2017 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

N.L. CENTRAL CHAMPS: The Chicago Cubs on September 27 in St. Louis clinched their second-straight National League Central Division title and punched a ticket to the postseason for the third-straight campaign.

- © The Cubs are the first defending World Series champions to win their division the next season, and reach 90 wins while doing so, since the 2009 Philadelphia Phillies went 93-69 and won the N.L. East by six games.
- © In fact, besides this year's Cubs and the 2009 Phillies, the only other defending World Champion to win their division the following season in the last 15 years was the 2002 Arizona Diamondbacks, who won the N.L. West by 2.5 games.
- © Furthermore, the Cubs are the first defending World Champions to even make the playoffs the next season since the 2012 Cardinals secured a Wild Card spot ... the Cubs have snapped a four-year drought in which the defending World Series champion failed to qualify for postseason the following year.
- © Additionally, the Cleveland Indians have secured the A.L. Central crown ... 2017 marks the first time since 2002 that both defending pennant winners won their respective divisions the following season.
- © The Cubs have now qualified for post-season play three years in a row for the first time since 1906-08.

ABOUT THE RECORD: The Cubs finished the 2017 regular season with a 90-72 (.568) record, finishing 6.0 games ahead of the Milwaukee Brewers in the N.L. Central Division.

- © The team's .662 winning percentage in the second half was second-best in all of baseball behind the Indians (55-20, .733) ... Chicago's 423 runs scored following the All-Star Break led the majors while its +127 run differential ranked second behind Cleveland (+180).

- © The Cubs won 26 of their last 38 road games dating to July 2 after starting the campaign 18-25 in their first 43 road contests.

RUNS APLENTY: With 822 runs scored, the Cubs surpassed 800 runs for the second season in a row (808 runs in 2016) and just the 10th time in their last 118 seasons starting in 1900 ... the Cubs reached 800 runs in consecutive campaigns for the first time in more than 85 years, as the Cubs last did so in three-straight seasons from 1929-1931, also the only other occasion in which the Cubs scored at least 800 runs in two-straight seasons starting in 1900.

JUST WIN, BABY: The Cubs have 292 regular season victories since the start of the 2015 season, marking the winningest three-season span for the franchise in over 100 years ... the franchise last won more games in a three-season span from 1909-1911 (300 victories).

- © The Cubs have their third-straight winning campaign dating to 2015 ... this is just the third stretch of at least three-straight winning campaigns for Chicago in the last 78 seasons starting in 1940 ... that includes a six-year run from 1967-72 and 2007-09.

HE'LL MANAGE: Joe Maddon on May 17 against Cincinnati recorded his 1,000th managerial victory covering his stints with the Angels (interim in 1996, 1999), the Rays (2006-14) and the Cubs (2015-present).

- © Maddon is the eighth active manager to reach 1,000 victories.

A WALK IN THE PARK: Chicago's 622 walks drawn were second-most in the majors (Dodgers, 649), as the Cubs reached the 600-walk mark for just the eighth time in franchise history ... the 2016 club set a franchise mark with 656 free passes.

HOMER HAPPY: The Cubs hit 223 home runs this season, the second-highest single-season total in franchise history, surpassed only by the 2004 club and its 235 homers.

- © Chicago's 223 home runs ranked third in the N.L. ... the team's 106 blasts in the second half ranked second behind Arizona (107).
- © The Cubs set a franchise mark with six players with at least 20 homers: Kris Bryant, Willson Contreras, Ian Happ, Anthony Rizzo, Kyle Schwarber and Javier Báez ... the club previously had five players with at least 20 homers in 1958, 2004 and 2008.
- © Additionally, the Cubs set a major league record with five 20-homer seasons by players in their age 25 or younger season (Báez, Bryant, Contreras, Happ, Schwarber) ... this surpassed the 2007 Brewers and 1979 Expos (four apiece).

KB AT THE DISH: Per Fangraphs, Kris Bryant finished third in the National League with a 6.7 WAR, trailing only Washington's Anthony Rendon (6.9) and Miami's Giancarlo Stanton (6.9).

- © Bryant's 111 runs scored ranked fifth in the N.L. ... he's just the 12th Cub since 1913 to record multiple 100-run seasons, and the first since Sammy Sosa did so five times from 1998-2002.
- © Bryant led the team with 95 walks, third-most in the N.L. (teammate Anthony Rizzo was fifth with 91), while Bryant's .409 on-base percentage was fourth.
- © Bryant is the first Cub ever to reach 25 home runs in each of his first three major league campaigns.
- © With 151 games played this season, Bryant became the first Cub ever to play at least 150 contests in each of his first three major league campaigns.

NOBODY BEATS THE RIZZ: Anthony Rizzo reached 109 RBI, fifth-most in the N.L. and the most by any left-handed hitter in the majors ... the 109 RBI tied his career high done in 2016 ... with 101 RBI in 2015 and 109 RBI in 2016, Rizzo is just one of nine Cubs all-time with three or more 100-RBI campaigns.

- © Rizzo reached 30 doubles, 30 homers and 100 RBI for the third-straight campaign, this year doing so before Labor Day ... he's only the fourth Cub ever to reach those thresholds in at least three seasons, joining Hack Wilson (4 times, 1927-30), Billy Williams (3 times, 1965, 1970, 1972) and Sammy Sosa (3 times, 1997, 2000-01) ... Rizzo and Wilson are the lone Cubs to do so in at least three-straight seasons.
- © Rizzo finished the season with a career-high 138-game errorless streak at first base dating to April 25, surpassing Hall of Famer Ernie Banks and his 126-game errorless run at first base spanning 1969-70 seasons as the longest by a Cubs first baseman since at least the live ball era started in 1920 ... thanks to Ed Hartig for his research assistance.

32 IN A ROW: Cubs closer Wade Davis began the campaign by converting a franchise-record 32-straight save opportunities through September 19 with his streak coming to an end, September 23 in Milwaukee.

- © Davis surpassed previous record holder Ryan Dempster, who converted 26-straight opportunities from August 2, 2005-May 1, 2006.
- © Davis had locked down 38-straight save chances dating to 2016 with the Royals.
- © All told, Davis in 2017 went 4-2 with a 2.30 ERA (15 ER/58.2 IP) in 59 games ... he was 32-for-33 in save opportunities.
- © Davis was named to the National League All-Star Team via the player vote ... he was the first Cubs relief pitcher to head to the Mid-Summer Classic since Carlos Marmol and Kerry Wood did so in 2008 ... additionally, Davis was the first relief pitcher to garner an All-Star nod in his first season as a Cub since Mitch Williams in 1989.

DYNAMIC DUO: Wade Davis (10.1 IP) and Carl Edwards Jr. (10.0 IP) became the first Cubs relief duo to both allow no earned runs in the season's first month while pitching at least 10.0 innings.

- © In fact, prior to this year just five Cubs relievers since 1969 did not allow an earned run in the season's first month while throwing at least 10.0 innings: Ted Abernathy in 1969, Dick Tidrow in 1980, Mitch Williams in 1990, Terry Adams in 1997 and James Russell in 2013.

BIG COMEBACKS: The Cubs won three-straight games, April 18-21, erasing a three-run or greater deficit in each of those victories ... April 18, the team erased an early 5-0 deficit to beat Milwaukee, 9-7 ... April 19, the team was down 4-1 in the sixth, but won, 7-4 ... April 21 in Cincinnati, the Cubs were down 5-2 through six before rallying to win in 11 innings, 6-5.

- © According to Elias, the Cubs won three straight games after trailing by three of more runs in each for the first time since July 24-26, 1929 against the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies.

WE'LL TAKE IT: Won 1-0, April 25 in Pittsburgh, with the lone run coming on a Pittsburgh fielding error in the second inning.

- © According to Elias, the game marked just the third time in the last 78 years the Cubs won a game while producing only one run and two or fewer hits, having also done that on June 30, 1964 vs. the Reds (1-0 win with two hits) and on September 1, 1999 at the Padres (1-0 win with two hits).
- © It was Chicago's first road victory without garnering a run batted in since September 12, 2000 at Cincinnati, a 2-1 victory in which the Cubs runs scored on an error and a balk.

LONG NIGHT AT THE YARD: The Cubs on May 7 hosted the New York Yankees on ESPN Sunday Night Baseball, a contest that the Yankees won, 5-4 in 18 innings ... it was Chicago's longest game innings-wise since an 18-inning game, August 15, 2006, at Houston (an 8-6 Cubs win) ... it was Chicago's longest home game since an 8-7 setback in 18 innings vs. Houston, Sept, 2, 1986 (game was suspended and completed the next day).

- © The Cubs and Yankees set a major league record as they combined for 48 strikeouts, surpassing the previous mark of 43 strikeouts set on July 9, 1971 in a game between the California Angels and Oakland Athletics ... the previous Wrigley Field mark was 37 strikeouts, set on May 31, 2003 vs. Houston ... thanks to Elias and ESPN Stats & Info.
- © The May 7 game was the longest interleague game, by innings, in major league history.

TAMING COORS: John Lackey on May 9 in Colorado (gm. 2) became just the second-ever visiting starter to post 7.0-scoreless innings and 10+ strikeouts at Coors Field ... the Cubs defeated the Rockies, 8-1.

NICE BIG LEAGUE DEBUT: Ian Happ on May 13 in St. Louis saw his first major league hit go for a two-run homer off Carlos Martinez, the first Cubs player to homer in his first major league game since Jorge Soler on August 27, 2014.

- © Happ is the first Cubs player to see his first hit go for a home run since Willson Contreras hit the first delivery he saw in the big leagues for a homer on June 19, 2016.

HR, HR, BB, 1B, 2B, 1B, HR: Anthony Rizzo reached safely to start the game in each of his first seven career games at the top of the order, June 13-20 ... he became the only player in the last 60 seasons to reach in his first plate appearance in each of his first seven career games batting leadoff (thanks to Elias) ... the only other Cubs player since 1946 to reach safely leading off seven-straight team games is Richie Ashburn – he turned the trick, June 28-July 3, 1960.

- © June 13-14, Rizzo became the first Cub since at least 1920 to hit a home run to lead off a game in each of his first two career games batting leadoff.

RUNS APLENTY: The Cubs plated 15 or more runs four times in August, the first time in over 87 years in which the Cubs had four games with 15 or more runs scored in a calendar month since previously doing so in June of 1930.

- © The Cubs led the majors with 191 runs scored in August, the most by a Cubs team in August since the 1930 squad plated 216 runs.

RUNS APLENTY II: The Cubs swept a three-game set with the Mets, Sept. 12-14, by scores of 8-3, 17-5 and 14-6 ... the team plated at least 14 runs in consecutive games for the first time since July 20-21, 2003 at the Marlins (16) and Braves (15) ... marked the first time scoring at least 14 runs in consecutive home games since a twinbill, May 21, 1944 vs. the Boston Braves.

EXTRA, EXTRA, EXTRA!: The Chicago Cubs played three-straight extra-inning games at Milwaukee, Sept. 21-23 ... Chicago won on Sept. 21 in 10 innings on a Kris Bryant two-run homer, then took the next day's contest thanks in part to a Tommy La Stella bases-loaded walk in the 10th ... the Brewers won Sept. 23's contest in the 10th on a Travis Shaw two-run homer for a 4-3 victory.

- © The previous time the Cubs played three-straight extra-inning games in the same series was September 17-19, 1999 vs. Milwaukee at Wrigley Field ... the previous time Chicago played three-straight extra-inning games on the road against the same team since doing so Sept. 13-15, 1932 against the Giants at the Polo Grounds ... thanks to Ed Hartig for his research assistance.

APRIL HIGHLIGHTS

Chicago finished April with a 13-11 record, the National League's fourth-best mark in the season's inaugural month ... Kyle Schwarber's go-ahead, three-run homer April 6 highlighted a season-opening series win at St. Louis ... was his first home run since September 12, 2015.

On April 10, the Cubs opened their home schedule by raising the club's first World Series Championship banner since 1908 ... capped off the historic night with dramatic flair as Anthony Rizzo lined a walk-off base hit into left field to give Chicago a 3-2 win over the Dodgers ... two nights later, Cubs players, coaches and executives received their 2016 World Series Championship rings in an on-field ceremony ... the defending World Series champs bookended their first homestand with walk-off wins as Addison Russell's three-run jack completed a four-run rally to topple the Brewers, 7-4, April 19.

The Cubs reached base at a collective .339 clip in April, the second-best mark in the National League ... the team's offense ranked in the top-five in the league in several categories, including runs (fourth), hits (tied for third), average (fifth) and walks (third).

The club's pitching staff similarly ranked among league leaders in ERA (second), strikeouts (fifth), opponent batting average (second), hits per nine innings (second) and WHIP (fourth) ... the Cubs' 2.87 bullpen ERA (25 ER/78.1 IP) was the lowest in the National League in April.

Wade Davis (10.1 IP) and Carl Edwards Jr. (10.0 IP) each posted 11 scoreless outings in the month, becoming the first-ever duo of Cubs bullpen-mates to bring a 0.00 ERA into May with at least 10.0 IP apiece ... the pair allowed just six hits and six walks total in 20.1 IP while fanning a combined 25 batters ... Hector Rondon nearly joined the club, with 11 strikeouts in 9.1 IP and just one earned run allowed (0.96 ERA).

MAY HIGHLIGHTS

Chicago went 12-16 in May ... the squad earned its third walk-off win of the season on May 4 vs. the Phillies ... the Cubs suffered a dramatic 5-4 setback as Chicago pitchers fanned a club-record 22 batters vs. the Yankees in a marathon, 18-inning contest on Sunday Night Baseball, May 7 ... the team won seven of its final nine home games in the month, a stretch that featured the Cubs' first series sweep of the season (three games vs. Cincinnati) ... the Cubs' 9-5 win vs. Cincinnati on May 16 was Joe Maddon's 1,000th regular season victory as a major league manager.

In the Cubs' 8-1 win in game two of a doubleheader on May 9, John Lackey became the second-ever visiting starting pitcher to throw 7.0-or-more shutout innings with 10+ strikeouts in a game at Coors Field (also, Pedro Martinez, July 29, 1997) ... on May 23, Jon Lester (9.0 IP, 4 H, ER, 10 SO) tossed the Cubs' first complete game of the season in the Northsiders' 4-1 win over San Francisco at Wrigley Field.

Javier Baez and Kris Bryant shared the team lead with seven homers apiece in May ... Bryant's 19 walks were tied for the second-most in the N.L.

Carl Edwards Jr. allowed just four hits in 10.0 IP, good for a rate of 3.60 hits per nine innings that ranked fourth among N.L. relievers.

Ian Happ homered off Carlos Martinez in his first-career game, May 13 at St. Louis, making him the first Cub since Jorge Soler (August 27, 2014) to hit a round-tripper in his first-ever game and first since WIlson Contreras (June 19, 2016) to see his first-career hit leave the yard ... Happ reached base in his first eight-career games, the first Cubs player to accomplish the feat since Kosuke Fukudome reached in nine-straight to open his career in 2008.

In addition to Happ, Pierce Johnson (May 19) also made his major league debut ... Eddie Butler pitched his first game with Chicago on May 12.

JUNE HIGHLIGHTS

The Cubs posted the fifth-best record in the N.L. in June, as they went 15-13 ... began the season's third month with a five-game winning streak, including a three-game home sweep of division rival St. Louis in which they rallied from in each contest ... Kyle Schwarber belted a go-ahead grand slam in game two of the three-game set.

Anthony Rizzo reached base 51 times in June, third-most in the N.L. ... his .429 on-base percentage ranked seventh in the league while his 59 total bases were tied for 10th ... was inserted into the leadoff spot in the lineup for the first time in his career and responded favorably, going deep in his first two game-opening plate appearances, June 13-14 at the Mets ... added a third leadoff homer, June 20 vs. San Diego ... Willson Contreras also clubbed a leadoff blast in his first-career game atop the batting order, June 26 at Washington.

Rookie Ian Happ led the team, and tied for fifth in the N.L., with eight homers in June ... he was the first Cubs rookie to hit eight home runs in June since Mandy Brooks (nine homers, June 1925).

Justin Grimm (0.73 ERA, 1 ER/12.1 IP) and Koji Uehara (1.04 ERA, 1 ER/8.2 IP) highlighted the Cubs bullpen, which combined for a 3.55 ERA (35 ER/88.2 IP), good for the third-lowest June ERA in the National League ... Grimm's .051 opponent average was the second-lowest among all major league relievers, trailing only Fernando Rodney, who did not allow a hit in June ... as a whole, the Cubs' staff posted a 3.98 ERA in June, also third-best in the N.L.

Wade Davis went six-for-six in save opportunities, making him just one of five National League closers with at least five save chances to remain perfect through the season's first three months.

Seth Frankoff (June 9), Mark Zagunis (June 22) and Victor Caratini (June 28) made their major league debuts.

JULY HIGHLIGHTS

The Cubs enjoyed their best July since 2009 in part to a 13-3 start to the season's "second half," which included a 6-0 trip coming out of the break, helping to a 16-8 month ... only the Dodgers (20-3) put up a better record during July.

Willson Contreras paced all catchers with 11 extra base hits, including seven homers ... drove in 19 runs while batting .321 (27-for-84) ... Kris Bryant led the team with a .326 average (28-for-86) ... the Cubs third baseman scored a team-high 17 runs in the month ... Anthony Rizzo contributed six homers and 17 RBI.

Chicago's pitching staff limited opponents to a major league-low .217 batting average ... the Cubs' pitchers combined to post a 3.54 ERA (85 ER/216.0 IP), the N.L.'s fourth-best ERA ... Jake Arrieta went 3-1 with a 2.25 ERA (8 ER/32.0 IP) ... surrendered just 18 hits in 32.0 IP, leading to a major league-best .167 average against ... allowed just one hit in 7.0 IP at Cincinnati on July 2, and took a no-hitter into the fifth inning in his last start of the month, July 26 at the White Sox.

The Northsiders were active in the trade market, acquiring former White Sox southpaw José Quintana during the All-Star Break on July 13 ... Quintana dazzled in his Cubs debut, firing 7.0-scoreless innings and fanning a club-debut record 12 batters, July 14 at Baltimore ... on the morning of the deadline, July 31, the Cubs traded two prospects, including INF Jeimer Candelario, to Detroit for C Alex Avila and LHP Justin Wilson.
