The Andre Dawson Classic is the annual, round-robin collegiate baseball tournament designed by Major League Baseball to highlight Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) and their baseball programs. Recognized by the Higher Education Act of 1965, Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) have offered quality educational and athletic programs for African American youth for more than a century. HBCUs have a proud baseball tradition and have produced Hall of Famers such as Lou Brock (Southern University) and Andre Dawson (Florida A&M University).

This event (originally known as the Urban Invitational) was first launched in 2008 at the MLB Youth Academy in Compton, California, and was hosted there until 2012 when the tournament relocated to Houston, Texas. The Houston Astros hosted the event at Minute Maid Park in 2012 and 2013. In 2014 and 2015 the tournament relocated to New Orleans and those two years included participation by Division-I NCAA programs LSU and University of New Orleans. This year's tournament will take place at the historic Jackie Robinson Training Complex in Vero Beach, Florida.

The 2024 tournament will feature six HBCUs: Alabama State University (Montgomery, Alabama), Grambling State University (Grambling, Louisiana), Prairie View A&M (Prairie View, Texas), Florida A&M University (Tallahassee, Florida), North Carolina A&T (Greensboro, North Carolina), and Southern University (Baton Rouge, Louisiana). They will be joined by the University of New Orleans.

JACKIE ROBINSON TRAINING COMPLEX 42

On April 2, 2019, Major League Baseball (MLB) announced that Historic Dodgertown was to be renamed the Jackie Robinson Training Complex (JRTC) to serve as the year-round hub of MLB's youth development initiatives and events designed to diversify and strengthen the diversity pipeline of baseball and softball. MLB, which assumed operational control in January 2019, designated the complex as the permanent home of several of its youth-focused events and programs such as the Nike RBI Baseball and Softball World Series, Hank Aaron Invitational, Breakthrough Series, Elite Development Invitational, and Trailblazer Series. These programs strive to teach players how to succeed on the field, in the classroom, and in their communities. The JRTC is home to additional programs like the MLB Umpire Prospect Camp and is the official training facility of the USA Softball National Teams.

Encompassing nearly 80 acres, the JRTC proudly provides guests with an all-inclusive experience where teams, coaches, and players can Train, Play, and Stay all in one, secure, distraction-free location. In addition to 6,500 seat Holman Stadium, the facility provides athletes with four additional baseball fields (two newly renovated with artificial turf), four fastpitch softball/youth-size baseball fields, twelve indoor lighted batting cages, a new state-of-the-art indoor training facility (Building 42), and ample locker and meeting rooms. In addition, the JRTC can host multiple sports including soccer, lacrosse, football, rugby, swimming, and rowing.

The Jackie Robinson Training Complex has a rich history in baseball and the civil rights movement. Dodgertown was the spring training home of the Brooklyn/ LA Dodgers from 1948 until 2008. Then Dodgers' President Branch Rickey sought to create a "baseball campus" where players could live and play together. Dodgertown was the South's first racially integrated spring training camp. Hall of Famers Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella were among the first African American players to train at Dodgertown. Often hailed as a "Haven of Tolerance" for its efforts in promoting racial justice and integration, in 2014 Historic Dodgertown was designated a Florida Heritage Landmark and in 2019 was added to the U.S. Civil Rights Trail, becoming the first and only sports venue to be recognized.
