- With the series shifting back to Toronto for Game 6 and a potential Game 7, this year marks the first season in MLB history that the season both began and ended outside of the United States (began in Japan)... The organization is 5-2 all-time in postseason Game 6's, winning both of their previous World Series Game 6's (4-3W in 1992 at ATL & 8-6W in 1993 vs. PHI), and winning Game 6 of this year's ALCS vs. SEA (6-2W).

ICE TREY:

- Trey Yesavage tossed 7.0 frames of one-run ball on Wednesday night, scattering three hits with no walks and 12 strikeouts on a career-high 104 pitches (71 strikes)...Became the first rookie ever to strike out 12 hitters in a World Series game, and the first pitcher in MLB history to punch out at least 12 batters with no walks in a World Series game...His 39 strikeouts through five postseason starts are the most ever by a rookie in a single postseason in MLB history (2nd: Michael Wacha - 33K in 2013)...He is the first rookie ever with multiple 10+ strikeout games in a single postseason, and the only pitcher ever to record his first two double-digit strikeout games in the postseason.
- The 22-year-old righty struck out all nine batters in the Dodgers starting lineup, the third pitcher ever to accomplish the feat in a World Series game, joining Randy Johnson (Game 2 in 2001) and Bob Gibson (Game 1 in 1968)...Punched out five consecutive batters from the 1st-3rd innings, the only rookie in World Series history to do so...Became the second pitcher ever to strike out at least 10 batters through the first five innings of a World Series game, joining Sandy Koufax (Game 1 in 1963).

DAVIS DINGER:

- Davis Schneider kicked off Game 5 at Dodger Stadium by homering on the first pitch of the ballgame, his first career postseason home run...Was the 27th leadoff homer in World Series history, and the first since Kyle Schwarber in Game 6 of the 2022 Fall Classic... Became the first player to homer on the first pitch of a World Series game since Derek Jeter in Game 4 of the 2000 World Series.

LA LA LAUNCH:

- Vladimir Guerrero Jr. followed up Schneider's blast in the 1st inning with one of his own, putting Toronto in front, 2-0, just three pitches into Game 5...Marked the first time ever that a club has started a World Series game with back-to-back home runs...Was the second set of back-to-back jacks to open a game in postseason history, joining Oakland's Ray Dunham and Scott Hatteberg in Game 3 of the 2002 ALDS.
- Guerrero Jr.'s eight home runs are tied for the second most in a single postseason in MLB history, two shy of Randy Arozarena's 10 for the Rays in 2020... His 54 total bases are also second-most in a single postseason, behind only Arozarena's 64 from 2020.
