6-7 against Cleveland during the regular season, including a 3-4 record at Progressive Field.

ON THE ROAD: The Tigers went 43-38 on the road during the regular season. Detroit's 43 road victories were their most in a season since winning 45 in 2014. The Tigers finished the season by winning eight of their last 10 games away from Comerica Park.

NOTES ON THE SKIPPER: A.J. Hinch is leading a team to the postseason for the fifth time in his managerial career. Hinch has posted a 30-22 (.577) record in the playoffs. In his four seasons as the Tigers manager, Hinch has a 307-341 (.474) record, while his all-time managerial record stands at 877-793 (.525). His 877 victories ranks fourth among active managers.
