THE LAST TIME OUT: PUERTO RICO

After losing to Puerto Rico in Pool F play earlier in the 2017 World Baseball Classic, Team USA got revenge and won the WBC Final, topping Puerto Rico, 8-0 on March 22 at Dodger Stadium. After Puerto Rico starter Seth Lugo held the U.S. scoreless through two, Ian Kinsler hit a two-run homer in the third to open the scoring. Christian Yelich drove in a pair of runs two innings later, giving Team USA a four-run lead. Marcus Stroman tossed six scoreless innings, allowing just one hit to lower his tournament-ERA to 2.35. The U.S.

MISSION: TOKYO

Team USA has two more chances to qualify for Tokyo 2020, beginning with the Baseball Americas Qualifier. The U.S. has participated at the Olympic Games in 1988 (demonstration sport), 1992, 1996, 2000 and 2008, winning a gold medal in Seoul 1988 and Sydney 2000. In order to qualify for the Olympic Games from the Baseball Americas Qualifier, the U.S. will need to win the tournament. If the U.S. does not qualify for the Olympic Games out of the Baseball Americas Qualifier, but finishes second or third, they will participate in the Final Qualifier that will take place in Puebla, Mexico from June 22-27.

PROSPECT WATCH

The U.S. roster features seven players who are in their respective organization's Top 30 Prospect List. Triston Casas (Boston) and Matthew Liberatore (St. Louis) are both the top prospects in their organizations. Nick Allen (Oakland), Jarren Duran (Boston) and Simeon Woods-Richardson (Toronto) are all featured in the Top Five of their organization's prospect lists. Joe Ryan (Tampa Bay) and Luke Williams (Philadelphia) are also top organizational prospects. Liberatore (No. 30), Casas (No. 34), Woods-Richardson (No. 74), and Duran (No. 93) are also recognized by MLB Pipeline as one of the top-100 prospects in all of baseball.

WHOLE LOTTA HOMERS

Team USA's roster has combined for 637 major league home runs. Matt Kemp (287) and Todd Frazier (218) carry most of the weight. Four other members of the roster have hit major league home runs: Logan Forsythe (71), Jon Jay (37), Anthony Gose (12), and Tim Federowicz (12).

REPPIN' MANY STATES

Fourteen different states are represented on Team USA's 26-man roster. The most well-represented state is California, with six players born in the Golden State. Florida is next; the U.S. roster features five Floridians. Alabama, Illinois, and Texas all have two representatives on the roster. The following states have one player on the U.S. roster: Arizona, Missouri, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Washington. Edwin Jackson grew up in Georgia, but was born in Germany where his father was stationed for the military.

BACK IN THE RED, WHITE, AND BLUE

12 members of the roster have previous playing experience with Team USA, with six of them winning gold medals in international competition. David Robertson is back in red, white, and blue after throwing the final pitch of Team USA's 2017 World Baseball Classic championship run. Todd Frazier and Tim Federowicz, who both played for the 2006 Collegiate National Team, are also on the roster. Former 18U National Team members Triston Casas, Nick Allen, and Matt Liberatore are making their return to Team USA. Homer Bailey, Anthony Carter, Brandon Dickson, Logan Forsythe, Jon Jay, and Drew Parrish are making their second appearances with Team USA as well.

MAJOR EXPERIENCE

Half of the players on Team USA's roster have major league experience, including seven players who have played in the big leagues for at least 10 seasons: Homer Bailey, Todd Frazier, Edwin Jackson, Jon Jay, Matt Kemp, David Robertson, and Marc Rzepczynski. Eddy Alvarez, Brandon Dickson, Tim Federowicz, Logan Forsythe, Anthony Gose, and Jimmie Sherfy have also accumulated time in the major leagues.

HOUSE OF CARDS + A YANK

The U.S. roster features three members of the 2011 St. Louis Cardinals World Series team: Edwin Jackson, Jon Jay, and Marc Rzepczynski. Jackson and Rzepczynski were part of the same trade that sent them from Toronto to St. Louis on July 27 of that season. Jackson pitched to a 3.58 ERA in 12 starts with St. Louis. Rzepczynski made 28 appearances out of the bullpen and had a 0.00 ERA with four appearances in the World Series. Jay played a team-high 159 games that season, batting .297 with 10 homers. David Robertson, who won the 2009 World Series as a member of the New York Yankees, is the fourth player on Team USA with a World Series ring.

ALL-STARS & STRIPES

Of the 14 players with major league experience on the roster, four of them have been named to MLB All-Star teams: Todd Frazier, Edwin Jackson, Matt Kemp, and David Robertson. Frazier and Kemp are both two-time All-Stars; Kemp made two All-Star games in 2011 and 2012 as a member of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Frazier was on the NL All-Star Team in 2014 and 2015. Jackson was an All-Star in 2009, and Robertson made the All-Star team in 2011.

GOLD MEDAL EXPERIENCE & TEAMMATES REUNITE

Six members of the roster have won a gold medal while playing for Team USA, led by Triston Casas, who won three. Casas and Nick Allen were teammates on the 2016 18U National Team that won a gold medal at the COPABE Pan Am "AAA" Championships in Monterrey, Mexico, and Casas followed with a WBSC U-18 Baseball World Cup in 2017 with teammate Matthew Liberatore. Tim Federowicz and Todd Frazier both won a gold medal at the FISU World University Championships in Havana, Cuba.

Gold Medalists:

Nick Allen	2013 15U National Team; 2016 18U National Team
Triston Casas	2015 15U National Team; 2016 & 2017 18U National Team
Tim Federowicz	2006 Collegiate National Team
Todd Frazier	2006 Collegiate National Team
Matthew Liberatore	2017 18U National Team
David Robertson	2017 World Baseball Classic

ABOUT USA BASEBALL

USA Baseball is the national governing body for baseball in the United States and is a member of the United States Olympic & Paralympic Committee, the Pan-American Baseball Confederation and the World Baseball Softball Confederation. In addition to fielding six national teams to take the field in international competition, The organization is also responsible for the continued proliferation and health of the sport, and leads a number of amateur initiatives including Fun At Bat, Pitch Smart and PLAY BALL, as well as creating and implementing its official youth bat standard, USABat. USA Baseball also presents the Golden Spikes Award annually to the top amateur baseball player in the country. The executive staff includes President Mike Gaski, Executive Director and CEO Paul Seiler, Chief Operating Officer David Perkins, and Chief Financial Officer Ray Darwin.

2017: A CLEAN SWEEP

USA Baseball had its most successful year in 2017 after sweeping through its international competition with gold medals at the World Baseball Classic, WBSC U-18 Baseball World Cup, COPABE Pan Am U-15 Championships and the WBSC U-12 Baseball World Cup; in addition to the Collegiate National Team winning all three of its international friendship series against Chinese Taipei, Cuba and Japan. It was the first time in international baseball history a federation has won all of its international competitions in a calendar year.

THE INTERNATIONAL GOLD STANDARD

In recent years, USA Baseball has shined on the international stage, continuing a longstanding tradition of excellence, dating back to its first Olympic gold medal at the Seoul 1988 Olympic Games. Since 2015, USA Baseball has won six world championships, including its first-ever World Baseball Classic championship in 2017, and is currently the reigning world champions at the 15U age level. In total, the U.S. has medaled in 16 international tournaments it has participated in since 2015, winning eleven gold medals, four silver medals, and one bronze.

NATIONAL TEAMS

USA Baseball fields six national teams and has achieved unparalleled international success. Its national teams and alumni have shined in its brief history, beginning a longstanding tradition of excellence dating back to 1972, when its first alumnus was selected with the number one overall pick in the MLB Draft, and also to 1988, when the U.S. won its first Olympic gold medal at the Seoul 1988 Olympic Games. Since 1972, 34 USA Baseball alumni have been selected first overall in the MLB Draft and the organization boasts 29 MLB MVP honorees in the last 44 years. On the international stage, USA Baseball has won 30 world championships, six of which have come since 2015, including its first-ever World Baseball Classic championship.

USA BASEBALL COACHING STAFF

MIKE SCIOSCIA

MANAGER

//PRONUNCIATION: SOW-shuh//

Scioscia makes his international coaching debut for the United States in 2021 after serving as the Angels' manager for 19 seasons. He spent his entire MLB managerial career in Anaheim, where he led the Halos to a 1650-1428 (.536) overall record from 1999-2018, ranking him 18th all-time in career managerial wins. After breaking a 15-year playoff drought in 2002, Scioscia led the Angels to the only World Series title in its history that postseason to become the 17th person to win a World Series title as both player and manager.

He was the first manager in MLB history to make the playoffs in six of his first ten seasons, including winning five AL West division titles in six years. Scioscia was twice named the AL Manager of the Year by the Baseball Writers Association of America (2002 and 2009) and set the Angels' franchise single-season wins record twice with 99 victories in 2002 and then 100 victories in 2008. He is the current all-time leader in wins, games managed, and division titles won in Angels' history. Drafted by the Los Angeles Dodgers with the 19th overall pick of the 1976 June Amateur Draft, Scioscia spent all 13 of his years in the Major Leagues as a catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers (1980-92) under USA Baseball Olympic gold medal-winning manager Tommy Lasorda. He won two World Series titles (1981 and 1988), was twice named a National League All-Star (1989 and 1990), and caught two no-hitters (Fernando Valenzuela and Kevin Gross) in his playing career. To this day, Scioscia ranks fourth all-time among Major League catchers with 136 shutouts caught.

ROLY DE ARMAS

BULLPEN COACH

//PRONUNCIATION: dee-ARR-muss//

Returning as an assistant coach for the 11th time, de Armas will once again serve as the bullpen coach for Team USA. His first experience with Team USA came in 2006 as an assistant coach for the Olympic Qualifying Team that finished its tournament with a 6-1 overall record and secured Team USA a spot in the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games. de Armas would return as a coach with USA Baseball in 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2015, and 2019, winning two World Cup gold medals (2007, 2009), two Pan-American Games silver medals (2011, 2015), one Premier12TM silver medal (2015), and an Olympic bronze medal (2008).

de Armas also spent time as a coach in the Major Leagues with the Chicago White Sox (1995-96) and the Toronto Blue Jays (2000). In total, he has spent 33 seasons as a coach for several Major League Baseball organizations, including the Philadelphia Phillies, where he is currently the manager of the Gulf Coast League Phillies.

DARREN FENSTER

THIRD BASE COACH

Fenster will make his Team USA debut in 2021 as the third base coach for the Professional National Team. He is currently in his third season as the Minor League Outfield and Baserunning Coordinator for the Boston Red Sox and his tenth season overall with the organization, having started as the hitting coach for the Greenville Drive in 2012. He was named manager of Greenville in 2014 and guided the Drive to its first South Atlantic League championship in team history in 2017 before being named the Portland Sea Dogs manager in 2018. Prior to joining the Red Sox, Fenster spent six seasons at his alma mater, Rutgers University, as Director of Operations, Assistant Coach, and Recruiting Coordinator. Additionally, he helped lead the St. Cloud River Bats to the Northwoods League title in 2007 and helped guide the Cape Cod Baseball League's Orleans Cardinals to a league-best 25-17-2 regular season record in 2008.

As a player at Rutgers, Fenster was a two-time All-American and was named Big East Player of the Year in 2000 before being selected by the Kansas City Royals in the 2000 MLB Draft. He spent five seasons in the Royals minor league system, where he hit .267 with 63 doubles, 179 RBIs, and 215 walks in 438 games, and was named a Carolina League All-Star in 2002 and 2004. In 2008, Fenster was elected to the Rutgers Olympic Sports Hall of Fame. Drawing upon his baseball experiences as both a player and a coach, Fenster provides unique and insightful educational content as a contributor for the USA Baseball Develops Blog. He was named the first-ever USA Baseball Coach Educator of the Year in 2019 for his contributions that assist coaches, parents, and leagues in developing young players and improving their experience within the game of baseball.

DAVE WALLACE

PITCHING COACH

Wallace will make his Team USA debut as the pitching coach for the Professional National Team this summer. Wallace has spent 47 years in professional baseball, spanning nine professional franchises in various positions among the minor and major league levels. After a Hall of Fame career at the University of New Haven, he spent nine years as a pitcher in the professional ranks, playing for both the Philadelphia Phillies and the Toronto Blue Jays until 1978. Wallace began his coaching career in 1981 with the Vero Beach Dodgers and spent the next 14 years coaching in the minor leagues before being named the pitching coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1995.

Wallace went on to be the pitching coach for the New York Mets (1999-2000), Boston Red Sox (2003-2006), Houston Astros (2007), and the Baltimore Orioles (2014-2016), working with pitchers such as Pedro Martinez and Hideo Nomo, among others. He also held numerous executive positions within professional baseball throughout his career with the Atlanta Braves, Dodgers, Mets, and Seattle Mariners. Wallace most recently spent four years with the Braves as a special assistant to pitching (2016) and the director of pitching for Atlanta's farm system (2017-2020).

JERRY WEINSTEIN

BENCH COACH/FIRST BASE COACH

//PRONUNCIATION: WINE-steen//

Weinstein will serve as the Professional National Team's bench coach in 2021, marking his fifth time on a Team USA staff in a coaching career that has spanned more than five decades at every level of the game. The American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) Hall of Famer began his time in the red, white, and blue by helping to guide the 1987 Collegiate National Team to silver medals in the X Pan American Games and the VIII Intercontinental Cup before serving as an assistant coach for the 1992 Olympic Team, the 1995 Collegiate National Team, and the 1996 Olympic Team. As part of those stints, Weinstein helped lead Team USA to an Olympic bronze medal at the Atlanta 1996 Games and a National Baseball Congress World Series gold medal in 1995. Weinstein also managed Team Israel at the 2017 World Baseball Classic (WBC) qualifier, leading the team to its first WBC appearance after finishing the qualifier with a perfect 3-0 record.

He began his coaching career in 1966 and took over as the Sacramento City College manager in 1974, where he led the program to a National Community College Championship in 1998, 16 league championships, two state titles (1988 & 1998), and compiled a 831-208 record in 23 years at the helm. Weinstein then moved to professional baseball where he managed teams in the Washington Expos and Chicago Cubs organizations before serving as the Director of Player Development for the Los Angeles Dodgers from 2000-2001 and working as an assistant coach at Cal Poly from 2001-2005. In 2007, he joined the Colorado Rockies organization where he served in many roles at various levels of the organization until 2018, including catching coach and offensive coordinator for the major league club from 2012-2014, as well as manager of the Modesto Nuts (2007-2011) and the Hartford Yard Goats (2017). He then served as the Rockies' Player Development and Scouting Special Assistant in 2018 and earned the Baseball America Tony Gwynn Lifetime Achievement Award the same year.

Weinstein was inducted into the ABCA Hall of Fame in 2009 and received the ABCA/Wilson Lefty Gomez Award in 2020 for contributions to the game locally, nationally, and internationally. He is also a member of the Sacramento City College Athletics Hall of Fame, the California Community College Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame, and the Sacramento Baseball Hall of Fame.

ERNIE YOUNG

HITTING COACH

Olympic gold medalist Young will serve as the hitting and first base coach for the 2021 Professional National Team following an accomplished playing and coaching career with Team USA spanning 22 years. A member of the gold medal-winning Sydney 2000 Olympic Games team, he also played on the Professional National Team again in 2003. Young spent eight years playing in the major leagues for the Arizona Diamondbacks, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, Kansas City Royals, and Oakland Athletics between 1994 and 2004. He remained involved with Team USA after the Sydney Olympic Games by joining its Board of Directors in 2003 and eventually serving as a hitting coach for three national teams and managing the 2010 and 2011 Professional National Teams. With Young on the staff, Team USA amassed an overall record of 47-15-2 and won a world championship in 2009.

2021 AOQ | RECAPS & STATS

UNITED STATES 7, NICARAGUA 1

Monday, May 31 - Clover Park, Port St. Lucie, Fla.

Team USA began its quest for one of the final two berths in the upcoming Olympic Games in Tokyo with a convincing 7-1 victory over Nicaragua at the 2021 World Baseball Softball Confederation (WBSC) Baseball Americas Qualification Event at Clover Park.

Luke Williams and Jarren Duran powered Team USA's 14-hit attack with three-hit performances, while Matthew Liberatore and three relievers combined to shut down the Nicaragua offense.

Liberatore (1-0) held Nicaragua to just one run on five hits over the first 5.0 innings, before Brandon Dickson, Anthony Gose and Marc Rzepczynski combined to toss four perfect innings of relief to close out the victory.

UNITED STATES 8, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC 6

Tuesday, June 1 - The Ballpark of the Palm Beaches, West Palm Beach, Fla.

The USA Baseball Professional National Team punched its ticket to the Super Round of the 2021 World Baseball Softball Confederation (WBSC) Baseball Americas Qualification Event with its second-straight win--an 8-6 victory over the Dominican Republic at The Ballpark of the Palm Beaches.

After turning in a complete domination of Nicaragua to lead from start to finish in their opening game of the tournament Monday, Team USA had to battle back from a fifth-inning deficit this time. Luke Williams tripled home a pair of key runs as part of a four-run, sixth-inning rally and finished with his second multi-hit effort in as many games, while Eddy Alvarez delivered a pair of doubles to help pace the U.S. attack.

Trailing by a run after the Dominican Republic rallied to wipe out a 4-1 deficit, Team USA scored four times in the sixth to turn the tide for good. Logan Forsythe's pinch-single plated the tying run, and Nick Allen put the U.S. in front to stay with a fielder's choice grounder to third.
