Welcome back to Eldredge Park!

Welcome to Eldredge Park, home of the Orleans Firebirds. As we enter this baseball season, I am reminded of all we need to celebrate. I want to celebrate our host families and our hard-working team of volunteers who work year-round to make the magic happen at Eldredge Park. They show up every year to do whatever it takes for a successful season. The bat kids, the singers, the collectors, our retail crew, are all part of making sure your game day experience is second to none.

Our 50/50 team along with our 7th inning "singers" are often envied by others. On that list to celebrate are our fan club members who have so generously given to help us provide a top-notch facility to enjoy the sport we love.

Also, I celebrate our town, its leadership, its grounds crew and the Lower Cape community, the people, the local businesses, as without all of them none of this would be possible. It all comes together very nicely.

I celebrate our loyal fans from the Lower Cape and beyond filling the hill every year to cheer on the Firebirds. I love seeing familiar faces and new fans alike enjoying the game we all love.

So, this year, as we sit in our beach chairs, on our blankets, or on the bleachers let's celebrate being together for a great year of baseball.

Best

Dear Firebirds Fans,

As a member of the Orleans Cardinals/Firebirds since 2001, I'm extremely happy to be returning to Eldredge Park and the Cape Cod Baseball League for 2023! Orleans has been my second home for twenty-two summers now, and I truly look forward to the daily interaction with our players, coaching staff, youngsters in Firebird Clinic, and of course, you fans.

Coach Kelly Nicholson

Watching "the stars of tomorrow shine tonight" is indeed an honor and a privilege, and I am deeply humbled to be part of an extraordinary organization.

Thank you for your continued support, generosity, and enthusiasm for the Firebirds. My sincere appreciation goes out to each and every one of you. We pride ourselves in bringing professionalism to the league, doing things "the right way," and playing the game with the utmost respect for America's favorite pastime. We, the players and coaches, promise to represent the great town of Orleans with pride, poise, and class at all times.

We look forward to sharing a tremendous baseball experience with you this summer. Please say "hello," come down after the game and get an autograph and/or photo with your favorite Birds, and make sure to stop by The Home Plate Shop and purchase some "Bird Gear."

I can't wait to see you "fill the hill" this summer!

Humbly and respectfully yours in baseball,

Kelly Nicholson
Manager, Orleans Firebirds
Cape Cod Baseball League

Cape League Hall of Famer to MLB Pitcher and All-Star to Entrepreneur

Marcus and his mom, Adlin

Marcus Stroman pitches for the Chicago Cubs. Previously he was on the Toronto Blue Jays and the New York Mets. Marcus played for the Blue Devils while attending Duke University. During the summers of 2010 and 2011 he played for the Firebirds. He made his MLB debut at 23 years old with the Blue Jays in 2014 and was the team's Rookie of the Year. In 2017, he was chosen as the World Baseball Classic MVP with a 2.35 ERA in 15.3 total innings as a member of the United States team, including six shutout innings in the championship game against Puerto Rico. He also won a Gold Glove Award in 2017 and was named to the American League All-Star team in 2019. He also plays for the Puerto Rico national baseball team. As of the end of the 2022 season he had a record of 204 wins and 198 losses with an ERA of 3.59. Marcus has established a company named SHUGØ which makes uniforms and other baseball equipment. In 2019 he created the Height Doesn't Measure Heart (HDMH) Foundation to "inspire children and young people, especially those from inner cities and in-need areas, to rise above their circumstances and pursue their dreams". In 2022, Marcus was inducted into the Cape Cod Baseball League Hall of Fame.

Firebirds

You're in Minnesota, right?

Marcus Stroman

Yeah, we're in Minnie. We're going to play the Twins for three days.

Firebirds

Freezing there right now. [The interview was in early May.]

Marcus Stroman

No, it's not too bad.

Firebirds

I feel like I gotta start with the brand-new Firebirds jerseys. How fun was it for you to design and facilitate those for the team?

Marcus Stroman

Oh, it's awesome, man. I mean, I've always had a keen interest in fashion, clothing, and all that. So that's kind of why I established my SHUGØ brand as well. So yeah, it's awesome to be able to obviously create the uniforms for a team I played for, put those colors together, and to see everyone and how happy they are with the final product. It was a fun process.

Firebirds

And the SHUGØ brand is awesome, by the way. It's fun to see, doing a little research and looking through it all. And you know the foundation you got with it.

Marcus Stroman

Yeah, the uniforms are actually transitioning to SHUGØ. So, we're pretty much just changing the logo to be same quality anything. I'm putting everything under one house. The uniforms, cleats, gloves, it'll be all SHUGØnow, and then HDMH will just strictly be my foundation.

Firebirds

Nice. That's amazing.

Marcus Stroman

I think the people in Orleans that are going to be there this summer would love to hear about, you know, your time in the Cape, you know, maybe some of the favorite memories you have.

Marcus Stroman

I just remember the overall vibe on the Cape, I love being on the water, being in the summer, meeting the guys from around the country, being with the host family. All those things kind of jump out at me and then obviously being with Coach Kelly at Orleans, he's incredible. Kelly and I still keep in touch to this day. I just think I was very fortunate and had an awesome opportunity, being able to play for Orleans and that's where I learned that I was going to be a pitcher, because I wanted to be a two-way player in my first year, and then after I pitched, well, that opened my eyes. I feel like the Cape did a lot for my career, my development as a human being, as a person. Yeah, I love the Cape. I would never say a single bad thing about the Cape.

Firebirds

You mentioned Kelly. I agree with you. I mean, just an awesome, awesome guy. If you can think

COACH KELLY'S PRESENTATION OF MARCUS STROMAN, CCBL HALL OF FAME, NOV. 19, 2022

So, in the fall of 2009 I received a phone call from Sean McNally, the head coach at Duke. He told me he had just watched one of his incoming freshmen throw a bullpen. He said that this kid was extremely athletic, threw nothing but strikes, and that his stuff was "electric!"

Sean went on to say that he had been a three-sport athlete at Patchogue Medford High School on Long Island, and that he had been drafted as a shortstop by the Washington Nationals. I asked Sean his name, and he said Marcus Stroman. I simply said, "We'll take him."

I am certainly glad Coach McNally made that phone call; I am certainly glad we had the honor and privilege of watching you pitch in Orleans, Marcus; and since that summer, Stro, you have made all of us who know you extremely proud.

Marcus, you are always the most asked about player every summer. "Tell us about Stroman, what was he like?" our players will ask.

I tell them he had the best summer of any pitcher since I've been in Orleans. I tell them that he didn't give up a single run ALL summer in 2010, and in 2011, between Orleans and Team USA, he didn't give up a single hit. I tell them that the uniforms we wear today were donated by him...without anyone asking. I want our players to know that he simply did it out of the goodness of his heart, and that Marcus Stroman understands the importance of giving back.

I also tell them that my wife, Donna, loves him! The first time she met Marcus, back in 2010, he was taking care of a little kid who had taken a ball to the face in our youth clinic. Donna happened to be at Eldredge Park that morning. She was so impressed with the genuine care and concern he displayed for this crying little boy. The second time was when Donna and I waited for Marcus post-game in LA, back in August of 2021. To this day, she talks about his grace, his personality, his kindness, his smile, and yes, his style.

That's what you do, Stro. When people meet you, they love you; and when they get to know you, their lives are positively impacted.

I am confident that everyone in this room is wellaware of Marcus Stroman's accomplishments on the diamond...first rounder, 2017 World Baseball Classic MVP, 2017 Gold Glove, 2019 All Star...just to name a few.

But what some people in the room might not know is that Marcus has interests outside of baseball that are wide-ranging, from podcasting to wine to music, He has an apparel company, HDMH – Height Doesn't Measure Heart) – and just recently released his new line of cleats and trainers called SHUGΘ. In addition, the first of a three-part series of books published by Simon and Shuster, called The Grip, which focuses on how to handle adversity and help the minds of young kids, comes out at the end of January.

Most importantly, he loves his family – mom Adlin, dad Earl, sister Sabria, brother Jayden, and stepmom Michaela – more than anything, and on December 10, 2021, Shannon and Marcus became the proud parents of a beautiful baby boy, Kai Zen Stroman.

Marcus Stroman is here today despite hearing at every level that he was too short to accomplish his dreams of becoming a professional. He has quieted his doubters and has risen above to prove them all wrong. He has done it with an incredible work ethic, perseverance, grit, determination, and yes, a little "swag."

He has established himself as one of the elite starting pitchers in Major League Baseball, and in doing so, has acquired an extremely powerful platform for GOOD with his HDMH Foundation, which creates opportunities for in-need youth to rise above their circumstances, realize their greatest potential, and never stop pursuing their dreams, just like he did.

Stro – continued success with the Cubs, and continue to make this world a better place. You have no idea how much you mean to me and so many others. I love and respect you, my man.

Ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to introduce Marcus Stroman for induction into the Cape Cod Baseball League Hall of Fame. ○ even now, it was ten or 13 years ago that you were there, can you think of a lesson that you learned from Kelly that still helps you today?

Marcus Stroman

Just being around Coach Kelly. I don't think there is necessarily a particular lesson. It's just how he goes about life and how he walks through life, how you rarely ever see him be negative or be down. I feel like he truly has a good grasp on just the whole mental clarity of life and being able to deal with anything. That's the one thing I remember most about how you feel – when I see him now, I feel like he's always so happy. He is always enjoying the moment. I feel like you rarely see him have a down day, and that's hard to say about most people in the world.

Firebirds

I think it's probably easy to say about you. For me on the outside looking at your approach to mindfulness seems so profound, so focused, was it that way when you were in college, back on the Cape, was in the works?

Marcus Stroman

Yeah, it wasn't. I've always been very open, but I feel like just in the Cape and college, I feel like that was never a thing. That was never even talked about as being a thing, or yeah, it just wasn't a priority at that time. And then obviously once I got into pro ball, I got older. I've just been through a lot of adversity, and it just started to become priority ... just got into a lot of, like you said, mindfulness, started to read, started to really take time for myself in nature, Start to really focus on making sure that my mind was clear because when my mind is clear I'm pretty good at anything I want to do, and that's the biggest challenge I find in my life is just being able to find clarity, and when I do find clarity, everything looks pretty smooth, but obviously everybody has those pockets of time where things get kind of jumbled up and out of tune. And it's just knowing how to recover and knowing how to bounce back, and knowing who you are as an individual. And you have your own personal methods that you go to restore your energy. So, I've been open my whole life to becoming a better version of myself always. And yeah, the mindfulness was something that probably started around my ACL, when I tore my ACL in 2015. And from that point on, I've just been very open, and I keep my mental clarity... that's probably my biggest priority in my life.

Firebirds

That's so cool. It's just the absolute most control you have over anything in the world is your mindset, you know, in your approach to things that you mentioned different adversity have gone through, like the ACL, but I watched an old interview of yours. I think it was when you're on the Jays, maybe your rookie year, and you said, 'coming from a small town, people say I never could make it', here you are. Congrats on the 1000 K's a few weeks ago, you were inducted into the Cape League Hall of Fame, how much pride do you have after saying that and seeing where you are and have been?

Marcus Stroman

Yeah, I have a lot of pride. At this point, it's like proving myself right, not even necessarily proving others wrong. I put a lot, a lot of work into this, work that nobody sees. There's no one who expects more out of themselves than me. When I'm away from the field when I'm at home, the hyperbaric chamber, the dry needling, the recovery, the mindfulness, it's a 24/7 job that I that I that I focus on in order to be good out on the mound. So yes, it's very gratifying seeing the results. But I'm not even a results-based person. I'm surely like a process-based person like I put in so much work that I'm good with whatever the results are because I know that I exhausted every element, and I know that I did everything possible to put myself in the best position. So, I can live with whatever the results are, and as I go through life, that's pretty much all it is, I'm process, I enjoy the process. I'm very process oriented. I love everything that goes into it. I love even the days that I don't have great games, because that's just an opportunity for me to sharpen my tools or get better in some areas. So, I truly just take everything as an opportunity, whether it be good or bad, and I try to stay as present as possible, and better myself each and every day.

Firebirds

Exactly, bad days are there for a reason. It's fun to see you connecting with so many fans. I don't really see too many athletes do that... it's a lot of social media stuff. But it's just so unique, I know it's got to be hard as an MLB guy. Was it like that for you when you were playing in Orleans, and you're right up with host families and the people on the hill every night, were you interacting with the fans while you were playing in Orleans?

Marcus Stroman

Yeah, I was super Interactive there, probably more so than I've been over the last few years in the big league. Just because of how time consuming our schedule is and like I said, I put a priority on making sure that I'm my best self when I go out there on the mound. That takes a lot sometimes. I'm at a point now in my career that I'm so I'm so dialed in with my routine and it in me to I want to get out there and want to help as many people as possible. I now have the energy and the openness to do it, whereas, like I said, I feel like earlier in my career, even when I'm in year nine or ten, whatever, maybe I still feel like that. I'm trying to get settled and I still feel like I'm trying to become a guy. I never truly feel like I've made it and I never feel like I never feel comfortable. I still have that mentality, so it's hard for me to ever give other things energy when I know how much of a priority I put to be in my best version on the field. But now I'm at a point in my career, I feel very comfortable. I'm so dialed into my routine and I'm very open now to helping as many people as I can in any way possible... that's why

I have my foundation, and that's why I'm consistently keeping in contact with a bunch of young pitchers, athletes in the league. I'm always trying to help anybody I can as far as the mental game of things. I have so many people that reach out to me. I do my best to try and grow little pockets of wisdom and motivation here and there. Yeah, man, I have it in me, there's like a dying desire in me to give back and help people, so I'm trying to do as much as I can. While also keeping everything ... family, my focus, baseball, and everything a priority.

Firebirds

That dying desire, where does it stem from?

Marcus Stroman

I don't know, man, to be honest. I just have it in me. I truly feel like I've been through so much at first and I'm getting to a point now where ... I'm half black, I'm half Puerto Rican. I went to Duke University. I went back, I got my degree. I'm a big-league pitcher, an All Star. I work in music; I own my own clothing company. I have my own wine label coming out. I have my own children's book that's got three volumes I feel like I'm pretty dynamic at this point and I feel like there's a lot that I can speak on, as far as being an athlete but then making sure that your mental a priority. And then also creatively chasing your passions, I haven't been scared to do that at all. I think that's part of the reason why I'm so good on the field is because I have outlets, I have things that take my mind off of baseball, creatively, that I that I enjoy doing that allow me to be clear when I go back out on the mound. If it was just baseball. I don't think I would still be in the league at this point, to be honest with you. So, I've just been through a lot. I know that there's a huge wave of young kids who look up to me and who honor me, not even necessarily for the athlete, there's a lot of kids who reach out and we talk about my children's book or my clothing company or my cleats, or my sneakers, or things that I'm getting to away from the field, because I feel like the new individual, the new young kid coming up is very multi-dimensional. I don't think you're seeing that many one-dimensional kids these days. You know, I mean, kids do everything they want to have their feet kind of everywhere. And I think that's important. I don't think I don't believe in necessarily focusing on one thing and just living and dying by that, I think you need to kind of explore and see what you love, and you can be very passionate about multiple things.

Firebirds

That must be just such an amazing feeling, right? An artist, a designer, an athlete, a Hall of Famer in in the Cape League, an

All Star. I've got to believe that just, you know, makes you so excited to wake up in the morning.

Marcus Stroman

Yeah, I'm excited about life truly, I'm very different, I would consider myself an outcast. I think if you ask my teammates, they would say the same. But I just have a different outlook on life and I have a lot of energy, man. I truly just want to get to all my passions while I have the energy to do so because we're not given tomorrow. Tomorrow is never promised. Who's to say that I'm gonna have the ability, or the energy when I'm done playing to chase my passion so, yeah, I'm very. I'm very present, man. I'm trying to knock out everything in in present mode. I'm not impatient, but I work as hard as I can, and make everything in my head come true in the moment.

Firebirds

That's awesome. Presence and consistency, right?

Marcus Stroman

Yeah.

Firebirds

You got to go back to the Cape for the Hall of Fame ceremony and see all the people that you've known for ten plus years now. How was that for you?

Marcus Stroman

Oh, it was awesome, very nostalgic. I hadn't been back to the Cape since I played for the Firebirds. So it's been a long time. Obviously playing Boston and definitely comes up in my mind whenever we're at Fenway, because I remember playing in Fenway for Cape Cod All Star game and then obviously just when you're in Boston the Cape League just comes up because I feel like that's so synonymous for me with that town, so I'm always kind of conscious and thinking about I'm always reminded of those times. So yeah, it was definitely good to see, you know. I mean, coach Kelly, Sue, everyone that is associated with Orleans. And I just feel it again, man, because like I said, I love the Cape. I love water, I love the vibe of the Cape. I truly wish I could get back more, to be honest with you, because I'm such a water person and I would just kick it out there and fish, and relax, and enjoy it.

Firebirds

I'm with you on that. If you get to mentor a player that's going to the Cape this summer. What would the biggest piece of advice be from you to them?

Marcus Stroman

Just truly enjoy it and take it all in. I know a lot of players put so much pressure on themselves to show out ... and they kind of see it as a springboard of the career. But like I said, it's definitely one of those things where you're ready if you're going to the Cape, you are ready as one of the top guys in the country. So, just don't let that moment pass you by, truly. Enjoy it. Enjoy the connections with the fans where the fans coming out to games ... putting out their chairs early, enjoy everything. I said even with the host family, like, that's the last time you're going to kind of have that vibe before things get really serious, you know, I mean, and you're in pro ball and everything and it goes from enjoying it to essentially being work. So just really enjoy it, enjoy it, and take it all in and just know that that's something that you'll cherish honestly forever. That's a moment that summer, at least, if you're there for one or two years, you'll remember that for sure.

Firebirds

Absolutely, pure baseball and fun that it's finest. You're so right on that well. I appreciate you taking time and sharing a little bit. It was cool to hear from your perspective too. I really do appreciate you taking the time. Best of luck to you. It's cool to hear all the wonderful things you are doing, so Congrats on all that.

Marcus Stroman

Thank you.

Firebirds

Have a great day and good luck in tonight's game.

2022 CCBL SEASON REVIEW

BOURNE AND BREWSTER MEET AGAIN FOR THE CCBL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Cape League returned to a 44-game schedule in 2022 as pandemic protocols were eased, and players were elated to have the league workout at Fenway reinstated. The Bourne Braves won their second Arnold Mycock Trophy in the team's history, defeating last year's champion, the Brewster Whitecaps, in the final series. Bourne skipper Scott Landers won the Mike Curran Manager of the Year award in his first year at the helm. Longtime league President Chuck Sturtevant retired at the end of the year after over three decades of service in various roles, taking with him the gratitude and affection all who worked with him.

Orleans was represented on the East All Stars by Bryce Warrecker (Cal Poly SLO) who was the East's starting pitcher, OF Luke Keaschall (San Francisco/Arizona State), and OF Travis Honeyman (Boston College). Both Warrecker and Keaschall were named to the final All League team, while Warrecker won the league's B.F.C. Whitehouse Award as the best pitcher and Garret Guillemette (USC/Texas) was honored with the league's Daniel J. Silva Sportsmanship Award, selected by the league's umpires. The 2022 MLB First Year Player Draft in July saw 21 Firebirds drafted, and three more signed as free agents. Of the 21, eleven went in the first ten rounds, including Jace Jung (2021, Texas Tech) and Chase DeLauter (2021, James Madison) in the first round, and Tyler Locklear (2021, VCU) in the second. ○

THE FORMER ORLEANS CARDINAL LEADING BRITAIN'S BASEBALL REVOLUTION

Great Britain isn't known for its baseball prowess. It's a nation where cricket bats overwhelm Louisville Sluggers and football boots leave metal spikes in the dust.

However, under the leadership of a former Cape Leaguer, America's National Pastime is finally finding its footing across the pond.

In March 2023, Team Great Britain made its first World Baseball Classic appearance, going head-to-head with global heavyweights USA and Mexico and even earning a historic victory over Columbia.

The man leading Britain's baseball charge? Manager Drew Spencer, a former Orleans Cardinal who patrolled Eldredge Park's outfield during the summers of 1994 and '95.

Now living in London, the California-native took over as Team GB skipper in 2020 – about a decade after joining the small, but passionate British baseball community.

Spencer's involvement with the British national team marks the latest stop on a lifelong baseball journey, which includes an illustrious Ivy League playing career, a managerial role in British club baseball and an opportunity to work in the Oakland Athletics front office during the "Moneyball" era.

But before all that, Spencer got his start in a Northern California backyard, playing wiffle ball with his father.

THE CALIFORNIA KID CHOOSES DARTMOUTH

Baseball runs in Spencer's veins.

"Both my parents are really into baseball," he says. "Both families. Mom's side, Dad's side – we're baseball families."

When Spencer was growing up, summertime visits to his grandmother's house were accompanied by the sound of San Francisco Giants games emanating from the television. Furthermore, he recalls a story from his mother's childhood, detailing the time his grandmother and great aunt nearly came to blows at a barbeque during an argument about whether Willie Mays or Jackie Robinson was the better ballplayer.

Spencer quickly developed a love for the game himself. At age 5, his family relocated to Southern California, where he began to play organized baseball.

"Where things really took off for me was when I hit Little League and could pitch," Spencer says. "... I loved pitching. That was kind of like my happy place."

Spencer was planning to play collegiate baseball by his early teens. In Southern California, he says the collective goal among youth players was to don the uniform of a local powerhouse, such as UCLA, USC or Stanford. However, Spencer's college career would play out on the other side of the country, at a school in rural New Hampshire.

"I had never heard of Dartmouth," remembers Spencer with a slight smile. "Honestly never heard of it in my life."

Spencer quickly adapted to his new digs, leading the team in RBIs during the first road trip of his freshman year. It was an impressive accomplishment, especially considering Dartmouth hadn't recruited him for his hitting ability.

"I was recruited to be a pitcher," Spencer recalls. "And then I had a shoulder injury going into my senior year of high school, which I didn't tell Coach [Bob] Whalen about ahead of time."

Spencer still remembers the look on his head coach's face when he learned his prized left-handed pitching recruit from Southern California was, in fact, no longer a pitcher. At that moment he thought, "I'm cut."

Not the best way to start the very first fall workout of his college baseball career.

Fortunately for Spencer, that awkward conversation was nothing but a funny story by the end of his freshman season. Starting in center field and batting third for the bulk of the 1994 campaign, he earned first team all-Ivy League honors and broke Dartmouth's single season hits record.

Spencer was rewarded with an invitation to the New England Intercollegiate Baseball Association's All-Star Game at Fenway Park, where he met Orleans Cardinals assistant coach Tony Casas. Apparently, the Cape League ballclub needed a center fielder.

"So I called my Dad and was like 'cancel my flight ... I'm going to go to the Cape,'" Spencer recalls. "And I was only supposed to be there two weeks."

Those two weeks became two full summers at Eldredge Park.

SUMMER NIGHTS IN ORLEANS

"... Someone had told me that there was a Sports Illustrated article that had mentioned Eldredge as, like, one of the 10 best places in America to see a baseball game," says Spencer, thinking back to before he first set foot on the Eldredge Park grass. "So, [I] kinda had some excitement going in to check it out and it a hundred percent lived up to it."

Nearly 30 years after his final Cape League at-bat, Spencer still recalls the iconic hill rising beyond the right field line, the bandstand beyond the right-center field fence and fans dropping off their blankets and chairs before heading to work on gameday mornings.

"What I remember is playing in front of more people than I'd ever played in front of every night," he says.

During Spencer's two summers at Eldredge, the Cape Cod Baseball League lived up to its reputation as a showcase for top-tier collegiate talent. For example, in 1995, he took the field against Mark DeRosa, who went on to play 16 MLB seasons. Almost 28 years later, Spencer and DeRosa managed against each other in the World Baseball Classic when Great Britain played the United States.

Back in his first Cape League season, Spencer was teammates with future Colorado Rockies legend Todd Helton, who was also a quarterback at the University of Tennessee.

"The best part of my first day [in Orleans] was a bunch of us standing out in the outfield running routes and catching passes from Todd Helton after watching him hit a bunch of bombs," remembers Spencer with a smile.

Spencer admits watching Helton – the eighth overall pick in the 1995 MLB Draft – was a bit of a reality check. Still, he enjoyed a productive stint with the Cardinals under manager Rolando Casanova, once he acclimated to the Cape League's high level of play.

"It took me a while to adjust and there were things I had to learn about my swing and about my approach at the plate," Spencer remembers. "It's funny, when I flash back to [my first] summer, I feel like ... I went from driving everything away to being able to hit the ball up the middle to being able to pull the ball – just getting used to the timing – and by the end of the summer I feel like I really had it."

According to Spencer, the pinnacle of his entire baseball career took place at the end of that 1994 season, though it didn't come at the plate.

"... I made the greatest play I've ever made in my entire life in baseball and will never match again in Game 1 of the playoffs against Brewster," Spencer recalls. "And the sound of the crowd – there was 5,000 people – when I made that catch, I'll never forget."

CARDINALS CLINIC AND THE KORN FAMILY

Spencer was one of the last players to arrive in Orleans prior to the 1994 Cape League season and he needed work. Some players took jobs at a local gym, others at a video store. Spencer, on the other hand, worked as a coach at the Orleans Cardinals Youth Summer Baseball Clinic.

"I was assigned to the youngest age group," Spencer says. "And that's daunting. But I'm really grateful for it ... I'm a coach today and I think a lot of it's because of that."

According to Spencer, his role was less about coaching baseball skills and more about making the game accessible and fun for the youngest campers. With a laugh, he remembers telling his group, "You have to touch the bases. Touching the bases is pretty important."

Thinking back, Spencer says,

"It was fun, it was hilarious 'cause kids just get into all kinds of stuff, ask you all kinds of questions, interrupt you constantly. But by the end of the week, you're their hero."

He adds, "When you coach the camp, you make so many friends. There are so many kids that then come to the game that night or that week or even all summer and ... have a connection with you. There's a couple that still write me."

During his first summer in Orleans, Spencer formed an especially strong bond with a boy named Tyler Korn. The following season, the Korns – Bob, Donna, Tyler and Palmer – served as Spencer's host family.

"When we heard he was coming back, it was like: 'He's gonna live with us,'" says Bob Korn, Tyler's father.

Spencer recalls, "At the end of [my first] summer, [Tyler] said, 'We've always wanted to host and we've never been able to. But my parents have said we can host next year and I want you to come stay with us for the first time,' which was a huge honor. I was really touched, even at 19."

Bob Korn still refers to Spencer as "Andrew" instead of Drew and describes him as an older brother figure to Tyler and his daughter, Palmer. He recalls the trio driving to the beach in Spencer's Jeep convertible, playing miniature golf and relaxing around the house together. He also remembers "Andrew" taking Tyler on CD shopping trips.

"There was more to him than just baseball," Korn says.

Spencer's relationship with his 1995 host family extends far beyond his time in the Cape League. The Korns attended his college graduation, received wedding invitations and stay in-touch to this day.

"Being a house parent, just the bond that it creates is really incredible," Bob Korn says. "So Andrew, on one level, is like another son to us."

MISSING OUT ON "MONEYBALL"

Spencer graduated from Dartmouth in 1997 with a major in sociology and a minor in education.

On the diamond, he received all-Ivy League honors in each of his four seasons, making the first team in 1994 and '96. As of spring 2023, he remains in Dartmouth's all-time top 10 for batting average (.365), hits (201), runs (139), RBIs (113) and stolen bases (47).

Despite his success at the collegiate level, Spencer's playing career petered out after he wasn't drafted in 1996 or '97.

"Baseball broke my heart," Spencer says. "It does to all of us, but for me it was a little bit earlier than some, but much later than most."

After graduating college, Spencer accepted an advertising job in Los Angeles. A few years later, at age 24, he was given an opportunity to pursue baseball once again, though not as a player.

Following a recommendation from fellow Dartmouth alum and former Oakland Athletics general manager Sandy Alderson, Spencer was invited to apply for a position in Oakland's front office. He interviewed with then-general manager Billy Beane several times for the role of assistant to the general manager.

"He was like, 'You're going to work 362 days a year,'" says Spencer, recalling a talk with Beane. "'You're going to make $24,000. You get Christmas Day, New Year's Day and Thanksgiving Day off; apart from that, you're working. You're gonna be on a baseball field 12 to 13 hours a day.'"

Spencer says he was likely one conversation away from landing the job, but turned down the opportunity after serious consideration in favor of a promotion at the advertising agency he was working for.

About five years later, Spencer received a book recommendation from a colleague. The book was called "Moneyball: The Art of Winning an Unfair Game" and it told the story of how the Oakland Athletics used analytics to build a strong team on a small budget. A film adaptation starring Brad Pitt and Jonah Hill released in 2011, which was nominated for six Academy Awards.

"I get about a chapter in and I'm like, 'Oh my god, you idiot,'" remembers Spencer with a wry smile, thinking back to what could have been.

Fortunately for Spencer, baseball would eventually return to his life, though not in the way – or the place – he expected.

THE BRITISH BASEBALL EXPERIENCE

In 2006, Spencer left the United States and settled in London for family reasons. Initially, he only expected to stay in the United Kingdom for a year or two, but soon realized it was a long-term move.

Three years after arriving in the UK, Spencer's son began playing tee-ball at LondonSports: a youth charity that provides kids with opportunities to play American sports. According to Spencer, games take place at a temporary baseball complex set-up by volunteers, who spray-paint foul lines, drop bases and raise portable backstops in an open park.

“Baseball’s a minority sport in the country,” Spencer says. “It happens in small pockets all around the country and it only happens through volunteers.”

Spencer went on to volunteer with LondonSports for about seven years, before joining the London Mets Baseball Club in 2015. He spent six years with the Mets, managing the club’s adult team in the National Baseball League for four seasons. Even though the NBL represents the highest level of British club baseball, Spencer says the gameday experience still includes a “do-it-yourself” element.

“There is a permanent backstop, a mound and the infield has been cut out – it’s not a soccer field with lines spray-painted,” Spencer says. “But, we do have to go and put the fence up and take it down every week because there’s no permanent outfield fence.”

Resource availability also presents significant issues, with umpires, jerseys and basic equipment in short supply.

“You can get bats and balls and gloves, but there’s three stores in the UK that carry them and they have a very limited supply,” Spencer says.

He adds that it’s common practice for British baseball folks to visit the US with an extra suitcase and fill it with equipment and uniforms to bring home with them.

WELCOME TO TEAM GB

Spencer got his first taste of national team management in 2019, when he was appointed skipper of Great Britain’s Under-23s. The California-native turned heads right away, guiding the U23s to a fifth place finish at the 2019 European Championship and earning a historic victory over the Netherlands. It was Team GB’s first win against the Dutch at any level.

In addition to leading the U23s, Spencer was still managing the Mets and working a full-time day job in advertising – the “paying job,” as he puts it. However, this trifecta didn’t last long. In 2020, Spencer stepped away from both the U23s and the Mets when the British Baseball Federation appointed him manager of Great Britain’s senior team.

“The biggest shift was we were in the middle of a pandemic,” Spencer says. “So I got the job and I didn’t know when my first game was gonna be ... it was illegal to have a practice, I couldn’t see my players, I couldn’t get together with my coaches. So it was odd.”

Despite the early unknowns, Spencer quickly got Team GB moving in the right direction. At the 2021 European Championship, the squad finished a respectable sixth out of 16 teams. One year later, the Brits secured first place at Germany’s Regensburg Qualifier to book a place at the 2023 World Baseball Classic.

“My hat ... still smells of beer,” says Spencer with a small grin, thinking back to the jubilant celebrations that followed the 10-inning, 10-9 victory over Spain that sent Great Britain to its first ever WBC.

“... I was overwhelmed with the reaction from the British baseball community,” Spencer says. “... It’s not a big community, but it’s a very passionate community.”

THE UNION JACK FLIES IN PHOENIX

On Mar. 11, 2023, Team GB stepped into the World Baseball Classic spotlight for the very first time. Their first opponent? The defending champions, Team USA.

“The goal was to compete,” Spencer says.

In front of nearly 40,000 fans at Chase Field in Phoenix, Spencer’s team proved they weren’t there just to make up the numbers. The Brits battled wire-to-wire before falling 6-2 to the eventual tournament runners-up.

“The US game is a huge relief, right, ‘cause I think we come out of that and it’s like, ‘Yeah, we are as good as we thought we were,’” Spencer says.

Team GB endured a heavy defeat against Canada the following afternoon, but bounced back to earn Britain’s first ever WBC victory: a 7-5 triumph over Columbia in their third game. Spencer describes the win as a thrill, but says the achievement didn’t truly sink in until he looked into the stands after the game.

“There [were] like 250 British fans, but they’d all come down to just behind the dugout and you kinda look up and you see everything from former players, moms, dads, brothers, sisters, members of the [British Baseball Federation] ... it’s complete jubilation on their faces.”

Another familiar face was watching back in Orleans.

“For [Great Britain] to become the darlings of the [World] Baseball Classic was unbelievable,” Bob Korn says. “[I was] sitting there going, ‘Oh my god, there’s Andrew!’”

Team GB was eliminated following their final game of pool play – a narrow 2-1 loss to Mexico. However, even in defeat, the team’s overall success under Spencer gives British baseball a fantastic foundation to build upon. Their performance in Phoenix guarantees Great Britain a place in the 2026 Classic and paves the way for a potential increase in monetary support. More importantly, though, Spencer says the WBC experience “gives our players and the people in the community permission to dream.”

As for Spencer himself, managing Team GB has strengthened his resolve to say goodbye to a 27-year advertising career and devote his full attention to baseball.

“I know now, especially after the World Baseball Classic that I am desperate to get to a place where I’m on a baseball field every day,” he asserts.

Coaching America’s National Pastime overseas rekindled Spencer’s passion for baseball. Now, he never wants to leave the sport again.

“Getting back to the game, it brought something back to me,” he says. “I probably didn’t even realize how big a piece of me was missing until I got back into the game and got into coaching.” ○

Eldredge Singer PETER PIRRO Makes a Second Appearance at Fenway Park

The Firebirds are extremely fortunate to have Peter Pirro occasionally sing at Eldredge Park. On May 1 Peter did a stirring rendition of “O Canada” at Fenway when the Red Sox played the Blue Jays. Beside singing the National Anthem at Eldredge and Fenway Parks, Peter has sung at twelve other MLB stadiums: Chicago Cubs, Chicago White Sox, Cleveland Guardians, Baltimore Orioles, Oakland As, Houston Astros, Pittsburgh Pirates, Milwaukee Brewers, Kansas City Royals, Cincinnati Reds, Tampa Bay Rays and the Toronto Blue Jays. Congratulations on another “Major League” performance. We look forward to hearing you sing the “National Anthem” and “God Bless America” during one of the games during July 4th week. ○

Kelly NICHOLSON

ORLEANS
FIREBIRDS

Orleans is indeed fortunate to welcome back Coach Nicholson for his 22nd summer and 18th as manager, the longest tenured Orleans skipper in the “modern era” (1963-present). Kelly (or “Coach K” as he’s known in the pitching fraternity) is a native of Corona, California where he won numerous scholar-athlete awards in both baseball and basketball while in high school. He was a four-year letter winner and two-time all-conference pick during his pitching career at Loyola Marymount University.

After earning his Bachelor’s degree in Business Administration from LMU, he began his career teaching mathematics at Loyola High School of Los Angeles, while completing his master’s degree in Education from LMU. He was the head coach of the Loyola HS Cubs for 11 seasons, leading the team to seven playoff appearances and a league title. Kelly then spent three seasons as Loyola Marymount’s pitching coach; each year the Lions won the West Coast Conference title and went to the NCAA regionals. In the summer of 2000, Kelly worked with the Team USA pitching staff in its early preparation for international play. Kelly joined Orleans as the pitching coach in 2001. In 2002, Coach K’s staff had a 2.11 ERA (the best ever by Cardinals pitchers) and in 2004 it led the CCBL with a 2.37 ERA. His 2003 championship pitching staff was lights out, with a 2.36 ERA and a league-leading 397 strikeouts in 401 innings pitched. All told, Kelly’s pitching staffs have led the CCBL in ERA an astounding eight times.

Co-winner of the Hossfeld Spirit Award with Coach Steve DeBlasi in 2004, Kelly became the field manager in 2005. In his first season, Nicholson was the unanimous choice of his fellow managers for the CCBL Mike Curran Manager of the Year Award after leading the Cardinals to a record-setting 30-win season and the championship. Coach K was again named Manager of the Year in 2008 as his squad finished the regular season in first place overall (25-17-2). In 2015, Kelly led the Firebirds to a franchise record of 31-12-1 (.716) and again was named the CCBL Mike Curran Manager of the Year. In 2017, his Birds captured the President’s Trophy once more (29-15), and he received his fourth Mike Curran Award. In 2019, the Birds shared the regular season East title with Chatham. Under his leadership, Orleans has captured five Eastern Division titles and is a perennial playoff contender. In 2019, Kelly attained his 350th win in the CCBL. In 2021, the team commemorated his 20th anniversary with a surprise on-field celebration. Since his arrival in 2001, 30 former players have been selected in the first-round of the MLB draft and 116 former Orleans Cardinals/Firebirds have reached MLB.

It’s no surprise to anyone who knows him that Kelly enjoys the respect, affection and admiration of his players, fellow coaches and colleagues here and around the league, and in the wider baseball community. He’s a favorite around town, having made countless friends over the years. Orleans fans know they’ll see a first-class team on the field every summer with Kelly at the helm. Orleans welcomes a true gentleman and a terrific leader back for his 22nd summer.

Kelly lives with his wife Donna in Playa del Rey, CA. He can be found on Twitter @CoachK21 and at knicholson@loyolahs.edu. ○

ELDREDGE PARK

A Classic Ball Field and a Historic Treasure

▲ The Hill at Eldredge Park

Anyone attending a Firebirds game on a summer evening under the lights realizes what a special place our ballpark is. The partnership between the Firebirds organization, the Cape Cod Baseball League, and the great community of the Outer Cape has resulted in one of the finest places in the nation to watch a ball game. Each year, improvements are made as a result of the hard work of volunteers, contributions from businesses and individuals, and the support of town government. A major league baseball scout once said "this is as good a ball field as you'll find anywhere, majors or minors". A Philadelphia sportswriter called our field "A Norman Rockwell painting come to life."

What might be less obvious to the casual fan is that Eldredge Park is also a historic icon, representing 108 years in the history of a historic town. It is recognized as historically significant by both the Orleans and Massachusetts Historical Commissions. In 1913,

Lewis Winslow "Win" Eldredge donated ten acres to the town "in consideration of my affection for and interest in the young people of Orleans and my desire to provide a playground for them." Thus, the legacy began. Today, the land Win donated continues as a playground as well as the playing field for the top collegiate baseball players in the nation.

Work on the first baseball field at Eldredge Park began in 1915. The diamond was south of where it sits today, and faced to the northwest. The area was heavily wooded, and Eldredge Parkway did not yet exist. In 1927, the town initiated a project to improve the baseball field, and the Cape Cod Baseball League began playing here in 1928. Previously, the Orleans team played on a field near the intersection of Rt. 28 and 6A in the northern section of town. In 1929, the town began referring to the field as Eldredge Park in its Annual Reports, and the name has persisted ever since.

In the latter half of the twentieth century, a number of improvements were made to the park. In 1966, with a $10,000 town appropriation and $20,000 in donations, a bandstand and tennis courts were constructed and the picnic area was established. In 1967, the configuration of the baseball field was rotated 90 degrees, with home plate being moved from left field to where you see it today. New soil was brought in, the outfield was re-seeded, and scores of recessed sprinklers were installed all over the field. Sod was laid in the infield, and the base paths were dug out and packed with six inches of clay. The pitcher's mound was re-done entirely with red clay, and home plate was stabilized. Eldredge Park was now of Major League quality.

The "New Eldredge Park" was dedicated at the CCBL All Star Game, played at the field on Sunday, July 23, 1967, when the Firebirds were known as the Cardinals. Participating in the dedication were Massachusetts Governor John Volpe, Lt. Governor Francis Sargent, and Attorney General Elliot Richardson. In his remarks, Governor Volpe paid tribute to the community partnership and hard work that brought the remarkable new field about.

In 1970, the Charles F. Moore Jr. Field House and Bandstand was constructed, and by 1971, Eldredge Parkway was under construction. Enhancements continued with stadium lights in 1979, the press box in 1982, and terraced seating on "the hill" in 1985. Annual improvements continue to this day, with the recent installment of new lights, a batter's eye, and many other enhancements.

When you are enjoying a game at Eldredge Park, remember that the masterpiece in front of you did not just happen. It is the result of a remarkable 108-year journey made possible by an incredible amount of hard work, and the generosity and support of the Outer Cape community. It is a big part of what makes Orleans the special place that it is. ○

KARL LEROY CLARK JR.

April 27, 1929 – June 28, 2022

Not long after the Cape League season got underway last summer, the team lost one of its favorite alums and fans with the passing of Karl Clark. Born in Brewster, Karl played basketball and baseball at Orleans High School, graduating in 1947. That same year he joined the Orleans town team as it resumed play after the end of World War II. He played until 1961 for both the Orleans and the Brewster teams. Karl attended some tryouts for the Boston Red Sox, and played for his Air Force base team during the Korean War. His playing career continued later in life, well into his 80s, with the Cape Cod Senior Softball League, and he was frequently in attendance at Cardinals/Firebirds games. He was also a devoted Red Sox fan, and rarely missed a game or a definitive analysis of their performance. Karl had a long career with Nickerson and Berger (later Coastal Engineering); he also worked evenings for Fuller’s Package Store, and, after retirement, he manned the booth at Skaket Beach for the town. He could also be found on the bench at the Orleans Post Office with the other regulars, greeting his countless friends, who miss him dearly.

GERALDINE ANNETTE GUNLICKSON DALBEC

August 24, 1936 – July 9, 2022

Jeri, a lifelong Montana resident, was 85 years old at the time of her death on July 9, 2022. She was an ardent Firebirds Fan Club supporter from the time her grandson, Bobby Dalbec, joined the team in 2014 until her death. Although she never attended a game at Eldredge Park, she was a faithful internet viewer of Firebirds games especially during Bobby’s time with the team. Her son, Tim, was instrumental in setting up internet broadcasting for the Firebirds in 2014, in large part so Jeri could watch the Firebirds play.

Jeri was a voracious reader and researcher. One of her favorite subjects was baseball – every aspect from umpire performance to hitting launch angles. She was a great Sox fan and was immensely proud when Bobby was able to join the Sox in 2020 and play in the 2021 AL Championship Series against the Houston Astros.

She was an extremely kind, compassionate, and generous person that exuded goodness and positivity. In her high school yearbook (Billings, MT, class of 1954) she was chosen by her classmates as the “Personality Girl” – because of “her vivaciousness and sparkle” which was present in everything she did in her life. She became close with many people from all walks of life, and all corners of the globe.

Jeri Dalbec is survived by her husband of 57 years, Joe Dalbec, four children and four grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

The Firebirds will miss her warmth and support.

JANE FRANKLIN ZAWADZKAS

December 28, 1950 – February 28, 2023

This winter, the Firebirds marked the loss of good friend and former host mom Jane Zawadzkas. She and her husband Mike, a longtime sponsor of the team, provided a huge assist in early summers by taking in our temporary players before they needed the space back for visiting family. Those lucky players were the beneficiaries of Jane’s legendary skills as a cook. Originally from Connecticut, Jane was a UConn grad who taught for over 30 years, first in CT and then in MA; she was Nauset’s Home Economics and Culinary Arts teacher, retiring in 2012. Jane loved gardening, swimming, tennis, creating mosaics, travelling and spending time with friends and family on Nauset’s Outer Beach. This vibrant lady began her determined battle with a virtually unknown and devastating illness, Primary Progressive Aphasia / Frontal Temporal Dementia, several years ago. She was able to remain at home for the duration, thanks to her loving family and her skilled and committed caregivers.

MARY SEELIE REULAND

December 2, 1947 – March 13, 2023

The Firebirds lost a dear friend with the passing of Mary Reuland. Mary, her husband Geoff and their sons Paul and John hosted players for many seasons, and their summer sons became family members with whom they remained in close contact. Geoff served as president of the Orleans Athletic Association, and Paul and John were batboys.

Born in Cleveland, OH, she grew up in Fort Mitchell, KY, and earned degrees from the University of Kentucky, UC Santa Barbara and Simmons College. She and Geoff met when they both had summer jobs at the Chatham Bars Inn. Following graduation and marriage, Mary taught history at Wellesley High School until the family moved to Orleans. Always an avid reader, she began her next career at Snow Library, starting as the Children’s Service Librarian and ending as the Library Director. She was deeply committed to community service and was a member of many town committees and local organizations. She loved living here and spending time on and around the water with her family, especially her grandchildren. Those who were blessed with her friendship, warmth, and kindness and were indeed fortunate.

JAMES WILLIAM HIGGINS

March 4, 1949 – March 28, 2023

The Cape League was shocked and saddened by the passing of Jim Higgins, who had been a volunteer for nearly 50 years in various roles ranging from official scorer to publicist to Senior Vice President and Chairman of the Hall of Fame. Born in Taunton, Jim’s family moved to the Cape when he was a youngster. He graduated from Harwich HS where he played baseball. He received his degree in history from UMass Amherst, and settled in Centerville with his wife Colleen and children, Brian and Courtney. Jim had a long and distinguished career with RogersGray Insurance until the end of his life. Besides baseball, he enjoyed golf, cycling, walking, reading history, and being of service to his community. In his obituary, his family noted that once he’d been diagnosed with Creutzfeldt–Jakob Disease (CJD), a terminal illness, Jim smiled in front of his birthday cake and said, “Don’t be sad. Who could have asked for a better life than I’ve had?”

RogersGray and the Cape League will honor Jim’s memory by naming the Theater Room in the planned Hall of Fame Museum after him. A recipient of the Fred Ebbett Lifetime Achievement Award in 2017, he will be inducted posthumously into the Hall of Fame this November.

JACKSON TAYLOR YELLE

January 27, 2002 – April 30, 2023

The Orleans Firebirds join with the Nauset and Elon communities in mourning the untimely passing of Jackson “JT” Yelle, whose young life, full of potential and promise, was tragically cut short after he was struck by an automobile in Myrtle Beach, SC. Born in California, Jackson’s family eventually relocated to North Eastham. He was a 2020 graduate of Nauset, where he played baseball and started a fishing club. Baseball was his first love, and he was Nauset’s captain, as well as playing for the Cape Riptide Travel Team. Last summer, he worked for TrackMan, a digital baseball scouting platform, at Cape League games. A junior at Elon, he was a Business Analytics major and a member of the university’s club baseball team. Characterized by friends and family as friendly and outgoing, energetic and selfless, humble, strong and confident, JT was also a gifted athlete every coach would love to have on their team. His obituary asked that people remember him this way:

The best tribute to Jackson and his family would be that people will learn from his example: Be the person that lights up a room and improves other people’s days; be there for others and let them know that you care; appreciate how lucky you are to be alive and enjoy every moment; and always take care of your friends-hug them and tell them that you love them.

2022 BIRD NESTERS

The Firebirds thank all the host families, aka Bird Nesters, for opening their homes to our ballplayers, for their generosity and support. In providing warm and caring homes, you greatly contribute to the wonderful experience players will remember for the rest of their lives.

2022 Bird Feeders

After every home game, the team is treated to a meal that has been prepared by various host families, committee members, local businesses and organizations, plus other friends. The program begun by Kathy Udall as “sandwich suppers” has expanded its gastronomical boundaries to include everything from pasta dinners to barbeques to sushi, and it really helps the players – whose appetites may exceed their food budgets. It’s a big undertaking to feed a group of hungry ballplayers, coaches and bat kids. We thank those volunteers for their generous efforts.

FLOCK TO ICONIC ELDREDGE PARK AND WATCH THE 'BIRDS PLAY BASEBALL

More than 39,400 fans attended Firebirds games in 2022, second highest attendance in the league. The Firebirds organization always appreciates your continued, enthusiastic support.

It costs us more than $300,000 a year to operate our team and to enhance historic Eldredge Park (established 1913) as one of the top collegiate summer baseball venues in America. The Firebirds receive 96% of the needed $300,000 from Annual Fan Club Memberships, our Homeplate Retail Shop, our Youth Baseball Clinics, our game advertisers and generous contributions by our fans at games. All funds are raised through the Orleans Athletic Association, a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization, by a year-round volunteer staff. The generous outpouring of fan and community support has enabled the team to be financially stable.

The Firebirds receive indirect funding of about $11,000 from MLB thru the CCBL. Unlike most CCBL teams the Firebirds receive no revenue from concessions opting to have this operated by Nauset Schools.

As with all organizations, The Firebirds every year are faced with increased operating costs in almost every aspect of operations as well as always having the responsibility to maintain, replace, and improve every aspect of our operations. Our Fan Club, started in 2011 has become our major fund-raising vehicle and continues to grow in membership. We have reached out beyond Orleans to Eastham, Wellfleet, Truro and Provincetown residents, as well as to our many summer visitors to join our donor team and assist us so we can continue to provide this wholesome, family orientated activity. Attendance at a Firebirds game is the best Cape Cod summer entertainment bargain available and the team continues to be the highlight of many vacation as well as a major source of local pride. Thank you for your annual support of the Fan Club and don't forget to display your Fan Club sticker.

The Firebirds have had many benefactors throughout the years who become engaged as needs have arisen, like our lights, dugouts, and field improvements. We have several special projects that are in planning stages so if you would like to help us or find out more about these special projects, please reach out to members of our executive committee who are listed on page 4 of this yearbook to discuss our upcoming projects. We depend on your generous support for our survival. Please consider a financial donation to the team so this community treasure can continue to provide pleasure and entertainment for years to come.

We also deeply appreciate the many businesses that advertise in this yearbook and take out various sponsorships that support the team and its players. Those businesses understand how the Firebirds contribute vitally to our local economy and we encourage you to visit their establishments and utilize their services. ○

The Orleans Firebirds Youth Baseball Clinic

SUMMER MEMORIES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS AGE 5 TO 13 YEARS OLD

OUR CLINIC PHILOSOPHY

The co-ed clinic is dedicated to teaching the fundamentals of baseball. Skills and technical instruction will cover throwing, catching, fielding, hitting and base running. All levels of abilities are identified, and all instruction is based on the age, ability and playing experience of each boy and girl. A high instructor-to-child ratio ensures that each boy and girl receives personal attention and direction.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Our Youth Summer Baseball Clinic offers kids a summer experience they will never forget. All participants receive instruction from the Firebird coaches and players to learn basic baseball skills and how to play the game, while having lots of fun along the way. Each participant receives a free T-shirt and an opportunity to "Run with the Birds" during a home game. Thursdays are slip-and-slide days and every Friday a Kids vs Parents game is held. Clinics are held weekdays from 9-11am beginning June 19th and continuing through July 28th at Nauset Middle School (adjacent to Eldredge Park). Water and nutrition breaks will take place daily, so attendees should bring snacks and water, as well as their glove. Cost is $120/week or $30/day. Sign up is from 8:30am-9am at Eldredge Park. You can download the registration form at orleansfirebirds.com.

Beginning June 20 through July 28, there will also specialty clinics in Hitting and Pitching, with our coaches as instructors. These clinics are held at Eldredge Park from noon to 1pm; cost is $40. For specific dates see our clinic page at orleansfirebirds.com. ○
