HBD CHILLY GOO BEAR: OF Drew Gilbert turns 26 today.

TODAY'S STARTER: RHP Carson Seymour gets the ball this afternoon in what will essentially be a bullpen game for SF.

- Seymour originally came through the minors as a starter before transitioning to some bullpen work last season at the MLB level...he made nine starts for Triple-A Sacramento this year and was 2-2 with a 3.69 ERA (16er, 39.0ip) in those games...today marks his fourth career MLB start and first since September 10 of last season.
- Last night, MiLB announced its Triple-A All-Stars and Seymour was tabbed as the Pacific Coast League Pitcher of the Year as well as a PCL All-Star along with teammate LHP Carson Whisenhunt, who was last year's PCL Pitcher of the Year...both hurlers were also PCL All-Stars in 2025 as well.

BEAT LA?: SF started off with a 4-1 record against LA this year, but has dropped each of the last seven games to the Dodgers...the last time the Giants lost seven (or more) straight games to the Dodgers within a single season was 2022 when they dropped eight straight (which matched an SF-era record for the fourth time...also 1979, 1974 and 1971).

- Since the start of 2022, the Giants are 22-48 (.314) against the Dodgers in 70 games....the .314 winning % is tied for the fifth-worst of any club vs. a single opponent in that time (min. 40g played against one another)...in fact the Giants have two of the seven-worst winning percentages in that span but also are on the other end of it by having a .704 win % against Colorado.

TOP OF THE MOUNTAIN: With RHP Camilo Doval making his appearance with SF yesterday, the Giants have now used 71 different players this season, tied for most in a single by any team in MLB history with last year's Braves.

MLB, Worst Win % Against a Single Opponent since 2022 (min. 40g)

Team	Opponent	Winning %
Colorado Rockies	Los Angeles Dodgers	.268 (19-52)
Colorado Rockies	San Francisco Giants	.296 (21-50)
Cincinnati Reds	Milwaukee Brewers	.310 (22-49)
Washington Nationals	Philadelphia Phillies	.310 (22-49)
Miami Marlins	Atlanta Braves	.314 (22-48)
San Francisco Giants	.Los Angeles Dodgers	.314 (22-48)

WELCOME TO THE SHOW: The Giants have used 28 different rookie players this season, easily most in MLB (second place is the Nationals with 20)...it is the most in a season for the Giants all-time and tied for the second most for any team in NL history behind the 1890 Pittsburgh Alleghenys (34) (Stats, LLC).

PEAKS AND VALLEYS: SF's bullpen carries a 3.78 ERA this month (14th)...that continues a positive movement after posting a 3.99 ERA in August that was 17th of 30 teams.

- The club began the year with the second-best bullpen ERA in the Majors in March/April at 3.19 but then had ERAs of 4.11 in May (19th), 5.65 in June (25th) and 4.39 in July (20th).

ORDER UP: The Giants currently have a .404 winning percentage at 65-96 and can finish the year in that spot with a win today...if the Giants lose and the A's win, they'd have identical records (A's are 64-97 currently).

- Regardless, the Giants cannot pick higher than 10th in next year's draft despite their standing when the season ends...this is because the Giants picked fourth in this year's draft and per MLB lottery rules cannot have a lottery pick in consecutive seasons.

END OF SEASON AVAILABILITY: The Giants will hold their end of season press conference with PBO Buster Posey, GM Zack Minasian and MGR Tony Vitello on Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the interview room at Oracle Park.

SEE YA...BUT NOT IF I SEE YOU FIRST: The Giants are slated to be right back here at Oracle Park to open up the 2027 campaign with the Colorado Rockies on March 25, 2027...it will mark the second consecutive season that the Giants have opened here at home.

MIKE KRUKOW

HELLUVA RUN, MEAT: Mike Krukow is officially calling it a career after today's game, concluding a broadcasting run that began in the early 1990s...all told, Krukow and his partner Duane Kuiper, have been the narrators and stewards of Giants baseball as a duo to generations of fans in the Bay Area and beyond.

- All told, Krukow has given 54 years to the game of professional baseball between his on-field playing career that began when he was drafted by the Cubs in 1973 out of Cal Poly and his time behind the microphone that followed his playing days.

AS A BROADCASTER: Krukow first stepped behind the microphone in 1990, filling in on KNBR for 15 games or so while Joe Morgan left to do ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball...he gradually ramped up games until he started doing games in a full-time capacity for the 1994 season when Kuiper returned from his one year calling games for the Colorado Rockies.

- During his broadcasting career, Krukow has won 13 local Emmy Awards: On-Camera talent (seven); Sports Live Broadcast (two); Sporting Event/Game-Live (two); Arts/Entertainment-Program/Special (one); and Executive Producer Baseball Ballet (one).
- He's a three-time finalist for the Ford C. Frick Award for baseball broadcasting excellence (2025, 2024 and 2017)...he was on the same ballot with Kuiper as one of 10 finalists in 2024 and 2025.
- He is a member of the Bay Area Radio Hall of Fame (inducted in 2025) and the National Polish-American Sports Hall of Fame (inducted in 2021).
- Krukow is a three-time California Sportscaster of the Year (2023, 2017 and 2015) as selected by the National Sports Media Association (NSMA).
- His scorecard from Tim Lincecum's no hitter in 2014 is displayed at the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown.
- He and Kuiper also were a part of the video game world, lending their voices to EA Sports' MVP Baseball franchise from 2003-2005 before EA lost the licensing rights to use actual player names to 2K Sports...Krukow, prior to working on the MVP Baseball series, lent his voice to the World Series Baseball game series with former Giants announcer Ted Robinson.

AS A PLAYER: The Southern California native was selected in the 32nd round of the 1970 June draft by the Angels but elected to attend Cal Poly, otherwise known as The Harvard of the West...three years later the Chicago Cubs selected him in the eighth round of the June draft.

- He made his Major League debut for Chicago on September 6, 1976 vs. the Mets at Wrigley Field.
- Krukow went on to have a 14-year career for the Cubs (1976-1981), Phillies (1982) and Giants (1983-1989), going 124-117 with a 3.90 ERA in 369 career games (355 starts).
- In 1986, Krukow was an All-Star and was a 20-game winner for the Giants, going 20-9 with a 3.05 ERA in a career-high tying 34 starts.
- A fan favorite, Kruk was named as the starting right-handed pitcher to the 1980's Giants All-Decade Team in a vote by Bay Area media in 1999.
- In 2008, Kruk was honored as a member of the inaugural class of Giants alumni with a plaque in the Giants Wall of Fame which lines the wall outside of Oracle Park.

KRUKISMS, A BREAKDOWN: Many phrases have been spun over the years with Krukow behind the mic...he sat down with NBC Sports Bay Area's Alex Pavlovic last month to break down the origins of some of his famous phrases.

- Grab Some Pine, Meat - a combination of two different phrases from his playing days...grab some pine stems from his time with the Cubs when 3rd Base Coach Jack Bloomfield would yell it after an opponent struck out...Krukow added "meat" to the phrase as a nod to his first time in the clubhouse when veteran Cubs catcher George Mitterwald walked over and said "Hey meat, welcome to the big leagues".
- In the Squaaaat - is a nightly shout-out to a late friend from Chicago who would always ask, "who's on the hill and who's in the squaaaat?" He passed away from ALS, but every night, he is there with Krukow at the start of the broadcast. He thinks of his old friend every time he says the line.
- Stank Eye - started as the "stink eye" but then took on another level when Kuiper morphed it to "stank eye"...they started using it with OF Marivn Benard, who played with a chip on his shoulder and was a guy you didn't want to fight because there was no quit in him.
- I Wana Get That, I Wana Get That! - is borrowed from his son, Wes...when Wes was three and saw a commercial on TV for something he wanted as a potential Christmas gift he'd use the phrase...Krukow has weaved that into broadcasts when talking about promotional items ever since.
- Gamer Babe - this has its origins at Candlestick Park when Krukow referred to the fans who sat through games there on cold, windy nights as gamers...when a group of female Giants fans were shown dancing during a blowout game one night, the phrase was born.
- Atta Babe - Krukow actually stole this one from Kuiper and won't hide the fact that he did... he loves how versatile and upbeat it is, and it's another one that reminds him of his days in the dugout...Krukow doesn't know where it actually started, but he likes to think it goes back to Kuiper's days on the family farm in Wisconsin.
- Ha-Ha-Ha-HA Laugher - usually used sarcastically when the Giants win a close game...the phrase originated from pair of Krukow's teammates on the 1985 Cubs in Dave LaPoint and David Green...the trio would play Fan Tan (a card game) and when Green would win the card games he's use the phrase... Krukow felt it appropriate to apply to games during the 2010 torture season.
- Yuckadoo Swing - Started in his backyard when his kids were young and they used a "Fred Flinstone" bad (one of those giant red bats with a fat barrel) and his son, Baker...when Baker was three years old Kruk told him one time in the backyard to "break out the yuckadoo" swing and he hit it across the street...as he was circling the bases Bake kept screaming Yuckadoo daddy!
- Rhino Yawn - Krukow broke this out in the pre-pitch clock era when games were routinely going 3.5-4 hours and as Krukow describes it "everyone was taking forever to get in the box, pitchers were taking forever to throw the ball"...the camera folks found a couple in the stands and one guy let out a big yawn...Krukow was a big Tarzan fan as a kid and Johnny Weissmuller, who played Tarzan, had the greatest battle cry when he was in the jungle and it was all Krukow could think of when he saw the fan yawn.
