Regular Season | Game 122 | Home Game 63

SNAP OUT OF IT: The Dodgers lost their fourth straight game on Wednesday, falling to the Angels for the seventh consecutive time dating to 2024. Los Angeles is trying to avoid its second 5+-game losing streak of the year, after dropping seven in a row from July 4-11. L.A. is 10-14 since the All-Star break and the club has lost 10 of its last 15 games at Dodger Stadium. Tonight, the Boys in Blue will take on the division-leading San Diego Padres, in the first contest of a three-game series and homestand. Following the weekend series, the Dodgers will embark on a seven-game road trip with stops in Colorado (Aug. 18-21) and San Diego (Aug. 22-24).

- At 68-53 (.562), the Dodgers are 1.0 game behind the San Diego Padres for first place in the National League West. The Dodgers last found themselves in second place heading into a game back on April 28 vs. Miami.

THE WILD WEST: The Dodgers are 5-2 vs. the Padres this season and tonight begin a stretch of 13 straight games without an off day and 10 consecutive games vs. the NL West. Los Angeles is 19-7 (.731) vs. the NL West this year after going 31-21 (.596) vs. the division in 2024. The Padres have won five consecutive games overall and find themselves in first place this late in the season for the first time since 2010.

DEMON ANGELS: The Dodgers lost a record seventh consecutive game vs. the Angels on Wednesday, failing to hold leads of 3-0 and 5-2 and eventually dropping another one-run contest, 6-5. The club was also swept (0-6) in a season series of more than four games for the first time in the history of the Freeway Series, which started in 1997. In his first-career start vs. the Angels, Shohei Ohtani gave up four runs on five hits while striking out seven in a season high 4.1 innings. He ended up with a no-decision after reliever Justin Wrobleski (4-4) gave up two runs in the bottom of the eighth frame. On offense, Will Smith hit his 15th homer of the season and drove in three runs, while Mookie Betts had two hits and two RBI. The Dodgers have lost four straight one-run contests.

- Betts is now hitting .400 (14-for-35) with a homer, two doubles, two walks, nine runs scored and seven RBI during his season high eight-game hitting streak. He's raised his average from .231 to .244 during that stretch.

- Ohtani tripled in the first inning to extend his hitting streak to a season-high 12 games, two shy of the Dodgers' longest this year (Freddie Freeman, 14).

- Ohtani leads the NL in homers (43), slugging percentage (.630), OPS (1.021), extra-base hits (67) and total bases (293). He leads the Majors with 115 runs scored and is on pace to shatter his L.A. Dodger record of 134 runs scored, set last year.

WHERE THERE'S A WILL: Dodger catcher Will Smith leads the National League with both a .312 average and a .416 on-base percentage. Smith ranks fourth in the league with a .940 OPS and is now five homers shy of reaching the 20-homer mark for the fourth time in his career.

- Smith is hitting .450 (9-for-20) with three homers, seven RBI and six runs scored in six games vs. the Padres this season. In 79 career games against San Diego, he's hitting .286 with 15 homers and 49 RBI.

THE STOPPER: Three-time Cy Young award winner Clayton Kershaw takes the mound tonight vs. the Padres for his 15th start of the season after earning his sixth win of the year and the 218th of his career last Friday night vs. the Toronto Blue Jays and Max Scherzer. Kershaw last faced the Padres on July 21, 2024 and tonight will be his 48th career start vs. San Diego. He's 23-11 with a 2.19 ERA, a 1.00 WHIP and a .196 opponents' average in his career against the Friars.

- On July 2 vs. the White Sox at Dodger Stadium, Kershaw became the 20th pitcher in Major League history to reach 3,000 strikeouts and just the fourth left-hander. He was named an All-Star for a franchise record 11th time this year and is one of five pitchers ever to make 11+ All-Star appearances, joining Warren Spahn (17), Mariano Rivera (13), Tom Seaver (12) and Roger Clemens (11).

FANTASTIC FREDDIE: Freddie Freeman went 0-for-5 on Wednesday night, dropping his average on the season to .300, which ranks third in the National League. In his last 20 games since July 22, Freeman is hitting .338 (26-for-77) with six extra-base hits (four home runs), 10 walks, 11 runs scored and 17 RBI while positing a .924 OPS in that time.

- Freeman's 29 doubles are tied for fifth in the NL and he's two doubles behind Hall of Famer Al Simmons for 40th place on the all-time doubles list.

STACKING WINS: On this date in 2006, the Dodgers defeated the Marlins for their 17th victory in 18 days, marking the second time they had accomplished that feat in franchise history and the first time since May/June 1899 when the Brooklyn Superbas notched 17 wins in 18 games. During the 17-1 stint, the Dodgers outscored their opponents 99-42 and went on to claim the NL Wild Card.
