FROM THE GM

Welcome to Merrill “Red” Wilson Field where we will again play host to some of the best summer collegiate baseball in the nation. No matter if you are a die-hard Y-D Red Sox fan or a casual fan taking in a mid-summer game you are assured to enjoy the magical environment provided at our field.

The 2022 season will be special not only because this year’s team represents some of the most talented young ball players from across the country but it’s also Coach Pickler’s 24th season at the helm of coaching the Y-D Red Sox. Coach Pickler could break the Cape Cod Baseball League all-time regular season win total this season. Over his years with the Club, he has recruited and coached some very successful major leaguers, past and present, among them Buster Posey, Chris Sale, Walker Buehler, Justin Turner, Tommy Edman and Shane Bieber-just to name a few.

A very special thank you to our officers, committee members, interns and volunteers who give so generously of their time and expertise twelve months of the year to make this season possible and to our host families who open up their homes and their hearts to these fine young players. If not for these extraordinary people the Y-D Red Sox could not produce the game you see on the field. A special recognition to Steve and Cathy Faucher for their dedication and leadership of the Club through the years. Their passion and hard work has been the product of the great successes enjoyed by the Club.

We are grateful to the business communities of Yarmouth and Dennis for their sponsorship of the Club. And lastly, thanks to all of you, our fans, for your tremendous loyalty and support. The coaches, players and our organization truly appreciate it.

Play Ball!

General Manager

allowed an extra base hit all year. All of these improvements have led Ball State squad to appoint Klein as their Closer, a role that he has excelled in, having 6 saves in 7 opportunities. Klein leads the Conference in Saves and has Ball State at #1 in the standings.

JONATHON LONG

There are few players on the Cape this Summer with a baseball journey similar to Jonathon Long. After his senior season of High School, Jonathon was relatively unrecruited, and ended up at Long Beach State where he walked-on as a Freshman. That Freshman year, Jonathon went from a walk-on that wasn't guaranteed to make the Varsity team, to the everyday starter at Third Base. That season, Jonathon slashed .341/.410/1.001 with only 25 K's compared with 11 BB's. After his breakout Freshman season, Coach Valenzuela decided to give "Jonny" a scholarship for his final 3 seasons.

CONNOR MARKL

Connor Markl is an elite Left-Handed pitcher from Grand Canyon University who fills up the zone, boasting a 4.63 K/BB rate in 36.0 innings. Markl's control is not only a key aspect of his success, but also an integral part of the GCU pitching philosophy, which in part looks like: < 1 walk per 3 innings; >

62% strikes; > 65% first-pitch strikes.

Markl's success rate in these three metrics is 91.7%, a mark good enough for the coaching staff to deem Connor Markl the Ace.

TJ NICHOLS

TJ Nichols, a starting pitcher from the University of Arizona, is one of the highest profile players in the Nation. If it weren't for his lanky 6'4 188 LBS build, it would be his 99.5 MPH Fastball. If it weren't for his 99.5 MPH fastball, it would be his 2.34 ERA with 46 K's against only 15 BB's in 7 starts.

Praise from his teammates and coaches is one thing, but this is what Baseball America had to say, "Nichols has been selected as the Preseason projection for Pac-12 Pitcher of the Year for 2022... Nichols is ranked as the number 10 college prospect for the '23 MLB draft." This was before his electric 2022 season in which he impressed those with even the highest of expectations. Coach Brad Bohannon to say this about Dylan, "He's a guy that we're really counting on... He can run his fastball up to 95 and he's got a really good breaking ball and a good changeup and he throws a ton of strikes." Ray missed his True Freshman season due to a UCL tear and is now back and ready for a strong summer with the YD squad.

Career notes: The state of Alabama's top-rated prospect according to Prep Baseball Report in 2020; Helped BJHS to a 42-10 mark and the Class 7A State Championship as a junior.

As a true Freshman, Robison appeared in 7 games, pitching 13.2 innings, allowing only 2 runs on 8 hits while striking out 10. After his impressive Freshman season, the BYU coaching staff decided to have Bryce work as both a starter and reliever, a tough ask for any pitcher. With that role, Robison shined, posting a 7-2 record with a 3.78 ERA in 64.1 innings in 6 starts, and 17 relief appearances. Now in the 2022 season, Bryce is stepping up once again. ## LUKE SHLIGER

Luke Shliger joins the Y-D squad fresh off one of the most impressive NCAA seasons by a Catcher in 2022. As a sophomore, Luke is leading the Maryland University baseball team to their best record in School history and back-to-back NCAA Regionals appearances for only the third time in School history. He has done so by being the everyday Catcher, slashing .331/.486/1.042, stealing 13 bases (Which is second on the team and top 10 in the Country for a Catcher), while also throwing out 11 runners from behind the plate. His .486 OBP ranks top 10 for Catchers in Division 1, and Luke leads the Big Ten in walks. In addition to his season-long successes, Luke's most notable moment happened back in late April when he caught the 20th Perfect Game in D1 Baseball History.

JORDAN THOMPSON

Jordan Thompson started 61 games for LSU as a Freshman, where he slashed .250/.324/.716 with 8 HRs. No Homerun in his career was more theatrical than his Walk-off Homerun against Oklahoma this season; Bottom of the 11th,

2-1 count, in the Houston Astro's Minute Maid Park, live on ESPN, Thompson got ahold of one and ended the game, bat-flip and all (Link below). Thompson is having a great start to the 2022 season, with all of his batting statistics taking a jump, he's currently slashing .301/.422/.884. Tredwell's arsenal is comprised of a low-90s fastball that could rise with development, a slider, a 12-6 curveball and a changeup. Alonzo missed his Senior season in High School due to Tommy John surgery but has recovered well and has been dominant for UCLA this season out of the bullpen. He holds a 1-0 record with 2 saves and is posting a 2.19 ERA to go along with 22 Strikeouts in just 12.1 innings of work. ## SANDI HOYT MEMORIAL

TESS LABELLE has earned a 3.75 GPA. Her career objective is to study criminal justice. She is planning to attend Suffolk University in the fall. She is a member of the Science and Spanish National Honor Society. Tess has welcomed the chance to take honors and AP-level courses to challenge herself. She is not afraid to explore classes that place her outside of her comfort zone, especially when she is interested in the subject matter. She operates on the mindset that being in a classroom with other engaged peers allows her to grow as a student and expand her learning potential. Alongside her academic commitments, Tess is a busy young lady, working part time and connecting to activities that have helped to shape her character, namely her involvement with sports, given she is a three-season athlete who plays field hockey, ice hockey, and softball, activities to which she has devoted a significant amount of time. Tess has been connected to her athletic teams with most of the same peers for many years now. Accordingly, she recognizes these groups have allowed her to build unbreakable friendships, have countless laughs, and forge lasting memories, all while giving her an opportunity to have physical exercise and a healthy outlet. Tess also respects her coaches who have been some of the most important role models in her life. They are people she looks up to for advice, and they have provided her an unfailing support system. Tess acknowledges that playing sports has taught her the importance of hard work and shown her how a consistent effort is critical when trying to reach her goals. Although she has the confidence and ability to be independent, she is never too proud to seek advice when it is appropriate and advantageous to check her understanding or request support. She has an impactful presence in the DY community and takes pride in her persuasive personality traits and her ability to lead by example.

MICHAEL DIEBOLT MEMORIAL

JULIA HICKS has earned a 3.60 GPA. Her career objectives include studying physical therapy, the physical sciences, or kinesiology. She plans to attend Florida Atlantic University in the fall. Confident in her abilities, Julia takes pride in being a role model at our school and is dedicated to making good choices. She embraces hard work and does not back down when pressure builds and school and life become stressful. Julia has learned to put the needs of others before her own and to handle stress in a productive manner. With this in mind, she has proven her adaptability to cope with whatever life throws at her. Field hockey and softball – she’s the pitcher – have provided a happy and healthy outlet for Julia during her high school career. On the field, Julia is a giving team member and known for her nurturing coaching and sportsmanship. She is the encouraging voice on the sidelines and the role model to the younger players when her team loses and needs to regroup and remain positive. She believes in the values of responsibility and hard work and models this every day she is at practice, which is why, in part, she was named captain of her softball team. Julia brings strong communication skills into whatever venture she commits her time and energy, including her four-year participation in our school’s Interact Club, which has given Julia a chance to volunteer in her community. She holds true to her convictions. She is likewise articulate and resourceful. Julia excels at working with a diversity of personalities and understands the art of compromise. She has truly managed to balance sports, demanding home responsibilities, as well as working part time.

MICHAEL DIEBOLT MEMORIAL

RYAN COTE is a driven and self motivated young man of the highest moral character. He is a strong, sometimes quiet student who pushes himself to be the best version of himself to meet his own demands. Ryan is never showing off and all his successes in the classroom and ball field are out of his own desire to be successful. Academically Ryan is a top student. His internal drive pushes him to high level classes and his curiosity and true love of learning bring him success. Those who know him well are impressed with what he is able to accomplish and state, “Ryan never seems to get tired.” He can work two jobs, go to baseball practice each day and excel in our most challenging classes seamlessly. Ryan has shown great responsibility, for most of last year he was living alone while his mother was in treatment for throat cancer. He handled the household responsibilities himself, never complained or faltered in his academics. He knew what was required of him to help his mom and never questioned his role. He displayed great courage and independence, in this time of hardship, well beyond his years. He feels this time helped him grow independently and feels confident in his ability to handle any obstacles in his future. Ryan plans on entering the business world. He will begin his studies at the University of Massachusetts Amherst in the fall.

MICHAEL FRICK MEMORIAL

ALECIA TEIXEIRA is an intelligent, hardworking and personable young woman. In addition to her school work Alicia has maintained a part time job at Target. She works the equivalent to 25-30 hours in addition to attending high school.

Through work she has gained self confidence and has gradually been given more responsibility. This confidence has spilled over into the classroom and steadily she has shown that she can not only handle higher level learning but succeed at it. She has made an enormous amount of progress and growth in the last three years. Academically Alicia is conscientious and has a desire to improve. Alicia proved through two COVID years that she could keep her school work as a priority. She was able to balance our hybrid and remote learning and develop relationships with teachers along the way.

She has set her sights on pursuing a college education – as a first generation college bound senior she has shown maturity in the process. She has continued to advocate for herself and throughout the college process has shown organization, thoroughness, and has taken charge of making her dream become a reality. She simply continues to find a way – she has mastered balancing school and work and shown she can excel at both. This year Alicia successfully completed two college level classes through dual enrollment. She will be attending Bridgewater State University in the fall and plans to study psychology. Her hopes are to work with children who have experienced trauma.

MICHAEL FRICK MEMORIAL

GLEN BAKER continually seeks out ways to improve himself and grow by pushing himself academically and out of his comfort zone to try new experiences. Through this he has become a competent leader and positive risk taker. He is comfortable taking charge, sharing his knowledge and is also open to new ideas and positive criticism. Level headed, he does not cave under pressure and uses his innate quick thinking skills for positive outcomes. Baseball and working in a fast paced Cape Cod restaurant has helped him hone these skills. Long term goals for Glen include working in marine transportation on ships and to become a captain. A Maritime Academy is where he can see his goals becoming a reality. He understands the rigor and challenges ahead and welcomes the opportunity to allow his future institution to mold and shape him into the best possible version of himself. Glen is motivated and determined to enroll, complete his education and serve his country proudly as a graduate. Glen will begin his studies at Mass Maritime Academy in the fall.

WHAT IT'S LIKE TO BE A HOST FAMILY IN THE CCBL

DR. DORRIA DIMANNO & FAMILY

Whenever people hear that we're hosting Cape League players, they're naturally so excited and so eager to learn about the experience. "What's it like?" and "Oh, it must be so much fun!"

The answers: "It's wonderful – and yes, it's so much fun!"

When you're a first-time host, you're filled with questions, too: How do you make a stranger part of your family? (Treat him like family.) What if I'm a single? (No problem.) A family with young children, or teens? (Fantastic!) Do I need a big house? (Nope, just an extra bedroom and bath.)

What will he be like? What will I feed him? What will we talk about? What if I don't know a lot about baseball?

From hearing about their hometowns, their families, and their college experiences, to helping them get grass stains out of their uniforms ... well, every day is a Cape League day as you get to know your "summer sons." You're introducing them to Cape Cod, too. You'll see our peninsula through their eyes – and that's especially fun when the person scooping your ice cream or serving your meal learns that he plays for the Y-D Red Sox. There's an immediate connection, and a recognition of something quite special. And along the way, you come to realize that you're part of a very special summer in their lives. During their time in the Cape League, these players mature and grow – both as players and as young men.

My family and I attended Cape League games for years, but being a host family brings each game to a whole new level. Every game is better – more fun, more engaging, more exciting when you have this connection. You feel like you belong to this unique part of baseball history.

In the end (maybe through tears) as you say goodbye to the young man you've grown to love over the summer, you'll have met and spent time with loads of terrific, dedicated people – the other host families, the CCBL staff and volunteers, and of course, the players – and often-times, even their families. And who knows? Maybe someday, you'll see "your" player on a major league roster!

Is everything about it perfect? Of course not ... but if you become a host family, I'd bet you'll feel like I do. It's the experience of a lifetime and there's nothing quite like it.
